Marshal Chang Intimates Troops Will Remain In Peking — Ship's Crew Lost In Collision

UNKNOWN NUMBER SEAMEN LOSE LIVES OFF NEW ENGLAND COAST

Freighter Kershaw Is Rammed In Early Hours of Morning

THIRTY RESCUED

Vessel Bound For Norfolk Disappeared In Few Moments

(By Canadian Press)

Vineyard Haven, Mass., June 1.—An unidentified number of the crew of the freighter Kershaw, variously estimated from seven to twelve drowned here this morning when their ship was rammed and sunk by the Boston-bound Dollar Liner "President Garfield." Thirty members of the Kershaw's crew including Capt. Brooks, were rescued.

The collision occurred a few miles off the east chop at 12.30 o'clock with a clear sky and smooth sea, according to the Dollar Line officials. The Garfield struck the Kershaw just forward of the bridge. It rolled over and they locked her for a few minutes then broke apart and went down in 80 fathoms of water.

Liner Not Damaged

Vineyard Haven, Mass., June 1.—The Steamship Dollar Garfield rammed and sank the freighter Kershaw eight miles off the East Chop this morning and a few of 11 and possibly 12 members of the Kershaw's crew. The Kershaw, the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Steamer of 2,641 tons, was bound from Boston to Norfolk, while the President Garfield, of the Dollar Line, was bound from New York to Boston and was completing a round the world trip.

The Garfield stood by for several hours after the crash and then anchored off Vineyard Haven Harbor. Except for damaged plates aboard the liners the little outward evidence of the accident.

Ernst Vierkotter

winner of the Wrigley marathon last year at the C.N.E., Toronto, is reported as saying that his entrance in this year's marathon is unlikely unless his manager "gets down to brass tacks" and makes some satisfactory arrangement within the next few weeks. He says instead he may take part in a race in the English channel.

GRADUATES WITH M.D. DEGREE AT McGILL

(By Canadian Press)

Trenton, June 1.—Congratulations were extended to Douglas Curry, former Trentonian, who has received his M.D. Degree, graduating in Medicine from McGill University, Montreal. It will be recalled that Dr. Curry attended High School here, and had the distinction of being presented with the M. C. by the Prince of Wales at Kingston, following service overseas.

Dr. Curry is spending some time with his father, ex-councillor Henry Curry, Marmora St., before taking up his practice in the hospital at Pittsfield, Mass., early in July.

COBOURG BAND WILL VISIT HERE

Salvation Army Musicians Will Give Open Air And Sacred Concerts

Belleville will be visited on the 9th and 10th of June by the Cobourg Salvation Army Band. This organization of musicians has a fine reputation and no doubt their visit will be remembered here by those who have the opportunity of hearing them.

There will be several open air concerts and special Musical Service on Sunday in the Belleville Salvation Citadel, the Cobourg Band being assisted by the Belleville Band. This Band has been in existence for four years and in that short time has become very proficient, adding new pieces periodically until the organization now consists of twenty-two men. Up until a few weeks ago, the Band was under the direction of Bandmaster Kurshaw, but he was transferred to Toronto by his firm at that time and has left to take up his new position. He will probably come to Belleville with the Band for this trip, however.

MAKE DRAW FOR SPRING HANDICAP

Jud Whalen Wins Rickwood Club In Pres. vs Vice-Pres. Match

Mr. Fred Rickwood, professional at the Belleville Golf Club has been in charge for some time and is giving lessons at the Club course. The links at the Belleville Club are now in perfect shape, the greens are looking better than ever and the fairways are a vast improvement over last year. The new greens are coming on nicely and five holes have been completed which are in good shape. The fairways at the north end of the course are really in excellent condition and visitors to the course are astounded at the tremendous amount of work that has been done. Superintendent Al Bowen has been busy with the tractor, a pipe line has been laid to some of the holes and the greensyard is this kept constantly manicured.

The draw for the Spring handicap competition will be played tomorrow, Saturday. The club donated for the President vs Vice President match which was won by Jud Whalen. Whalen was a member of the President's team.

ITALIAN GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE

Toronto, June 1.—Vita Pantelo, charged with the murder of his sister-in-law Angelina Pantaleo, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury today and sentenced to 20 years in Portsmouth Penitentiary by Mr. Justice Rose.

The jury at first brought in a verdict guilty of manslaughter with recommendation for clemency. Instructed by the judge to reword their verdict, they returned to the jury room and in a few minutes returned with the unqualified finding of guilty.

The trial lasted four days. Pantaleo did not deny that he inflicted the blows which caused his sister-in-law's death but his counsel held that he was provoked by the woman's attempt to poison him with iodine after he had repudiated her advances. It was brought out that there had been intimacies between Pantaleo and the woman.

HURRIED EXIT FROM CAPITAL

Special Trains Bear Prominent Families From Manchuria

NATIONALISTS PRESS

Predict Invaders Will Occupy Peking Within Five Days

(By Canadian Press)

Peking, June 1.—Families of prominent Manchurian officials are beginning an exodus from Peking.

An official of the Japanese legation stated today that all power in Peking are co-operating for the defense of the capital pending a view to holding the line of defense near the mountains.

Tokyo, June 1.—Advices from Tientsin, northern Chinese seaport, say Chang the northern commander now in the field against the nationalists, has ordered the northern forces on the Tientsin-Pukow railway front to carry out a general retreat.

Although the dictator's address and reply to the Dutch minister avoided any specific reference to the plans of Chang's early departure, the opinion of the diplomats was that the dictator's speech was part of their show to victory.

London, June 1.—A Tokio despatch to the Evening News says reliable reports from Peking state that Chang Tso-Lin, northern dictator, has definitely decided to abdicate.

London, June 1.—A despatch says that Japanese reports indicated the main Northern army had collapsed along the Peking-Hankow railway and that the nationalists might occupy Peking within five days.

CAR TURNS TURTLE ON HILLSIDE STREET

Seven Chinese dinners, excuse us, seven dinners purchased from a Chinese cafe, got horribly cold and slightly mussed up when Robert Browning's car overturned last night on Hillside Street.

Mr. Browning, who resides at number 6 Hillside was returning home after purchasing the evening meals and looked behind him as he went to turn. The next thing he knew he was pinned by Lady Cobham', Sir Alan Cobham's car, lying in the middle of the road with the engine still on the east hand side. No body was hurt and the dinners were edible, but the car was slightly damaged.

MASTER HORSES... CONVENE AT TRE...

Everybody thought that they were a thing of the past and few modern children have ever seen them, nevertheless the Provincial Horsemasters convention in Trenton is flourishing and unanimous tonight directly to the west of us.

Yes, sir, and they are not only from the County of Hastings but from the whole wide province of Ontario. However, these gentlemen do not call themselves blacksmiths. They are Master-Horseshoers and Members of the Provincial Horseshoers' Association and they meet today and tomorrow.

A large banquet is being held in Gilbert House tonight.

AUXILIARY HOLD AFTERNOON TEA

Legion Hall Presented Festive Scene For Home Cooking Sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held a successful tea and sale of home cooking in the Veterans' Recital Hall on Thursday afternoon. The Hall presented a festive appearance, with each booth, devoted to the sale of the different confections, prettily decorated with contrasting shades of crepe paper.

The candy booth was in charge of Mrs. Lavin; Fancy work booth, Mrs. Holton; Touch and Take booth, Miss Norine Shepherd; Ice Cream booth, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Knight, supervised the home cooking booth.

During the afternoon tea was served The tea table looked especially pretty with tall red candles in silver candlesticks and centred with a bowl of red tulips. Mrs. W. Schuster presided, pouring tea, and Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Brumpstead and Mrs. Jack replenished the table. The other ladies in the Auxiliary assisted in the tea room and in the various booths and all contributed to the success of the affair.

OFFICERS WATCH FOR MISSING MAN

Inspector Lougheed of the Provincial Police has issued instructions to all officers in his district to be on the lookout for Y. Giacanni, who disappeared from his home in Sudbury on May 9th, 1928. He is an Italian, about 28 years of age, is about 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighs one hundred and seventy pounds. He is described as having fair hair, and was known to have had friends in Kingston.

Giacamo came to Canada eight years ago, and was married at Cobalt, in 1924. His wife is now anxious to learn of his whereabouts, as he was a sailor in the Trieste Navy before coming to this country. It is thought that he may be intending to work on a lake boat from Kingston or on a boat from Montreal.

Latest Message From Plane's Crew States "All Is Well"

2,000 MILES OUT

Reported To Have Sighted Fiji Shortly After 9 O'Clock

(By Canadian Press)

Honolulu, June 1.—"Southern Cross" passed at 12.19 p.m. Pacific Coast time after 4,000 miles from Oakland, Calif.

Oakland, June 1.—The Mutual Wireless Company received a message from the Southern Cross at 12.19 p.m. Pacific time, stating that it was keeping to the course.

Honolulu, June 1.—The Southern Cross at 6.30 Pacific Coast time, had been received by wireless clouds and mist, but not sight of the plane.

The batteries of the radio outfit running low and the wireless operator was ordered to cut off.

San Francisco, Calif., June 1.—Zooming along ahead of the rising sun over the broad Pacific, the huge monoplane Southern Cross this morning was within striking distance of its goal in the flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, with the latest radio reports place ing the ship 300 miles from Honolulu.

A radio message from the plane gave the ship's position at 6 a.m. Pacific Standard Time at 350 miles from Honolulu and speed 97 knots. If plane maintained her speed and all continued well radio men estimated she would drop out of the skies destination somewhere between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Pacific Time.

Honolulu, June 1.—The Southern Cross radioed "Guess were lost. Radio A battery went down. Present ship with receiver. Get our bearing on my 7.40 wave. Will keep going so they can track us".

Everett, Washington, June 1.—Indications that the Southern Cross, flying from Oakland, Calif to Honolulu was keeping to her schedule and flying in good weather, a message was intercepted by local radio station this morning saying the plane was 700 miles from it sstation.

P. C. M'LAURIN IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Says Boys Invariably Are "A Chip Off The Old Block"

The speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Trenton Rotary Club, Principal McLaurin, of the Belleville Collegiate Institute, proved himself to be exceptionally well selected. Various members had expressed the opinion previously and evidenced throughout the able discourse of this talented gentleman.

Speaking on Boys' Work, Mr. McLaurin emphasized the fact that boys invariably resembled the "chip off the old block" and that throughout the life of the boy the parent's influence is manifestly. Also, stated the speaker, the normal boy thoroughly enjoys the company and friendship of those older than himself which should be gratifying advice to fathers and acted upon accordingly.

Simla, India, June 1.—Ten people were killed and four wounded and two Mohammedans killed and five wounded in fighting yesterday at Malipu when the Sikhs tried to prevent the slaughter of a cow.

DISTANCE RECORD STILL UNBROKEN

Karachi, India, June 1.—The Spanish monoplane of Senora Iris Carpintero is tempting to break the distance flight record now held by Senora Maitrejah, near Ur of the Chaldees.

Captains Ignacio Jimines and Iglesias made a forced landing, Nasirpah, in the Mesopotania, is approximately 3,000 miles from Seville, from which point they started at noon Tuesday.

Dispatches last night stated that the fliers had reached Nasirabad, British India, and therefore had broken the record but this was found to be an error.

SUNDAY GOLF A LIVE SUBJECT

Sunday golf is a subject which is attracting considerable attention in the press, largely through the discussion which occurred at the recent meeting of the Huron Synod in London, where a feeling of pessimism seemed to prevail with regard to the problem it creates in connection with the Church attendance, and religious devotion.

A clergyman in Walkerville is attempting to solve the problem in his particular community by holding an early Sunday service for golfers. The attendants may go to church in their golf togs, and even enjoy a breakfast before they start off for the links. This plan is frowned upon by those who adhere to the view that religious devotion and not the convenience of golfers, should be the first consideration in arranging the time for the services in the churches.

As pointed out by the St. Catharines Standard, the problem of Sunday golf is being discussed in other countries besides Canada. Just now it is a live topic of conversation in England where the Spectator has precipitated a public discussion through the publication of a letter from a subscriber signing himself 'Rural Dean,' suggesting that the Sunday services should be held on the golf links, for the benefit of the players.

Roger Wethered, well known golfer, submits the opinion that the people should go to the church rather than compel the church to go to the people. Incidentally he points out that a golfer can get in two full rounds of golf on Sunday between the regular church services, so that golf need not necessarily interfere with church attendance.

E. W. E. Holderness objects to church services being held on the links, because people hold different views on religion and it might lead to disputes. He thinks there are enough disputes in the locker rooms now without adding any more.

Other club managers suggest the holding of early morning services, while some others bluntly disapprove of the whole idea and discussion.

One American paper getting into the controversy calls attention to the loss of so many championships by the British players, insinuating that if there is one thing they seem to need, it surely is prayer.

But it is quite noticeable in the discussion that none of the players entering into the argument suggests that on the Sabbath Day it might be advisable to dispense with golf altogether and devote the whole day to religious observance.

WOMEN TAKE ACTIVE PART IN CHURCH WORK

The Anglican synod of the diocese of Toronto has made an important change in the canons, which will have the effect of permitting women of the congregation to vote for the election of lay delegates to the synod. Hitherto male members of the congregations only had that right so far as that particular diocese is concerned. It seems an extraordinary thing that the privilege should have been withheld from the women so long. In the majority of parishes the ladies are, undoubtedly, the hardest workers for the church and, as a rule, the element mostly responsible for providing the funds by which the religious work of the parish is carried on. If it were not for the various activities which they sponsor, many a church would be in a bad way financially. That they should be given a voice in choosing the men who represent their interests and the interests of the congregation in general at the synod meetings is surely only reasonable and proper. The churches are more conservative than many other organizations in adopting changes, but it is to be observed that in various ways the women are beginning to secure greater recognition, and it looks as if this field will, like most others, in course of time, be open to them. The question of women preachers is already a lively issue in some denominations, and there are surely no insuperable difficulties attached to the idea of giving them a status in the deliberative councils of the governing bodies.

His Companion (cheerfully)—I expect he's the food inspector.

"Do you think that Doris is fitted for the battle of life?"

"Well, she ought to be, she's been in four engagements already."

Pretty Girl—Well, daddy, I'm engaged.

Father—You don't mean it?

Pretty Girl—Certainly not, but it's great fun all the same.

"Do you act towards your wife as you did before you married her?"

"Exactly. I remember how I used to act when I first fell in love with her. I used to lean over the fence in front of the house and gaze at her shadow on the window blind, afraid to go in. And I do just the same now when I get home late."

Mazie—Keeping up the instalments.

Customer—Are you sure it's an exclusive perfume?

Clerk—Oh, yes, madam. Only a very few persons can even pronounce it.

Bachelor (dreamily)—Sometimes I yearn for the peace and comfort of married life.

Married Friend (wistfully)—I always do.

Visitor—How many controls are there on that wireless set?

Father—Three—my wife, son and daughter.

There will be a chorus of 700 boys and girls of the public schools and many beautiful solos and special choruses will be presented. St. Michael's Academy will also be represented at the concert. Professor V. P. Hunt has taken a great deal of interest in the concert and a large turnout is expected.

READING BREWERIES LIMITED.

The dividend of fifty cents per share on the Common Stock of the Brading Breweries Limited is indicative of the increased business being enjoyed by this well established brewery. It is reported that the company's sales have been increasing steadily each month this year, and that the company has now become one of the important factors in the market. The recent expansion in Montreal and Eastern Quebec will soon be reflected in increased earnings. The Brading products are now distributed throughout the whole of Ontario and Quebec, and as the old name is as well known in the United States as it is in Canada, the increased tourist traffic expected this summer should prove a decided benefit.

Mrs. Harry Bateman, Albion Street, has returned from Toronto after attending the funeral of her cousin, the late Miss Rose Rose.

Among the nurses who graduated at the Ontario Hospital Nurses' Training School at Whitby were: Miss Hazel Brash of Stirling, and Miss Stella Wickens also of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kerr left this morning for Toronto to attend the graduation of their daughter, Miss Elsie Kerr at the Wellesley Hospital.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church a most successful Tea and sale of homecooking was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Walker, John St. The spacious rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion and the dining room where tea was served was bright with spring blossoms. A large number were in attendance during the afternoon and the home cooking booth was well patronized.

FRY—CANNONS

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on May 15th at the United Church parsonage by the Reverend Mr. Harrison when Miss Florence Cannons, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cannons became the bride of Mr. William Leonard Fry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fry, 209 Pinnacle St.

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. H. Pickerell, of this city. After a short honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Fry will take up residence in Belleville

CLOSING QUOTATIONS

STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE

The Mining Market was full of action today, and will remain open tomorrow, although closed on Monday, which is the King's Birthday. Activity was in good demand during the afternoon and sold up from 3c to a close at $3.65 bid. Malartic was very heavily traded in, sold up to $1.80 but met a lot of profit taking and only agined 6c on the day to $1.67. Teck was 20c bet ter at $10.10. Dome Mines was one of the exciting features selling up $6.50 to 101. Noranda's pool is apparently working to good effect as they gained $3.25 today to $31, but eased off again to $29.85. Sherritt Gordon and Buffalo Barry Basin were and stronger and Treadwell made another of the spectacular advances of the day by rising up $3.50 to $33. The close was strong as follows:

Alaska $2.00, Amity 30, Amulet 3.65, Area 33, Bathurst 24, Bedford 36, Bidgood 88, Barry Hollinger 49, Central Manitoba 1.32, Castle Trethewey 6c, Crown Reserve 47 1-2, Dome 9.25, Pedical Kirkland 2.70, Granada 24, Hollinger 13.75, Howey 86, Hudsons Bay 17.95, International Nickel 101.00, Jackson Manion 75, Kirkland Lake 1.81, Keeley 71, Kootenay Florence 28 1-2, Lake Shore 23.00, Lava 31, McDougall Menzies 26.90, Macassa 37, Mandy 2.60 Malartic 1.67, Mining Corp. 3.50, Noranda 29.25, Nipissing 4.05, Pend Oreille 15.00, Pioneer 58, Premier Gold 2.20, Sherritt Goron 6.15, Sudbury Basin 9.25 Trough Oakes 27, Treadwell Yukon 23.-00, Towagmac 2.38, Teck Hughes 10.10 Vipond 58, Wright Hargreaves 4.25.

FOUR CLUBS IN TENNIS LEAGUE

A. J. Black of Belleville Is Secretary of Tummon Group

Representatives from Campbellford, Tweed, Point Anne and Belleville were present at the first meeting of the Tummon Tennis League for the year 1928. The following officers were elected for this year, assuring the League of a live executive and therefore a live league.

President—Mr. Moffat, Tweed.

Vice President—Mr. Bell, Campbellford.

Secretary Treas.—A. J. Black, Belleville.

Some discussion ensued as to the number of teams to be in the league this year. It is to be hoped that Napanee and Trenton will enter the league, to make it an eight team group following the withdrawal of Deloro and Cobourg. It was decided to hold the first Tournament of the year at Tweed, on June the 4th, the play to start at 11.30 a.m. This will consist of two men's doubles, and three ladies' doubles. After the tournament a meeting will be held to draw up the schedule for the season.

Great interest was evidenced by all who attended this meeting and Tennis is more firmly entrenched this year in Belleville than ever. Appreciation of the work of last year's President, A. Armstrong was shown by the Delegates as it was due to his untiring efforts that the league has prospered as it un doubtedly has done. (T. B. M.)

WOMEN GET IT OR ELSE SUFFER

Information Is What They Want And They Ask For It

Edmonton, Alta.—In the Alberta Women's Home Bureau the quality of information which possesses all women at some time is quenched as frequently as possible by Mrs. Evelyn Murphy, but sometimes she throws up her hands in despair.

Requests for information come from all parts of the province. One letter brings an inquiry concerning the raising of chinchilla rabits. An ambitious gardener desires directions for building a greenhouse, and another wants to know how to eliminate gardening pests. A flock of canaries needs work, a newcomer to the country, writes in to inquire how to make baking powder biscuits and bread on a large scale, and a farm woman seeks information regarding the making of rugs. Detailed material is sought in season, and stati stics are asked for to settle arguments.

The little office on the ground floor of the government building is a busy place and as of late has developed into a hive is full of honey on a June day. The work rooms on the floor above are over the province, and the demands are not confined to women. Men have also learned where to look for information, and they do not hesitate when the need arises.

Between three and four thousand folders containing information on various subjects line one wall of the office. Above are smaller cabinets containing charts which enable the worker to locate which folder contains the desired information. Much of the material is collected from newspapers and magazines, bulletins issued by the government, both in this and other lands, by commercial organizations, and also a boon and a blessing; reference books contribute their share.

NEW BRIDGE OPENED OVER WELLAND CANAL

St. Catherines, Ont., June 1.—The huge double bascule bridge over the Welland ship canal on the highway between St. Catharines and Niagara Falls was opened informally today, dis carding the rough detour and temporary frame bridge that has been in use 15 years.

26 HOUR RUNNING RACE

New York, June 1.—C. C. Pyle, who will promote some exciting affair every York something new tonight in a 26-hour team running race. The race will start at 9 a.m. and close at 11 p.m. Saturday.

Strangers will never find that man dull who has learned how to be good company among his own family.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

HANARD REID

The funeral of the late Hanard Reid took place yesterday afternoon from the home of J. A. Latin, the Concession of Thurlow, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Farmer of Canniton United Church officiated at both the house and the grave. The bearers were W. Bradshaw, W. Badgely, C. Hoblin, J. Sills, G. White, and S. Cooley.

W. W. ANDERSON

The funeral of the late W. W. Anderson took place yesterday afternoon from the late residence, 1st Concession of Amelisburg, to Albury Cemetery. The Rev. C. E. Clarke of Christ Church, assisted by Rev. A. L. Geen officiated at both services. The bearers were W. C. Mikel, K.C., H. F. Ketchenon, J. Newton, W. Hall, W. Morgan, Dr. Kinnear.

CHARLES HENRY COVENEY.

Campbellford, May 31.—The death occurred early this morning of Charles Henry Coveney, a life long resident of the Township of Seymour. The deceased was born 58 years ago and is the son of the late Edward and Catherine Coveney. For the past life he has been engaged in the hotel business and for a number of years has been the proprietor of the Queen Hotel, Front Street. He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church and a director of the Campbellford Industrial Exhibition. His wife pre deceased him six years ago.

There are left to mourn his loss one son, Adrian at home: three sisters, Mary Jane of Campbellford, Mrs. James Daly of Campbellford and Mrs. M. Butler of Peterborough; also two brothers, Allan, a farmer in Seymour Esat, and Peter of this village.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 9.30 in St. Mary's Church.

ANNA McCALLUM.

Marmora, May 31—To many in the Marmora district the news came as a painful shock that there had passed away in the village at eight o'clock that morning, one of a highly respected family in the person of Miss Anna McCallum. Though not resident in the district for some ten years or so, the deceased lady was held in mutual esteem by those who knew her in her earlier years and those who journeyed to her acquaintance on her occasional returns to the scene of her girlhood. A little over a month ago, after months of failing health, Miss McCallum returned with her mother to a residence on Victoria Avenue, Toronto, where in the hope that recuperation might be afforded her. Human skill and attention proved unavailing and she passed away as stated.

Predeceased by her father, the late John McCallum, and two brothers, Kenneth and Alex, she leaves to mourn her loss, her sorrowing mother and besides, two brothers and four sisters; Archie of Cobourg, Donald of Niagra Falls, N.Y., Mrs. (Dr.) Ella of Ottawa, Mrs. A. E. Robillard of Toronto, Mrs. Martin Murray of Glenavon, Saskatchewan, and Miss Mary McCallum of New York.

The funeral took place do Wednesday, Saying the remains at 9 a. m. for the Sacred Heart Church. Interment was in the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

THINK FOR YOURSELF, MAN, DON'T BE A SHEEP!

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Good citizenship carries with it the obligation to think and to act as an individual. Our primitive inheritance and our instinct to follow the crowd make this difficult.

Nevertheless, difficult though it be, it is imperative.

With so many problems facing nation, problems of forestry conservation, labor and capital armaments, international obligations, etc., good Americans must rouse themselves from a sense of false security and optimism, must "learn" to question everything at least once," and must carefully consider all sides and then make up their minds according to their lights, in a free and independent fashion.

In a system of administration such as we have—of the people, for the people and by the people"—it appears paradoxical that the people themselves should not show more interest in the machinery of law making and in the delegation of authority.

Yet only a percentage of citizens entitled to the franchise take the trouble to cast their ballots, and it is safe to say that of these a far smaller percentage really have a clear idea, based on independent judgment, of the effect their vote will have upon the conduct of legislative affairs.

The latest amendment to the Constitution regarding prohibition is a case in point.

Either the nation did something it did not want to do, being swept onward by a wave of sentimentality, or it wanted prohibition, but failed to realize how far-reaching its effects would be.

At any rate, everything was done in an entirely legitimate way, the States and their citizens had plenty time to think the question over, there was nothing tricky or mysterious about the passage of the amendment or the about the enforcement act later passed by Congress.

Yet, in many populous centres, there was never a more unpopular measure, a law less respected, a law more frequently violated than the Volstead act.

How can such a paradoxical situation exist in so great a democracy as America?

How can the ultimate law-makers, the people themselves, put a law upon their statute books and then flagrantly violate and abuse it?

The answer is to be sought in the psychology of the citizen, in the way his mind works.

First and foremost he is a collectivist instead of an individualist. He likes to be with the majority.

Secondly, he tends to follow the lines of least resistance. The easiest way is the best, he thinks. Why bother?

Lastly, he dislikes to take the time to think problems out for himself. He is too busy—too intent on getting ahead.

It's not as if should be of course.

But it's the mind of the average citizen nevertheless.

Bigger and bigger hats will be the slogan for summer, so far as the chapeau is concerned, and added to this the fresh will be other important features, such as horsehair, leghorn, bengaline and bandos, which are most essential to the making of the new hat.

With the great success of printed chiffon frocks for summer afternoons the new hat is much on the order of those we used to call "picture hats" made in transparent horsehair and this color scheme is repeated in the flowers placed at the side of the crown and in the high deep folds which are placed around it.

CHAPTER 23

THE FIRST LOVE-LETTER

Celia's letter to Annesley was written slowly and with great difficulty. She felt herself blushing as she wondered what he would say when he read it.

Several times she told herself she couldn't do it but the thought of her mother drove on. Only the memory of Annesley's kindliness during those trying days in her home compelled her.

Haltingly she explained the situation, but ended by saying:

"You need only enclose several blank sheets of paper. It is necessary that the envelope be addressed in your hand —a man's hand—and bear the New York Postmark. But, the first few times, I shall have to ask you to copy the letters I shall write because I must have a letter to show my mother, should she insist. I hesitate to ask this of you, when I know how busy you are, and I hope that you won't laugh and think ridiculous the things I shall have to say to myself. I am not adept at love-letters—letters purporting to be from a bridegroom—but I do be best I can."

Gwen came in, just as she was finishing her task, and, when Celia told her what she was doing, Gwen collapsed on the divan and rocked with mirth.

From the things her recent callers had told her regarding her own affairs, she realized that Miss Page had made no secret of her visit to Annesley's flat first talk she had with her mother, after her return home.

Gwen sat up and dried her eyes.

"It's too rich!" she moaned. "But oh, Celia, you are a resourceful youngster! I'd never have thought of it in a million years."

"I wish I hadn't been compelled to," said Celia. "It's horrible to have to ask Jim to do this for me. He'll laugh just as you're doing now."

"Oh, no it's 'Jim.' My dear, I scent a romance."

"Nonsense!" snapped Celia irritably. "He's only a friend—but the best friend I have in the world, except yourself.

ANNE has slipped away from the busy dormitory to her favorite seat on the campus. And for an hour she has tried very hard to train runaway hair her pretty head. Quite normal! Everything from plans for her vacation to the latest dance step now dress which she has put on to be shopping in the village later, pass through her mind. Mother was so sweet to send her that check at the last minute. It will be just the thing for the last days at college and even with a little felt hat, it will be very so smart for early autumn when she returns home for her summer vacation. And that bright woolen material and accompanying scarf make it very comfortable for road days without a coat. The off-side closing of the blouse and a parallel row of buttons add a smart tailored effect. The fullness of the skirt is achieved by pleats set in the skirt at the side front. A wide leather belt adds the finishing touch to the chic street or sports frock. Rayon crepe, flannel or raw silk are materials that would be suitable for the dress.

And, Gwen, it's awful. How am I ever to write to Annesley? I can't possibly write such letters to myself."

Celia bowed her head.

"I couldn't," she whispered. "They're—they mean too much to me!"

Gwen looked at Celia. "After the way he's treated you."

"Even yet. . . Always."

"What fools these women are!" remarked Gwen, with an air of wisdom, which didn't deceive Celia. She knew that Gwen was thinking of Larry Cross. She asked:

"Gwen, you Larry lately?"

Gwen shook her head.

"How could I? He'd never think of writing to me. And I have too much pride to ask him. But I hear that he's really doing well. As I wrote you, he's quite changed. Has the poise boy has a long hard road to follow. It isn't even a return year yet, when you've gone so far down the path of folly."

After Gwen had gone, Celia finished her letter to Annesley, addressed it, and started on the corner mail box. But, at the door, she encountered Miss Page, dressed for the street.

"I'll mail your letter, Mrs. Falconer," she cooed.

Without thinking, Celia handed it her and went upstairs to her room.

It wasn't until later that she realized she had done an unwise thing. Of course, Miss Page would look at the address on the envelope. What conclusion would she draw from the fact that a letter was being sent from Celia to a man other than her husband?

Annesley's reply came quickly. He wrote:

"My dear little friend, there was no need for your apologies. I am only too happy to serve you in any way. In order that no time be lost, I have written a letter that I hope will be acceptable. I regret that I am on an adjoining circuit and that part of my work I cannot has been sadly neglected. I have arranged to have my mail written me in all my life. If it were a small brief, now. . . However, here goes. . . .

"My dearest wife. . . ."

"How long must this separation last? Each hour seems a day; each day a week. I count on the calendar the days since you have left me, and it seems that a morning has passed since I stood on the station-platform and watched your train pull out. The house is horribly still, without your quick, light step, your adorable laugh her. There is hardly a moment of the day when I am not thinking of you, wanting to hold you in my arms, to tell you that I love you."

Celia giggled over the letter. Somehow, she could see Annesley composing it, with a sentimental smile, and a humorous light in his dark eyes. How kind he had been not to laugh at her absurd request.

With a lighter heart, she carried the letter upstairs and handed it to her mother.

SINCLAIR'S

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Very interesting is the choker or bare round green beads brighter than jade and joined to a gold chain is pendant fashion instead of being strung and Agnes features them for the black frock.

A Paris correspondent reports: "Lace sleeves have become quite a feature of not only the afternoon but also of the evening frock and they idealize the texture of the skin and shape of the arm, and are becoming to all; but what the arm is lost by the back, for the smartest of evening dresses have practically no back at all."

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Marks caused by verdigris on any kind of fabric can be washed away with soap and water if they have not been neglected. When they have remained on the material for a day or two they are generally difficult to remove. They will often yield if lemon juice is applied to them and allowed to remal on for a little while. The dissolved verdigris should be rinsed off with water.

A timely application of French chalk will remove grease spots from a dress. Lay the garment out somewhere where it can stay for a day or two without being moved, and place a little French chalk lightly on the soiled part. Leave this on for some hours and then shake the chalk off again, replacing it with fresh chalk and repeating the process several times for a few days until the chalk has entirely absorbed the grease mark.

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milton, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has brought the Change of Life. It helps me and I cannot praise it too highly. I was troubled with heat flashes and my limbs were heavy so I could hardly walk to do my farm work. I read in the newspapers your ad about the Vegetable Compound and thought to give it a trial. The first bottle gave me relief and I have told others what it does for me. I am willing for you to use my letter if you choose."—Mrs. D. B. PATERS, Milton, Ontario.

Women, Your Manifold Duties Require Strength

St. Catharines, Ont.—"During my early married life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was very helpful to me as a tonic and nervine. I was become all run down, my nerves were all upset. I could not sleep and was weak and nervous. A friend advised by my mother to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it relieved me of the nervousness and made me a well, strong woman. Since then I have always recommended it to weak women."—Mrs. M. F. Stack, 3 French St.

GANANOQUE WAS MEETING PLACE

Of Delegates of Auxiliaries of The Presbyterian Church

MUCH WORK DONE

C.G.I.T. Also Presented Programme During The Conference Week

Over seventy delegates representing the different auxiliaries of the Kingston W. M. S. Presbyterial of the Presbyterian Church in Canada met in St. Andrew's Church, Gananoque, May 22nd and 23rd. The meetings were presided over by the president, Mrs. Duff of Kingston.

Reports of the different department secretaries showed an active interest being taken in all branches of the work. The president in her opening remarks stated that great were the privileges of W. M. S. workers, therefore great also were their responsibilities. She urged a great awakening of interest in the year that lies ahead. Mrs. Charles Thorburn, Provincial Treasurer, Ottawa, gave the principal address on the evening of the first day. She held that while annual meetings served their purpose in being retrospective, for we learn much from experience yet they should rather be the beginning of the New Year, hope should be the watchword. The W. M. S. members are a great but incorporate company workers in the church and not apart from it. The reason for W. M. S. Societies being formed was not that they should rival men's missionary boards. The women saw that, with only men as missionaries there was no progress being made in home religion. Women were therefore organized to send women into the homes.

A year ago the Presbyterian Church was without mission fields. They have demanded their share, received their share and paid for it. The speaker urged that the women accept the challenge before them to carry on more nobly than ever if the standards of the pioneers of Presbyterians are to be maintained. In closing she pleaded with the members to be in earnest in their prayer, 'Thy Kingdom Come."

Business Reports.

On Wednesday morning business reports were received and discussed and the annual election of officers held. The latter resulted as follows:

C. G. I. T. Take Charge.

The program of the afternoon of the second day was in charge of the C. G. I. T. of Gananoque and Kingston. Miss Lamont, Field Secretary gave an address on " Young Peoples Work."

She stated that W. M. S. members should mother the teen age girls by trying to gain their confidence. Girls and boys are not living on the surface as it would seem, but in their inner hearts have a hungering for a real friend. This she urged was the opportunity for developing a friendship with Jesus. In conclusion she said that the keynote of success for W. M. S. meetings was preparation both by prayer and arrangement of program. This should be kept in mind as the aim of the W. M. S. workers should be to attract the young to join their ranks and carry forward the banner, "The World For Christ."

At the evening meeting Miss Lamont gave another address, The Place of the W. M. S. in the Life of the Church." She very forcibly made it clear that it's members first duty was to the church. She pointed out that since an educational program develops generosity therefore the best supporters of the Budget in members of the W. M. S. She showed how each department of the society gave its contribution to the interest of the membership of the church.

The last address of the session was given by Miss Ruth Buchanan, daughter of the Bhil Field, India.

She in her address transported her audience in imagination to the heart of India. Interestingly gleaned from real experience with the Bhils and presented in the most realistic manner cannot fail to deepen the interest for these people throughout the length and breadth of the Presbyterial.

Before closing the Presbyterial expressed its utmost gratitude to all those who had helped make the programme so highly profitable and to the ladies of the church who had so

BAY OF QUINTE U.C. CONFERENCE

In the Bay of Quinte Conference there are 344 pastoral charges with 628 preaching places in them.

Members of Session total 2,024, two more than reported a year ago. Stewards or managers number 3,221, four more than last year. Other members of official boards show a decrease of 46 and are reported as numbering 2,145.

There are according to the reports 220 more families under the care of the United Church of Canada in this Conference this year than last. The church membership of the United Church in the Bay of Quinte Conference stands at 67,366, 15 less than reported a year ago.

There are 545 Sunday Schools—5 more than last year with a total enrolment of 923 less than last year.

There has been an increase in salaries of ministers at the rate of $25.000 per year for the whole conference. The conference contributed $91,000 for the maintenance and extension fund for nine months or at the rate of $121,000 for a twelve months period—an increase over last year's figures of more than $31,000.

For all purposes the grand total givings of congregations within this conference amount to $1,004,108 for the twelve months ending December 31st, an increase at the rate of $75,000 for the whole year.

Since the consummation of Union in 1925 mortgages have been paid off United Church property in this Conference to the amount of $83,000.

Churches and Sunday Schools have been repaired or redecorated at a total outlay of over $75,000.

Manses or parsonages have been bought or built at a cost of over $25,000 and repairs to parsonages already in use account for $24,415, additional.

More than $4,700 have been spent in furnishing for manses and up wards of $4,650 for organs and pianos.

New churches and Sunday Schools have been erected since Union and many parts of the Conference, some of which may be mentioned:

Sharbot Lake, Minden, Port Anne, Greenwood and Oshawa Mission have royally entertained its delegates. The kindly spirit of welcome extended by the Mayor on behalf of his most beautiful town were much appreciated.

CLOSE GAMES IN KI-Y SOFT-BALL

Sikhs And Maple Leafs Best In Juvenile Section

Four of the five softball games played last night in the KI-Y were closely contested affairs and although the other game developed into somewhat of a runaway match it was productive of some thrills for the latter part of the losers.

The 11-1 Methodist-Golden Bantam game had to be called in the 6th innings account of darkness and as the innings was incomplete the game reverts back to the 5th innings when the Golden Bantams were in the lead by 19 to 13.

The other Bantam Series game turned out a tame affair terminating by the close call of 18-17. This fixture was anybody's game up until the last putout.

Only one game took place in the Midget Series and that was the Maple Leaf-Plain from the Nationals by the count of 4 to 3. Although the game kept down the score considerably in this fixture otherwise it would have been a real thriller affair.

Sikhs and Maple Leafs were the best in the Juvenile Section last night, the former winning from the Wess Hill Pounders 18-2 and the latter from the Harem-Scarem 13-6. Both fixtures were fretting affairs featured by smart exhibitions of fielding. The Maple Leaf —Raven game was a nice pitching duel between Jarriage and Ridley with honors about equally distributed. Erratic fielding was mostly responsible for the defeat of the Ravens along with the inability to produce hits when most needed.

In both the Bantam and the Midget series, the teams have reached the half way mark, having completed the first round of games and the following shows the standing of the respective teams to date.

BANTAM SERIES

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Cardinals	3	0
Golden Bantam	1	1	1
Ravens	1	1	1
St. Michaels	0	3

MIDGET SERIES "A" SECTION

Team	Won	Lost
Flying Canadians	3	0

BABE RUTH SURPASSES ALL PREVIOUS RECORD

New York, June 1—Babe Ruth has closed his books on the month of May with 19 home runs to his credit, more than he ever had had at this stage of the season. He is 19 games and two days ahead of his 1927 pace.

Thirty big, round, sponge-like balls, as big as cricket balls, to be found on the beaches, are the egg-cases of whelks.

REVISE DATES IN CENTRAL I.C.

Belleville Play In Oshawa Tomorrow, In Kingston On Monday

Kingston, June 1st.—Peterboro were ordered, at last night's meeting of the C.O.B.L. held in the Y.M.C.A., to play Wednesday's postponed game at the Fair Grounds on Friday, and accordingly arrangements were made for the game to be played at six o'clock.

The question of the schedule was the most important matter to come before he meeting. Secretary Newton Thompson, of Belleville, explained that with five teams it was almost impossible to arrange a schedule which would be entirely satisfactory to all teams.

After considerable discussion, several changes were made in the schedule whereby the Peterboro at Oshawa game, scheduled for July 25th, was shifted to August 4th, and the Kingston at Deloro game, scheduled for August 4th, was changed to July 25th. The double-header, Belleville at Kingston was altered to one game and the games being played here on June 4th.

June 1	—Peterboro at Kingston.
June 2	—Belleville at Oshawa.
June 2	—Deloro at Peterboro.
June 4	—Belleville at Kingston.
June 4	—Peterboro at Belleville.
June 6	—Kingston at Oshawa.
June 7	—Deloro at Kingston.
June 9	—Oshawa at Peterboro.

The question of speeding up the games was taken up, and the umpires will be instructed by President McFadden to see that all games are started on time, and that a limit is waited by the teams getting on the field at the end of each inning.

The resignation of H. Nicholson as umpire was received, and no other appointment was made, Mr. Kingston exclusive to send in another name to the president.

BELLE THEATRE

vast Sahara desert after something spectacularly and refreshingly attractive in the line of motion picture entertainment at the Belle Theatre, where Paramount's new production, "Beau Sabreur," is being shown.

With a cast of sterling quality, unusual direction and more unusual photography, "Beau Sabreur" comes to this city as a companion of even greater magnitude to "Beau Geste." Both were from the pen of Percival Christopher Wren, whose stories of the desert and the Foreign Legion have proved best sellers everywhere.

Clary Cooper plays the role of Major Henri de Beaujolais, the dashing and virile young Frenchman who vows he will never look at a woman—and then meets one. Cooper is ideal in the part, and gives a fine performance of the handsome soldier-sheik of the burning sands. Evelyn Brent is the girl, Mary Yarbrugh, who becomes mixed up in a series of thrilling adventures with Major Henri. Noah Beery, William Powell, Mitchell Lewis, Rosco Karns, Joan Standing, Arnold Kent, Frank Belcher, Raoul Paoli and Oscar Smith, are other members of the strong cast.

REGENT THEATRE

On your toes men. For here comes the flashin'est, dashin'est western thriller of your life—with handsome Ted Wells and his wonder horse like the grocer knows his Shredded Wheat. Hidden gold mine. Bandits. And a beautiful girl trying to defend her wounded father. Great stuff, every bit! Regent today and Saturday.

BABE GOT 19TH FOUR BASE HIT

Herbie Pennock Pitched Great Ball And Yanks Defeat Senators

New York, June 1.—Babe Ruth, took a look at the right-field bleachers in the Yankee Stadium yesterday and realized that it would be a long, long time before they will serve as his favorite target again. As a parting shot, before the Yankees left town last night the Babe fired his nineteenth homer of the season into the section of circus seats just for sentiment.

That one blow was enough to beat the Senators, but it didn't. A home run by Durst an inning before really drove in the winning run, for Herbie Pennock pitched his second shutout of the season, and only one run was needed. The score eventually became 6-0, for the Babe drove in a couple more tallies with a triple in the fifth.

Five doubles and a triple went toward Detroit's 9-4 victory over Cleveland; the third straight of the series. Gibson walked four men but otherwise pitched great ball, lowering his guard only in the last inning when Cleveland scored two runs. Rice, Chalmers and Fothergill helped him out with three hits each. Fothergill got two doubles in four times up.

Shaute, making his first start since incurring an infected finger, was never a puzzle, but lasted seven innings until removed for a pinch hitter.

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns divided a double-header, Chicago taking the first, 7-3, and St. Louis the second, 9-1, in ten innings.

Bleeholder and Wilies were batted hard in the first game, while Lyons held the locals to seven scattered hits.

The second game was a pitching duel between Adkins and Gray, each of whom allowed only five hits. The three runs were all home runs, Schulte's circuit clout deciding the contest in the 10th.

Philadelphia—Boston, postponed.

HORNSBY KNOCKS FIRST HOME RUN

Pirates broke 6 Game Losing Streak By Trouncing Cards

New York, June 1.—The Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates were victorious in the only scheduled games in the National League yesterday.

The Braves made a clean sweep of the four-game series with the Phillies by winning yesterday's battle 8-4. The Braves hit three Phillies' pitches for thirteen hits, including George Sisler's first National League home run. It came in the second inning when the Braves scored seven runs. Gowdy had two other hits. Hornsby bagged two doubles and a single. Bob Smith kept the Phillies' six hits well scattered.

The Pirates broke their losing of six straight by defeating the Cardinals, 9-2, in the final game of the series. The Buccaneers tied the score in the sixth when Earl Smith hit a home run with none on and shot out one safer two were down in the ninth. Paul Waner's double scored Glenn Wright's single turned thetrick.

BIRDS NOW GRACE CELLAR POSITION

Toronto Continue To Lead International—Jersey City Lost

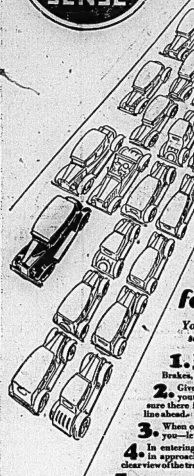

Reading, June 1.—For the first time in many, many years, the Baltimore Orioles, six-time champions of the International League, found themselves resting in the cellar last evening. Reading rose from the dreary depths that they occupied all last year when they defeated the Birds, 4-3 yesterday afternoon. Harry Leach's double off Cantrell scored the winning run in the 10th after the score was tied at 3-all in the seventh.

Rochester, June 1.—Eleven safe hitting and steady fielding by Rob Shawkey through the full nine innings of action, gave the Montreal Royals a victory over the Rochester Red Wings, 7-3 here. The win evened the first series of the year between the two clubs at two games each, as the Royals departed last night for Montreal and the Red Wings left to invade Toronto and the league-leading Leafs.

Newark, June 1.—Bill Ehlff scored in the tenth on Jack Fournier's single off Horne to give the Newark Bears an 8-7 win over the Jersey City Black Cats here yesterday afternoon. Newark tallied twice in the ninth to tie the score, Fournier's triple driving in Conlan and Kingdon. In the tenth Ehlff singled went to second on an infield out and scored on Fournier's drive.

Dont be a Road Hog!

CARE COURTESY COMMON SENSE

7 RULES for SAFETY

You must observe each one scrupulously all the time

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape — particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a clear view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" when traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop, or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

Ontario's highways are again calling the motorist. Once more the warning—Care, Courtesy and Common-sense—must be continuously heeded by all drivers and pedestrians if accidents are to be averted.

One of the most common forms of Carelessness, Discourtesy and Lack of Common-sense is "hogging the road." Every motorist knows that the "road hog" is the driver who insists on swinging down the centre of the road so that vehicles cannot pass him on either side. Bus drivers do it. Truck drivers do it. Drivers of passenger cars do it.

Traffic congests behind the "road hog." Other drivers want to get through. Some do go through and likely meet a "side-swipe" from a car coming the other way.

Look at the picture. If you have the "road hog" habit, stop it. You have no right to create congestion and danger for others, nor even to run the risk of being mixed up yourself in an accident brought about by your own discourtesy.

Another increase in traffic is expected this year. The accident hazard increases even more rapidly than the traffic. While the Highway Traffic Act provides against practically every type of accident that can be foreseen, rules and regulations cannot control all human conduct. Upon individual drivers, and pedestrians too, depends the responsibility for lessening motor accidents.

In its efforts to promote safety on streets and roads, the Highway Safety Committee asks the co-operation of every motor vehicle driver. It is of vital importance that each driver shall become "traffic conscious," that each shall become intimately acquainted with the Rules of Safety and shall eternally exercise Care, Courtesy and Common-sense. Reckless drivers—the menace of the highways—will be weeded out by cancellation of Operators' Licenses and Motor Vehicle Permits. Pedestrians also must acquire a new sense of the dangers of the streets and highways and new habits of carefulness.

By "The Observer"

The Nationals play in Oshawa tomorrow and the leadership of the league will be at stake when these two teams clash at Alexandra Park. The Motors are leading the Central Ontario parade at the present time and the locals can rare afford to drop this game. Should they win, the Belleville team will be tied with the boys from Sam McLaughlin's town, while a loss will give the Oshawa team a clear sheet and a nice start toward pennantville.

Walter Grove will likely send Vinny Utronke to the hillock and the boy while he got off to a bad start at Peterboro will do better with the confidence gained in his first game. Utronke carried with him a nice burst of speed, and a tantalizing curve ball which may carry him through to a win tomorrow.

Bageman may draw down the catching assignment and there are worse receivers around this part of the country than the same boy.

While Belleville and Oshawa are battling it out at the modern town the Deloro and Peterboro teams will lock horns at James Stevenson Park, Peterboro, and this should be a tidy battle. The Petes have not yet broken into the win column but their turn is coming and it would not be surprising to see Tommy Holyoak's lads come through with a victory this afternoon.

All five teams are evenly-matched and some great battles are in store for the fans around the circuit this year.

In order to alleviate the tiresome double-headers the Belleville team will play in Kingston on Monday, the game originally was scheduled for later in the season. It was an open date for both clubs and the two managers made mutual arrangements to play on the celebration of the King's Birthday.

The revised schedule is published today and fans are advised to clip a copy for their own uses. Several changes from the original dates are noted.

It is a galaxy of girls soft-ball that will display their wares in the city over the week end when the Beavers are entertaining the high-class aggregations. The Oshawa ladies, one of the fastest teams in the Lake Ontario district, will cross bats with the Beavers tomorrow night at the armouries.

Read what the Oshawa Times has to say of the forthcoming visit:

'Chevrolet girls softball team, who gave the Rochester All-Stars such an interesting argument on the last holiday will journey to Belleville this coming Saturday to engage the Belleville Beavers in an exhibition contest at six o'clock standard time. The team has also arranged to visit Rochester on the American National Holiday, July 4th, in an effort to turn the tables on the All-Stars right in their own home town.

The Nationals of the Toronto Sunnyside League will play in Napanee and Kingston on the holiday.

The horse races at the Exhibition Park on Monday have, the one and only holiday attraction in the city. The races will no doubt be keenly-contested as some of the best horses in the district will be here.

The Parkdales of Toronto meet the Beavers as a side attraction and this game will be well-worth the price of admission alone. The Parkdale Club is outfitted and a galaxy of girl stars, all of whom have built up a reputation on the diamonds around Sunnyside. The Parkdales are sponsored by that great Toronto sportsman, Teddy Oke and Belleville fans will be assured of a real game when the Parkdales meet the Belleville Beavers.

Smilin' Sunny Green made a hit with the local fans with his aggressive tactics on Wednesday. Green will likely be given another chance by Manager Walter Gerow.

'Stubby' Palmer is also a welcome addition to the outfield and made several good catches.

OSHAWA LASSIES PLAY HERE SAT.

Famed Parkdales Cross Bats With Beavers In Holiday Fixture

Oshawa Chevrolets will play the Belleville Beavers at the Armouries on Saturday night at 6.30 in [illegible] which [illegible] Oshawa [illegible] three straight years and the same team has been intact for the past four. The Chevs have built up a fine reputation and they will be out to maintain their record at the expense of the Beavers. The visitors will line up as follows: Doris Kennedy 3b; Dot Moffat ss; Ira Gold 2b; Mabel Elliott 2b; Annie Walker rf; Vivian Elliott p; Bella Belair lf; Edith Elliott cf; Vivian Fulton c.

Alex Webster, pitcher for the famed Chevrolets of Oshawa, is coach, and manager of the girls' team and it will be a sprightly aggregation that he will trot out against Allen Meagher's Beavers. Messrs. Jothan, Kerr and Meagher have been coaching the Beavers and right now the team is in perfect shape.

The Beavers will play the Parkdales of Toronto on Monday afternoon at the Belleville Agricultural Park in connection with the race meeting under the auspices of he Fair Board. The Beavers will meet the Toronto Capitals at 6.30 on Monday evening. The Capitals recently defeated the Toronto "Planters" team by a score of 23-4.

AMATEUR GOLFER MAKES HOLE IN ONE

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., June 1.—For the first time in the history of Jasper Park Lodge golf course an amateur has made a hole in one. The congratulations are showering on Robin Bell-Irving of Powell River, B. C. The feat is all the more spectacular because it was accomplished at the 155th hole which is known as the bad baby. Mr. Bell-Irving was playing over the course this afternoon with George Stevenson of Hamilton, Ont., Mr. H. B. Lee of Nigeria, Portland, Maine, and Gordon Barr of Jasper. Lee did the bad baby in two and the game up to that time was so dangerously close that Bell-Irving had to accomplish the impossible. "He ought to be able to handle bad babies," said his wife, "he has brought up four."

PREPARING FOR LONGER JOURNEY

Crew of Southern Cross In Honolulu Ready For Next Lap

OVERHAUL PLANE

The Next Hop of Trip Is Regarded As Most Perilous

Honolulu, June 2.—Encouraged by the successful 2,400 mile flight along the treacherous Pacific air lane from Oakland, Calif., the crew of the huge tri-motored monoplane, Southern Cross today turned with confidence to the preparations for the second and longest leg in the 7,788 mile flight to Australia.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions faced the problems of planning to fly the 3,144 miles to Suva for to the Isle of Opolu at the British Samoa, about 2,500 miles from Hawaii. The next hop is recognized by aviators as most perilous of the journey and the facilities for landing at Opolu were recommended by the British consul here as being better than those at Suva.

The machine will be overhauled today and if it is in good condition it is possible the hop-off will be made on Monday.

PROPOSE ORCHESTRAL WORK IN CITY SCHOOLS

Harry Greenleaf, Secretary of the Parks Board and an ex-alderman made what appeared to be a timely suggestion at the public school music concert when he asserted that the teachings of Prof. V. P. Hunt should be a start toward a great orchestral work. He pointed out that a boys' band could be organized here with little trouble along that line and Mr. Greenleaf suggested that it should be started among the high school boys. Already there is the nucleus of a band at the school and with a little assistance others could be taught the fundamentals of the various instruments. The speaker alluded to the Cobourg band as an example of this work. "With a new bandmaster here, now is the time to line up this project," said Mr. Greenleaf.

CHARGES "PAT" AT CANADA HOUSE

Allegations By Member

Allegations of "flunkyism" and red-tape in the administration of Canada House, the Dominion government's headquarters in Trafalgar Square, London, were voiced in the House of Commons this week by R. H. Brevets, Conservative, of Vancouver. The photograph shows him majesty the king, in the act of formally opening Canada House, while ascending the steps are the queen and Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner.

PUBLIC AND SEPARATE SCHOOL PUPILS VIE FOR MUSIC HONORS

Prof. V. P. Hunt Has Trained Children To a High Degree

Seven hundred children of the city of Belleville, seven hundred rising young citizens of the Dominion of Canada, the glorious voice of youth raised to the 700th degree, could anything be more inspiring, more wonderful than a choir of boys and girls hundreds strong that assembled in the Armouries last night to celebrate Empire Day and the King's Birthday in a concert that is presented as a great treat to the citizens of this city annually.

A crescendo of music that rose to the very skies, heard blocks off and with never a falter in its tempo thrilled a vast audience to its very depths. Seldom are patrons of music privileged to hear seven hundred voices grouped together at one time.

Queen Alexandria, Queen Mary, Queen Victoria, King George and St. Michael's Academy, all these schools contributed their quota to the huge gathering of choristers. Choruses with everybody in them, choruses by the pupils of a single school, in fact choruses of every kind, to say nothing privileged to hear seven hundred voices grouped together at one time. delightful musical evening that has ever been heard in this city.

The children were all seated on a specially built platform on one side of the Armouries, tiers high, while the spectators faced them. Each school had its special grouping and two pianos accompanied the singers. For their first number the children sang "Oh Canada," en masse, and seldom has a more inspiring sight been witnessed. At the end of the selection the kiddies all waved Union Jacks especially provided for the occasion and cheered lustily.

That delightful poet, Milne, has written some poems most pleasing to children known as "When We Were Very Young" and the grade classes of Queen Mary and King George schools presented two of them to the audience. Another number well received was "Land of Tomorrow," as sung by the St. Michael's children.

A feature of the evening was "Land of Hope and Glory," a composition by Sir Edward Elgar, sung by Mr. Fred Sprague with choruses by the children. The singing of music of this kind is known the world over, and last night saw an excellent presentation.

CITY MARKET PRICES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

Vegetables were scarce on the market this morning but a welcome addition was a quantity of asparagus. This most edible delicacy sold at two bunch es for twenty-five cents, while rhubarb was offered at five cents the bunch, cheaper than last week.

Eggs sold for twenty- eight cents the dozen and butter at forty-five cents the pound, about the same prices as last week.

CANADA READY TO ENTER PACT

Government Is Convinced Treaty Not In Conflict With League

Ottawa, June 2.—The proposals of the United States Government, by their directness and simplicity, afford to the people of the world a new and notable opportunity of ensuring lasting peace.' In such words, Premier King has intimated to the Government of the United States that the Canadian Government will be prepared to recommend to the Dominion Parliament acceptance of the proposed Kellogg treaty to outlaw war, Premier King's reply to the United States invitation was handed to the United States Minister on Wednesday.

Premier King observes that careful consideration has been given to the point whether obligations of the League Covenant would conflict in any way with the obligations of the proposed pact.

"His Majesty's Government in Canada," Premier King continues, "regards the League, with all its limitations, as an indispensable and constantly agency of international understanding, and would not desire to enter upon any course which would prejudice its effectiveness. It is, however, convinced that there is no conflict, either in the letter or in the spirit, between the Covenant and the multilateral pact, or between the obligations assumed under each."

METHODS ILLEGAL

Liquor Exporters Nervously Await Mandate of Attorney-General

Windsor, June 2.—Although he said today that he would wait for positive orders from the Attorney General's Department as Toronto before making any seizure of liquor stocks at border export docks Inspector W. M. Gardiner head of the Ontario Provincial Police here, said that he believed the big move was just ahead.

"I am not going to take any chances," the inspector said today. "I expect how ever to receive instructions at any moment to seize the stock at one of the big export docks along the river here. There are several million dollars' worth of wet goods there.

Although some of the exporters say they are in an untouchable position as far as the law is concerned they are all somewhat nervous as to the meaning of the Government move against them, when Inspector Gardiner warned all of them that their present methods of doing business were considered illegal. In essence, he is instructed to be an attempt to stop what is called "short circuiting" a method by means of which export liquor and beer find their way to local illegal drinking places, and into private hands.

But some of the law enforcement officers here take the view that the move is aimed at the smashing of the combines among the exporters, and forcing the various breweries and distilleries to do their own exporting direct.

HEARS CENSURE ON RADIO CASE

Hon. Dr. Edwards Attacks Hon. P. J. A. Cardin For Attitude

Ottawa, June 2.—More censure was meted out to the Government by the House yesterday afternoon for refusal to renew the radio broadcasting license of the International Bible Students' Association when the item of $100,000 in the Marine and Fisheries estimates for radio service was again up for discussion.

Hon. Dr. Edwards attacked Hon. P.J.A. Cardin, the Minister, strongly defended the action of his department in this matter, and Dr. Edwards denied that there was any consideration other than that of the best interests of the masses of radio users in Canada that determined the action.

Power given to the Minister in such cases, he declared, had been wisely exercised. The Association was not entitled to broadcasting, and its refusal to renew their license, and no financial loss had been occasioned to that organization through the action of the government. They had been duly warned.

Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards said a number of the Progressives warmly criticized the Government, the first mentioned declaring it was an evidence of "Bolshevistic tendencies". The item was finally passed without a vote and the House proceeded with other estimates. Before the passing of the estimates, a total of nearly $3,000,000 being passed before the dinner recess Mr. Victor Quinn, Progressive, said one item makes the objective of prorogation by June 9 a rather remote possibility. Morning sittings commence today, but the House will adjourn this afternoon to enable the members to attend the garden party at Government House. About one-third of the estimates have been passed, and there remain a number of highly contentious items to be passed.

12-YEAR-OLD SCHOOL GIRL SURRENDERS

Winnipeg, June 2.—May Walker, 12-year-old Winnipeg school girl, who disappeared from her home last Tuesday, walked into a St. Boniface police station today and surrendered. Her coat gone, drenched in a rain storm, muddy, hungry and forlorn May told police she had not eaten or slept in the 62 hours she was away from home. On being brought home the girl refused food and could not be persuaded to talk.

Fear Communists Planning Disturbances On Army's Departure

PRESERVE PEACE

Northern Dictator Reported To Have Postponed Departure

Tokio, June 2.—Reports from Peking say that the negotiations for the peaceful turning over of Peking from the Northerners to the Nationalists are in progress.

Reports state that replying to the inquiries from the Peace Preservation Committee of Peking, General Chang Kai-Peng, Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan, Nationalist Allies have jointly announced that they will entrust to the municipal bank of preserving the peace and order during the transition period and will not allow the main body of troops to enter the capital for some time. Five troops will fill sent to city, however.

Another report says that unsettling prevails in Peking because of rumors that the communists are planning disturbances after the withdrawal of the Northerners.

Mukden Troops Defeated

Peking, June 2.—Rumors were current today that the Mukden troops of the Northern Alliance had been defeated at Lieuho, 35 miles south of Peking, with 4,000 casualties.

The defeat was the result of severe fighting between Northerners and Nanhai Province troops which are allied with the Nationalists. . . Because of the difficulty of withdrawing the main force of the Mukden troops at once and the expense of their allies from Chihli and Shantung provinces, Marshal Chang Tso-Lin the Northern dictator, was reported to have postponed his departure for Manchuria.

OPINIONS VARY IN VALUE FRANC

Premier Poincare Bombarded With Questions From All Sides

Paris, June 2.—In an atmosphere of interrogation as to if, when and at what rate Premier Poincare will stabilize the franc, the new Chamber held its first formal meeting today, presided over by the oldest member, Maurice Sibille, who is in his eighty-second year.

In his inaugural speech, the veteran deputy had much to say in praise of the past accomplishments of the Premier. On their seats and in the corridors, the deputies of whom a third are newcomers, drew to the latest special their time whispering the latest stabilization rumors. Even since yesterday there has been a change in the situation. A sudden movement in the press of the Right parties in favor of immediate revalorization and the reports to which it gave rise, has demonstrated how difficult and perhaps dangerous such a movement would be. In one day, the Bank of France had, it is said, to buy between seven and eight million pounds sterling, so great was the rush of purchasers of francs in the hope that there was further profit to be made from another rise.

This situation has caused serious thought to be given to those who have been advocating that the time is now ripe opportune for stabilization or at least the rate of the franc should be fixed to 110 for sterling and 24 francs to the dollar. Of those who hold this opinion there are many in the financial cabinet men and a number of technical advisers and also Deputy Dr. Wendel, one of the regents of the Bank of France. The other camp, which is to the effect of stabilization at the rate of 125 to the pound is led by Governor Moreau, of the Bank of France, and includes the most of the important financial and business houses of the country.

During the past few weeks, Premier Poincare has almost every day been bombarded with the arguments of one school or the other and his legal mind has, he himself admits, been much troubled by the various arguments and by a plain case which has been made out to show that whichever decision he takes there are bound to be some unfortunate results.

THREE YEAR OLD TOBACCO ADDICT

Montreal, June 2.—A three year old cigarette addict is believed to have caused a fire which did several hundred dollars damage to the home of his parents, witnesses told the fire commissioner Quinn in the fire court. Mrs. Henry Lamarche, mother of the boy smoker, said that all efforts had so far failed to divorce the lad from the weed.

Mrs. Lamarche said the boy was out of sight when the fire started Wednesday last and she was unaware that he had caused it lighting a cigarette. Insurance company refused to pay her claim for insurance.

VOW SUSTAINED BY CUBAN GIRL

Quarreled With Sweetheart And Went Into Solitary Confinement

Keywest, Fla., June 3.—A girl 14 years ago imprisoned herself with the vow that she would remain true to her face, is dead, faithful to her vow.

The girl, Julia Colon, pretty Cuban sweetheart of a cigar maker, had quarrelled with her sweetheart when she was 13.

"I never want to see your face again", he told her in the flare of anger. But a healthy girl she would not, and retired to a room in her aunt's home, where only nine days prior to the fatal illness, had any, even a close relative, seen her.

Then, when her aunt pleaded for forgiveness, but the door remained closed, food was given her through a small door opening. She made her clothes and attended to all household duties, the daily life for herself within her room.

HOLIDAY RACES BIG ATTRACTION

Fastest Horses In Bay of Quinte District Are Entered

Monday, June 4th, will be a holiday and the chief attraction will be the horse-races at the Belleville Driveway. Yearly Belleville has these races and Yearly the citizens clamour for more. Horse racing is a fine sport, when, of course, many heats and a splendid afternoon's sport should be provided for everyone.

Many of the fastest trotters in this district of Ontario have been entered and close competition is promised.

SERIOUS DAMAGE

Tokio, June 2.—Serious damage has been caused in Manchuria and Mongolia by the storms in the last few days. Sixteen persons were struck by lightning while engaged in traffic through Fengtien.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Life is to be fortified by many friendships. To love and be loved is the greatest happiness of existence.
—SYDNEY SMITH.

CIVIC CREPE HANGERS ARE NOT AN ASSET

The St. Thomas Times-Journal writer who pens a daily column of wit and nonsense for the front page of that newspaper, under the name of 'Hank' had a little to say a few days ago about crepe-hangers. He was discussing a frolic held at the Kiwanis Club, and that event, we are told, started like a funeral march because of an early lack of enthusiasm. The trouble, according to his comment, was that there were too many fellows selling crepe, the well-known Pop Phillips, promoter of the frolic, having passed that remark at the close of the event. 'Hank' then goes on to say:

'Pop said quite a mouthful, at that! He may not know it, but he summed up what has been wrong with St. Thomas for quite a lengthy period. There are too many people—who consider themselves prominent citizens —whose chief occupation in community life is selling crepe. When they sing, they sing dirges; when they play, they play funeral marches. They're modern Jeremiahs. Equip them with paint brushes and they'd paint the future of St. Thomas the darkest blue they could find!'

'Hank' in his own breezy way, has explained something which has puzzled visitors to St. Thomas for a long time. He has told the world the reason for the dark and gloomy atmosphere of the place, an atmosphere which even Doc. Bennett's gladioli and irises could not dispel. But he need not take it too much to heart. There are other places besides St. Thomas suffering from the same superfluity of crepe-hangers. Even Belleville, in the past, has not been free from them, but we are happy to say that they have been very little in evidence of late. Perhaps the knocking of the hammers of industry has drowned out the sound of the hammers of the crepe-hangers, or the factory whistles have, by their insistence overcome the funeral dirges which they might be trying to play.

But there is a great deal of truth in what 'Hank' has to say. No progressive community has any place in its civic life for crepe-hangers. They are the block on the wheels of progress, and the sooner they realize this the better it will be for the town or city which they encumber by their presence. The only remedy is for the boosters to work all the harder, and to make their efforts count for so much that the knockers will never be heard. We pass this along to 'Hank' with the suggestion that he use his little column to spread this gospel, which might lift even St. Thomas from the depths of gloom.

BOOTLEGGERS SEEM SAFE IN U. S. YET

A more vigorous effort is to be made by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in the United States to secure the repeal of the so-called bone-dry provision of the Constitution. The Association is a large one, judging from the numerical strength of its board of directors; there are ninety directors now, representing twenty-six states as well as the District of Columbia, and the number is to be increased to two hundred. The board met in Washington this week and adopted a resolution, drafted by an executive committee, urging the entire repeal of this solitary sumptuary statute, the intrusion of which into constitutional realms has so severely hurt our country." The resolution was caustic in its criticism of present enforcement measures and the fanatical excesses and absurdities of the 'sects' engaged in enforcement. What is of particular interest, perhaps, in regard to the Association's declaration, is the fact that a substitute for prohibition is offered, and it is not a difficult guess as to the origin of the proposed substitute. The board resolved unanimously 'that, in place of federal prohibition, we favor the installation, by the states, of a method of controlled and restricted distribution which will prevent the exploitation of the liquor traffic for unconscionable profits and not only do away with prevailing speakeasies and secret drinking, but prevent the reappearance of the old unregulated saloon system and the political intrigues which accompanied it.'

There are, no doubt, many millions of people in the United States who would welcome some such system as has been adopted by the Canadian provinces, but they have a very hard nut to crack. The state legislatures, in both branches, voted heavily for the eighteenth amendment, and in the few states which voted wet the majorities were very small. Until the dry votes are reversed the constitutional amendment is secure, and so is the reign of the bootlegger, and it will probably take a good deal of persuasion to induce the legislatures to reverse the position taken by them ten years ago. There are, however, some symptoms of reaction, and the declaration of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is one of them.

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS?

The solicitor had conducted a tiptop case for his client, and the client called to pay his fees.

'How much do I owe you?' asked the client.

'Your father and I were old friends,' said the solicitor. 'Let's say 30 pounds.'

'Thank heaven you did not know my grandfather,' said the client.

These flowers are so beautiful and fresh, I think there is a little dew on them yet, said she. Yes, said the young man, there is, but I'm going to pay it off tomorrow.

Native—No question at all, stranger. Why, we had the water turned off for a week, and no one found out till old Seth Wiggs' shack caught fire.

Young Lady Motorist—It's snowing and sleeting and I like to buy some chains for my tires.

I'm sorry—we keep only groceries.

How annoying! I understood this was a chain store.

SOME DAY

Some day your heart will open, as a rose
Quickens at the hot sun's sweet caress;
Some day the narrow lines of your life's prose
Will glow with beauty poets might express.
And all the world will sing a lovely lay
Because your happy heart has waked —some day!

Some day the rosy colour in your cheek
Will deepen as one footstep nears your door;
Some day a glance, a pressing hand, will speak
Of new delights, and joys unguessed before.
Oh, radiant love! Words can but faintly say
All that life's common things may mean—some day!

Some day—fear not, should love unkindness feign,
And cause the unaccustomed tears to flow,
Think not to taste the joy and 'scape the pain;
Learn that from grief true happiness may flow.
Take heart of grace, blue skies must follow gray,
—Helen Aldridge.

Just Stories

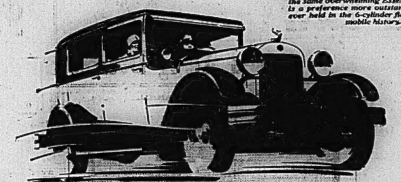

General Feng, the "Christian" (all Chinese politicians are generals and all Chinese generals are politicians) was born of humble Cantonese parents, and could not even read or write until he was more than twenty years old. He is now Tuchun of Shansi, the ally of Chiang Kai-shek, a confederate with Chang Tso-lin. After his first wife died he married again. When Feng's envoy came with the proposal of marriage she refused it "for," she said, "I have not the fortitude to live as Feng lives, on a handful of rice and vegetables a day, and wear only cotton clothing." Feng sent back the envoy to say that she could live as she pleased, and he intended to give her the silk clothing that she was accustomed to wear (like any well-to-do Chinese). Mme. Feng and her husband have immense personal influence over their own people in Shansi province.

The power to work of the late Sir Edmund Gosse (librarian of the House of Commons) was phenomenal. He read more books and wrote more reviews than any other living journalist of his time. He was a great admirer of Stevenson and played a great part in securing for him the place he now holds in English literature. Gosse's critical study of Daniel Webster in the early 90's impressed John Morley to such an extent that he invited the youngster to contribute "The Life of Thomas Gray" and "Englishmen of Letters." From then until his death he held the most prominent position as a critic in English literature.

Among Nature's gifts to man the fragrant lemon takes a leading place. In fact, of all fruits, it is man's best friends. Ask the cook, the confectioner, the doctor, the chemist; from all you will get the same reply.

Essex Mirrors public choice

No matter where you hold your mirror in the clinic, it will show, with slight variation, the same overwhelming Essex preference. It is a preference more outstanding than was ever held in the 6-cylinder field, in all of automobile history.

World's Greatest Value altogether or part by part

To know the overpowering conviction of greatest value held by Essex owners is merely to see Essex beauty, to examine Essex quality, to sit inside and feel Essex comfort—to indeed know Essex performance.

The ideal transportation achieved in the Greatest Essex Super-Six was long foreshadowed in the series of individual superiorities by which Essex towered above the field. Its vivid brilliance of performance reveals in a single ride a smoothness and quiet, a road-skimming ease and soaring exhilaration that is actually like flying.

Greater in power, more versatile in all performance, larger, roomier and more beautifully appointed, the New Essex Super-Six gloriously earns its richer reward in the greatest popularity of Essex history.

TO UNVEIL TROPHY.

On Saturday, June 16th at the Canada Cement Company's branch plant in Point Anne, the Portland Cement Association Trophy awarded the plant for operating throughout the year 1927 free of accidents, will be unveiled. Luncheon will be served at the Hotel Quinte at 12.15 p.m., following which the visitors will be driven to the mill where the ceremonies will take place.

DEMONSTRATE FRIGIDAIRE

Local householders have had an excellent opportunity, during the past week of making a thorough inspection of the complete Frigidaire refrigeration system. W. H. Oliphant, local agents have been demonstrating in it actual operation the full Frigidaire line, showing the distinctive features of Frigidaire design, construction and operation. As well as models for home use, there are included in the showing Frigidaire models for stores, hotels, restaurants, factories and other institutions. The demonstration will continue all next week and is taking place at Grotto's Taxi Office, 189 Front street.

UTOPIA CLUB DANCE.

The Utopia Club of this city will open the summer dance season at Shirliff's on Monday night. Buses will leave Queen's Hotel at 8.15 and will return to the city directly after the dance. The club will be held in Shirliff's new Community Hall which is regarded as one of the finest auditoriums and dance halls in the southern part of Hastings County. The building was only recently completed. The Bon Ton Orchestra will furnish the music.

SALE SUCCESS.

The home cooking sale under the auspices of the Canadian Legion Auxiliary yesterday, was a pronounced success. Large crowds of women attended the sale and the results were most satisfactory. Considerable funds were realized which will be used to defray expenses of underprivileged children of veterans by summer camps. The ladies spread it by desire to thank the merchants who donated candy or confectionery to the Auxiliary. Much credit for the success of the sale is due to Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Hollins and Miss Norton Sheppard. Mayor Ziolf was the first buyer of the afternoon. His Worship spoke of the splendid work being done by the Auxiliary and said he felt it was a great honor to open yesterday's function.

CHILDREN OUGHT TO EAT MUCH SPINACH

Toronto.—If you don't like spinach, never by any chance let your infant son inspect it. Dr. Hall is a man and say nothing, for, in the opinion of Dr. F. S. Clark, (speaking before the Child Welfare Council) a child of tender years is sensitive to suggestion—and he needs spinach.

The doctor described vividly two types of horses in which a doctor visits. The first, says he, the children welcome the man with the black bag gully and thrills with him while he crandles their tongues and throats. In the second horse a howl goes up the moment the doctor enters the door, and his examination of the children is a fight from start to finish. In the latter type the parents use the doctor as a threat.

Scarcely any man is capable of hating another who he finds sincerely loves him.

TROUBLE IN AIR OVER BALL GAME

Peterboro Club Refused To Play In Kingston Yesterday Afternoon

The action of the Peterboro Baseball Club in refusing to play in Kingston yesterday may lead to trouble in the Central League.

On Wednesday evening at Kingston the Petes were ordered to play in the Limestone City yesterday. The game on Wednesday had been postponed on account of rain and although Peterboro had no representative present the Club was notified to be on deck Friday after noon. Accordingly Kingston advertised the game through the newspaper and hand-bills and a fair crowd turned out for the game. The stands were well filled and the Kingston team can mmoned a practice session and also a form game-time. The minutes passed without any sign of the Peterboro Club The fans became impatient and clamor ed for action, official time at Kingston Club waited in vain for the Pets appear ance and after an hour had elapsed a long distant call was had in to Peterboro. An officer of the Peterboro Club was called and when queried as to the delay he replied: "Why, we are not coming and had no intention of coming." This news never left the Kingston Club bewildered but there was no alternative but to call the game off and the money was refunded to the cash customers.

Peterboro Club contended that they could not play in Kingston on Friday and back home on Saturday.

Belleville play in Kingston today and the team left by motor early this morning for the Model city. Either "Chum-ny" Gerow or Vinny Utrotki will do the flinging for the locals.

HEAVY DAY IN POLICE CASES

Medicine Show Man Pleads Not Guilty But Is Fined

A fairly heavy police court greeted the Magistrate at ten o'clock this morning when he mounted the Bench. Most of the cases were brought in for Liquor C. Act, while one was failing to return to the scene of an accident.

Clifford Macdonald, a resident of the Upper Road who works at Point Anne got slightly intoxicated last night and went to sleep in the rear of his car, rather than drive it. This little bit of forethought saved him a week in jail in court today for the Magistrate took a lenient view of the matter and gave the young man a suspended sentence of six months.

Lawrence Button, a medicine-show man pleaded not guilty to a charge of intoxication and of failing to stop today to no avail for he was convicted. Button had a little show of it outside the police station and is a gifted musician. He was fined the usual $15 and $7 costs.

In the Wrong Province

Paul Hodge, an employee of "La Presse" newspaper, in Montreal, was charged this morning with having liquor without a permit. He had with him other men, it is alleged, brought some whiskey from Montreal into Belleville. Hogle was in the city on business yesterday. The case was not completed by press-time.

John Donnan at 9.30 last night smashed into a car owned by Mr. W. H. Hall, of Foxboro, and failed to return to the scene of an accident. This morning he was charged with this offense and was found guilty.

WISH FOR A THING AND WORK FOR IT

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Who has no wishes? Who does not want to wish?

Every man, woman and child is a wishing animal. If we took wishing out of life, life would become a mere vegetable existence.

Not to wish is not to live! We wish to eat, sleep and real. We wish for work.

We desire comfort. We crave love. We plan for the future.

We wish to be well thought of by fellow men!

We have thousands of wishes of every variety and description.

We also read meanings into happenings after the pattern of our wishes. We see, hear and believe, largely what we wish to see, hear and believe.

As the old adage has it: "The wish is father to the thought".

Wishing, however, although a great asset—because it keeps us going, drives us on, and makes us think and long—for better things—may become a drawback if we overdo it.

We must not live in an imaginary world of wish fulfilment too much. We must learn how to appreciate facts as opposed to wishes. We must think cold and unimpassioned logic and reasoning check up on our overexpectant and eager imaginations.

Otherwise we only beguile ourself into pretty fancies at the expense of good sense.

For instance, wish for an automobile all you like, but don't get the notion that that is sufficient.

Save and work and conserve so you can pay down the cash.

People actually can become chronic wishers, becoming so wrapped up in wishing that they waste precious energy that could be utilized in making their wishes come true.

Wishes can put color into life and make it beautiful. Wishes can bring you closer to desirable values because they can spur on your imagination.

But wishes don't butter your bread. Wish and wish nobly and richly.

Always, however, make your wishes practical and possible. Make your wishes square with reality!

Many persons develop neurotic states because their wishes have been held in check, because they have been afraid even to express them.

Often, also, men and women have become morose and depressed because their wishes were so bizarre and far-fetched that by no stretch of the imagination could they possibly be realized.

Wishing absurdly also makes for disappointment and discontent. It can likewise make for failure.

As the years pass and it is found that the individual's wishes were but fairy castles without substance or being there comes the feeling that life is little more than a hollow mockery.

Like so many other emotional attacks wishing may react like a boomerang.

Wish wisely, sensibly and practically.

That's the best way to avoid trouble.

With Bacon—

there's nothing tastier than H.P. Sauce. Its rich, thick fruitiness takes away that greasy flavor — makes your bacon doubly appetising and enjoyable.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

The washing of soiled or worn artificial silk fabrics should be carried out with a solution containing half an ounce of soap and an egg-cupful of ammonia per gallon of warm water. On no account should boiling water be used, since this quickly destroys the lustre of most silks. Also it is not advisable to use washing soda except in very small quantity. After washing the fabrics should be lightly rinsed in warm water and air dried, when they will be found to have a bright lustre and a pleasing soft handle. In the case of artificial silk fabrics which have become very harsh in wear, they should not be rinsed after soaping, but dried in their soapy condition. This treatment will render them much more supple.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 23.

If Celia had suffered acute embarrassment when she made her request to Annesley that he send her from New York love-letters purporting to be from her husband, she was amply repaid by the joy the first letter gave her daughter.

"I can see how he loves you, my darling," the invalid said gratefully. "I'm so happy to know that my daughter's future is in the care of such a man. Now I can die in peace."

Celia put her arms around her mother's frail shoulders.

"Now you can live—in peace."

"I hope so," sighed her mother. "Because I want to see my son-in-law. Perhaps I may even come to visit you in New York."

Celia's heart stood still with terror. Did this mean another horrible complication?

But she smiled and said gaily:

"I hope so, darling. I hope you'll soon be able to make the journey to New York."

For, she told herself, when the danger was past, and her mother was able to travel, she would tell her the truth. There was the grave of Richard Falconer in Greenwood. She had had a husband, even if he had been a husband in name only, a friend who, in passing, had left her everything.

What a shame that I have to keep you here, away from Richard,' Mrs. Drew went on. 'I hope he won't resent it. You must tell him that I will try to get well soon.'

The next day, through Gwen, Celia ordered flowers and, when they came, she took them to her mother's room with a smile on her lips and a hope in her heart that she would be forgiven the deception.

'Look, dearest, Dick has sent you these.'

Her mother's joy was unrestrained. When a neighbor came to call that afternoon, Mrs. Drew pointed to the flowers proudly and told how wonderfully kind and considerate her son-in-law was. Celia knew that the story would be all over town by night.

She was in for it now! There was no turning back. Her efforts to keep her fictitious husband solely as private and family property had proved unavailing.

After that, an envelope, addressed in Annesley's hand arrived each morning. Generally it contained three blank sheets of paper, but, occasionally, he dutifully copied the letters she sent him, and she showed them to her mother.

The composition of those letters was to her the most painful task she had ever undertaken, but Gwen helped her, curled up, knees tugged on the divan, would dictate the most amazingly ardent letters.

"Oh, I'm sorry!" cried that, Gwen!' Celia would protest. 'I feel a fool.'

Once Annesley wrote:

'My dear child, you do extraordinarily well, for the novice that you claim to be.' I'd rather like to see what you'd write, if you were in love with a flesh-and-blood man.'

Celia handed the note to Gwen.

'You see! We must write more sedately.'

Gwen looked at her for a long moment.

'It's easy to see that you never really loved Tom Harrington, or you couldn't talk about writing sedate love-letters.'

Celia understood suddenly that, when Gwen dictated those letters, she was thinking of Larry Crewe, actually writing what she could never say to him. Her heart ached for Gwen, who, with her money and position, could have everything in the world, except the one thing she loved.

Celia hadn't seen Larry. She saw Gwen went out, not wishing to leave her mother for long. But one day she met Horace Vail when she had gone down-town on an errand.

He lifted his hat and stopped, though she tried to hurry by.

'I have not had the opportunity to congratulate you—or, rather, the fortunate young man,' he said pleasantly. His manner, usually even, was in her smart costume. 'Rather sudden, wasn't it?'

She found his tone insulting, but she said lightly:

'Isn't romance always sudden, if it comes at all?'

She knew that he still cared for her but she also knew that he was still her enemy. In her new, precarious position, she feared him.

'I'm in a frightful hurry,' she explained lightly. 'Perhaps I'll see you again.'

'I'm quite sure of that,' he answered deliberately.

With heightened color, because his confident tone angered her, she hurried on. It amused her to see the deference with which all her acquaintances greeted her—the very people who had cut her dead on that awful morning when she had come out to look for work. The memory of that day was still fresh.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Little cloche shapes made of plaited straw and strips of felt are in evidence in the best stadios in Paris, for the "tailor-made" has staged a magnificent 'come-back.'

Black tulle evening gowns are being worn by the sophisticated at the Viennese opera, while many untrimmed transparent velvet coats are a most pleasing wrap fashion and frock of taffeta bespeared with gold is a novelty.

Functions arranged by the Society of Women Musicians this season in London, include a pianoforte recital by Miss Myra Hess (on June 13) and a performance of new chamber works by women composers on July 7.)

A most interesting dress worn at the first court was that of Lady Peacock, whom the Countess of Cromer presented, for it had a panel of silver bullion embroidery which is said to have belonged to the Empress Josephine and was mounted on parchiffon velvet in Empire style, which made it quite unique.

HOW HE READ THEM

"You will find," said the fortune teller, "each row of cards spells a word, and each card represents a letter of the word. For instance, the ace of spades is the card representing A. If the ace of hearts is the card representing A, and the ace of diamonds is the card representing A, and the ace of clubs is the card representing A, then if you can work out the names of the five things that helped famous aviators conquer the ocean, and you can find the cards that represent them, you will be successful. To help you a bit the second word is 'ship'. You will find the first card is the letter S. The letter next to S is H, and so on. Can you?"

SOLVE IT AND WIN FIRST PRIZE

If you can solve this puzzle, send your answer to us immediately and you will win the Fall 1928 Essex Coach. Be sure to print your answer neatly on a piece of paper as shown and you

3 Good Reasons Why GRAHAM'S ICE IS THE ONLY KIND To Use!

PHONE 374

And Have Your Name Put On Our Lists For Immediate and Regular DELIVERY

Act Now And Enjoy The Benefits Of This Better Ice Through The Whole Summer Season

1 IT'S PURE-AND SAFE

Pure because it is made in our own plant from the purest water.. And, being pure, it is absolutely safe to use in any way.. No.. possibility of .disease bearing germs with pure ice such as Graham's.

2 IT IS CHEAPER

It is cheaper simply because being harder than other ice, it lasts longer, hence is cheaper in the long run. So why pay more for inferior ice? It's a case of buying better ice for less money.

3 IT IS CLEAN

Graham's ice is clean because it is not packed in dirty, messy sawdust to clog pipes but comes to you in clean, solid, clear blocks; you get just what you pay for —pure, hard, safe ice. Isn't this the kind you want?

BELLE THEATRE

But the fraud was on the other foot because the Governor was the real nobleman and the nobleman was an international crook and he really loved the dark girl and there were laughs and laughs in fact there was a laugh minute on the minute. Absolutely guaranteed and speed and action and more—and Dorothy of course, I am the Belle Monday.

REGENT THEATRE

The full gamut of fashions for women will be presented Friday in her newest Paramount starring picture, "The World At Her Feet" which opens Monday at the Regent Theatre. Clothes for the business woman; clothes for the girl with her afternoons of leisure; gowns for the evening affair; intimate negligees for the boudoir—all of fashion's latest decrees appear at their best against Miss Vidor's brunette loveliness.

GOOD CLEANING FOR LESS MONEY AT SPRAGUE'S

Increasing Business Results From Lowered Rates

Summer again in the offing and with it no more overcoats. So you'll have to consider the question of having your garments looking their best at all times. It wasn't perhaps so necessary a short time ago when the overcoat hid a multitude of wrinkles, and an absence of creases; but right now those clothes must be made to look their best.

Spragues are in a position to offer you a first class cleaning and pressing service for less money than you pay in the majority of firms; they introduced a cut-rate money saving rate of one dollar for cleaning gents' suits or overcoats and ladies' suits, gowns, long coats or dresses, accordion, knife and fine pleating excepted.

A speedy service, satisfactory work, and as-opportunity to save money on your cleaning bills is thus offered patrons of Spragues. And the class of the service and the work done is well shown in the fact that Sprague have been enjoying a constant gratifying increase in their business since introducing the lower rates. Smaller profits on a larger turnover of business makes Spragues ready to allow their customers to continue to benefit by the lower prices.

A trial order will convince you that Sprague's is the kind of a service you'll like. Phone 393.

GOOD ICE CREAM AN IDEAL FOOD

Moores' Make Has Gained Reputation For High Quality

Just about this time of the year, one begins to think a little more about ice cream and its desirability as a summer food, generally.

Good ice cream is, as you probably know an ideal food not alone in summer but all the year round; it is nourishing food that is palatable and beneficial for every member of the family, and more and more people are realizing the palate it should hold in the family diet, as evidenced by increasing sales.

The statement of increasing sales is based on the business done by Peter Moores, leading candy and ice cream manufacturer, and a firm which has always stressed the value of genuine qual ity in ice cream and candy.

Moores had a big season in ice cream last year and are anticipating a considerable increase during the season now commencing. Producing their own ice cream, an ice cream of the highest quality possible, and selling it at a reasonable price is the reason for the increase—or in other words, giving the public what it wants—the best at a price it can afford to pay.

If you haven't sampled the cream as a valuable food, and a most delectable one at that, just try Moores and see how you've tried this smooth, velvety and rich ice cream, you'll be a steady user. Moores' store is in the Anglo-American Block.

BUY THE SUMMER SUIT AT McGIE'S

Just about this time, you'll be looking around for the right kind of summer suit, men! And after all the only satisfactory way to get what you want is to have a suit tailored to your individual measurement.

Arthur McGie, on Front Street is showing a complete and varied assortment of summer suiting samples at the present time—materials of genuine quality, which come moderately priced, and any one of which will make up into a first class suit with style and long life built into it.

See McGie about that Summer suit you have in mind and have him make one for you right now. We'll guarantee you'll like it.

GOOD MONUMENT FAIRLY PRICED AVAILABLE HERE

Moore Bros.' Variety And Workmanship Find Favor

With regard to this much talked of business of buying at home, the majority of people, while convinced in a general way that buying from local merchants is advantageous and a thing to be desired, are yet not so thoroughly impressed with the fact that they would bother to go out of their way to do it.

For instance, if you have in mind the purchase of a monument, the natural thing to do first would be merely to consult a local firm such as Moore Bros. on Front Street, see their line of samples and prices, and, if you wish, compare them with others. It will generally be found that that Moore Bros.' stones compare very favorably both in quality and price with anything obtainable in a larger centre. Others have made the mistake, however, of buying first outside the city and learning later that considerable money could have been saved had the monument been purchased at Moore Bros.

You too can probably save money, see what youre getting and be better satisfied all around if you shop at home and in doing it, you're at the same time boosting your own local industry.

GOOD WELDING SERVICE BUILDS FINE BUSINESS

Howard Bros. In Short Period Prove Value of Service

Nowadays with the great demand of service and quality o nthe part of the buying public in every direction; the firm that offers the public a service just a little better than the other fellow and a quality of work which is just a little superior to that of the other firm is, naturally enough the firm which is going to get the business.

As in welding, son in other lines, Howard Bros. expert welders of Pinnacle Street, just south of the Tracks, after just about a year in business, have built up a patronage which has been rapidly increasing with the past months.

And the reason? Simply because their service and their work is equal to the best equipment of any shop in this district and courteous efficient service, consult Howard Bros. now.

TIPS RE SUMMER CARE OF YOUR AUTO BATTERY

Regular Visits To Battery Experts Are Worth While

Just a few tips regarding your motor car battery and its care during the warm weather. One of the most important things you should keep in mind is to see that an adequate supply of distilled water is maintained in the battery—just sufficient to keep the plates covered, do not fill the cells up to the top but put in just sufficient water to cover the plates in each cell.

Ordinarily it will be found sufficient if this be done every ten days or two week in the warm weather. You will find it good policy too, to keep the terminals clean, and covered with vaseline or grease, in order to prevent corrosin due to the action of the battery. Moreover, your battery should be tested regularly, and its voltage maintained, to insure complete efficiency of the starter, ignition and lighting system. And keep an eye on the ammeter, making sure it is registering charge under ordinary driving conditions. If it isn't you're running into trouble very quickly. City Battery Service, Coleman and Moira Sts. are battery experts, and agents for the well known long life "Exide" battery. They are experts too, on generators and all kinds of ignition systems, and are in a position to give you a first class service on the electrical part of your car.

STRAINED VISION CAUSES FROWNS AND WRINKLES

Early Examination And Correction Is The Remedy

Next time you look in a mirror, take a good, close look and see if your reflection reveals to you wrinkles and frowns, that perhaps you hadn't noticed before; and if you do, along with it, you have noticed a tendency to squint; then if you have these symptoms, there is probably not much difficulty in locating the trouble — it strongly indicates eyestrain.

And not the cause of the frowning and squinting. Obviously an attempt at concentration of vision. Many group of people you may chance to watch, it isn't at all hard to pick out those persons whose vision is restrained, and the frowns and the squinting, the keenness of the eye muscles all combine as evidence that these people possess eyes which probably need the attention of an optical expert, and glasses.

Why neglect these danger signals—quire attention? W. C. Leybourne at 253½ Front Street, is an expect opion strist of many years experience and has the equipment and skill to give your eyes a thorough examination and advise the proper correction for your particular trouble.

So if you want better, quicker work and a courteous efficient service, consult Howard Bros. now.

PEACE RIVER A MODERN WONDER

Country Is Developed Marvellously In Agricultural Line

When the full history of Canadian agriculture is written, one of the most fascinating chapters will be that devoted to the development of the Peace River country. Many Easterners, Alberta comes the report of the Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Substation, and it would be difficult to find a record of government activity that is more optimistic. This station serves a very large area including the Upper Peace region extending far into Northern British Columbia, the Athabasca watershed, and part of the North Saskatchewan valley. From as far west as Hudson Hope settlers are cooperating with the government farm in the growing of alfalfa and sweet clover.

Land that was barren and looked up on as waste is now producing wheat and growers in Grande Prairie and the Valhalla Valley report yields of 61, 66 and 70 bushels to the acre. The champlonship wheat and oats at the Chicago International Show was grown in the Peace River country.

The report of the work conducted at the Beaverlodge Substation may be obtained from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It contains much interesting information on the growing of cereal and forage crops, horticulture, bees and poultry.

That the weather is good in the Peace River country is evidenced by the fact that excellent threshing weather prevails until well into November and that roads are good until New Years, the elevators at steelhead being continually choked with arrivals of grain up to that time.

When you reproach a friend with the memory of a kindness you have done him, that kindness has become an offense.

SLAVES CAUSE OF DREAD DISEASES?

Washington, D.C.—The prevalence in this country of a long list of dreaded diseases, from leprosy and hookworm to dysentery and malaria, is attributed to the early importation of negro slaves from Africa, by Rear Admiral E. R. Stitt, surgeon-general of the navy.

Speaking before the American Society of Tropical Medicine meeting in connection with the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, Admiral Stitt said there could "be no question about the occasional introduction of African trypanosomiasis (sleeping sickness) into the slaves, and there can be no doubt that hookworm disease came in with them."

Quoting European authorities, he traced both of these infections to Tuck, Central Africa.

"Bacillary dysentery was one of the scourges of the slave ships and was undoubtedly introduced into the colonies," he added. "Out of the corpses of several vessels consisting of 600 or 700 slaves each, dysentery killed 200 on one ship, 220 on another, 150 on a third."

Miss La Costa won the women's international championship in Indianapolis in 1925. Once at Daytona Beach she barely escaped being burned to death in her racer and on another occasion crashed through a fence, suffering several broken ribs. She claims the women's world's record for a mile driven on a dirt track.

Things turn up chiefly for the one who digs. A good spade and an industrious arm are great aids to

ANNA McCALLUM

After a lingering illness, Miss Anna McCallum, youngest daughter of the late John McCallum and Mrs. McCallum has passed away at the home of her mother on Monday morning. A few years ago the deceased lady suffered from an attack of influenza from the effects of which she never recovered. Later she developed a pernicious anemia which resulted in her death.

The late Miss McCallum was a grad uate dietitian and was very successful in her chosen profession, holding positions in Canada and in the United States until ill health compelled her to give up her work. The deceased was deservedly popular wherever she resided. The early part of her life was spent in Marmora Township where she was born. She leaves to mourn her loss her aged mother, four sisters and two brothers. The sisters are Mary, of New York; Mrs. Mervin Cole, of Glenavon, Sask.; Mrs. (Dr.) Ella, Ottawa; and Mrs. A. E. Stabbins, of Belleville. The brothers are Mr. Archie McCallum, of Delora and Donald who resides in the States. Two brothers Alex and Kenneth predeceased her.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning from the home of her mother on Isabel Street to the Church of the Sacred Heart, where the funeral Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father O'Reilly after which interment took place in the R. C. cemetery. Many beautiful flowers and spiritual offerings testified to the esteem in which the deceased lady was held. Much sympathy is extended to the aged mother and family in their hour of sorrow.

JUNE 4TH SEES STRAWBERRIES

11,000,000 Quarts Will Be Gathered And Put On Market

About 11,000,000 quarts of strawberries will be gathered and put upon British Columbia crop about June 4 or our markets commencing with the The crop is approximately the same as for 1927. The Canadian crop will be in competition during June with the crop from Missouri, Delaware and Maryland. In a normal season the United States output amounts to between 6,000 and 8,000 cars, but this season the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, estimates the movement will be 7,000 cars.

The heaviest imports of strawberries arrive when the home crop is just appearing in the markets, in June. 1927, some 2,865,450 quarts of strawberries were imported from the United States. From April to December 1927, the imports from the States amounted to 3,154,119 pounds, or approximately 4,933,275 quarts. These imports last year were valued at $613,130 or 18.5 cents a quart.

The Ontario movement is expected to commence the last week in June, with peak movement from July 8 to 12. The commercial movement in Quebec will probably commence about the second week in July.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture reminds housekeepers that strawberries are an excellent fruit for canning and preserving, and further that the best is not too good for canning. The fruit should be fresh and clean, and the freshest and cleanest fruit on the market is that produced at home.

NEGLECTED ANAEMIA

Often Leads to the Most Serious Consequences

In no disorder is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia. Usually the first noticeable signs are pale lips and cheeks, dark rims under the eyes and a feeling of weariness. Then follow headaches, backaches, palpitation and breathlessness. The only way that anaemia can be overcome is to enrich the blood, and it is because of their wonderful blood-enriching and blood-making properties that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won such great success in the treatment of this often most stubborn disease.

Thousands of young girls who were in an anaemic condition owe their present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of these, Miss Maude McEachern, Port Hood, N.S., says:—"I praise the day I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been feeling well for some time. I was very pale, had severe headaches, dizzy spells and occasionally fainting spells. The least exertion would leave me tired and breathless. In this condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I continued their use until I had taken six boxes, by which time I was again enjoying good health. I hope my experience will lead other sufferers to give this medicine a fair trial."

If you are at all run-down, or weak, you should begin a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ADVICE TO HOUSEHOLDERS

By a Detective Agency

Don't rely on what servants tell you about their references; nor upon written recommendations. Some of the clerkships thereby secured have excellent recommendations which they have stolen from trustworthy persons. Investigate servants thoroughly before employing them.

Don't employ a watchman until you have investigated, and found him to have been trustworthy.

Don't rely on an outside watchman alone to protect your home. Unless your house is wired with an efficient burglar alarm system, keep him inside, where he cannot be so easily attacked. Night watchmen very often find a job of great assistance. Check up watchclock daily whether he is working inside or outside house.

Don't depend on an outside watchdog. A small dog in the house is far more valuable than a big one outside.

Don't permit servants to become too well acquainted with tradespeople who come to your home, or whom you patronize.

Don't permit keys to lie around so that they can be taken out to be duplicated.

Don't fail to have property which is temporarily vacated, regularly inspected.

Don't fail to have locks, chains or bolts on all doors and windows. Always have a chain on doors to outside. Keep chain on at all times. If in doubt, only open door with chain on.

Don't fail to have an outside door light that can be lit before door is opened.

Don't be afraid to be cautious.

Don't allow the electric, gas, or telephone employees to enter your house without the proper badge or credentials of identification being shown to you.

Don't fail to relieve servants of all pass keys in their possession immediately upon their leaving your employ.

Don't allow mail, daily papers or other matter to accumulate at your door while away from home for any number of days,as this is an indication that your home is not protected; have some friend or neighbour attend to same.

Don't fail to take the necessary precautions to foil the "porch climber" or "second story burglar." He usually gains access to the home during the dinner hour by ascending to the second floor by means of porch pillars, vines, wires, etc. or through the servants' quarters while the servants are otherwise engaged.

JUST IN PASSING

When I read the book, the biography famous,
And in them (said I) what the selfish calls a man's life?
And so will some one when I am dead and gone write my life?
(As if any man really knew aught of my life,
When even I myself I often think know little or nothing of my real life;
Only a few hints, a few diffused faint clues and indirections
I see for my own use to trace out here.)

Whitman.

Budget Director Lord of Washington has started a crusade to save paper clips. Listen to what he says: —"If we can limit the use of these clips by government clerks to the purposes intended, and use less for bobbed-hair holders, pipe-cleaners, watch chains, ear reamers, shirt-sleeve adjusters, Ford repair parts, toothpicks, bachelor buttons, cuff links, and keys to use while telephoning, we can add something to the Administration's economy drive."

This year we shall al be waiting, and, now that the Charleston is dead, we shall not be able to look upon our dancing as a means of reducing weight. For once too we are going to have a dance supposed to have originated in England. It sounds restful, at any rate, its name being the Rhythm Step, and I hear many of London's most prominent teachers are taking it up.

Talking of dancing reminds me of an amusing incident which occurred at a country dance attended by the Prince of Wales and Prince Henry. One of the Prince's partners was a local tradeswoman, and, at the end of their dance, the Prince introduced her to his brother, with whom she took the floor. During the dance the Prince, finding himself near them, asked, "Do you not think my brother a better dancer than I?" To this the reply was, "I am a cricketer."

We often hear of grateful people who leave money to their loyal servants, who were not, in reality, but old and trusted friends. New York has just been startled by a man who has provided a servant of twenty-five years' service with a life interest in a fund of £8,000. Servants who stay for any period of time with good families naturally come to be looked on with affection, but it is not every family which can afford to put aside £8,000 as a reward. Still, good luck to the woman, who no doubt deserved it.

The present generation of young people not only believe that most of those who lived before them are slightly wanting in intelligence, but incomparable with them in the matter of looks. Grace and beauty go hand in hand, and the much be-leged, thin, cropped young person of today has a good deal to learn from many beautiful women her time. Elizabeth, Marchioness of Ormonde, who lately died in London, belonged to a generation of beauties such as we are not likely to see again for many years. They included the Duchess of Montrose, Mrs. Langtry, Lady Dudley, and Mrs. Cornwallis-West, all gracious, magnificent women, with that type of surpassing beauty which inspires not only the great painters of their day, but those who can only permitted to glance at them on rare occasions.

SILHOUETTE

By Wilbet Alleyn Storey

Of course, I thought I'd never let him slay,
Bad, anyhow, I'd save him from the sleet
And dreadful woes that might befall a cat
So very small and wabbly on his feet;

He was a kitten black as licorice
From spiky tail to wee, shoe-button nose,
His eyes were blackish gray, and dark as soot
Were all the cushions underneath his toes.

I'd bought him from an urchin for a dime,
And, for another dime, when day grew dim,
I'd buy a vial of chloroform, I thought,
And put a swift but gentle end to him;

Or send him to a sheller for stray cat
This might be kinder. Then I looked, and, oh,
He made the quaintest little silhouette
Against the kitchen surbase, white as snow!

A week before I'd seen some silhouettes
Hiring worth, at auction, bids absurdly high,
And these weren't soft and cuddly and silver;
These couldn't give a white-toothed, pink-mouthed cry!

And so, although I'd name him "Silhouette,"
But call him "Silly," almost all the time,
For silhouettes are quite the rage just now
And one can't often buy one for a dime!

MOYEN AGE

By Wilfred Childs

By the door in the wall of Saint Symdor while away from home for any | Dor the minster,
That looketh toward thecastern hill,
There groweth an elder tree morning in May-time
A Bird sang there with a golden bill.

While the white-robed monks were chanting at Matins,
Until the wind blew sweet over meadows of flowers,
And high in the wind o'er Saint Symdor's minster
The dawn were wheeling around the towers.

Young Jankyn, son of a miller in Flock Street,
Passed by the door with his flute in his hand,
And he heard the song of the Bird in the elder,
And he wept for joy at the blossomy land.

As Jankyn afterward wrote it down:
"Follow the dreams of youth, dear children,
And they shall bring you a Golden Crown."

Jankyn is carven in alabaster;
On his lamb three laurelled Angels nod,
And the songs which he made endure for ever;
For the Bird was a Spirit sent from God.

Let Me Tell You

That the unused portion of a lemon can be preserved by covering with a glaze. The exclusion of the air with-preserves the lemon.

That tar stains can be removed from rugs and carpets if a mixture of equal parts of methylated spirit and ammonia be applied to them.

That when a wallpaper needs patching, tear the paper irregularly and apply; the edges will be less noticeable than if the paper is cut out with scissors.

That grazes and gas stoves treated with one of the proprietary enamels will only need to be dusted afterwards, and occasionally rubbed with a little furniture cream.

That when laying carpets the floor should first be covered with thick brown paper when the floor is quite dry, or the damp will cause rot and mildew, injuring both the boards and their coverings.

That to make cut glass clear and sparkling, it should be washed in warm soap and, covered with sawdust and left until it is dry. Remove sawdust with a soft brush.

That odd scraps or chippings of linoleum make an excellent substitute for wood when lighting the fire.

That blankets, if after being washed and thoroughly dried, are beaten with an ordinary carpet beater, the wool will be light and soft.

That a potato may be tested by cutting it in half and placing the cut surfaces together. If they slide apart the potato will be poor and watery. If they stick the potato will be good and sourv.

To soothe a headache, if the juice of a lemon, squeezed into half a tumbler of water, is partaken of, and the dose repeated within three minutes, the result is surprisingly beneficial, especially if the temples are also rubbed with a slice of lemon.

OUGHT TO USE OWN PRODUCTS

So Says Dr. Tolmie, One Time Minister of Agriculture

Ottawa, Ont. (By The Canadian Press).—Canada should analyse and classify its opportunities, Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie said in an address delivered recently. "We should conserve our market opportunities for the Canadian producer and learn to use Canadian products in preference to all others. Having attended to these things then if will be safe to deal with immigration in a comprehensive way. If our own people are doing well with, in the country, then this condition will be the strongest attraction for the people of other lands."

Dr. Tolmie, who was Minister of Agriculture in the Borden and Meighen governments, is leaving the House of Commons where he represents Victoria City to concentrate on his duties as Provincial leader of the British Columbia Conservatives. He was the guest of the Ottawa Press Club today at its monthly luncheon and his speech, which was more or less in the nature of a valedictory, was largely devoted to the problems and opportunities of the western coast. "In British Columbia, we must learn to feed ourselves," he said. "You will be astonished to know that it is necessary for us to import from outside seventy-five per cent. of the meat we consume."

Dr. Tolmie's address in part, was as follows:—

"In leaving Ottawa and taking up provincial work in British Columbia I have nothing but the kindliest recollections of the House of Commons and all those I have met in connection with my work there. I have been greeted with good fellowship on all sides quite regardless of party. We have no doubt met with some criticism which it only to be expected, as it is generally admitted I think, when one enters public life in Canada he is there to be shot at by anyone who pleases. One thing, however, that has impressed me as much as anything else is the large number of wise men we have at large and always ready to offer criticism on the work of the members but who unfortunately do not seem able to get elected and occupy a position on the floor of the House. I am sure that if they occupied a seat on the floor and assumed some of the activities and responsibilities of Parliament they would be inclined to view conditions in a very different light.

"One of the situations that has attracted my attention in the last few years is the immense area of our great country; its wonderful capabilities and its limited population. Immigration was one of the great problems when I first entered political life and today it holds the same position, little real progress having been made in the interval. While everyone acknowledges that we need more settlement in our lands and more people in the country, still it must appeal to all that it is practically useless to attempt immigration on a large scale until we have given careful consideration to the emigration that is constantly taking place and devise some remedy to meet the situation.

MOUNTIES TO ENTER ALBERTA'S NORTH

Edmonton, Alta., (By the Canadian Press)—Alberta's "Far North"—that long stretch of hinterland served by the Mackenzie river and the western Arctic—is to have this year a "closing detachment" of ten men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, including a wireless operator, patrol and other work in northern waterways.

Their bases is a 56-foot auxiliary schooner with 150 horsepower engines and a cruising speed of 8 knots an hour now nearing completion in Vancouver. It will be named the St. Roche.

Corporal A. Pasley, well known veteran of the service, will be master-mariner.

The St. Roche will leave Vancouver early in June and tackle her maiden voyage: northward on the Pacific, thence through Behring Strait and east down the Arctic coast to Herschel Island headquarters for the mounted police in the western Arctic.

With the growing importance of trading, trapping and fishing activities in the north, police officials have felt for some time the need of a schooner strong enough to withstand severe Arctic storms. The St. Roche will always be in close touch with radio stations on land, and thus facilitate the task of patrolling thousands of miles of waterways.

TWIN RACE IS REASON GIVEN

For Lack of Progress In Montreal's Theatrical World

Montreal, Que. — (By the Canadian Press)—Duality of race undoubtedly retards the progress of Montreal as a theatrical centre, yet its historic life dates back almost as far as that of any community on the continent. Glancing back over a century and a half of plays and players in Montreal, one is struck by the fact that the amateur stage, so puny today as compared with its robust commercial brother, is the senior by some decades here.

Graphic pictures of early theatrical days were preserved between the covers of "Historic Montreal", a work written and published thirty years ago by Wrashin T. Graham. Mr. Graham's history, comprehensive in its scope, reliable in detail and vigorous in its literary style, stands as an enduring contribution to Canadiana and one which is today prized by discerning book collectors. Probably no act has been so neglected by Canadian chroniclers as the historical and one phase of Mr. Graham's work alone, the biographical notes covering every actor who mounted his lines on a Montreal stage between 1783 and 1898, should be of interest even to patrons of the theatre far removed from Montreal.

MAKE MAY 24TH DAY OF DECORATION TOO

London, Ont.—(C.P.)—The Free Press says editorially:

"Would it not be better to make May 24 Decoration Day, a day on which the glorious dead, including Queen Victoria herself, could be remembered? The United States has a Decoration Day, upon which day the graves of soldiers, of statesmen and illustrious dead are marked. It is a great patriotic holiday and on that day the youth are reminded of the history of the republic and the deeds of her great men are recalled.

"Canada has today no Decoration Day. It is recognized on different dates in different cities—and in some places not at all. It is an ideal time of the year for such an occasion. The spring flowers are in all their glory—the world is at its best. It would be no disrespect to the great Queen if the character of the holiday were changed. As a matter of fact, the holiday is rapidly losing its patriotic significance and is just the first great day of the summer season for picnics, baseball tournaments and horse races. Such a change would not, of course, effect Empire Day, which is celebrated in the schools on May 23."

Amateur theatricals made their debut in the isolated French town on the St. Lawrence with the arrival of the British army of occupation in 1760. In the eighteenth century British officers stationed thousands of miles away from London in a primitive land the population of which afforded little opportunity for the social recreations to which they were accustomed, were wont to enliven garrison life with dabbling in the field of drama.

In barracks halls, weirdly adorned with makeshift scenery, colonels and subalterns who fought under Wolfe on the tragedies of Shakespeare and the plays of Abraham rendered the comedies of the Restoration. By degrees they added to their company from the civilian society of the day and the play as a pastime gained a hold on the hearts of the better-off burghers. From Mr. Graham's book we learn that the first professional talent found its way to Montreal by water from Albany, shortly after the close of the Revolutionary War. This venturesome troupe had fallen on evil days during the war because of its British extraction. Its run in Montreal was brief and apparently profitless.

During the succeeding decades several similar visits were paid by companies from American cities, but it was not until 1804 that professional players made any attempt to establish themselves in the frontier city.

In that year a Mr. Ormsby brought a New York company to Montreal. He fitted out the town's first theatre, on the upper floor of a warehouse, then standing on St. Sulpice street, near St. Paul. Mr. Ormsby's comedians did not survive very long, but troupes which performed after him in the theatre which he established met with better support and within the next quarter of a century the public was educated into appreciation of the commercial playhouse

Cute in a Baby—"Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or indurated adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the head; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for many bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhoea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on Fletcher's signature on the package as many imitations.

30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

MAGNA CHARTA'S CELEBRATIONS

June 15th Will Be Observed In British Empire And U.S.

Toronto (By The Canadian Press)—Magna Charta Day, June 15, will be celebrated in Great Britain and Ireland, Canada, Newfoundland, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and in the United States, not as a legal holiday but as a day set aside for the annual commemoration of the source of their common liberties—the Magna Charta or the Great Charter, the Tassa charter of liberties granted at Runnimede in June, 1215, by King John to the English people. Many churches and Sunday Schools in these countries will observe Magna Charta Day on Sunday, June 17, by reference to the great charter.

The observance of the anniversary on June 15 and the third Sunday in June each year was inaugurated by the International Magna Charta Day Association, founded by J. W. Hamilton, St., Paul, Minnesota, secretary of the association, with a view to developing English-speaking fellowship, encouraging respect for the law through a greater knowledge and appreciation of Magna Charta, and helping forward the movement for peace. The first Magna Charta celebration was held in Virginia in 1923, when the governor of the state, E. Lee Trinckle, issued a proclamation urging the people to observe the anniversary.

The first proclamation in Canada and the British Empire in support of Magna Charta Day was issued in June, 1925, by the Mayor of Winnipeg, Ralph H. Webb. In 1927 Louis D. Taylor, Mayor of Vancouver, B.C., issued a similar proclamation.

The Magna Charta Day movement has grown to such an extent that a general reorganization is under way, and it is expected that each of the countries mentioned will soon have its own executive chairman and staff.

Rev. Dr. Edwin Van Etten, Pittsburgh, P.A., will preach the Magna Charta Day sermon in the Anglican Cathedral in Durham, England, this having been arranged by Bishop J. E. C. Welldon of Durham, and Dr. John Gardner Murray, presiding Bishop, New York Protestant Episcopal Church.

JOAN LA COSTA IS TAKING TO THE AIR

Atlanta, Ga.—Joan La Costa, youth ful woman champion of the automobile race track, is retiring—retiring to the air.

She has left the racing oval forever and is completing the flying hours necessary for a commercial pilot's license at Candler Field. She looks upon aviation as a career and has no intention of adventuring to be the first woman to cross the Atlantic by air.

"I'd worry myself sick if I did," she explains, "and I don't want the sort of glory the female Lindbergh is going to get. I want a job, and I think there is a future in aviation."

ADVISES TRIP IN WEST CANADA

Does Vice-President Robb of The Canadian National Railways

Montreal, May 30.—"It is a veal ion ic to make a trip to Western Canada and I warmly advise all those in the East who can make such a journey to go West and enjoy the wholesome enthusiasm and optimism of the Western people. This was the advice offered today by W. D. Robb, Vice President of the Canadian National Railways, who has just returned to Montreal after a tour of the Western Provinces.

Mr. Robb has under his charge colonization and development matters and these include the telegraphs, the particular nature of his business trip being to make an inspection of the plant and offices dealing with these important features. With reference to colonization Mr. Robb said "All the officials of the Colonization Department of the Canadian National Railway report a most healthy condition this spring and in fact our records show the movement and placement to be at higher figures than at any time since 1924 when we first undertook the work of this department on a large scale."

In contrast to the spring of 1927 this year there has been an insistent demand for agricultural labor and our offices have not only not had any difficulty in placing men at work but could have placed even greater numbers had such men been available. There is a feeling in the prairie provinces that if the crop is a heavy one as early conditions indicate, there will be a scarcity of labor to harvest the grain.

The Western people are busy and optimistic and one indication of their faith is the growth of construction. This prevails in the three Western provinces known as the prairie and also in British Columbia I must say that Vancouver gives every evidence of advance. One can practically see the growth taking place. In connection with the telegraph dept. of the Canadian National Railway Mr. Robb said "The demand of our facilities has been greater than we are now extending them and will again add to them by greater use of the carrier current system. The use of the telegraph is a quick barometer of business conditions whenever anybody is busy they speed up and use the telegraph more extensively and I can report that at the moment business is particularly brisk. New equipment for the telegraphs is being added at Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver and when it is placed we will be in a position to increase our national broadcasting chain permitting of simultaneous broadcasting from Montreal to Vancouver. Later we hope to increase our facilities to the East and when that is completed the National system can offer a really national-wide chain from coast to west."

MILK GOOD FOR GROWING BOYS

Test Was Carried Out Under Auspices of Dr. Corry Moon

London.—In connection with the recent remarkable milk test carried out at a colony of boys by Dr. Corry Mann at the request of the Ministry of Health, a brochure has been issued by the Empire Marketing Board setting forth the result of the test on the value of milk as a food. A London paper says with reference to the pamphlet that "even the Medical Research Council were startled by the results." Following is a summary of the report:

The boys live a busy, cheerful, open air life. None are weaklings and illness is rare among them. The experiment was made to discover the value of milk not as an article of diet for invalids, but as part of the regular food of healthy, hardy, growing boys. That is why the results of the tests were so surprising.

It was a strictly scientific experiment. Having taken elaborate pains to satisfy himself that the normal diet was adequate, even for the voracious appetites of growing boys, the doctor divided off several groups of boys, and arranged that each group received the given regularly some small addition to its meals.

The first group got nothing beyond the ordinary diet. Each of the 30 boys in the second got one pint of fresh cow's milk daily—half a pint in the morning and half a pint in the afternoon—and this addition was continued.

Mr. Robb was accompanied on his Western business trip by W. J. Black, Director of Colonization Agriculture and Natural Resources Canadian National Railways.

(2) The boys who received the extra pint of milk a day gained an average of 6.88 pounds each, and grew an average of 2.62 inches in a year.

(3) In none of the other five groups was the average increase in weight or height as much as that recorded in the milk group.

What were the results?

(1) The boys who received the ordinary diet gained an average of 3.25 pounds each, and grew an average of 1.54 inches in a year.

(2) The boys who received the extra pint of milk a day gained an average of 6.88 pounds each, and grew an average of 2.62 inches in a year.

(3) In none of the other five groups was the average increase in weight or height as much as that recorded in the milk group.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acid instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians for the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Get just a small bottle to-day.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Correctly Designed CHAMPIONS for Every Engine

CHAMPION engineers are dedicated solely to the proposition of solving spark plug problems, and improving performance of internal combustion engines.

Always keeping well in advance of engineering achievements by literally anticipating the demands of engineers, Champion engineers have developed spark plugs having characteristics of performance and service undreamed of a few years ago. Champion Spark Plugs have contributed in a great measure to the success of modern high-speed, high-compression engines.

Champion Spark Plugs outsell two to one throughout the world because they render better service in every type of internal combustion engine. A complete new set, correctly designed for your engine will conclusively demonstrate the superiorities of Champion which make it the better spark plug.

JUST TRY IT IN TRAFFIC

SEE HOW IT PARKS

THE New Oldsmobile offers the fine-car qualities of power, comfort and appearance—in a car of convenient size, designed to meet modern-day traffic conditions.

Just try it in traffic. Mark its silent smoothness as you flash ahead—accelerating in high from 5 to 25 m.p.h. in a bare 8½ seconds. Note the quick response to steering. See how easily you slip into small parking places—a tapered frame enables you to turn completely around in a 36-foot circle. Then head for the open road . . . here is speed to meet every driving emergency, to answer every desire.

Only fine car design and fine car features could give this fine car performance. A rubber cushioned, 55 h.p. high-compression engine . . . crankcase ventilation . . . controlled cooling and full-pressure oiling—these are typical examples of Oldsmobile's advanced engineering.

And matching this progressiveness in design are new Fisher bodies—created by artist-engineers to be free from rattles and drumming and to express in their bold, free beauty the whole new spirit of our times.

Drive the new Oldsmobile. Let your own experience confirm the growing judgment of Canada—"Here, truly, is the fine car of low price!"—A new Oldsmobile awaits you . . . come take that drive today!

CATHOLICS WILL MEET JUNE 25

Women of Roman Church To Convene In Calgary Five Days

Calgary, Alta. (By The Canadian Press)—The eighth annual convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada will be held in Calgary June 26 to 30 inclusive. Representatives from every province will be present and reports of officers and national convenors to be read, will show a vast amount of work accomplished throughout the past year. "A Catholic welcome to new Canadians" has been adopted as the slogan of the league's immigration work, the results of which will be the subject of addresses and discussion.

The fruitfulness of the National Scholarship Project decided upon at the annual meeting at Montreal last year to initiate an educational policy which it is hoped will broaden and grow from year to year will be announced. This scholarship was established as the result of an appeal made by Mrs. J. Coffey, Montreal, National Convenor of Education. Its object is to provide a Catholic high school graduate with a course leading to the university degree of B.A. Because the scholarship was established in the year of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation the first year's test is set on Canadian History, showing what epoch had most influence on the development of Canada. Among the judges will be: His Grace, Archbishop McNeil of Toronto, Hon. Bro. Hogan, F.R.I., of the Alberta Catholic College, and Dr. W. Alberton, Ph.D., University of Montreal. The scholarship fund is provided by subscriptions from half-divisions of the league all over the Dominion.

Prominent speakers, both clerical and lay, will address the delegates at the luncheon and supper-dances. At the opening meeting June 25, His Grace Archbishop Henry J. O'Leary, of Edmonton, honorary national chaplain, will speak, as will His Lordship Bishop Kidd, of Calgary.

The national president, Mrs. J. J. Duggan, Edmonton, and the Calgary sub-division are hostesses to the convention. Many social functions have been planned as interludes to the business sessions. These will include a trip to Banff by motor. The convention banquet will be held Thursday June 28. At this function members of the league will give addresses on the various national activities of the league such as organization, immigration, traveller's aid, education, child welfare, social service, sisters of service, girl guides, law, theatre, magazine and juniors. The record of these activities will be recorded from year to year to encourage and stimulate a yet greater development of Catholic social action. His Holiness the Pope has approved of the league's work and asked the faithful to pray for its growth.

Among the outstanding women speakers will be Miss Charlotte Whitton, M.A., executive secretary of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare, who has just returned from Geneva, and who will take as her subject, "Child Welfre Work Abroad."

FIGHTING FOR BABY'S HEALTH

Is the Constant Care of Every Young Mother

The young mother has a constant care in looking after the welfare of her little ones. Childhood ailments come on so suddenly—sometimes without a minute's warning—the mother may have a very sick baby on her hands before help can be obtained. That is unless she has a remedy in the house which she can safely give the baby for any of the many minor ailments of babyhood and childhood.

Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers throughout the country always keep a box of the Tablets on hand and they proclaim them to be without an equal for sweetening baby's stomach; regulating his bowels, and thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making the dreaded teething period easy.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any other narcotic drug which are so harmful to the future welfare of the baby. Mothers, if you value the life of your little ones give him Baby's Own Tablets when he is ill or, better still, give him an occasional dose of the Tablets to ward off illness. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or will be sent to any address, post paid, at 25 cents a box by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AIR PROSPECTING TO BE CARRIED ON

Winnipeg.—Prospecting by airplane on a larger scale is to be carried on this summer by veteran mining men in the far northern sub-Arctic regions. J. Hammell, internationally known prospector, who has formed an aerial exploration company to attempt the experiment has announced plans for the greatest mineral exploration work ever undertaken in the northern field. One hundred and fifty prospectors will be taken in this summer, bases established and supplies transported by plane. Forty or fifty prospectors will be stationed at each base. Supplied with collapsable canoes and provisions, they will, in parties of two, start out for specified points. Each prospector will receive 5 monthly wage, and ten per cent. interest in whatever claims he may stake.'

The company will have at least ten large aeroplanes, manned by pilots who have first hand knowledge of northern lying conditions. Bases are to be established near The Pas, Man., and several hundred miles farther north, pro bably in the Barren Lands, on the west coast of Hudson Bay.

Canadian School of Prehistory Discovers Many Valuable Relics

Montreal, Que. (By The Canadian Press)—Each year an enthusiastic group, made up of about a dozen Canadian scientists and students, migrates to France, there to labor with pick and shovel among the flint caves of the Combe-Capelle district for relics of our rude forefathers of the Stone Age. Each year they return with a weighty harvest of flint tools, to be classified and arranged at Ottawa and distributed among the museums of the various Canadian universities.

The Canadian School of Prehistory at Combe-Capelle has (the strong backing of the French Government, which indeed made its valuable work possible by granting it a large stretch of land for its researches. As a return courtesy the school annually contributes a portion of its discoveries to the French Government Museum.

Last year approximately 15,000 souvenirs of prehistoric life were brought back to Canada. A number were retained for the Geological Survey Museum, at Ottawa; several thousand went to the Redpath Museum of McGill University, while the University of British Columbia also benefited.

The Canadian School of Prehistory hopes soon to have a fine collection prepared for the University of Alberta which is very fitting since its principal, H. M. Tory, was one of the first to offer support to the school.

Dr. H. M. Ami, of the Dominion Geological Survey, who heads the school, was largely responsible for its establishment three years ago. He secured the active aid of McGill University, his Alma Mater, and by urgent personal representations gained the grant of land at Combe-Capelle from France.

Through the zealous labors of Dr. Ami and his associates it is now possible for McGill University students to study the development, of human craftsmanship more than 30,000 years ago by a visit to the Redpath Museum. He can observe how the Mousterian man chipped axes and knives and other rude implements from the flint of the caves in which he made his home.

"The tools of man show his culture," Professor Cooke once remarked. With this quotation as his text, Dr. Ami pointed out in a recent lecture that the discoveries brought to light by the Canadian school in the region of Combe-Capelle indicate that the men of the Mousterian period needed no League of Nations to preserve harmony amongst them, since not a single weapon of warfare has as yet been discovered in their ancient habitat.

There is no substitute for thoroughgoing, ardent and sincere earnestness.

PALESTINE TO YET BECOME A DOMINION

Is Not Yet Time, Says Levin

Winnipeg, Man.—(Canadian Press)—That Palestine would eventually become a seventh British dominion was the prediction made by Dr. Schmarya Levin, Jewish leader, who opened the United Palestine Appeal for western Canada here recently.

"Great Britain is in Palestine to stay," declared Dr. Levin. "Her mandate will only be withdrawn when the Jewish nation will have established itself as one of the commonwealths of British nations. Great Britain needs Palestine as the keystone country in the Near East and as a guardian state of the Suez Canal. In fact, she needs the Jews fully as much as they need her," he asserted.

EX. MAYOR COL. LORNE WELMOT MARSH DIES SUDDENLY

Stirling Woman Seriously Injured By Enraged Cow - Seed Inspectors In Session Here Today

SEED INSPECTORS OF HASTINGS AND ADJOINING COUNTIES CONVENE

Weed Control Methods Discussed At Shire Hall Gathering

MENACE OF WEEDS

Enlist Efforts of Farmers To Curb Spread of Noxious Plants

Well over thirty seed inspectors representing the counties of Hastings, Prince Edward and Addington and Northumberland, convened in the Shire Hall this morning for a one-day meeting for the purpose of discussing the interpretation of the Weed Control Act. This subject was masterfully handled by F. C. Hart, of Toronto, who is in charge of that section for the Province of Ontario. Mr. Wilson, the Agricultural Representative in this county, was general chairman of the Convention.

Mr. H. Hampson also discussed the Act and more particularly weed control methods. The meeting started early this morning and did not finish until late in the afternoon. Considerable interest was covered during the convention.

The main object of the Weed Control Act is to effect a means whereby the farmers and the authorities may cooperate to control the menace of weeds. There is no intention of a farmer being slip for anyone, but rather to bring home to the farmers and the authorities the necessity for concerted action. It should be the duty of the Inspector Overseer—and simply to make a police man, but to induce the few who would otherwise be careless, to carry out their responsibilities in the interests of themselves and their neighbors. The real menace of weeds is against the farmer and in all cases their sympathy and help in administering the Act should be enlisted. There may, of course, be a few cases where some measure will be required, and tact and common sense on the part of the Inspector should not be lacking in such a case; in some instances, also the removal of a weed menace in the interests of surrounding farms may work a real hardship on the owner of the property. Much good may be done by the Inspectors by inducing co-operative action in the neighborhood as to the best method of handling that particular problem.

What Readers Think

But the important part of the Act this year is in connection with the Highways. It is particularly desired that an effort be made to clean up by the roadsides fence lines, corners, and other places, which are a menace to sources of weed spreads. There should be little difficulty as to the Highways, if the Inspector "notifies the Highway Authority" as to the requirements of the Act in plenty of time to have the work arranged.

On private roads, or fields the control of which has not been assumed by the Municipality, the weeds shall be cut by the owners of lands abutting on the Highway, or by the Municipality and charged against such lands.

The Inspector should as soon as possible acquaint himself with the location of the weeds named in the regulations where they occur in his district. Sources of information are the Weed Bulletin issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural Representative for the County, and the Agricultural College.

Educate Farmers

It is suggested that Inspectors in addition municipalities should keep in touch with one another, so that the work may more or less conform. It is not expected, of course, that all of our worst weeds will be eliminated in one year, and it will be necessary to use judgment in strictly enforcing the Act in short,to be borne in mind, however, that where weeds are a real menace, and one or more farmers in the neighborhood, or the Road Authority, are preventing the benefits of the Act reaching the majority of the farmers, and such menace may reasonably be removed, it is the duty of the Inspector to exercise his authority. It is hoped through education and publicity all concerned will co-operate in the campaign, and in a few years we will have a reasonably clean Province.

20 YEARS IN PRISON

Vito Pantaleo.

20-year-old Italian tailor's assistant, who on Friday at Toronto was sentenced to 20 years in Kingston penitentiary for slaying his sister-in-law, Mrs. Silvia Paulino. The defence contended that Mrs. Paulino, whose existence he was said to have repudiated, had given him iodine, and under the influence of the potion he was crazed and not responsible for his actions.

APPOINTEES ARE CONGRATULATED

Title of K. C. Permits Holders Additional Privileges

At the opening of Court today Magistrate Miller invited K.C. counsel present the two Belleville gentlemen, E. J. Butler and R. D. Ponton on having had conferred upon them the title of King's Counsel and said that the request list contained the names of a large percentage of able lawyers.

King's Counsel is not an office nor does any emolument go with it but is simply a Title of Honor conferred by the Sovereign or Representative of the Sovereign with the advice of the Cabinet, similar to Privy Councillor, Knighthood and other titles, conferred to members of the legal profession. It does not differentiate much that the recipient is a better lawyer but implies that he being a lawyer has attained distinction in some form.

The title permits the King's Counsel to sit with all the Bar in Court, that is nearer the bench, and wear a silk instead of a stuff gown, and use a red ribbon for carrying books and papers. If the Sovereign is a female the title is Queen's Counsel.

Sir Francis Bacon a very able member of the English Bar was the first to receive the title, upon whom it was conferred by Queen Elizabeth. The first appointee in Ontario (now Upper Canada) were Sir Allan McNab, Attorney General and Solicitor of the first Postmaster of Belleville, John Solomon Cartwright, a relative of the late Sir Richard Cartwright, and Henry Sherwood afterwards Solicitor General and a relative of the late Judge Sherwood of Belleville. They received the title in January 1838, over ninety years ago.

RETURNS TO HIS BOYHOOD HOME

An interesting personality has returned to Belleville to spend his last days in the home of his boyhood. Adam Petri has been absent from the city for forty years or more and was at one time well-known here, having his long absence Adam, for he stated to the press that he had never had a handle to his name and did not intend to start now, has spent most of those years in Toronto.

Adam was seventeen years with the Grand Trunk Railway, and for seven of these years was "on the right side of the cab," or to be more exact, was an engineer. He has held several prominent positions in the Railway line in the Queen City.

TURF CLASSIC

Half a Million Will Attend Epsom Derby On The Morrow

Epsom, June 5.—England was suffering from its usual attack of racing fever today as the sporting world turned its entire attention to the Epsom Downs where the season's classic three-year-olds will fight out in the historic Derby tomorrow. The King came to Epsom today to view the first day's racing. Tomorrow he will witness the Derby with the Prince of Wales, Duke and Duchess of York and Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles. The Downs already are occupied by an army of campers, hawkers and gypsies ready for tomorrow's throng and incidentally, big trade. All transportation facilities in Southern England will be taxed to the play to carry the half million or more enthusiasts to Epsom and home again.

AFTERMATH OF ACCIDENT HEARD

Isaac Neal of Marmora Pleads Guilty To Liquor Infraction

What might have resulted in a more serious accident occurred late yesterday afternoon on West Bridge Street when a car driven by Isaac Neal, of Marmora, crashed into another automobile driven by C. J. Johnstone of Toronto, doing considerable damage to the Johnstone car. With Neal at the time were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, John Street, this city.

Police Sergeant Booth and Police Constable P. C. Thompson investigated and promptly placed Neal under arrest, charged with being drunk while driving, and at the same time Wright, was charged with intoxication. Mr. Wright was not detained.

This morning Neal and Wright appeared before Magistrate Ponton in police court. The former pleaded not guilty to being drunk in charge of a car, but later in the morning changed and pleaded guilty, asking to be arraigned again. On this count he was given seven days in jail and on a second charge of driving a car without a permit he was fined $10 and costs, or 21 days. As to the count on the first charge are not paid, Neal will receive another twenty-one days "on the hill."

Denied Charge.

Wright repeated the stand this morning and virtuously denied taking any liquor whatsoever yesterday. Despite the evidence of Constable Booth that he was inebriated, Wright still maintained that he was not drunk but had no use for the Police Worship found him guilty. He netted a fine of $15 and $7 costs, on a first offense.

MOTOR CRASHES OVER WEEK-END

Trenton Scene of Several Accidents—None Serious

Trenton had her share of automobile accidents during over the past long week-end. On Sunday night, on Front Street in east-side city, a car drive by Mr. Fred Ferguson, of Trenton, turned completely over, but luckily no one was hurt. Mr. Ferguson had with him at the time two other occupants in the car, and the cause was given as a faulty steering wheel.

The second accident occurred also on Sunday evening, Mr. Gordon Davis, of this city, driving a small car struck an automobile driven by Clifford Wray, of Hudson, near Mountain, east of Side street.

Whom Mrs. Yarrow, of Madoc, for her presence of mind on Saturday afternoon and raced out from Argent Street to Front Street, Trenton and crashed into a car driven by Mr. St. Croix, of that town.

AGED WOMAN IS GORED BY COW

Mrs. Arthur Richardson of Anson Suffers Severe Injuries

SAVED BY DOG

Bovine Was Protecting Her Young—Recovery Is Doubtful

Mrs. Arthur Richardson, a 65-year-old resident of Anson, near Stirling, had a narrow escape from almost certain death on Saturday at her home when an infuriated cow attacked the woman while she was in the act of milking in the stable. The cow which had recently given birth to twin calves was standing peacefully in the stall and when Mrs. Richardson approached it there was no warning. She were quartered the cow enraged leaped across the barn floor and attacked the victim unawares feared her to the tieling and she fell heavily to the floor. Not content the animal gored Mrs. Richardson to the floor and beat her unmercifully.

The cow owned by her husband aware of the woman's shouts ran to the barn and barking furiously the cattle lunged at them whereupon the latter turned on the dog and chased it through the yard. By this time help had arrived from the house and Mrs. Richardson was assisted to her home. A physician was called and Mrs. Richardson was found to be suffering from internal injuries as well as several lacerations to her head and shoulders. Some hopes are held out for her recovery although on account of her advanced age her condition is a matter of doubt. At any rate she will be confined to her bed for some time.

IDEAL WEATHER KING'S BIRTHDAY

Adherents of Ancient And Honorable Game Crowd Links

Old Jupiter Pluvius did not spread his damp mantle over the countryside until late yesterday afternoon so a perfect June 4th was celebrated. Golf, baseball, tennis, dinghy racing, horse racing and cricket were on the programme to describe the activities of the average Bellevillian yesterday.

The golfers from this city journeyed to Kingston to see the ball game in the morning, the cricketers and tennis fans attended the softball games here and the horse-racing at the Fair grounds. Trenton staged a Regimental Carnival, baseball, tennis, dinghy racing, horse racing and a number of other events to Old Sol, golf clubs of the city, and a splendid day for golfing it turned out to be. The Country Club held a most success ful luncheon, with many members and guests in attendance while the golf course was crowded from early morning until after dark.

The members of the Belleville Club team will go to Picton tomorrow to engage the Picton team in a tournament. The men's handicap tournament is in progress at the present time.

RAYNOR TO TESTIFY

Writ of Habeas Corpus Motion before Justice Rasny today

Toronto, Ont., June 5.—On argument before Justice Rasny today of Deputy Hall, His Lordship granted an order for R. H. Raynor, formerly of Picton, Ontario, to be brought from Portsmouth Penitentiary for the purpose of giving evidence in two cases arising from his operations in connection with the motor car business which he formerly operated. The trial of the action by the Commercial Finance Corp'n against the Western Assurance and Retail Credit Co. Inc. and of the same plaintiff against Manitoba Casualty Co., was declared to involve the alleged conversion of cars.

FORCED POLICE CAR OFF ROAD

Holiday a Busy Place In And Around Local Headquarters

Yesterday was a holiday for the most of us but not for the police, or the poor unfortunates who were arrested. "Paddy" Welsh, well known in this city and a painter by occupation, was unable to pay a $15 fine with $7 costs added yesterday morning and was sent to jail for twenty-one days.

Patrick Berry, also of this city, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of illegally having liquor and on failure of paying this sum was sentenced to spend the net thirty days on the hill. Perhaps the weather won't be so wet when Pat coffles out, that's one consolation!

The bad luck to force the police car into the ditch, as Mr. Stewart Stowell of Montreal found out on Saturday, Detective Booth at the wheel the big touring police car was forced into the ditch on Dundas East to avoid hitting Stowell's automobile. Stowell was hailed into police court and fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving. Unluckier yet, Stewart happened to possess a bottle of liquor at the time and was fined $100 and costs on this count. Both fines were paid.

TRIO ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY

Car Driven By Basil Van Allen Crashed Telegraph Pole

When he lost control of the car, Basil Van Allen, 47 Geddes Street, crashed into a telegraph pole just west of the city on the Trenton Highway, smashing the automobile beyond repair and more or less injuring the three occupants of the machine. The accident occurred at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

With Van Allen at the time was Lawrence Mason, who also lives at 47 Geddes Street, and a friend from the vicinities of the zone, while the driver only received a bad shaking up, a third occupant of the car, whose name could not be ascertained, received a severe gash over one on his face.

The three young men were returning from an extended trip at the time of the crash, and the exact cause is not known. The car was towed into the city yesterday by a wrecking truck.

POLICE INVESTIGATING THE PEANUT MYSTERY

Somebody in this city loves peanuts! In fact they just dote on them and the mystery surrounding Mike Katsa' pool room on Front Street, go down into the basement and steal thirty bags of the delectable dainty from the push-cart of Andy Katsa, who resides on John Street, Mr. Katsa reported the matter to the police and his peanuts and the police are investigating the affair. It is expected that the next two days will show some vast developments in the great peanut mystery. The robbery occurred about 8:30 on Sunday and Mike discovered it himself.

THE WEATHER

Wednesday—Occasional rain; moderate northwest winds; cloudy.

DOMESTIC FEUD IN CORE FAMILY

Joe Must Not Go Near Home In Future, Is Mandate

Joseph Core is in trouble again and this time he has landed into a sea of it. Joe was hailed before the Magistrate this morning. There was no specific charge laid against him as there was none to lay, but Joe has been bothering his wife and she tele phoned to the police who came to her home and took the spouse to the station. He was sick, believed due to the after effects of drinking and was sent to the hospital.

This morning it was divulged that Joe had been having a little party with some Florida water, rubbing alcohol and more for a "chaser." The Magistrate adopted his most portentous appearance and started to read the riot act to a badly frightened prisoner.

Joe, stated His Worship, "one of these days you are going to have a flogging coming to you! I say now that you are not to go near your home again, you can get your clothes and clear out! You are never to bother your wife again, and not to go inside of the front door."

Joe's claim that he owned half the house and one of the furniture made little difference, he cannot go there for two months. Besides he has sold his liquor permit, as the Crown Attorney particularly asked that it be handed to him. Joe is now the double of that famous man, "The Man Without a Country."

GIRL RETURNED HOME SATURDAY

Lucy Kitchen who disappeared from the Parsley House at Sidney last Friday calmly walked back to her residence while home on Saturday about mid-night. The young woman who is a domestic servant left on Friday presumably to visit friends in the city. When she did not return Mrs. Pletcher wife of the proprietor of the boarding house and starting to gain any traces promptly notified the Provincial Police at Belleville. The young woman's parents who live at Warkworth were also notified of her strange disappearance. A search was conducted and finally word reached Mr. Fletcher that she was seen in company with a male companion in a car along the street shortly after her trip to the store. Miss Kitchen dispelled any fears harbored by her employer when she walked in the house on Saturday night. She was unable to give any explanation as to why she left without leaving any word.

MILITARY FIGURE

Was Well Known In Political, Civic And Church Circles

The sudden passing of Col. Lorne Wilmot Marsh was a distinct shock to the citizens of Belleville, who learned of his death yesterday afternoon. Col. Marsh has been a well known figure in the growth of this city, as he had been one of the leading manufacturing men here up until he retired a few years ago. During the war he had operated his steel plant at full capacity making munitions for the troops in France, and had contributed generously to many methods of peace.

In the years 1909 and 1910, Col. Marsh was Mayor of the City of Belleville, and had served for several years before that time as alderman on the City Council. He had served his city well and truly in all his official capacities,and once was the Liberal Candidate for the Provincial House in this section.

Col.,Marsh was a well known figure in Freemasonry circles, being a member of Moira Lodge, No. II A. F. and A. M., Moira Chapter No. 7, R. A. M., King Edward Preceptory, No. 5, Ivanhoe Council, No. 2, Court, Moira, No. 32, I. O. F. and Mizpah Lodge No. 171, I. O. O. F.

Born in Hastings

Born in Frankford, Ontario, fifty-seven years ago, Col. Marsh was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Marsh, who, resided in Belleville up until several years ago. Colonel Marsh moved to Belleville at an early age, where he received most of his education. He then taught school on the 1st Concession of Thurlow for a few years, later moving back to Belleville to take a position as bookkeeper with Col. Brown, whom Colonel Marsh succeed where the Cremated Foundry now stands, Mr. Marsh advanced rapidly, until he was in a position to establish the firm of the Marsh and Henthorn Engineering Co., which he conducted with W. Henthorn. Before the war this company confined their activities to the manufacturing of huge derricks, and other large implements as well as the ordinary farm machines, but when war broke out, the factory was quickly changed to a munitions plant, Mr. Marsh be steel shells for the holding of the explosives were made here. Later the Kitchen Interprises, Ltd., with Col. Marsh.

Before the Great War, Col. Marsh was Colonel of the 15th Argyll Light Infantry, but owing to his ill health was not able to serve, although for several times. He had always been in the very primary affairs in this district and took a keen interest in the work of the 15th Regiment in Belleville, and very primary affairs in this district and took a keen interest in the work of the 15th Regiment in Belleville, and his interest in all things connected with this regiment. Poor health forced his retirement from active business and just two years ago the Canada Adam Company purchased the plant.

Mayor of about ten years ago, Marsh was a familiar figure at all local sporting affairs, and was especially interested in baseball. Less than a year ago, Col. Marsh was at a baseball game in Belleville, and was one of the most as good as in the years of 1918 and 1919.

Beside his sorrowing widow, there remain to mourn his loss, one son, Lieut. Col. Lorne Marsh, of Belleville, Arthur Marsh, of Hillcrest Ave., Belleville.

He was a devoted member of St. Thomas Anglican Church, and had been closely interested in its activities. The funeral will be strictly private only the immediate relatives of the deceased being present, and one member from each of the lodges of which he was a member will act as bearers. The funeral has been set for Wednesday afternoon, June 6th, from the late residence, 214 John St., City.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The slander, whose breath
Rides on the posting winds, and doth belie
All corners of the earth.
—SHAKESPEARE.

ARE WE MAINTAINING OUR RIGHTFUL DUTIES?

A man in Toronto, who fought overseas, came home after looking for work the other day, and found his furniture and family turned out on the street because he was behind in the rent, and apparently had no prospects of being able to pay.

The amount he owed is, as we re-call it, something like $30 or $35.

And for a good many days past there have been thousands of people in Toronto attending the horse races, putting up their money good and plenty in an effort to back a winner.

Of course it's none of our business how the people there or any place else spent their own money; if they want to toss it into the parimutuels that's their own affair.

But one can't help wondering if, among that great crowd there were not quite a number who, at the time Canadians were enlisting, joined in the very general and sweeping promises that were made to the recruits that they would be well looked after by a grateful people when they returned.

COBHAM'S FLIGHT MOST IMPORTANT

Sir Alan Cobham, with Lady Cobham, arrived at Plymouth yesterday in the plane in which they set forth five months ago from England on an exploratory cruise to and around the African continent. The distance covered in this flight was 22,000 miles. It was a pioneer flight, for most of the routes taken had never before been traveled by an airplane, and the people in most of the places visited had never before seen one. It was not a spectacular flight; there was nothing of the "stunt" about it; it was undertaken for scientific and practical purposes—to open up the way for the establishment of regular air services in Africa. Sir Alan made a circuit of Africa and also flew across the interior of the continent. His purpose was to make observations which will be useful in the projected inauguration of a regular air service between the Cape and Cairo—from one extremity of the continent to the other.

Considering the distance covered, the work done, and the results achieved, this flight is probably the most important one that has yet been made. Cobham is, as an airman, first among his peers.

HOSPITAL BILL A CONTTNEION POINT

An interesting problem has been given the authorities of five Ontario municipalities by the waywardness of a Hamilton youth. We refer to the boy who, released from prison on a special permit, immediately returned to the thrilling pastime of stealing automobiles and who was dangerously wounded by the bullets of a pursuing Stratford policeman. After six weeks' treatment, the youth has been discharged from hospital in Stratford and the officials of that institution are wondering who is going to foot the bill. It is claimed that, the arrest of the wanted boy having been effected by the Stratford police, that particular city has done enough. But it is not known whether the shot was fired in Logan or Fullerton townships and councils of those municipalities are unlikely to volunteer payment for hospital treatment. Galt authorities asked the Stratford police to make the arrest and are disclaiming responsibility for the expense involved, and Hamilton, from which city the car was stolen, would be establishing a precedent if it footed the bill, and is unlikely to do so. It would seem that there should be a special provincial account to meet exceptional cases of this kind. There are many cases on the record books of criminals being shot away from home, but we can't recall an instance of the bill for hospital treatment being sent to the place designated as permanent residence. If such practice was followed, bills would be flying back and forth almost continually, particularly between this country and the United States.

ON OUR STREET

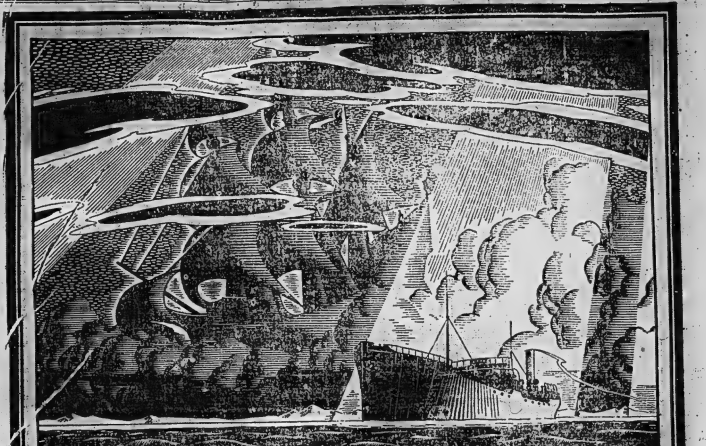

There are two windows where the neat
And snowy curtains flutter,
Betraying those who scan the street,
Concealed behind a shutter,

Who perp at all the folk who pass
On sunny days and shady—
One window hides a little lass
And one an aged lady.

Loath prisoners, the two of them,
They watch the world parading,
The one a bud upon life's stem,
The one a flower long fading;

Both from their refuges espy
The march of joy and sorrow,
While one sees yesterday go by
And one beholds to-morrow.

Treasure from the Tropics

Nature endowed many districts with petroleum containing a high gasoline content. Such oil fields are common. But nature was less generous in providing raw materials for motor oil manufacture. In one oil field she stored a crude petroleum ideal for the requirements of a fine motor oil.

That field is in Peru, and the virtues of its yield were discovered by IMPERIAL OIL scientists. Today, IMPERIAL OIL controls the Peruvian field, and alone has access to its rich crude. Because Marvelube is made from Peruvian crude, it is an inherently better oil that more fully meets the requirements of complete and efficient lubrication under all conditions of motor operation.

Back of Marvelube are the experience, resources and integrity of IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED, for forty-seven years Canada's largest refiners of petroleum products.

WHY YOUTH NEEDS THE GLOVED HAND

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Youth, bubbling over with energy, and restlessness. Youth must always be on the go. It can't help it. In adolescents 43 per cent of the body weight is muscular.

Then there is the enthusiasm of youth that also helps to make it uneasy. Mentality suddenly expands. A complete reconstruction of ideas takes place. Childhood ideas are cast aside.

The mind pushes forward eagerly and restively in its quest and struggle to make plain to itself the mysteries of its newly-discovered world.

That is why excitement helps to develop—why youth thrives on it. The emotional side of young people undergoes marked changes. It feeds on excitation, depression, and extremes of all sorts.

The sphere of interest in the youth of both sexes is increased constantly and enormously. The promptings from within and the impressions from without come with bewildering variety and rapidity.

Youth quickly knows which way to turn, what road to pursue, which goal is best. In short, youth finds it is almost impossible to make itself behave.

Therefore, if we restrain youth we must do it wisely and cautiously. We can't change nature.

We cannot eliminate or annihilate or neutralize human growth and development. What you do when you coerce too much is merely to shunt all this exuberant energy into other, less wholesome channels.

You thereby develop evasions and deceit. You make youth stealthy. You create repression, sensitiveness, self-accusations, morbid phantasies.

Don't try to force youth. Try to lead it. Lead it deftly and diplomatically into ways of activity that will use up the energy.

Athletics are best of all. Keep youth in the open air. Keep it social. Keep it vibrating with stimulating thoughts and deeds.

Youth is a great problem, especially to youth itself!

THERE is nothing that has ever taken Aspirin's place as an antidote for pain. It is safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get the real Aspirin (at any druggist) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in the United States Patent Office) of Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, Bayer-Aspirin will be stamped with that "Bayer" cross hereafter.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am fifteen years old. Two weeks ago I met a young man at a party. We went for an auto ride and I allowed him to kiss me. Since then he has not paid any further attention to me. I am very much in love with him. What should I do?

A FADING BUTTERCUP: For a long time I have been urging my readers not to permit men to whom they are not engaged to kiss them. I have maintained that in allowing such familiarities they have been cheapening themselves. I do not believe that young men can have either the interest in or the respect for girls who permit this that they have for girls who have more respect for themselves. So often have I seen just such results as you have written me about occur.

However, as far as you yourself are concerned, my dear, I think that you are entirely too young to think of love. Forget entirely about the fellow, if you can, and give all your thought to your studies, and your spare time to athletics.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I had a quarrel with a boy friend a few weeks ago and in the mean time I found out I was in the wrong. Please tell me how I may win his friendship back.

READER.

READER: Since you are in the wrong, my dear, the gracious thing for you to do would be to write the fact and apologize to him. I am sure that you will find that this will straighten things out to your satisfaction.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

It is sometimes wise to set clothing to be mended while ironing. When you notice something is in need of repairs, put it on a certain part of the ironing. Then that collection can be carried straight to the mending basket.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an Alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use other methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you have cut this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

Mr. McLeod discovers a new way to save money

HE never hesitates to spend money, to make more money, but, characteristically, he would rather pay 50 cents for something than a Dollar. A thrifty soul—and a good friend of ours.

"So you notice that more people are using the Evening Rate for Long Distance," he said to us the other day.

"Yes, that's true. While many people do not realize how comparatively low the Evening Rate is (after 8.30 p.m.) it is gradually dawning on more of them that it is an easy way to save money. Take your own case. Look at these examples of Evening Rates:—

Station to Station Rate
Trenton .10		Campbellford .20
Picton .15		Frankford .10
Wellington .15		Brighton .20
Madoc .20		Deseronto .15
Tweed .20		Peterboro .40
Napanee .20		Kingston .35
Marmora .25		Oshawa .55
Stirling .15	Lonsdale .15	Cobourg .25

"This list doesn't include some of the towns I call, but it gives me a good idea of what the rate to them would be."

"Quite so. And remember, that the time in effect at the point where the call originates (whether Standard Time or Daylight) applies on Evening Rates."

"Thanks, for the tip."

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Suddenly, turning the corner of a street, she came face to face with Tom Harrington.

CHAPTER 20
LOVE'S FOLLY

When Celia saw Tom Harrington standing before her, her heart beat so violently that she thought, for a moment, she would faint.

She had forgotten how handsome he was. She had nearly forgotten, in the events of the past few weeks, how much she had loved him.

He stood, hat in hand, staring at her.

"Celia, are you going to speak to me?"

She became aware of the curious glances of passers-by. They all knew Tom and herself, were familiar with the circumstances attending the breaking of their engagement.

"I've been playing polo at Alberni. . . . Celia, can you ever forgive me for acting like a cad?"

She'd regained her self-control then.

"Don't let's talk about it. Why rake up ancient history? That's past and done. Tell me what you're doing and all about yourself."

He said, in a miserable voice:

She nodded brightly, her pride sustaining her.

"A very nice chap, Tom."

"I hope to Heaven he's as good to you as I was going to be, girl, bitterly. "Celia, I don't care what you did, I acted abominably. . . ."

She checked him with a gesture.

"If you're going to talk about that, I'm going home. I bear no grudge, Tom. I was hurt, but all that is past now. . . ."

"Can we be friends again?" he asked eagerly.

She shook her head.

"That isn't possible, Tom. But we can forget and go our ways, as if both leg had happened."

He stared at her.

"You are more beautiful than ever. . . . Oh, Celia, Celia, why did you treat me so? When I loved you; when we were going to be married. . . ."

She silenced him with a glance.

"Hush. . . . go now, Tom," she said quietly. "Mother is ill, as you know. That's why I'm here. I have an errand now. . . . Good-by."

"May I come with you?"

She shook her head.

"You know I'm down. We've given it too much to talk about already. Don't let's give it more way. . . ."

He stood aside to let her pass. She felt his eyes on her until she had turned the corner. Another moment with Tom, and she felt that she would have been in tears.

All that afternoon the memory of Tom, as he had looked when she bade him good-by, lingered with her. She told herself fiercely that she loved him with all her heart, no matter what he and his family had done to her.

"Where is your pride?" she asked herself. "You ought to detest the very sight of him."

But something told her that Tom still loved her. She could see that in his eyes. It was balm to her sore heart. Maybe, after her mother recovered and was strong enough to hear the truth——

"Never!" she found herself saying aloud. "What sort of a person are you, to forget how badly you've been treated."

And yet, she told herself, that if Tom Harrington should again ask her to marry him, she would have a hard fight to refuse him. And, in the end, perhaps she wouldn't be strong enough. Even her pride would bend before the force of love.

"But what a love!" she argued with herself. "One should respect the person one loves. And I can't respect Tom, after what he did to me. Even if he believed that story about me, he should have let me break the engagement. He shouldn't have made me the talk and the laughing-stock of the town."

She told Gwen about the encounter when they met for tea. Gwen made a grimace of distaste.

"Either you're foolish about him yet, or you're an angel of charity. I'd have given him a piece of my mind."

"Would you—if he had been Larry, and the circumstances had been the same?"

Gwen set her cup on the mantel and strolled over the window.

"Oh, darn it!" she said. "We women will always be fools about men. It's all very well to theorize and give excellent advice to other women, but when it comes down to cases, we're all alike.

Annesley's daily letter arrived in the afternoon mail. It happened to be a copy of one dictated by Gwen. Celia took it up-stairs to her mother's room and read parts of it aloud.

When she had finished, her mother said pensively:

"Dearest, I hate to see you separated from Richard. I wish you'd write him to come here. A man as rich as he is can afford the time. And, besides, I want to see him. Tell him please to come. Make him come."

Celia was seized with a feeling of panic.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Paris reports that for simple evening frocks and tea-dance gowns, the one-side-frill-trimming is much favored, introduced in a flounced apron-like effect which reaches to the hip and over just a little to the back and quite a long way in front; but always one-sided.

Brown and white is a smart combination favored this season by Paris houses.

General Smuts recently observed: 'An ideal always becomes, in a sense, degraded when it is actually realized. It can serve both for a small dinner party and for a very smart afternoon reception, a garden party, and for Ascot and Longchamp.

Adaptations from tweeds are appearing in charming fabrics for the fisherwright dress of next now so popular, and subdued colors feature cats of brown and yellow, the blues, olives, greens, navies, tans and soft violets, while selvage edgings appear for trimming.

A most charming vogue Paris dressmakers are tarting is that for lace tailor-mades, and this new kind of ensemble is particularly practical, as it can serve both for a small dinner party and for a very smart afternoon reception, a garden party, and for Ascot and Longchamp.

ANNUAL MASONIC CHURCH SERVICE

Dr. Malott Delivers Eloquent Address To Local And District Brethren

Approximately two hundred strong, officers and members of Quinte Friendship Chapter Royal Arch Masons, Moira Chapter, Masons from Trenton and all the surrounding districts paraded to Bridge Street Church Sunday morning.

Bedecked in their regalia the Masons presented a fine sight as they filled into the church, and they filled practically the entire center of the building.

The front of the church was beautifully decorated with flowers, and the entire interior presented a festive appearance. In honour of the King's birthday the service was opened by the singing of 'God Save the King' and closed with another patriotic anthem.

A feature of Sunday's service was a solo by Mr. A. F. Sullman, who rendered that lovely selection 'Open the Gates of the Temple.'

Dr. Malott had prepared a more than usually interesting sermon, most especially from a Masonic standpoint.

The Stone Rejected

The sermon was based upon the rejection of the stone in the building of the Temple, how the builders in erecting the edifice cast the stone away because it was not the shape of their other stones, and how, when the building was all all completed save for the corner-stone they could not find one to fit until someone thought of the stone that was rejected, and that fitted perfectly.

The Doctor drew a parallel between this occurrence and the rejection of Jesus Christ.

'We know that men who rejected this corner-stone as did the builders,' stated Dr. Malott. 'The mistake of those men has been repeated again and again in the life of ours. The boy rejects education, the man rejects advice, and so we reject all sorts of things. Ignorance and prejudice are often the basis or rejection.

'We have three great buildings erect,' continued the minister. 'They are the Church, the Christian State and the Christian Character. Let us be most careful we do not reject the most important stone of all in these buildings.

'The Church is a building, constantly in a state of transition and we are some of the stones in this great building. When you criticise the church you are in reality criticising yourselves. The Church is the corporate life of all buildings.

'Each citizen is the state. The state is just about what the average citizen is. In these days we are making a new civilization and as a former generation rejected slavery so this generation will reject war. We must not reject the corner-stone of the state however, we must leave Christ in it.

The Greatest Danger.

'The greatest danger in erecting these buildings is that we will reject Christ, because he does not fit in with the other stones.

'Too often, in the Church itself, Christ is not considered. Unchristian ideas too often creep into the body of the Church.

'The only safe foundations upon which any nation may build is by the great teachings of Our Lord, Jesus Christ. I believe that it is the greatest mistake a nation ever made to say that it is impossible to build upon these foundations.'

'God has a supreme plan and He wants us to adopt it. He wants us to see our National Life built with Jesus Christ as its chief corner-stone of that state. Wherever Christianity has been really tried it has never failed. What we need in these days is an advance to a more Christian future.'

The Doctor drew a brief picture of the comparison between Christianity and Paganism. 'How much better is the first than the second? From the hour that Christ was born, that sounded the death knell of Paganism. Just so far as the world is cruel today it is Pagan.'

'Rome had sixty million slaves and you may say that the Christian Church defended slavery, but in doing that she was Pagan.'

In concluding the Doctor said: 'There is still work for us as builders. Shall we take our designs from the Great Master, or shall we use the stone of our own choosing?' In his final remarks the minister exhorted the Masons to be real builders and to be operative masons.

Following the service the large number of Masons present filed out of the church in order and marched back along Front Street to the club rooms.

THREE THOUSAND IN ATTENDANCE

Third of June Program Most Successful In History

Three thousand people attended one of the most successful race meets ever held in Belleville yesterday afternoon at the local Agricultural Park when keen spirited contests were on the card for the Kings Birthday program. Perfect racing weather greeted the large audience and the stands were well-filled when the horses went to the post in the opening race. The fences were surrounded by a keen crowd bent on an afternoon's sport. The Agricultural Society had left no stone unturned to provide a rare afternoon of diversion and in this end they were most successful. The sport of Kings has been well-established in Belleville and the standard that has been set in past years was maintained yesterday. Prominent members of the turf fraternity were represented and some of the leading horses in Central Ontario were entered in the various classes. The track had been placed in perfect shape and the time made yesterday was exceptionally good. The Judges Board announced some time ago that three races would be run, namely the 2.30, 2.12 and 2.26.

Mr. George Tice, that able and capable official was at the helm and there was little delay in the program, the races being run off in scheduled time. The judges were: J. H. Davidson, Cobourg, Elgin Caughey, Cobourg, A. Wright, Picton, Mr. Sidney Wellands of Picton acted as timer and Mr. Harry Ketcheson was clerk of the course.

Beavers' Triumph

There was a side-attraction in the form of a ball-game between the Capitals of Trenton, and the Belleville Beavers. The local squad won out in the dying stages of the game by a fine tally. The score was tied ten-all at the end of the seventh, both scored one run in the eighth but in the ninth the Beavers managed to score four which won the ball game 15-11. Miss Tuttle won the full route for the Beavers and she twirled a fine game. Miss Coulter was on the hillock for the visitors and she too was in good form.

Race Results

In the first race of the 2.30 class Davis Axworthy captured the honors in straight heats while Adolph the Great won second money with little opposition. There was a close run for third tion., There was a close run for third place with May Mack and Peg 'O My Heart fighting it out.

The 2.29 class required five heats before the money was decided. Rose Grattan finally coming first under the wire after a nice effort, however, Mr. Payne's horse was pressed hard by Chas. Grattan owned by Shepherd and Fraser of Forest, Ont. Third place also was close with Daisy C owned by Dr. Hopkins of Cookville triumphing over Eleanor May of J. A. Akey's stable, Peterboro.

The 2.20 class was won in straight heats with Jack Abbe owned by J. A. Akey winning first money. June Custer and Jim Bing fought it out for second with the former winning second place money. The races were all real fast heats and some of them were exceptionally close. The 2.26 especially provided plenty of excitement, with the five heats and although the last heat was run in a drizzle it did not deter one iota from the interest and every one of the three thousand spectators remaind until the winners had been announced. The committee composed of Harry Stock, R. H. Ketcheson and Chas. Hanna are deserving of great praise for the manner in which the meet was handled.

SMART, graceful, luxurious—the New Canadian Oakland Six bears eloquent witness to the beauty and the comfort built into every Body by Fisher. It strikingly illustrates, too, the unmatched ability of Fisher to build supreme value into a motor car body. You will not find a greater motor car value in Canada than the New Canadian Oakland Six. Part of that value is in its chassis, with its big motor, its bull-dog sturdiness and strength—and part in the attractive, comfortable and extremely durable Body by Fisher. That General Motors is able to offer such a car at such a price is still further proof of the beneficent result of Fisher resources, Fisher efficiency and Fisher craftsmanship

PETES TO PLAY HERE WEDNESDAY

Nationals Out For Revenge Over Ancient Rivals Tomorrow

Belleville stack up against the Peterboro team at the Agricultural Park tomorrow in what should be one of the smartest games of the season. The locals were beaten out by a hair in the game at James Stevenson Park a week ago and they are out for sweet revenge.

Belleville fans think the Nationals should win the Central Ontario League pennant and at the rate they have been travelling they should. The team has lost two games to date, had no right to lose either of them but they are sitting on the right side of the ledger with three wins and two losses and will win tomorrow against the Petes who help a whole lot. Tommy Holyman's boys captured the game in Peterboro but it was the closest of margins.

The Petes lost to Dickey on Saturday by a score of 4-0, Jack Shea the crack Dickey hearer letting the home- team down with one solo blow.

Alvin Hickman will likely be in the points with Max Hammond tomorrow as Harold has the pitching on Saturday. Heckman has still many a good game left in his good right arm and he will be in there doing his utmost to win tomorrow's game.

The Petes dislike the fact that they have been able to win but one game from the smart ball Clubs and they will give any team in this league a battle royal.

Manager Gerow will probably send Gibson or Uzonski to the hillock to-morrow and Belleville will use the reckoning end. The game will get away promptly at 3.15 and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected.

SITUATION IS TENSE

Tientsin, June 3.—The situation in Tientsin was somewhat tense but not panicky. The Chinese military authorities took over the control of the American Boxer League.

Character

WHEN buying bonds for investment two factors should be taken into consideration—

FIRST—Property values, revenue producing powers and other tangible elements of security.

SECOND—The character and experience of the investment house which sponsors the issue.

Experienced investors everywhere recognize that the second factor is just as important as the first.

JILLIE THE TOILER—

RALLY WINS FOR KINGSTON TEAM IN 9TH INNING

SCORE 7-6

Nationals Failed To Hit In Pinches of Yesterday's Exciting Game

An unfortunate error on the part of the veteran player, "Wicky" Ross, cost Belleville whatever chances they had of winning yesterday's game at Kingston. After a hectic nine innings the Limestoners were out in front of a 7-6 score and incidentally won their first home game of the season. It was a great game to watch, full of thrills for the supporters of both teams.

The Nationals spotted the Kingston Club four runs in the opening frame and then for the next seven innings they plugged away trying to get them back and they succeeded in doing so only to lose the runs again in the ninth.

The initial frame undoubtedly cost Belleville the ball game. It was really a gift that Kingston scored four, the Belleville team seemingly having been in a trance. And they tallied all of their runs after two were gone. Here's the way they did it: Arnell, in the first man up, went out on a pop-fly to Harry Mills, Britton got a single and then Buck struck out, Cherry lifted a foky fly which appeared to be settling in Ross' hands. It was not, a head catch but the rough outfield may have been responsible, anyway the ball bounced from his glove, to make matters worse Ross threw the ball to Vern Weir and the latter fired to the ball ten feet over "Peeny" Mills' head and Britton scored. George Ada then got a single and Cherry crossed the plate. Elliott banged out a one-bagger and then Jeffrey was a little wild walking two men in a row, hit a batter with the ball forcing in two more runs. Arnell came up for a second time in the innings and ended the nightmare by striking out.

Jeffery pitched fine ball all the way and it was certainly no fault of his that the Nationals lost yesterday's ball game. He struck out two batters in the first innings and the display by some of his team-mates was enough to discourage any pitcher. Altogether he fanned seven men, allowed ten hits, and walked but three. Jeffery was given good support with the exception of the "fatal first" and after that the Nationals played errorless ball, with "Chuck" should and will be given another opportunity and had he been given any of the breaks yesterday he would have bagged a victory.

Jos Daley started Hewitt Smith on the mound and he was wild as a hawk, passing no less than seven free passes to first. He retired in the fourth and was succeeded by Van' Young who by has always been Belleville's "Jonah," Young has a fast ball that would not break a pane of glass but seemingly the boys can do little damage with his delivery. Coming in with the bases loaded he forced Peeny to pop weakly into Tetro's hands for the third out.

Belleville played just as good baseball as Kingston and had even more right to win the ball game. The Nationals could not hit in the pinches and an idea of their weakness in this respect may be gleaned from the fact that no less than fourteen men were left stranded on the paths. Kingston had ten themselves but they bunched their hits more. The Ballmaster out-hit their Limestone rivals twelve to ten.

Wee In Ninth

Going into the ninth inning the score was 6-4 with Belleville on the long end. Britton, the first man up walked and Buck doubled, Jeffery was then taken out and Gibson went to the mound. He walked, the first man to face him, "Pet" Cherry, filling the bases. George Ada got a ringing blow to right and the game was tied. Elliott struck out and Tetri filed out to Ross but Ada had plenty of time to make the plate on the play and the game was over. It was a tough game to lose and it will be one of the saddest wins Kingston will get all summer.

"Wicky" Ross while he made one bad error helped himself to three hits and made three nice put-outs. Bill Scott, Hagerman and Vern Weir all had two hits each.

Belleville scored in the second when Hagerman got a double, and Ross scored him on another two-base hit. In the fourth Smith was ineffective walking three more and Jeffery was forced in with the lone run and although the bases were populated the best Belleville could do was to score the one. In the sixth they started again, Vern Weir hammering out a double, Harry Mills walking and Peeny got a two-bagger scoring Vern. Belleville scored on a long sacrifice fly to Ada. In the seventh Jeffery was safe on Arnell's error, Ross dropped a single over the infield, and Harry Mills scored both of them on a double. Belleville ended the scoring for Belleville. Belleville thus won one game and lost another over the week-end.

Peterboro will play here tomorrow afternoon which should be well worth witnessing. Manager Gerow will likely pitch Gibson or Utrouki and the locals will attempt to make good for the loss handed them at James Stevenson Memorial Park days ago. The Peks will be at full strength tomorrow.

WAR PENDING IN LOCAL SOFTBALL

Beavers Not Affiliated With Quinte League, Parkdale Game Cancelled

Many fans in this City were disappointed when it was announced that the Parkdales, of Toronto, who were scheduled to play here Saturday would not be able to come and as a result the game scheduled at the Exhibition Park in connection with the Peterboro affair was called off. It appears that the Parkdales have been disappointed and as a result a war in local softball circles is pending which may eventuate in the disbanding of the Belleville Beavers.

A wire was received on Saturday stating that owing to the fact that the Beavers had not affiliated themselves with the Bay of Quinte League they could not play the Parkdales here. The former Management claim they were advised by Mrs. Gerow the local representative of the Ontario Ladies' Softball Association that the Beavers were paid it would be in order to go ahead with the game. The Beavers claim that a cheque was then presented to Mrs. Gerow who would not accept the money stating the date for affiliation closed May 20th. Miss Mary Secretary of the Ontario Ladies' Association for the Province would not sanction special permission for the Beavers and therefore took no action the game was called off.

Mrs. Charlton, of Belleville, the Treasurer, was in favor of the game being played but as Mrs. Gerow of Peterboro and Miss Mabel Bay, of Toronto, would not grant permission there was no alternative but to call the game off.

It is unfortunate that such a situation should arise and it is to be hoped that the parties will straighten out the matter. All has been arrese in local softball circles up to this time and it is unfortunate that some mutual under standing cannot be reached. Local fans want to see softball teams of a high calibre come here and it is only through co-operated efforts that satisfactory terms can be reached.

BEAVERS BEATEN BY OSHAWA TEAM

Locals Defeated In Heavy-Scoring Tilt On Armouries Lawn

On Saturday evening at the Armouries Lawn Belleville Beavers were defeated by Oshawa Chevrolet Ladies 31-11. Although the score would indicate a poor game, it was just the reverse in many respects. Although at times some glaring errors were made all in all it was a thrilling game. Nine innings were completed in about an hour and twenty-five minutes. Oshawa looked to be one of the neatest dressed and peppiest teams ever to play here. The Beavers did not lack for pep either and their fielding displays were made up largely of wild throws, which should be overcome later. Chevrolet ladies, a well balanced team well met and were given good pitching, the same with the Beavers. Molly Gray's work as pitcher although a little wild at tic was an eye opener to the crowd—before the season finishes she should be one of the best in these parts. Ethel Knott her kid battery mate, also played a wonderful game and is a find behind the bat. If there is another catcher in Belleville say better.

The Chevrolet Ladies will likely be back later on when the Beavers hope to reverse the decision. The team is composed of real lady ball players and coached by Alex Webster, the star pitcher of last year's Chevrolet team.

Ontario finalist, although trimmed, is a credit to the Beaver management to bring teams of this calibre here. Allan Meagher maintains "he could rather be trimmed by good reans than play poor ones and win all he time. The collection was under 20.00 and from the number of big strikes present it is a sure thing they are not been called out of circulation.

OSHAWA LOST IN SLUG-FEST TO LOCAL NATIONALS

"Duke" Dainty Took Unmerciful Trimming From Visitors

MILLS' HITTING

Motors Were Spotted Four Runs Through Erratic Pitching By Gerow

Belleville Nationals scored their third win of the season on Saturday against Oshawa at Alexandra Park in the Motor City by the score of 10 to 6. Much has been said of the Oshawa team, and they had upheld their reputation in their games against Peterboro and Kingston, but on Saturday they certainly did not look to be in the same class with Belleville and the other teams in the loop. Saturday they may have been just an off day for them however, as they must be given good ball to take both from Peterboro and Kingston into camp, away from home.

After going out in one, two, three order in Belleville's half of the first, Saturday they seemed to score four runs off the starting pitcher for Belleville, "Chummy" Gerow. He walked Dale the first, but Dainty walked the next and the next two men up smacked out hits, Gerow, Jr., and Utrouki, to be exact, both singling, filling the bases. Gerow then walked Dainty, forcing in the first run. Utrouki went in and the next three batters up struck out, Gerow, Jr., to fly. In all fairness to Gerow, it must be stated that he was not to blame for as there was a high wind, making it almost impossible to toss them over the plate consistently. Dainty, however, is a warm day and he will be in there pitching boldly.

Going into the second with a four run deficit, "Big Peeney" Mills started the ball rolling with a single to centre. Blakely helping one to the outfield, Mills scoring on a single by Arnell, a double, Peeny being held at third. Hagerman then walked, filling the bases with Weir to come. Britton hit a single through short, scoring two, Arnell was out on infield hit, Buck singled, and sent Hagerman and Green home. Ross flied out to end the inning.

"Hank" Morrison, on the mound for Belleville, was touched for three runs, rough, but got by the third without being scored on, while Belleville kept their hands on the score sheet in the third, fourth and fifth. Hagerman singled in the fourth, advanced on Utrouki's roller to short, and scored when Weir singled. In the fifth, W. Mills, Blakely and Arnell singled in Young's error, every body advancing when Weir's drive to centre field scored Hagerman's high fly, with Mills scoring. Utrouki bolsted a long fly to Ross in the sixth, Hagerman scored on the play.

With the score seven to five for Belleville, Burgoyne, Schultz & Co. decided that Morrison should retire in favor of Young, Morrison's loss. Ross, the first man up in the sixth, popped out to McCallum on first, but Harry Mills singled, for his first hit of the day, followed in a few moments by a mighty clout to centre from the bat of "Peeny" Mills, which was good for a home run with plenty to spare.

Seeming to get the fever from Belleville, Elliot, first man up in their half of the sixth, smacked the first ball pitched to deep right, which was good for another three, but the next three men went out without trouble. The Nationals made sure of it in the eighth innings, when singles by Weir, the Mills brothers, Blakely, Scott, and a double by Green, mixed in with an error by Sutton on Hagerman's roller to second netted six runs for a total of fifteen.

Oshawa started a belated rally in the last of the ninth, when Young got a lainted home run, as the ball flew away from the infield, and rolled almost to the race track. Dainty helped himself to a double, and scored on William's single, but T. Morrison could not stand the pace and rolled out to the pitcher. Green pulled down Elliott's long drive to end the game. Incidentally, this is the third game that "Sonny" has made the last put out.

Heavy hitting featured the contest and errors by both sides kept the score into high figures, [illegible] the Belleville [illegible] Oshawa [illegible] Only [illegible] record in attendance, but for those who like heavy hitting it was a good game to watch. Both teams can play better ball than they did Saturday, and this Oshawa team will be right up in the first division at the end of the season.

"Peeny" Mills was the big noise with the ladies Saturday, as in six trips to the plate he had four hits, one a

Next game, scheduled once, and got to first in his other trip on what the officials score called an error by Young, but which was certainly too hard hit to be called an error. Vern Weir had three hits in six times up, and his slows seemed to come just when they meant runs. Bob Scott had three hits in five times up one of which was a double, Hagerman, Blakely and Utrouki had to be satisfied with one apiece.

Young for Oshawa had three hits in five times, one a homer, one a double and one a single, while practically every other Oshawa man managed to get one hit from the offerings of Utrouki. This boy is a comer, as the way he worked on Saturday under the management of Peeny left very little to be desired. The rest of the team have confidence in him and tighten up when it is needed. Utrouki never forgets that he has eight other behind him, and he lets them help carry the burden.

INCENSED OVER PETE'S ACTION

Whig-Standard Scribe Proposes That Peterboro Be Suspended

Kingston baseball club and the fans of that City are highly indignant over the high-handed action of the Peterboro Club in refusing to play last Friday night's game and here's the Kingston Whig-Standard's version of the whole affair.

Peterboro handed baseball in Central Ontario the biggest black-eye it ever got when they failed to show up the Fair Grounds for their scheduled game with Kingston on Friday night, and as a result, though the Kingston team had been on the field for half an hour, and the fans were pouring in, the game had to be called off. It was an incident that carries with it no justification for the Peterboro team failing to notify Kingston that they were not coming, and it was not until after the public had the locals learned, through telephoning to Peterboro that the team had not left that city.

President McPadden, who, incidentally, represented Peterboro at the meeting, as well as president, stated before he left to return home, that he would see to it that the Peterboro team were notified, regarding the forfeiture, and no reason why they should not play here on Friday night.

Local fans were incensed at the flagrant violation of the rules by the Peterboro Club, though there was no great surprise at the action of the club. Ever since Kingston has been in the O.B.L., there has been more or less trouble with the Peks. Only a couple of years ago Peterboro went down here, as one of the poorest teams to masquerade under the guise of seniors, and their latest action has only served to sour the local fans on Peterboro as a baseball city.

If Peterboro cannot live up to the regulations that they were a party in[illegible]

HOLLOWAY

The Chatterton Woman's Missionary Society held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. John Frederick's with an attendance of eleven members.

Meeting was led by Mrs. Bernard Metz and was opened by singing of Doxology followed by Lord's Prayer in unison. Hymn "Jesus I have Promised" and then the roll call answered by verse of scripture. Minutes read and adopted, reports of treasurer and different secretaries. They decided to hold a quilting at next regular meeting and also to have a dinner at the home of Mrs. John Frost's. After Watch Tower "Faith of Our Father" was sung.

A Stewardship devotion of worship entitled "The Earth is the Lord's" was read responsively. Mrs. Carl led in prayer and Mrs. John Frederick and Mrs. Metz rendered a piano duet.

Mrs. Charlie Vanderwater gave a reading "A real Thank Offering" by one who took part."

TYENDINAGA

A quaint service was held at Rednersville when Bishop Jones were presented to His Lordship, Bishop Seager, Ka-rak-onh-deh (Flying sun); Hayenh Frings, Ochs-ohkonh, tall flowers); Rev. Jack Creggan Deyonhonh-gakeh (Bright Sky); Mr. Isaac Green was master of the ceremonies. The Indians are clothed in three clans, the Tortoise meaning slow but sure; Bear and the Wolf noted as sure, as the natives were given by the elders of each clan. Rev. Dreggan and Rev. Pringle chose the Tortoise, but the Bishop thought he was more like sure as those the Wolf. A dinner was served to the guest. Rev. Canniff Creggan and his three daughters of Gananoque Miss Dickinson of Kenora, Miss Reeder of Kingston were among the guests also Rural Dean and Mrs. Ruddell of Deseronto.

Mrs. Leonard Brand was taken to Belleville hospital on Sunday. She has never recovered from an operation performed some weeks ago.

J. SHEA YIELDED BUT ONE SAFETY

Peterboro Lost To Deloro In Fast Game On Saturday

Peterboro, June 5.—Somewhere in the baseball records there may be cases where a ball team has only made one hit and yet grabbed the verdict, but the Petes found the feat impossible in their afternoon assignment at James Stevenson Park when they were blanked one run to nothing by the batsmiths of Deloro club near enough in the Central loop.

It was about as smart and tight a battle as local fans will see this season.

Shea came as close as a Texas Leaguer from Skinner shortstop's end of achieving that dream that every pitcher, in the majors as well as in the sticks, cherishes—a no-run, no-hit game.

Robes de style and taffeta have always been synonymous, but this season a number of other materials have intruded on the priority rights of taffeta, for Redfern has used soft white crepe satin for a robe de style, in which the skirt is shorter in front and bordered very deeply with many folds of soft, frill-green chiffon and embroidered above the border with crossed bow-of pink and pale green.

"How Much Water Should Baby Get?"

—A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Britton

Baby specialists agree nowadays that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Since an ounce is two ounces of fluid per pound of baby weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day—and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

Adorable little silver mitteins with flower ties at the elbow are a passing fancy in London and suited to a chubby, baby-faced debutante who can emerge successfully with an early Victorian frock, rose wreath and all.

RAILWAY AND CUSTOMS OFFICIALS PLAN TO CURB SMUGGLING RINGS

Stringent Regulations On Car-Load Freight At Border

SECRET PROPOSALS

As A Last Resort Will Unload Cars At Points of Entrance

Buffalo, June 6.— A gentleman's agreement between the railway and customs officials that will further tighten the border against the smuggling of contraband liquor is forecast as the outcome of a conference here yesterday between federal officials and representatives of the Canadian and United States roads.

The conference appointed a committee to formulate plans to make a more effective check up of freight cars entering the border at Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Detroit. The preliminary verbal report indicated that the measures to provide more information on manifests of shipments under seal will was a Conservative M.P. in the British House a by-election must be held in his riding. ACCEPT TENDERS FOR EQUIPMENT

Prof. V. F. Hunt Given Increase As Music Instructor

Last night's meeting of the Board of Education, held in the Chamber of Commerce, was a lame one compared to the many meetings that have been held in the past three weeks. Everything ran along smoothly and there was little opposition to the various motions and resolutions.

Perhaps the most important report that was adopted was that of the Finance Committee appointed to enquire into the furnishings of the new Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. It was moved that the Globe Furniture Company's tender for equipment, at $18,500.70, as the lowest tender received be accepted. Carried.

Moved that the English Electric Company's tender for the gymnasium not be accepted. Carried.

Also moved that the tender for the Brown & Sharpe Milling Machine at $2,850 be received from the Canadian Fairbanks Morse Company be accepted. Carried.

It was recommended that the tender of the International Business Machines for the school clock be accepted, to cost $1,905.

Year's Music Property.

A deputation from the Belleville Conservatory of Music was present at last night's meeting, requesting that an extra piece of land, owned by the Board of Education, on the Dundas street side, was referred to the Sites, Buildings and Repairs Committee.

Various items for the upkeep of the public schools of the city were passed last night. These include:

Painting walls and repairing ... $8.00
Cement walks and fences..... 985
Repairing roofs 800
Improving heating and ventilation 250
Contingencies 200

Total $3,135

Professor V. F. Hunt, instructor of music in the Public Schools of the city will get a small increase this year. It was moved that $720 be placed in the hands of the music committee. This will include a $100 increase for Professor Hunt.

Moved that the question of the seats of the new Collegiate be referred back to the Special Committee.

REBEKAHS HOLD CANADIAN NIGHT

Geo. F. Stewart Outlines Dominion's Great Natural Resources

After the regular meeting of Quinte's Rebekah Lodge No. 133 I.O.O.F. last evening a most enjoyable and instructive programme was given, taking the form of a Canadian Night. The Hollowday St. Church Orchestra was present, and after the short but pleasing address by Sister I. Annan, played "O Canada." Kenneth Munnings sang very effectively "Fair Canada" and received a well merited encore. Sister G. Nultan gave an historical reading followed by the solo "Men of the North" by Mr. J. Andrews. Mr. Geo. Stewart then gave an address on Canada stating that as such a subject would take considerable time he would confine his address to Canada and her natural resources. The members were very attentive to Mr. Stewart's interesting address.

Another solo was sung by Mr. Andrews, reading by Sister Nultan, and selection by the Orchestra.

The programme was then concluded with an original play, "The Provinces of the Dominion Presenting their Respects to Canada."

Sister P. Drew represented Canada and appeared wrapped in the National Flag. The various provinces then entered, each bearing a shield with the name of their respective provinces. Sister E. Kiser represented Prince Edward Island, Sister C. Bunnett, Nova Scotia; Sister L. Mihil, New Brunswick; Sister E. Turner, Quebec; Sister A. Rose, Manitoba; Sister J. Rowsome, Saskatchewan; Sister N. Cooper, Alberta; Sister Hollett, British Columbia, and Sister Daw, Northern Ontario. Sister Daw, Northern Ontario. After all had entered Sister Drew thanked the provinces for their greetings, and all then sang "O Canada", followed by the National Anthem.

The Noble Grand of the Lodge, Sister R. Chesher, expressed thanks to all who had assisted and especially mentioned the wonderful address of Mr. Stewart, and also the vast amount of work done by Sister Annan in arranging the programme.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH PAY ROLL

Robbers Made Off With $65,000 In Detroit Newspaper Building

Detroit, June 5.—Six men armed with sawed-off shot guns held up more than 150 persons in the Detroit News building shortly after 11 a.m. today and escaped in an automobile with the greater part of the newspaper's weekly payroll, the total of which was $65,000. Some of the money was dropped in a dash from the building and during the gun fight in the street in which one bandit was shot, but the greater part of the money was apparently safely wounded.

Leaving their car parked in the front of the newspaper plant the robbers rushed up the stairway to the second floor of the newspaper building and one of them covered 150 or more employees in the business office of the publication while other leaped over the top of the cashier's cage and hurriedly scooped up all the money in sight.

Warning employees to "stand back" the robbers then rushed to the street, leaping into the heavy traffic of Lafayette Blvd., where they were engaged in an exchange of shots with two police officers. More than a dozen shots were fired but none of the bandits were believed wounded.

DENIED USING INSULTING NAME

Mrs. Thomas Clayton Hails Young Lad Into Court

Just how being called a "Fan-Tail" is grossly insulting, has yet to be determined, but Mackenzie Kelly—held that the term was such and convicted a young boy for misnaming Mrs. Thomas Clayton, of this city.

Mrs. Clayton claimed that she was "down the line" the other evening when the lad applied the term to her. The boy in court today promptly stated that he did not say any such thing and brought two witnesses with him to prove his case.

It appears that Mrs. Ada Clayton is called "Fan-Tail" by everybody and that she has been known by this name since time immemorial. Her counsel represents the appellation, but this is the first time that she has brought anybody to court for calling her "fan-tail"

Both Crown Attorney Donnan and counsel for the defence, Charles Hunter, tried to find out the significance of the words, but all to no avail. No one seemed to know why Mrs. Clayton is called "fan- tail," and there doesn't seem to be any hidden, insulting meaning to it.

In pleading his case, Mr. Payne asked the plaintiff "What's wrong in being called "fan-tail? A pigeon is a nice, clean bird, not like a hawk, or like or something. Little boys have in mind being called a pigeon, do you?"

HELD WINNING LOTTERY TICKET

London, June 6—Somebody somewhere is holding a slip of paper worth approximately $1,310,000 by reason of Felstead's Derby victory. This was the first prize in the Calcutta Sweepstakes. The holder of the ticket has not yet been discovered. Flamingo's number—second in the Derby—is held by the Calcutta Syndicate and will pay $655,000 while $325,000 will go to the person holding a ticket on Black Watch, the third horse.

Quebec, June 6.—C. E. Grimes, Cleveland, Ohio, is richer today by more than $29,000 by holding the winning ticket in the lottery conducted by the Quebec branch of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. W. Ballet of Montreal, who had the second horse and wins $9,700.

Wheaton, Ill., June 5.—"Red" Grange the famous footballer and C. C. Pyle are at the parting of the ways. "Red's" father believes the failure of Pyle's Bunion Derby in which Grange was interested was the last straw.

LONG SHOT WINS ENGLISH DERBY

ODDS 33 TO 1

Nearly One Million Spectators Witness Running of Historic Race

Felstead, a rank outsider at 33 to 1, duplicated the feat of his sire, Spion Kop, which, won in 1920, in a leading field of 19 horses over the famous mile and a half course.

Flamingo, quoted at 9 to 2, was second, a length and half behind the winner, while Black Watch, quoted at 33 to 1, was third, six lengths behind Flamingo. And as one of the features of the great English Classic and the world renowned Calcutta Sweepstakes was won by a horse that in the course, some of the spectators having waited 24 hours for favorable positions.

Felstead is a bay colt by Spion Kop, by Spearmint, out of Felsilva, and was before a record crowd of nearly one million spectators who massed on Epsom Downs and it was estimated that the equivalent of $44 $15,000,000 was wagered on the race, including the great Calcutta Sweepstakes.

"Flamingo Is Fresh"

Flamingo, which was the second choice to win, led all the way to Tatten ham Corner, where they were engaged in an exchange of shots with two police officers. More than a dozen shots were fired but none of the bandits were believed wounded.

BODIES OF CREW ARE RECOVERED

Port Arthur, June 5.—The Steamer Champion of the Dominion Towing & Transportation Co. has landed into the harbor last night with the bodies of the five Canadian members of the crew of the ill-fated Canada Steamship Lines freighter Hamilton. The bodies were found Sunday afternoon near Isle Royale where two bodies were found by the crew of the Champion. A woman is believed to be that of Netty Grafton, 25, wife of Superintendent Grafton. The bodies of five sailors have not yet been identified.

SANDE TO RETIRE

Famous American Jockey May Ride On European Tracks

New York, June 6—His health impaired by the task of taking off weight, Earl Sande, one of the greatest American jockeys, will probably retire at the end of the present racing season. He may ride in Europe where Jockeys' weights are higher.

BEREAVEMENT IN TUMMON FAMILY

Mother of Local Member Passed Away After Brief Illness

Word was received in the city today of the death of Hannah Tummon, mother of Mr. W. E. Tummon, member of Parliament for South Hastings, following a brief illness at her late home at Crookston Huntington Township.

Mrs. Tummon was well and favorably known throughout this district and her demise will be regretted by a host of friends. She was a daughter of the late John and Mary Francis, was born in Huntington township on August 8th, 1851, and has resided there all her locally practically all her life. On March 19th, 1884, she was married to William Tummon of the same township and six children were born of this union, Mrs. Louis Hall, of the late Mrs. J. B. Blue, of Crookston; William Ernest, of Mary Ethel, who died in 1925; Mathew Percy, of Toronto; Lena, wife of H. McCreary, Latta; and Clayton, on the homestead. She is also survived by four brothers and one sister, Mrs. R. Graham, of Coleraine; George Francis, of Tweed; Robert, of Belleville; Thomas of Stirling; and William of Keene. Thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive. Her husband predeceased her on November 14th, 1899.

The late Mrs. Tummon was of a retiring nature. Her family and her home were her chief concern, yet always kind and active in assisting in everything that pertained to the welfare of the community. In her younger years she was a very active part in Church work, being a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, now the United Church.

At the time of her marriage, she and her husband settled on the farm, where she has always lived, 5th concession of the Township of Huntingdon. It was then a forest and out of the forest hewed and made what is today a comfortable home.

Up until a few weeks ago, she enjoyed good health, but a general breaking down of the constitution followed by an attack of heart trouble pressure, was the cause of her death.

FORMER MEMBERS ARE OFFICIALLY SWORN IN

Vancouver, June 6—Dougald Donaghy former member of the House of Commons for Victoria, B.C., and Captain Ian Mackenzie, Liberal member of the legislature for Vancouver City, were sworn in as members of the Council of the British Columbia Government, the former as minister of Pensions and Industries and the latter as Provincial Secretary.

FRUIT DEALER IS BITTEN BY SPIDER

Kingston, June 6—While handling a large bunch of bananas today, W. H. Carscovsky, fruit dealer, was bitten on the finger by a Brazilian spider. He immediately secured medical attention. At the point he was bitten began to swell from the poisonous bite. Mr. Carscovsky has the tarantula bottled as a souvenir.

AMULET CHIEF FEATURE TODAY

Teck Hughes, Malartic And Sudbury Basin Also Active

The activity today was confined mainly to just a few stocks with Amulet and Noranda in the lead easily. Amulet had the most consistent short selling drive. In both cases they have mistaken the importance of the find and Noranda at depth, which means a very great deal to the Rouyn stocks generally. Amulet was extremely active again at $4.30; it sold up to $4.40 off to $4.10 again and closed without change from yesterday at $4.30. Teck, Malartic, Sherritt and Siddorn Blain were very active all day, but with practically no price change. Fend Oreille gave rather an odd display today, opening at $18.60; it sold up to $18.75 then dipped to $15 asked. This, however, brought in lots of buying and it recovered to $15.50. Closing quotations by Homer L. Dillon & Co., Ltd., per Jamieson Bone, manager, were as follows:

Abana 7.00; Amity 72; Amulet 4.30; Area 34; Bathurst 24 1-2; Bedford 34; Bidgood 88; Barry Hollinger 81; Central Manitoba 1.31; Dome Mines Treadwell 50; Crown Reserve 47 1-2; Dome 9.10; Dunnage 22; Hollinger 14.00; Howey 82; Hudsons Bay 17.65; International Nickel $6.50; Jackson Manion 86; Kirkland Lake 1.70; Kerr Addison 26.50; Macassa 34; Mandy 2.70; Malartic 1.55; Mining Corp. 2.50; Northern Extension 1.31; Noranda 44.00; Pickle Crow 45; Pend Oreille 15.50; Pioneer 50; Preston East Dome 1.00; Sherritt Gordon 9.10; Sudbury Basin 9.10; Tough Oakes 28; Treadwell Yukon 39.00; Towagamac 3.40; Teck Hughes 10.35; Vipond 55; Wright Hargreaves 4.25.

ARE CHARGED WITH A SERIOUS OFFENCE

After being previously remanded, Peter Murray and Mrs. Viola Robertson appeared again before Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning charged with a serious offence. That of contributing to the deliquency of children.

Murray has eleven children of his own, and he and his little ones live in the same house as Mrs. Robertson, just inside the city limits. Mrs. Robertson is a grass-widow.

The case has to be laid over for a time as Provincial Officer Slyvester Bell, summoned as a witness, has not had all the information on the case.

City Will Parley With W. C. Springer On Building Permit

All fears that the Argyll Band might be disbanded with the loss of its regular bandmaster Mr. Zealley were dispelled last night when Chas. Hanna Manager of the Citizens' Band approached the City Council with the proposal that the City make a grant not to exceed $125 per month toward the salary of the band leader for the balance of the year. Without one dissenting voice the City Fathers were ready in favor of the proposal but the guarantee was given on the understanding that the City be given eight free band concerts on the City Parks during the months of July and August. Mr. Hanna stated that the Band Committee will receive a salary of $2000 a year and the band feel that they can raise $500 themselves. Any money actually earned by Mr. Zealley from other sources will be deducted from the $125 Councils Guarantee and his share for parades, outside concerts, etc., will also be deducted from it. He is not likely to be obliged to pay the $125 each month, as Mr. Hanna has already promised to keep it down to the minimum.

The request of the Belleville City Baseball League for assistance in repairing the grounds at the Marine Plant on Bleecker Avenue was heard and the Council gave the Chairman of Public Works and the City Engineer permission to use two teams in levelling off the grounds. This is the only baseball ground on the East end of the city and will be used by the City League which was organized last night.

Ald. Reid was quizzed as a previous meeting included one for $16.80 for Sergeant of the City Police Court Camp and the City Hall. City Engineer Murphy explained it was his fee from the W. J. Oliphant Co., Toronto.

Ald. Reid—"I am opposed to paying that account as City Engineer Campbell took it upon his shoulders to pair chaos in connection with asking for tenders from the merchants of this city who can supply the material."

Ald. Reid finally stated that the Chairman of Market and City Property as well as the Tourist Chairman did not O.K. the account until after, "The men who are paying the taxes should be given a chance to tender on City material," said Ald. Reid.

Ald. Thos. Pilech emphasized the situation when he said that Alderman Wotten was called on the telephone by the City Engineer asking for supplies so fore it was purchased.

Ald. Reid—"It is too trivial ,et to pay it and get it out of the way."

Ald. Reid—"It can be purchased in Belleville, then why go to Toronto?"

A vote was taken and Ald. Reid was the only one opposed to paying the account.

FORWARD LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

The City Council at last night's meeting unanimously passed a resolution of condolence to Mrs. (Col.) Harvie Mark, wife of the late Col. Mark, ex-Mayor of the City of Belleville, who died suddenly on Monday. The following letter of condolence will be despatched to the bereaved family: "That the Mayor and members of the Corporation of the City of Belleville in regular session this 5th day of June most sincerely tender to Mrs. Marsh and family our profound and heartfelt sympathy in the irreparable loss sustained through the sudden death of Col. Lorne W. Marsh, a loving husband and an honored citizen father, a distinguished and highly respected citizen and a former deserving Mayor of this city." A copy of the resolution which was proposed by Ald. Wright will be forwarded to Mrs. Marsh.

EXAGGERATED REPORTS OF BANDITS' HAULS

Some people must have a great deal of wealth in their pockets or on their persons.

Bandits in Indianapolis raided a country club where there were 300 guests attending a ball, and reports state that they lined the merry-makers up against the wall and proceeded to take their money and jewelry, the estimated loot being between $100,000 and $150,000.

If the robbers got the lesser amount it would mean that on an average they would have to take $500 from each person; if the loot really amounted to $150,000, why each person there must have been able to put up $700 in cash or its equivalent in valuables.

Judged by what the average man in this part of the country generally has in his pockets, or on his person, the figure seems to be ridiculously high. It may have been the rings and other articles the ladies were wearing that made up the high figure.

We have a notion that some of these figures given out regarding the amounts taken in such cases would stand quite a stiff downward revision.

APPLES FROM NEW ZEALAND SELL CHEAP

Dairy products from New Zealand enter Canada and are sold at prices lower than the standard prices for Canadian butter and cheese. And now the fruit-growers of the sister-Dominion are invading Canada. Ten thousand boxes of New Zealand apples arrived within this week and are being distributed in the Maritime provinces and further west. It is reported that there is a ready sale for them.

Nova Scotia boasts of the 'Annapolis valley, one of the great apple-growing districts of this continent. The province produced two million barrels of apples last year. And the past thousands of boxes of New Zealand apples, shipped over thousands of miles of ocean, are readily sold in Nova Scotia because the price is favorable. Probably they will be sold in Hamilton before long, because the wholesale dealer who imported this first consignment said the experiment had been so successful that the business would be continued and extended.

So here is a problem for our Ontario and national research boards to tackle—how is it that dairy products and apples produced in far-off New Zealand can be transported over many thousands of miles of ocean to Canada where dairy products and apples are produced in abundance for export and sold here at prices lower than those charged for the domestic products? It would be worth while to know that.

TURNING TABLES ON CARELESS ONES

The railway companies are turning the tables on careless motorists, and pedestrians also. Those responsible for safety on the lines have become tired of being sued by motorists who are themselves at fault, and are beginning to adopt counter-measures. In some recent cases, when the courts have been appealed to by those injured in collisions, the railways have brought counter-claims on the ground of culpable negligence. Motorists are not exonerated from blame if they fail to take necessary precautions in approaching level crossings. They are expected to use their eyes and ears and to adopt all reasonable measures to ensure their own safety. If accidents occur, and it can be proved that the motorist did not take due care, he must be prepared to take the consequences. A despatch from Cannonque reports the intention of the general manager of the C. N. R. system at that point to prosecute all trespassers on the tracks. Fatal accidents have been caused by the practice of pedestrians of using tracks as a footpath, and the company is determined to put a stop to it. It will also vigorously deal with offenders in future who abuse their privilege as automobile drivers. Recently a long line of cars crossed the track, regardless of the approach of a train, which was forced to come to a halt till the procession of motors had passed. The latter disregard shown to railway signals and warnings is unnerving railway officials, runs the despatch, 'and the company has decided to adopt drastic measures to protect its own as well as that part of the travelling public which shows no inclination to protect itself.' This is not merely a local condition. It should be noted, for the abuses complained of are becoming general, and it is certain that, in their own interests, the railway companies will be compelled to adopt more drastic measures to check the menace.

FRED JACOB HAS ACCOMPLISHED MUCH

A startlingly sudden death this morning of Fred Jacob of the Toronto Mail and Empire on Saturday night will be more of a shock to his comrades of the newspaper press than to others less intimate with him. But the public has begun to know him by his work as a writer of books as well as through the pages of his newspaper. He had excellent judgment as a literary and dramatic critic, and his minted expressions were highly esteemed. His volume of short plays in which he propounded a new idea in dramatic composition, should preserve his name, and there are two novels and some verse to his credit. He was interested in sport and his association with St. Simon's Anglican church gave him an opportunity to be a leader among the young men on the Lakeside field. Altogether he lived a well-rounded life, and though cut short at 46, it was a life full of accomplishment.

McDONALD'S COMPLAINT REGARDING TORONTO

Mr. Wilson MacDonald's complaint that Toronto is an unfriendly city for poets need not be taken as the verdict of all poets. There are other Canadian singers who appear to find the place very tolerable. The dean of them all has taken up residence there and the Poetry Society which Mr. MacDonald himself founded still flourishes there with a goodly company of the craft in its membership. One is reminded of Touchstone's complaint in 'As You Like It,' when Corvo asks him how he likes the shepherd's life.

'Truly, shepherd, in respect of itself, it-is a good life; but in respect that it is a shepherd's life, it is naught. In respect that it is solitary, I like it very well; but in respect that it is private it is a very vile life. Now in respect it is in the fields, it pleaseth me well; but in respect it is not in the court, it is tedious. As it is a spare life, look you, it fits my humour well; but as there is no more plenty in it, it goes much against my stomach.'

Corin himself had more felicity in his philosophy, and it is a good philosophy for anyone.

'Sir, I am a true laborer: I earn that I eat, get that I wear; owe no man hate, envy no man's happiness; glad of other men's good, content with my harm: and the greatest of my pride is to see my ewes graze and my lambs suck.'

The poets and the shepherd's were never far apart. Perhaps Mr. MacDonald has left the pastoral life too far out of his consideration.

Just Stories

Of Ward Hunt, a Disraeli administration Chancellor of the Exchequer, it is told that on rising to deliver the budget he reached for his despatch box and discovered that the documents had apparently disappeared. The pressure of preparation of his budget speech had bothered the chancellor, and he had left the indispensable documents at the Treasury. The House waited in good humor. Mr. Gladstone, strong man generally and physically that he was, found budget speeches difficult. Lloyd George, in the famous budget speech of 1909, lost his voice. Earl Balfour then moved an adjournment until recovery.

Admiral William Cornwallis, who occupied a high command during the Napoleonic wars, was known in the Navy as 'Billy Blue.' The title became he drank very little. Afterwards, as "Billy Blue," he received the thanks of Parliament for a famous action. With seven ships he met thirty French men-o'-warsmen and gave them such a warm time that they sheered off.

Magistrate Mead of London (Eng.) fined one Dr. Corcoran 2 pounds for spraying John Bull with ethyl chloride from a syringe. Defendant's lawyer admitted it was an ill-timed practical joke, but, like the fluid, harmless. "I suggest," added the lawyer, "that it was one of those irresistible impulses you feel when you sit in the theatre at the back of some person and you have the impulse to pinch the back of the person's neck. I dare say you the magistrate have experienced that impulse. I have experienced it."—Mr. Mead (the magistrate): "I have given Mr. Dad the sense of humor." "It is experienced more especially by the juvenile members of the community" rejoined the limb of the law.

The Long Look
ONE of life's greatest problems was solved when business men carried over into domestic life the "long look"—the practice of looking and planning ahead, which has proven the secret of every successful business enterprise.
The college days ahead, clearing off the mortgage, the home, comforts for the sunset years of life—all can be planned with definite assurance of happy consummation.
Such is the great contribution of modern life insurance! And London Life policies on the "reduced premium" idea are built for the purse of the average family man.
For example, a man age 30 can purchase $10,000 life insurance on the famous Jubilee plan for $3.52 a week (payable annually) and subject to reduction by dividends. Your premiums when reduced by dividends could never total the amount of this policy; yet all the while the cash value is steadily mounting and the protection is always there. BOOKLET IS OF GREAT INTEREST
To Flower Growers; Blooming Season Has Arrived At Last
With the approach of the blooming season for such bulbs as tulips, narcissus, and hyacinth, the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has issued a timely bulletin entitled 'Some Flowering Bulbs'. The bulletin is from the pen of Mr. E. M. Straight, the Superintendent of the Experimental Station for Vancouver Island, who has been making a detailed study of bulb production in Canada. Pacific Coast nurserymen have taken up the growing of bulbs that we have been in the habit of importing in very large quantities, particularly from Holland, each year. Before pronouncing on the value of the Canadian grown bulbs as compared with European stock, practically all of the Experimental Farms and Stations were supplied with stocks derived from the home and foreign fields. Each Station was asked to grow the bulbs and compare them for size, yield, vigour, quality of bloom and such other points as would bring out the merits of the Canadian bulb. The results at the end of a year's experience have shown Canadian grown bulbs to equal in all respects the imported stock, and in most cases superior to it. Expressed in percentage terms many of the reports show Canadian bulbs to have been from 25 to 100 per cent stronger and better than the European bulbs. The bulletin gives the history of the different kinds classified, describes their propagation, gives advice on the culture, and describes large numbers of varieties. The bulletin, which is number 95 and is obtainable from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, contains a section on the common bulb diseases by Mr. F. L. Drayton, Plant Pathologist at the Central Experiments Farm at Ottawa.
There is a certain blue electric bulb that comes just for kitchen lighting. Many housewives find this a far better light under which to cook than the ordinary white bulb.

BROWN—MATHISON

Havelock, June 4.—Rev. Hugh Brown, of Toronto, and Esther Jane Mathison, of Havelock, were united in the bonds of matrimony at the Presbyterian Manse, Beamsville, on Monday, May 28, at noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Lennox. After a sumptuous dinner, the happy couple left for Havelock where they will reside.

FOOTE—COLE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Parsonage of the United Church of Canniton on Saturday, June 2nd, 1928, by Rev. E. Farnsworth, when John Carlyle Foote, of Oshawa, was united in Holy Matrimony to Mabel Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cole, of Thurlow. They were attended by Mr. Arthur Miller, of Canniton, and Miss Merle Wannamaker, of West Huntington.

O'SHEA—LABERGE
LABERGE—KEHOE

An interesting double wedding took place at St. Michael's Church yesterday morning when Miss Sarah Anne LaBerge, daughter of Mrs. J. LaBerge of this city became the bride of Mr. Thomas O'Shea of Belleville, son of Mrs. P. J. O'Shea of Toronto, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Kehoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kehoe of Read, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Francis LaBerge of this city. The ceremonies were performed by the Reverend Father Kinlin.

Miss LaBerge wore a wedding gown of white georgette and lace with hat to match and Miss Kehoe wore a becoming frock of white georgette with crystal beading.

Mrs. James Grant played the wedding march and Miss Gladys Bryce sang "O Salutaris" during the offertory and at the signing of the register, "Gnidi."

Following the ceremony a reception

BABY BAND ARE GUESTS W. M. S.

Unique Meeting Is Held In Bridge Street Parlors

A unique meeting was held on Friday June 1st, in Bridge St. Church lecture room when the members of the Baby Band, with their mothers, were guests of the W.M.S. After the opening exercises a brief business meeting was held, as the Auxiliary does not meet again until the first Friday in September. Arrangements were made about supplies to be sent to hospitals and missions, in our own land. Mrs. Pearce thy Treasurer announced to the Auxiliary that a legacy of $1,500.00 from the estate of the late Mrs. M. H. Robbin had been left to the Auxiliary.

Mrs. O. R. Thompson then took charge of the meeting, her group being in charge of this department. Mrs. Hyde read a Scripture selection and Mrs. Colby a poem "Home."

Mrs. Anderson, who has spent some years in China in Mission work, told about child life in China using miniature figures dressed true to type, to illustrate women and children. Instead of girls, lead a very different life from our own. The betrothal and early marriage of girls often as young as three, is not conducive to happiness as immediately the girl is betrothed she becomes a member of the household of her future husband and is virtually a slave until her marriage.

Mrs. Plakie read a leaflet " What it means to belong to the Baby Band" Several of the children sang songs and recited poems. Mrs. Bishop delighted those present by her vivid and appealing recital of the legend of the Black Madonna. Tea and a social hour followed.

WEDDING

was held at the home of Mrs. LaBerger, North Front Street, where about forty guests assembled, for the reception the bridal parties left by motor on a wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls. On their return they will make their homes in Belleville.

The young couples were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts and during the day letters and telegrams of congratulation poured in.

Among the out of town guests present for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Shea of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Shea of Oakville and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rhodin of Detroit.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

W. H. GILL

W. H. Gill, a well-known resident of Trenton, Ontario, and an employee of Government Liquor Commission in that town, passed away today in his 70th year. Mr. Gill leaves to mourn his loss three children.

HON. C. W. CROSS

Calgary, Alta., June 6 (C.P.)—Hon. Charles Wilson Cross, K.C., 58, of Edmonton, the Minister of Municipal of Alberta, and as a Liberal a prominent figure in Alberta political life for many years, died in a Calgary hospital today. On his way home from coast he had arrived in the city earlier in the week. On Friday he was taken ill with heart trouble and did not recover. His wife was with him at the end.

Mr. Cross was last in the political limelight in 1925 and 1926, when he contested Athabasca for a seat in the House of Commons. In the general election of 1925 he was successful, and held a seat in the House until the dissolution of that Parliament by the following year. In 1926 he was defeated by F. Lymburn, K.C.

On May 4, 1913, Mr. Cross was made a King's Counsel, and taken into the Union Ministry as Minister Municipal.

On May 27 he was re-elected after accepting office. From that time until August 23, 1918, when he retired from the Cabinet, he held the position of Attorney-General.

Mr. Cross was born in Madoc, Hastings County, Ontario, on November 30, 1873, of Scottish ancestry. His father, Thomas Cross, was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, while his mother, who before her marriage was Miss Maria Mounsey, was born in Canada of Scottish parentage. Thomas Cross was a prominent merchant of Madoc and a leading man in the life of that community.

WHY NOT DEVELOP THE CULTURAL SIDE?

By Dr. LOUIS E. BISCH, "The Business Psychologist."

Are we, in America, perhaps stressing the mighty the utilitarian side of education?

Are we thinking too much how best we can sell in the world's market what we have learned and paid for at such schools that subsist?

Are we losing sight of the less tangible benefits to be derived from cultural pursuits?

I sincerely we must answer the foregoing questions in the affirmative.

America doesn't need more business men so much as she needs better citizens.

She doesn't need practical men of affairs as much as she needs scholars.

In our hustle and bustle after success we often lose sight of the man himself, yet if the soul of the man be enriched by leisure and culture his success in his necessary and chosen occupation will be all the more easily won.

America, great as she is, has still to learn how to live.

Now then, the schools are the places where such viewpoints can be inculcated into youthful minds.

They say you cannot teach an old dog new tricks. But you can a puppy.

Unfortunately, our teachers too often don't know how to live themselves, hence they cannot teach perfect, effective living to others.

Teachers must have enthusiasm for their work. They must teach not only books, and the three R's but manners, conventions and morals as well.

The teaching of music and drawing, are not frills and fads. They are of fundamental importance in character building and emotional development.

The home, too, has its duties to perform in helping to make our growing boys, and girls more refined and cultured.

Parents must not leave such things for the schools to do. They must not shirk responsibility.

Find outlets for your emotions as well as theirs in the better books, the better plays, the better music, etc.

We all have to make a living and it is right and proper that we should try to make the very best living we can.

Nevertheless, if we pay more heed to culture, to the lessons of right living, we prosper even more materially.

America is still a young nation. It still has many lessons to learn.

Build yourself culturally and build your children and the same time. The benefits, to all concerned are incalculable.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of eighteen years of age and am considered sweet natured and good-looking.

There is a young man who calls at my home every evening in spite of me telling him not to come but two or three times a week. He is careless and hap-hazard in his manner and his dress. He seems to think a lot of me.

He is depriving me of any pleasure with other boy friends unless I meet them away from home. They seem to think they are intruding and they will not take me away, as they say this would cost me money. The others have come before I knew him, but are 'dropping off' gradually. What shall I do? CURLY.

CURLY: I think your friend is very rude. Curly, and surely you can make him realize that he is to come to your home only when invited to do so. I cannot see how you can permit him to make himself such a constant guest and drive you to the extremity of severing your offer friends away from home! Tell him that unless he ceases to annoy you in this manner you will see him at all and convince him of your sincerity. I am surprised that your mother doesn't object to his behavior.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of fifteen. I am going with a young man whom I do not love at all. He is twenty-two years of age. I am forced to go with him. My mother says if I don't go with him I cannot go with anyone at all. I am in love with a young man about seventeen years of age, but my mother will not let me go with him. He knows that my mother does not like him, but he says it doesn't have any effect on his love for me. Please tell me what to do.

LONESOME LOU.

LONESOME LOU: I quite agree with your mother; you are young to be having dates. And surely you yourself, must realize that you are much too young to be at all concerned about love. I would suggest that you have a talk with your mother and learn what her objections are to the lad you mention. Perhaps she objects merely because you seem to be so seriously concerned about him. And if you do not like the other boy, don't go with him. You are very young, and have plenty of time to bother about dates later on. In any event, be guided by your mother's advice. She has your interest at heart, and I am sure you will be happier if you do as she thinks best.

Uneven Hem Achieved
By Long Straight Jabot

ANYETTE does not play bridge yet she is always tired and wishes she does. She relieves her hostess from a load of responsibility for her bridge with always assures the guests of an enjoyable afternoon. And her cleverness is not limited to conversation as one can quickly judge from her smart frock. It is really modest about it such a well-dressed person is welcomed as an honor guest at so many parties. As usual, her figure seems to strike the correct note of manliness, making its wearer an object of interest and a glad sight to the eye. Made of soft crepe satin, her dress is trimmed by a long jabot of the last named from the left shoulder to below the hemline of the skirt. Inverted tucks at the waistline form the belt and achieve a snug hipline and slim silhouette. Long tight sleeves, tucks at the shoulders and a simple round neckline complete an chic afternoon frock as ever graced a bridge-table. The dress is equally becoming made in georgette, crepe or crepe de Chine.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 21.

IN SEARCH OF A HUSBAND

In her letters to Annesley, Celia had mentioned the thoughtfulness of an occasional gift of candy, flowers, or fruit, to impress her mother with the devotion of this absent husband, and she had sent him drafts to cover the expenditures.

She had been gratified to see how happy these supposed love-tokens made her mother; and she knew, furthermore, how quickly Miss Page spread the news of their arrival among the neighbors.

On the morning following her mother's expressed wish that her son-in-law come for a visit, Celia received a magnificent bouquet of roses. In the box was a sealed note, addressed in Annesley's hand. She opened it and read:

"May I be permitted to offer occasionally the tangible evidence of an inspiration of my own, in the name of friendship?"

She held the roses against her face, inhaling their fragrance. Her heart was warm with gratitude for the friend she had found under such curious circumstances in a world that, for the moment, had been untkind to her.

She took the roses to her mother.

"Did he say when he was coming to see us?" the invalid asked eagerly.

Celia's heart sank. She had hoped that the request of the day before had been only a whim on her mother's part and that she would forget it.

"Soon," she promised desperately. "But you must remember, darling, that Dick is a very busy man. He works hard and conscientiously."

Her mother sighed, disappointment mirrored in her eyes.

"If he waits long, it may be too late," she murmured pathetically.

Celia knelt beside the bed and put her arms around her mother's frail shoulders.

"Don't you dare to talk like that! I'd die if anything happened to you, Mother; you are young to be having Dick legally, and surely you yourself, must realize that you are much too young to be at all concerned about love. I would suggest that you have a talk with your mother and learn what her objections are to the lad you mention. Perhaps she objects merely because you seem to be so seriously concerned about him. And if you do not like the other boy, don't go with him. You are very young, and have plenty of time to bother about dates later on. In any event, be guided by your mother's advice. She has your interest at heart, and I am sure you will be happier if you do as she thinks best.

husband on earth could mean what you mean to me."

She went down-stairs more than ever troubled. What was she going to do about this non-existent husband whom her mother demanded to see?

She was torn between two conflicting desires — the desire to make her mother happy, and the longing to be with Harrington know that she was free to marry again.

"Where is your bride?" she asked herself despairingly. "Do you mean that you'd marry Tom, after the way he treated you?"

Her heart answered for her, and she realized that her love was stronger than her pride.

She "wrote to Annesley, thanking him for the roses and saying:

"You were kind, but you must not do that again. I have already demanded too much of you. Nevertheless, for my mother's sake, I am enclosing another letter for you to send. I blush for it, but I'll explain that it was not I who wrote it. I have a friend whose sense of humor is irrepressible, and it amuses her to dictate such mawkish sentiment, just to embarrass me."

Annesley's reply was: "I read and copied your enclosed letter with appreciation. But I'll confess I was relieved to learn its source. I had believed that you were, perhaps, copying a real love-letter sent you by one of your suitors. And call me a jealous and exacting friend, if you like, but, somehow, that idea didn't please me."

She laughed and tore up the letter, mindful of the spring eyes of Miss Page. Later she was thankful she had done so, for she found the woman in the kitchen, carefully going over the contents of a waste-basket that the maid had just emptied.

Miss Page had the grace to blush, but she was quick with an excuse.

"I accidentally threw out a letter I very much want to keep, and I'm trying to locate it in the trash . . . Isn't it funny, Mrs. Palomer, how we women always destroy the wrong thing when we go in for a burst of economy?"

Th'e voice was so sweet, the eyes so guileless.

"It is!" said Celia dryly, and left the kitchen, much disturbed. Had the girl done this before; and had she, by bit by bit, Annesley's real communications to herself?

Day after day, the invalid fretfully asked when her son-in-law would arrive. The doctor looked grave when he made his visits, and he said to Celia:

"Something is troubling her. Do you know what it is? If you do, make every effort to correct it, because her condition is precarious just now."

In desperation, Celia appealed to Gwen.

"What on earth am I going to do?" Gwen shrugged.

"Simple, my dear. Your nice Mr. Annesley has 'posed as your husband long enough . . . Ask him to pose in person, for a day or two."

The difference between Kotex and other sanitary pads

Kotex is utterly different from all other sanitary pads. There is no other "like" Kotex.

Thus Kotex has the amazing power of absorbing 16 times its own weight in moisture! Thus Kotex has 5 times the absorbency of the ordinary cotton-filled pad! Think what this means in protection.

Discards like tissue—No disposal problem

One uses Kotex, then discards it—as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry. No problem of disposal. Think, too, what this means.

Another factor is that Kotex deodorizes thoroughly and absolutely as it acts. Which banishes another old-time fear of women.

Accept this offer

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

When washing a woolen jumper at home, there is always the risk of spoiling the shape during the drying process. If the coat is hung on a long stick, the full length of the sleeves outstretched and tied to the line, this risk will be overcome, and

It is a long, long time since organdy, linen, pique and other lingerie fabrics were so salient a part of smart frocks and coats, but black taffeta with white organdy or pique is a favorite combination of Paris couturiers today just as it was in the Mauve Decade, and so is black moire with white trimmings, black satin, black crepe de chine, or what will you.

NEPTUNE IN MODERN GARB VIEWS QUEBEC

Now that Shakespearean productions are staged in plus fours, evening clothes and khaki there does not appear to be any solid objection against Father Neptune discarding his traditional garb of seaweed in favor of seaboots and sailor togs, and the Canadian National Railways photographer recently found the son of Saturn and Ops gracefully lounging in Quebec City as depicted above. It will be noted that the old gentleman retains trident and helm but has adopted a modern steering wheel in place of horse and dolphin. This particular effigy may be found on Mountain Hill and appears to replace one which up to 1850 had place of honor over the entrance to the "Old Neptune Inn" then a noted coffee house in St. Peter Street frequented by sailing men. Time was when carved wooden figures frequently graced hostelries and commercial establishments in Quebec and Montreal but only a scant few have withstood the advancing years.

KIWANIS LEARNS CHINA SITUATION

School Medal Wearers Show Fine Singing Ability

Kiwanian Dr. Roy Anderson, recently returned from a seven years' stay in China, this afternoon gave Kiwanians an interesting insight into the Chinese situation, the people and the country itself. The speaker served as a missionary in Western China and in his brief talk this afternoon, he dealt particularly with that part of the country.

Civil warfare in China, Dr. Anderson pointed out, which is practically continuous, is the direct result of the military system of government, the military heads of the various provinces acting each in his own interest, and constantly striving to increase his territory-preamble, of course, levying heavy taxes on the citizens; this situation makes for constant strife.

Students of the public schools who were successful in carrying off the Kiwanis medals for singing in the recent competitions today gave a demonstration of their ability under the direction of Professor V. P. Hunt. Those taking part were Marjorie Hall, Evelyn Wickett, Margaret Turnbull, Helen Findlay, Harold Carruthers, Charlie Thomas, Raymond Lenfest, and Arthur Wynne.

Guests of the Club today were, Messrs. Mott, Simpkins and Fredericks, R. Sheridan of Toronto; Mr. H. Hutchinson of Calgary, Douglas Anglin and Thomas Angrove of Kingston, Art Allen, President of the Lindsay Club and Messrs. McLennan and Whitten.

Fred LaPalm and Dave Martin were introduced into the Club as its newest members.

questioned Mayor Duff as to what working agreement existed between the town of Picton and the City of Belleville in regard to the City Engineer's department. Mr. Worship replied that there was none to his knowledge. Ald. Reid then asked what agreement existed between the City of Belleville and the Standard Paving Co. to this effect. Mayor Duff replied in the negative.

"Why then," asked Ald Reid, "Was City Engineer Campbell in Picton last Saturday afternoon." "Are plans being prepared in the City Engineer's office for other concerns or what "

City Engineer Campbell was in the Council Chamber and admitted having been in Picton, having left at 3.30 when the local office was closed. He was making a survey for a private Company.

Ald. Reid—"The City Engineer informed me at a previous meeting that he gave his undivided attention to the City."

City Engineer—"I stated that I did not allow any outside work to interfere with my work as City Engineer.

Ald. Payne—"I do not think Ald. Reid has any right to ask the City Engineer such a pointed question.

Ald. French—"He has a perfect right to go to Picton on his own time."

Alm. Payne—"I think he should be commended for being so industrious."

This ended the discussion on this matter.

Riding On Sidewalks

Ald. Tice stated that complaints had been received him about vehicles riding bicycles on the sidewalks and especially in the footbridge gangway. "Two citizens have been knocked down and one of them seriously injured by a bicycle and this practice should be stopped," said Ald. Tice.

Mayor Duff—"This matter will be taken up with the police at the police and the Chief will be asked to make this bylaw."

Ald. Rollins made inquiries regarding King Street near the Springer Rock Company. Mr. Springer is going ahead with building and the grade has not yet been decided but it may be played as part of a double-header later in the season. This is the first postponement made necessary on account of rain in this city this year. Belleville has a further game scheduled until next Wednesday when they play in Kingston. Kingston was scheduled to play in Oshawa today but that game was also called off.

TENNIS TOURNEY

Members of the Tennis Clubs of Campbellford, Madoc, Tweed, Picton and Belleville who will meet this year in the Tuttonian Tennis League held a Tournament yesterday afternoon which was a great success. Two Tweed Doubles from each club and three men's doubles from each club participated in a round robin, although which team won out is still in doubt. After play was adjourned, a meeting of each Club's representatives was held, to add a schedule for the year drawn up. The Bay of Quinte Tennis Club is now entered in two leagues, the Central Ontario Tennis League, which is affiliated with the Ontario Lawn Tennis Association and in the Tuttonian Tennis League, thus insuring those who join the Club of plenty of Tournament play this season.

Groom 75 And Bride 68 Forced To Postpone Ceremony

When Dan Cupid shoots his arrows no one knows where they will land. Head of all the prospective targets, and when they wait till the bride groom is 75 years of age and the bride is 68, and the groom has been married twice and every caretaker all his life, and the bride, who was also a bride fifty years ago, and is the mother of thirteen children, then it is time to think seriously of the step they are taking.

The above describes the case of J. J. Moore, 37 Port Hope, and his would-be bride, Mrs. Willoughby, also of Port Hope. The happy but elusive couple have been "keeping company" for over a year, and thought that they might as well be married now as later. Wishing to avoid any fuss they caught a train with no worry to Cobourg, and proceeded to secure a license and be married right away. Due to the rather stringent laws of Ontario, however, they found that they would have to wait for three full days before they could get the license. This put a different face on the matter, and the joy and thrill of an elopement had to be "postponed" for three days—at least couple decided to return to Port Hope and await the termination of the three days' wait, being married there instead of in Belleville.

ALDERSON WAS PROUD OF DEAD

Thought Great Deal of The 1st Canadian Division Especially

Vancouver, B. C.—(By C. P.)—How late Sir Edwin Alderson regarded the 1st Canadian Division which he commanded in France and Flanders is revealed in a touching letter received by Rev. G. O. Fallis from the widow. She writes to thank him for arranging the memorial service held at Cataraqui Memorial Church, and the minister thinks it will be of interest to many of the 1st Division who live here.

Under date of April 10, Lady Alderson writes from London as follows:

"Dear Mr. Fallis—Thank you very much, I hope before this, have received my telegram of April 2, after receiving the letter from the war office on March 31—too late to cable then.

"I am most deeply touched and pleased by all you have done to keep the memory of your British general—my husband and Flanders's—and thank you all from the bottom of my very sorrowful heart. You will know how greatly I appreciate the choice of the memorial service for him in your Memorial Church—and the beautifully appropriate service—especially touching that singing of the dear hymns by the blinded soldier—and its organization represents the present government and city, and its committee of framework was already up.

"Ald. Payne—Let us show him there is a law superior to himself; he can't pick us like one of his employees, he literally broke he law now why not curb him?"

Will Visit Mr. Springer

Mayor Duff proposed that the original Committee acting in the matter together with the City Engineer should visit Mr. Springer with a hope of reaching some mutual agreement.

Ald. Payne—He is getting the land gratis what does he want to do, dictate his own arrangements as well?"

City Engineer—Now is the time to do the sewer work and we want to get at it.' 'The sewer will be through the part of the city's property and part through land owned by Mr. Springer.

Ald. Payne—Any idea is Ch ll it the height of ingratitude to try and dictate to this Council the manner in which he was treated.'

Ald. Reid—It's just a technicality and I think the matter could be easily adjusted. Mr. Springer objects to one or two words. Mr. Springer will meet us half-way in the matter.'

It was finally decided that a Committee should interview Mr. Springer.

Ald. Walker—Is the light at the corner according to Provincial regulations?'

City Engineer Campbell stated that it was not, and a little leeway had been allowed in the matter. Cars coming through, the tops of which often barely cleared the light. Ald. Walker stated that complaints had been registered that it was too high.'

It was the opinion of the Council that the light is at the proper height.

The Mayor and Clerk have been authorized to sign and affix the corporate seal to the agreement between the Canadian National Railways and the City of Belleville relative to the establishing of a connecting line between Pinnacle Street and the Desmond sub-division, said agreement having been approved by the City Solicitor as to form and the City Engineer as to engineering and other conditions which are to be undertaken by the Railway Company.

NINE THOUSAND MILE MOTOR BOAT VOYAGE

Orillia, Ont.—Two young men, S. A. McQuillan and J. McArthur, are planning a 30-day trip by motor boat from Orillia to Vancouver, B. C., beginning about the end of June, the distance by water being estimated at 9,000 miles. The trip is designed to show the value of motor speed boats and their practicability for long sea voyages. The two men will cross Lake Ontario, then go through the Erie Canal, and up the Hudson River to New York. From New York they will voyage along the Atlantic coast to the Panama Canal, thence across the Pacific Ocean and up to Seattle and Vancouver. They expect to make about 300 miles each day, with one long ocean voyage of, more than 500 miles without a possible stop.

The boat to be used and which is now under construction is a craft slightly smaller than those used by the Canadian coast patrol guard and equipped with one six by 7 feet 6 inches beam. The launch, which will carry a high-powered engine, is capable of making an hour even when carrying a normal load and will make about 30 miles an hour with the gas tank being specially provided to carry 700 gallons.

DEBUTANTE WAS GIVEN A THRILL

When She Attended Royal Court For The First Time

London—(By C. P.)—A debutante this describes in a London paper her experience of being presented at Court along with her mother:

After what seemed an interminable day I had finished dressing for the first time. Court quite half an hour before the hairdresser arrived at 7 p. m. He fixed the ostrich plumes, with the aid of many clasps, to my tangled hair, and mummy passed me as presentable and credit to the family.

Inside the Palace it was like a fairy land. In drawing-room a gentlemen-in-waiting, elegant in dark blue and golden uniform and white breeches, beckoned us, row by row, and we proceeded down a long corridor and across the end of the Throne Room, where, above the heads of the "officials," we caught an occasional glimpse of nodding plumes and heard the names called of those who had already arrived in the presence—and up another long corridor to the top of the Throne Room.

"Like a dream I remember two kindly footmen arranging mummie's train and then mine. I have a faint recollection of the band playing Sousa's 'Humoresque,' very softly—and watching in wonderment my card passing from official to official, and reaching the Lord Chamberlain at exactly the same time as I did.

As I gazed bewildered at the great crowd on the Royal dais, at the King in his Field-Marshal's uniform, and at the Queen, a majestic figure in gold tissue shimmering with gorgeous diamonds that shone like stars under the brilliant lights, my name seemed to echo through the huge room, and mechanically I curtseyed to the King and his golden throne.

I inclined my head and smiled in such a reassuring manner that my second curtsey, to the Queen, was much steadier. She gave me a very lovely smile. It was over.

GOLD EVERYWHERE BUT NOT FOR HIM!

London, (By C. P.)—With gold in guts worth hundreds of thousands of pounds for his stool and easel, working under the constant surveillance of two detectives, Colin Colahan, decorative and portrait painter, formerly an official war artist, is painting pictures of the old bullion vaults of the Bank of England before they disappear in the remolding of the Bank. Virtually a prisoner, surrounded by gold bars and coins, worth 1,7000,000 pounds Mr. Gill paints behind locked doors by the order of the Bank Governor across of the interior to be hung on the walls of the new building.

"Although I am kept under the eyes of detectives, it is no reflection on my honesty," said the artist to a reporter. 'Even the Governor would have a detective in attendance. I am not searched when the day's work is done. I should be sorry to attempt to lift one brick of gold.

'Many of the ingots were salvaged from the Lusitania. They are highly polished, and are handled by porters who still wear black tam o' shanters and clothes of the period—a relic of the days when gold bars were carried on the shoulder and the head and neck had to be protected from chaffing.'

Better Health ... in half a million homes

HEALTH depends to a great extent upon wholesome foods. And the wholesomeness of most foods depends upon proper refrigeration. Thus it is that Frigidaire is aiding health in 500,000 homes.

News Of Movie-Belle Theatre

Youth calls to Youth, whether the locale be the snow-clad peaks of the Himalayas, the scorching sands of the desert or the illimitable spaces of the sea. It's a fact as old as life itself. Upon that fact Producer-Director Duke Worne has builded for Rayart Pictures Corporation a stirring screen story, "The Cruise of the Hellion," which tomorrow begins a 3 days' engagement at the Belle Theatre. Tom Santschi, Edna Murphy, Donald Keith and Hallion Lewis and many other well known players go to make up the cast of this brilliant picture. -

REGENT THEATRE

Born on a cattle ranch in Colorado and educated in the love of the open spaces, Frank Griffith, one of moviland's most daring cowboys, found the dash and color of western motion picture making a repetition of the earlier episodes in his spectacular career.

Griffith, who plays the role of an outlaw in "Wizard of the Saddle," PRO's classic of the California gold fields, featuring Buzz Barton, the semi-silent juvenile sensation, which appeared in Westerns for the past ten years.

Straight and flared coat models for fall were both seen in matelasse Paris openings, and were much inclined to shoulder flare, seaming to waist, back dipping line, panel back, yoke treatment, the scarf collar, wide sleeves and stitchings and lockings.

NEW RULES FOR SAFE MAIL BOX

Authorities State Type That Must Be Used In Apartments

Toronto, Ont.—With a view to protecting safer mail boxes in apartment buildings the post office authorities have been making a survey in this city where there are more than 20,000 apartments, and new regulations have been issued covering the type of receptacles for mail matter to be used in future. In all apartment houses built in future, mail boxes must be grouped in convenient numbers, and access to them must be through a first master door, to which the letter carrier only will possess the key. This means the end of delivery of mail through slots in the doors of letter boxes.

The new regulation allows slots, but only for the insertion of calling cards, invitations and like papers. The slots must be not more than three inches long and one-eighth of an inch wide. Keys to the individual boxes will be in the possession of the tenants whose names must be plainly placed on the front of the boxes. They must be large enough to admit small parcels and magazines, not in any case less than 15 inches in length.

The new ruling will not affect apartment houses already built, so long as they are not remodelled when they are acceptable to the department. The regulation must be complied with, however, in all new buildings which house three or more families.

In the cases of many of the apartment buildings whose mail boxes are not safe their attention is being called to the fact that the mail is declared to assume any responsibility for it, and the tenant must bear the risk of loss or theft.

LITERARY HELP FOR THE FARMER

Dominion Dep't of Agriculture Annually Distributes 4,000,000 Bulletins

The distribution of nearly 4,000,000 bulletins, reports pamphlets, etc., and the addressing of nearly 2,000,000 envelopes is handled annually by the Dominion Department of Agriculture's Publications Branch. Seasonable field heads the list as the most widely distributed publication. Last year this went into 520,000 homes. This is issued by the Experimental Farm Branch. There is also a great demand for the reports of the twenty-six Farms and Stations, these in many instances being all distributed a few weeks after printing.

Market Reports on the various agricultural products are in increasing demand. Today the Canadian farmer is as well informed regarding prices and supply and demand, as the middlemen who handle the products.

There is an ever increasing demand for bulletins dealing with the culture of flowers and vegetables for the healthy sign, pointing as it does to the desire to beautify home surroundings.

The farmer is becoming more and more interested in the production and marketing of a high class product. The standardization and grading of many products are doing much alive to the fact that it pays to market the best. Government grading regulations, and the handling of the product to meet the requirements of such regulations are valuable aids to distribution, and are constantly in demand.

Government agricultural publications from the major part of the farmer's encyclopedia, and their cost to the government is insignificant when compared to the increased returns they make possible.

Agriculture is not one occupation, but many, complicated occupations, depending many kinds of skill and depending upon practically all our sciences. The application of these sciences to agriculture is carried to

PREPARING FOR AQUATIC EVENT

Candidates For Across-The-Bay Swim In Training

With weather conditions scarcely suitable for training out of doors, a number of candidates are taking advantage of the Y Pool in order to get into shape for the annual Across-the-Bay Swim promoted by the Association. Last year the time was speeded up in three of the four groups which swam in this event and in order to maintain these marks or better them, the entries will need to do no small amount of training.

Although the water of the Bay of Quinte is uncomfortably cool at the present time, it will only require a few warm days to bring the temperature up to the usual July 1st standard. Even the most pessimistic weather prophet will concede that warm weather is due to arrive before that time. With the temperature of the water comfortably warm and the distance only three quarters of a mile, this swim is more of a test of speed than an endurance test.

The race this year will be run under the same groupings as it was last year. The ladies' section is open as regards age being restricted only to residents of the city or members of the Association. In the juvenile section candidates must be under sixteen years of age July 1st; Juniors under nineteen and seniors over eighteen years of age. All candidates must be amateurs in good standing.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

What will be done with Peterboro remains to be seen but it is hard to convince the fans that the team should not be thrown out of the league. Any team that ignores a scheduled game should be sent packing, bag and baggage (if they have any baggage.)

As a matter of fact if Peterboro can refuse to come to Kingston and get away with it, Kingston ought to refuse to go to Peterboro. At that it's no pleasure to play in Peterboro, and apparently the schedule means little to one team this year.

Kingston looked a lot better yesterday against Belleville, and should go big from now on. They play in Ochawa tomorrow, and it is likely that "Jammy" Jamieson will get a chance on the mound in the Motor City.

Ada's single in the ninth could not have been more timely. The big outfielder is hitting the ball on the nose, and clouted the pill every time up yesterday. Two great catches by "Wicky" Ross robbed him of five hits for the day.—Kingston While-Standard.

Baseball is a funny old game. The Dekery team has only made one run in two games, but at that has beaten even on its first two starts. As a matter of fact in the game against Belleville and in the fixture here Saturday only three Dekery runners reached third base in each inning.—Peterboro Examiner.

Although the Central League has not been operating two weeks, yet every team in the loop has been beaten at least once. With a twenty-four-game schedule anything can happen, and the man who tries to pick a winner now is handing himself a real job.—Peterboro Examiner.

From the side it looked as if the Peles might have made a better bid of it Saturday if they had understen York mound. Certainly Dobyn's control was far from good, but the majority of the Peles helped him out by slamming the pellet all that came near them.—Peterboro Examiner.

The Peterboro nine don't seem to be doing any better on the road than they probably have had less practice than any team in the league, and they will find their batting before long. Their fielding has been good, the hurling pretty good so far their first three games having .294, which is excellent defensive work, but in team batting they are a different story, the club's are batting .218.

Kingston Frontes won their first game of the season against Belleville in the Limestone City yesterday, staging a last inning rally to pull out in front, 7-6. The absence of Kingstonites are a fighting team and Manager Joe Daly never gives up till the last man is out, and even then he can talk a kin again any one and everybody.

The Motory players received a fine ranzing from the management for the defeat on Saturday from the Belleville Nationals. Eight runs and then a loss makes us sympathize with Kingston.

The Kingston victory yesterday was sweet revenge for Manager Joe Daly who claims that the opening game that Belleville won by 3-1 was simply a gift from a big-hearted team.—Ohawa Times.

DINGHY SAILING AT GOLF CLUB

Second of Series of Races For British American Trophy

On Monday afternoon the dinghy men of the Belleville Yacht Club sailed their second race for the British American Cup over the regular course off the Country Club.

The breeze was light and variable, coming pretty well off the Prince Edward Shore and offering occasional flukes which increased the element of luck always present in yacht racing. The course called for all buoys to starboard which meant a close reach to the Prince Edward shore, a free run to the Sidney buoy and a beat to the finishing line. Half way around, however, the breeze drew more southerly so that the run of course was sailed without a tack.

Wilmot 4, Walker 7, B. Graham 6, Martin 8, R.J.E. Graham 6, Dr. Proctor 3, Miss Schuster 5.

The first race which was sailed off the Country Club for the British American trophy was decided on Monday owing to one of the buoys having gone adrift. This round was sailed in a fine southwest breeze which kept the crews hiking to weather all the way. Dr. Proctor sailed the first leg in a breeze of wind and led the review around with his famous boat "Little Phoebe."

FESTIVAL WAS A BLAZE OF GLORY

Opened In Quebec Two Nights Ago—Famous World Over

Quebec.—The Canadian Folksong and Handicrafts Festival which has attracted much music from many parts of Eastern Canada and the United States opened last night with a blaze of glory with a Canadian historic ball in the great ballroom of the Chateau Frontenac. Dashing colonial ladies, suncing belles of the gay nineties, cavaliers of the 45th century, powdered wigs and sparkling eyes, peasantry of the old world and the new, lights and music, entertainment and dinner par excellence—that was the festival ball.

Costumes representing every phase of Canadian history since the time when Jacques Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence, were visible from the broad stairs and gallery leading to the hardy voyageurs to the hoop-skirts and tall hats of a short generation ago. The Marquis de Montcalm and his court held forth at the various tables. French officers with rapiers and dangling rapiers, dancing with peasant girls of New France, Champlain was there representing perfectly by Mr. Ulysse Paquin, one of the artists of "the order of good old times," the poet Dante represented by Mr. Leon Rothier evoked much comment, marquises, princes, princesses and jesters all could be seen.

Following an elaborate dance, the entertainment started with a parade of the weavers, spinners and other participants in the folk lore display, led by a group of fiddlers, the habitants presented several dances and folk songs which were roundly applauded.

The Minuet, most graceful of all the old time dances, was executed skilfully by eight young couples and proved a prolonged applause. The Minuet was followed by Mr. Abraham Renaud, 87-year-old folk dancer, who did several folk dances to the accompaniment of Mr. Jos. Ouellet, and his four brothers, remarkable fiddlers from Kamouraska County. Mr. Renaud was very popular and was called back several times during the evening to show his skill in the jigs he loved of Canada's Founders.

Among the costumes which were worn at the ball could be seen several Spanish dons and their senoritas. An Indian chief in full war paint, a graceful young couple from the nineties, Sir Walter Raleigh, a very trim little admiral, several of Wolfe's officers, a stately general from Montcalm's Forces, French seamen, in fact nearly every type of costume every in the past two centuries could be seen at the ball.

The broadest coats, white wigs and silk stockings of the Colonial Beau Brummel was the most popular costume among the gentlemen guests, while bustled skirts of every hue were worn by the ladies accompanying them. Had it not been for the occasional tuxedo and the strains of modern jazz it would not have been hard to imagine that the clock had been set back four or five hundred years.

N. B. COWS HAVE GREAT RECORDS

Provincial Govt's Encouraging Results In Dairy Stock Improvement

Fredericton, N.B.— The Provincial Department of Agriculture policy for improvement of the dairy stock is showing tangible results. Two Jersey cows in the herd of A. E. Raymond, Woodstock, N.B., are the champion mother and daughter producers of Canada for the Jersey breed in Canada, according to figures recently published by the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

"Queen Raymond" has a record of 628 pounds of fat in 305 days and stands third in her class in Canada. She was formerly class leader. Her daughter, "Rosebank Pretty Maiden," has a record of 614 pounds in 365 days, and stands fourth in that class. As a four-year-old she stands third with a record of 847 pounds of fat in 365 days. No other mother and daughter in the Jersey breed in Canada have such a high combination of production as have these two Jersey cows.

Four more high class Jerseys have recently been imported from the famous herd of B. H. Bull and Son, Brampton, Ont., by Dr. L. DeC. Mac Intosh, Hartland. This importation includes the bull "Edgeley Silver Pirce" and his yearling daughter, a two-year-old heifer, imported from the Island of Jersey, and a yearling heifer. Three cows have also been brought from Prince Edward Island. They are all famous prize winners, and have high production records. This trio includes "Brackley Ada," champion milk producer of the Maritime Provinces in the two-year-old class, and second for butter fat with 396 pounds. "Ada" has never been defeated in the show ring, having 13 first prizes and six championships.

HOW TO PROVIDE A MEAL CHEAP COST

Montreal, Que.—Teaching housewives how to provide their families with good meals at small expense is the object of a movement recently added to its programme by the Child Welfare Association. Instruction groups have already been formed by Mr. W. A. Hurtubise, Miss Mildred Goodeve, and the women attending them have manifested keen interest in learning why certain foods are important, how to substitute less expensive articles for costly ones, and how to draw up their weekly budgets along approved dietetic lines.

A budget prepared by a professional woman at the request of the C. W. A., shows a daily expenditure per person in a household of two, of 36 cents on food. In a family with an annual income of approximately $1,000 the cost of food per person was proven to be 60 cents daily.

SKETCH OF THE C. N. E. FAVORITE

At Least She Should Be With Her Appetizing Cooking

Winnipeg, Man.—(C.P.)—Elizabeth Bailey Price writes of "The Business Woman in Canada" in the May number of "The Western Home Monthly." Mrs. H. M. Aitken, of Beeton, Ont., is the subject of the sketch—

"She is the well-known woman in the simple white uniform, who with the boyish figure, the twinkling eyes and the dimples that play in and about her mouth, is responsible for the tantalizing odors that emanate from Canada's Kitchen' at the Canadian National Exhibition. She is the woman who demonstrates daily 'the burnuts that mother used to make,' and the good old Christmas cakes, or other special dishes from each province. Thousands of people have tested her, for 'open as well as women are attracted at once by demonstrations.'

She is the woman who plans many of the fair time features of the programme in the Women's Building, of which she is superintendent. She thinks out the delightful luncheons, served there daily to prominent women visitors. She is always ready for any emergency—twenty 'extra' guests at the last minute, or Alberta's prize beef not arriving in time for Alberta Day. Promptly at 1.30 p.m. all sit down, the meal is served quickly, then at the right moment, with the right speech full of whimsical humor, the dimples playing in and out as official hostess, she welcomes all and gets the brief programme started.

"She is the inventor of a very original and interesting budgeting system. She is the individual who conceived the idea of pageants as a programme feature.

"The story of how this clever young woman of just about forty years ago is full of interest. Family reverses put up to her the problem of what she could do to help. Someone had given her a half dozen hens.

"How she is the owner and manager of one of the largest and best known poultry plants in Canada. During the past year it was stocked with one thousand laying hens and fifteen thousand chicks. Two hens hold the exceptionally high egg-laying records of 310 and 333 eggs, these under Dominion government supervision for the Record of Performance Association.

A Famous Quebec Handicraft

Among the handicrafts that have been developed by the people of French Canada none has come to a higher place than wood-carving. In 1909 Mgr. Laval established a school of architecture at Cap Tourmente and the clever hands of our French Canadians took kindly to the art. Some of the best work in America is being done in the villages along the St. Lawrence river. Mr. Edmond Patry is here seen as he appeared at the Canadian Folk-song & Handicrafts Festival at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, where Quebec handicrafts were represented by the men and women of Quebec busy at the spinning wheels, looms and benches that are still to be found in every village of French Canada.

GUILD MEETING AT MRS. F. JONES' HOME

The Birthday tea and Guild meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Jones was a decided success. The cosy rooms were prettily decorated with lilacs and tulips. The Pres. Mrs. Walter Nind, capably conducted the meeting. The secretary Mrs. C. L. Jones called the roll which was answered by quotations from a birthday book. After the business was transacted a programme was given. Mrs. Eber Weeks gave a reading entitled "Friendship" which was splendid. Rev. Mr. McTear made a few remarks which were pleasing, encouraging and he complimented Mrs. Weeks on her very excellent paper. Mrs. Anderson gave a reading "She was Scotch and so was he". Miss Mary Weeks gave a reading "Keeping up with the Jones".

Miss Iona Terry sang "Nightingale's Song" with Mrs. King Terry as accompanist. Miss Hilda Morton sang "What Priscilla Does" with Mrs. Fred Morton as accompanist. Both these youthful soloists were very pleasing. Miss Mary Weeks gave a piano solo.

Meeting closed by the singing of "God Save the King" with Mrs. E. F. Terry as accompanist.

Mrs. Charles Graqi was the winner of a lovely embroidered linen teacloth, donated by Mrs. Eber Weeks. Tables were laid and delicious refreshments served by the hostess assisted by Misses McCready, Mary McPhail, Mary Weed, Winnie Terry and Kathleen Jones. Among the guests were—Mrs. Van Black, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Chas. Kinnear, Miss Vance, Mrs. Zufelt, Mrs. Jas. Morton, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. H. D. French, Mrs. W. H. Morton, Miss Weir, Mrs. Milligan, Miss Morton Thomson, Mrs. Timlinpaugh, Mrs. Coe, Hubbs. Miss Mary Weeks fully filled the duties during the tea hour. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Frank Jones by Mrs. Nind. It was moved by Mrs. E. E. Terry and seconded by Mrs. F. Morton.

HE MIGHT BETTER LEAVE THEM DROWN

Heroism is not regarded by the French Minister of Justice as a proof of virtue. The 6 French convict who labored so valiantly when the Prisons Mafalda sunk off the coast of Brazil last year in the vain hunt for the penal settlement in Guiana, whence he had escaped, indeed, it was his bravery which called attention to him and caused his arrest. One would like the French authorities to divine some way of making his quality available to a world not overstocked with it, although he does now be proved that a term of certain absolutely from profiting personally through his heroism.

START NOW TO MAKE USE OF SPARE TIME

Even the proverbial busy man has spare time. Also the busy housewife, the office worker, every kind of worker in every walk of life.

What I mean, is that despite the strenuousness and time-consuming nature of your work there are always minutes, if not hours that are wasted and that can be used for self-improvement.

It is amazing how much one can achieve in the way of added accomplishments by the systematic and steady use of a few minutes each day.

I am reminded of an author who is bed-ridden with tuberculosis yet who is able to write steadily for the newspapers and magazines, and who even manages to get out a new novel every year or two.

This man cannot work more than two hours at a stretch each day.

Despite that terrific handicap, he turns out a very respectable amount of work. He is able to earn a very respectable livelihood.

If a sick man can do that, what cannot you do? What cannot you accomplish in spare time? Why not try and see what a few minutes each day will lead to?

Is there not something you have been wanting to do for years, but which you have put off because you claim you lack the time?

Maybe you wish you had more time for reading. Perhaps you have a burning desire to write.

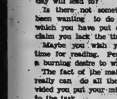

The fact of the matter is that you really can do all those things provided you put your mind and energy to the task.

By devoting a certain amount of time, no matter how little, to writing a novel or play, for instance, you will be astonished how quickly the pages pile up and the task gets finished.

There are so many enjoyments that we deny ourselves because of failure to realize the cumulative effect of a little time each day.

There is exercise in the open air, or music or photography and a hundred other pastimes, that may add so much pleasure and relaxation to our daily grind—any of which can be indulged in if we will but study the matter.

Many persons start off with en-

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl in my teens and am very much in love with a man four years my senior. He seems to love me very much, and we are engaged to be married. His mother does not like me in the least. I have never done anything to cause her to dislike me. She is jealous of her son, and I think that is the reason she does not like me. Do you think we should let this keep us from marrying if we really love each other?
BROWN EYES.

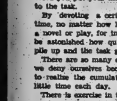

BROWN EYES: Your cue, my dear, is to be as sweet and charming as possible, and everything possible can be to your fiance's mother. You will have to live her, and it will probably be a difficult feat, but I know that if you persevere you will find that she will be enthusiastic over her daughter-in-law. But you will have to be very patient and, perhaps many slights.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I love a boy and he loves me. We are of different religion.
Do you think that I should give him up because of that?
FLOSSY.

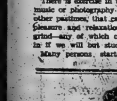

FLOSSY: This is a question that you will have to settle for yourselves, Flossy. Personally, I cannot see why a difference of religion should make any difference. Why not consult your spiritual adviser on the matter? He will, knowing you so well, be able to help you make your decision.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
—I am going to be married early next month and would like to know whether I should send invitations or announcements to my friends whom I wish present at the church ceremony. I cannot ask them to the wedding, as I do not plan on a wedding dinner.
Would an announcement serve the purpose if sent several days before the wedding?
J. H.

J. H.: You should send wedding invitations to those whom you wish to have present at the ceremony. To your other friends whom you do not invite to the ceremony, you send an announcement. These should be all prepared and mailed on the day of your wedding.

Answers done not play bridge get me is always invited and seldom refuse. Now relieves me forever from "I need" of responsibility for her bridge and always answers the parents of an enjoyable afternoon. And her reverence is not limited to conversation as one can quickly judge from her smart frock. It is really understood why such a well-dressed person is welcomed as an honor guest at so many parties. As usual, her frock seems to strike the correct note of smartness, making its wearer an object of interest and a glad sight to the eye. Made of soft crepe satin, her dress is trimmed by a long jabot of lace that extends from the left shoulder to below the hemline of the skirt. Tiered tucks at the waistline form the belt and relieve a sag bipline and slim silhouette. Long tight sleeves, tucks at the shoulders and a simple round neckline complete an ideal afternoon frock as ever-desired a bridge-set. The dress is equally becoming in georgette, silk or crepe de Chine.

That the Canadian Mother May Have Quick and Ready Information On Feeding Her Child
BORDEN'S EAGLE BRAND MILK

In the following charts and data we provide the Canadian mother with the necessary information she may require for the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk for her child. You will note that the directions provide for a child from three days of age through until the child is 24 months old.

In addition to the directions for feeding Borden's Eagle Brand Milk, the mother should read carefully the suggestions which should be adopted in connection with the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. The Borden Company Limited is proud of the fact that it has been helpful in the raising, of many, many Canadian infants into sturdy boys and girls and men and women who are a credit to their country. For further information, do not hesitate to write direct to The Borden Company Limited—Montreal.

IMPORTANT.—In preparing feeding mixtures it is imperative that all utensils, bottles, nipples, etc., should be sterilized in boiling water before using. Use a dry spoon in removing contents from the can, and in measuring be careful to pour from can to spoon, allowing the milk in the spoon to level itself. Repeat this procedure with every spoonful measured, using the same spoon every time. This will insure accurate measurements and reproduce the best results.

DIET FOR CHILD DURING THE SECOND YEAR

Usually after the twelfth month, the mother should select a diet schedule. Every new article of food should be carefully prepared, and given at first in very small quantities. All meals are to be given regularly, and nothing between meals. With some children this experiment of the diet list is attended with no difficulty. They are thoroughly satisfied with milk, and will prefer the milk and when he has finished it he will refuse the solid food. The following schedule will permit the mother to select a suitable meal from the foods listed. It is never advisable to make a change in diet during very hot weather.

NOTE: One teaspoonful of EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK added to one ounce of boiled water results in a mixture equivalent in nutritive value to whole milk. Whenever the word milk appears in the following diet, EAGLE BRAND should be substituted accordingly.

12th to 15th MONTH---FIVE MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Oatmeal, barley, or wheat jelly, one to two tablespoonfuls; 6 or 8 ounces of milk. Stale bread and butter or rusk and butter.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—Scraped raw beef, one to three tablespoonfuls, mixed with equal quantity of bread and moistened with beef-juice. Or a soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs; a piece of rusk and 6 or 8 ounces of milk.

2 P.M.—Beef, chicken, or mutton broth, with rice or stale bread broken into the broth. Six ounces of milk, if wanted. Stale bread and butter or rusk and butter. Many children at the above age will take and digest apples, stewed and prune pulp; when these are given, milk should be omitted.

6 P.M.—Two tablespoonfuls of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk; a piece of rusk. Stale bread and butter.

10 P.M.—A tablespoonful of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk.

15th to 18th MONTH---FOUR MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Oatmeal, hominy, cornmeal, each cooked three hours the day before they are used. When the cooking is completed the cereal should be of the consistence of a thin paste. This is strained through a colander, when upon cooling will form a mass of jelly-like consistence. Of this give two or three tablespoonfuls, served with milk. 8 or 10 ounces of milk as a drink. Toast.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—A soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs, or one tablespoonful of scraped beef mixed with stale bread-crumbs and moistened with beef-juice. A drink of milk. Rusk or bran biscuit, or stale bread and butter.

2 P.M.—Mutton, chicken, or beef broth, with rice or junket or with stale bread broken in the broth. Custard, corn-starch, or plain rice pudding, junket, stewed prunes, baked apple or apple sauce.

6 P.M.—Farina, cream of wheat, wheatena (cooked two hours). Give from one to three tablespoonfuls, served with milk. A drink of milk. Rusk or stale bread and butter.

18th to 24th MONTH---FOUR MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Cornmeal, oatmeal, hominy (prepared as in the above schedule). Serve with milk, or with butter and salt. A soft-boiled egg every two or three days. Bacon, chicken or lean roast occasionally. A drink of milk. Bran biscuit and butter, or stale bread and butter.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—Rare beef minced or scraped; the heart of a lamb-chop, finely cut. Chicken, Spanish, asparagus tips, squash, stewed and strained tomatoes, stewed celery, cauliflower. Baked apple or apple-sauce. Stale bread and butter. After the twenty-first month, baked potatoes and well-cooked strained beans.

2 P.M.—Chicken, beef or mutton broth, with rice or with stale bread broken into the broth. Custard, cornstarch, or plain rice pudding, junket, stewed prunes. Bran biscuit and butter or stale bread and butter.

6 P.M.—Farina, cream of wheat, wheatena (each cooked two hours). Give one to three tablespoonfuls, served with milk, or with butter and salt. A drink of milk. Rusk or stale bread and butter.

The following suggestions have proved to be helpful when properly used with bottle feedings, and they may be used in conjunction with Eagle Brand Condensed Milk.

Always pour the milk from the can into the measure—allowing it to level itself but not run over. You can readily understand that by dipping the spoon into the can you get more than a level spoonful—the contents of the milk that would adhere to the bottom of the spoon. When you have added the milk to the water stir thoroughly. This is important. After opening, it is safe to leave the milk in the original can. We recommend that you cover the can tightly with an inverted cup, and keep it in a cool, clean place.

ORANGE JUICE

When baby is four months old, give one teaspoonful of strained orange juice, diluted with equal quantity of boiled water, once daily between meals. Gradually increase the amount until you are giving the strained juice of a half of an orange undiluted, once daily before feeding time. Orange juice is not necessary until child is old enough to eat other fruits as well as oranges.

OATMEAL JELLY

When baby is five months old, add one teaspoonful of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. Gradually increase the amount until you are adding three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. To make oatmeal jelly add four ounces of oatmeal to one pint of water; boil for three hours in a double boiler, as you would water or when cooking is completed a thin paste will be formed. This while hot is forced through strainer to remove outer particles. When cold oatmeal jelly will be formed. Oatmeal jelly may be continued until child is old enough to eat well cooked whole cereals.

CONSTIPATION

Oatmeal water very often relieves this condition. To add to oatmeal water add one heaping tablespoonful of oatmeal to one pint of water, and boil for three hours in a double boiler. This will make a little more than half a pint of thick gruel to which add one pint of water that has been boiled. After straining mixture through fine strainer, you should have a little more than a pint of whitish liquid. This should be used with each feeding of baby's formula, boiled water. If you find that this makes bowels too loose, dilute formula with plain boiled water.

Barley or rice water may be used instead of oatmeal water. If preferred two tbsps. of plain codliver oil may be given twice daily added to the morning and night feedings.

DIARRHEA

Give nothing but plain boiled water for twenty-four hours. Then start feeding with barley water, or rice water, to which has been added a little salt to improve the taste. If these feedings are retained, and bowel movements lessened, small amounts of very weak regular feedings may be started and gradually increased according to baby's condition. If your baby does not improve after trying the above suggestions, consult your doctor at once.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Have the oil for salad dressing thoroughly chilled.

If vegetables are salted just before they are done cooking, they are more tender than when they are cooked in salted water.

A pinch of powdered sugar, and another of cornstarch, beaten with the yolks of eggs will keep an omelette from collapsing.

A little lemon juice squeezed into the water in which they are cooked will make potatoes very white and impart a delicate flavor.

Light-colored furs may be cleaned if they are laid upon a white cloth on a table and rubbed thoroughly with hot ground rice. The rice must be put in a bowl in the oven for a few moments and allowed to get very hot, but on no account must it be used if it has become slightly tinged with brown; therefore it must be very carefully watched and constantly removed. The rice, when thoroughly rubbed in, should be shaken vigorously and lightly tapped on the wrong side with a thin stick till all the rice has been removed, when it should be combed with a steel fur comb.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Enchanting spirit, dear Variety,
—BLOOMFIELD.

150 YEARS AS A LEADING DAILY

The Montreal Gazette is more than a great newspaper, it is an institution; for 150 years it has taken a prominent part in the national and social life of this country. It was founded on the highest principles, to worthily, loyally serve the public, and to support all measures which it considered to be in the best interest of the country. As the long years have passed the people show how unswervingly the principles were adhered to, they gave it their support from one end of the country to the other, and in consequence the small paper of 1778, printed on a wooden handpress, has grown into one which can compare favorably with any paper in the world, sent out from an establishment equipped with everything that the highest class newspaper calls for today. Established in this way, carried on in this manner, it has become an institution of which it can not only itself be proud, but the whole Dominion as well.

As with men so with newspapers, it is the character which, taks in the long run, and it is the consistent, continued high character of The Gazette which accounts for its great success, and the leading position which it holds in the Fourth Estate. It has gained a long experience, it has seen marvellous changes, it has witnessed wonderful events, and this has contributed to create an outlook upon the past which enables it to have a continuity of purpose and view the present and the future with wisdom, moderation and good judgment. It has never pandered to the sensational, it has refused to deal in scandal, it has not gratified combination, but has aimed and succeeded in making a character for itself of being a clean, trustworthy up-to-date newspaper worthy of entering every home. Old it is in years, but young it is in its consistency, and in the ability to carry its determination to serve the public faithfully by every means in its power.

SLIP-SHOD METHODS OF U. S. AUTHORITIES

The body of a man, slain near Toledo and buried in Ottawa, was exhumed yesterday, and the autopsy showed there was a bullet in his head, an injury that was very much wanted by the police.

If there were any autopsy performed at the time the man's body was found some weeks ago it must have been a very superficial affair.

It was not until they removed the body from the grave that the officials knew exactly in what manner this man met his death.

There may be very good reasons for working this way, but on the face of it the method looks rather loose.

THE ITALIA JOINS ROLE OF MISSING

Russian authorities seem to be quite certain the the dirigible Italia has made a landing some place in Franz Josef Land, north of the Soviet domain. So certain are they that their radio stations have heard calls from the Italian polar expedition that an expedition is to be sent out at once to see if a rescue can be made.

Norwegian experts are very much in doubt regarding the Russian reports, but they have only theories with which to combat the claim of several stations in Siberia. But still calls have been picked up containing news from the Italia.

In such a situation the Soviet government is taking the right and proper course. It would be mischievous, if there were any evidence at all that the Italia had landed, not to make an immediate effort to go to the rescue.

There are sixteen men with the Italia expedition and the last heard was that they were leaving the north pole flying to fight their way back to their base ship against bad winds and formations of ice.

If that expedition is located and the members saved it will be one of the outstanding accomplishments of the century. The dirigible had previously to last for some time, in case it was forced down and that gives hope that the members of the crew may still be living.

WHY PAY MONEY FOR SPEED CONTESTS?

There were 150,000 people on hand to cheer the victor.

Folks over there must like to part with their money, because it's possible to get almost as good a performance for nothing in this country.

When United States tourists take to some of the lake shore roads on the way to spend the week-end in this province they have little to learn from the daring driver from the Pacific coast.

Perhaps they don't make 100 miles an hour, but they at least do their best, and the show is free for any one who cares to sit on a fence post and brave the clouds of dust.

THEIR LEGACY

Oh, mother, hold him to your heart,
For yet a little longer,
That when from yours his way must part,
Perchance, he may be stronger.
And if there be a little girl:
Ah! treasure well this priceless pearl,
For she is dear, and very dear;
So hold her closer year by year.

So full is he of youthful daring,
Behind his scorn he hides his caring.
So full is she of hopes and fears,
Of laughter sweet and bitter tears.

Oh, mother, dear, take time for this;
Fill well a lovely mind for them.
'Twill be a wondrous legacy;
So much of life is memory.
—Robbin Stewart.

THE PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

A beautiful and impressive service was held in St. John's Church last evening, when Archbishop Lewis of Kingston confirmed fourteen candidates. The following clergy assisted in the service: Canon Burke, Rural Dean Bogart, Rev. C. J. H. Hurton, Rev. S. Rhodes and Rev. A. L. Green.

A horse belonging to Mr. Samuel Ackerman of Ameliasburg ran away while crossing the Bay Bridge today. The buggy was badly wrecked but the occupants escaped unhurt.

Watson Locklin, a young resident of Trenton was drowned yesterday.

Mr. M. B. Jamieson has secured a position in St. Paul.

Mrs. Wilson, Napanee is visiting Mrs C. H. Vermilyea, East Bridge Street.

Mr. J. Nevin Doyle was last evening bitten by a dog.

Miss Imogene Falen has returned from the Normal College, Hamilton.

A cinder path for bicyclists will be built on Victoria Park. Mr. H. Corby has started a subscription list with $50 for the purpose.

Heals Eczema In 7 Days or Less

Here is a surgeon's wonderful prescription now dispensed by pharmacists at trifling cost, that will do more towards helping you get rid of unsightly spots and skin diseases than anything you've ever used.

Not only does this great healing anti septic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils, abscesses and ulcers that are discharging are almost immediately relieved and cleanly healed.

In skin diseases its action is little less than magical. The itching of eczema is instantly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of sufferers' itch, salt rheum and other irritating and unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of its ailments noted above is next to impossible. Doyle's Drug Store can supply you at any time.

SPECKLED TROUT NOW RISING!

In Algonquin Park, According To Two Tourists From New York

Montreal, Que.—Speckled trout fish ing in Algonquin Park, Ontario, is "one right" at the present time, according to Dr. Willard Duckworth of White Plains, N.Y., and Dr. Paul Fitzgerald, of New Rochelle who recently returned after a fishing trip which took them from Highland Inn in the northern section of the park and, return. Dr. Duckworth who is an ardent fly fisherman, has been making annual trips to Algonquin Park for the last seven years fishing a different territory each year, and declared that in so far as both fishing results and enjoyment, were concerned this years trip was one of the best he had ever enjoyed while it was the first trip into Algonquin for Dr. Fitzgerald, who spoke enthusiastically of thetrip while waiting to board the Washingtonian of the Canadian National Railways for the balance of the Homeward journey. The party outfitted with Norman Mc Clarke, of Highland Inn leaving that point on May 18, while weather conditions were unfavorable during part of the trip. The speckled trout were rising to the fly at every rapids and the members of the party had no difficulty in catching their limit at any time they desired. Fly pests were conspicuous by their absence both of the visiting anglers declared and because of the absence of flies at this time of the year the journey over the lakes and streams was most enjoyable. While no record sized trout were taken by the party, plenty of fish weighing from two and half to three and a half pounds were taken in the various rapids which were fished.

There are 304,000 persons in England named J. Smith.

CRANBERRIES CAN BE GROWN IN CANADA

Canada imports nearly all the cranberries she uses, from the United States, according to the Department of Agriculture, yet the fruit could be grown profitably in many districts and sold at such a price that the Canadian market could be kept for Canadians. Since most of the cranberries are from Cape Cod, the freight haul of the United States grower is less than would be that of eastern Canada growers furnishing western markets. It would therefore, appear that there is an excellent opportunity in Canada for the planting of cranberry bogs, utilizing lands which are lying idle at present.

TRUSTEES HAVE CHANGED PLANS

Haig Memorial Home Trustees Broaden Their Scope

London—(C.P.)—The original appeal for a memorial to Lord Haig stated that the money raised would be devoted to the erection of homes, adequately endowed, in various parts of the country for the benefit of ex-service men of all ranks, their widows and orphans. Experience obtained since our appointment, the trustees state, indicates that many families from Ex-Service men's families for the provision of a fund, more numerous and more varied than was at first anticipated.

We have, decided therefore, in order to make the money go further than it would do if entirely confined to bricks and mortar, to reserve to ourselves the right to earmark a proportion of all future monies subscribed for the provision of a fund, the interest of which will be utilized to assist Ex-Service men and their dependents with housing and accommodation other than in the Haig Memorial Homes.

In regard to the memorial Homes, the trustees have provisionally decided as follows: For the purpose of supervision and administration homes should be in groups of not less than twenty-one, and preferably not less than twenty. Homes should be built on the outskirts of towns so as to facilitate employment for the families.

Where any town, either by corporate or individual action subscribes sufficient money to provide a reasonable and adequate scheme, pound for pound shall be added where possible, and if necessary from the general fund, for the erection of homes for that town. Renovation or conversion of unoccupied houses will be undertaken whenever expert advice shows this to give equally satisfactory results at less cost.

Preference in the allocation of homes to applicants shall be given to the badly disabled and war widows, although provision has been made for an endowment fund, families may be expected to contribute according to their means towards the upkeep of their homes. It is felt that this provision will remove any stigma of charity which might otherwise attach to the popularity of these homes.

Treble and Bass all There!

Fifes—clarinets and flutes, as well as traps,—tympani—bass viols and gruff-throated tubas—all clearly heard.

Liquid treble, deep low fundamentals,—these tones give the Orthophonic Victrola its beauty and color. So that today a public concert by famous artists and an Orthophonic Victrola performance by the same great artists,—are two things alike as twins,—and you need not stir from the lazy comfort of the fireside to hear the Orthophonic Victrola. It's really marvelous when you stop to think of it...We moderns owe a tribute to the scientists who have contributed the rich gift of "matched impedance" that "does away" in the Victrola. To Victor was extended the privilege of developing that principle for your greater enjoyment.

As a result you may have beautiful, realistic music at home, and you may have it contained in graceful cabinets wrought in fine wood. Artistically designed models,—all equipped with a device which stops each record after playing. Electrical drive, if you wish,—at slight additional cost, eliminates winding! Prices from $140 down to as low as $115,—on convenient payments from All His Master's Voice dealers.

A HUSBAND AFTER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

THE IMPASSE.

Celia was aghast at Gwen's suggestion that she ask Annesley to visit her and now as her husband, in spite of her mother's peace of mind.

"Oh, Gwen, I couldn't, I'd die of shame. Besides, how do I know he could or would do it? He has an inordinate vanity, he might not be able to get away, even if he didn't scorn the very idea."

"Nonsense! He's your attorney, as well as your friend. From what you've told me of him, I think the man has a sense of humor. Your situation would probably amuse him."

"Then what's to be done?" demanded Gwen sensibly. "You adore your mother, Dr. Barnett says it's absolutely necessary to humor her. She's losing herself into a collapse, because her son-in-law doesn't come to see her. Your duty is plain."

Celia knew that something had to be done. All that day she fought with herself, trying to down her embarrassment at the thought of making such a request of Annesley. But, on the other hand, she had to humor her mother.

The hrvalid had spent a restless night. She said to Celia, the next morning:

"I think I'm dying. Oh, dear child, before I go, I want to see the man to whom you've given your life. I want him to promise me that he will love and cherish and protect you always. I can't forget those horrible days last year when, you were all alone and people were gossiping about you. I used to wake in the night after terrible dreams, seeing you alone and friendless and without money; imagining all the dreadful things that can happen to a girl as pretty and attractive as you, when she has no one to protect her. Darling, I must see your husband!"

Celia was frantic. But still she told herself that she couldn't fold upon her mother, a man who was not her husband even Annesley, if he would play the role.

"What will I do afterward?' she demanded of Gwen, when the latter came to call, later in the day. 'I can't, I won't believe that Mother is not going to get well. How can I explain a husband who appears only once?'

Gwen was always practical.

"You can kill him off, somehow. Quickly, you know. In some remote place, so there won't have to be obsequies that your mother might want to attend."

Celia moaned: 'Oh, why did I ever get into this? Why didn't I tell the truth, in the first place? Why didn't I say that my husband was dead?'

"Of course, that would have been best,' answered Gwen. 'But I can see your reasoning. It wasn't so much the money that your mother was thinking of. It was knowing that you had provided for and loved and respected by a nice young man, after that beastly mess last year . . And I'll tell you frankly, Celia, that the real truth would never have helped you in this town as your nice little fabrication has.'

"I don't care about myself,' declared Celia despairingly. 'It's only Mother whom I'm thinking of.'

"You're a sweet daughter, Celia. In fact, you're sweet all around. And you've had a rotten deal. In every way.

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and Doyle's Drug Store, Dolph the Druggist, and every live druggist has it.

Mix a few pints smooth, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, soreness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame, tallen joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is as clean and painless that you can rub it on often and get thereby results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

GIRL GUIDES GET A CALLING DOWN

Winnipeg, Man.—"You don't make hay out here! You leave it to somebody else, what?" was Dr. Rainsow's rhetorical question in the Girl Guides, when he appeared to adjudicate in the Guide Cup class in competition for the Lady Aikins' cup awarded for singing. The best place was "The Hay, makers' Roundelay" "Not half of you were singing with your whole selves." The failure of this lass to measure up to a high standard was mainly due to the fact that they had taken the singing as a task, instead of as a pleasure. "We can't order you to sing, as we can order you to halt or march. You must want to do it. You must love to do it," he stressed.

Dr. Rainsow had fault to find with the "r" once more. "Hark," he said had sounded more like "had-ark." Then, the choirs had not been careful of the emphasis they placed upon the words. "The point is, the words must be just as natural when you sing them as when you speak them."

PLANTERS TEAM HERE SATURDAY

"Pennants" of Danforth Ladies' League To Meet Beavers

NEW PLAYERS

Visitors One of Finest Teams In Ontario Ladies' Soft-Ball

The "Beavers' Girls' Softball Club have again gave evidence of their progressive spirit by arranging to bring the well known Planters "Pennants' Girls of Toronto here for an exhibition game on Saturday next, June 9th. Although Planters Girls' Softball team needs no introduction to both the Inter City and the Belleville fans but the players on the line-up of the 1928 peanut team do. For of the entire line-up of the Planters that played the Beavers here last Fall only two remains. The newcomers are all from Toronto's outstanding leagues that play at Sunnyside. Last year's team was interested in the Toronto Ladies' Industrial League while the new team of the Pennants are senior in the Danforth Ladies' Senior League, who holds the Toronto City Championship. The Pennants are also operated by the Planters Recreation Club who have a high pressure softball organization men with more factory folk on the team that since the beginning of last season have evolved into the finest operated girls' softball organization in Canada.

The Pennants, who will play here, are entered in the Danforth Ladies' League and the "Peanuts" who played in Trenton on May 24th, are entered in the Toronto Ladies' Industrial Intermediate League. The "Planters' Men's softball team was disbanded this season as the result of the lack of interest taken by the members of the recreation club.

WORK OF FUEL BOARD

The Dominion Fuel Board since its inception has conducted exhaustive studies with a view to making Canada independent in the consumption of fuel, with the result that Pennsylvania anthracite is being displaced by other fuels in Ontario and Quebec to the extent of 1,500,000 tons a year. Another beneficial feature is that a variety of fuels has established competition in the markets of domestic fuel supplies.

Of the 472,235 who died in England and Wales last year no less than 37.7 per cent. were over 70 but under 85.

SAFETY LEAGUE IN FULL SWING

Look For Material Decrease In Highway Motor Accidents

Toronto, June 7—The campaign of the Highway Safety Committee in Ontario is now in full swing, and will continue throughout the summer. So far as is known in no other province or state is such a drive being made for accident prevention with respect to motor traffic. Judging from the results of the campaign last fall, and the experiences so far this year, Hon. George S. Henry, chairman of the committe and his associates in the executive, are certain that Ontario will be a safer place in which to drive, and confidently hope that the accident ratio will be considerably lowered this year.

Every tourist driving a car entering Ontario this year is being given a folder welcoming him to the Province but at the same time informing him of the efforts to make he highways safe. In his folder the Ontario Motor laws are summarized, and emphasis is placed upon the well-known motto, "care, courtesy and common sense." The folder gives the tourist practically all the motor law information he needs in a few short paragraphs.

RECOMMEND ORGANIZATION OF NEW GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

Industrial And Development Branch Will Make Survey

SUITABLE SETTLERS

Seek Co-operation of Provincial Bodies In Immigration

Ottawa, June 7.—An amendment recommending that the Department of Immigration, colonization and industrial development be organized forthwith, was moved in the House of Commons today to the report submitted by the committee on agricultural immigration.

The amendment was moved by G. H. Cahan, (Conservative, St. Lawrence) and set forth that the proposed department should be under the administration of responsible to the minister of the crown and consists of two branches, immigration and colonization and industrial development.

The duties of the immigration and colonization branch would be to procure the co-operation of the provincial governments and co-ordinate work of all other organizations in promoting immigration. It would also see that settlers of suitable type and look after settling them in his country. The industrial and development branch would make a complete commercial survey of the industrial resources of Canada, advise in regard to the future economic development in the province with a view to the rapid extension of industrial employment.

FAT BOY EATS BUT ONE MEAL EACH DAY

How would you like to eat only one meal a day? One meal, and that breakfast! Well, that is what Bellerivile's fat-laced Pa Boy, Charles Ledgeworth does. A Toronto newspaper devoted half a column and full side space writing up this lad, but they neglected to mention he had only one meal a day. "I get up from my breakfast to another", stated the young man in the Intelligencer, today. "No, I don't eat in between meals."

This young man is twelve years of age and weighs in mere 190 pounds and twenty odd pounds, but he proudly stated today he has reduced considerably. Ladies, get his formula.

NORANDA HIGH LIGHT ON BOARD

Teck Hughes, Mandy And Sudbury Basin Made Gains

There was quite some excitement on the Mining Exchange today, Noranda being the chief cause, but was not alone by any means. Amulet was heavily bought as usual last few days, but within a block of 94.10 to 94.15. Teck was in good demand and gained 90c to $11, closing at $10.90 bid and $11 asked. MARRIED 60 YEARS

Diamond Jubilee

Forty-four years a soldier and sixty years married! And happy and healthy, says Mr. F. J. Le Rossignol, one of the oldest militia men in Canada. He and his wife on June 1 celebrated the diamond jubilee of their wedding, which took place away back in 1868, the year after confederation. Mr. Le Rush served with distinction in the Fenian Raid. The happy couple, who live at Prestonminden, Ont., and are both about here, hope to have many more anniversaries together, surrounded by their six children and their 22 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

CANADIAN ACES TO ESSAY FLIGHT

Monoplane Columbia Is Forced To Return To Curtiss Field

New York, N.Y., June 7.—After six hours in the air, during part of which time it was lost in the fog, the monoplane Columbia returned to Curtiss Field this morning, having been unable to find Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, where it was to have made landing prior to attempting transatlantic flight.

Roosevelt Field, N.Y., June 7.—The single motored monoplane Columbia took to the air shortly before for Old Orchard, Maine, where it will be refuelled and take off for Europe as soon as the weather permits. Clarence Lebouillier and Arthur Argles, both veterans Canadian Air Force officers, are pilots and Miss Mabel Boll is passenger.

Miss Mabel Boll, backer of the flight expressed disappointment that the first lap of the long journey should not have been unsuccessful but said that this would have no effect on her determination to cross the ocean by air. She said that if weather conditions improve another take-off would be made this afternoon for Old Orchard.

SCREEN STARS ESCAPE

Party of Film Favorites Vacate Cafe Previous To Explosion

Los Angeles, June 7.—18 persons were injured, two probably fatally in a fire and explosion which wrecked a Russian cafe in Hollywood at midnight shortly after a party of film stars left the place. The authorities immediately began an investigation on the theory that the fire may have been of incendiary origin.

Charles Chaplin, the Marquis De La Falaise, Colleen Moore, Reine Adoree, Jack Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor, were among the guests whose timely departure probably saved them from serious injury.

DINNER DANCE A GREAT SUCCESS

Innovations At Country Club Are Pleasing To Members

About one hundred members attended the first dinner dance at the Bay of Quinte Country Club last night. That the success of the affair has prompted the Directors of the Club to promise that it will be repeated at regular intervals throughout the season. Dinner was served at seven o'clock and in the orchestra played until ten.

The club house is ideally equipped for such an affair and never looked better than last evening. Tables for parties of two, four and six surrounded the dance floor and overflowed into the regular dining room and the lounge rooms. Most Wednesday evenings the club is holding a regular dance for which a Toronto orchestra has been engaged. Invitations will be issued to members of the Club only but, they are privileged to bring friends with them. In the afternoon Miss Ada Mc-Cuaig, Dominion Golf Champion will play an exhibition round with Mrs. Whittington, champion of 1925, and both ladies will be guests of the Club at the dance in the evening.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR ARMY BAND

Cobourg Musical Organization Will Render Several Concerts

Coming here for a two-day visit which starts on Saturday of this week, the Cobourg Salvation Army Band will have five spare moments if they carry out the program which has been proposed, with the assistance of the Belleville Band.

Bandmaster Peacock will be in charge and he has the reputation of being one of the best bandmasters in Ontario. Twenty-three pieces compose the band, and these will be augmented by several from the Belleville Band. A musical soiree will be given on Saturday evening there will be two musical programs, one at the corner of Bridge and Front streets, and another later at Victoria Avenue and Front Street. On Sunday, prior to the morning service there will be a service on the East Hill, and at 11 o'clock the massed bands of Belleville and Cobourg will be heard in the Citadel on Pinnacle street.

At three thirty in the afternoon, a band concert will be given on the Armouries lawn, or in case of rain, inside the Armouries. This is due to the kindness of the military authorities in this city. The band concert on Sunday afternoon will likely draw a large crowd. The usual service will be held on Front street at 6:30 p. m., an indoor service at seven o'clock, and the final musical service for this visit will take place at nine o'clock p. m.

CRASHED CAR IN FUNERAL ROUTE

Stewart Robertson Has Motor Damaged By Reckless Driver

ENDED IN DITCH

Thomas Butler, Truck Driver of Toronto, Arraigned In Court

Crashing into two cars, one of them in a funeral procession yesterday afternoon, Thomas Butler, of Toronto, appeared in police court this morning, charged with reckless driving. The accused pleaded not guilty to the count and was remanded until Saturday morning for trial.

Butler, who was driving a truck, was coming east from Toronto, it is alleged, when he struck an automobile belonging to Mr. Stewart Robertson, of Quick and Robertson, which was parked alongside the road near the cemetery. Carroming from this car, the driver crashed into the side of a car owned and driven by Milton Hunt, a prominent citizen of Deseronto, who was attending the funeral of Colonel Lorne Marsh. To cap the entire accident the truck hurtled into the ditch, it is stated, on the north side of the road.

Mr. Robertson's car was badly damaged. The entire rear-end of the automobile was jammed considerably in the impact and practically no entire new body will be required. Mr. Hunt's car, which was proceeding behind the latter in procession, is also badly smashed, one of the doors being denied, the handle torn off, two mudguards on one side of the car torn and the top out.

The truck was barely damaged, Or a heavy build, the two impacts did not disturb the body, and when it went into the ditch it landed right side up. The accident occurred about five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

TRIO CHARGED WITH PUBLIC INTOXICATION

A little party is all very fine—if the police don't drop in and spoil it. At least that is the way it appeared last night. It is alleged that Alva Fox permitted drunkenness on his premises and with such was he charged this morning.

Two other members of the little party, Thomas Gilchrist and Clarence Belcher were only charged with intoxication. E. C. Butler, K.C., is defending Alva. The trio were remanded without pleading, until Saturday morning.

BARGE ENROUTE TO BROCKVILLE AGROUND

Oswego, June 7.—The steam barge Pahloo, bound from Fair Haven to Brockville ontario, went aground on the north end of here early today in a heavy fog. Coast guardsmen were attempting to work her off on the rocks where she grounded at a point about four hundred feet off the shore. The vessel was considered only slightly damaged.

FOUND DEAD IN KINGSTON HOME

Kingston, June 7.—Daniel Ahern was found dead this morning outside of his home at noon today from the effects of illuminated gas. Beside the body was found a pet cat of the deceased, also dead.

Ahern had apparently been preparing his noon meal as on a peg of it was found on the table. The centre let of the gas stove was found to be open. An autopsy was performed on the body this morning.

PUNT CAPSIZED, ONE LIFE LOST IN RIVER

Brockville, June 7.—Early yesterday afternoon a young man, who is believed to be Jack Rawlson, of Perth land, Ont., lost his life in the St. Lawrence river about a half mile west of Maitland, and his companion, George Cowan, of Los Angeles, Cal., was rescued after clinging to the punt in which they were endeavoring to reach the American shore when it capsized.

SISTER MEETS SISTER

Miss Cecil Smith and Sister Maude Finalists In Golf Tourney

Windsor, Ont., June 7.—Two sisters, Miss Cecil Smith and Miss Maude Smith, of Toronto, will meet in the final of the Ontario Women's Golf Championship here tomorrow, both having won their matches in the semi-finals today.

Miss Cecil defeated Miss C. Mackay, of the Essex County Golf and Three up and two to play and her sister won from Mrs. W. G. Gemmell, of Toronto, at the 36th hole.

EXPEDITION TO VISIT ANTARCTIC

Retired British Naval Commander Will Head Party

New York, June 7.—A busy summer in the Antarctic is in prospect, judging with the announcement of plans for the third aerial expedition to explore the little known region.

Douglas George Jeffrey, retired British Naval Commander and veteran of the Canadian-Australian South Polar expeditions, announced he would head an expedition of fifteen men and two planes, leaving for the Antarctic in September and will be accompanied by Sir Hubert Wilkins but would complement them, Commander Jeffrey said. He expects to make a two-year trip. The expedition four other members of the Shackleton expedition. The four are:—Captain Arthur Argles, the Navigator for Mabel Boll's projected flight to Europe; George V. Douglas, of McGill University, Montreal, Geologist; Dr. Alfred Cornish, of Dundee, Scotland, surgeon; and , W. S. Marr of Aberdeen, Scotland, biologist.

300 DELEGATES AT CONVENTION

Quebec, June 7.—The 3rd annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of Canada got under way here today when close to 300 delegates registered for the three-day session. About 150 of the delegates arrived here early this morning on S S Tadousac following a three day cruise which started at Montreal Monday.

Arthur Hanson, Secretary, in his report at the opening session of the convention, declared the fact that the policies of the chamber had been carried into effect by the Dominion Government was free from accounts. The report went on to say that there had been some legislative gratification in observing that its policy on scientific and industrial research by the Federal Canadian Co-operation People, diversion of water from the Great Lakes Basin has been very approcia bhyadvanced.

VICTOR LATHAM'S BODY IDENTIFIED

Mrs. Russel Groh Notified of Recovery of Brother's Remains

Mrs. Russel Groh, Park Street, received word today that the body of her brother, Victor Latham, wheelsman on the 10-foiled Canada Steamship freighter, Kamloops, had been recovered and identified. The steamer Chaudiere slipped into Port Arthur Tuesday night with the bodies of five men and a woman which were picked up at Isle Royale on Sunday. The bodies were taken to Port Arthur where they were identified. The Kamloops went to the bottom in a severe storm last autumn.

Latham who was twenty-one years of age had been sailing on the lakes for some years and was an expert swimmer. He had left Belleville where his parents reside. The late Mr. Latham spent the winter of 1926 in this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Groh and he made many friends. He was familiarly known as "Tody' among his associates. Mrs. Groh left for her home in Belleville this morning where interment of the body will be made.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 7.—One of the bodies of the crew of th esteamer Kamloops brought here from Isle Royale where they were picked up by fishermen has been identified as that of Victor Latham wheelman of Steamship No. 10 which went down in the storm of his 60th birthday. That of Thomas Partridge, assistant engineer was shipped last night to the family home at Southampton, Ont.

PREMIER TO INSPECT PARISIAN SYSTEMS

London, June 7.—Premier Howard Ferguson of Ontario, left for Paris today, saying he would specially inspect the agricultural and education systems in the small communities of Rhone. He will return to Britain in about a month and will look into the technical education here.

BELIEVE BANDITS HIDING IN CITY

Detroit, Mich., June 7.—The six bandits who escaped with $427,000 in Brotl News obtained approximately $1,000 in paper money, police believe. The loot represented less than half the payroll of the paper, part of which the bandits failed to discover and another part of which they dropped in fleeing from the building.

The discovery of their bloodstained automobile in the outskirts of the city today led the police to believe the men were still in the city and that one or more of them was wounded in a gun battle in which two policemen were seriously wounded.

VETERAN HONORED

Veteran Missionary Is Honoured By Assembly At Regina

QUEEN'S GRADUATE

Prolonged Applause Greeted Election of Church Dignitary

Regina Sask., June 7.—By acclamation, Rev. Dr. John Buchanan, B.A., M.D., of Antrim, All Nations Central India, and a member of the presbytery of Paris, Ont., was elected to the moderatorship of the 54th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the inaugural session held here last night.

For 1st time in the history of the general assembly, only one name was submitted in nomination for the highest office in the gift of the assembly Dr. Buchanan's election was acclaimed by prolonged applause.

Dr. Buchanan Prief

Dr. Buchanan, who is at present on furlough from his mission field, was nominated by Rev. R. G. Thompson, of Woodstock, Ont., the seconded by Rev. Dr. A. Beahh Minute of Hamilton, Ont.

In a brief speech of acceptance Dr. Buchanan declared he regarded his election as 'expression designed to confer on the world that we are cognizant of the great importance of the foreign mission field". At the opening session which was attended by 250 commissioners, Rev.- Dr. W. J. Mc-Cullivray, of Toronto, retiring Moderator, declared there few reasons for discouragement. Although work of the church was handicapped by the lack of men and money with which to press forward at the moment, there had been notable advance all along the line including a gain in membership of 13 per-cent in membership in 3 years and the erection of more than 200 churches during the same time period.

Toronto, June 7.—Dr. John Buchanan, who was elected moderator of the presbyterian General Assembly in Regina, is one of the oldest missionaries in the field, being the founder of the Dhli Mission in India which with Similar Mission makes up only the mission field in India which the Presbyterian Church now controls. He graduated from Queen's University in 1887 in Arts and Theology and had been a missionary 33 his life.

FRANKFORD MAN GETS JAIL TERM

Drove Car While Intoxicated And Purchased Liquor Illegally

Fred Hubbel, of Frankford, realizes now that he had two bad mistakes. The first was when Mr. Hubbel became inebriated and then proceeded to drive his car. He had the misfortune to run into a ditch and they went on their way to investigate an accident, was arrested and taken to the police station.

This morning Hubbel pleaded guilty to the charge of driving his car while in charge of a car and received a sentence of seven days in the common gead of the County of Hastings. Besides this he must pay the costs of court, which amounted to $13. 25.

The accused committed his second error when he purchased a liquor permit from Frankford, which resulted from the cancellation of the last permit was up. He pleaded guilty to this offence also and they added $10 and costs. If he fails to pay the fine and costs he will spend an additional seven days in jail.

MUDDY ROADS

The rain of the last two days has transformed some of the Township Roads into a veritable quagmire. Yesterday more than one car slid into the ditch when the mud made traveling especially hazardous. The highways, of course, were not affected by the downpour but these treacherous Township and County Roads aren't sure-fire vehicle & accessories.

OPENING AT OAKSMERE

Snappy music featured the opening last night of Oaksmere, the Oak Lake Pavilion, near Stirling, and the happy crowd of young people who were present voted the Ben Ton Orchestra better than ever this year. The pavilion was nicely decorated in orange and black, set off by a multitude of cedar boughs, and although the rain [illegible] crowd was on hand and [illegible] will be continued Monday, Wednesday and Friday throughout the summer.

WHEN SUMMER COMES?

Sooner or later summer will be with us, but from the official weather report in Belleville yesterday it is quite a long way off. The highest the mercury climbed yesterday was to 50 degrees, and the lowest to 51. JUNE MEETING HOLLOWAY W.M.S.

Enjoyable Afternoon Is Spent At Home of Mrs. Arbuthnot

The June meeting of the W.M.S. of Holloway Church was held at the home of Mrs. Arbuthnot, Hillside Street, on Wednesday, June 6th at 2 p.m. The President, Mrs. Wight, presided and the meeting opened with the singing of the Doxology, the Lord's Prayer in unison followed. "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was then sung.

After the minutes were read and the business disposed of reports were given by the various secretaries. Mrs. Moore read the devotional leaflet and Mrs. Arbuthnot gave a reading. Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Kerr also contributed readings. Some excellent music was then given by Mrs. Arbuthnot. "The Missionary Spirit" was then read by Mrs. Mott and was much enjoyed by all.

The meeting was then closed by prayer by the President. Twenty-five members were in attendance and two visitors. Following the meeting dainty refreshments were served and a social half hour spent. At the conclusion a vote of thanks was tendered by the ladies to Mrs. Arbuthnot who proved herself an ideal hostess.

BADGLEY—HAMILTON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Hamilton, Tyendinaga Township on Thursday, was the scene of an unusually pretty wedding on Tuesday morning, June 5th at eleven o'clock.

It was the occasion of the marriage of Lillian Mildred, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Hamilton, to Ferry Colborne, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Badgley, Thurlow.

The bride daintily gowned in coral georgette trimmed with rhinestones and carrying Ophelia roses with Smilax and maiden hair fern entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin played by Bertha M. Gadsley, sister of the groom.

Rev. Isac Farrow-Silk did the officiating clergyman.

After the usual congratulations the immediate relatives and friends repaired to the dining room in pretake of a dainty luncheon amid floral decorations in white and mauve.

The bride travelled in French beige ensemble with hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Badgley will reside on the Third Concession of Thurlow.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

ELLEN WEESE

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Weese took place yesterday afternoon from the late residence, 2nd Concession Thurlow to Christ Church. The service at the home and church was conducted by the Rev. C. E. Clarke, and interment took place in Belleville Cemetery. Many friends were in attendance and a large number of floral offerings testified to the popularity of the deceased. The bearers were W. J. Hall, B. Dooley, D. McDonald, W. Gray, W. Donaldson and Harry Stock.

LORNE W. MARSH.

The remains of the late Lieutenant-Colonel W. Marsh were laid to rest yesterday afternoon, the funeral taking place from the late residence, 216 John Street, with the Rev. J. Lores of St. Thomas Church officiating at both services. Interment took place in the Belleville Mausoleum Vault. The bearers were, W. C. Mikel, H. F. Hutcheson, Wm. McIntosh, R. Goudy, A. Kidd and Col. R. Vanderwater.

HARRY HARPER.

At Tikehl and Sons Undertaking Parlours yesterday afternoon, the funeral of the late Harry Harper, well known business man of Belleville took place. The service was taken by the Rev. J. Lyons of St. Thomas Church, was also officiated at the grave. Many of the deceased man's friends paid a last final tribute to his memory, and a number of flowers showed the esteem in which he was held. The bearers were his intimate friends. Interment took place in Belleville Cemetery.

STANLEY WILSON.

The funeral of the late Stanley Wilson, infant son of Stanley H. Wilson, took place yesterday afternoon from the late residence, 22, Strachan Ave. Services were conducted by the Rev. A. K. McCutcheon, of Tabernacle United Church. Interment took place in Belleville Cemetery.

MARY ROSEVEAR

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ann Rose vear took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, Canifton. Interment was made in Elmwood Cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McMullen, assisted by Rev. Mr. Farnsworth.

The bearers were—H. Farnham, H. Boyce, A. Holgate, W. Reynolds, A. Maguire, J. Downing.

BLANCHE YOUKER

Mrs. Blanche L. Youker at 61 Octavia Street, died early this morning in Bellevile General Hospital. The late Mrs. Youker was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Wilkins. She was born in Belleville thirty-seven years ago. The deceased was a member of Christ Church. Surviving are, one daughter, Evelyn, at home, also her husband, E. C. Youker, four sisters, Mrs. A. Gibson, Belleville, Mrs. H. Vanzee, Belleville, Mrs. A. W. Middleton, Cobourg, and Mrs. H. Heinrich of Spokane, Wash. not considered serious until a week before he passed away. Death was from infirmities of age.

Two brothers, Harry Wilkins, Toronto, and Merrill Wilkins, Belleville, also Man.; and the Misses Lucy and Carrie Gill; also one brother Jack, of Roblin, Man.

MR. A. P. BROWN

The death occurred in Little Falls, N.Y., on Friday, May 18, of Arthur Proctor Brown. He had been failing since Christmas, but his condition was not considered serious until a week before he passed away. Death was from infirmities of age.

Mr. Brown was born in Ballacorra, Kilkenny County, Ireland, June 13, 1847. On April 24, 1872, he married Lydia Ann Doolittle of Kilmascon, and four years later they came to Canada. They settled in Desoronto when the place was young. When the Mechanics Institute (later the Public Library) was established Mr. Brown was appointed librarian, and for 34 years he filled that office. He was a keen student, and his love of books aided him in good stead in this position.

Surviving are Mrs. Brown, four sons and three daughters. They are Mrs. Harry B. Lane, the Misses Mamie and Kathleen and Wentworth Brown, of Little Falls, N.Y.; Samuel W. of Winnipeg, Man.; Arthur H. of Schenectady, N.Y.; and Robert L., of Belleville; and three grandchildren.

WILLIAM GILL

The death of William H. Gill, Trenton, came as a great shock to his host of friends ar" acquaintances.

The late Mr. Gill was born in England, coming to this country as a boy, and fifty years ago entered the employ of the Rathbe Co., Belleville. Later he was connected with the Gilmour Lumber Company, eventually becoming a partner in their successors, Gill & Fortune Lumber Co., Trenton.

Mr. Gill leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, Winnifred Evans Gill, two sons, E. F. Evans and W. J. Evans, at home; seven sisters, Mrs. C. L. Hawley, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. T. G. Bolton, Seattle; Mrs. T. F. Worley, Vancouver; Mrs. O. E. Fish, Portage La Prairie; Mrs. L. Whitan, Roblin.

News Of Movies

BELLE THEATRE

Adventure of the high seas, former Imperial Decrees of Czar and Love Romance! Treachery! Intrigue and Hate! All set forth in a struggle to the death on the floor of the Grand Ballroom! Thrills—and more—are in "The Cruise of the Hellion," the new super picture, produced and directed by Dell Worne, which, today begins a 3 days' engagement at the Belle Theatre. It is centred by a brilliant cast in which are included such popular players as Fran Gaal, Gladys Hulette, Donald Keith and Sheldon Lewis.

REGENT THEATRE

One of the most realistic and thrilling pictures of the dramatic episodes in the early west ever seen here in months is now being screened today at the Regent Theatre. It is "Wizard of the Saddle," FBO's talented vehicle for Buzz Barton, the juvenile western star.

Laid in the gold fields of California, "Wizard of the Saddle" is a swift-moving story of a youth's struggle to aid the United States secret service in the roundup of a gang of bandits and counterfeiters. There is not a slow moment in the entire picture, and still the story rings true.

STILL HAVE HOPES IN WOMAN'S RIGHTS

Montreal, Que. (C.P.)—Though no cheering progress in the field of women suffrage in the province of Quebec was reported at the annual meeting of the Provincial Franchise Committee, plans for the coming suffrage campaign were launched with unabated enthusiasm. Nor will the work cease over the summer. Convinced that the vote is not confined merely to a small group of women in Montreal, as some opponents of feminine suffrage suggest, the Provincial Franchise Committee is preparing petitions which will be circulated all over the province through various women's organizations or individually by members who are travelling about Quebec during the holidays. The names and the locations where they have been obtained will later be forwarded to the Government to show how universal is the demand for the vote.

LIQUOR SMUGGLERS LOSE BOAT AND CARGO IN LAKE

"Friendship's" Crew Expect To Take Off From Newfoundland Today – Former Leader Honored

PLAN START AT DAWN SATURDAY

Miss Mabel Boll And Male Companions Make Second Attempt

PACIFIC FLIGHT

Believe Radio Operator Picked Up Mistaken Signals

Curtiss Field, M. Y., June 8.—The monoplane Columbia with Miss Mabel Boll as passenger will probably make second attempt at dawn tomorrow to fly from here to Old Orchard, Maine, the first leg of the Trans Atlantic flight.

Captain Arthur Argles, of Toronto, co-pilot said that no attempt would be made today.

King's Bay, June 8.—Citta Di Mil, now was sending out insistent call to the missing dirigible Italia today but was unable to get any answer. It was feared that weak signals the vessel's radio operator said he picked up yesterday did not emanate from the missing airship.

Chicago, June 8.—Eugene McDonald, Arctic explorer and president of the Zenith radio corporation, and U. J. Hermann sportsman and theatre owner of South of Chicago, today revealed plans for a trans-Pacific flight to Japan this summer.

If the authorized flight would be made in Zenith Aluminum, Charles Rothwells and Albin K. Petersen, designers, would be the pilots. It was said Mr. Mcdonald and Herrmann might accompany them as passengers.

HEART DISEASE IS BLAMED FOR DEATH

Brockville, Ont., June 8.—The Coroner's jury which last night investigated the death of Stephen Vickery, aged 57, whose body was found in his bed, Wednesday morning returned a verdict that death had been caused by heart disease.

NEWSPAPERMEN MOURN PASSING

Death of John R. Bone Is Cause For Sincere Regret

Toronto, June 8.—Messages from public men and prominent journalists in all sections of the world are reaching the Toronto Daily Star today expressing sympathy for the sudden death of its managing editor, John R. Bone. In telegraphing his sympathy to Mrs. Bone, Premier Mackenzie King said: "My Colleagues join me in deploring the loss of one who has been a dynamic and helpful force in the Liberal Party. Liberals, especially in the Province of Ontario, and the late Mr. Douglas, Crawford, Foreign Editor of the London Daily Mail, called the sympathy of Lord Rothermere and the loss of one of its oldest and ablest correspondents and there are many tributes from American newspaper men. The funeral, which is to be private, will be held tomorrow afternoon.

TRAVELLING MAN DIES SUDDENLY

St. Catharines, Ont., June 8.—Wm. H. Young, Commercial traveller, with head-quarters at Iate at Detroit, but formerly of Brockville, expired last evening while reclining in a chair in his room at a local hotel where he was found by the hotel manager, who called about twenty minutes after Young had sent word to the office that he would "be right down".

Coroner Curry gave the cause of death as heart failure. A widow in Detroit and a father and mother in Ottawa survive.

WARMING UP

The weather man is treating us right these last two days. The mercury took a spoker down to 44 yesterday, the highmark of 74 degrees above, as against 52 degrees above the preceding day. This morning was a little colder, however, being six degrees cooler than yesterday morning, or forty-five degrees above.

RUM-RUNNERS LEAPED OVERBOARD WHEN CRAFT STARTED TO SINK

IS RECIPIENT OF BEAUTIFUL GIFT

The regular meeting of the Diary Lodge of the Royal True Blues, No. 30, took place last night when the members met and presented Mr. Ervin Hill with a beautiful electric lamp in honour of his recent marriage.

This address was read after which they retired to their homes.

June 7th, 1928.

Brother Hill, the members of Diary Lodge—of the Royal True Blues, No 30 ask you to accept this lamp as a slight token of respect. Reminding you that your fellow brothers do not forget you on your wedding day. When you gaze upon this lamp, it will remind you of your fellow brothers.

May God grant you and your wife, Rose, happiness and prosperity in your journey through life.

Signed on behalf of the committee:

Brother Loyd,
Brother McDonnel,
Brother A. Harris,
Master.

WILL DEDICATE NEW FLAG STAFF

On Sunday afternoon, at a special service at the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club the flag pole which has been erected to the memory of the late Mrs. R. J. Graham, will be formally dedicated.

Mrs. Graham, during her life time was closely associated with the Country Club. She was for some time President of the women members and was keenly interested in everything connected with the Club.

The flag pole has been erected by the directors by voluntary subscription among the members. The memorial was chosen as a fitting tribute to a lady whose memory is already treasured among her many friends in this city and district.

AFTERNOON TEA FEATURES OPENING OF BOWLING CLUB

An ideal day, from all standpoints, featured the opening day of the Lady Bowling Club held at the bowling green yesterday afternoon.

The earlier part of the afternoon was taken up with bowling, seven rinks being entered, Mrs. Hubley's rink carrying off the honours in this event.

Later, from five until six, a delightful afternoon tea was served by the club. Many guests, outside of the members of the club, were present, and the Clubroom presented a rich of colour. The tables were decorated with iris and bleeding-heart, while mauve and white lilacs featured the decorations of the clubhouse.

Mrs. Riggs, senior, presided at the tea table, pouring tea for the invited guests. This was the first tea of the year and it is to be hoped that the success attending yesterday's meeting is only a starter for future affairs of a similar nature.

TESTIMONIAL TO FORMER LEADER

Hon. Hugh And Mrs. Guthrie Signally Honored By Collegues

SINGULAR REPLY

Pledges Allegiance To Hon. R. B. Bennett And Conservative Party

Ottawa, June 8.—A remarkable tribute of affection was paid yesterday afternoon to Hon. Hugh Guthrie by his Conservative collegues in the House when the members met in the Conservative caucus room to do honor to the former House leader and Mrs. Guthrie. Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the opposition, presented Mr. Guthrie with a silver tray, on behalf of the Conservative members and to Mrs. Guthrie a gold mesh bag.

"This is an expression of esteem and regard and recognition of your services as leader of the party last session," said Mr. Bennett, in making the presentation. "No man has more deservedly commanded the affection and esteem of the Conservative members. This presentation is a testimonial of an appreciation which is small, such as the testimonial bore the name of all the members who co-operated so loyally with him during the 1927 session. This was not a valedictory speech, though, he pointed out for as long as South Wellington wished to have him as its representative he would be working in the ranks of the party behind Mr. Bennett.

on it are engraved the names of all the Conservative members of the House. Thr's gold mesh bag given to Mrs. Guthrie was chosen by Miss Mildred Bennett, daughter of the Conservative leader, for the members of the House.

CEMENT TROPHY TO BE UNVEILED

A week from tomorrow there will be unveiled at Point Ann the Portland Cement Trophy, awarded to the Belleville district for the entire year of 1927 without an accident.

This is a splendid record and the mill may well be proud of such a showing.

1927 saw every precaution of every nature thrown in regard to the prevention of accidents.

A luncheon is to be held at the Quinte Hotel on Saturday following which the party will proceed to Point Ann for the unveiling ceremonies. The invitations are due the officials who kept a clean sheet for No. 5 mill.

WIN FOR BRITAIN

German Defeated In European Competition For Davis Cup

Birmingtion, Eng., June 8.—Great Britain scored a second straight victory over Germany in the third round of the European Davis Cup competition today when J. C. Gregory defeated Otto Preissen, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0, retired. Preissen retired because of an injury to his right foot. Britain now needs only one more victory to clinch the series.

PRINCE EDWARD NATIVE PASSES

John S. Hough, K.C., Dies At Late Home In Winnipeg

Word was received in the city today of the death of John S. Hough, K.C., an outstanding figure in philanthropic effort and a pioneer barrister of Winnipeg, who passed away last night following a lengthy illness. The late Mr. Hough was a native of Prince Edward County, having been born in Picton, September 15th, 1854.

He was a member of the legal firm of Hough, Campbell and Ferguson of Winnipeg. He was also Honorary Association Corporation, Director of the North West Fire Insurance Company and Director of the Crescent Creamery Co.

Mr. Hough was educated at Cobourg Collegiate Institute and Upper Canada College. He was called to the Ontario Bar and in 1895 was created a K.C. He took up his residence in Winnipeg in 1881 and had practised law in that city ever since. In 1926 he was married to Julia Greene Chaffey of Los Angeles and his wife and one daughter and two sons survive. The late Mr. Hough was a Liberal in politics.

LEAKY OIL TANK

Undaunted, Miss Earhart Awaits Weatherman's Latest Report

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Repairs to the monoplane Friendship were completed today and it was stated that the transatlantic flight of Miss Amelia Earhart and her two companions, Pilot Stultz and Mechanic Gordon would start, this afternoon if the wind freshened, and other conditions remained favorable.

Leaky Tank

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Monoplane Friendship will not be able to hop off on its projected transatlantic flight until at least tomorrow morning. It was stated this morning when the lubricating tank of the plane was found to be badly in need of repairs. Had the plane hopped yesterday before its condition was discovered the trip would have been embarked before it was half way across the ocean.

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Fog and light snowstorms today prevented attempt early today to lift monoplane Friendship from harbor here and start for London.

TOBOGGAN WINNER OF OAKS STAKES

Epsom, Eng., June 8.—Lord Derby's "Tobogan" won the 148th renewal of the Oaks Stakes today, King George's "Scuttle", the favorite, was second, and S. Tattersall's "Figure", third. The betting was 100 to 15 against "Tobogan", 100 to 7 on "Scuttle" and 100 to 9 on "Figure."

Splendid Attendance At Meeting of Belleville Motor Club

Officers for 1928 were elected at the first meeting of the year of the Belleville Motor Club held in the Chamber of Commerce building last night. The president is Mr. J. W. Barlow; 1st. vice-president, T. D. Ruston; 2nd vice-president, J. D. Hamilton and secretary treasurer, J. O. Herity.

Besides these directors of the club were elected and will be Messrs. J. Leigh, J. Skelcher, G. E. Hanna, J. R. Bell, G. B. Smith and McKenzie Robertson.

Mr. Herity reported on the press that a good attendance had featured the meeting. Mr. Herity presented his treasurer's report, which showed a substantial surplus.

A special committee, composed of the president, 2nd vice-president and Mr. J. W. Lill, was appointed to enquire into traffic conditions in the city and make such recommendations as to changes that are necessary.

WOMAN MISSING FROM RENFREW

On May the 22rd, Mrs. Mary Desjardines left her home in Renfrew, 13 miles from Renfrew to go to the hospital at Ottawa to consult a skin specialist. It is known that she stayed that night in Renfrew, but since then nothing has been see or heard of her.

She is a woman of 38 years; five feet in height, and has dark brown hair and brown eyes. She was dressed in a brown coat when last seen and the rest of her garments being of the same general shade. For the past year or more Mrs. Desjardines has been in poor health, and she may be suffering from aphasia, a form of loss of memory. Any one who hears of anyone answering this description should get in touch with the Provincial Police at once, who will investigate.

THE WEATHER

Fresh southerly winds tonight and Saturday with showers and local thunderstorms.

Conditions Favorable On East Coast For European Flight

LEAKY OIL TANK

Undaunted, Miss Earhart Awaits Weatherman's Latest Report

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Repairs to the monoplane Friendship were completed today and it was stated that the transatlantic flight of Miss Amelia Earhart and her two companions, Pilot Stultz and Mechanic Gordon would start, this afternoon if the wind freshened, and other conditions remained favorable.

Leaky Tank

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Monoplane Friendship will not be able to hop off on its projected transatlantic flight until at least tomorrow morning. It was stated this morning when the lubricating tank of the plane was found to be badly in need of repairs. Had the plane hopped yesterday before its condition was discovered the trip would have been embarked before it was half way across the ocean.

Trepassey, Nfld., June 8.—Fog and light snowstorms today prevented attempt early today to lift monoplane Friendship from harbor here and start for London.

AMULET TAKES AN UPWARD TURN

Noranda Continues To Occupy Limelight On Mining Map

The market today saw tremendous buying in Amulet, Noranda, Mandy and Malartic, and higher prices are prevalent for all of them. Amulet gained 40c to $4.80 closing within 5c of the top. Barry Hollinger gained 12c to .92. Tock was heavily bought and gained 50c to $11.40. Int. Nickel was active around $27. Malartic and Mandy were heavily traded in but both closed off to $35.50 a gain on the day of $1.50 to $22 and Sudbury Basin after $5.85 and Treadwell Yukon gaining selling at $10.40 cased off to $10.40. It is quite apparent that important buying has been in progress and should it take a good bite into some of our Canadian issues. Sales today were reported by Homer L. Gibson & Co. Ltd., per Jamieson Bone, Manager, were as follow:

Abana 2.90; Amity 43; Amulet 4.80; Area 24; Bedford 22; Bidgood 64; Barry Hollinger 88; Central Manitoba 1.30; Castle Trethewey 61; Crown Reserve 1.30; Federal 1.45; Hollinger 69; Hollinger 14.50; Howey 90 Bid; Mandy Bay 17.50; International 70; Kerr 94.00; Jacknon Manion 81; Kirkland Lake 1.86 Bid; Keeley 70; Kontiki 2.10; Lake Rouge 85.50; Laval 19 1-2; McDougall 95; McIntyre 36.00; Mandy 2.35; Malartic 1.92; Mining Corp 3.50; Noranda 38.50; Nipissing 4.12; Newbec 45; Pend Oreille 15.05; Premier Gold 2.13; Sherritt Gordon 6.00; Sudbury Basin 10.45; Tough Oakes 36; Thrumbull Wilkins 22.00; Towagmac 2.00; Tock Hughes 11.40; Vipond 54; Wright Hargreaves 4.30.

ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Cleveland, June 8.—H. Walter, of Brockville, Ont., was yesterday elected chairman and executive of the Board of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Be fearful only of thyself, and stand in awe of none more than of thine own conscience.
—THOMAS FULLER.

WE CAN AFFORD TO KEEP OUR EXPORTS

A question of much importance to Canadian agriculture was placed before the House of Commons last week by C. C. Cooke, the member of parliament for MacLeod, Alberta. That was the question of the salaries paid to highly trained experts who are doing research work into the cause and extermination of diseases and pests which annually do millions of dollars of damage to Canada's crops, particularly in the west. Mr. Cooke showed that these men, highly trained in work of a technical nature, are receiving salaries which are fragrantly small in comparison with those paid to the men doing the same work in the United States. It may be said, in reply, that the United States can afford, by reason of its wealth and greater population, to pay higher salaries than Canada, but in a matter of this kind, with millions of dollars a year at stake, surely a few thousand dollars of expenditure should not be permitted to stand in the way of Canada retaining these experts. That was the point raised by Mr. Cooke, and he illustrated the condition which he attacked in a forceful manner.

Among those who have left this branch of the public service in the last few years are two highly trained scientific officers, each holding a doctor's degree. These men resigned from the entomological branch of the department of agriculture, one to accept a position in the United States federal service at $4,500 a year, and the other to accept a position in the Fiji Islands at $7,500 a year. They had been receiving salaries in Canada, of $3,700 a year, with a maximum for their class of approximately of $2,880. Is it not rather a reflection on the Canadian government, as Mr. Cooke pointed out, that the Fiji Islands could afford to pay a technical expert nearly three times as much as he received in his own country?

Is it any wonder that these experts in agricultural research are leaving Canada to work for other countries which give them remuneration in keeping with the value of their services? Canada cannot hope to keep men of this calibre in its employ so long as it refuses to pay them a decent salary for the work they are doing. The saving of millions of dollars a year means much more to this country than the payment of a few thousand dollars more in salaries to the men who are doing this work. In the reply of the government spokesman, to the effect that the salaries were fixed by the civil service commission, and could not be changed by the government, will hardly salve the people of this country. Has not the Canadian parliament the power to instruct the Civil Service Commission to pay these men salaries which will ensure that they will continue in the service of this country, which needs them so much?

FIFTY PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

J. F. Phalipoi of Corbyville had a 'Garden City' bicyle stole, from his porch last evening.

At Bleecker Avenue Parsonage yesterday, by the Rev. J. J. Rice, Mr. Geo. S. Kerr was united in marriage to Miss Annie Stoutt, daughter of John Stoutt of this city. Mr. Edmund Kerr, brother of the groom assisted him and Miss Fannie Lambert was bridesmaid.

The funeral of Mrs. Fred Williams, who died in Toronto, took place from the G. T. R. station to the cemetery today. Mrs. Williams was formerly Miss Florence Stewart, daughter of the late Dr. Jas. D. Stewart of this city.

Col. Ponton and Capt. Stewart will speak at the Y. M. C. A. entertainment tonight.

Mr. A. W. Finkle is visiting in Toronto.

Mr. H. Corby is at the Rossen House, Toronto.

SONG OF THE SIRENS

This is the song the sirens sang,
Combing their hair as the ships went by,
Combing their golden hair on the beach,
And flinging their milk-white arms to the sky:

Let me break your heart for you,
Never need you fear,
I will do it gently,
So you even you will hear
The tinkle of the pieces as it shatters from the blow,
Let me break your heart for you,
Beauty does it so.

You may go a-sailing
Leave behind a tear,
Sighs, and tearful sorrow
Women-folk can fret you
For women-folk to wear.
With dull, unlovely woe,
They can keep your heart intact
If you wish it so.

Let me break your heart for you,
Slowly, year by year,
Keeping hearts will wither them,
Leave them hard and sere,
I can show you loveliness the gods will never know,
Let me break your heart for you,
Beauty does it so.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND SLAVERY

To The Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Just a little space, please, for a few quotations from those illustrious, scholarly, non-Catholic, historical authorities on the above concerning statements made in your Tuesday's issue by Rev. Mackie in his sermon. The statement as quoted in your journal is: "Rome had sixty million slaves and you may say that the Christian Church defended that evil, but in doing that she was Pagan. Now hear what the historian Lecky (the Council excluded the master for ever from Communion. The chastity of female slaves, for the protection of which the civil law made but little provision, was zealously guarded by the legislation of the Church. Slave birth was no disqualification for entering into the priesthood, and an emancipated slave's name was the greatest and most wealthy kneeling humbly at the baptismal font to confession or his benediction. In the next place the Church imported a moral dignity to the slave class. It did this not only by associating poverty and labor with the monastic life but by introducing the ideal type of Christ's teachings into morals.

"The multitude of slaves who embraced the New Faith was one of the reproaches of the pagans, and many slave names like Diadine, Fotadingens, Victorious, etc., show how fully they shared in the glories and martyrdoms of the early Church. The first and grandest edifice of Byzantine, architecture in Italy, the noble Church of St. Vital at Ravenna was dedicated to the memory of a martyred slave. We see St. Ambrose, the great Bishop of Milan selling his rich church ornaments to rescue some slaves from the Goths; and down through the centuries or through the middle ages we see orders of monks founded for the express purpose of redeeming slaves and captives through the wide world; such as St. John de Matha and St. Peter Nolasco.'

Anglican historian, says: 'From the fifth, after she got freed from persecution to the thirteenth century, the Church was the mighty witness for light in an age of pagan darkness, for order in an age of lawlessness, for personal holiness in age of licentiousness. Amid the disputism of kings and the turbulence of aristocracies, it was an inestimable blessing that there should be a power which by the unarmed majesty of goodness made the haughtiest and boldest respect the poor, and lowly to respect the interests of justice and tremble at the temperance, righteousness and judgment to come. The Catholic Church did this and the great miracle is that she alone survived through these ages.' 'The Victories of Christianity' p. 115.

Another historical expert writing in the North American Review says: 'In those middle ages the Church was in truth the real life of Europe. She was the refuge of the distressed, the emancipator of the slave, the helper of the injured, the only hope of learning. To her charity owed its noble inspiration, to her art and agriculture looked for every improvement. The ruler learned justice from her; the ruled learned faith and obedience. Through the middle ages she was the only friend and advocate of the people and of the rights of man. To her influence was it owing that through all that strange era the slaves of Europe were better protected by law than are now the full blacks of the U. S. by the National Statutes.' North American Review, July, 1845, p.36.

So you see Mr. Editor that real scholars and thinkers are brushing aside the traditional anti-Catholic propaganda of the last four hundred years rereading history and seeing for themselves the glorious work the Ancient Church did for God and humanity in those terrible ages and in spite of the awful odds against her. Canon Ferrer says: 'Although in first centuries she was the youngest institution she saw them all left behind and fall, but she goes on through the ages because she has the promise of Christ. Understood by many and misunderstood by many more, just the same today.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

NO CRIMINAL COURT

For the first time this week no criminal court was held in the police station this morning. The past week has seen a particularly busy session in criminal circles in Belleville.

CLOSING EXERCISES

Closing exercises will be held at Albert College tonight, starting at eight o'clock. A delightful entertainment is promised, the night taking the form of a series of one-act plays. Under the able direction of Miss Jessie B. Tibbs these are promised to be of first class character and the guests will no doubt spend a most pleasant evening.

ARMOURIES DANCE

Although the floor was not crowded, an enjoyable dance was presented at the Armouries last night, starting early in the evening. The same orchestra that supplied music for the Military Ball was in attendance and furnished splendid music.

SCARTED CHECKING UP

The police have commenced checking up on drivers who do not obey stop street signs. For the past two days a steady stream of violators of this city by-law have been pouring into police court. There were at least seven cases today, and all were fined $3 with no costs. It's cheaper to stop!

LEGION DANCE

Another of the ever-popular euchres and dances will be presented under the auspices of the Canadian Legion in the Legion Hall this evening. These entertainments have become a regular feature and are most popular with the younger set in the city.

TOURIST TRAFFIC

This week saw the beginning of the really heavy tourist traffic coming through Belleville. Especially autoists from Ford Quebec are making this city their stopping point. Three cars from New York State and several from other points in the United States were noticed passing through Belleville today.

SOCCER NEXT MONDAY.

Point Anne and the Canadian Legion will play a return soccer game on Monday evening next at the Pine Street School grounds. The Legion team was defeated in a recent game at the Point and they have been practising faithfully in preparation for the return fixture when they hope to turn the tables on their rivals. The kick-off will take place promptly at 8.15. The Canadian Legion team confirms the names of several well-known players and this game should be real interesting and a splendid turn-out of fans is anticipated. It is reported that the visitors will be accompanied by a large number of supporters.

LEFT FOR NEBRASKA

Mrs. E. Irvine, of 29 Cider Street, left on the early train Wednesday morning to accompany her brother, the Rev. T. Porter Bennett back to his home in York, Nebraska. The Rev. T. Porter Bennett came East two weeks ago at the death of his mother, Mrs. Jessica Bennett, and while here received the shocking news of the death of his wife in Nebraska. The latter was buried in Tweed on May the 27th. Mrs. Irvine stopped off for a few hours at her sister's, Mrs. E. G. White in Toronto, at whose home the Rev. T. Porter Bennett had been staying for a few days before continuing West.

VISITED FRANKFORD

On Saturday evening last several carloads, members of Lydia, L.O.B.A. and Benjamin L.O.L., motored to Frankford to visit the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association of that place. A pleasant evening was spent. M. W. Brother Green, Grand Chaplin of British America, gave an address, closing by saying that he brought to them greetings from their Belleville sisters and brothers and also the love with which the L.O.B.A. were for the large turnout at the celebration. Sister Bell then presented a well bound copy of the Sacred Scriptures, the foundation of all Orange principles.

Social and Personals

Mr. W. A. Gilroy, Reeve of Wollaston Township, was in the City yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Neale, well known Belleville people, motored to Montreal today, and will sail tomorrow for England and the Continent.

S. K. Brogden of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Co. is in Kingston today attending a meeting of the District Inspectors.

Col. Roscoe Vanderwater was a visitor in the city yesterday. Col. Vanderwater recently returned from a trip to Hancroft and the northern part of Hastings County.

Mr. Geo. Mather of Vancouver, B.C., is visiting his sisters, Mrs. G. E. Campbell and Mrs. Isaac Gibb of Belleville.

Miss Roods of Toronto and her sister, Miss Mary E. Roods, left on the night for Montreal where they will sail from on a trip to England.

Miss Edna Noyes who has been spending a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Proats, 13 Rissary Street has returned to her home in Crookston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bateman, Mr. Edgar Bateman and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Backus have returned from an extended motor trip to Niagara Falls, Hamilton and New York City.

Among the passengers of the S.S. Empress of France which docked in Southampton yesterday were Mrs. McCoil, Miss Hudson and Mrs. Ackerill of this city.

Master Reginald Aselstine, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Aselstine, S. Front Street, who recently underwent a serious operation at the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, is making favorable progress. Mrs. Aselstine accompanied her son to Toronto and will remain with him for some time.

An interesting social function took place this afternoon when Mrs. W. Strachan, Cedar St., received for the first time since her marriage. The rooms were beautifully decorated with lilacs and tulips against a background of banked ferns and soft shaded lights gave an added decorative touch.

Mrs. Strachan gowned in poudre blue georgette received the guests and Mrs. G. T. Strachan wearing orchid georgette received with her. The dining room was decorated in shades of yellow and the tea table looked particularly pretty with tall yellow candles in silver candlesticks and centred with a large silver basket of yellow tulips. Mrs. Harry Naylor poured tea and assisting in the serving were Miss Vera Berry, Miss Marjorie Lynch, Mrs. Harry Sharpe, Miss Joe Bormer and Mrs. Beale. The guests were admitted by little Miss Agnes Bland.

MALLORY—GUNTER

The ceremony which united in marriage Violet May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gunter and Mr. William W. Mallory, was performed at 9.30 a.m., on Monday, June 4th at The home of the bride's parents, Rev. Albert Gunter, of Gilmour, cousin of the bride, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride a particularly attractive young lady, was becomingly dressed in a handsome dress of white crepe and georgette with customary bridal veil and she carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father who led her to an arch of white blossoms under which the ceremony took place. The groom has until recently been residing in Toronto, but has friends as well as those of the bride, are residents of Murray Township. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

Shortly after the wedding, the happy young couple left for Hamilton and other points by motor, on a short honeymoon trip.

HENDY—WILLIAMS

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on June 4th at 7 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spicer, of Trenton, when her youngest brother David John Hendy was united in marriage to Miss Ivy Williams, of Montreal. Both the bride and groom being Soldiers of the Salvation Army of Trenton, they were married under the army flag and the bride was becomingly and fittingly attired in an Army uniform with white army girdle.

LOOK AT YOURSELF RIGHT IN THE FACE

By Dr. Louis K. Bisch.

It takes courage to have a heart-to-heart talk with yourself. It takes a brave man and a brave woman to prepare fearlessly the finest self.

Every one of you ready to shirk (have I spoken, am I willing to offer service for)? How many of us have ever settled down to frank and free communion with that other self of ours—the self within—bent upon learning to know ourselves as we are?

Every human being is constantly on the defensive.

Every man, woman and child resents any attack that threatens his serenity and his self-esteem.

Look back and you will find that seldom, if ever, have you admitted you were entirely wrong at fault.

Review your life and you will be surprised how little you have changed.

You will be astonished, for instance, how slightly you have benefited by your mistakes.

Is not your code of conduct—despite annual and renewed New Year's resolutions—about the same as it was ten years ago? Don't you harbor just about the same likes and dislikes as you ever did?

Are not your prejudices about as rock-bound as when you emerged from adolescence? And observe the way you think—and see how strongly you resent any interference with your cherished notions.

Especially observe your actions toward people who criticize you in contrast to your reactions toward those who flatter you and praise you.

Yes, the truth hurts. It always hurts the most when it is an unpleasant fact about yourself.

But—of what use is it to live in a "fool's paradise"? Do you get anywhere by "kidding yourself," as current vernacular would say?

Although we like to beguile ourselves to put ourselves on the back, what we need is to face ourselves squarely and unflinchingly. Then and then only will we correct our faults. Then and then only will we be able to develop ourselves to our highest possible potentialities.

Never "square your conscience"! Always practise self-truth!

Then will come self-mastery!

Practise daily a correct mental attitude toward every relation, every condition, every circumstance of life.

Don't hide—evade!

Come out into the open and have a real, honest-to-goodness heart-to-heart talk with yourself.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Drawn thread work on crepe and eyelet embroidery on fine flannel is one of fashion's latest whims.

Hemp bags are a new Paris fancy to go with the beach pajamas. They are very suitable for sports wear, for color goes well with grey and beige for shopping in the morning, and so on, as they wear for ages, while their dull enembles for sport.

When the pull-over is rather short it makes an excellent top for one of the new flounced or gored skirts, fatetas, or silk alpaca, but a waist belt may be worn if desired, and then the more correct finish for the "top" takes the form of folds caught in by an ornament of semi-precious stones matching the dress.

A London lampshade firm's manager declares: "There are four vital colors. Take for reminders, orange for the intellectual life, red—the color of Mars—for vigor and fullness, green for hygiene, and light diffused through these colors has a definite psychological effect, while lambskin and a woodship fabric are two of the effective materials used in these shades on show."

"Oh, I would Celia," declared the invalid. "She's so pleasant and chatty. She tells me all the news, when she comes in from her walks. That's pleasant, for a shut-in like myself."

"How are you feeling this afternoon, darling?"

"Not very well," answered her husband. "Celia, I'm beginning to worry frightfully. Why doesn't your husband come to see you and me? . . . Celia have you been to me? Are you really married? Tell me!"

CHAPTER XI.
THE BRAVE RESOLVE.

There was no longer any choice. For her mother's sake, to lull the suspicion that was torturing her, she must humble her pride and do an unconventional and dangerous thing. She must ask Annesley to pose for a day as her husband. There was no one else to whom she could appeal.

Then she realized that, when she had described this non-existent husband to her mother, it was Annesley who had stepped into the picture. She described him as tall. She was thankful now that it had. She shuddered to think of the predicament she would be in now, had she described her imaginary husband as blond.

Over her breakfast, she decided that she would go to New York and make the would go to New York and make her request in person. A letter, with all the necessary explanations would be too difficult. Then, too, she must discuss with Annesley a plan of action. To wait until he arrived in town — if he did so — would entail too much delay.

She wired him: 'Am coming to New York. Leaving today. Please arrange to see me tomorrow afternoon.'

She dictated the message over the telephone and immediately regretted having done so. For, as luck would have it, the saw Miss Page hovering in the hall as she had hung up the receiver. There was a knowing smirk on Miss Page's face.

Celia had a moment of indecision. Should she make some casual remark regarding her message, or leave it unexplained? It was obvious that the woman thought that she was not going to New York solely to meet her husband.

Celia finally decided to say nothing, and went up to her mother.

'Dearest, I'm leaving you, for a little while. I've received a letter from Richard. He's coming to see you, but he wants me to join him in New York and make the return journey with him.'

Mrs. Drew uttered a little cry of satisfaction.

'How happy that makes me! I was greatly worried, Celia, for fear all was not well between you and your husband. Go, by all means, my dear child. A change will do you good, and it will be so wonderful to see him again, won't it? You must have missed him dreadfully.'

'Dreadfully!' said Celia, with a fervor that she did not feel.

'I'll keep an eye on your bailiwick during your absence. . . . And good luck to you.'

Horace Vail passed them at the station entrance.

FLY-TOX PROTECTION NEEDED

THIRTY DIFFERENT DISEASES ARE TRANSMITTED BY FLIES

Flies are the filthiest insect known. They deposit germs in three ways. By contact, vomit spots and excreta. They taint everything they touch. Fly-Tox kills flies. It is a safe, stainless, fragrant, sure. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL kinds of pests. Insist on Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Fly-Tox brings health, comfort and cleanliness.—Adv.

'Leaving us so soon, Mrs. Falconer?' he asked politely.

'Going to New York, to join my husband. He's returning with me, I think.'

Gwen, looking after him, made a wry grimace.

'My dear, he's still mad about you. My advice is to keep your Annesley man out of Vail's sight. If there's any way to ferret out something unpleasant, you can trust Vail to do it.'

'I'll keep him out of everybody's sight, except Mother's. You can depend on that,' Celia promised grimly. 'It's too dangerous a business.'

'Oh, at least, let the sex himself,' pleaded Gwen. He sounds so attractive. And, after all, I'm in the secret, and you can always count on me. You know that.'

Early the following afternoon in New York, Celia put on her prettiest frock and prepared to go to Annesley's office. But she knew that he would not be free until after four o'clock, so she ordered a car, stopped at a florist's shop, and bought a great sheaf of roses. She had a swift vision of a big room, flooded with sunlight; of a fire that crackled cheerfully in a magnificent fireplace; of a man on a low couch near a window, his face drawn with pain, but his eyes bright and kindly.

The flattering softness of the kerchief about the neck has been recognized by those of many centuries, both smartest and modern as a valuable asset to dress. It is, as you again, the bit of a triangle worn to give hide-and-go-seek with the sights of various parts. It is good for a while only to be retired and adopted to the prevailing mode. Be old and new as new, it becomes a predominant feature in this season's fashion. In the frock above it serves as a part of the dress and itself preserves the harmony of the whole costume. Tied in a knot at one shoulder with the ends falling over the other, the kerchief is as new and smart as the modern woman for those of elaborate lace and ruffles were in the Colonial dames or the stiffly starched kerchief was to the Puritan maid. This one-piece dress is farther made distinctive by the unusual arrangement of colors. The sash brought about the hips and tied in a soft bow at the side is a flexible note characteristic of the Spring. The use of printed cotton crepe de Chine or silk crepe and trimmed in the plain material is harmonious with the figure, this frock is smart and chic for any informal occasion.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of 17, and have been going with a boy of 21, who is married but is separated from his wife. We loved each other dearly and were engaged. But when my parents found out he was married they refused to let me see him. And as I am young I would like to have your advice on whether I am in the wrong by wanting to go with him?

B. D. B.

B. D. B.: Your parents were certainly right. Unless the young man has divorced and free to become engaged to you, you were doing a very wrong thing, my dear. A separation does not constitute freedom; therefore the young man had no right to act as he did in the matter. Your wisest course is to forget the whole thing and find happiness in the friendship of many. You are very young to be thinking seriously of marriage, so why not take your parents' advice and enjoy your youth?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Could you advise me as to what would be proper to give a girl friend for her birthday? I have only been out with her a few times, having just met her recently. She is 21 years old. BLACKIE.

BLACKIE Flowers, books or candy, Blackie, are about the only things you could send the young lady. Or perhaps a subscription to her favorite magazine. These are the most conventional gifts when you have but a slight acquaintance with the lady.

Far better is a little less than a long sorrow.

BID FAREWELL TO MISS M. WARD

Popular Bethel Girl To Wed Soon.—Presentations Made

(Contributed)

On Monday evening June 4th over a hundred friends and neighbors gather ed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Heath Bethel, to spend a social evening evening with Miss Mary Ward before her departure from our midst.

Rev. Mr. Joblin acting as chairman called on Miss Mildred Riddell, to read the following address after which Miss Helen Green made the presentation:

Stirling Ont.,
June 4th, 1928.

Miss Mary Ward,

Dear Mary:

It is as always on an occasion like this with a mingling of joy and regret that we, your fellow members of the Unity Sunday School Class at Bethel, ago gathered here tonight, joy, that we share with you as you go above to enter that time-old custom of changing your name for that of another and leaving the home that has sheltered you through childhood, for that of the man who is bestowing upon you the greatest gift man can bestow, that of his name; and regret that we shore with one another that we are losing you from our midst.

We will miss your smiling face, your glad and cheery word radiated from a bright and sunny disposition, not only in our Sunday School Class but in all our social gatherings here at Bethel and we ask you to accept this casement not for its intrinsic value, but as a token of our love and appreciation of your life here among us. Hoping that it may through a long prosperous and happy wedded life ever remind you of

With the opening of the 1928 Atlantic flying season, three young women have acquired aeroplanes and today are completing preparations for the take-offs which might bring them the honor of being the first of their sex to complete the crossing in the illustration ABOVE, (1) is Miss Thea Rasche, the German aviatrix, who has received delivery of the Bellanca plane in which she hopes to go to her homeland; (2) is Miss Amelia Earhart Boston social worker, who is at present in Trepassy, Nfld., having gained an early advantage in the contest; She has Lew Gordon and Wilmer Stutz, both experienced women, as her crew of the monoplane Friendship, in which she plans a hop to England with Southampton as her probable destination; she is pictured in her graduation robes; (3) is another study of Miss Earhart in flying costume; (4) is Miss Mabel Bell, the Queen of Diamonds, who is planning a hop in the monoplane Columbia, in which Charles A. Levine flew to Germany last, year; Capt. Arthur Argles and Oliver C. Boutilier, former Canadian air force fliers, are the pilots, Argles is a native of Toronto. (5) is Lady Frederick Guest, wife of a commander in the British navy, who is backing the flight of Miss Amelia Earhart.

Signed on behalf of the Bethel Unity Class.

Following this Mrs. Leona Snider read an address from the Ladies Aid of Bethel, expressive of their appreciation of her sterling character. Mrs. John Farrell presenting the comforter.

Stirling, Ont.,
June 4th, 1928

Dear Mary:

We, the members of Bethel Ladies Aid, With some deliberation and due consideration,

Appoint two of our members, mature and staid,

To carefully select for wear and duration,

Some Chintz, that was washable and would not fade,

And sewing be met with needles and thimble,

And fashioned with fingers quick and nimble,

This quilt for you my pretty maid,

And, on you tonight we've made this pillow you're laid.

To bring the quilt we built;

And with it there comes the prayers of the Aid,

That your lives will be happy and edged with gilt,

And, when your tired heads on the pillow you're laid,

Your work is done and your prayers you've said,

And the day into dreamland is beginning to fade,

May your rest quilt remind you of the old Ladies Aid.

After the reading of these address to which Mary made suitable replies the prospective bride and groom proceeded to open the parcels composing the miscellaneous shower of gifts from the community. Lunch was then served, after which the gathering broke up.

OAK LAKE IDEAL SUMMER RESORT

United Church Will Conduct Training School On North Shore

Oak Lake will be a busy summer resort this year as along with the regular campers and cottagers there will be some two hundred persons attending the Training School on the north shore. The Tabernacle which was formerly operated every summer by one of the Protestant churches for Camp Meetings has been sold to the United Church and repairs and alterations have already been begun. It is proposed to use it as a Summer School, and it is thought that the students will sleep in tents on the north shore of the lake.

This is an ideal spot for a Summer School, as the Oak Hills are famous in the fact that they harbour no mosquitoes as well as possessing one of the prettiest sand bates in this province.

Oak Lake has no entrance or outlet, that is, none which can be traced and the theory is that there is a subterranean passage which makes the water away, as it is always fresh and clear. The Lake is situated on the top of the Oak Hills, and is at least three hundred feet higher than the surrounding country. The Trent River is more than two miles away to the west, and one would surmise that the water from Oak Lake would empty into the river.

Rattlesnakes Unknown

Oak Lake is reputed to "have no bottom", and although this could hardly be said to be a fact, there is a hole in the center of the lake, where bottom has yet to be found although efforts have been made to locate it.

Last summer some of the younger campers dredged an enormous mound from their craft, and although grappling irons of every description were tried, nothing more has been seen of the mound. Whether it went to the bottomless pit or whether it was buried so deep in the silt which covers part of the bottom is not known, but the mystique apparently has been lost.

Geographic research has revealed that Oak Lake is the same level as Lake Erie, and that some underground passage connects the two. This is quite feasible, as the Lake on the Mountain, near Picton, is the same height above Lake Ontario as Lake Erie and is another phenomenon after the manner of Oak Lake.

In the spring young lake trout, which are not conveyed in any way, have been found, floating dead in the water of this lake.

MONTHLY MEETING MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of John St. United Church was held in the Lecture room on Wednesday afternoon, June 6th, Mrs. Cook presiding.

The meeting was opened with hymn "The Son of God goes forth to war". Scripture election read by Mrs. Wm. McIntosh and prayer by Mrs. Armstrong. Hymn "Faith of our Fathers" after which the Treasurer and Secretary's reports were received.

Mrs. (Dr.) Bishop then gave a most interesting talk on the "group system" which was very much appreciated. After the singing of Hymn "On Master let me walk with thee", it was decided to hold a closing meeting the first Thursday in July. The meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Light refreshments were then served. By the social convenor, Mrs. R. Boyle and a pleasant half hour followed.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

MRS. HUTTON PASSES

Trenton, June 8.—After an illness attending over some time, Sarah C. Wellman, widow of the late Thomas E. Hutton, died at her home here at the age of 73 years. Deceased was born in the village of Markham in 1856, and has been a resident of Trenton for over 50 years. Her husband predeceased her about a year-and-a-half. She leaves to mourn her daughters and their parents. The sons are William, Sumner, of Trenton; Stanley, of Ottawa. The daughters, Mrs. C. P. Duquette, of Trenton; Mrs. J. M. Wright, of North Bay; and Miss Eva, at home. Three brothers also remain to mourn. Mr. James Wellman, of Belleville; Mr. Geo. Wellman, Lindsay; and Mr. John Wellman, of Gilmour. Mrs. Hutton was a member of Grace United Church and a woman of excellent Christian character.

THOMAS CALLAGHAN

The funeral of Mr. Thomas Callaghan, son of Denis and Mary Callaghan, of Marmyrtle, was held from his home in Deseronto at 9 o'clock on June 2nd at St. Vincent de Paul church. Mass was celebrated. His remains were laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery at Deseronto. Mr. Callaghan succumbed on May 31 years ago. There are left to mourn his loss, one daughter Myry, of New York, and Thomas, of North Frankford. The flowers and mass cards were very numerous Mr. Callaghan was manager of the Rathbun Lumber Co. for over 65 years. The bearers were H. M. Rathbun, C. W. Wright, J. C. McAvoy, J. C. Brennen, J. C. Burns and V. P. Fox.

MIRA ANN SPENCER

One of the old esteemed residents of Trenton, Mrs. Mira Ann Spencer, entered into rest on Monday, June 4th, 1928, in her 86th year. On May 11th of this year, the late Mrs. Spencer suffered a stroke but retained all her faculties and apparently suffered little pain up until the time of her death.

ROBERT F. CARTER

The funeral of the late Robert F. Carter who died in Detroit Memorial Hospital on Sunday, June 3rd took place from the home of his sister, Mrs. Samuel Ellis, at Consecon on Tuesday, June 6th, at 1.30.

The deceased was 46 years of age. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow who was formerly Miss Jennie Coulter, his daughter, Mrs. Alex. Hamilton, of Louisville, Ky.; and three sons, Phillip Norman and Howard, all of Detroit. Five brothers, Jas. H., Pirfon; Edward of Thomasburg; George H., of Wellburn, Sask.; Charles of Consecon; Wesley of Bloomfield; and four sisters, Mr. Frank Jones and Mrs. W. W. Miller, of Consecon; Mrs. Wr. L. Ketcheson, Tweed; and Mrs. Samuel Riddell, of Shannonville, also survive. The Reverend H. C. L. Seymour assisted by the Reverend Mr. Hawley conducted the funeral service. Interment was made in Plainfield Cemetery. (Picton papers please copy.)

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bardy, of Shannonville, died on Thursday. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon.

MANY PAY RESPECTS TO LATE MRS. WEESE

Friends from far and near attended the funeral of the late Mrs. C. H. Weese which was held on Wednesday afternoon last. Mrs. Weese was an old and honoured resident of the 2nd concession of Thurlow and had a host of friends. The funeral took place from the home to Christ Church, where the Reverend C. E. Clarke conducted the beautiful service of the Church of England. Mr. Clarke also conducted the service at the house.

From the church the cortege went to the Belleville Cemetery where interment took place. The pall bearers were Wesley Gray, Harry Stock, D. McDonald, W. R. Hart, Wesley Donaldson and Bert Docter. A multitude of flowers was in evidence and the esteem in which the deceased was held was exemplified by the many mourners at the graveside.

Included among those were Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald and son, of Pittsburg; Mrs. A. F. Reid of Kingsmere and Mrs. W. J. Taylor, of Duffield, Alberta, a niece of the deceased woman. Mr. McDonald was a brother of the late Mrs. Weese.

BELLE THEATRE

There's something about the sea that gets 'em all—young and old—male and female alike. That is why the engagement of "The Cruise of the Helion", which is showing now at the Belle Theatre—it will remain there, by the way, for one more day—bids fair to be one of the outstanding events of the present theatrical season.

Duke Worne, in the dual capacity of producer and director, has taken a great yarn and made it into a great picture, putting therein all of those elements which have come to be associated with stories of the sea, plus several more which his great ingenuity in directing has evolved.

There's something doing every inch of the way in "The Cruise of the Helion"—in fact, as the saying goes, there's not an idle moment. The story moves at lightning pace from start to finish and is filled to the brim with action, suspense and romance.

REGENT THEATRE

Counterfeiters in the guise of fake [illegible] operations of the United States secret service and a youthful ranger rider furnish many thrills in "Heart of the Saddle," an FBO Western classic featuring the sensational Western juvenile star, Buzz Barton, now playing at the Regent Theatre.

Barton is supported by James Welch, Dukes Thompson, Jimmy Ford, Bert Apling, Spotd Pine, Frank Griffith and many other well known screen players.

She Gained Weight With McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets

You remember of course—not so long ago she was a regular scarecrow—skinny is a mild word for the way she looked.

Just look at her now—if ever a woman had a perfect figure she has it—she is in the envy of all the girls in town.

It's nothing to get excited about—all she did was to take up weight—fill out on the hollows in face neck and chest—any skinny, weak, run down woman can do the same and gain a clean clear complexion at the same time.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this [illegible] guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Liver Extract Tablets or 2 one dollar boxes any thin underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds or feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

PLANTERS' GIRLS COME HERE WITH FINE REPUTATION

Beavers Will Stack Up Against Smart Club Tomorrow

The Flanders' Recreation Club who will play the Beavers here in two games tomorrow, have introduced a new trend in girls' softball uniforms by adopting a new type of suit for their players. This new uniform is a radical departure from the conventional style. It is designed along the lines of a man's baseball uniform but its features appear to be relieved by the club's colors, Caldon Blue and Gold, which gives a decided feminine effect to this unique uniform. The Toronto Fans all have predicted that this new style of uniform would be adopted by the majority of the girls teams in the Queen City next summer. Another interesting feature of the Flanders Recreation Club is the number of out-of-town exhibition games played by their teams. During their first season of operation, the 1927 season, their intrepedatic team visited more cities and towns to play exhibition games than any other girls' team in Ontario. Fourteen different softball centres were visited last season. These were: Hamilton; Guelph; Owen Sound; Brantford; St. Catharines; Galt; Kitchener; Guelph; Owen Sound; Brantford; London; Newmarket and Port Hope. This season Otto Lee, their business manager, has already booked up a large number of games for both the "Peanuts" and the "Peanutts." The "Peanuts" have already played in Mount Dennis; Long Branch and Trenton, while Belleville will be the first trip for the "Peanuts" who will also play in Owen Sound on Saturday June 23rd. The "Beavers" in arranging the exhibition game have given the local fans an excellent opportunity to compare the class of ball played by the local girls with that played by the fast teams of Toronto because the "Peanuts" team consists of players that have played last season with the better class of teams in the Queen City.

FIVE GAMES IN KI-Y SOFT BALL

Players And Managers Are Warned Against League Infractions

Five games were played in the KI-Y Softball League yesterday evening and a sixth should have taken place but the opposition failed to put in an appearance.

In the Bantam group St. Michael's broke into the win column when they successfully turned back the Beavers by the score of 13 to 11. Cardinals on the other hand lost their first game of the series to date to the Golden Bantam nine who staged a heavy hitting attack last night rounding in a 21 to 11 win for them.

Orioles who were scheduled to play the Flying Canadians at the Bleecker Avenue Grounds, failed to show up and accordingly the games will be awarded the latter aggregation by default. Royals had the edge on the Nationals in the other Midget fixture which was played at the Queen Alexander School. The score of this game was 13-3.

The Juvenile section saw two fast games between Maple Leafs and Sikhs Wolves and West Hill Pounders. The former resulted in a win for the Maple Leafs and in the other game the Wolves had a close call when the West Hill Pounders all but overtook them on the score column. The final count in this game was 7 to 6.

A report was turned in to the Secretary by one of the Umpires officiating at a Juvenile fixture from which it appears that a member of one of the teams took undue liberties in vexing his displeasure on the part of both players and managers of the various teams in the league are cautioned against this sort of thing. The umpires appointed are giving their time for the sake of the game and it is unsportsmanslike on the part of the players when they will allow themselves to give vent to abusive language because a decision on the part of the umps does not please them. The officials of the league do not want to expell any of the players but if a re-occurrence of last night's incident takes place such action will be deemed necessary.

MISS KATHERINE DOAK

Stirling, June 7.—News was received by relatives here, on Tuesday, of the death of Miss Kathleen Doak, in Toronto only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Doak, former residents of 4th Concession, Rawdon, and Stirling village.

The death is made sadder owing to the serious illness of her mother at the present time. The body will be brought to Stirling for interment on Wednesday afternoon.

In the sixteenth century letter carriers in Germany were equipped with stilts to increase their speed.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

Both games in the Central Ontario League were rained out Wednesday and as a result Oshawa are still occupying the top rung. The locals have no games scheduled on Saturday which will be a welcome rest for the players and next Wednesday they will be at Kingston where they will lock horns with Manager John Memphill's squad.

Belleville taking advantage of being out in front, pushed with Jeffrey their left-handed twirler in Monday's game at Kingston, the stanley being by save "Slide" Gibson their unbeaten ace for use against the Petes Wednesday The move came near to succeeding perfectly for Jeffrey was in front until the ninth when he was removed with two on the sacks in favor of Gibson who promptly proceeded to pick up the first loss. He will get the assignment against the Petes nevertheless.—Peterboro Examiner.

It is a long time since so many pitchers have got their names into the Central League box scores. Kingston has already used five, Del Cherry, Smith, Jamieson, Buck and Van Young while Belleville is next with four, Gibson, Utronkl, Gerow and Jeffrey, and Oshawa with three, Darby, Maloney and Morrison. The Petes and Delora have each used two twirlers making a total for the League of sixteen twirlers inside the first two weeks.—Peterboro Examiner.

There is no doubt that girls' softball is becoming more and more popular despite the fact that many people still look on it with more or less frowned countenances. However, girls' softball will never get any place here until the teams can get away from the million and one would-be coaches that surround these and confine themselves to taking their advice from ONE coach or manager. It's amusing, at the least, to see, at girls' softball games, the number of self-appointed coaches in addition to the regular one in charge, who offer their advice and impart their wisdom on plays to the girls. The sooner the teams get away from that sort of thing and play as any regular team would in any other sport, the farther they will get ahead and the more proficient they will become at the now very popular summer pastime.—Whig-Standard.

Friday night Delora make their first appearance here this season, and the local fans can be prepared for a real game, as the Sinclairs showed in Peterboro on Saturday that they are the team to beat in the C. O. B. L.

It was Jack Shea's great pitching that gave Delora their first victory in senior circles, the former Kingston twirler allowing only one hit, a scratch by Johnston. Shea will probably be on the mound on Friday, and while he'll find a heavier batting team he is sure to make things interesting. — Whig-Standard.

and 8.30 p.m.

Silver Collection each game

In the week end game at James Stevenson Park.—Peterboro Examiner.

There have only been two home runs made over the left field fence at James Stevenson Park by amateur players. Penney Mills, the Belleville catcher and Hap Harrison, the local third baseman doing the trick. Harrison's was the longer rap of the two, clearing the fence toward centre.

Sutton who will play second base for Oshawa on Saturday and McCallum who will likely be seen where on the line up is also the only players Oshawa secured out of the Whiter crop of alleged stars.

LINDBERGH'S BROTHER HAS CROSSED THE BAR

Charles Lindbergh's brother is dead. Whoever how fit died's hard to say, but it may have been anything from a dose of poison to lovesickness. His name is "Jumbo", and he is a cat. Both Charles and Jumbo were born the day Lindbergh made his New York to Paris flight, but only one could be named after the great flier, so the departed cat had to be content with the name "Jumbo". At any rate, at the young and immature age of one year and a few weeks, of pleasant cat life, he sad denly curled up and dropped into one of his nine last chambers. Charles Lindbergh, however, appears to take his passing in a very light mood, probably figuring that with one less mouth to feed, more catnip will come his way.

TONGUE TWISTERS.

Try to say the following sentences very quickly—

"Timothy Titcombe thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb."

"A tutor who tooted the flute
Tried to tutor two tutors to toot,
Said the two to the tutor,
'Is it easier to toot or
To tutor two tutors to toot?'"
Not so easy, is it?

A DISTINCTION.

On entering a compartment of a main-line train a ticket inspector noticed a passenger who, affecting an air of familiarity with his surroundings, I've forgot my pass. I'm working down the line, you know. It'll be all right."

The inspector looked suspicious, but said nothing. He was going away when apparently an idea struck him. Turning to the passenger who had so spoken, he said, "Oh, I say, what's the right time? My watch has just stopped." Twenty minutes past five," was the reply. "Oh, it is, is it? Now, if you don't show me your pass or 'Jay' the fare, out you come. No railway man would say 'Twenty minutes past five'; he'd say 'Five-twenty.'" The passenger paid.

MISDIRECTED TUITION.

The new "mesmiser" in a small Scottish town had turned out disappointing. If a preacher, but the morning after the first local ball, which he attended, the members of his congregation were surprised at his accomplishments as a dancer. Two old worthies discussed the news. "I'm tell't the mesmiser's a grand dancer," remarked one. "Aye!" remarked the other dryly. "Try the wrang end the man's been addicated at. I'm doobin'."

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby's Babies Have Nerves

By RUTH BRITTAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Restfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels. Nevertheless, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

Let Me Tell You

TO BOIL OLD POTATOES.

The flavour of old potatoes is much improved if a little cream is taken when cooking them. Peel the potatoes thinly and remove all "eyes". Choose potatoes as much of a size as possible, and place them in a pan just large enough to hold them.

Add a little salt, and cover with cold water. Put on the lid, bring quickly to the boil, and then allow the water to simmer gently until the potatoes are fairly easily pierced with a fork.

Strain off all the water, cover the potatoes with a thick, clean cloth, and let them stand by the side of the fire from five to ten minutes. Shake the pan occasionally. They should then be dry and floury.

Lemon Juice, drunk unsweetened every morning before breakfast, is a fine blood purifier. A hot lemon squash taken just before going to bed induces sleep, and for a cold is an excellent remedy; in this case it should be sipped after getting into bed.

Should the scalp of the head need cleansing, the juice of a lemon should be rubbed in and the hair afterwards washed in soft water. The treatment whitens and also stimulates the hair follicles.

The juice of a lemon mixed with a little glycerine rubbed into the hands every night, will whiten and soften them.

GLYCERINE AND ITS USES.

Glycerine, apart from the toilet, is so useful for many household purposes that a small quantity should always be at hand for emergencies.

During the far period, when glycerine was a forbidden luxury, women complained because they could not get it. Now that it is procurable our appreciation of its manifold uses has dwindled somewhat.

Glycerine, when used in the proportion stated below may be taken internally as a relief for chronic coughs: To the juice of a lemon add two tea-spoonfuls of glycerine. Mix well together and sip when the cough is troublesome.

An old fashioned remedy for a bad cough consists of putting a tablespoonful of glycerine into a cup of hot milk. The glycerine, of course, should be of the purest quality.

Mix two quarts of water with two ounces of glycerine, add a little of your favorite scent, and pour the mixture into your warm bath. You will find it very refreshing.

HOW TO CURL CELERY.

Cut the tops into fine-strips like a fringe to a depth of two inches. A sharp knife is required to do this successfully. Then put into cold water, and in a short time these little strips will curl over, giving a decorative appearance to the stalks.

JUST IN PASSING

Times have changed for those who occupy high places. A hundred years ago it would have been reported that the King had gone to Brighton or had occupied the royal box at the opera, but there were very few papers, no telephones, and no cameras, and the Royal Family was ensured of a degree of privacy which nowadays is impossible. The moment they leave their homes they are the target of newspaper cameras. Should the Duchess of York appear in a new hat, it is heralded as an important event throughout the islands, and should the Prince ride in a race, he is snapped at every hedge. Mid-quartered and happy, his cheery countenance will, the next day, appear in a score of daily papers. Even all public dinners there is now the busbar of wireless. It is difficult enough, in all conscience, to make a good speech to a gathering of critical men, but the knowledge that about two million people are listening closely to every syllable has, at times, a paralysing effect. And to this may soon be added new terrors in the form of "television!"

JAPANESE PREMIER VICTIM OF ATTACK

Tokyo June 8.—Members of his body guard today frustrated an attempt to assassinate Baron Giichi Tanaka, the premier of Japan. No political importance was attached to the attack which was made by a man dressed as a lawyer at the Ueno railroad station.

NO BETTER MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

What Thousands of Mothers Say of Baby's Own Tablets

A medicine for the baby or growing child—one that the mother can feel assured is absolutely safe as well as efficient—is found in Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are praised by thousands of mothers throughout the country. These mothers have found by actual experience that there is no better medicine for little ones to equal them. Once a mother has used them for her children she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Charles Hutt, Tatamagouche Island, N.S., writes:—"I have ten children, the baby being just six months old. I have used Baby's Own Tablets for them for the past 20 years and can truthfully say that I know of no better medicine for little ones. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all other mothers to do so".

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be mailed post-on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

1 Cupful Milk
1 Cupful Bread-crumbs
1 Cupful Canned Corn
1 Cupful Grated American Cheese.
1 Tablespoonful Butter, Melted
2-3 Teaspoonful Salt
1-4 Teaspoonful Pepper
Dash Paprika
2 Eggs, Yolks and Whites Beaten Separately.

Mix well together the milk, bread-crumbs, corn, cheese, butter and seasonings. Add the yolks of eggs, which have been beaten until thick and creamy. Then carefully fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake in individual buttered dishes in a moderate oven, until firm.

Date Pudding.
1-2 Cupful Brown Sugar
1 Cupful Boiling Water
1 Cupful Flour
1-2 Teaspoonful Salt
1 Teaspoonful Baking-powder.
1 Tablespoonful Milk
1-2 Cupful Sweet Milk
1-2 Cupful Walnut Meats
1-2 Cupful Chopped Nuts.

Boil the first two ingredients together over a low heat for 7 minutes. Sift the salt, sugar, add the nuts and dates, mix well, and stir in the milk. Drop the soft dough into the pan of boiling syrup and bake in a saucepan or skillet in a medium oven for twenty minutes, or cook on top of the stove in a heavy saucepan or skillet over a low heat for twenty minutes after the dough is added. When removed from the fire let stand for five minutes to thicken, then turn out on a platter. Serve hot or cold.

Poems Old And New

LET NOT YOUTH BEAD—
By Billy D.

Youth
Blows through the world
Like little, laughing flames,
Like the forsythia yellow flame
Youth burns into blossom
Before it bears leaves

Hear Youth!—Hear Youth—
Swagger, and strut, and brag quainly
Of the world it will make for us
Who are old—who are old—
And who have made the world for them
So badly

And we Imperiously,
Stretch out our hands to Youth,
Not for the world it promises,
But to warn us at the flame.
For we know—
We know
That when the leaves come
The flame blossoms will fall
And die.

Let not Youth read this.
Let not Youth read this.

MY SHIPS.

I sailed a ship, a tiny ship,
So many years ago;
It drifted lightly out of reach
Before the ebb-tide's flow.

I wept; I thought my treasure lost
Beneath the silver foam;
But with the turning o the tide
My truant ship came home.

And then I built a ship of dreams,
With sails of Faith and Love;
The masts were wrought of purest gold,
A flag of Hope above.

I watched it leave the bay;
I sailed it on the sea of Chance;
I felt as though it held my heart,
And bore it far away.

But once again those gleaming sails
May glide into my view;
For whif the turning of the tide
My dreams may still come true.

So I will watch beside the waves
Until my ship returns again.
All jewelled o'er with spray,
A laden argosy.
—Jane Whittame.

WEDDING CUSTOMS

Why does a bride wear a veil? Why is rice thrown over a bridal couple as they leave the church? Why is the wedding ring put on the fourth finger of the left hand? Why is an old shoe thrown after a married couple as they drive to the station? Why have a wedding cake? The questions are asked and answered in London Answers.

The veil is but the continuance of the ancient eastern rule that no man save her husband should see a woman's face and not even he until after the ceremony.

The throwing of rice is another eastern custom. Rice is the staple food in the east, and throwing it symbolised a wish for plenty.

The choice of the fourth finger of the left hand for the ring is an old custom of pagan Rome. It was believed that a nerve went direct from that finger to the heart.

The throwing is another adopted eastern custom. The Oriental bride's father gave an old shoe to the bridegroom as a symbol that he surrendered to him the parental right of besting his daughter.

The wedding cake is Roman in origin. A cake made of flour, salt and water was always eaten by Roman couples in the presence of the priest. It formed part of the marriage rites.

Behind the question: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" was the accepted belief that a woman was a "chattel," life furniture.

What do you Think of This?

"I HAVE just been reading in this paper about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a relief for sleeplessness and nervous headache.'

"Well, why don't you try it."

"I would if I only thought it would do me as much good as this Mrs. Dupuis of Renfrew, Ont., says it did her."

"I am sure that it would for several women have told me the same thing and I am going to buy you some while I am down town."

"All right. It must have unusual merit when so many people are enthusiastic about it and I will certainly give it a good try out."

GENERAL MOTORS CHOOSE REGINA

In So Doing Show Optimism In Future of The West

Regina, Sask.—The announcement that a million dollars will be spent by General Motors of Canada, Limited, on the erection of a manufacturing and assembly plant at Regina is a very practical form of the optimism which one of the country's largest manufacturers has for the future of the Canadian West.

Establishment of the Regina plant is in pursuance of the General Motors policy of placing assembly plants where volume of sales warrants, as near as possible to the centre of distribution for the particular territory. Under this system the benefits of increased employment, payroll distribution and local purchases are spread by he territory which provides the volume of sales. Increasing General Motors business throughout Western Canada has made the establishment of the Regina factory a logical move, Chevrolet and Pontiac cars produced here will be marketed throughout the Canadian West.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to confirm the statement that we are about to establish a large plant in Regina" said R. S. McLaughlin, President of General Motors of Canada, Limited, who with other General Motors Executives is in Regina today.

"The West has always supported the McLaughlin Company and General Motors, its successor, in splendid fashion. We feel doubly happy therefore, that by establishing an important plant in Regina we can put back in carroll and local purchases some of he business which Western preference for our products has brought."

My optimism and that of the other Directors of General Motors of Canada is the West be remarked, "has taken he very practical form of a decision to spend a million dollars on this Regina plant, in anticipation of an ever increasing market throughout the West for Canadian built automobiles."

The City Council of Regina and the General Motors executives have signed an agreement for the purchase of 33 acres of city property. Construction will be rushed and it is hoped to have the building ready for occupancy and production not later than December 1st of this year.

Before deciding on the location of their Western plant, General Motors officials conducted intensive investigations covering a period of many months. Since the decision to build in Regina was reached, negotiations have been proceeding between the Company and City officials. Final arrangements were concluded upon the arrival in town of R. S. McLaughlin, President of General Motors of Canada; H. A. Brown, Vice-President and General Manager; . H. Beston, General Sales Manager; and . D. Kervin, Regional Manager.

The new General Motors factory will be Regina's largest industrial plant in volume of output, floor space and number of workers employed. Announced as the first unit in a programme to be developed as conditions warrant, it is to cost approximately $1,000,000. It will be devoted not only, to the assembling of Pontiac and Chevrolet automobiles but also to body building, painting and trimming operations. In this respect it is more comprehensive than other "assembly" plants established by the Company.

The plant will be a model of efficiency, representing in its layout all the most modern manufacturing theories. Moving conveyors will carry the cars along from the time they begin as mere frames until they come off at the other end in completed form. The plant will be capable of producing a car every three 'e four minutes, being designed for a monthly output of 150 cars a day.

Another aid to efficient operation is the fact that the factory will be located on both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, so that outgoing or, incoming shipments may be routed over either line.

When the plant opens, the working force will be gradually increased until it is expected that at peak production the number employed in plant and office will be from 650 to 800.

The British Museum has about four thousand different editions of the Bible.

BUY USED CARS WITH CONFIDENCE

FOR a used car you can depend on, go to a dealer you can depend on—he will value your confidence more highly than the profit on a sale.

As a result of the spectacular success which has attended the introduction of the New Oldsmobile Six, we have accepted in trade a wider selection of better Used Cars than ever before in our history—and we are able to offer these cars at lower prices

And, because we look forward to a continuance of the public confidence which has made our new car sales possible, we want each of these Used Cars to make a friend for us—one who may eventually become a new-car customer.

How He Did It

"You will notice," the professor told the class, "that the stars in the Big Dipper form four points and one odd point. The number of points each star has determines what letter of the word of the message that star stands for. If it has one point it stands for the letter A. If it has two points it stands for the letter B. If it has three points it stands for the letter C. If it has four points it stands for the letter D, or E. Some stars represent letters of the word and some stars represent letters of figures worked out from the same rule and you can tell whether it is a letter or figure by looking at the number of points on each star and see to what letter each star stands for, by referring to the table. Now, I will give you a hint about the stars—but each row of stars spells a word of the message. In order to help you a bit, the first word is "Ocasion."

1ST CONVICTION UNDER NEW ACT

Dep't of Agriculture Gets Verdict Under Grading Law At London

The Department of Agriculture secured a conviction on its first case under the new Hog Grading Regulations in London, Ontario, on Tuesday, May 29, 1928.

Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw, of London, returned the verdict in favour of the Department in his first case under the amended Hog Grading Regulations. By these Regulations, the shipper or drover is required to grade each farmer's lot of hogs, separately, at the local shipping point, or in lieu thereof, to mark each lot so that they can be identified by the official grader. In either case, a shipper's manifest is to be supplied, giving the name and address of the producer of the hogs, the grade of his lot, or the mark of identification.

Mr. N. Somerville, K.C., of Toronto, acted for Mr. W. W. Revington, the defendant, and Mr. J. G. Gillanders, K.C., of London, acted as counsel for the Department of Agriculture.

No evidence was offered refuting the charge the defence being based on the claim that the plaintiffs had not proven their charge, that the act was "ultra vires", and the Regulations were not effective because they only apply to a limited area, and not the whole of the Dominion of Canada.

The Department submitted evidence to prove that the drover or shipper in this particular case had not graded or marked the hogs locally, had not supplied the official grader with a manifest, and further, submitted proven copies of the Dominion Order-in-Council and Provincial enabling Legislation with copies of the Canada and Ontario Gazette in which these proclamations were published.

The Defendant was found technically guilty by Magistrate Hawkshaw, but no fine was imposed until such regulations have been complying with the laws as the wishes of the Department were made known in this regard. The action of the Department in the present case was to prove the legality of the Regulations rather that a action gainst any one shipper.

The idea underlying the amended Regulations is to give the producer information as to the grading and quality of the hogs he is raising. In order to do this it was found necessary to get the co-operation of the only man who is in direct contact with the farmer—the drover. In the majority of cases, drovers and shippers have been complying with the regulations.

WOOL PROSPECT FOR MARITIMES

"Although prospects are as far advanced as they are in Ontario, sheep shearing in the Maritime Provinces will not be general before the first week in June," stated R. O'Brien, General Manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, who has just returned from a trip through Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. "Down there farmers follow the custom which prevails in the Prairie Provinces and usually start shearing after spring field work is completed, in contrast to Ontario in early spring. On this account I found little activity in the wool-in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Local prices mentioned for wool there around 25 or 26 cents, but as the time for the clip probably, moving, there should be a material strengthening in the local Maritime market as selling values of the wool already received by the Canadian Co-operative in Ontario are substantially higher than these figures."

In One Man's Life Time

The headline "In One Man's Life Time" refers to Thomas A. Watson, who, as a young mechanic, built the first telephone from specifications prepared by its inventor, Alexander Graham Bell; shopped with Mr. Watson, in the Bell Telephone Laboratories, where many wonderful inventions in the field of communication are being perfected. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were shown the apparatus by means of which Television was so recently demonstrated. The distinguished visitors tested the mechanism for themselves and admired the progress the telephone, and its allied products had made since the early experiments in which Mr. Watson had played so important a part.

FAVORABLE CROP SEASON IN WEST

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—With wheat practically all in the ground and much of it growing in a strong and healthy stand, this has been to date one of the most favorable seeding seasons in many years, according to weather and crop report issued by the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway here today. Fine weather and splendid condition of the soil make it possible for seeding to advance rapidly and with a minimum of interruption.

Many sections in the West were favored with local showers. During the week-end these have been of immense benefit to the crop already seeded, making growing conditions as nearly ideal as possible. This is every indication of a very substantial increase in acreage sown to wheat as compared with that of last year. On the other hand there is likely to be less oats on account of this crop being badly frosted or rusted last fall, particularly in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan. Abundant rain and moisture exists everywhere but owing to surface soil becoming dry, quite a number of districts would benefit from further rainfall, though in no instance is there so far any loss on this account. Grass is now coming along very nicely with the arrival of warmer weather.

Flowers appear often on the table in China as part of a meal. Over 4,000 tons of the blooms of the lily family are used in the making soup annually.

AVOID THE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

The Trouble Comes Through Weak, Watery Blood

Many people suffer rheumatic pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. Rheumatism comes with poor, watery blood and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood. To make rich, red blood no medicine equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new blood, driving out all poisonous accretions, and creating a condition in which health abounds. Thousands of rheumatic sufferers can testify to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among them is Mrs. A. Tully, Bobcaygeon, Ont., who says:—As a worker in the woods for years I was exposed to all kinds of rough wintry weather. The result was that I was fairly laid up with rheumatism and could hardly stir, and was confined to bed. Medicine seemed to have little effect and the best encouragement the doctor gave me was that with the coming of warm weather I would be better. But instead of getting better, I grew worse. My joints were badly swollen, and my legs so stiff they would hardly support my body. At this stage I read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended for rheumatism and decided to try them. The result was beyond my expectations. After a few weeks the swelling had disappeared, and the stiffness gradually wore away, and much sooner than I expected all traces of rheumatism had disappeared. The next winter when I went into the wood I took a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with me, and they kept me in the best of condition. My experience fills me with encouragement to other rheumatic sufferers."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE CONTROL OF ERGOT DISEASE

Rye, Wheat, Barley And Many Other Grains Are Affected

Ergot is an important disease of rye, wheat, barley, bodies same sickness or death when eaten by animals or the domestic fowl.

The disease is caused by a fungus parasite, the spores of which enter the floral parts of the plant when these are open at blossom time, and the result is the development of the ergot bodies instead of the kernels of grain. These blackish bodies mature as the plants on which they grow, mature. Some of these fall to the ground, while others find their way into the threshed grain, and in this way the fungus is returned to the soil. In the spring, each of the ergot bodies on, or near, the surface of the soil, send out several stalks which, in turn, bear many tiny, light spores. These are shot out of the spore-bearing cavity, and carried upwards by air currents and insects, to the floral parts of susceptible plants. Under moist conditions, these spores send out tiny threads which grow into and fill the place where the new plant would have developed. At this stage, the fungus makes a large amount of sweet, sticky honey-dew, and with it thousands of spores, which spread the fungus. Insects, attracted by this honey-dew, carry the spores on their body to the floral parts of other plants. Rain and wind also help to spread these spores. Warm showers followed by sunny periods produce favorable conditions for the spread of the disease. After some days the honey-dew stage comes to an end and the familiar hard, black ergot bodies form.

Controlling the disease becomes a matter of eliminating the ergot from the seed and from the soil. Complete separation from the seed is possible by immersing the grain in a solution of common salt made up by dissolving forty pounds of salt in twenty-five gallons of water. On stirring the grain, the ergot bodies come to the surface, where they are skimmed off and then destroyed. The grain is then washed at once, and dried quickly, to prevent injury to germination. A combined salt-formaldehyde treatment must not be attempted.

A succession of crops, susceptible to ergot should be avoided as far as possible. It is very important to avoid sowing either rye or durum wheat after ergot infested crops of these grains, since these two crops suffer most severely from the ergot disease. The common wheats in use are rarely affected to any extent and the same is true of barley and oats. Brome, western rye, lolium and other wild wheat and rye grasses, which are commonly found about the borders of fields, are also attacked by the ergot fungus.

Drill seeding is much preferable to broadcasting. For, in addition to burying the seed bodies deeply, the period of blossoming is shortened, thereby reducing the chances for infection. A mixed early and late rye should not be used, nor should the close planting of early and late varieties be practised. Deep ploughing after a badly infested crop is recommended, in order to bury the ergot bodies which have fallen to the ground during harvest. If these are deeply buried, they will not be able to germinate successfully and produce spores. It should be taken that the ploughing be sufficiently deep to prevent the ergot bodies being brought to the surface by subsequent cultivation. Early harvest lessens the number of ergot bodies which fall to the ground. It is also a very profitable practice to mow or destroy other grasses which are still in blossom. These wild grasses are very often the principal source of infection.

No suitable variety of rye, or of wheat has yet been found to be resistant to the ergot disease.

NEW LINER LEFT ON FRIDAY FOR CANADA

Liverpool—The Duchess of Bedford, latest addition to the Canadian Pacific's fleet of passenger liners on the Atlantic, arrived here early and was formally taken over by the company from her builders, John Brown & Company, Ltd., Clydebank, the vessel having recently successfully completed her trials in Scottish waters.

The ship will make her maiden voyage to Canada at the end of this week, sailing on Friday, June 1, for Quebec and Montreal, where she will arrive on June 8.

The Duchess of Bedford is the first of four cabin class vessels that are being constructed for the Canadian Pacific to be added to the service on the St. Lawrence route and used for winter cruise purposes. The Duchess of Atholl is the second in this quartette, and will be delivered in the autumn, completing the set in July. The two others, The Duchess of Richmond, and the Duchess of Cornwall, will follow.

WOMAN WANTS JOB AS "TRAIL RIDER"

London, Eng.—Among the latest recruits to quality as "Trail-Riders of the Canadian Rockies" are Mrs. Muntz Ingdon-Whitby, daughter of Mr. Bald win, and her husband, Commander Huntingdon-Whitely. There are nearly 1,000 members of the fraternity, but at present they mostly hail from Canada and the U. S. and there are not quite about a score resident in this country.

"Trail-Riders" are not some secret society like the "Black Hand", or the "Ku Klux Klan," but simply a group of enthusiasts drawn together by a mutual love of open air life, who have come under the spell cast by the Canadian Rockies. The movement has grown from small beginnings to be a well-organized society with its officers, council and committee drawn from prominent business men in Canada and the United States.

MOST people know this absolute truth: Don't take any substitute in any Bayer when you buy it? And you always get a genuine "Bayer" on the box—and the word Bayer stamped in red? It has spelled Aspirin without it! A drug-clerk always has Bayer, with the proven directions tucked in every box!

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer, to assure the public against imitations, the Bayer Cross will be stamped on the tablets hereafter.

1929 REO FLYING CLOUD SHOWS GREAT HILL CLIMBING POWER

Tests On Difficult Hills of Pittsburg Are Convincing

A motor car that can prove its mechanical ability in Pittsburgh is an assured success in any part of the world, is a maxim of the automobile industry.

And to prove the mechanical ability of their latest product, a 1929 Flying Cloud Sedan, officials of the Reo Motor Car Company, Lansing, Michigan, brought it to Pittsburgh last week for tests on the hills and in the valleys within the city.

These tests proved the Flying Cloud worthy of the fame and glory of the name of its predecessor, the clipper ship. It has that quality of rolling over the roads just as gracefully and steadily as the clipper ship sailed the seas. Like the fleecy white clouds it also gives the impression of being able to soar ever upward without apparent effort. Further, the factory officials learned that:

On a straightaway up South Negley avenue the car speeded over the top at more than 20 miles an hour in high gear. South Negley avenue is a 16 per cent. grade.

Making a left turn from Fifth avenue, the car traveled up and cleared the top of South Negley avenue, in high gear, at 15 miles an hour.

On Washington boulevard it went at an average speed of 70 miles an hour, through traffic, without side-sway, vibration or jumping.

The car was brought to this city from Uniontown, where in eight tests the car cleared the Summit at a speed of 51 miles an hour, in spite of the fact that the car was slowed down to 43 miles an hour for the last turn.

The car was in charge of C. E. Eldredge, assistant sales manager; Fabio Sergardi, assistant chief engineer in charge of passenger car design; P. A. Collins and Frank Pearson, assistant experimental engineers and Harold Blanchard, technical editor of Motor, representatives and R. E. Loughery.

At the invitation of the factory Reo distributor here, myself and another representative of the Sun-Telegraph participated in the Pittsburgh tests. With Mr. Collins at the wheel the sedan, a stock model weighing 3,800 pounds, was driven up South Negley avenue easily in high gear. These tests were made at a time when the official weather bureau thermometer recorded a temperature of 60 degrees. Earlier the same day the car was successful in climbing this grade in high gear, with Mr. Blanchard, Motor, as a passenger.

From the scene of these tests Mr. Collins drove our party to Washington boulevard where he speeded up and down the roadway, through traffic, at an average of 70 miles an hour. At this speed there was no sensation of flying nor any sign of vibration. This test was made to show that no special gears had been built into the car for the hill-climbing tests.

The Tokio street test proved easy on the first attempt. With Mr. Collins and myself in the car and the assistance of a 30-yard start, the car speeded up the steep grade and came to a stop with the speedometer registering slightly more than 20 miles an hour.

No special equipment, with the exception of a recording speedometer, was added to the car for the tests, and ethyl gasoline was the fuel used.

Mr. Sergardi, following the test, said:

"We feel we have evolved just another good one.

"I might say," he added "it is generally recognized that almost all cars on the market today are good ones, compared with some of the faulty designs of a few years back. We have accomplished much, we believe, in the present car."

"A sale of 69,000 cars this year, an increase of 13,000 over last year," was the prediction of Mr. Eldridge after watching the tests.

"SILVER WINGS."

Two gleaming wings on a silver crown,
A blur of blue on the broad highway;
A whispering song for the crest of the hill
And a velvet pause where the valleys lay.

Two proud silver wings in a haughty crest,
Romance at the edge of the golden dawn;
A heart that speaks to the pulse of youth
With its eager journey—On and on!

Oh! staunch little wings on your brave wee cap,
Ah! fleeting shadow that skims the road—
With your dauntless pinions soaring far,
Chrysler, you're more than a motor car!

CLEVER LOCKING DEVICE NOW ON PONTIAC AUTOS

As Nearly Theft Proof As Any American Car

A still higher margin of protection against car theft is now provided buyers of Pontiac Sixes through a new type of outside door handle which cannot be forced by the Cleverest thief.

The new door handle is so designed that the customary method of forcing with a wrench or a section of iron pipe will not give the thief entrance to the car. When such extreme pressure is applied to the handle it merely turns without releasing the door catch. A few seconds of attention at any Pontiac service station will restore the handle uninjured to its original position.

Should a thief effect entrance by breaking a window or because the owner forgot to lock the car, he still would be confronted by equally secure second and third lines of defense. These are provided by the semi-coincidental lock which locks both the ignition and the transmission with a turn of the ignition key. The transmission is locked from the dash by an ingenious sliding plunger which moves inside an armored cable extending from the ignition key down into the transmission.

The Pontiac Sixes, with their effective lines of defense, are said to be nearly theft-proof as any car in America.

Knightsbridge is believed to have derived its name from the fact that two knights on their way to the Bishop of Fulham quarrelled and fought to the death on the bridge—afterwards known as Knightsbridge—over the River Westbourne.

EYESIGHT HAS DIRECT BEARING ON YOUR HEALTH

Early Examination And Correction Is Proper Solution

The workman who needs glasses and wears them is not only doing himself a good turn physically, but is a far more profitable investment to the company employing him.

There are workmen in every factory shop and plant who need glasses — now! Last year, in the Pullman Car Works, Pullman, Illinois, an examination was made of the eyes of 4,000 workmen. Out of this number only 1,138 men had normal vision and 2,-861 had sub-normal vision. In other words, 71.5 per cent of these 4,000 employees had impaired vision which, the examination revealed, could be greatly improved through the aid of properly fitted glasses.

This is by no means an exceptional case—the same condition has been found to exist in scores of other large plants.

Experience proved that eyesight has a direct influence on health, quality of work and production. Defective eyesight lowers a workman's efficiency—and soon lowers his pay check. Yet how easy it is to correct the fault—a simple examination, the fitting of proper glasses and the improvement is quickly apparent.

If you are a skilled worker, don't take it for granted that your eyes are all right. Consult Edwards, Eye Specialist at 282 Front Street for an examination.

GROWTH OF FOREST INDUSTRIES

Canada has made rapid progress in the developments of her forest industries and has lately taken first place in the matter of world's newsprint production. The wise conservation of the forest resources of the Dominion, particularly the reduction of losses through preventable forest fires, and the encouragement of systematic reforestation and tree-planting schemes have been increasingly urged upon the attention of the general public.

Bear constantly in mind these two rules of thought before any speech or action: Put yourself in another's place, and do as you would be done by.

Crew of Italia Believed Safe In Great Northern Wastes -- Heated Debate Marks Latest Session

HOT EXCHANGE OF PERSONALITIES FLUNG ACROSS FLOOR OF HOUSE

Tempers Grow Frayed As Session Draws To Close

IN DEFENCE

General Ross Says Praise Bestowed On Forbes Not Warranted

Ottawa, June 9.—Frayed tempers signalling the advent of the "tag end" of the session were in evidence in the House this morning, when there was a protracted and hot exchange of personalities across the floor. It was the aftermath of last evening's trouble, begun by the strictures pronounced upon the Minister of Immigration and Colonization, Hon. Robert Forke, by members of the Opposition, led by Hon. R. B. Bennett.

Before the conclusion of this morning's conflict the minister himself got to his feet in self-defence, and in reference, against the leader of the Opposition, about whom Mr. Forke said: "I say that both from personal and parliamentarily he is not suited to be the leader of a great party."

General A. D. McRae (Conservative, Kingston) had been dealing with the new famous McCormackie case and was asking for a statement from Mr. Forke, at the same time alluding to the words of commendation of the minister forthcoming from the Minister of Immigration, the praise of the Prime Minister was fairly well-merited.

Fireside Warm Words

At this stage Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, took a hand in the fight and his remarks provoked some warm words from the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Robb said: "Having fallen down yesterday (by not calling for a division on the carbon amendment to the motion for concurrence in the immigration committee's report, they start afresh this morning with a sniping process against the Minister of Immigration, although in the words of my hon. friend who has just sat down (Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards, Conservative, Frontenac-Addington) they have not much fault to find with my colleague, except that he saw all on the side of the House instead of to your left, Mr. Chairman.

"I simply wish to say that, having considered the report of the immigration committee all day yesterday, a report which was unanimously signed and without anyone dividing the House by which should the business of the House be further delayed by attacks from here, there and the other part of the House—attacks which I regard as futile during the session and in the committee. Let us now get down to business and vote supply and go on with the business of the country."

CAP EXPLODED TRIO INJURED

Stirling, June 9.—A serious accident occurred at River Valley school recently when three boy pupils were injured. Jack Sager, one of the injured lads, had found what is now believed to have been a dynamite cap. The cap was placed on a stone and struck with another stone, with the result it exploded. The interested spectators were Lawrence and Arthur Bamber, along with the Sager lad, received the full force of the explosion cap in the legs. Other pupils standing near escaped unhurt. Pieces of the metal were buried in the lad's legs while were the only parts injured as fortunately the explosion spread low.

NAPANEE MANAGER IS MOVED TO PICTON

Napanee, June 9.—Mr. R. R. McIlroll, manager of the Standard Bank, has been moved to Picton, and will leave to take up his new duties about June 21st. Mr. McIlroll has been in Napanee for several years, and has made many warm friends who will be sorry to hear of his transfer. Mr. J. S. Montgomery of Lake-field, will be the new manager of the Napanee Branch.

CONSERVATIVE CHIEF

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie

Conservative member for Victoria, B.C., who will lead the Conservative party in the forthcoming provincial elections in British Columbia. His resignation from the Federal House will probably be placed in the hands of the Speaker within the next few weeks. He was selected as the provincial Conservative leader about a year ago. ARE OPPOSED TO RAILWAY STRIKE

Two Newspaper Reporters "Beaten Up" By Street Railwaymen

Toronto, Ont., June 9.—By an overwhelming majority the Toronto Street Railway employees at a mass meeting early this morning decided in favor of accepting the fair wages recommendation of the Commission's offer to arbitrate their differences and against calling a strike. The vote taken at 1 a.m. resulted in 1727 in favor of the settlement, by arbitration and 116 against.

The points which the men's committee asked the Union to arbitrate were: An Eight hour day, equal wages for motor coach employees, recognition of the union and two weeks holidays with pay.

The meeting was not without its exciting moments and the climax came when two evening newspaper reporters were discovered hiding behind the stage and were severely beaten before the police could aid them to escape but they were able to go home after being treated in the hospital. Newspapermen were excluded from meeting.

ADVISED AGAINST CHEQUE ARTISTS

Advice that a number of counterfeit bank notes are in circulation at the present time was received by a local merchant on Saturday.

The activities of the counterfeiters seems to be centred for the present on one or two Western Ontario cities and the method adopted is said to be that of cleverly raising the value of genuine notes; attempts to pass five dollar notes failed from ones, and twenty dollar notes raised from fives have been made on several occasions during the past few days in these cities. As far as is known, no arrests have been made and local merchants are warned to be on the watch for any such spurious notes.

NURSES DEVOTION TO DUTY SYMBOLIC OF PROFESSION

Toronto, June 9.—Devotion to duty resulted in the death last night of Evelyn Cartwright, a nurse at the Western Hospital. For five weeks Miss Cartwright played a large part in the unsuccessful attempt to save the life of Patrol Sergt. E. T. Walghorne, only to contract infection from her patient, an affection to which she succumbed Thursday night.

Patrol Sergt. Walghorne died one week ago from complications following pneumonia and pleurisy. Miss Cartwright, herself worn out through her assiduous care of the police officer, was stricken before her colleagues knew that her affliction duties, but she insisted on remaining on account of her knowledge of the case and her desire to save his life. Her condition became critical on Sunday when meningitis developed.

SHORT SKETCHES WERE PLEASING

Expression Dep't Make Final Presentation At Albert College

VOCAL PROGRAM

Pupils of Professors Anglin And Hunt Assisted In Entertainment

Albert College closing exercises are anticipated looked forward to by Belleville people and last evening the expression Department made their final programme in the Memorial Hall of that Institution as the final presentation of the year. The short sketches were featured; the first, a fantasy, was cleverly prepared and dealt with the reasons for erratic weather conditions. In "How the Weather is Made", the audience learned some things about the troubles between His Majesty, the Sun, and Jupiter Pluvius, and efforts to gain the favor of the different months. The costumes of the Months were particularly effective in their various colors and presented a bright picture to the audience.

The second play "Suppressed Desires" was a clever satire on Psychoanalysis which was presented and dealt with the skeleton in the closet. The three characters were happily cast and each gave a realistic performance of his part. Miss enid B. Tuite, the Elocutionist teacher, deserves much credit for the splendid manner in which her pupils portrayed their parts.

Appearing in the programme were pupils of Prof. Anglin and Prof. Hunt of the Vocal and Music Departments of the College and the piano and vocal solos rendered were of a high order and were appreciated by the large audience.

The programme was as follows:

PART I

Song. (a) The Swallows Homeward Fly (b) Dear Love, We Two Shall Meet (Lear)—Florence Barker.

Piano Solo, In Elin Amore (Valse Caprice)—(Schutt)—Lily Ketcheson.

MILITARY MAN DEAD

Col. W. D. Gordon, Former Commander of District No. 3, Passes

Kingston, Ont., June 9.—Col. W. D. Gordon, formerly Commanding Officer of Military District No. 2, died late last night following a long illness. Col. Gordon was also Commanding Officer at one time of Montreal. Seventeen years ago he retired from the service and during the war lived in England, where he was connected with the war office. He is survived by his widow and four daughters.

TEAM DISBANDS ONE LOSES LIFE

Rescued From Drowning Only To Be Arraigned In Court

For the last three years, the team of Cowan and Ralston have been touring all over both Canada and the United States, but they have now broken up, and in a tragic manner.

Ralston decided that he was to work for a while and therefore secured employment with Charles Purdy and his is a farmer living on the Provincial Highway, a few miles east of Bellville. He worked for Mr. Purdy for then decamped, lasting with him a which valued in the neighbourhood of twenty-five dollars. His chum was picked up somewhere, and they disappeared for a few days.

The Provincial Police, of this district, however, issued a circular describing the two men, and within an hour of receipt at Brockville Cowan was apprehended. Provincial Constable Price Morris, of Picton, went to Brockville last night and brought him back to this city.

Ralston, however, will not appear before any magistrate on this occasion, as he has gone to his last rest. On Wednesday last, Ralston and Cowan started out across the St. Lawrence in a leaky old punt hoping to enter U. S. illegally. About two hundred yards from shore the punt sprung a leak, so they attempted to swim, but the punt sank before shore could be reached. Ralston was swept away by the current, but Cowan managed to keep afloat, and was rescued. He spent two days in the Brockville Hospital before he was arrested. He appeared in Police Court here this morning, but as Press time the case had not been called.

POSITIVE CREW OF PLANE ALIVE

Messages Received By Base Ship In Italian Tongue

Rome, June 9.—Several factors were considered today as making it almost certain that the radio messages received yesterday from the ship Citta Di Milano were from the missing dirigible. Messages were sent in perfect Italian, ended with the proper signal, edition, the signals, and were sent in the Italian way, every nation having special style of transmitting.

It was believed certain that General Nobile and members of his crew were on Cape Leigh Smith, 220 miles from King's Bay. Citta Di Milano immediately sent orders to the messages sent orders to the steamer Hobby to proceed to the Cape.

MUSIC NIGHT AT Y'S MEN'S CLUB

Directors Are Chosen For Autumn Semester -- Moira Lake Camp

Last night was known as "Music Night" at the Y's Men's Club and several local artists, mostly members of the club, contributed to the evening. Messrs. Jack Andrews and Harold Howard rendered solos and Leo Riggs and Jack Bell accompanying banjos both given a delightful rendition of two numbers on the piano, Percy Cook was in charge of the program for the evening.

Howard Clarke on behalf of the directors of the Y.M.C.A. thanked the Club members for having undertaken the work of superintending the office during certain nights during the summer months and although the office calls to do other work. Team No. 2 were announced as the winners of the attendance contest conducted by the Club during the past semester. The new directors elected were: Dr. Kennedy, Rob Hanna, Dr. Bruce Edwards, Russel Grah, George Pauley Harry Poste and Vern Weir. Frank Hanna these the new officers will be chosen.

Albert Armstrong announced that a party of Y's Men will visit Moira Lake Camp next Wednesday to prepare for the influx of boys opening the camp. Commencement of the summer vacation Newton Thompson, District Governor, who recently visited the Moira Lake Club brought greetings from that Club and he reported that a new Y.M.C.A. building will be erected in that town. This was the final meeting of the spring semester at the "Y" building. Next week the members will be entertained by several members at Jones' Creek Camp.

LIBERAL LEADER

of British Columbia, who will lead the Liberal party in a test of strength in July, when a general election will be held. Premier MacLean, who is a native of Prince Edward Island, succeeded to the chieftainship of the provincial Liberal party on the death of the Hon. John Oliver last year. He will face the electorate—probably on July 18—with a legislative following bearing little resemblance to that which swept into office when the Liberals swept the country in 1916. Only a handful remain and only two members of the original cabinet, one of them being himself, are still in harness.

GROUP METHODS IN PIANOFORTE

Pupils of Miss McCuaig Gave Recital At Queen Victoria School

Yesterday afternoon a demonstration of the group methods of Miss Ada Mae Cuaig in Queen Victoria School. The mothers, teachers and friends of the children were present, also a number of the school board and all were agreeably surprised at the excellent results displayed by most of them after less than five months' training.

The order of work and discipline was exceptional and judging from results speaks well of the course Miss MacCuaig took in preparing for the purpose of group methbd.

After parts One and Two some of her pupils played in a very enjoyable num ers. As a reward for careful study, she has planned to arranging a joint lawn picnic, next week.

The programme was as follows:

Commonwealth Votes Grant of $25,000 To Navigators

A NEW ERA

Premier Stanley Bruce Eulogizes Southern Class Airmen

Brisbane, Australia, June 9.—The wildest enthusiasm marked the civic reception this afternoon to four members of the Southern Cross crew which flew from Oakland, California, to this city over the Pacific Ocean.

When the telegram from Premier Stanley announcing the passing of commonwealth's intention of granting £25,000 to Kingsford-Smith, entire sam ran hot.

Queensland governor said the aviators had successfully overcome the greatest achievement which had been watched with breathless interest by the whole world. He said it was more than a personal triumph, marking the commencement of a new era in aerial navigation, that would remain throughout all future periods as a great event in history.

"Without flattery to the honored guests here," Governor said, "The flight was greatest of all flights."

Canberra, Australia, June 9.—"You have accomplished seemingly impossible, you have once again demonstrated that spirit which animated our troops in battle still survives"

This was Premier Stanley Bruce's message today to the successful South orn Cross Trans-Pacific fliers.

FORMER HAMILTONIAN HONORED

HE WAVED HIS GIN BOTTLE BEFORE POLICEMAN'S EYES

Cobourg, June 9.—It is always well to be sure you wave to the right fellow in saluting another when motoring along the highway, especially if you do it with a bottle of gin. An indiscreet motorist who committed this indiscretion in such matters occurred the other day when Provincial Officer Binney of the Cobourg and Chief Murphy, of Port Hope were motoring through Port Hope.

Stopping to ask the whereabouts of a certain residence from men engaged in road work they were surprised when a car containing some young men came along and one of the latter waved a bottle of gin. Chief Murphy noticed but when the occupants saw the officers the bottle was produced on the road. The owner of the bottle will am wer to a charge under the L.C.A., it is expected.

TURN ABOUT WOULD JUST BE EVENING UP

Blossom time has brought to the fore once again a question which comes up every year, that of the habits of city people of going to the country and despoiling the orchards of their blossoms. Every week-end, at this time of the year, one can see carloads of people coming home from these expeditions, laden with blossoms. They have little thought for what their depredations mean to the farmers who own the orchards. They give little consideration to the fact that the fruit crop depends on these blossoms they so wantonly cut from the trees.

That is a problem which is not confined to Canada alone, is shown by a cartoon which recently appeared in a newspaper in Stockholm, Sweden, under the heading, "Reciprocal Devastation." The cartoon shows a party of city people motoring home from the country, with their car filled with blossoms and shrubs, while passing them is a farmer's car laden with spoils taken from the city streets.

There is much justice in this viewpoint. It is all right for the city people to invade the orchards and woods and despoil them of their blossoms, which live but for a day or two in the city homes; then it would be equally just for the farmers to come to the city and help themselves to the bloom in the gardens of those who strip their trees. One can imagine the outburst of indignation which would come from the cities if the rural people attempted to do this, but it is a poor rule that does not work both ways and in many cases the farmers would be fully justified in so doing.

MAKING OUR ROADS SAFE FOR DRIVERS

The annual campaign to make Ontario highways safer, sponsored by the provincial government, is under way. It is too much to expect that this organized effort, in which all automobile clubs will be expected to participate, will put an end to fatalities on our motoring roads, but it is believed that the death toll can be substantially reduced.

There were nine fatalities in the district over the last week-end. Some of them, we know, were due to reckleseness and some to careless, thoughtless manipulation of the automobiles involved. Through the advertising columns of the newspapers and the medium of pamphlets to be placed in the hands of visitors from the United States, it is hoped to impress users of the highways with the need of exercising caution.

A similar campaign was conducted last year and it was attended with a satisfactory results that Hon. George S. Henry, minister of highways, feels justified in its resumption. The windshield stickers, which will be available in all licensing offices, will this year bear the motto: "Care, Courtesy and Common Sense." If the three C's are observed by motorists there will be few fatalities.

BRITISH PRODUCERS ARE WELCOME HERE

Among the many interesting subjects under discussion at the annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire in Toronto, was that of the predominance of the United States in the moving pictures field. Encouragement of British films was pleaded for, as one means of breaking the stranglehold of American film producers. It is an old complaint, discussed by all Canadian patriotic organizations at one time or another, but little headway is being made. And one of the reasons why American-made films continue to dominate the Canadian field, we think, is that British producers refuse to adopt American methods.

One of the best pictures of the year, Sorrel and Son, from the novel of the same name by Warwick Deeping, was made by an American company in England by an American director. Studio shots were taken in the United States, but for the outdoor stuff the cast was transported to England to secure the "genuine atmosphere." It is this disregard for expense to achieve realism that is the dividing line between American and British moving picture producers.

Many of the foremost moving picture actors and directors in the United States are Englishmen. So it would seem that if British-made films are finding it difficult to win the Canadian theater-going public it is the business management, not the directors nor the cast, at fault. Canada welcomes with open arms legitimate theatrical presentations of British origin, it being recognized that there is no higher exemplification of historic art than that of England's actors and actresses. British playwright likewise occupy a unique niche in the theatrical world. If British-made films do not "click" in this Dominion of ours, in justice to British producers it should be said they have set up less obstacle than they have been shipped across the border by American producers. The regrettable truth, however, is that they have sent to us little that was notable.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Sir Arthur Quille Couch has been helping to edit a "abridged Bible" for young people, in which the books of Numbers and Leviticus are omitted. We can hardly afford to spare the eleventh chapter of Numbers especially as a young people's Bible.—Hamilton Herald.

No citizen is so powerful, none so humble, but what his town is as apt to bim in some way or other. There is where he employs his labor or capital, builds his home, enjoys the society of his kind, and, in short, finds everything that makes life worth living. Failing to find these things he usually goes in search of them elsewhere. If he remains it is natural to suppose he has found that which he sought. Since your town boosts you, why not do as well by it as it does by you? To progress it needs the help of every citizen, and every citizen benefits individually from every community improvement, whether that improvement takes the form of public works, population growth, increased prosperity or business development. No community is so miserable and unattractive that it has not its boosters and none so perfect that it has not its knockers, but that city or town achieves most in civic betterment which has the most boosters. —Picton Gazette.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

For four hours had the woman remained in the shop. She had visited every department and worried most of the assistants without spending a penny.

At last one of them ventured a mild protest.

"Madam," he said politely, "are you shopping here?"

The woman looked surprised.

"Certainly!" she replied. "Whatever else should I be doing?"

For a moment the assistant hesitated then blurted out: "Well, madam, I though perhaps you might be taking an inventory."

"I does, sister, indeed," said the old man, "but He ain't pushing me like me other creditors is."

Just Stories

Reminiscent of the old "Timothy Eiody" were words of the ex-Governor General of the Free State, who was given a dinner in London recently by former parliamentary associates. The guest of honor sat self-possessed, still the family from time to time as Lord Birkenhead portrayed the one-time Irish Nationalist leader as the infants terrible of parliaments of a generation or two ago. Then Mrs. Healy, old and a little tired, paid a graceful tribute to the British political method. It said he, "exhibited every acrid canon in dealing with subject peoples. It ended, however, in attaching them more firmly than ever to the Empire. Healy sat down to the plaudits of a room full of men who 30 years ago regarded him as the most dangerous of agitators."

Empire Day was originated by Mrs. Clementina Fessenden, of Hamilton, as an occasion for patriotic exercises in the schools. The idea was conceived when a maple leaf badge was presented to the six-year-old grand-daughter by the Wentworth Historical Society of Hamilton in June of 1896. Mrs. Fessenden had lost her husband, the late rector of Ancaster, and the badge was given to little Kathleen in connection with an honorary members' which society bestowed on her in her late grandfather's honor. Her mami fest delight in the symbol of Canadian ism led her grandmother to visualize an annual school celebration in which the Empire, as well as Canada, would be honored. She, interested Sir George Ross, then premier of Ontario, in her project, and he suggested that the movement would be most fittingly inaugurated in Mrs. Fessenden's own country. Accordingly, in December of 1897, the Hamilton school trustees decided to set apart one day in the year for Empire teaching and patriotic exercises in the schools.

WHEN BUYING PETS CONSIDER COLOURS!

Toronto, Ont.—"If you are buying a dog or cat, consider the color scheme of the room they are likely to inhabit." So says the writer of an article in 'Canadian Homes and Gardens' dealing with the decorative value of pets.

"A red cocker spaniel would be lovely in a room of deep blue and copper shades, but quite off in a rose room or more and more artistic. An old-fashioned wicker cage silhouetted against a sunny window brings memories of Mastertinck's 'Blue Bird'. You can get birds of a color to match or harmonize with your rooms."

HEAVY DOCKET FACED POLICE MAGISTRATE

As is generall usual on Saturday morning there was a heavy police court this morning. Not one of the cases were completed before press time.

Thomas Butler charged with reckless driving, was the first case called. ' It will be remembered that Butler smashed up two cars on Wednesday.

Peter Murray and Viola Robertson, faces a serious charge, that of contributing to the delinquency of minors, faced the Magistrate once again this morning. The court was cleared for the case, which was started yesterday afternoon at five o'clock.

Alva Fox, charged with permitting drunkenness in his home, and Tommy Mahoney, both appeared before His Worship this morning.

UPWARD TREND IN PRICE OF HEN-FRUIT

Eggs, for some reason, took a high plunge this morning and travelled to twenty-eight cents the dozen, as against twenty-five cents the dozen last week. Butter was slightly cheaper, retailing at forty-two cents the pound.

Vegetables were stirred at the same price as last Saturday, absolutely no change, except in potatoes, being evident. New potatoes, however, were forty cents cheaper this morning, when bought by the bag. They were offered at $1.00 the bag.

Chickens sold from $1 apiece upwards, which price has held for some time past.

FINAL MEETING ASSURANCE MEN

J. O. Herity, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce, Is Speaker

Belleville Life Underwriters Association held their closing meeting at the Queen's Hotel today, and will not commence again until the first Friday in September. A large number of local Underwriters were in attendance, and a most successful meeting was enjoyed.

Mr. J. Owen Herity, Secretary of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker, and chose as his subject, "What the Business Man Thinks of Modern Life Assurance." He was introduced to the gathering by Eric Kester, who told briefly of his connection with the business life of this city. In the first place, the speaker declared, every one must face the fact that sooner or later, death triumphs over mortal man. However, in the last one hundred years, due to medical science and other forces, the span of life has been increased by almost seventeen years.

In 1862, the first Life Assurance company started operations, this company being the Equitable Life, of London, England. Since that time many other companies have commenced operations, and have increased their capital to such an extent that now they are among the largest and soundest of financial institutions in the world.

Mr. Herity had a local touch to the address the speaker told the first life assurance salesman in this part of the country. Mr. S. Burrows, who was operating in Moira when he remembered him. When the first man to take a policy told of the fact, his neighbors thought at first that he was flaunting himself in the face of Providence, but he has since died and his family reaped the benefit.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Elmer Anderson and Mr. Monk to Mr. Herity, these men voicing the appreciation of the rest of Belleville's Life Assurance Representatives from the Canada Life, the London Life, Confederation Life, Sun Life, Imperial Life, Excelsior Life, and Manufacturers Life were present, and many new members were secured before the meetings commence again in the fall.

Taken in connection with the seven in the Marsh Cup Competition, the aggregate scores are:

Queen Mary School	627
Queen Victoria School	580

Cadet P. Fry of King George School also shot a target on the course of qualifying for an individual prize. His score is 39.

The individual prize winners will be taken from the score made in the Merchants Cup Competition, and the number of prizes will depend on the amount of Strathcona Grant received.

YOUR GLOVE DOESN'T DESERVE ITS NAME

New York.—"Kid" gloves come no kidskin. "Elkskin" shoes for sportsmen never covered the back of an elk. "Chamois skin" such as every automobilist and glass polisher keeps handy did not come from the agile chamois.

Yet every one of these leathers performs the service for which it is intended the leather industries guild tells in a "dictionary of leather terminology" written to give people a better chance to understand just what they are buying.

"Kid" gloves are made from delicately tanned sheepskin, since there is only enough real kid in the world for shoes and a few other uses. The name also produces all the "chamois skin" there is. The chamois flesh-footed alpine member of the deer family is so nearly extinct as to be of no commercial worth. Sheep skins can now be split and the inside used for the same purposes that chamois once served. "Elk" leather is really cowhide treated to give it rough flexibility. Elkskin never appears under its own name in the leather markets of the world any more. What little there is of it ranks with other deerskins as "buckskin."

Jars of preserves that have been sealed for quite some time will be easier to turn if a warm iron is placed on the cover for a few minutes before the jars are opened.

Social and Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Payne spent the week end in Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dickens and Jack Rogers family of Norwood, took tea a James Lake's, Foxboro, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Connors, of Toronto, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Alexander, Bleecker Ave.

Miss Kathleen Duval spent the week end in Point Anne, the guest of her brother, Mr. Robert Duval.

Mrs. George MacDonald is quite ill in the Belleville General Hospital where she was taken on June 3rd.

Mrs. Clayton Hicks, of Oshawa, spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Starr.

Miss Grace Sulberby, of Toronto, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sulberby.

Miss Laura Juby was taken to the Belleville General Hospital yesterday, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rosebury and daughter, Mrs. Elmer Snyder, of Easton, Penn., arrived in Point Anne yesterday where they will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Russel Rosebury.

Mr. Abraham Dies has completed his course at Ontario Agricultural College and is back on the Laboratory staff again.

Miss Frances Leslie and Mrs. Jackson, of Toronto, were guests of Mrs. W. H. Fenton at Sidney Cottage yesterday and today.

Mrs. Mary E. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott and daughter Mary, of Brockport, N.Y., and Mrs. Stanley Hawkins of Frankford, Mich.,* motored to the city and are visiting relatives in the city and district.

FOOTBALL CARD PARTY SUCCESS

Last evening under the auspices of the Hospital Football Team, a most successful card party and dance was held in the Canadian Legion Hall. Over 19 people were in attendance at the piece and affair. The first part of the evening was devoted to the playing of euchre and bridge and keen competition marked the play for the various prizes. Those winning the prizes were:—

Euchre—Ladies' 1st, Mrs. Chapman; 2nd, Mrs. Clapp; Consolation, Mrs. Armitage. Gents 1st, Mr. J. Mayfield; 2nd, Mr. Royale. Consolation, Mr. Cecil Bowerman.

Bridge—1st, Mrs. Bumpstead; 2nd Mrs. Jack.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Scrimshaw.

Following cards refreshments were served by the ladies in charge after which dancing was the order of the evening, Mr. Bert Hall supplying excellent music. The party broke up at a late hour.

The committee in charge wish to extend their thanks to the merchants and their friends who kindly donated the prizes for the affair.

PORTO RICAN WOMEN WANT VOTE RIGHTS

Washington, D.C.—Two blackhair-ed, brown-eyed Porto Rican women are storming the halls of Congress these days in the interests of a movement to obtain suffrage for the women of their country.

Dr. Maria Robert, one of the sex's pre-eminent women physicians of the island and the head of a large maternity hospital in San Juan, declares the entire feminine population of her country is bent on obtaining the vote. She and Miss Felisa Rincon Gautier have been sent by the suffrage associations of San Juan to speak at committee hearings on the proposed house bill giving suffrage to Porto Rican women.

"We are all American citizens," Dr. Robert says. "But the men can vote, and we cannot. When we women come to the United States we have only to live here six months and we are entitled to vote, but all our lives we could stay in Porto Rican and never be allowed to express our choice for public officers."

SERVANTS WANT THE SABBATH DAY SHOW

Chicago, Ills.—Sunday movies in fashionable Wilmette are not so much a matter of morals as a solution of the servant problem.

Citizens of the north shore suburb have voted 2,779 to 453 for Sabbath cinemas. The voting was unofficial but is expected to guide the council in the matter.

Daniel Stiles, vice president of the First National Bank of Wilmette, believes the servant problem is responsible for the change in sentiment. Householders say domestics insist upon movies for Sunday afternoon. Being compelled to remain in Chicago for entertainment, they frequently are late preparing the Sunday evening meal.

ACTIVE ONES THRIVE, AS IDLE GO TO SEED

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
(The Eminent Psychologist.)

Work is as necessary to human beings as food! Without work the human organism deteriorates.

Every organ in the body works. That is, the liver, the kidneys, the heart, the lungs, the brain—all have work to perform. The work of these vital organs is invisible. We do not see it. We only come to realize that they do perform a certain kind of work when their work goes wrong—that is, when the organ gets sick.

Visible work is the kind of work we usually think about. It's the output of brawn and brain as measured by constructive activity. This is what work means in the ordinary sense.

Now, if any of the vital organs ceased to work—that is, stopped functioning—that organ would die immediately. If it did not work at maximum efficiency it would deteriorate, in order words, die slowly.

The same holds true of the organs performing visible work. Hinder them from working and with surprising rapidity they go to pieces!

Take a lifelong and powerful man, put him to bed for a couple of weeks, and at the end of that time he will be as weak he will scarcely be able to stand. His muscles are already deteriorating!

If you could stop a brain from working for any appreciable length of time, prompt and deleterious effects would also be noted.

Of course, you cannot compel the brain to cease functioning, as you can a muscle. Nevertheless, many people do let their minds slow up with results that are disastrous.

It is common knowledge that if a man retires after years of active business, he soon grows decrepit and often dies before his time.

The marked enfeblement of faculties that follows is not due to the giving up of a particular kind of mind or body activity. It is due to the fact that he does not exercise his mind and body as vigorously as before.

When people retire they should not stop working; they should work at something else.

If Mr. Athlete gives up training and adopts a sedentary life he becomes round-bound. If an inactive worker ceases to exercise his mind, he becomes mind-bound!

Excessive work is, of course, bad. But don't grumble because you have to work at all!

If you were not working at your present job you would have to work at something else. Otherwise you would soon break!

Learn to do and to enjoy several varieties of mental activities.

Keep yourself pliable so that, if necessary, you can shift from your major interest to something else.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a boy 18 years of age and have been going with a girl one year my senior for over a year. During that time have known of her going out with other boys but said nothing. The other day she saw me with another girl and has refused to talk to me or let me call on her since. And I think very much of her. So I am writing you for advice.

BABE.

BABE: Since for the goose is sauce for the gander, etc. You are engaged to the young lady, therefore, you are privileged to go with as many girls as you choose.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have been going with a boy for some time, and we are engaged. He says he loves me very much and says he thinks of me all the time. I have a girl friend, she is a friend of his also. He takes her places all the time and takes his sister along, so, as he thinks, her parents will not suspect anything. I love him very much. He acts as though he doesn't love me. I'm asking you to please tell me what to do.

BROKEN HEARTED.

BROKEN-HEARTED: If you are engaged to the young man he is not acting very fairly toward you in taking another girl out. Have a nice heart-to-heart talk with him and explain this, and am sure that he will mend his ways. Be careful, though, that you do it in a nice way and not a nagging way. It is hardly understood that when a couple are engaged they do not go about as freely as they did previous to the engagement. However, under certain circumstances it may be quite all right.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and love a boy who goes with a girl who his sister quite a bit. She says he loves me, but thinks I don't love him. How can I prove to him that I love him?

CURLY LOCKS.

CURLY LOCKS: You are too young, my dear, to be concerned about love. Be satisfied for the while with the friendship of the boy. If in time you find that he loves you, I am sure that he will tell you so. Just be sister alone about it. Take my advice and put love out of your mind for a few years.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

When washing handkerchiefs, leave one fairly wet and roll the others round. The resulting steam dampens and thus damps all the handkerchiefs. About ten minutes is saved by means this idea.

To brighten up paint or varnish on doors or woodwork, use a little boiled linseed oil, rubbed on with a clean rag and then polished with a soft cloth. This also is an easy method of removing finger marks; it look like new and preserves it well.

One of the grounds a woman added recently to the Tottenham magistrate in her appeal for a separation from her husband was that he persisted in annoying her by tinkering with a wireless set at night and she got a separation order!

To treat iron mould hold the article to be treated taut over a small saucepan of boiling water, and in same time rub a piece of freshly cut lemon on the mark, and the iron mould will gradually disappear. Two persons will be required to do this. If you have an old-fashioned iron and fender, clean it thoroughly and rub it with sandpaper to remove any roughness. Then give it two good coats of one of the new enamels in the same shade as the carpet, or use the soft furnishings of the room.

The Flare
Adds Distinction
To The Spring Mode

To the recent Spring openings in Paris, where every Actress's newest evening frocks were introduced, a Cox hat manufacturer added a hat, the place of wraps and scanty trousers for a formal evening function one particular for afternoon wear. The model shown above, worn with an unusually pearing coat, forms a fashions and pleasing evening ensemble. In the ballroom, where the frock itself can be seen in full advantage, the hat's skilled eye will recognize the effective position of the flares for they are placed in such a way as not to widen the figure but rather to have a slenderizing effect. The moulded beauty is shirred in front and broken slightly over a wide sash brought nearly over the hips and tied softly in front. The skirt is flared in front and there is a flared panel attached across the back and sides, thus causing the folds to fall gracefully over each another and swing with every movement in that manner so particularly becoming to the dancer. From the neckline, which is a wide-V in front and a wide-U in back, a circular cape hangs to the hips. Made in georgette, crepe satin, or chiffon, with coat to match, this unique and individual frock assures to wearer of saintly serenity and popularity at the most important dances of the season.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

THE FRUSTRATED SCHEME.

With a sense of utter dismay, Celia listened to James Annesley's secretary say that he was out of town and was not expected back for two weeks.

She had keyed herself up to this interview, so important, but so embarrassing, to her, and to learn that her efforts had been in vain sent her into the depths of despair.

"Mr. Annesley's assistant will attend to any business for you, Mrs. Falconer," suggested the secretary.

"Thank you; it is necessary that I see Mr. Annesley himself," murmured Celia.

She went out, her thoughts in turmoil.

What excuse could she give her mother now?

On the way up-town, through streets noisy and congested with home-going traffic, she tried to gather her thoughts; to think of some new excuse that would sound plausible to the fretful woman who waited for her son-in-law.

There seemed to be only one thing for her to do — to go home and try to make her mother believe that some important business had suddenly detained her "husband" and that he would come later. It was a course fraught with difficulty and danger, considering the suspicions that had already arisen in the mind of the sick woman, but there was no other plan open to her. She would have to see Mr. Annesley, make an effort to explain the situation, beg him to stop off on his way from Chicago to see Mrs. Falconer.

On the following morning she telephoned Annesley's office to ask his address in Chicago. His secretary gave it to her and added:

"Mr. Jackson has been yesterday, just after you'd left. He was sorry to have missed you. Mr. Annesley's assistant looked after him. He asked to be told when he would get in touch with you and I told him."

"Mr. Falconer?" stammered Celia.

"Yes. Mr. Richard Falconer."

"Did Mr. Jackson see him?" Celia let fall the telephone-receiver. When she regained it, the connection had been broken. She called the number again dumbly.

Of course the girl had simply jumped to conclusions. She hadn't really known to whom she was talking. Richard Falconer was in his grave.

Celia forgot all about the incident in her plans for her mother's comfort and happiness. Then she asked a clerk-man that her husband had been retained in a very important case and couldn't leave New York for two weeks; that she would remain with him for a few days, and that, if it were as soon as possible, even though she had to come alone.

She spent several restless days worrying about the effect of her message upon her mother. Twice she telephoned Miss Page and learned that the invalid was getting along as well as could be expected, but that she was constantly asked when her daughter would return. Evidently the story had been accepted.

Celia shuddered to think what would happen if anything occurred to prevent Annesley's stopping off on his return to New York. She was too nervous and unstrung to write the all-important letter to him before she left New York. She would do that the first thing after her return home. Given, she dependable, would help her.

The trip bored and fatigued Celia. On the way to New York, she had been buoyed up by her determination to carry her plan through, and there had been a sense of pleasure in the anticipation of seeing again the man who had befriended her and who was Falconer's secretary and who had done so much for her in the past. Now, in her disappointment and apprehension, life seemed very dark, indeed, and the future immediate and uncertain. She shrank from the thought of facing it.

It was evening when she reached home. The station looked as gloomy and desolate as the day she waited and Given to meet her. Given's counsel would have been helpful; Given's strength and calmness would have been a support.

When Celia arrived home at last, the maid opened the door and smiled a greeting.

"Mr. Falconer is with your Mother, Miss Celia," she said.

For an instant, Celia thought she was going mad. She put out a hand and found the door-jamb to steady herself.

"Ain't he handsome, Miss Celia?" gurgled the girl.

"Ye-s-s!" gurgled Celia.

"Your husband, Miss Celia. He's just wonderful!"

(To be Continued.)

A most charming vogue Paris dressmakers are starting is that for tailor-mades, and this new kind of ensemble is particularly practical as it can serve both for a ruse-town and country and for many a smart afternoon reception, a garden party and for Ascot and Longchamps.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

The tucked-in blouse is again being seen.

Bolero as well as cape berthas appear in latest models.

Brown and white is a smart combination, favored this season by Paris houses.

The "Circle of Sisterhood", an organization of unmarried women and widows, has been organized in Sioux City, Ia., to help young girls entering business to compete with the married women.

Adaptations from breeds are appearing in charming fabrics for the feather-weight dress for the coming popular, and subdued colors feature coats of brown and yellow, the blues, olives, greens, tans, taxi and soft violets, while strange edgings appear for trimmings.

It is a long, long time since organdy, linen, piqué, and other lingerie fabrics were so salient a part of smart frocks and coats, but black taffeta with white organdy or piqué is a favorite combination of Paris couturiers today just as it was in the Mauve Decade, and so is black moire with white trimmings, black satin, black crepe de chine, or what will you.

FALSE PROPHETS TO GET THEIR DESERTS

Oaxaca City, Oaxaca, Mexico.—Persons prophesying earthquakes here are to be punished if their predictions prove untrue. Oaxaca, an earthquake centre during all known time has had several severe shocks during recent months. Minor tremblors are frequent.

Local self styled earthquake prophets have of late caused much alarm and the people already panicky and with fibres cut loose because of previous shocks by predicting the destruction of Oaxaca City if not of the entire state at a certain day or hour. Long before the appointed time many persons began camping in the plazas go out into the country or huddle in fear and misery about the streets. Many kneel and pray, others become hysterical as the hour approaches. There has been no earthquake at the time fixed by any of these prophets and so the prophets have perished. The government has now ordered the punishment of persons responsible for such false alarms.

REGULAR BAPTIST CHURCH, ODDFELLOWS' HALL, FRONT ST.
2 p.m.—Sunday School.
3 p.m.—Public Worship.

BELLE THEATRE

A greater number of marvelous bargains than probably ever before were in Hand together to appear in a single motion picture are prominent figures in "Beau Geste," which opens at the Belle Theatre Monday for one day only.

The riders are western cowboys and Indians who appear as Troopers of the African Deserts in this thrilling mystery story of the French Foreign Legion. According to Lieut. Louis Van den Ecker, former legionnaire who served as technical advisor to Director Herbert Brenon, the desert horsemen although famous for their skill in stirrups, cannot surpass the riders of the Wild.

The Tocarega noted as warriors; wear long white robes and veils, so it was easy for a dozen riders to appear to number them.

Among the interior scenes of "Beau Geste" had been made at the Paramount studio in Hollywood, Brenon established a camp of 2000 men for a three month stay on the Arizona Desert where the exterior episodes were made.

Next week the Belle Theatre will celebrate its fourth Birthday and will have special feature pictures with a complete change of program for every day in the week. Anniversary Week with the Belle Theatre has become almost an institution, and every year its patrons look for this week to see the best shows of the year. Mr. McCarthy, popular owner and manager of the theatre is to be congratulated on the fine motion pictures which he selects for his patrons, and which Belle Theatre at the organ it is sure to be a real treat. One of the features for one night only next week is "Beau Geste," which is now being shown in one of the larger picture houses in Toronto.

REGENT THEATRE

What promises to be the most unusual mystery drama ever filmed is "The Wizard," a Fox Films production featuring Edmund Lowe, which opens a 3 day run at the Regent Theatre Monday. It deals with the mysterious disappearance of a famous prevailing attorney and the dangers which surround a lovely girl in the home of the judge who became a victim of unknown conspirators.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Patrons of the Capitol Theatre are in for some first class features at this popular playhouse next week. Both on the stage and on the screen, the first half are gripping and thrilling affairs.

"Diamond Handcuffs" with Eleanor Brandian, Conrad Nagel, Lawrence Gray and a large cast is on the screen; and it promises to be one of the best. On the stage, the Imperial Players will present their first mystery play of the season "The Five Party Line".

Tonight will be shown for the last time Marion Davies in "Tillie Patsy" a comedy of genuine merit, and one of the most entertaining pictures seen at the Capitol for sometime. The Imperial Players will also be on the stage tonight.

What we suspect often affects our conduct more than we know.

Words are for anyone and everyone; thoughts are for those who can discover them.

Self-respect is necessary for one's own character, influence and happiness.

Be loving, and you will never want friends; be true, and you will never want for guiding.

BELLEVILLE, PRINCE EDWARD, NORTHUMBERLAND, PETERBOROUGH, LENNOX AND ADDINGTON

MOIRA

The farmers of this vicinity have finished their seeding some time ago, and are busy with the planting ground. Our school teachers, Mr. Varey and Miss Beatty observed Monday, June 4th as a holiday and held no school that day.

Moira is a thriving little village as every year new improvements in building operations. At present Mr. Wes. Shobert is erecting a new house, and Mr. Geo. Foster is making extensive additions to his home. Mr. E. Long, of Tweed, has been engaged at the latter.

House cleaning being completed, a great many of the ladies are busy canning for new additions to their flocks of poultry, with varying choices.

We notice several new cars being sported around lately. Mr. Ed. Welsh having purchased a new Chevrolet sedan and Mr. Geo. Hollinger a Ford coach. The trend of fashion seems to be for enclosed cars.

League was held on Monday evening instead of Monday eve, the regular night, in the absence of our pastor, Rev. Mr. Truscott, who is attending conference.

Mr. Clayton Rutter of Fuller, who has been attending Queen's University, gave a very instructive talk on the temptation of youth.

Mrs. H. Hudson, formerly Miss Bertha Foster, of Sask., has been renewing acquaintances here and in adjoining neighborhoods for the past few weeks. We are all glad to welcome her back as she lived and taught here a number of years ago.

Mr. J. Williams, of Belleville, spent the week end at the home of Mr. Geo. Hollinger and assisted in the Sunday program Sunday evening.

Miss Lily Ketcheson is busy these days preparing for music examinations, both for herself and a number of her pupils. Miss Ruth Foster, of Gordon Foster being unable to try this year on account of breaking his arm in Easter holidays.

It was very encouraging to see such a large turn out at S. S. on Sunday morning last. A great number walking for miles to be present.

The Tuxis boys, under the leadership of Mr. Ross Ketcheson meet regularly every two weeks. At the last meeting refreshments were served at the close.

The school teachers are busy these days preparing their scholars for exams., Mr. Varty having seven Entrance candidates.

Miss Bessie Ketcheson spent the week end in Toronto.

Messrs. G. Ketcheson, O. Foster and P. Emerson attended Masonic Lodge in Tweed one night recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton spent Sunday at Rogers.

Miss Laura Poste has gone to Belleville where she has secured a position for the summer.

Mr. Will Vandeleer is working in Belleville at present.

Mr. Cecil Wood has returned home after spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. Gilbert Thompson.

A number in the community have been ill with the flu.

The Tuxis boys are enjoying soft ball games in the evenings.

MARMORA

Miss Eva Shannon is visiting friends in Peterboro.

Dr. D. L. Curtis is attending the Dental Convention in Toronto this week. Mrs. Curtis is also visiting in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Murry, Mr. and Mrs. Tamplin, Miss Deacon and Mr. F. Groves attended the Military ball in Belleville on Wednesday evening.

Miss Veronica Maloney, of Toronto, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Maloney.

Mrs. H. Parkinson, of Los Angeles is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Doupe.

Mr. Roque Gordon spent the week-end in Peterboro.

Mr. Bernard Hughes motored down from Toronto to spend the week-end at his home here.

Mr. L. P. Hughes, of Belleville, spent the week end in town.

Mrs. E. Byrnes, Mr. T. J. Byrnes, Miss M. McGrath and Mr. Jim McGrath were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Callery, of Read, on Sunday.

AMELIASBURG

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miner spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Dempster.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Carrington motored to Picton on Sunday to see Mrs. Ross. Brown who is in the hospital.

Miss Dorothy Mastin and Miss Hazel Gamble spent Sunday with Miss Flossie Humphrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bixbyi visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Mastin on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Brown and daughter, Mrs. and Mrs. C. H. Adams on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams entertained friends from Lindsay on Sunday.

Miss Fern Abye is still in a very serious condition and under the care of Dr. Vanluven and a trained nurse.

Miss Ella Hungerford has returned home to Wellington after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. M. Carrington.

CHAPMAN'S CORNER

Mrs. J. H. Foster spent Sunday afternoon visiting her mother, Mrs. Alex Wright.

Miss Hazel Barr is visiting friends in Barr and Tyrrell.

Mrs. Guy Bradshaw, of Belleville, spent a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murney Grills.

KINGSTON WOMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Kingston, June 8.—Mrs. J. McTaggart, mother of A. McTaggart of this city, who lives one mile from Napanee on the railway, had a narrow escape from death by electrocution while attending the Union Sunday-school picnic pair man, to erect new telephone wires at her home last Friday afternoon. She is confined to her bed suffering from severe shock, and Tilson Ameliasburg, nine is in bed recovering from shock.

HOLLOWAY

This community was shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Geo. Smith on Friday night last. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carter and Mr. C. Rose spent Sunday at Mr. Morris Rose's.

Mrs. R. Bungard underwent an operation in Belleville hospital two weeks ago returned home on Sunday last.

Miss Vera Rose and Miss Annills Bass spent Thursday with Miss Myrtle Reid.

Mr. and Mr. A. Wannamaker and family of Prince Edward spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter.

WHITBY MAN FACED WITH TEN CHARGES

Cobourg, June 8.—Charles H. Bright who escaped from Whitby jail while awaiting trial, elected to be tried by a judge without a jury when he appeared before Magistrate W. H. Floyd in Cobourg Police Court to face 11 charges of theft, and was ordered for trial at the next court of General Sessions to be held in June. If the charges against 10 were committed. The eleventh, a charge of stealing a bicycle from Fred Parker, Cobourg, was dismissed.

VETERAN MASCOT AT QUEEN'S IS SICK

Kingston June 8.—Alfie Pierce, the famous colored mascot of Queen's football team, is in the General Hospital, ill of pleurisy, but his condition is improved today. Alfie, who is now 54 years of age, is being attended to by no less a personage than Dr. L. J. Austin, the noted specialist of Kingston, in Queens Medical College, and the hospital nurses give the most careful attention to the old mascot, who some years ago declared that he lost his voice spurring the Tri-color boys on to victory over his "enemy," University of Toronto.

BOY SCOUTS CAPTURE TROUT WITH HANDS

Owen Sound, June 8.—It required 30 Boy Scouts to land the largest trout captured in local waters this season, last night, but they accomplished the feat with their bare hands. The lads were drilling in Harrison Park when one of them noticed the trout in the Sydenham River immediately in front. He jumped into the water and chased the 6 1-2 pound rainbow beauty to shallow water where it was scooped out. It measured 25 1-2 inches in length.

LEAGUE MOGULS GATHER TODAY

Executive Will Discuss Recent Peterboro-Kingston Fiasco

Peterboro, June 9.—The Central Ontario League executive will be among the crowd that will see Oshawa and Peterboro battle it out at James Stevenson Park this afternoon. There is an executive meeting scheduled here today and the delegates will get a chance to watch the ball game.

They and the Peterboro customers should see a pretty battle. With a drop out of first place as a penalty for a loss the Oshawa gang will fight it out until the last man is retired while the Peters on the other hand need a win and they will make it lively for the invaders.

Peterboro, June 9.—The controversy over the Kingston-Peterboro fiasco of last week will be settled here today when a meeting of the Central Ontario League executive will be held to discuss this and other business. The failure of the Peters to go to Kingston was the sole topic of conversation in the Ponies' town this week until the announcement that Provencal had been selected as the Great Lakers terminal gave Kingstonians a real grievance over which to worry.

KINGSTON TRIM DELORO EASILY

Vaughan Jack Was Pounded From Box By Hard-Hitting Hometsers

Kingston defeated Deloro in a hard fought game at Kingston yesterday afternoon by the score of 8 to 2. Deloro started Jack on the mound, who is well known to fans here, but he was forced to retire after a barrage of hits and several runs were scored against him in the fifth. Leal then took up the burden and held the heavy hitting Limestone sluggers in check for the rest of the game. Jamieson pitched for Kingston and was at no time in any trouble, getting the hits well scattered and was backed up by nice fielding. Although Kingston made four errors all the Sugeiers two, their's came at less critical moments than Deloro's, with the result that they were never held pressed after the fifth. Kingston had thirteen hits off Jack and Leal, while Deloro had five off Jamieson. To date is the weakest team in the loop as far as hitting is concerned, but their pitchers are just as good as the best of them in this league.

OCCUPANTS SAVED AS BOAT CATCHES FIRE

Brockville, June 8.—Three members of the family of D. M. Edwards, of Syracuse, and the Edwards gardener on Dewey Island in the St. Lawrence river, escaped death this week when the Mary Elizabeth, one of the expensive craft on the Edwards estate, caught fire near Rockport, burned to the water's edge and sank. The occupants of the boat, Mrs. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards and the gardener were saved from being drowned or burned to death by the crew of a Canadian government cutter which rushed to the rescue when the craft burst into flames. Wells Edwards, son of D. M. Edwards, was back-fired.

Two Members Injured When Dirigible Landed On Ice Floe

Two Injured

Rome, June 11.—Two of the crew of the dirigible Italia were injured slightly when the dirigible landed on the ice in the Northeast Land after the gondola had snapped from its frame.

General Umberto Nobile with eight companions was in the gondola when it broke away, leaving other men of the crew still in the engine cabins or with it by the fastest as it came to earth at least 30 miles away.

Reporting by wireless to the Italian Government, General Nobile said that all groups were in sight of land and that he, upon which they were stranded was now drifting southward. He would carry the ship near Foyne Island, north of Cape Leigh.

The group remaining with the boat was made up of two meteorologists, Dr. Finn Maggerin and Prof. F. Behounka, three mariners a carpenter and a news paperman, Dr. Ugo Lago.

General Nobile believes that there must be a part of the food supplies and extra clothing with the dirigible's load. Every effort is being made to bring help to the stranded men. The Italian Government has been notified and also the Hobby and Braganza have been directed to rush their aid and that two aeroplanes of the Norwegian Government will be used as quickly as possible.

All Free U. S.

Oslo, Norway, June 11—Roald Amundsen, believing it essential that assistance be sent to General Nobile immediately has cabled friends in the United States to that effect, previously cabling to help aiding them to reply urgently whether they are willing to share in financing the expedition.

The famous explorer feels that the flying boat now ready in Germany and a trip to the north would be the most efficient type of plane to use in the present emergency.

SNEAK THIEVES ENTERED HOME

Thieves broke into the house of William Adamson, 121 Station street, sometime during Friday night and made away with about $25 in cash.

Speaking to the Intelligencer to-day Mr. Adamson stated that the sneak thieves must have gained an entrance while he was asleep, for he was home at the time of the robbery. No clues have been found as to the perpetrators of the daring robbery as yet. Mr. Adamson is an employee of the Fruit Machinery Company, Limited.

The money was in a drawer at the home. None of the doors or windows were broken open. The police are investigating.

"CANNONBALL" SCOTT WAS TAKEN ILL HERE

"Cannonball" Ed Scott, perhaps at one time one of Ontario's best baseball pitchers was stricken with appendicitis in the Quinte hotel over the week-end and had to be rushed by the police am bulance to the local hospital where Drs. Tennant and Faulkner operated upon him.

Scott is well-known. He was famous for his fast ball and pitched against Belleville for Lindsay in 1912. Scott also played for Hillcrest in Toronto for some time and while pitching an important game struck a batter and has not played ball since. He is resting comfortably to-day.

ACTIVE DAY ON STOCK MARKET

Standard Mining Exchange, June 11 1928

New York was somewhat erratic today with considerable weakness and this was reflected in the mines, particularly those that are heavily traded in on New York, like Noranda, which was heavily traded in, opening at $4.47, sold at $4.50 and closed at noon at $4.10 with close at the latter figure. Amity was in the active class, but sold at a few points to 45. Barry was active but unable to hold up. Graham Bousquet and Belleterre Hall were also to the front, Thompson Cadillac off 5 points Hudson Bay off 25 and Teck 35. International Nickel was jumpy with quite a lot of buying coming in at about 892, Noranda took some watching opening at $39.00 it sold off to $33.88 back to $34.25 off again to $31.00 and closed at $33.25. Sudbury Basin opened at $19.50 sold off to $9.75 closing at $10.10. Hargreaves was stronger at $4.30. The close was as follows: Quotations by Homer L. Gibson and Co. Equalization of Assessment Will Be Chief Point of Discussion

Starting tomorrow afternoon the June session of the County Council will open at Shire Hall, with Warden Rollins of Tweed in the chair.

Not a great deal of important business will come before the Council at this session. The matter of the equalization of assessment for the local municipalities will be discussed during this convention. This has been a bone of contention for the past two years. Several of the villages are complaining that they are being taxed more than the others, and are fighting to have their assessments equalized.

During the session the tax rates for the year will be struck, as is done every year. Estimates of the various committees will be brought before the Council and passed or rejected by that body.

The Road Committees have been meeting for the past few weeks and mapping out a programme of repairs and alterations for the forthcoming year. Their report will be read some time within the next three days.

INJURIES FATAL TO NAPANEE MAN

Alfred Davis Is Thrown From Bicycle On Highway

DRIVER NOT HELD

Was Struck Late Saturday Afternoon By Prince Edward Motorist

Alfred Davis, 65, a laborer, residing on the Eastern outskirts of the town of Napanee was almost instantly killed on Saturday afternoon shortly after the cyclist when he was struck by a car driven by Mountain Gordon of Demorestville. Davis who was riding a bicycle was proceeding west and Gordon was driving his car in the same direction. About half a mile East of the town limits Davis suddenly swerved his bicycle in front of Mr. Gordon car, the vehicle was hit beside the car and Davis was thrown some twelve feet. He struck the pavement head on the highway and sustained a fractured skull, dying within two hours after the accident.

Driver Not Held

Gordon who was in charge of the car waited at the scene of the accident until after the arrival of Chief of Police Barrett, of Napanee; and Coroner Dr. C. M. Stratton. After investigating the accident and ascertaining the circumstances Gordon was not held.

Coroner Stratton ordered an inquest which was opened at Napanee on Sat urday night and after the remains had been identified the hearing was adjourned until next Friday night.

It appears that Davis who was an elderly man was a trifle deaf and did not hear the horn of the approaching car and rode directly in front of it allowing the driver no chance of avoiding an accident. Davis who is a widower had lived alone in a small house in Napanee. His wife having died some years ago. As far as could be ascertained there are no relatives or members of the family. He had made a living by performing odd jobs around the town and was employed locally as a laborer. A post-mortem examination was held on Saturday which revealed the fractured skull. Arrangements for interment of the body are as yet incomplete.

HONOR MEMORY OF LOVED FRIEND

Memorial To The Late Mrs. R. J. Graham, Dedicated By Guild

Simply and quietly impressive was the ceremony of dedication at the day of Quinte Country Club yesterday after noon when a memorial flag was unveiled by the club members in honor of the late Mrs. R. J. Graham was unveiled. At 2 o'clock the members gathered on the verandah as the Club House lawn in front of the club house by Col. W. N. Ponton, K.C., following which the flag covering the bronze plate inscription memorial to the late Mrs. P. S. Wilson, President of the ladies' section, Mrs. C. E. Wilmot, past president, Mrs. Ponton, Mrs. R. J. Graham briefly thanked the members present for their kindness to the memory o this late wife and the ceremony was over

It was not depressing. The sun shone brightly on the rippling waters of the Bay and the green reward around the Club House, and the luscious kiddie spirit of a loved companion pervaded the scene. Mrs. Graham had been a personal friend to practically every member of the Club and had taken a keen, active interest in the organization from the days of its infancy up till the time of her death and all felt that she would endorse this tribute to her men ory placed where she had spent many happy hours.

Colonel Ponton spoke of the late Mrs. Graham as he had known her for many years both as a member of the Club members knew her, a devoted friend and an active worker in any cause which would help the City in which she lived. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Wilmot spoke briefly but feelingly of their experiences as long intimate friends.

The Flag Pole and its block of granite to the Club House grounds. Flowers had been planted by the family and friends around its base and a cement curbing encloses the plot within the circular drive. It will stand as a permanent tribute to a woman whom she was a beloved friend to all who knew her.

PRINCE EDWARD MEN IN COURT

Kenneth Curry of Wellington Convicted On Drunk Charge

Ralph Macdonald, of Wellington, Agricultural Representative for Prince Edward County, was this morning remanded by Magistrate W. G. Mikel in police court on a charge of being drunk in charge of a car.

Macdonald, in company with Kenneth Curry, a teller in a bank in Wellington, was driving along Coleman street, on Saturday night when it is alleged he ran into the left rear end of J. Donovan's car, crumpling the rear fender badly, but not damaging his own car, Mr. Donovan lives on the Canniff Mon Road.

The police promptly investigated the accident and both Macdonald and Curry were arrested Macdonald to face a charge of drunk in charge of a car and Curry to face a charge of ordinary drunkenness. Curry, who has no permanent home has had his case adjourned for three days.

Mountain View Man Bitten In Leg By Infected Canine

When a dog owned by John French of the village of Mountain View attacked Roy Taylor, forty years of age, of the same village, on May last week, the canine was promptly killed and the head was sent to Toronto for examination.

Mountain View's worst hopes were realized. The dog was found to be infected with a bad case of rabies and since then a proclamation has been issued to the effect that all dogs running at large in the township of Amelisburg will be killed, or destroyed with out any warning whatsoever being given to the owner.

Mr. Taylor was bitten in the leg, but as he was promptly given the Pasteur cure, he ill effects were suffered.

Information to-day last week it has been found necessary to destroy at least three more dogs, the last one on Saturday night, in the village, and

TODAY'S THOUGHT

I have often regretted having spoken, never having kept silent.
—SYRUS.

HIGH SICKNESS COST MAY BE ELIMINATED

The high cost of illness is receiving constructive consideration at the hands of a special body appointed recently by the United States Government, and in nearly all countries it has come to be a more or less acute social problem. Fairly viewed, the present situation in that regard is due almost wholly to an insistent public demand for expensive and highly equipped hospitals, as well as for medical skill and nursing service which can never be had for love. The fact remains, however, that all this bears with peculiar severity on the great middle class. The poor are the chief beneficiaries, because they are not called upon to pay anything, while the rich are well able to pay. In one sense, the middle class pays for the free treatment of the poor, because members of that class alone feel the burden. Whether or not, a careful study of the problem in its varied aspects with a view to bringing about amelioration will depend at large to make adjustments. That very much on the readiness of society adjustments are practicable through the sacrifice of what is how little more than either habit or unnecessary sentimentalness, would seem to be indicated by an announcement which has just come from a very high quarter.

Dr. Charles E. Mayo says that fully 80 per cent. of all sickness does not actually require hospitalization, and "is particularly true", he adds, "of the sickness of patients belonging to the self-supporting middle class who live in the smaller towns and in the country, owning their own homes or renting homes that have all the modern conveniences. It may be that city dwellers in flats, where a three-room or four-room apartment has to do service for eating, sleeping, bridge, and entertainment of all sorts, are almost forced through lack of house room and conveniences, to go to a hospital when sick, but for the most of those belonging to the great middle-class, such an emergency is not as common. It probably is also true that a large number of people who could be taken care of in their homes when sick are encouraged by the attending physician to go to a hospital, not because of real necessity but because of the convenience to the physician. Likewise, if sick persons are cared for in the home there is too great a tendency to require the service of a trained nurse, when perhaps a practical nurse or even a sensible attendant without training in nursing could answer all requirements. Even when the patient goes to the hospital there is frequently shown a tendency to encourage the employment of a trained nurse at six to eight dollars per day."

The allusion made by Dr. Mayo to a "practical nurse" and a "sensible attendant" touches on one of the most promising prospects of relief. We hear very little in Canada about "the trained attendant," and yet in Boston, Detroit, and many other American communities, this substitute for the graduate nurse has come to be immensely popular. At first there was opposition to her employment on the part of graduate nurses; but when the situation came to be better understood all feeling of that nature disappeared. It was recognized that these trained attendants render a service which the graduate nurse is not prepared to give, such as looking after children and general home needs, and which would not therefore introduce hurtful competition. Experience has taught the medical practitioner that the domestic problem, when a mother, for example, is laid aside by temporary injury or indisposition, often runs above the question of either treatment or nursing. That is to say, the patient merely needs incidental and intelligent attention, which does not mean the service of a graduate nurse. Quite obviously, some betterment in the handling of a considerable proportion of cases of disability is possible along these lines; and that is what Dr. Mayo has in mind.

ATTEMPT TO CLEAR UP RADIO CONFUSION

Radio listeners, and many of the broadcasters as well, will welcome the announcement of the minister of marine and fisheries that a government inquiry is to be made into the whole radio situation, with a view to having the whole question taken over by the government. So far, it has been found impossible to make radio regulations, and to allocate radio wave-lengths, so as to give universal satisfaction. The cancelling the license of C. H. J. A. radio station brought the matter very strongly before the public, and further prominence has been given to the situation by the manner in which the Toronto stations have had their wave-lengths changed around from time to time.

The idea of having the government take over the control of radio broadcasting has something to commend it. This system has been adopted in Great Britain with marked success, and it is noteworthy that there it is, to that country, none of the radio confusion which exists in Canada and the United States. Whether the British system is feasible for Canada, and might be adopted with advantage to the great army of radio listeners, is a matter which rests with the investigation which is to be made. At any rate, conditions would not be made a great deal worse than they are, and there is a strong possibility that they might be improved. Under the present circumstances, a large body of the Canadian radio listeners ignores the Canadian radio stations entirely, and depends on the United States broadcasters for radio entertainment. This is hardly a satisfactory condition of affairs, and if government control of broadcasting will remedy it, then it might be worth while.

2. An example of Norse handicraft.

As far back as 1910, Paul Hjalm Hansen, the famous Norwegian journalist, author and socialist reformer, began to call attention to the fertile valley of the Red River. The very tone of his nationality who traversed the territory between Fort Arrowsmith and Port Garry brought back wonderful tales of the splendid settlement opportunities along its banks, with the result that a large influx of Norse settlers commenced in the early seventies.

Later, many of these hardy Norwegians moved farther west, some as far as Delia Coola and the sea. Sober and industrious, they have, with each year, progressed and prospered, making a great contribution to the development of the west.

This year is especially re-minded of that matter is certain, let us have the self-respect to do something practical towards being able, if called on, to do a manly part for ourselves or for our partners in the British brotherhood.

planned of the pioneers from the Red River Valley, with those of the Norse race, to commemorate the beginning of Norwegian immigration into these territories. This event has been arranged to take place in Winnipeg between July 6 and 13.

This celebration will feature Norwegian national music, with many pageants descriptive of home life with participants adorned in their native costumes. Of particular interest will be the exhibition of Norse Handicraft and art. The Modern Newspaper Comes Into Being

LONG DISTANCE BEATS THE DEADLINE and

DEADLINE is zero hour in a modern newspaper office. Mechanical processes are fixed quantities. Mails must be met, street demands satisfied. Beyond deadline, no copy can be handled.

As deadline approaches, every operation in the editorial rooms speeds up. Telephones ring incessantly. Shirt-sleeved reporters puff furiously at pipes and cigarettes as they pound out on typewriters news of events which happened miles away a few minutes before.

"Smith, take Jones on three. He's got the fight story."

"Hey! Brown's on here with that fire!"

Without Long Distance the miracle of the modern daily newspaper could not come to pass.

On the occasion of a big theatre fire last year, one New York newspaper spent over $200 in telephone tolls to Montreal, took the whole story over the telephone for its first edition, and arranged for delivery of pictures. The regular news service did not arrive until two editions later.

Side by side with the growth of the newspaper industry and its allied enterprises, the telephone marches forward. Already Ontario and Quebec are talking to England. Transatlantic calls will be commonplace in newspaper offices within a year or so.

In 1881, one year after the Bell Telephone Company of Canada was incorporated, there were just five pulp and paper mills in Canada. Their combined output was valued at $63,000. There are now 115 pulp and paper mills in Ontario and Quebec alone, with a combined output of 2,266,145 tons in 1926, valued at $158,395,119. Canada leads the world in newsprint production.

There are now over 665,000 Bell telephones in Ontario and Quebec. Nowhere in the world do telephone subscribers receive more in service for what the service costs them.

CONVICTED RECKLESS DRIVING

Thomas Burkitt, the truck driver who last week crashed into two cars on the Trenton Highway, one of them in a funeral procession, on Saturday, was convicted of reckless driving and was fined $10 and costs by the Magistrate.

Buckley, who hails from Carleton, claimed that he was not driving at a reckless rate of speed, but the court held that he was and convicted him. The fine was paid. The accused was represented by Charles Payne.

CHURCH PARADE

The annual Church service of Prankford Lodge No. 303, I.O. O. F., was held yesterday. A large number of members met at the lodge room and the parade was led by the Prankford Band followed by Canton Belleville No. 3 under command of Capt. G. Cornish. The service was held in the Anglican Church and was conducted by the Rev. Cowley Brown. After the service the parade reformed and marched to the Cemetery where the beautiful and impressive ceremony of decoration was carried out. The parade was the largest held in Prankford for a number of years.

CADDY FOR CHAMPIONS

Two junior members of the Bay of Quinte Country Club are in great glee today. Miss Ann Schuster and Miss Grace Cook, armed young golfers, have been chosen to caddy for Miss Ada McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington in their exhibition match on Wednesday afternoon. These young girls who are prospective champions hope to gather some points by watching the play of the present and past amateur champions of Canada.

SOCCER GAME TONIGHT

The Canadian Legion soccer team will play the Belleville General Hospital tonight at 6.15 on the Pine Street grounds. The Legion were originally scheduled to meet the Point Anne team but a last minute postponement was made and the Hospital team offered to pit their team against the Legion Club. On Wednesday the Legion play Point Anne here as Albert College grounds. These soccer games are attracting big crowds and the exhibitions are real interesting.

CANADIANS SHOULD USE SPRING LAMB

Toronto, Ont. — With high quality spring lamb as tasty as chicken, and as most as cheap as good beef, there is no reason why the consumption of it should remain around nine pounds a year when Canadians are eating 72 pounds of beef.

On an average, the Canadian house hold disposes of 80 pounds of pork per capita, but only 9 pounds of lamb and mutton. It is the hortical who seems to appreciate it most, and who calls loudly for it. The consumption of it is a grad ually increasing, and with beef scarce at present and likely to remain so, for at least several years, this demand will increase. Furthermore, there has been very rapid improvement in the quality of Canadian spring lamb, and this interest is beginning to receive an honored place on the menu.

ANNIVERSARY OF UNITED CHURCH

Dr. Micklem of Queen's University Is Speaker At Tabernacle

Tabernacle Church was packed to the very doors last night for the third anniversary service of the United Churches of Belleville. Every seat was occupied and chairs were provided at the rear for many of the late-comers. Rev. Nathaniel Micklem, D. D., of Queen's Theological College, was the speaker and he delivered a splendid sermon taking his text from the 13th chapter of Hebrews, verse 8: 'Jesus Christ the Same Yesterday, And Today and Forevermore.'

Dr. Micklem went on to show that Jesus Christ is just as much a part of this life as he was two thousand years ago. "Every Sunday should be a memorial to 'the Resurrection," he said. He proceeded to indigate what Christ means to us in our private, individual lives today. "We think of Heaven as a place where God is, and where his people are, and we think of him as a great way off, yet he is with us in every-day life.' Many have felt his presence, and heard his voice yet too much stress is laid on the bodily-creative element, and on the eternal presence of Christ.'

"Jesus Christ is at one side ready to help us," affirmed Dr. Micklem, 'just the same as he was previous to the Resurrection. "We are no longer to tired that we cannot realize that He is all about us;' Dr. Micklem urged his listeners to be loyal to the cause for which He died.

Church—Rev. J. S. McMullen; Rev. Dr. Baker, D. D.

Rev. A. E. McCutcheon of the Tabernacle repeated the Doxology, Dr. Baker invoked the Divine blessing, Rev. J. S. McMullen read the Scripture lesson and Rev. L. S. Wight offered a short prayer.

Mr. Lea-Biggs rendered an offertory solo and Mrs. Stobie in her usual fine manner rendered a soprano solo.

SONG FESTIVAL WAS SEED OF OUR MUSIC

Toronto, Ont.—We can look upon the recent Folk Song Festival in Quebec as the seed of a national music," said Fred Jacob speaking at the largely-attended luncheon, of the Hellconian Club. "It has turned people's thoughts to our own work and has given them a push in it." Mr. Jacob mentioned the pleasure it had been to see that Toronto and Ontario had given to the Quebec festival the chief exponent of its songs—Madame Dupuis—and her presence seemed to have been among the high spots of the affair.

Quotation was afterwards made of the woman, who, years ago, before folk music became popular, had discovered the songs of French Canada. "This woman is Mrs. J. W. F. Harrison, better known in the literary world as 'Sir-sana'." Mrs. Harrison translated many of the songs and wrote many charming bits of the villanelle type. It was arranged that these should be a feature of presentation, a matter over which Mrs. Harrison took infinite trouble, but it was a little after her time, and she, it all came to naught.

MEDICO OUGHT TO KNOW OTHER SEX

Montreal, Que.—(C.P.)—"A doctor, above all others, ought to know, women" said Mr. Justice Boyer in giving judgment in a case a man's liberty was at stake. "This doctor ought not to have accepted the version alone of his wife and mother-in-law."

Dr. Emile Dansereau and Rev. J. R. Hebert, cure of St. Laurent, were among those ordered to pay damages of $200 to Leo Rodgers for their share in committing him to an asylum for the insane on insufficient evidence of insanity. There had been trouble in the Rodgers household in 1927 and on Feb. 12 of that year an order for him committal to an asylum was signed at the instance of his wife and his mother-in-law by the doctor, the priest and the secretary-treasurer of the town. Five days later habeas corpus proceedings were instituted and Rodgers was released.

LIES, LIKE CANCERS, KILL PERSONALITY

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
The Eminent Psychologist.

There is no use denying the fact that prevarication of one type or another is a fairly common practice.

Although we have been brought up to believe that lying should never be indulged in, one might be tempted to say that nobody wholly profits by such moral teaching and that everybody more or less lies.

Some, of course, would not class so-called "white lies" as lies. Fibs and lies are not even cousins, according to others.

Some salespeople admit that gross exaggeration is practiced in unloading their goods and warns upon a credulous public.

Ticket speculators don't vouch when they sell a person a theatre ticket at an advanced price, said 'good' seat only commanding a view of half the stage.

Do husbands always tell the truth to their wives?

And do wives never lie to their husbands?

Do children lie?

Do parents prevaricate in their children?

The list of lies that we indulge in is endless. We meet prevarication everywhere. Sometimes it is deliberately done. Often it is done with good intentions, like the little distortions that doctors often have to tell patients for their own good.

If lying is so common is it normal?

Lying and the instinct of self-preservation are closely related. Every body tries to protect himself — in fact the act of self-protection is almost automatic.

Lying is a variety of self-protection. The individual protects himself directly when accused of something of which he's ashamed. He protects himself indirectly when, for example he "pussyrepeats" something he is trying to sell.

Whether lying is ever justifiable is beside the point here.

Whether it is, or not, a physician in answer to a direct question tells a patient he is not dying when all the facts belie the assertion, is a problem in ethics.

Like a cancer, the habit of lying penetrates and spreads. It kills personality as a canker. It must be eradicated thoroughly, will kill the body.

The habitual liar soon reveals the fact in his shifty eyes.

Lying undermines self-respect and makes cowards of us all.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl seventeen years of age and I have been going with a young man for two years. I have been engaged to him for nearly that time. About a month ago I broke up, never nothing, and now he has changed terribly. When he meets me on the street he talks to me, yet acts as if he didn't care any more. Yet his friends say he cares more than I think he does.

I thought I didn't care for him, but I can't enjoy myself anywhere. I can't keep my mind on my work and I'm always sick. He is sick a lot also. He knew before we broke up that I wasn't sure of my love for him.

Do you think he is trying to make me realize how much I care?

SORRY.

SORRY: If you are quite certain of this boy's self-possession, it is unbecoming to worry about, dear. Because it may be just as you say—he wants to keep your pride for him. At any rate, at seventeen you are too young to plan your marriage and the best thing for you to do would be to continue this friendship without pledging your heart in any way.

Then, when both of you are old enough to know the full significance of love, you can renew your engagement as a matter of course.

ONTARIO MAKES RAPID STRIDES AS POPULAR SUMMER PLAYGROUND

A ready answer to the question "Where shall we go for our holidays" is found today among the many attractive and pleasurable resorts that have made Ontario's highland and lake districts the mecca of vacationists from all across the continent.

From the blue waters of Muskoka, the rock - spattered streams of the Ottawa Valley, picturesque lakes, and sparkling rivers to the wide reaches of popular resorts.

For the ardent fisherman, the Kawartha lakes, the Thirty Thousand Islands of Georgian Bay, the Muskoka-Haliburton, Pickerel and French river districts, and inland lakes of Algonquin Park offer the best of bass, muskinonge and trout fishing.

For some a holiday is not complete without a canoe trip. For these, Timagami, the Nipissing, Temagami and upper streams and lakes of Algonquin Park offer a thousand delightful canoe trips with comfort, camping and cooking thrown in for extra measure.

For general holidays such resorts as Muskoka Lakes, Lake of Bays, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, and Lakes Couchiching and Simcoe are recommended.

Any Canadian National Railway Agent will gladly give you literature and full information on all of Ontario's summer resorts and assist you in planning your holiday. 111a16

A Charming Suggestion For Seaside Camp Or Country Wear

A Tartan skirt and tam are seen in such Marie Prevost beautiful flexible days. It is impossible for her to keep her mind on studio-discipline while she has at her disposal the surrounding the family to make preparations for her at a wonderful little ranch in the mountains. That she would need but few clothes was one of the surprises she had yet forwant but ever so she knows that there must be several delightfully informal, comfortable dresses to wear in the west. Just the "right-now" of this charming new frock gives her a great thrill of anticipation. It is so simple and cool yet stylish has an air of smartness. The round narrow yoke extends over each shoulder and forms the arm bands. The tucks on the shoulder relieve the plainness of the blouse and a tie is inserted through eyelets in front forming a bow. The fullness is achieved by ruched panels in front. A narrow sash at the hips completes the smart frock which may be made of printed or plain linen or crepe de chine.

A convenient steamer pillow is of brown suede with a geometric design in darker brown upon one side and the pillow has a slide fastening in the centre, which divides the pillow in two and leaves a space for handkerchief, small purse, etc.

Whether the tailored suit be of satin, serge, or tweed, it must be slim—whatever vagaries in the way of panels, pleats, frills and flounces may assail the afternoon and evening dress—for the smartest suit more than ever relies on severe masculine lines.

New York reports that while the fashion of printed frock veiled with georgette or sheer silver silk fabric is still to be seen in collections of dresses for the larger woman, there is a strong tendency to use small prints that have a feeling of depth and omit the veiling, but it is said that certain types of geometrics, principally those with a suggestion of a third dimension, do not enlarge upon the figure, and the large woman is eagerly buying linen because the veiled style has become almost synonymous with "stout."

Charcoal can be made from any kind of wood, but the quality varies with the wood used.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS By Mildred Barbour

THE STRANGER—

As in in a dream — a nightmare, she thought to herself—Celia mounted the stairs to her mother's room.

Out side the door she paused, one hand against her fast-beating heart. What fresh menace would she find in that room; what new tax upon her ingenuity?

Who was this man?

She opened the door with a trembling hand.

Her mother lay propped up on pillows. Daily, Celia was aware that there were roses on the table beside the bed.

Mrs. Drew wore a negligee of silk and lace. There was a happy flush on her cheeks and a new brightness in her eyes.

Sitting beside the bed was a young man. At the sight of Celia, Mrs. Drew uttered a happy little cry.

"Celia, you rogue, to arrange this surprise for me—to send your telegram that your husband couldn't come!"

Celia was staggered. The young man rose and came toward her. He was tall and very dark, with a certain boldness of eye, a certain swagger in his manner.

"Hello, sweetheart," he greeted her easily. "You were so long about following me from the station that I thought one of my erstwhile "rivals must have grabbed you.

He took her nerveless hand and kissed it. Her mother beamed upon them both.

"Cila, he's wonderful! You'r deception doesn't begin to do him justice. You didn't say he had a mustache, and it's so becoming."

Celia found herself saying:

"He raised it since I went away, f——".

"I did it to please you, darling," said the young man coolly. "You don't know that. All that I do—all that I shall do all my life—is for your pleasure."

Her mother said, in the pleased tones of a happy child:

"It was such a sweet idea to send Richard—I must call you Richard, mustn't I?—to Grand, so that we could get acquainted before you came. Fortunately, Miss Page had fixed me up nicely, because I had other callers this afternoon. But where have you been since the train came in?"

The words came haltingly from Celia's lips.

"I stopped to — to see Gwen for a moment. But — but she wasn't in. Her grandmother — the queer old woman! Who are you? What do you want? What have you told?"

Mrs. Drew's hand caressed that of the stranger.

"I'm sure I'm going to love you, Richard, because you've been so good to my little girl. And I'll try to get well quickly, so you can have her back again. You've been sweet and patient to lend her to me during illness."

"It was not easy" to be generous, Mother Drew," the young man answered audaciously. "But, now that I've seen you, I'm glad I was."

To Celia's relief, Miss Page arrived at that moment to say that the invalid must rest; no more visitors for that evening. For once, Celia could have embraced Miss Page. Now she could demand an explanation of this man.

Thank you again for the roses, Richard," Mrs. Drew called after him, as he left the room.

"I'll be down in a minute," Celia told him. She bent and kissed her mother. "Go to sleep now, dearest, until time for your supper."

"I think I'm too happy to sleep," replied Mrs. Drew. "Oh, Celia, he's delightful. I don't wonder you're in love with him. I hope he'll like me. I'll try to be a good mother-in-law."

Celia tried to speak, but no words would come. She felt cold and numb above all, terrified.

"I can be happy now," sighed her mother. "Never again will I have to worry about my child's future, now that she has such a splendid husband to look after her. And he's so clever Celia. He told me the most wonderful stories about the places he's been. You never said he'd had such an eventful life."

Celia said again: "Go to sleep now, dearest. We'll talk later."

"Did you have a nice time in New York? I was so excited at seeing Richard that I forgot to ask."

"Wonderful!" murmured Celia.

She went out into the hall.

"There are some letters for you on the living-room table," Miss Page told her. "Mr. Falconer must have sent them before he knew you were joining him in New York."

Annesley!... Even with his business in Chicago, he had remembered to be faithful to his trust. He was still sending the supposed love-letters.

She went down to the living-room, closed the door behind her, and faced the stranger. He was standing by the table, carelessly turning over the leaves of a magazine.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Tan and brown shades from beige to tete de negre are featured in latest Paris coats.

Patterned silks are no novelty, but the newest arrival in the lace world in London is a dentelle with a colored design woven into the black background.

Lelong has made the fashionable beret appear in a number of different ways by introducing a number of lovely deep shades, such as prune, raisin and old de negre.

London society is much interested in the original decorations of Lady Worthington Evans' large double drawing room which has walls painted from floor to ceiling in imitation of finely-grained teak-colored wood and all this effect with yellow net curtains and a house front that is frankly mustard in hue.

Jenny is showing sports coats made of the new reversible wrapping material which is soft and downy as a woolen blanket and comes in plain color on one side and a matching check or plaid on the back.

The black-and-white vogue is strong this summer and black coats with white crmine collars are very modish, but short women should use ermine with restraint, as the contrast between coat and collar is so extreme that too much for makes them look over-weighed.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Buy rice of a fair price and good-sized grain, and when boiling it cook in a well-lined pan, with a squeeze of lemon juice, and so ensure its being a good colour.

Give the soles of children's shoes three coats of varnish, allowing each coat to dry thoroughly before putting on the next. This will practically double the life of the soles.

Steamed cauliflower or cabbage will cook in half the usual time if they are covered either with a wire dish or a piece of grease-proof paper.

It is sometimes wise to sort clothing to be mended while ironing. When you notice something is in need of repairs put it on a certain part of the clothes-horse. Then that collection can be carried straight to the mending basket.

There is a certain blue electric bulb that comes just for kitchen lighting. Many housewives find this a far better light under which to cook than the ordinary white bulb.

SPANISH ACE TO TRY LONG HOP
48 Hour Flight From Spain To New York Is Planned

New York, N. Y.—(By C. P.)—A 48-hour flight from Spain to New York via the Azores and Bahias with 1,000 pounds of mail and a crew of four, in a four-motored seaplane, is the August adventure of Capt. Julius Ruiz de Alda, Spanish ace.

Captain Ruiz de Alda and co-pilot Lander Ramon Franco gives the first to span the south Atlantic, in 1925. On his arrival in New York in August, the young flier says, the party will continue by seaplane around the world by way of Batavia, Manilo, California, Alaska and Japan.

"We are not contemplating a stunt flight," he says. "We think there is room in the trail which commercial aviators will follow regularly between the old world and the new.

"We will leave Cadiz August 1 at 2 p. m. and our seaplane will be moored at the foot of Manhattan Island at 4 p. m. August 3."

The seaplane is to be a 2,000-horse power Super-Dornier Wal. In the crew will be Commander Franco and Captain Gallarza as pilots, Ruiz de Alda acting as navigator.

"The flight has been well planned," declared the flier, in the United States to perfect details of the venture. "We have, since a seaplane because it is the only aircraft capable of negotiating the distance successfully. Others may fly between America and Europe in land planes, but the fact that they may succeed occasionally does not make that this means is safe.

"A seaworthy seaplane, if disabled, can come down, effect its repairs and take off again. Seaplanes are heavier, and cumbersome, but they can carry larger motors and neutralize the defect of weight through added power and ability to carry more fuel.

"We shall start precisely at the season when the weather is best, bringing with us 1,000 gallons of fuel. In the Azores we will refill our tanks so we need have about 1,000 gallons for the long hop. Then we shall have no time to be delayed in Bahias, as we anticipated in traveling here or in Spain. We have been assured of the same number of navigation devices as the captain's cabin of a large liner. If the weather is foggy and I cannot read the compass we will go above the clouds, and I will carry a 500-watt radio transmitter with an adequate receiver so as to be able at all times to get in touch with ships below and check up on my navigation. We are taking no chances. Our plane will have a dead weight of eight tons, or of 16 tons fully loaded.

"We wish to prove the possibility of the Azores route as the only Atlantic air route.

Captain Ruiz de Alda is 30 years of age. His plane will be ready in July for tests.

COMPENSATIONS FOR WORKMEN

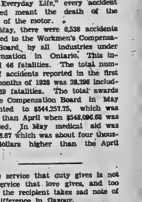

Many people do not know that hundreds of accidents outside of industrial establishments are paid for every year by the Workmen's Compensation Board. For example, highway accidents are a big factor in costs.

R. B. Morley, general manager, Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, points out that his organization has received reports on many of these in the past few months which have resulted in death or serious disablement. These reports do not indicate that the time of day has any great bearing on the question, but it is evident that the hour of such accidents occur in broad daylight and most commercial trucking is a daylight job.

Mr. Morley's organization recently completed over 1,000 personal lectures to salesmen and operators giving details of accidents to drivers of commercial motors. While the leaflet in question was entitled "Stories from Everyday Life" every accident described means the death of the driver of the motor.

In May, there were 4,338 accidents reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board, by all industries under jurisdiction of the Province. This included 46 fatalities. The total number of accidents reported in the first five months of 1928 was 24,396 including 229 fatalities. The total awards by the Compensation Board in May amounted to $544,257.75, which was lower than April when $548,096.66 was awarded. In May medical aid was $52,098.67 which was about four thousand dollars higher than the April cost.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON HEARD BY GRADUATES

Rev. Dr. Micklem Delivers Inspiring Message To Students

It is seldom that we hear a Baccalaureate sermon, usually it is just once in a life time, when we are graduating from High School; a few that go on hear another Baccalaureate sermon when they step out into life from one of our great universities, but seldom have any young men heard a more beautiful and more impressive sermon and service than that held in the lovely chapel of Albert College yesterday afternoon.

One of the greatest speakers that has ever been heard at the college preached an eloquent sermon, pertaining to all in this world, but most especially to the graduating classes of Albert College, those stepping forth to make their way in the world and those who are going to enter the service of the Great Master.

Reverend Nathaniel Micklem, D. D., of Queen's Theological College, Kingston gave yesterday's thought to the students, and these sturdy young men that so soon will be battling for existence with the rest of us left the beautiful grey chapel with thoughtful expressions on their faces, pondering upon the gems of wisdom that were sown in their minds.

The Reverend Micklem outlined Christ's idea of Life. "Self Denial was not finding out something that we liked, and then denying ourselves this, but it was taking the center of interest off of ourselves and placing it upon the other fellow."

"Christ's idea wasn't seeking after pleasure," stated the Rev. Micklem, "but was taking pleasure as it came along. All the gifts that are ours to enjoy were given to us by God for us to enjoy."

"Christ's idea was life was glad. He wanted us to enjoy life. His Commandments were not that Thou Shalt Not, but rather that thou should en-joy life to its fullest." It was this last that the speaker enlarged upon, taking this as the main theme for his sermon.

Inspiring Service.

The service itself was not a long one. The first hymn sung was 'Oh Worship The King All Glorious Above' this followed by a responsive reading of Psalm 8, led by Dr. Baker. The Scripture lesson was read by the Rev. McCutcheon, B. A., B. D., of Tabernacle Church, who followed with a beautiful prayer.

The Reverend Roy Rickard rendered a lovely solo and then the congregation sang, 'Light of the World, Paint were Our Weary Feet with Wandering Pair.' The Benediction, perhaps the most beautiful part of every service of every church, was rendered by the Reverend Dr. Baker, one time principal of Albert College, and this finished the service.

ARE MAGISTRATES BADLY UNDERPAID?

"If, as we have contended, high Court judges and county judges ought to receive more than the present emoluments of their office, so ought our police magistrates. In Ontario these do about 75 per cent. of the criminal work in the administration of justice. In most cases they get very little for the service they render. It would be good public policy to establish a minimum rate of remuneration, and require that none but persons well qualified for the office shall be eligible for appointment to it. That there are police magistrates who have neither the legal knowledge nor the trustworthy judgment necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of the office is not to be denied. If the salaries paid were more liberal there would be fewer cases of unfit men sitting on the police court bench.

ENO SHARES ON MARKET TO-DAY

Dominion Securities Offer At $40 Per Share Class "A's"

The Dominion Securities Corporation, Limited, are offering today at $40 per share and accrued dividend $10,000 Class 'A' shares of International Proprietaries Limited, a Canadian Company which will hold all the share Capital of J. C. Eno Limited of Great Britain. The latter Company is the proprietor and manufacturer of the famous Eno's 'Fruit Salt.' The trade name Eno's 'Fruit Salt' is known throughout the civilized world. The Company has distributed its product in increasing amounts for more than fifty years, during which time it has built up a very large item of goodwill through a policy of judicious advertising on an international scale. The purity of the product's ingredients, the scientific method of its preparation and the acknowledged medicinal and therapeutic qualities which it possesses have all combined to enhance the increasing goodwill of the business.

Five manufacturing plants are maintained in London, England; Toronto, Canada; Berlin, Germany; Paris, France; and Barcelona, Spain. The plant located in Toronto commenced operations in 1927 and it is estimated that with this new plant in operation together with proposed extensions in United States and elsewhere, the earnings will be very substantially increased. The earnings have shown a remarkable degree of stability and during a quarter century J. C. Eno Limited has never had an unprofitable year.

The broad distribution which this product receives cannot be overemphasized. Eno's 'Fruit Salt' is known and sold almost everywhere. The Company's sales and activities are carried on in practically every country in the civilized world and the advertising literature is published in more than twenty-eight languages. The Company is not only a 'national' advertiser—it is an 'international' advertiser; and as such it is in much the same position as an inventor who diversifies his risk by spreading out commitments over many localities and many classes of securities. By the international scope of its activities the Company which sells Eno's 'Fruit Salt' achieves the maximum of stability in its sales and earnings record.

Announcing a new

Belleville Headquarters for CHANDLER MOTOR CARS.

CHANDLER Motor Sales

CHANDLER motor cars are now displayed in a new setting—in a new establishment conveniently located and well equipped to render the best kind of service.

As the first American automobile to adopt the vacuum brakes of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company—the new Chandler introduces railroad efficiency and safety into motoring.

You have never known such effortless driving—such ability to stop quickly and smoothly—such a feeling of protection—as you will know at the wheel of a new Royal Eight or a new Six by Chandler.

The only other cars equipped with brakes of this type are built in Europe—such high-priced cars as Mercedes, Daimler, Minerva, Isota-Fraschini and Sunbeam!

The new Chandler models all hug the ground with an extraordinary low center gravity—possess the remarkable vitality of Chandler's famous Pikes Peak high-compression motor—and are also equipped with the "One Shot" centralized lubrication system—fool-proof, certain!

OUGHT TO TAKE CARE OF FUTURE

Chicago, Ills.—Julius Rosenwald, millionaire philanthropist, believes future generations should provide their own philanthropies. He so expressed himself in explaining his request that the Julius Rosenwald Fund, which now exceeds $20,000,000, be fully expended within 25 years after his death. Mr. Rosenwald made an additional gift of $20,000,000 to the fund recently, turning over to it 2,000,000 shares of Sears'Roebuck stock at par $100.

"Times are changing so rapidly that it is impossible for us to predict the need of future generations," Mr. Rosenwald said. "For that reason I asked the trustees to give away the entire fund within 25 years after my death.

"I realize that such a stipulation is contrary to current practice, but I believe that the greatest good can come through the use of the entire sum, both principal and interest, by the present generation.

"In keeping with that ideal I have it all within the next five years."

refrained from establishing endowments for universities and other institutions to which I have made gifts apart from the fund. For all we know, perhaps some day our universities may be self-supporting or state-endowed and therefore not dependent up on individual gifts. To my mind fore casting society's needs 100 years from now is foolhardy."

Mr. Rosenwald's philanthropies are so extensive that even he was unable, when asked, to approximate the total amount.

The Rosenwald Fund is administered by a board of trustees of which he is chairman. The express purpose of it is said, is "the welfare of mankind."

Some of the money is being used to aid southern states in building rural schools for negroes. A sum also has been set aside for the higher education of the Negro.

"Aside from those things, the officers are free to do as they wish, provided the money is spent within the specified time," Mr Rosenwald said. "By that I do not mean that it cannot be spent before I die. As a matter of fact, the trustees may see fit to spend

STANDARDIZING ARCHITECTURE

St. Louis, Mo.—(C.P.)—Standardization of design threatens the nation's architecture unless the Board of Directors of the American Institute of Architects said in a report submitted to the sixty-first convention of the Institute. Fear was expressed that design may become "ordinary, humdrum and nondescript," reducing communities all over the United States to a common level.

"There is even now becoming evident in our work from coast to coast, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, a universal product made to sell, and this cannot be attributed alone to the efforts of the uneducated or inefficient architect," the report said.

"Men studding high in the profession share in these sins of their product on grosse and men of marked ability in design, construction and execution are not combining with these abilities that keen sense of the finer qualities of appreciation, and discrimination which must of necessity precede the preliminary study of any architectural plan or development.

"Local characteristics are fast disappearing in this era of common thought and mechanical advancement. Communities are coming to look more and more like peas of one pod and a certain commercialism is making itself more and more evident in the type of architecture universally employed throughout the country.

"Character in design seems somewhat lost sight of in the general run of work that one sees throughout the land. Both the individuality of various geographical locations and recognition of their local conditions are fast disappearing under the influence of a cosmopolitan and general type of architecture — that makes no distinction between north and south, east and west, seaboard or inland, lowland or mountain districts.

"Historical associations appear to be more and more neglected, and considered by members of the profession as of diminishing or little importance. In consequence a certain charm and the resulting surprise that should ever properly be anticipated in traveling, here or

PROCLAMATION!
BY-LAW No. 183
A By-Law prohibiting Coasting from running at large in the Township of Ameliasburg, and passed for the Health, Safety and Well Being of the Inhabitants of the Municipality.
PASSED THE 9TH DAY OF JUNE A.D. 1928.
Whereas it has been discovered that the disease of RABIES has taken out in the Township of Ameliasburg.
And Whereas it is desirable and necessary for the Health, Safety and Welfare of the Inhabitants of the Township of Ameliasburg, to make such regulations as may be deemed expedient by the Municipal Council.
And Whereas it is provided by R. S. O. 1927, Chapter 333, Section 259, that every Council may pass such By-Laws and make such regulations, for the Health, Safety and Welfare of the inhabitants of the municipality.
Therefore the Municipal Council of the Township of Ameliasburg enacts as follows:
1. That on and after the day on which this By-Law shall come into force no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the boundaries of the said Township of Ameliasburg, and that every dog without the said Township shall be tied up and securely fastened.
2. That any dog found not so tied up or securely fastened or running at large contrary to this By-Law may be killed or destroyed forthwith without notice to the owner thereof.
3. That this By-law shall come into force and take effect immediately upon, from and after the passing thereof.

BELLE THEATRE

To concession owners of a popular California beach resort, Emil Jannings, world's foremost motion picture actor, is a jovial Santa Claus.

During the filming of "The Way of All Flesh," Jannings' first American picture which reaches the Belle Theatre tomorrow, fifty-four persons, comprising the professional and technical staff, spent two days at the amusement pier. Startlingly effective scenes were taken on all of the fast-and-roaring riding devices with Jannings and Phyllis Haver having the time of their lives.

To the great European actor the Flying Boats, Racing Derby and Giants' Swing were a revelation. After each experiment with some new thrill he insisted that all the members of his company share his pleasure. Rides were sandwiched in between every scene.

The camera shots secured by Victor Miller, head cinematographer, obeying the genius of Director Victor Fleming are declared to be as thrilling on the screen as though the spectator, himself were taking the various rides. One day only.

REGENT THEATRE

Edmund Love, cast as an effete newspaper reporter in "The Wizard," a Fox Films mystery drama directed by Richard Rosson now playing at the Regent Theatre, gets off to an suspicious start when he handcuffs a detective sergeant to the upper rail of a revolving chair.

Love then starts out to solve a thrilling murder mystery but finds his back hair rising when he hears a mighty clattering outside in the bushes. This turns out to be the sergeant and Love is amazed to find that he is still dragging the chair. Lola Hyams has the feminine lead. The cast includes Gustav von Seyffertitz, E. H. Calvert, Norman Trevor, Barry de Perle Marshall, Maude Turpin Hordon, Oscar Smith, Richard Fras; Gordon and George Kotsonaros.

BEAVERS DIVIDE WITH PENNANTS IN SATURDAY'S DOUBLE-HEADER

Local Beavers Pulled Surprise Victory In Second Half

LARGE CROWDS

Pennants One of Best Teams Seen Here For Some Time

Belleville Beavers divided the series with the Toronto "Pennants" team at the armouries on Saturday afternoon and evening, the visitors taking the afternoon affair by a score of 22-11 while the homesters managed to get in a win in the second encounter by close count of 9-6. Both games were witnessed by splendid crowds, the assemblage of course turning out for the evening performance. The "Pennants" are a real smart team of Senior calibre and they can hold their own with any Senior Club playing on Bolmyside diamonds. Every position is well fortified, the pitching department is strong and the team which is supported by the Phalanx Peanut Co., is handled by capable and efficient managers and coaches. Jimmy Van Evera, is the popular coach, while "Chick" Lee a son of Klondy Lee's acts as Business Manager and L. S. Haughwit is playing manager.

Third Beavers have not yet up against a team of the Pennants' calibre for some time and the fact that they managed to split even is a credit to them.

The afternoon contest was a heavy hitting affair with both sides taking a prominent part. However the Pennants were a little heavier with the willow and they hammered out a 22-11 victory. While there was plenty of hit ting it was an interesting game to watch and in the sixth innings the Reavers threatened to upset things by scoring six runs but the Pennants came back stronger than ever. Miss Thompson of the Pennants opposed Miss Tuttle, of the Beavers on the mound and while both girls were hard hit at times nevertheless they pitched effective ball.

Melille Gray was the big hitter of the afternoon, knocking herself two bases of candy by pulling out long home runs over the outfield fence. The candy prize was donated by James Whytock. Miss Tuttle Warham, the home-run king of local softball also got a home run in the afternoon. Miss Gray was apparently not satisfied with herself in the afternoon and she speared out another of the same kind in the evening.

The Beavers were forced to extend themselves to the limit to bag the even ing set-to by a 9-6 score. The Pennants played splendid ball and gave the Beavers a great battle. Miss Hatchet's short-stop was the shining light with the visitors her playing attracting the attention of the ball-fanning fair. Sloan is numbered among the finest ball players in Toronto and on this performance on Saturday night certainly justifies that claim. The visitors introduced Wilma Bailey former pitcher with the Supremes to the fans on Sat urday night and the Beavers were faced with one of the sweetest-looking pitchers they have seen in action for sometime. Bailey has a real fine speed ball and fooled the Beavers with consistency. Miss Gray opposed Miss Bailey on the hill and she twirled one of the best games of her youthful career. After getting away to a bad start she settled away and pitched real fine ball. Gladys Knott caught a fine game and is developing into one of the nicest receivers in the city although she is more at home at short-stop. The Beavers will play a return game with the Pennants in Toronto on Labor Day.

GIANTS BEATEN BY JAKIE MOY

Cards Launched Terrific Drive And Defeat Robins 15-7

New York, June 11.— Fully 40,000 fans saw Jake Mayl and the Giants wife five hits and the Reds defeated the McGrawmen 3 to 0, in the first game of the series to decide first place. The defeat sent the giants to third place as the Cardinals forged into sec ond. Not a Giant runner reached third base.

Dressen's single scored Walker with the first Cincinnati run in the fourth, while Walker's single with the bases full in the eighth accounted for the other two tallies.

The Cardinals launched a terrific attack at Brooklyn to swamp the Robins by 15 to 7. A seven-run rally in the eighth inning, after the Robins threatened to overtake the visitors, clinched the verdict. The victory put St. Louis back if second place."

Dazzle was only mildly effective and McKechnie was forced to call upon Flint Rhem to finish the game. Clark Eltrhard and Elliott were all batted hard.

Meanwhile had a perfect day for the Cards. Del Bissonette hit his eleventh home run of the season in the fourth inning, and went into a tie with Hack Wilson, of Chicago, and Rogers Hornsby, of Boston, for the league lead.

NATS. PLAY IN KINGSTON WED.

Oshawa Won From Petes At James Stevenson Park Saturday

Oshawa are still atop the Central Ontario Baseball league by virtue of their 3-1 victory over the Peterboro crowd at the Lill-Lock City on Saturday. The Motor City crowd have been playing nice ball and have a comfortable margin right now although they are not so far ahead as to let any grass grow under their feet.

Belleville fans were cheated out of a game last Wednesday by Jupiter Pluvius and this week the Nationals are not scheduled at home and local supporters will see no further games here until a week from Wednesday. The Nats play in Kingston on Wednesday and they are out to redeem themselves for the unfortunate exhibition down that way last week. The rest of the Oshawa team right in Peterboro stamps them as the team to beat for the league honors.

Kingston's 8-3 victory over the Detroit team on Friday night was somewhat of a surprise and the clan Daley have apparently taken on a new lease on life. They are in Belleville with Belleville team will do them no harm and the pitchers will be ready to do their stuff on Wednesday with Gibson likely started in Kingston with Utzonki in reserve. The Nationals have been practicing faithfully since the Kingston game and are in fighting fettle right now. The boys played good enough ball to win in Kingston but the unfortunate errors proved the way for the homesters runs. The Kingston crowd are still heckling about the fiasco a week ago when Peterboro failed to put in an appearance, the Executive met in Peterboro on Saturday but at the time of writing the result of their gathering had not been dispatched.

The following information is references to J. C. Eno Limited is contained in a letter written us by Mr. Harold F. Ritchie, who will be President of International Proprietaries Limited:

J. C. ENO LIMITED AND ITS BUSINESS—International Proprietaries Limited, to be incorporated under laws of the Dominion of Canada, will acquire the entire issued stock of J. C. Eno Limited (Great Britain), which company is the proprietor and manufacturer of Eno's "Fruit Salt". J. C. Eno Limited owns the formulæ, has theexclusive right to manufacture, and through its own organization has developed the sale of Eno's "Fruit Salt" throughout the world, and those of its predecessors, it has distributed this product in commercial quantities for over seventy years. During a quarter century the Company has never had an unprofitable year.

Eno's "Fruit Salt" which is the company's principal product, is a well-known effervescent saline, the name of which is a household word in practically every one of the civilized countries of the world. The purity of its ingredients, the scientific method of its preparation, and the acknowledged medicinal and therapeutic qualities which it possesses, have all combined to enhance the business and goodwill which the name Eno has consistently and conservatively maintained since 1868.

The recommendation of members of the medical profession and the prominence given Eno's "Fruit Salt" by judicious advertising in the press and other public publicity, have contributed to enlarge the company's output substantially. Illustrating the comprehensive manner in which advertising is the fact that at the present time advertising campaigns in some form or another are running in practically every country in the world.

Five manufacturing plants are maintained—in London, England Toronto, Canada, Berlin, Germany, Paris, France, and Barcelona, Spain. With the exception of those countries in which factories are located, the world demand for the company's product is supplied wholly from London, England. Distributors in Canada, Newfoundland, United States of America, Mexico, Central America, South America, West Indies, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, Pacific Islands and the China Coast, is made through Harold F. Ritchie & Company Limited, Toronto. Harold F. Ritchie & Company, Incorporated, New York, and The British Harold F. Ritchie & Company Limited, London.

PRICE: $40 per Share and Accrued Dividend

These shares are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the organization of and issue of shares by International Proprietaries Limited, being passed upon by Messrs. McLaughlin, Johnston, Macleod & Mainsley for the Company, and by Messrs. Hodgins, Aylen & Greenwood for the Underwriters. We reserve the right to reject any or all subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for, and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. Dividends on the Class "A" Stock will accrue from June 15th, 1928.

LOCAL ATHLETES DOMINATE MEET

Collegiate Boys Ran Away With Track And Field Sports

Belleville Collegiate athletes dominated the annual Track and Field School boy Championship trials at King ston on Saturday, The best boys came away with ten firsts and several seconds to their credit, which gave them the School Championship for this district. Athletes from as far west as Brighton and east to Picton, ville competed on Saturday, and the fact that Belleville did not take a fac tor in any of these schools, many of which are larger than our own, speaks well for the ability of the school and the coaching the boys have received.

Only two boys from Belleville were entered in the Senior events, these being Angus McPee and Charlie Galway Both excelled themselves, McPee taking the javelin throw with ease, the running broad jump, and the high jump. This is McPee's best event, and he had to be good to take the event, as he was forced to jump five feet six and one half inches before he won it. This should place him right up with the leaders at Toronto next Saturday.

Galway won the half mile, the quart er mile and the 220 yard dash, but did not have to over exert himself to do so as the opposition was none too keen. There races served as a good workout before the Toronto meet for this boy. He also took a second in the 100 yards dash.

Farley Faulkner another of the Belle ville Collegiate outstanding athetes, fi thought to have smashed the javelin Throw for Intermediates with his throw of 143 feet, 2 inches. Although this was enough to earn him a free trip to Toronto, he came right back and won the Intermidiate High Jump, clearing the bar at five feet 1-3 inches.

Tom Byrnes won the Intermediate Half Mile race in three minutes fifteen seconds, while C. Champagne and W. Vantassel took seconds in the Shot Pu and the Low Hurdles respectively. Don eld Nidley, in the Junior entry, came through in fine style, taking the running broad jump with a record jump of 17 feet 8 inches.

COLLINS SCORES HIS EIGHTH WIN

Jersey City, June 11.—An even break in a doubleheader with Jersey City at Westside Avenue Park here yesterday gave Montreal a 3-1 edge in games played in the two series with the Skeeters. After dropping the first game of the Sunday twin bill by a torpedoed score of 11-0, the Royals came back to win the second game just as de cisively, 12-1, in seven innings.

Reading, June 11.—Hurling his eighth successful start of the season, Rip Collins gave Toronto the second straight win in the series with Reading here yesterday by the score of 9 to 3. Johnny Moore clouted his seventh circuit drive of the season.

Baltimore, Md., June 11.—Buffalo and Baltimore divided a doubleheader here yesterday. The Orioles won the opening encounter by a score of 10-4, but the Bisons came back to cop the second, 2-1 decision, in the nightcap.

LIKE AN ARABIAN NIGHT'S ADVENTURE

Have you ever wished to see with your own eyes deep-carved valleys, snow-topped mountains, rugged pathways that lead adventurous souls from the heart of the world to the world's quietly beating?

All this is part of the magnificent panorama of mountain, glacier and racing stream that you can see and enjoy as you travel through to the Pacific Coast and, to Alaska.

On the way there you can stop off at Jasper National Park—see the wonders of this greatest of Canadian playgrounds.

Then leave civilization behind for a day or two as you pass through range after range of mighty forest-clad mountains. Taste again the joy of city life at beautiful Vancouver and Victoria. Then take the far-famed trip through the scenic seas of the North Pacific Coast to Alaska—the land of the Midnight Sun.

Low tourist fares are now in effect. The complete cost of the trip is surprisingly low—well within reach of the average person. This way you really see the West.

Ask any Canadian National Railways Agent for full information and literature on these tours. He will be glad to assist you to plan your itinerary. 111a21

SHANNONVILLE

The W.M.S. of Shannonville United Church met in the home of Mrs. Chas Ballstridge, June 7. Mrs. Stickney, who had charge of the devotional exercises, chose for the opening hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Mrs. Fred Welburn read the Scripture lesson from Psalm 145 after which Mrs. Stickney led in prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, noted correct and adopted. It was decided to leave the birthday tea over for the present, a date to be set later. It was the wish of the meeting that our first vice-president, Mrs. Sam Elliott carry on the work for the remainder of the year; this was moved by Mrs. Stickney, seconded by Mrs. Frank Doxtater. A motion was put by Mrs. Dies seconded by Mrs. Murphy that the corresponding secretary be instructed to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. Sam Elliott, who recently lost a dear brother. Roll was then called, all answering and offering a short prayer as first their names were called. We were much pleased to have with us Mrs. J. Donald-son and Miss Bell Claisy, who read a very interesting letter from her sister, our Missionary in Formosa. A refreshment committee was appointed for the next meeting at Mrs. Byron Emmon's first Thursday in July. Mrs. H. Murphy gave a reading, "Mrs. McDonald's Auxiliary Meeting." Mrs. W. S. Dies made a motion of appreciation of the work done by Mrs. H. P. L. Seymour as our president for the last two years. This was seconded by Mrs. Stickney. In reply Mrs. Seymour said she had been glad to do what she could and thanked all for their cooperation and faithfulness in carrying on this work. Mrs. Stickney closed with prayer.

Attendance seventeen, collection $3.78.

HUGE BAPTIST WORLD MEETING

Alliance Convention Will Be Held In Toronto; World Wide

Toronto—(By C. P.)—The Baptist World Alliance's Convention which will be held here in the latter part of June will be a universal gathering, delegations from fifty countries including Australia, which will send about one hundred delegates—being expected. In view of the diversity of languages among the delegates the services of interpreters will be necessary, and provision to that end has been made by the local Baptist leaders. It is expected that 86 countries will answer the roll call of nations and every continent will be represented. The convention will open on June 23 and close on June 29.

The president of the Baptist World Alliance" is Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky.

The delegates will be formally welcomed to Toronto by Mayor McBride, after which the chief of police, General Draper, has offered many courtesies to the Alliance people in connection with the forthcoming convention and will do everything possible to make the visit of the delegates and visitors pleasant while in the city.

The convention will be held in the Queen's Hotel Auditorium Park, and will open at 3 p.m. on June 23 with a roll call of the delegates representatives of almost all the countries in the world. Rev. Dr. Mullins, president of the Alliance, will preside at the convention, but for the opening ceremonies Albert Matthew, chairman of the Canadian committee, will occupy the chair. The opening prayer will be given by Rev. J. J. Wiens, of Chabercovir, Siberia.

An open meeting will be held the first evening of the convention and it is expected that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, Rev. T. T. Shields, of China, and Rev. San Ba, of Rangoon, will be the speakers.

STUDEBAKER OF CANADA BECOMES INDEPENDENT CANAD'N INDUSTRY

Will Build Canadian Automobiles For Canadians

Walkerville, Ont., June 7 (Special)—With the announcement of a far-reaching reorganization of both administrative and manufacturing policies, the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., today assumed a front rank position among the Dominion's largest independent manufacturers. The announcement, which indicates a friendly divorcement of the Canadian Studebaker organization from the Studebaker Corporation of America, was issued by A. R. Erskine, president of both industrials.

The announcement met unusual interest in Canadian financial centers today. The new policies outlined indicate that Studebaker's demands upon Canadian raw materials and labor will be greatly increased. Greater values in Studebaker built automobiles are generally forecast. Greater values in Studebaker built automobiles are generally forecast expectation of Studebaker and Erskine cars is also forecast.

The new Studebaker organization will be directed by D. R. Grosman, formerly sales manager for Studebaker in the Dominion. Mr. Grosman's little will be vice-president and general manager. Having been associated with Studebaker in Canada for the past six years, Mr. Grosman is well known, to the Dominion's automotive leaders.

The details of the new Studebaker organization's plans were first made known in a press statement. However, these accompanied with Canadian manufacturing will be greatly interested in the general statement.

"The motive behind the reorganization is to be found in our desire to add to our Canadian automobiles for Canadians," says the statement. "The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., is Canadian." We will use more and more of Canada's great supplies of raw materials. Not only will our consumption of these commodities be increased, but new commodities will be added to our purchases agent's order.

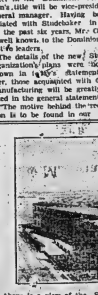

Mr. O. R. Grosman, Vice-President and General Manager of the Studebaker Corporation of Canada.

"The expansion of our manufacturing program in Canada will also include a considerable increase in export shipments from the Walkerville plants. With the advantage of more Canadian content in our Walkerville built cars, we will be enabled to ship automobiles in Great Britain under the preferential tariff, as well as to New Zealand and certain other British possessions overseas. On export shipments from Canada into British possessions giving a preferential duty on Canadian built cars, owners in these countries will profit directly by the interest of Canadian content in the car."

"Continuing the precedent already established, the personnel of the Canadian organization will be almost exclusively Canadian. In addition, present plans contemplate that advertising and printed matter shall be prepared in Canada and, in short, a large percentage of every dollar spent in connection with the Canadian business shall be paid to Canadian individuals and Canadian firms.

"The new arrangement will mean a gradual increase in the number of employees at the Walkerville plant. Branches are now maintained at Montreal and Calgary. These will also be greatly increased. Other administration offices will continue to be located here."

"This move is a result of Studebaker's faith in Canada", said Mr. Grosman today. "We believe there will be wonderful developments in this country and that this expansion program, we are now initially become a part of, those developments."

WEST GETS MUCH NEEDED RAINFALL

Winnipeg, Man.—The general crop prospects in the West have been greatly improved by the heavy rains of fall during the past week according to weather and crop reports of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the past seven days. Almost all districts everyone are now in the ground except some required for green feed which is considered excellent at least year when it was toward the end of June before seeding was finally accomplished. Heather insect is showing above ground, ranging from four to six inches, showing a healthy stand and color, indicating a good reserve for subsoil moisture. Later seedings of wheat, oats and barley were in need for less urgent, need of rain and the generous down pour during the week has improved the prospect for these crops. Cutworm depredations are reported in one or two districts, but on the whole has been singularly free from this pest and the damage done is of small importance.

LEGION DEFEATS HOSPITAL TEAM

The Canadian Legion and the Belleville United Hospital teams met at soccer last night at Pine Street, and a real hard game was witnessed by those to finish. Although the Legion scored the only goal two minutes before time, there was nothing to choose between each team. The goal was scored on a beautiful pass from Isaac playing outside right to Kennedy, the centre forward who scored. Quite a large crowd were present and the spectators seem to increase at each game. Within a week or two there will be two junior teams and perhaps more to form up the League.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE HOLD CONCLUDING MEETING OF SEASON

Miss Anne Hurley Gave Report of Recent Ottawa Conference

The concluding meeting of the Catholic Women's League for this season was held last evening in St. Michael's Academy and was marked by a large attendance. It was decided that the afternoon tea be held during the summer months and Mrs. J. P. Dolan and Miss Margaret Hayes offered their homes for the purpose. The first tea is to be held on Friday the 22nd and the second one two weeks later.

The meeting was featured by an interesting address by Miss Anne Hurley on the banquet recently given at Ottawa by the Catholic women in Mr. Peter Heenan at which Miss Hurley was a guest. The banquet was given prior to the departure of Mrs. Heenan for Geneva where she will accompany her husband, the Hon. Peter Heenan, M.P., who is the labor representative at the International Conference being held there. All women were in attendance at the banquet and a musical programme was interspersed with many splendid addresses. Among the speakers was the President of the Ottawa Council of Catholic Women, the Ottawa Diocesan president of the C. W. L. and a representative of the French speaking women of that City. Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., also addressed the gathering and spoke in glowing terms of Mrs. Heenan's gracious and genial qualities.

At the conclusion of the banquet Mrs. Heenan was presented with a sterling silver mounted fly swatter by her and a bouquet of orchids.

NURSES OCCUPY THEIR NEW HOME

Few Minor Details To Be Completed On Imposing Structure

"It could not say just when the new Nurses' Home will be ready for use and all completed", stated Mr. John Kerr, a member of the Belleville General Hospital Board to the Intelligencer today. Mr. Kerr stated that part of the building is being used at the present time.

"There are still one or two things to do before we will have it altogether finished", said Mr. Kerr. "There will have to be some painting and finishing completed, and of course some cleaning up, but that should not take very long."

The new Nurses Home is an imposing looking building of red brick and of substantial appearance and dignity. It is quite a credit to the City of the hospital itself and to the grounds. Tickell and Sons have just recently completed the furnishings of the new home.

FOUR PASSENGERS SLIGHTLY INJURED

Campbellford, June 13.—When a motor car in which four persons were riding on Saturday afternoon took to the ditch on the Trent River road about three miles north of here, all four passengers were more or less shaken up, but only one, Mrs. Henderson, Galt, (now in the hospital) in Hawkick underwent treatment for severe cuts in one arm and one leg. The injured woman is Mrs. Henderson, Galt, who with her husband and two other friends, was motoring to Trent River to visit friends there and in that district.

MANY ENTRANTS IN SWIM DERBY

Y.M.C.A. Planning Feature Of Acquatic Meet For Dominion Day

When the starter gives the signal on July 1st, there will be quite a number of swimmers who will jump off the Rosemore Dock and head for the Government Dock just as they did the previous year or the year before that. In many cases the swimmers will be competing in another age group and some will have to swim just a little better than they did on the previous occasion.

At least two of last year's entries will be missing when the swimmers take their marks. LaHarr, winner of the senior section and Shearer winner of the junior section have both moved away from Belleville. Shearer, the winner of the junior section in this event last year made the course in the record time of 25 minutes, 50 seconds, bettering the time made by any other entry by almost two minutes. LaHarr, who won the senior trophy covered the distance in 27 minutes, 45 seconds.

Amongst the new candidates for this year's race there appears to be a very considerable increase in the number of the younger entries are working faithfully in their endeavor to develop a finished crawl stroke and it would not come as a surprise if two of these should lower the time for the event. With the water be coming warmer in the Bay of Quinte, the swimmers will be commencing to take advantage of it for training and individual swimmers accompanied by a boat of some description will probably become a familiar sight between now and July 1st.

ROTARIANS ARRIVE FOR BIG CONVENTION

Montreal, Que., June 11.—European delegates to the International Rotary convention at Minneapolis tonight on the White Star Liner at Quebec will leave Montreal by C. N. R. special train on the morning of June 13 for Ottawa where they will remain until 11 a. m to 11 p. m. on that date moving thence to Toronto, Niagara Falls, Detroit and Buffalo enroute to the convention city.

HOPE SWINGS TO HERBERT HOOVER

Rumor Says Coolidge Will Decline Republican Nomination

POSSIBLE DEADLOCK

Pennsylvania Pledges To Support Secretary of Commerce

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—Herbert Hoover's nomination on early ballot was virtually assured today when Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the treasury headed uncommitted Pennsylvania's support.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—Word has gone down the line here as the republican convention gets under way that President Coolidge would not accept the nomination and the effect has been to boost Herbert Hoover's stock in the high brackets.

Confident that their man cannot be headed off before the convention secretary's manager flatly predicted today his nomination on first ballot Thursday. His foes, a determined lot, clung to the hope, however, that a deadlock would develop to throw the convention out of kilter and bring about the selection of a dark horse.

Any such solution to know gave the assurance today that the President is not available and Hoover, thus eliminated, a Hoover victory seemed in the offing.

SWEEPSTAKES AT COUNTRY CLUB

Dr. Stobie Won Sealed-Hole Golf Competition Yesterday

The first of a series of Sweepstake golf competitions held at the Bay of Quinte Country Club yesterday afternoon and turned out to be one of the most successful competitions that has ever been held at the Club.

There were eleven entries, made up into four "foursomes", practically the pick of the Club crack players. The following are the foursomes. O. A. Perrill and W. J. Cooke, versus Harold Wilmore and Stuart Wilmore; R. J. Wray (Captain) and A. H. Mc-Cann versus William Schuster and Roy Stafford; R. D. Ponton K. C., and J. McKeown versus Walter Benson and J. E. Graham; and Harold Kerr and William McIntosh versus Jack Lill and D. Stobie.

The winners of the Sweepstake were (1) R. J. E. Graham, (2) Charles Lill, (3) A. H. McConnell and (4) R. J. Wray. A special prize was car ried off by the latter foursome.

The losers of the foursomes had to pay for the dinners in the Club din ing room after the match was completed. Considerable enjoyment was experienced at this banquet by the applause after the speeches of Captain Wray and Dr. Stobie. Prizes had been put up on their merit, these two men are certainly promising after display of nerve of golf. (They should manage to get a word in anywhere.)

The Sealed Hole contest that was held on June 4th, resulted in a triple tie between Dr. Stobie, George Faulkner and Dr. Stobie. Yesterday they played off the deciding hole, and it turned out to be a close competition.

All three came down the final stretch even, but as George Faulkner was driving off the 5th he saw something distracted his attention and he shied his ball into the bay. Dr. Stobie finally won from Mr. Perrill.

LOAD TOO HEAVY

Memphian Friendship Makes Three Attempts To Take Off

Tuscaloosa, Miss., June 12 — The monoplane Friendship made three unsuccessful attempts to rise from the wake of Tuscaloosa Harbor today and take off for Europe. Weather conditions were favorable with a strong west wind and it appeared that the six-ton load was too heavy to be lifted.

GRADUATION ON FRIDAY EVENING

Nurses' Ceremonies Will Take Place In St. Thomas' Parish Hall.

Seven nurses will graduate from the Belleville General Hospital at the annual graduation exercises to be held in St. Thomas' parish hall on Friday night of this week. The girls are, Miss Marguerite Fitzgerald, Annie Burley, Eleanor Tulloch, Ila Ashley, Leila Miller, Marie Drinkwater and Minnie Porritt.

The ceremony, as all of its kind are, will be a very interesting one, and a large number of guests have been invited to attend on Friday at 8 o'clock.

"It was owing to the crowded condition of the hospital this year", stated Mr. John Kerr, of the Hospital Board, to the Intelligencer today, "that the graduation exercises had to be held in St. Thomas' parish house rather than at the hospital." In previous years the exercises have always been held at the hospital.

A dance will be held in the Parish Hall afterwards. Invitations have been issued and many guests are expected to attend. A local orchestra will furnish the music.

DECREASE OF 7 IN BIRTH RATE

Vital Statistics Show Nine Couples United In Matrimony

Thirty-seven new citizens were added to the roll-call of this city last month. This is a decrease of seven from the same month last year. Of the arrivals, eighteen were male while nineteen were little girls.

The Grim Reaper took heavy toll last month, thirteen more than in 1927. There were twenty-nine deaths last month, twenty-one female while the remainder were of the stronger sex.

Nine couples took the trail of matrimony, and one more marriage than was celebrated in May of last year.

LEADING GOLFERS HERE TOMORROW

Miss Ada McKenzie And Mrs. Whittington At Country Club

No doubt many golfers in this city will avail themselves of the opportunity tomorrow to witness in action two of the leading feminine golfers in the Dominion of Canada, in the persons of Miss Ada McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington, both of Toronto. Both of these ladies need no introduction as far as their records are concerned, although it is the first time either of them have ever played on a Belleville course. They will play an eighteen hole match at the Bay of Quinte Country Club starting tomorrow afternoon at 1.45. The friendly contest will start on scheduled time.

The links of the Country Club were never in more perfect condition and these two lady golfers will no doubt be pleased with the greens and fairways, as the course is now regarded as among the best in Eastern Ontario. Extensive changes have been made at the Country Club since last year especially at the Club House where the reception will be tendered the two ladies. Miss McKenzie, who represents the Toronto Golf Club recently won the Toronto City Championship after winning the same honor in 1926, doing so she defeated some of the leading golfers in the Queen City, while McKenzie has competed in several Dominion championships and held the title for one year.

Mrs. Whittington is likewise a star in the golf firmament and held the Canadian championship in 1923. She will give Miss McKenzie plenty of opposition and the gallery will be given a rare treat. Bellevillians are indeed singularly fortunate in the fact that they accepted the invitation to come to Belleville despite many other engagements and a large crowd will no doubt put in an appearance. Their visit here is the result of numerous communications on the part of Mr. R. J. E. Graham, President of the Club. Miss Grace Cooke and Miss Anne Schuster, two Junior members of the club, will caddy for the distinguished visitors.

APPOINTED GENERAL MANAGER

Kingston, June 13.—A. L. Robinson, of Ottawa, has been appointed general manager of the Odeltheirs Pulp and Paper Company, it was announced here today.

REV. SISTER STEPHEN DEAD

Kingston, June 12.— Rev. Sister Mary Stephen died at the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Sunday, after an illness extending over a week.

May Submit Petition To Governor-General-In-Council

OF GREAT INTEREST

Dispute Which Started In 1920 Is Finally Settled

London, June 12.—Though the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today dismissed the appeal of the Separate School Trustees of The Township, Ombke, Their Lordships near the end of the lengthy judgment say:

"It may be that the new laws will hamper the freedom of the Roman Catholics in their denominational schools. They may conceivably be or have been subjected to injustice of a kind that they can submit to by the Governor General-in-Council, and through him to the Parliament of Canada."

London, June 12.—The Judicial committee of the Privy Council today dismissed the appeal of the Roman Catholic School trustees of The Township, Ombke, from the adverse decisions in the Canadian Courts on their claims against the Province of Ontario.

Representing all the Ontario Separate Schools, the appellants had contended that the provisions of the Ontario Educational Act were ultra vires that the Roman Catholics had a right to establish Separate High Schools and Collegiates, that Roman Catholic School supporters were not bound to contribute to the upkeep or undenominational high schools and collegiates, and that they were entitled to share on the basis of an average of attendance in public grades of the schools.

Petition of Rights

London, June 12.—Dismissal of these claims is the culmination of a dispute beginning in 1920, when the Province undertook to wipe in part two of the leading feminine golfers in the Dominion of Canada, in the persons of Miss Ada McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington, both of Toronto. Both of these ladies need no introduction as far as their records are concerned, although it is the first time either of them have ever played on a Belleville course. They will play an eighteen hole match at the Bay of Quinte Country Club starting tomorrow afternoon at 1.45. The friendly contest will start on scheduled time.

The links of the Country Club were ever in more perfect condition and these two lady golfers will no doubt be pleased with the greens and fairways, as the course is now regarded as among the best in Eastern Ontario. Extensive changes have been made at the Country Club since last year especially at the Club House where the reception will be tendered the two ladies. Miss McKenzie, who represents the Toronto Golf Club recently won the Toronto City Championship after winning the same honor in 1926, doing so she defeated some of the leading golfers in the Queen City, while McKenzie has competed in several Dominion championships and held the title for one year.

Mrs. Whittington is likewise a star in the golf firmament and held the Canadian championship in 1923. She will give Miss McKenzie plenty of opposition and the gallery will be given a rare treat. Bellevillians are indeed singularly fortunate in the fact that they accepted the invitation to come to Belleville despite many other engagements and a large crowd will no doubt put in an appearance. Their visit here is the result of numerous communications on the part of Mr. R. J. E. Graham, President of the Club. Miss Grace Cooke and Miss Anne Schuster, two Junior members of the club, will caddy for the distinguished visitors.

COUNTY COUNCIL SITTING TODAY

This afternoon at two o'clock the Hastings County Council convened for the second time this year, with a full quota of members present. The twenty-six reeves and five deputy reeves, Warden S. N. Rollins, Reeve Ketcheson and Clerk Ponton.

At press time little business had been transacted, the subject upon everyone seemed being the Roadside Reforestation. This will be a most interesting subject, and no doubt will take a large part of the members' time while the Council sits.

FAMOUS HORSEMAN ON FISHING JOURNEY

Montreal, Que., June 11.—Montreal today entertained for a short time a famous horseman and in later years newspapers are read. Harry Payne, Whitney, who spent the day in the city, on his way to the Matapedia where he will whip the salmon pools in the lower reaches of the famous river. Mr. Whitney left Bonaventure Station tonight on the Ocean Limited of the Canadian National Railways for Matapedia and plans to spend several days there on a fishing excursion.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

I am thinking of the lilac-trees,
That shook their purple plumes,
And when the rain was open,
I shed fragrance through the room.
—MRS. STEPHENS.

ANOTHER DISCOVERY

Discoveries useful to industry often are made in strange ways.

The process of vulcanizing rubber came because an experimenter happened to drop a bit of rubber on a hot stove.

Now the U. S. War Department announces it has found a way to extend the normal life of rubber to approximately 25 years. At present rubber deteriorates badly after a few years use. The discovery will be of great importance to industry.

But here's how it happened to be made. The American chemical service was trying to find some way of preventing rapid deterioration of the rubber parts of army gas masks. In its experiments it not only solved its own problem; it gave makers and users of rubber everywhere a great discovery.

ANOTHER SHIP CANAL

The St. Lawrence waterway is not the only Canadian canal scheme now before the public. Down in Nova Scotia, the veteran Hanon J. Hogan has revived the project to construct the Amherst ship canal across the isthmus of Chignecto and has succeeded in obtaining the support of the Board of Trade of that town, which would, not doubt, gain considerably in shipping facilities should it be carried into effect.

The proposal to canalize the isthmus of Chignecto is by no means original with Mr. Logan. A survey of that end was completed years ago and the plans are on file at Ottawa. Its object would be to shorten by several hundred miles the distance between ports on the Bay of Fundy, like St. John, and the St. Lawrence, and also to shorten by an equal distance the voyage from St. Lawrence and Prince Edward Island ports to New England and the West Indies.

The construction of such a canal would undoubtedly prove a marked stimulus to the territory which it would traverse, particularly the coal mines lying within that area, and would also mean a revival of the port of Fundy ports. But it is doubtful if, with a large public outlay being required in connection with other works throughout the country, it would be possible immediately to find the funds necessary to complete the project.

JOURNALISM'S TOLL

In his 81st year, John R. Bone, managing editor of the Toronto Star, has passed on. He has paid the penalty that strenuous journalism demands of those who serve her faithfully. Keen in all the branches of his profession, his every thought and ambition were saturated in the desire to give his best according to his understanding. It is lamentable that men should be cut off at the period when age and experience are begining to build up a character that only maturity and knowledge can develop.

MR. STANLEY HOUGH

In the death of Stanley Hough, K. C., Winnipeg loses a prominent citizen, and the Bar will miss a man who set the high standards of learning, capacity and probity.

Mr. Hough came to Winnipeg 46 years ago. He was called to the Bar of Manitoba in 1882. He was a leader among the young men of the period. As the years passed on, he became known as one of Canada's soundest lawyers. It was a reputation well-earned. The judicial rather than the legal controversial mind, he was the friend of the many because of his ability to settle, amicably, if possible, the differences of others. In this field his services, privately and publicly, were of great value.

It is not exaggeration to say that there were few offices in the gift of the people which were not from time to time linked with the name of Stanley Hough. But his disposition was retiring. He preferred the less spectacular fields, and in time or great need, he assumed heavy responsibilities in the direction of Winnipeg General Hospital affairs. He was the valued president of the institution for many years.

Mr. Hough had a wealth of human kindness. Nothing gave him greater joy than ministering to the troubles of others. His death leaves a large gap in the social, cultural and professional life of the city.—Winnipeg Tribune.

THE PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

It will be learned with pleasure that Mr. Martin O'Brien, lately manager of St. Leon Springs Hotel, has leased Massassaga Park and Hotel from Mr. Corby and will run the resort for the summer.

The S. and J. Collier and the F. A. Burton are unloading coal for Thos Stewart.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Wm. Pinkerton, barrister, of Toronto to Miss T. Carman, daughter of T. S. Carman of this city.

Mr. S. J. Geen, the popular Albert College student has left to assume his pastoral duties in his new chrage.

Mr. Henry Corby will entertain the visiting officers of the Brigade to a sail down the Bay on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lieut. E. A. McNaughton of the Cobourg Garrison artillery is the guest of the officers of the 40th.

Rev. Dr. Carman reached Japan on the 4th of May.

Mr. J. L. R. Gorman, who has been visiting in Toronto, returned to the city last night.

R. J. GRAHAM TO SPEAK

R. J. Graham will speak to-night before the Orange Lodge in this city, on his recent trip to Africa. Mr. Graham has had many experiences in foreign lands, and has the art of the story teller down to a science, so that he carries his listeners with him as the places about which he is talking. No doubt his address will be much appreciated by his audience.

LEAVING FOR N. Y. STATE.

Mr. Martin Dunsford, well-known accountant of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, will leave for Kingston, N. Y., on Thursday of this week. Mr. Dunsford is commencing his vacation and will be accompanied up his trip by Mrs. Dunsford.

REV. A. L. GREEN PREACHES.

The Rev. Rural Dean Clarke being absent from the City the services in Christ Church on Sunday were in charge of Rev. Mr. Green, at the opening services the Rev. Mr. Burke of Kingston, who happened to be passing through the City, was the preacher.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

Special feature pictures are being shown at the Belle this week as this theatre is celebrating its fourth birthday. Anniversary week is becoming an institution with Belle Theatre goers, and it is looked forward to with great interest. "The Flag Lieutenant" which will be shown on Thursday night has the reputation of being one of the best picture plays to have been released last year, and it has certainly lived up to selfish notices. This picture will be shown only the one night, as there is a complete change of program every night.

SEAPLANE CALLED HERE

A large three passenger seaplane landed just off Victoria Park yesterday afternoon and proceeded to do quite a business taking up passengers. Where they came from or where they went is not known as they were here for only a few hours, but they did a lively business for awhile. This is the first seaplane to call on Belleville in some time.

NO COURT TODAY.

No police court was held today. The police, however, will shortly have some more traffic cases to appear before Magistrate Hall, as they have been closely checking upon violators of the city by-laws, particularly with reference to stop-streets.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Almost a capacity house at the Capitol last evening greeted the excellent vaude feature programme offered for Monday and Tuesday. On the stage the popular Imperial Players presented for these two days an extraordinary mystery play entitled "The Five Forty Nine Line", an interesting story of gripping interest, and one of the best the Players have offered during their present engagement. Miss Bigden in this play gives an especially fine performance, in a difficult role which allows ample scope for her ability. The same play will be presented again this evening.

The screen feature "Diamond Handcuffs" with Eleanor Boardman, Conrad Nagel, Lawrence Gray and others of note is one of merit, also a melodrama with three complete stories, the scenes shift quickly from the South African Diamond Mines, into the circle of New York's society, then to the underworld, with the action of all three stories bound together by an immense and trouble making—diamond, in its search from one owner to another.

On Wednesday—for one day only—Marion Mills will be seen in "The Hawk's Nest" on the Capitol screen.

PUPILS RENDER CLOSING RECITAL

Splendid Program By Students of Vocal And Instrumental Depts.

Memorial Hall of Albert College in the two short years of existence has been the scene of many excellent productions both in the field of music and dramatics, and the recital put on last evening by the piano pupils of Prof. V. P. Hunt and Miss Bessie Saunder and the vocal pupils of Prof. S. M. Anglin add yet still another to the long list of successful programmes.

The recital marked the closing of the year's work and the manner in which the various pupils executed their selections gave splendid evidence of the skilful training they have received from their very able instructors. The programme opened with a piano duet which was followed by piano solos and songs. In the instrumental department the difficult compositions, which included many of the works of the old masters, were flawlessly rendered, and standing taste in color and shading be duly evident. The vocal selections were most pleasing. The pupils displayed a fine control in the middle tones and the high notes were marked by particular clearness. It was a most enjoyable programme and the instructors are to be congratulated on the splendid success of their year's work.

The Programme.

Piano Duet—Grand March—Eleanor Malott and Helen Ackerman.

Piano—The Mulatto Chick—Keith-ken Groves (Pupil of Miss Handley).

Song—In Summer—Kathleen Goodmurphy.

Piano, Sonata in A flat, Op. 26 (first movement)—Helen Davies.

Song—A Spring Carol—Norma Fair.

Piano—Le Papillon (the Butterfly)—Isabel Wallbridge.

Song—Love Me or Not—Jack Andrews.

Piano — Cantique d'Amour—Bessie Ketchenon.

Songs—Au Farewell (b) Elegie—Helen Luscombe.

Piano—Ballade, A flat, Op. 47—Catharine Russell.

Song—A Dream—Richard Arnott.

Piano—Etude de Concert, Op. 36—Grace Connor.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

WILBIS WANNAMAKER

The funeral of the late Wilbis Wannamaker was held yesterday afternoon from the late residence to the Baptist Church at Holloway. The service was taken by Mr. P. D. Augustine, a student at McMaster University, who is supplying at the Holloway Baptist Church at the present time. A large number of friends were in attendance and there were many floral tributes. The bearers were all relatives of the deceased. Interment was made in Griffin's Burial Ground.

WANDA RITTWAGE

Miss Wanda Rittwage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rittwage, passed away very suddenly at her late home, 4 Somerset Ave., Toronto. The late Miss Rittwage was well known here and had many friends who will mourn her passing. The funeral will be held from the home of her father, Mrs. R. Lloyd, 154 East Moira St., at 2.30 Thursday. Interment will take place in the Belleville Mausoleum. The body will arrive Wednesday evening on the 8.20 train.

ARTHUR RIZEN

Deseronto, June 12.—Mr. E. Arthur Rizen, one of Deseronto's most promin ent citizens, dropped dead in his office last night about 8 o'clock at his home on Thomas street. Mr. Rizen was seven ty-two years of age and had been identified with the interests of Deseronto and this district for over fifty years. He served as accountant for the Rathbun Company and the Bay of Quinte Railway. He came to this country from England when a boy and identified himself with the Rathbun Company and was with this company until it went out of business. Since that time he had been conducting an insurance office and was also a partner in the Quinte Fuel and Dry Dock Company. The late Mr. Rizen is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters.

LATE MRS. ERNEST YOUKER

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ernest Youker took place on Saturday afternoon from the latter family residence, 82 Octavia Street.. After a short service at the home the funeral cortege proceeded to Christ Church, where service was conducted by Rev. A. L. Green in the absence of Rev. C. E. Cooke, in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends. Interment was made in the Belleville Cemetery. The bearers were D. Cromlish, H. Gray, C. Howey, G. Vance, G. Irvine and H. Gordon.

RADCLIFFE—OLDREY

A pretty but quiet wedding took place at St. George's Church, Trenton, recently when Miss Mabel Oldrey was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Radcliffe of Springbrook, Ont., Rev. P. Heywood officiating.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a dress of Alice blue crepe-de-chene trimmed with silver lace and ribbon. She carried a dainty bouquet of roses and fern.

Miss Lola Francis, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a dress of pink crepe de chene; her bouquet was of lily of the valley and fern. Mr. Orville Andrews of Springbrook, cousin of the groom, acted as best man.

Later, the couple left for points east. The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ford and Mrs. T. Vrooms of Toronto, Mr. Ross Murray of Springbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oldrey of Oshawa, and Mr. H. Palshaw of Toronto.

MARTIN-SIMONS

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Bethel Church Manse on June 6th, when John A. Clarke officiating, when Anna Belle Simons eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pratt of Batavia, New York, was united in marriage to William Henry Martin, Batavia, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Martin of Lake Ontario. The bride was prettily dressed in French blue with hat to match and wearing a bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend were witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Martin left by motor on a wedding trip to relatives in Ontario where they will reside for some time.

DEFECTS IN SPEECH HANDICAP SUCCESS

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

The Emotional Psychologist.

The subject of speech defects might well occupy an entire volume. Malformations of the tongue, palate, teeth, etc., may be causative factors in speech defects, but it would seem that in all cases there is a fundamental nervous make-up that requires treatment.

This explains why so many persons afflicted with one or another of the speech difficulties are not cured, or, if cured, do not remain so, when only speech exercises have been employed.

In stuttering the sufferer has difficulty in pronouncing syllables and there is a hesitancy and halting of speech. Many varieties of speech difficulty come under this heading.

Sometimes the person finds suddenly that he cannot speak at all, that he cannot begin the flow of speech, or he hesitates in the course of a sentence and is unable to go on. Often, after a violent effort, he overcomes his inability and then he words gush out all at once in quick succession.

Shocks and fright are the most frequent cause of stuttering, and behind these and associating them there is usually a nervous make-up a favorable soil, as it were, for the sprouting of the symptoms of speech difficulty.

Imitation often plays an important role in the production of stuttering in children.

Stammering is another form of speech trouble. It would probably be best, however, to give up this term altogether in favor of stuttering. It eliminates the hard, explosive sounds and syllables give trouble.

Clattering is another form of speech defect that is often confused with stuttering. It is a kind of hasty and mumbled speech. The slowly and deliberately, while the clatterer talks too fast and slurs his words. He is too excited and anxious to talk.

Therefore the clatterer should think about his speech and talk stutterer talks best when he loses self-consciousness and doesn't worry over what he is trying to say.

Lisping, another type of speech trouble, is rather common. It may not be very pronounced. This is a defect of articulation and is due to faulty position of the organs of articulation. It may be a survival of baby talk" and, then, it is known as "negligent lisping."

A person who says "tandy" for "candy" may be able to pronounce "car" correctly. That is, although he replaces it in some words, through sheer negligence.

It is a curious fact that when on It is a curious fact that when one attempts to educate left-handed children to be right-handed stuttering may result for a time.

Speech defects are enormous handicaps to success. They should never be neglected and they should always be treated by a specialist.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl 🍁 my teens and love a boy. I am sure he cares for me. He has asked me not to go with any other boys but him, and he promised to keep steady company with me.

There is another girl whom he has gone out with twice since he promised not to.

Do you think he loves me and does not want to make me angry? Or does he love her?

Please give me some advice.

ANXIOUS.

ANXIOUS: Since you are not engaged to this young man there is no reason why you should give up your other friends for him. It is evident he has no intention of devoting all his time to you, and it would be unfair of him to expect you to limit your friendships. There is time enough to worry about him when you have actually discussed marriage. In the meantime don't chide him for going out with other girls—merely accept invitations from your other friends, and let it go at that.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in my teens and would ask you to help me. I am very much in love with a man about three years older than I. He seems to like me yet sometimes he doesn't. What should I do?

DOT.

DOT: There is no reason why you should suffer in the moods of this boy, Dot. If he becomes irritable when you are with him just ignore him. This is usually a sex form. People who give vent to those erratic moods often do merely to attract attention. So, when your friend seems annoyed with you for no good reason let him alone—and he'll come home.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

When getting a wedding ring with your initials and date engraved on it, whose initials come first, the boy's or the girl's?

SWEET MARIE.

SWEET MARIE: Usually the form is "To B. C. from D. A." and the date. Occasionally the order is reversed, thus: "D. A. to B. C."

Egypt's 10,000 shoemakers' shops produced about 2,000,000 pairs of European shoes and 3,000,000 pairs of native slippers in the past year.

The practice of legal plural marriage by women is known as polyandry.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

TRAPPED!

At Celia's question: What who and what are you?' the young man laugh ed.

'What a curious question for a young wife to ask her adoring husband!' he said.

The mockery in his voice made her flush hotly.

'Impostor!' She flung the word at him fiercely.

He came closer to her.

'How pretty you are, when you're angry! . . . My uncle had good taste, even in the last.'

She gasped: 'You are—'

'Richard Falconer, his graceless nephew. Unfortunately, not popular with him at the time of his death.'

Celia sank into a chair.

'What are you doing here?' she asked. 'Why have you allowed every one to believe me your wife—my husband?'

He answered easily: 'All that will be explained in due time. Meanwhile, aren't you rather harsh with me when I have come so far to see you?'

She declared violently: I'd order you out of the house, if it weren't that my mother is very ill.'

'I quite understand,' he answered easily. 'You made my acquaintance with that in mind, in be quite frank.'

She asked: 'How did you find me, and why did you want to see me?'

He evaded the first question and answered the second by saying:

Now that I have seen you, the answer should be obvious.'

She controlled her temper and sought to calm the fear that was growing in her. There was a menace about the man, for all his charming manners.

'Please tell me how you happen to be here?'

'That is a long story. We can go into it later. . . . It is sufficient, at this moment, to tell you that it was several months after my uncle's death before I learned all that had happened. Annesley Falconer writes me at the time, but I was in Central America, managing a little revolution that I had helped along. I became a trusted incumbent of the presidency and put in his place a Spanish gentleman who had a keen desire to possess certain oil-fields with which, that particular country is blessed. The revolution failed, for lack of funds as, alas, so many good revolutions do.

He paused, produced a cigarette-case.

'May I smoke? . . . Thanks.'

'To continue: When I — er — left Central America — a little hurriedly, it must be confessed—I thought it might be a good idea to come on to New York and find out if my uncle actually had left me out of his will, even though the old boy had been rather explicit on the point when he kicked me out — which I assure you he did. He could be rather violent, at times. But, of course, you know that. It was pure coincidence that I visited Annesley's office on the same day that you did. I saw his assistant and learned that I'd been cut off without a sou and that you had gone through a feudal marriage with him and come into possession of his entire fortune.'

He paused again and regarded her with bodily admiring eyes.

'An excellent coup on your part, my dear girl. Allow me to congratulate you.'

Celia was fairly choking with rage. But she managed to say stonily: 'Go on, please.'

'Well,' he continued, 'I debated my next move and decided that I might find something of interest, something to my advantage, if I talked frankly with you. I had learned your address at Annesley's office, so I decided to come on her and see just how the land lay. At the time, I believed that you were staying on in New York and that I would have an opportunity for a little research work here in your absence. It was again pure coincidence that we took the same train from Richard Falconer, whose name you bear and whose money you spend, died shortly after a death-bed marriage with his secretary, and that he entered into that marriage to spite his nephew. . . . You with me to do that?'

PHILLIPS'

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Get from this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Plain bottles contain full directions—any druggists.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

The District Agricultural Chamber of Hasselt, Belgium, recently offered prizes for the best specimens of the wings of the collers and the students' residence. Only the central wing of the old college building will remain when the wreckers have finished their work, and playgrounds will take the place of the buildings torn down. The demolition of 5 large parts of the original building has been decided upon as a measure of safety to children playing in the yard. Park, the former college grounds.

On St. Patrick's Day, 1851, the first sod was turned on Trinity College grounds by Bishop Strachan in the presence of a large number of citizens. The college was built "by the munificence of those who, both in Great Britain and in the Diocese of Toronto, gave with willing hands gifts of money and land for the accomplishment of the object aimed at by the founders." Bishop Strachan was the first President. A portion of the building was completed in 1852. This is the main building, which will be the only part left standing after the present wrecking is completed.

Trinity College mail uses were white bricks made in Yorkville, then a village on Yonge Street north of Bloor street, now part of the city of Toronto, and were from Cleveland; which harmonizes in color with the brick. In 1886 the chapel on the east side was opened for the use of the members of the university as a gem of ecclesiastical architecture.

The west wing was added in 1891, and the eastern in 1894. These buildings are now to be torn down.

TRINITY COLLEGE TO BE WRECKED

Historic Building Will Be Torn Down Says Commissioner

Toronto.—(By C.P.)— Historic old Trinity College, Queen Street west, Toronto, will soon be in the hands of wreckers as the Parks Commissioner, G. F. Chambers, had asked for tenders for the demolition of the wings of the college and the students' residence. Only the central wing of the old college building will remain when the wreckers have finished their work, and playgrounds will take the place of the buildings torn down. The demolition of 5 large parts of the original building has been decided upon as a measure of safety to children playing in the yard, Park, the former college grounds.

ROTARIANS AND AGRICULTURISTS TOLD OF AFRICA'S ADVANCEMENT

Railway Companies Drill Openings Into Dark Jungles

Yesterday was Farmers' Day at the Belleville Rotary Luncheon, every member bringing a farmer friend. Altogether, probably one hundred Rotarians and guests were in attendance. After-dinner music took the form of an excellent treat. President Cleon Herity welcomed the guests in his usual affable manner, and then announced the results of the election of officers, which took place two years ago.

Mackenzie Robertson was the unanimous selection of the directors for the important position of President for the ensuing year, and Al Williams was chosen as Vice President. Oswald Scott and Harry Walker were elected as secretary and treasurer respectively. Ed. Bernstein was made Assistant secretary, and Andy Chamberlain is the Sergeant-at-Arms of the next term. William Deacon is the representative to the International Rotary Convention to be held in Minneapolis in the nearly past of June.

Dr. Baker introduced the speaker of the day, Maj. R. J. Graham, and his subject was East Africa. Major Graham has just returned from that distant continent and told of the rapid material growth which had been achieved in the short time that it had been opened up. "In ten years' time one will be able to travel by rail from Cape Town to Cairo, where now there is a stretch of over fifteen hundred miles where there is no rail at all. Fifteen years ago, however, it took months and travel across the continent, as there were very few roads. And railways, were practically unknown.

Rhodesia is practically all farming country, but there are districts where, from 20,000 acres up, and labour is very scarce, as the natives, as a rule, a hard time to operate. Salisbury, a city of some four thousand souls is one of the most enterprising cities the speaker had ever seen, and when Africa is opened up will be one of the large prosperous cities of the continent.

Cecil Rhodes burial place was seen by the speaker, perched on a high mountain, and it help necessary to walk at least a mile to reach the spot. The boulders, many tons in weight are on the top, and the grave has been carved out of the solid rock. It took only three boulders. There is no monument over the grave, but a flat slab tells who is buried there. Only one other grave is situated at that spot, it being to commemorate the memory of the heroes who fell in the South African War.

Victoria Falls was one of the most impressive sights Mr. Graham had ever witnessed as he waters fall a height over three times farther than Niagara Falls and are a mile and a half wide. The volume of water which goes over these falls, which are the greatest in the world, makes the Niagara seem insignificant.

The Graham party passed through a strip of country which was being visited by that most dread epidemic, sleeping sickness, and for eight hundred miles cattle and people were dying by the score from this dread malady, which is caused by a certain kind of fly.

Victoria Lake is the largest fresh water lake in the world, and the interior of Central Africa is dotted with many lakes, some of which are of great size. Lake Tanganicha is one of these, and it is on its shore that Stanley found Livingstone, and where the latters heart is buried. His body was interred in Westminster Abbey.

Kenga is a white man's country, and although directly under the equator, is very temperate in climate. This is due to its altitude, as the whole country is a huge plateau. Coffee is the staple product, and in a few years this country will supply as much to the world as Brazil does at the present time.

Of the way down the Nile, natives were seen who were perfect specimens of manhood, some of whom by actual measurement were six feet seven inches in height and who were built accordingly. It takes nine days for the fast river boat to go from Regaff to Khartoum, and this, in down river, no small idea of the real distance to be covered may be had from this example. Nine did not permit Mr. Graham to dwell on any one subject at any length, but he certainly gave a very interesting address, and the Rotarians will be willing to listen to him again whenever they have the opportunity.

CATHOLIC BOYS ARE DISCIPLINED

Montreal.—A comparison between the English speaking Catholic boy and other lads when first coming to work was made lately by A. A. Gardiner, Knight of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, in an address at a session of the tenth annual convention of the Montreal Catholic Teachers' Association. A survey made in many business firms had brought forth the fact that children from the Catholic schools in general, and the English Catholic schools in particular, were better disciplined than children from other schools, Mr. Gardner stated. On the other hand because of the fact that Catholic lads had been brought up in an atmosphere in which everyone had the same ideas, they sometimes found it difficult to adjust themselves when they entered a large office with many different type of persons. French boys were found to be, on the whole, more polite than the English ones.

Both English and French-speaking Catholics were reported by many employers to be very good at routine jobs which they performed with the utmost conscientiousness, but when asked suddenly to do something else in an emergency they frequently fell down, said Mr. Gardiner. As a result their lack ofinitiative was apt to keep them at the same routine job until the end of their days. Boy Scouts were found to have more self-reliance and initiative than other boys. A point in favor of Catholic boys was the fact that they were almost always bilingual.

Employers who marked boys on a regular point system when they applied for employment put them a long ranking when they came accompanied by their parents, Mr. Gardiner announced. He felt this was rather hard on the boy however as some mothers were of the type who would not be left at home.

ROYAL FAMILY ARE LOVERS OF PICTURES

London.—he King and uuen were the central figures in a very interesting group of picture-lovers when the president of the Royal Academy, Sir Frank Dickens, escorted through the principal galleries at Burlington House recently. Prince George accompanied his parents, and seen Maid of Norway Princess Victoria, the Princess Royal, and Princess Beatrice met their Majesties there during the afternoon. Lord and Lady Harewood and Lord Lascelles were other visitors.

WISE CRACKER HAS HIS INNING

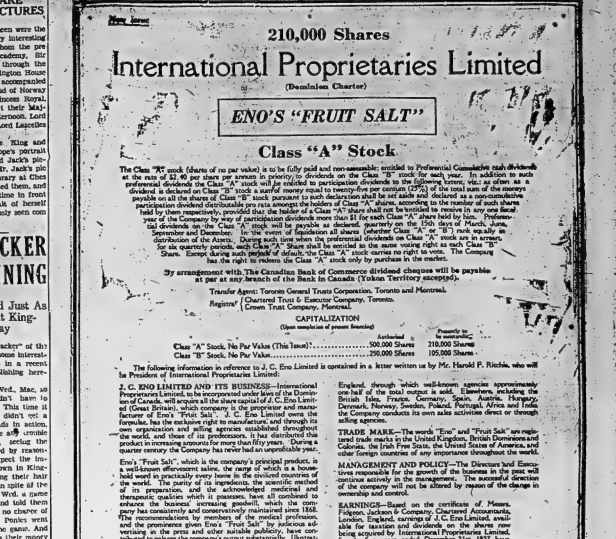

Says League Could Just As Well Do Without Kingston Anyway

Fred Craig the "wise cracker" of the Peterboro Examiner gets some interesting "dope" off his chest in a recent issue which we are publishing herewith. He says:

Well, it rained again Wed., Mac, so once more the Petes didn't have to make no mid-week trip. This time it was Belleville runs what didn't get a chance to look at our lads in action, but they ain't likely to be left outside over this postponement. The Belleville club is managed by reasonable folks what won't expect the impossible of the Petes. Down in Kingston they'll still be tearing their hair and they needn't blame. In spite of the fact the Petes told them Wed. a game Pri. couldn't be done and told them postponement Thursday they went over a team going down, the Ponies went right ahead and billed the game. And they had to have the faith their money back. That musta been tough, for if they's two things in this league management don't like letting going of back they got in the treasury is both of them. They took chance at the box office than they do at the score book down in Joe Daley's town, and they do say more than 1 Pony player is a fly because he was so busy trying to count the No. of paid customers on the side lines. Which sort o' reminds me, Mac, of the old story about the ball player everyone had the signals to steal and he didn't respond. What you waiting for, ses the coacher. For the 1st and 15th, ses the player, we get the opening pay day, of course.

The Kingston papers sez the Petes should oughta be dropped outa the league. Well, I want to tell the cockeyed world right now that the Petes ball gang had got their application for membership in the Central loop in on time the Ponies wouldn't be in the circuit at all. The league got along quite comfortable before they ever broke into the loop, and could do very nicely thank you—without them now.

Enough of that, Mac. The boys hooked up with Mister Bob Elliott's Delories and took the count. Why, I'll never tell you. Our Mister Harold held the invaders to 1 rather tainted run, and the lads should be ashamed in looking backwards with that kind of pitching, but their own attack was altogether missing. I figure they could collect off a bird what was simply slinging them in there when he could. Pitcher Hall was only out in the 1st. It looked so soft to our boys that they wouldn't let Mister Elles fill up the cushions on passes, and they simply took a cut at the 1st ball that came near them. They might of got in his way, of course, but, sad to relate, they only got 5—Bad young fellow Johnston who is breaking into the game at 3rd base, spoiling a no-hit game. I'm satisfied that if the lads had gone up there without no bats for about 2 innings this Mister Shea would

The following information in reference to J. C. Eno Limited is contained in a letter written us by Mr. Harold F. Ritchie, who will be President of International Proprietaries Limited:

J. C. ENO LIMITED AND ITS BUSINESS—International Proprietaries Limited, to be incorporated under laws of the Dominion of Canada, will acquire all the share capital of J. C. Eno Limited (Great Britain), which company is the proprietor and manufacturer of Eno's "Fruit Salt." J. C. Eno Limited owns the formulæ, has the exclusive right to manufacture, and through its own organization and selling agencies established throughout the world, and those of its predecessors, it has distributed this product in increasing amounts for more than fifty years. During a quarter century the Company has never had an unprofitable year.

Eno's "Fruit Salt," which is the company's principal product, is a well-known effervescent saline, the name of which is a household word in practically every home in the civilized countries of the world. The parent of its ingredients, the scientific method of its preparation, and the acknowledged medicinal and therapeutic qualities which it possesses, have all combined to enhance the business increasing goodwill, which the company has consistently and constantly maintained since 1868. The recommendations by members of the medical profession, and the prominence given Eno's "Fruit Salt" by judicious advertising in the press and other suitable publicity, have contributed to enlarge the company's output substantially. During the comprehensive selling methods adopted is the fact that at the present time advertising campaigns in some form or another are running in practically every country in the world.

Five manufacturing plants are maintained,—in London, England, Toronto, Canada, Berlin, Germany, Paris, France, and Barcelona, Spain. With the exception of those countries in which factories are located, the world demand for the company's product is supplied wholly from London, England. Distributors in Canada, Newfoundland, United States of America, Mexico, Central America, South America, Cuba, Jamaica, Hawaii, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Pacific Islands and the China Coast, is made through Harold F. Ritchie & Company Limited, Toronto; Harold F. Ritchie & Company, Incorporated, New York, and The British Harold F. Ritchie & Company Limited, London.

Cute in a Baby—Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Britisin

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen. Then what may cause an ill-formed mouth or indigestion. Finding the habit over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and fretful. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on Fletcher's signature on the package so many imitations.

30 years. With each package, your'gal is valuable, book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

PROCLAMATION!

By-Law No. 162

A By-law Prohibiting Dogs from running at large in the Township of Ameliasburg, and passed for the Health, Safety and Welfare of the Inhabitants of the Municipality.

PASSED THE 9TH DAY OF JUNE, A.D. 1928.

Whereas it has been discovered that the disease of RABIES has broken out in the Township of Ameliasburg;

And Whereas it is desirable and necessary for the Health, Safety and Welfare of the Inhabitants of the Township of Ameliasburg to make such regulations as may be deemed expedient by the Municipal Council;

And Whereas it is provided by R. S. O. 1927, Chapter 223, Section 250, that every Council may pass such By-Laws and make such regulations for the Health, Safety and Welfare of the inhabitants of the municipality;

1. That from and after the day on which this By-Law shall come into force no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the boundaries of the said Township of Ameliasburg, and that every dog within the said Township shall be tied up and securely fastened.

2. That any dog found not so tied up or securely fastened or running at large contrary to this By-Law may be killed or destroyed forthwith without notice to the owner thereof.

3. That this By-law shall come into force and take effect immediately upon, from and after the passing thereof.

F. C. File, H. Montgomery, Township Clerk. Reeve.

BELLE THEATRE

Few motion pictures have aroused the sustained interest that follows "The Rough Riders" from the time it was first announced that it would be filmed to the date of its release.

From all reports on hand Monday this Paramount production which comes to the Belle Theatre tomorrow for one day is deserving of the widespread discussion that has attended it.

Jesse L. Lasky, first vice- president of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, and B. P. Schulberg, associate producer, who had much at stake on the standard which the picture would assume when finished, have called this "a projection room sensation" meaning that the critical test of its first run in completed form caused tremendous enthusiasm among studio executives directors and principal players whose success depends upon the quality of their productions.

Frank Lloyd has portrayed the real Roosevelt, critics agree. A love story without romance has for the central characters, Mary Astor, Charles Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack. The strongest interest naturally would be expected from such notable screen actors as Noah Beery, George Bancroft and Fred Kohler.

REGENT THEATRE

"The Wizard." Fox Films screen version of Clayton Lessor sensational stage play from Edmund Lowe, is nearing the end of its sojourn at the Regent Theatre, where it has been showing to capacity audiences. Lelia Hyams has the feminine lead opposite Lowe and a cast of screen favorites, including Gustave Von Seyffertz and Barry Norton, are in the important roles.

TILLIE THE TOILER—

CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE OPENS

Rednersville And Moose Winners In Industrial Loop

Belleville's 1928 City League got away to a good start last night when the scores root the short end of the score from Rednersville at the latter town, and the Cisco Club was defeated by the Moose.

In both games where high class base ball, the Foulons-Rednersville score being 8 to 3, and the Cisco-Moose affair 3 to 7, "Chummy" Gerow was in the mound for the Moose, and although a little wild at times held the opposition down fairly well, but certainly have been credited with a loss had not the Cisco gone to pieces in the eighth and allowed the Moose to score four runs, mostly on errors.

Anthony Pitchett was on the mound for the Cisco, and he deserves a great deal of credit for the way in which he toiled them over, as he had not had a ball in his hand this year until this game. His battery mate, "Pinky" Wardbaugh was the sensation of both teams, as he tagged out four runners trying to steal home, and otherwise caught a good game.

Going into the eighth inning, Corby ville was two runs up, but a walk and an error started things for the Moose, and they did not fail to take advantage of it. With the score tied and the bases loaded, "Chuck" Gerow was due in to do the hurling for the Cisco, and another run was forced over. The Cisco thought they had pulled a double play to retire the side. The batter swung and missed and the 3rd strike Wardbaugh dropped it, picked it up, tagged on the plate and threw it to get the batter, the man on third meanwhile coming home. Cisco thought that he was forced out and did not bother to touch him. As the batter was automatically out however the other base runners had to be touched to be put out. Some argument ensued, but it was finally straightened away and the game ended 8—7 for the Moose.

Jean Godden, one of the most promising discus throw that she excels, being confident for the Canadian women's Olympic team. She is shown here throwing the baseball. It is in though she is considered one of the best all-round girl athletes in the country.

KINGSTON CLUB IS REMBURSED

Petes Must Play In Kingston On Friday of This Week

Peterboro, June 13.—The Kingston-Peterboro argument over the transfer of the Petes to play in Kingston on Friday, June 1 the order decided on by the C.O.B.L. executive for the holding of the game postponed from Wednesday previous was thrashed out at a meeting of the Central Ontario League executive held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms here on Saturday night.

The decision ultimately arrived at was that the postponed game should be played in Kingston on Friday night of this week and that the Kingston Club should be paid $53 out of the League funds to recompense them for expenses arising out of the fiasco.

President H. T. McFadden was in the chair and others present were Secretary Newton Thompson of Belleville, Messrs. Chester and Lutz, Oshawa, R. A. Elliott, Oshawa, Tom Peady, Kingston, and Vice-President Ye Hamilton, Secretary Ted Dolan, Manager T. H. Holyman, Jack Pilling and F. D. Craig, Peterboro.

The Kingston Club, through Mr. Kennedy, declared that before their team would play a game in Peterboro, the postponed Kingston game must be played and Kingston must be reimbursed the loss sustained as a result of the failure of the Petes to put in an appearance. In this loss they claimed $6 rain checks which were honored at the next game, as well as their advertising, police and other expenses, the total being $135. Mr. Kennedy declared that the last word received from Peterboro on the day before the game was expected to be played was that if the Petes couldn't come they would let Kingston know by 7 o'clock that evening.

Secretary F.J.A. Hall of the Peterboro Club declared that he had informed Mr. Kennedy over the telephone that there was no possibility of the team making the trip but that he would see what could be done and would inform the Ponies if it were found possible to send a team.

Secretary Thompson, Mr. Chester of Oshawa and R. A. Elliott of Delora emphasized the desirability of harmony in the League ranks and urged that the financial side of the matter should not be too strongly stressed.

Finally President McFadden appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Chester, Thompson and Elliott to consider the question and bring in a recommendation.

FACES CHARGES

Toronto, Ont., June 11.—William Church, former tax collector for the City of Toronto, appeared in police court today in answer to a summons charging him with the theft of $1,000 from the city.

By "The Observer"

After an absence of one year strictly baseball has returned to Central Ontario with five teams bolting it out for the honours in the Central Ontario league. Although it is early to make any predictions as to the ultimate winner three teams stand well as possible contenders for the Johnston Cup. Belleville, Oshawa and Delora in the early season games have indicated that they will be in the race to the finish. Oshawa was rated as the strongest team on paper previous to the opening game but contrary to expectations the team coached by Stan Simpson pos sess nothing of an unusual calibre with the possible exception of Sutton, a second baseman who hails from Flint, Mich. Over thirty players turned out, and from among these candidates has been welded a fair aggregation.

Delora, twice winners of the intermediate championship of the province have played out two games and in both of these the club has distinguished itself. Jack Shea, young pitching protege with the Smellers, defeated the strong Peterboro club last Saturday and allowed the Petes but one hit. Peterboro were runners-up for the provincial senior championship last year and young Shea's feat stamps him as a comer.

Belleville, at one time the hot-bed of amateur baseball in Eastern Ontario, has come back with a strong team and with a sprinkling of the old guard which cut a wide swath in baseball circles to steady the new and untried material the Waterous pen will give the other teams plenty of competition. "Penny" Mills, one of the veteran catchers in baseball is being doing the catching and incidentally has been hitting at a tremendous clip. He garnered five hits in five tilties at bat in a recent game and in two consecutive games reached first base nine times. Ross and Weir are the only remaining members of the team which swept through to the Ontario championship in 1919. Manager Walter Orchaw has four pitchers all of mediocre calibre with Gibson and Utrouhi the best of the quartette. Utrouhi is a product of the Renfrew, Ottawa Valley team and hung up a brilliant record there and is being groomed to pitch at least half of the games. Scott has effectively plugged the hole at third base and Nationals appear to be a well-balanced aggregation.

Kingston with Joe Daly at the helm have a smart team, built around Delmar Cherry and George Ada, the slugging demons in the outfield. Daley is lamentably weak in pitching material and with a first class noundsman the Limestoners would be a hard team to beat any time. Buck, a graduate of the junior ranks, has been hitting at a terrific clip and with "Babe" Britton, Vern Ada and Ives playing fine ball the Kingston team will make things interesting. The Kingston team numbs the services of Bainbrae at 3rd base.

The Peterboro club have failed as yet to strike their stride with some big hits form. Manager Tommy of the veterans a little slow in round Holyman has a brace of brilliant twirlers in Jeff Hardill and Alvin Heckman, but the chief trouble lies in the team's failure to hit.

Peterboro club recently refused to play a twilight fixture in Kingston because of the fact that two games were scheduled on consecutive days and rumors of suspension have been flying thick and fast. The Kingston club advertised the game and the stands were crowded when a long-distance call revealed that the Petes had no intention of playing. As a result the Kingston club lost the gate and it was a sore touch as two postponements had already been made on account of rain. President McFadden of Peterboro has the matter under consideration at the present time.

Russia and Japan are the latest countries to adopt officially the metric system of weights and measures.

The University of Kansas track team is the only native aggregation in the United States having a female athlete as a member. The young lady is miss Charlotte Harper, shown here practicing starts. Miss Harper, who is of Kanna City, Mo., is a candidate for the coming tryouts of the girls' Olympic team. She is an all-round performer, starring in the javelin throw, weaken, hurdles, etc. She is also a champion racket wielder.

YANKS SUFFERED SECOND DEFEAT

Cleveland Lose Fourteenth Game In Seventeen Starts To Senators

Chicago, June 13.—In a desperate effort to check the Yanks' long losing streak, which consisted of one consecutive defeat, Miller Huggins, the sage pilot of the champions, sent Herbert Pennock against the White Sox yesterday afternoon.

The final score was 6—1, and it was the Yanks' second consecutive defeat. A little bit more of this and the Yanks will be only eight or nine games ahead. Meanwhile, Lloyd Brown, the pitching find of the club began and had a real good cry.

Successive home runs by Al Simmons and Jimmy Fox with the score tied in the eighth inning gave the Philla. Athletics a 4—2 victory over Detroit in the second game of the series at Detroit.

Allowing but six scattered hits, and striking out half a dozen batters to him, Alvin Crowder won his third straight victory and the Browns defeated the Boston Red Sox 2—1 for the second straight win of the St. Louis series.

A balk by MacFayden after Koch had tagged and Blue was issued a pass, placed the Brown shortstop in a position to score the winning run on a long fly to Lamar.

Washington made it two straight over the slipping Indians by winning yesterday's game at Cleveland 7—6.

Montreal Players Thrown Out of Park For Protesting Decisions

Jersey City, June 12.—Wild scenes were enacted at West Side Avenue Park yesterday as Montreal Royals dropped a 3-2 decision to the Jersey City Giants. The defeat of the Royals enabled the Skeeters to even the series at two all.

Three Montreal players were ejected from the contest for protesting umpirial decisions, two of them passing out for their objections to a weird verdict by Pyfle, base umpire, that handed the Pests the game in the latter half of the seventh inning.

The leads enlivened the seventh tied with two runs each as the result of a wretched spell of wildness suffered by Walter Beall, Royals' starting pitcher, and an error by Radwan that permitted the tying run to filter across the plate. Until the sixth, Montreal led, 2-0, but it was in this session that Beall was unable to find the plate.

Reading, June 12.—Reading checked Albert Isolini's streak in the second game of a doubleheader with Toronto here yesterday afternoon when Jack Selhold hurled his eighth victory of the season by a score of 9—4 after the Keystone last been defeated in the opener by the league leaders 3—1. Manager Quilty hit two home runs in succession in the night-cap.

Newark, June 12.—Newark bounced back into the International League race by defeating Rochester 6—5 in the second game of a doubleheader with Baltimore before 2,000 fans at Ruppert Stadium. Newark and Baltimore are now tied for fourth place with 22 victories and 23 defeats each.

REDS STAGE 9TH INNING RALLY

Old Alex In Brilliant Form And St. Louis Defeat Boston

New York, June 12.—After the Giants broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run drive in the eighth inning, the on-rush ing Cincinnati Reds refused to be denied and put on a five-run rally in the ninth to defeat the Giants by a score of 7 to 5.

The hitting of Picinich featured the game. He drove out two home runs, one of which brought in the two winning runs, a double and a sacrifice fly and batted in five times out. Picinich also drove in four runs.

Pitt started off in a sensational fashion in the box for the Reds, only allowing one giant to reach first in five innings. Then Pitt weakened, and was replaced by Rixey in the eighth. The latter retired the side in order, sincy once they returned home by winning the opening game of the series from Pittsburgh, 5—4.

The tall-enders bunched their hits and threes homers for their runs. The seventh, in which four runs were scored, featured. Don Hurst got a homer over the left field fence with one man on base in the seventh. The Pirates had a bad fielding day, making five errors.

Alexander pitched tight ball for St. Louis and was touched for three hits in the first game of the Boston series, 7—1.

Three home runs figured in the game. Holm drove out one in the first inning with two mates aboard. In the ninth directed the ball into the left field bleachers. Hemsley made a run cage in the second inning when Bell lofted one into the same bleachers with Wilson and Harper aboard. Vander was never in trouble.

Babe Ruth allowed the Robins six hits and the Cubs handily won the first game of the Brooklyn series here, 5 to 1. The unlucky hitting was the leading feature of the Chicago attack. He drove in the runs with a single in the third and scored the other run on McMillan's grounder in the sixth. Hornsby and Eherhardt pitched effectively for Brooklyn, but Bush kept the attack of the Robins under control.

OSHAWA LEAD LEAGUE WITH A .750 AVERAGE

Kingston's 8-3 victory over Delora Smelters Friday gives the Ponies a .500 average, winning two out of four starts. Joe Daly's squad is a hard-clouting group of players, knocking Jack out of the box to be relieved by Leal. The two of them were hammered for 13 hits while the youthful Jamieson was restricting their teammates to five. Jamieson struck out six and just to be different forced the give a free pass to any Smelter player. Kingston is actually looking up to General Motors who have a .750 average opposite their name.

PETERBORO SCRIBE REGISTERS COMPLAINT

Tiley do say that Elliott, the youngster who has been playing great ball at second base for the Kingston Ponies also plays for a Kingston Junior team entered in the Junior C. B. A. A. series. If this is the case it might be interesting to know how a player can be a member of teams in two different series of the C. B. A. A. at the same time. He can try out in the senior ranks and go back to the junior series but unless the two teams are under the one management he cannot jump back and forth from one series to the other. Elliott by the way is a son of the famous "Chauncy" Elliott, one of Kingston's finest athletes in years gone by.—Peterboro Examiner.

THIS MAN WAS NO ROBINHOOD

He Didn't Rob Rich For Poor; He Reversed The Process

Montreal.—Operating a supposed employment agency for women, and being caught by the police, a man appeared before Judge Surgint on five charges of victimizing women, and got a stiff sentence.

"Robin Hood used to rob the rich and give to the poor," Judge Surgint remarked; "you reverse the process and keep the money. You have robbed poor unfortunate women who were seeking work and I can think of nothing more contemptible."

According to the complainants their names were obtained from a legitimate employment agency and they were then approached with offers to obtain work for them as stewardesses aboard lake steamers.

Another man, also sentenced to a year with hard labor "specialized" in nurses seeking positions. He watched the female "want-ads" in the newspapers and got into communication with them in this way. Introducing himself as an "inspector" for the Royal Victoria Hospital, he offered, on payment of $10 to obtain posts for them at that institution. When they presented themselves there on the following day they found that he had no connection with the hospital and was not known there.

To insure insertion of advertisements on the day desired, copy must henceforth be in this office by five o'clock of the afternoon previous to the day of insertion of the advertisement.

As it has been found absolutely necessary to make this ruling, both in the interest of the advertiser and the paper. With considerable copy reaching the office on the day of insertion, as has been the case in the past, it is impossible to give advertisers the kind of service we strive for; so in fairness to all, advertisers are urgently requested, in their own interest, to bear in mind that in the future, copy must be in previous to the day of insert.

HOPES TO FLY SAME AS BIRD

Inventor Claims That No One Has Disapproved The Principle.

St. Augusta, Fla.—(By C. P.)—A huge transparent bird, with skeleton of strong chrome molybdenum steel ribbing through a gossamer skin of tough, non-inflammable celluloid, stands with outstretched wings on a sandy beach here, waiting for its inventor, Captain George White, to give it the first trial in the air.

Six years ago Captain White, of Stony Brook, Long Island, aviator, flying instructor during the World War and a technical student, declared: "Every one knows that birds fly, and no one has proved that man cannot imitate bird flight."

He began working on this principle, and today the result of his labor is represented by a foot-propelled, wing-flapping, motorless ornithopter which bears the graceful lines of a huge eagle poised for flight.

Until recently the aviator was reticent all to reveal the nature of his researches into mechanical bird flight. He feared that experiments would create unfavorable reaction. Last fall, however, his work had progressed to a state of perfection which caused him to attempt to take the air in his machine at Ocean Beach.

He was in the air twelve times and crashed seven. The last spill knocked him unconscious, but each spill, he declared, had been attended by subsequent improvement of his model. In his longest flight at Ocean Beach he rose six to eight feet above the ground. In an earlier model several years ago he rose to seven times and on one occasion covered 400 yards, touching the ground twice on the way.

Captain White believes his latest model is capable of self sustaining flight and thinks that if luck is with him he will soar to new records.

The plane weighs 118 pounds. Captain White weighs 198 pounds. There are nine primary "feathers" covered with protected at the tip of each wing which close on the downward beat and open on the upward beat of the wing. At the back of "shoulder" wing are eight secondary "feathers."

The thicker part of the wing, next to the chassis, corresponds to a bird's wing from the body to the first joint. The underside represents a single surface and is carefully screened. The average width of each wing is four feet, so that together they have a supporting area of 113 square feet.

If the plane tips too far to one side the wing on that side beats faster, similar to the action in rowing a boat, to keep it on a straight course. Heavy rubber shock absorber cords attached to the wings supply the ornithopter's "muscles" and balance the wings in flight. A five-pound child can flap the wings from the foot fulcrum with one hand. Turns are executed by beating one wing faster than the other. The large tail is operated up and down by a single hand lever.

On motion Saries and Moreland's contract of gravel drawing of 100 yards was given Nathan Reid on Con. 8, also the rebuilding of one culvert, Reid to furnish gravel and draw same for 65 cents per yard.

On motion Saries and Ash, Albert Clemens to furnish gravel for drawing to rebuild culvert on his road division.

On motion Moreland and Donnan, Albert Reid was granted covering for two culverts on his road division.

On motion Ash and Sarles, Council ordered Clerk to secure 10 new steel culverts 10 inches wide by 18 feet long.

On motion Donnan and Saries the following accounts were ordered to be paid:

Albert Mitts ½	$12.50

Agriculturists Voice Strong Protest Against Hoover's Nomination -- Sheep-Killer Destroyed

FARMERS PROTEST NOMINATION OF HOOVER BY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Storm Convention Hall And Police Reserves Called Out

WILD SCENE

Vice-Pres. Dawes Likely Candidate For Re-Election

Kansas City, Mo., June 13—A throng of farmers protesting the nomination of Herbert Hoover and gathering numbers as it proceeded, marched to the Republican convention hall to-day and were prevented from carrying it only by the threatening clubs of policemen.

Frustrated in their endeavor to gain entrance, the farmers shouting "We don't want Hoover" at the top of their voices surged outside the hall in a disorderly and angry fashion.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—With the nomination of Herbert Hoover as Presidential candidate assured on the first ballot to-morrow, vice-Presidential honors have popped up at the Republican convention like mushrooms after a rain and the leaders were busy to-day looking over the crop.

In the centre of the field and standing little higher than a host of the other candidates was vice-president Dawes. No word was forthcoming on the subject from Mr. Hoover or from the Hoover camp. Lieutenants there emphasized that the Commerce Secretary would not commit himself on the Vice-Presidential Candidate at least before he was definitely nominated and perhaps not even then.

STOCK MARKET RALLIED TODAY

New York, N.Y., June 13.—The stock market was founded on a firm foundations yesterday by one of the most disastrous breaks in its history, rallied briskly today and a strong buying support was provided in all sections of the list. Standard industrials and food shares quickly moved up $1 to $2 share. High-priced specialties, which had been hardest hit, snapped back $2 to $6 share before end of the first hour.

COMPLETES FIRST LEG OF AIR TRIP

Lisbon, Portugal, June 13.—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British Aviator, arrived in Lisbon at 5.30, on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight to the United States.

Pisa, Italy, June 13.—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British aviator, hopped off at 4 a. m. today for Lisbon, Portugal, on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight to United States.

He was flying a Dornier-Napier "Wal" flying boat. His route will be from Lisbon to the Azores to Newfound land and then to New York.

ISSUE WRIT AGAINST LINDSAY DISTILLERS

Toronto, Ont., June 13.—In a writ issued at Osgoode Hall, Gooderham, Walker and Sons Limited is seeking to restrain the Lindsay Distillers Limited "Club" and "Canadian Club" trade mark for the sale of whiskey. The writ seeks an injunction in particular against the defendants using the name "American Club".

SCAFFOLD BROKE, MEN THROWN TO GROUND

Arthur Fuller was seriously injured when the scaffold broke while he was repairing a barn owned by Warden Rollins at Tweed. He sprained his back badly when he struck the ground. Max Simmons who was working with Mr. Fuller on the building was also precipitated to the ground and suffered less serious injuries. The men were rushed to a physician where their injuries were treated. They are resting easier today.

STEAMSHIP SAILS

Moscow, June 13.—The steamship Ferwar sailed from the Murman Coast for Spitzbergen last night to aid in the rescue of the marooned crew of the airship Italia.

FRANCHISE BILL

Women 21 Years of Age In England Granted Privileges of Voting

London, June 13—After an unsuccessful attempt had been made to raise the qualifying age, the House of Lords in committee last night passed the franchise bill which gives the vote to women 21 years of age and over. House of Commons had already approved the measure.

RESCUED BOY

Mike Durman, father, and Miss Emily Durman, daughter of Edward Durman, famous Canadian sculler who died recently, showed outstanding heroism when she saved Samuel Brenton, 14, from drowning in Toronto bay last Saturday. Brenton, his rescuer explained, was just going under when the plucky girl managed to grip him by the collar and get him ashore. For deed recalls the many drowning rescues effected by her father, who held the American professional sculling championship for many years. His son, Edward Durman, the youthful oarsman, regarded as an Olympic candidate, shares many of these. It is impossible to estimate just how many people owe their lives to this famous family. Photo shows Miss Durman and Samuel Brenton.

STOCKS REMAIN STABLE TODAY

Slight Drops Marked Trading In Amulet, Bidgood And Barry

The gains were few today, although considering the drastic reaction of the last few days on industrials, it held up pretty well. Amulet was very active and off to $3.70. Bidgood was off 3 and Barry 4. Dome made a new low for some time at $8.28 closing at $8.75 bid. Hudson Bay, Hiwary and Hollinger were unchanged. Int. Nickel gained $2 to $91. Malartic sold off today to $1.35 but recovered to $1.40 a two point gain from yesterday. Wasamac had a crash finish during the day with a gain of $1.15 from yesterday. Good buying was apparent in Amulet, Noranda and Sudbury Basin, the latter being still 10 points lower to day at $8.75. Sales were off to 85,70 and Pend Oreille broke quite hard to $12.50 at which point lots of buying appeared, bringing it back to $13. The closing quotations by Homer L. Olson & Co., Toronto Bond Corporation Bldg., Manager, were as follows:

Matter of New Ambulance Rests With Committee On Ways And Means

REFORESTATION

Will Likely Support Wentworth Council For Additional Assistance

At the opening of the County Council in session this morning a communication was read from Mr. J. A. Kerr, Acting Chairman of the Hospital Board in connection with granting a thousand dollars for an ambulance. Moved by Mr. Gilroy and seconded by George A. Bailey that this be referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. F. Armstrong, superintendent of the Belleville General Hospital wrote informing the Council of the case from Hungerford Township which could be removed to Asylum but there was no help for him in a General Hospital. Moved by Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Laycock, that this matter be left in the hands of the local members in this line. Carried. It was purely a township matter.

A communication from the Wentworth County Council was received asking this council to support the move for them to have the government pay more than they are now paying for the cost of county roads. The Council now pays 36 per cent and the government the balance. A committee has already had very full information from the Provincial Government on this matter, the same was received and filed, the motion being moved and seconded by Mr. Gilroy and Mr. Moore respectively.

A report from the Hon. L. Goldie regarding indigents in hospitals and asylums was received and filed on the motion of Mr. Reid and seconded by Mr. Moore.

With reference to the Township of Tudor and Cashel, which the Belleville mill had in mind, namely to have the government build a dam, which was found possible, but the department of Lands and Forests would not do any reforesting for so long as they kept her land to work on, of which they have already the power to do, but the Government might however, make it a part of the Eastern Game Reserve. The Council then adjourned to convene again at two o'clock.

SUMMER HOTEL IS TOTALLY DESTROYED

Kennebunk Port, Maine, June 13 — An early morning fire destroyed the Rockwood Hotel here with a loss estimated at $125,000. Blazing dogs in a nearby garage roused the residents of the hotel and they were able to make their way to safety.

WILL ASCERTAIN TERM'S LEGALITY

Committee Returns Suggestion To Learn Use Of Church Term

Regina, Sask., June 13—The feasibility of ascertaining the legality of the use of the designation "Presbyterian Church" during the war was approved at last evening's sederunt of the General Assembly of the Church in session here.

The suggestion emerged in the form of a recommendation from the ministers committee reporting on the relations with other churches.

Rev. Stuart Parker, of Toronto, urged the advisability of such an investigation. While no drastic or decisive step is to be taken, the settlement of the question either way, he believed, would relieve the situation in Canada, "from a state of intolerable tension."

RABIES' THREAT NIPPED IN BUD

Dog Destroyed Sheep In Consecon District—Captured And Killed

Residents in and around Consecon for some time were puzzled by a strange killer of sheep that destroyed several valuable animals belonging to Consecon farmers. The killer was believed to have been a wolf, and for a short time there was a wild scare.

This has been disapproved, however, for a dog was caught in the act of killing a sheep, and promptly killed, as all such marauders are.

The body of the dead canine was shown to several people in the vicinity but no one would claim ownership of the sheep-destroyer. This is considered understood, however, for the dog's mas ter was responsible for the dead sheep.

Outbreak Quenched

The recent quick outbreak in the township of Ameliasburg seems to have been effectively halted, according to Mr. Hugh A. Ross, M. D., of Consecon, who states that there has been no further trouble along that line in this district.

The dog that last week attacked Mr. Wm. Wart, sold residents of Ameliasburg township. The three men suffered no ill effects from the bite, although the dog was unquestionably suffering from an extreme attack of rabies.

Finger of Guilt Following Murder Points To Raoul Laflamme

Alexandria, Ont., June 13.—The provincial police investigating the killing early Sunday morning of Albert Laflamme, a farmer residing near St. Raphael, learned yesterday from a local storekeeper that he had sold a package of .22 calibre cartridges to Raoul Laflamme, brother of Albert. This man has been missing since early Sunday morning. He is being sought by the police who want him for questioning in connection with the case. There is no charge laid against him. The bullet found in Laflammes body was of .22 calibre.

CARL BROWNSON IS AWARDED DEGREE

Mr. Carl Brownson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brownson, 26 West Bridge Street, received notice this morning that he had successfully passed his Council examinations and had been awarded his M.D., as well as his B.A. degree. He is receiving hearty congratulations of his many friends on the attainment of notable proficiency. He is at present assisting Dr Robertson for a few weeks after which he will proceed to Morristown, New Jersey, where he will enter as an intern in the Memorial Hospital at Morristown. Mr. Brownson is a graduate of the Belleville High School.

DEBATE OPENED ON PRAYER BOOK

London, June 13—(Canadian Press Cable)—The prayer book debate opened in the House of Commons this afternoon with a number of notables present. The debate is expected to last two days. Hon. F. B. Mertzman, solicitor general, opened the debate by moving an adoption of the measure. He declared he did not regret the gestation of the measure last year. He believed that there was a life-spread renewal of interest in the affairs of the Church and this was wholly to the good.

JUNE SESSIONS OPENED TUESDAY

Warden Rollins States County Roads In Excellent Condition

Hastings County Council opened the June Session yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, twenty councillors being present. Warden Rollins was in the chair and welcomed the representatives from each district, especially Mr. Argue, who is a new face in the council this year, being the representative from Deseronto.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the County Clerk, W. H. Wagent, and approved. Warden Rollins in his opening address to the Council said he spoke of the great prosperity which is ahead for the County of Hastings, especially since we have some of the finest roads of any county in Ontario.

"We all know that we have had a bad Spring, and that the foundation of a great many of the roads has not stood up, but the same condition this year existed in practically the whole of Ontario, and the County Council, during the present time has better roads than many of these other counties. The road commission has changed its calculations, and will begin as soon as possible to lay permanent roads, but will not be able to do anything with the foundations that the roads have at present." The speaker congratulated the people of this county would have to wait a little longer for the permanent roads but he knew that this work would be taken up soon.

Grand Juries Report.

Warden Rollins read the report of the Grand Jury, and it certainly reflected great credit on the members of the Council, as they reported the Jail, the House of Refuge, the Hospital and the Children's Shelter in fine shape and under excellent management. Only one request was made, and that was to build a root cellar for the House of Refuge.

Compliments were paid to the County officials, and they were congratulated on the work done by them in a very efficient. This County received the first cheque from the Ontario Government this year that was issued, which showed that the officials were economical and not wasteful in having this cheque at the first of the year, the council was able to run for three months without having to borrow money, and thus saved the interest which for the three months would have amounted to well over one thousand dollars. The Warden also Preservation. This letter showed that the government having taken over the Canadian Northern Railway, the County Council could not have required it the way it should have been without

Polar Bears Cause Consternation Around Lieut. Holm's Plane

OPEN COMMUNICATION

Heavy Weight of Snow On Bag Forced Italia Down

Rome, June 13.—General Umberto Nobile's own story of the wrecking of the Italia was received today by the Stefani News Agency.

It was summarized as follows:—"At 10.30 a. m. on May 25th, while the Italia was flying normally at a height of 500 meters suddenly the weight increased (apparently by snow and ice forming on the bag). The airship began a rapid plunge which it was impossible to halt and in two minutes it crashed upon the polar ice.

The rear metallic part of the upper bracing were torn away while the bag was carried by the wind in its sudden direction.

"Among the debris on the ice all the occupants of the cabin were found miraculously to be alive. Only a minutes after a violent shock had the commanders cried passionately "Viva Italia."

"On the evening of May 30, three of Nobile's party started with provisions for the North Pole, Nobile, Mariano and with Nobile. Other members of crew remained with the drifting dirigible. They will have food enough for three months and are supplied with complete camping outfit. Two of Nobile's comrades injured."

The only communication between the Italia's survivors and the base ship Citta Di Milano was good today."

King's Bay, June 13.—An encounter with Polar Bears was one of the most dramatic moments in last week's reconnaissance by Lieut. Holm who spent five days away from his base ship Hobby seeking the Italia, tied up by a fog over the shores.

Details of the adventure were brought to Kings Bay today by the pilot brother Braganza and the bears, therefore for provisions.

When Lieutenant Holm and his companion Pilot Myre, were forced to land on Brandy Bay because of fog. The pilot was busy with their instruments while the pilots were in their sleeping bags. The bears displayed great curiosity about the plane and then made for the pilots. The latter, afraid to shoot at the bears, for fear of spoiling ground, lumbered away without being molested.

Copenhagen, June 13.— Savoia 55, Major Maddalina hopped off at 9 a. m. this morning for Lisbon, Sweden, a sprouts to Spitzbergen. It will carry Italian aviators who are bound for Arctic reconnaissance can be made toward Payne Island.

BUFFALO MAN IS SHOT TO DEATH

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13—Anthony Moskel, 27, was shot to death early today during an altercation on the back porch of his home. His brother-in-law Vincent Miller, is being sought by the police and charged with him Thursday night and Miller, her brother went to Moskel's home today. He is alleged to have killed him when Moskel upbraided him. The authorities of Pilot, Ont., have been notified in the belief that Miller will go there.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

"Truth, like the sun, submits to be obscured, but, like the sun, only for a time. —BOYEE.

LIFE DRAMA IN SHADOW OF POLE

The attention of the civilized world is turned today towards the North pole, where a drama as thrilling as any moving picture is being enacted in real life. The hero is General Umberto Nobile who with his crew of 15 men of the dirigible Italia are down on the icy wastes near the northeast corner of Spitsbergen. The Italia had made a successful flight over the pole where, the world learned by radio, General Nobile had also dropped the oaken cross of the Pope. Sixteen days ago that message was received. Then came silence. All that was known was that the airship was fighting its way south through strong winds. A search for the dirigible was started, by land, sea and air. Steamships felt their way through ice-clogged waters; dog teams raced across the snowy airplanes flew through the frigid atmosphere. On some receiving sets what appeared to be S.O.S. calls were heard, but their authenticity was doubted. Hope was slowly being abandoned. It was thought that the Ice King had claimed another sacrifice.

Then out of the ether there came the message to the supply ship Citta Di Milano. Every member of the daring crew was safe, it was reported, and the exact location where the dirigible had crashed was given in latitude. It is evident that the radio set of the Italia must have been damaged, and we can picture the hope and anxiety, with which the men of the expedition, stranded on the ice, far away from help, watched the efforts to repair it, as day followed day and food supplies ran lower. Fortunately the Italia's larder was stocked for emergencies; it carried enough food for a month. The report that the crew have enough now for six weeks indicates that the men are on half-rations. The element of suspense has not been lifted. It is one thing to know where the men are; it is another to reach them. Captain Georgy Wilkins, who a few weeks ago flew over the pole, is reported as being of the opinion that it will be a month before the men will be rescued. The news that the crew of the dirigible was safe was received with rejoicing throughout Italy. Less demonstrative, but no less real, relief has been felt by people in other countries. Achievements in flying are creating a new international interest. We forget the nationality of the flier, we think only that he is a man.

A SEQUEL TO THE WELLAND CANAL

Unless the shoals between Clayton and Brockville are removed upper lake shipping will be held up at the foot of Lake Ontario after the Welland Canal is completed, instead of being able to proceed to Prescott or Ogdensburg.

General Jadwin, the chief engineer of the U. S. Department of War, has recommended that as Canada has borne the whole cost of constructing the Welland Ship Canal, the United States should offer to bear the cost, estimated at $721,000 of removing the shoals in the steamship channel below Lake Ontario, whether these be in American or Canadian territory.

As American shipping will benefit largely by the use of the Welland Canal, the proposal seems an eminently fair one. Under ordinary circumstances we might be inclined to accept this neighborly suggestion in a neighborly spirit. But it would set up a precedent in regard to the larger proposal for the international development of the whole St. Lawrence waterway. There's the rub. The best plan would be for each country to do the work of shoal removing in its own waters.

BALLOON RACES STILL A FAD

It is a peculiar thing to note how people are loath to drop time-honored customs in the march of progress. In the United States, they are still staging balloon races. A number of balloons are released and the object is to stay in the air the longest possible time. The people in the basket don't know where they are going, and they have absolutely no control over their destinies except through increasing their altitude by casting bags of sand over the side, or throwing out an anchor when they come down to earth.

They run the risk of storms, which are exceedingly dangerous to such aircraft, and they are just as apt to land in a lake as on land, providing the breeze chances to carry them towards districts where there are bodies of water.

Very few races are held without casualties and death under such circumstances bears a very strong resemblance to suicide.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—

If you will kindly permit me a little corner in your paper, I would like very much to dedicate this letter to one of the dearest old ladies who ever lived in your city; and at the same time express a deep feeling of appreciation to the many friends who certainly must have put themselves to considerable inconvenience, to pay a fleeting visit of about ten minutes to one of the oldest residents who ever left Belleville, and who passed through your city on Saturday, June 2nd, from Montreal to Toronto to visit her son.

I refer, (as many ball her, and rightly) to the 'grand old lady', Mrs. E. Kaine, a resident of over fifty years and although she could not see her old friends, through her sight failing her, she had a wonderful warm handclasp which rings true as steel, symbol of her beautiful character, and ever vivacious nature. I saw many a tear drop, and I had to turn, and I wondered as I saw a big tear on her lovely old face. What retrospection was going on in that little group, who brought flowers and who stood around the railway coach looking at her. To me it was a wonderful picture that I shall see as long as I live.

There were the younger ones also, some dear daughters of old friends, showing that same wonderful spirit of friendship, of which I have always found so outstanding amongst the people of Belleville, and when I go back, over twenty years and think of my first visit, and every subsequent visit which are many (and I hope will be many more), I say when I look back and can say, in no place I ever set foot in, which includes a great many from Halifax to Vancouver and New York to California, I can say truthfully that no people ever exercised these two great virtues, sincerity and hospitality as the people of Belleville. Many people have wondered why I love Belleville so much, and ask me, and those two words are the answer. And so I would like to dedicate this letter to an ever living memory of one of the dearest old ladies who ever lived in Belleville; and I pass on, with an ever green picture through the coming years, if spared, of a lovely old face, a railway station, and a little group whom every word spelled sincerity. The train starts, and a big tear rests on her smiling countenance, for who can tell, going over the century mark, when she will pass by again.

Again thanking those dear friends who came to say good to you, Mr. Editor, for space in your paper, which is read regularly to the 'dear little lady, who can no longer see.'

Most respectfully,

Industrial Life Insurance Benefits

For a number of years the London Life has paid a cash bonus, amounting to as much as 25% of the policy, on every policy maturing as an endowment or becoming a death claim on which eight years premiums had been received.

Older policies have been increased, as much as 50% of their face value at young ages, to give to these policyholders the greater benefits which improved conditions have enabled the London Life to incorporate in its newer policies.

An Example
Policy Issued at Age 2

Original Amount of Policy -	$124.00
Voluntary Additions -	114.45
(Face Amount Increased $66.00) (Profit Bonus 48.45)
Total Payable - -	$238.45

These additions were granted to give old policyholders the benefit of (1) the lowered death rate in Canada due to improved health conditions, and (2) the Company's increased interest earnings.

General provisions and privileges of London Life Industrial Policies have, in recent years, been greatly liberalized to give the Policyholders the benefits derived from present day conditions.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

COUNTY COUNCIL NIGHT

Mr. Sam Lipcock, of Malmora, will be the speaker at tonight's gathering of Eureka Masons. It was previously announced that Stephen Leacock, well known professor of Montreal, was to be present, but this was an error.

This evening will be County Council night, and the entire County Council has been invited and has stated that it will attend in a body.

VISITING JEWESS

Mr. Lee Birdsell, of Hollywood, California, is a guest in Belleville for a short time. It is twenty-seven years since Mr. Burdett has been in this city, but he was brought up in Belleville. His many friends and acquaintances will be pleased to know that he is staying at the Queen's Hotel while in the city.

INDECENT ASSAULT

William Beaty, an ancient and decrepit old watchman for the Canadian Pacific, appeared in police court this morning facing the more or less serious charge of indecent assault. It was charged that Beaty assaulted a little child under the age of nine years.

It took only a few minutes for Beaty's counsel, Mr. Charles Payne, to get an acquittal, as no corroboration was offered by the Crown's evidence.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Albert Thomas appeared before His Worship charged with stealing a bicycle. The young man was convicted, but was given a suspended sentence, and will work for six months for some kind farmer, who agreed to help the boy along.

GOLF EXHIBITION

Keen interest was aroused among the golfers of the city today as to the outcome of the exhibition match between Miss Ada McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington at the Country Club this afternoon.

A record crowd is expected to follow the champion and ex-champion around the course this afternoon, the match beginning at 3 o'clock.

SEND WORKING PARTY TO CAMP

This afternoon a party from the Y's Men's Club are journeying to Moira Lake to commence the work of getting the Boys' Camp in order for the opening on the first of July. This is the first of several groups which will make the trip to the camp on similar errands, the boys giving up their Wednesday afternoon holiday for this purpose.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very happy gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Way, Camelion on Thursday, June 7th, it being the 81st anniversary of Mr. Way's birthday.

Friends and relatives gathered from many points to celebrate the happy event. Some children sat down to a sumptuous feast and many happy memories of days gone by were recalled and enjoyed. Many tokens of friendship were brought. After prayer by Rev. E. Farnsworth, the company dispersed wishing Mr and Mrs. Way many more happy re-unions.

SPOKE AT ORANGE LODGE

Mr. R. J. Graham, well known and influential citizen of this city spoke at the Orange Lodge meeting held in the Independence last night. Mr. Graham spoke of his recent trip to Africa, and the advantages to be derived therein there. The talk was more than interesting to say the least, and was roundly applauded by the listeners.

TROPHIES HAVE ARRIVED

Tomorrow morning the trophies to be awarded for the "Across the Bay Swim" will be placed on exhibition in the Walker Hardware window. These trophies have been presented by the property of the winners and this year's display is finer than ever. The Senior trophy is 16 1-2 inches in height and the smallest one, awarded the youngest member to complete the swim, is eleven inches high. The ladies' trophy, in the form of the ancient water jug, is a most artistic piece of work and is only an inch shorter than the senior cup.

T. O. N. MEETING

In the public library last night the Victorian Order of Nurses held their regular monthly meeting. Reports were presented and other minor business transacted.

It was decided to hold a tag day a week from next Saturday. These tag days are always successful and no doubt Bellevillians will give freely once again this year.

SMALL FIRE

A small fire broke out in the property of James Walsh, Dundas Street, this morning about 2 o'clock. The fire department was called and responded quickly, having little difficulty in extinguishing the blaze.

Social and Personals

Mrs. William T. Evans, wife of Police Constable Evans, 92 West Moira Street, underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils at the Belleville General Hospital today. Miss Marion Evans also underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils and adenoids. Both are resting easily this afternoon.

placing a heavy debt on the books, while now the County will not have to pay 20 per cent of the total cost.

Forest Preservation.

A letter was read from the Hon. Charles Stewart with regards to Forest Preservation. This letter showed that 50 per cent. of Canada's forest wealth had been destroyed by fire, 13 per cent. had been destroyed by the lumber and pulp companies, and the remaining 27 per cent. must be well guarded or we shall soon find ourselves without our forest resources.

Another letter contained an invitation to a banquet being given by the Eureka Lodge for the County Council members. This invitation was acted upon immediately and accepted. A resolution to send delegates and incidentals to attend to the annual convention, at Guelph of the Home for the Aged was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Permanent Roadway

When the Belleville-Dundas Roads Commission met a few days ago, it was decided that if the County would pave the road at the Seventh Corner in Tweed, they would pave from Corbyville to the Corners, a distance of one and one sixth miles. It was also decided to ask the Canadian Industrial Commission to the annual convention, at Guelph of the Home for the Aged was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Permanent Roadway

When the Belleville-Dundas Roads Commission met a few days ago, it was decided that if the County would pave the road at the Seventh Corner in Tweed, they would pave from Corbyville to the Corners, a distance of one and one sixth miles. It was also decided to ask the Canadian Industrial Commission to widen the road from the plant to the Railway crossing so that there would be enough room for a permanent road. This matter being quite important was left for further consideration.

After some discussion, a communication from the Red Cross Society was filed, the latter asking for financial assistance, but as the Council is already pledged to pay an ambulance, it was felt that that was all the Council could do this year at least.

R. W. Crosby, Ralph Forester at Tweed send a letter to the Council asking them to allow the Forestry Department to erect certain telephone lines through parts of Lake, Tudor and Limerick Townships to aid in the Forestry work. The Council dealt with this matter, but it was finally decided that owing to the trouble which has been had lately all over the country as regards the moving of poles when the roads were changed, that they were to go ahead but to have the stipulated 10 ft. increase in the poles were not to be removed without cost to the county if they ever interfered with a road which was being changed. The Council then adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

BOYS HAPPILY SITUATED HERE

Harold Soar of English Juvenile Employment Bureau Pays Visit

The Intelligencer was favored by a visit yesterday from Harold Soar, officer of juvenile employment for the North Eastern Division of England. This department is under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of Labor. Mr. Soar was accompanied by Mr. William Hemsley a representative of the British Immigration and Colonization Association Montreal. Mr Soar who is making his first visit to Canada arrived last week at Montreal in charge of a party of seventy-one boys aboard the Montclare. He is making a visit of inspection and has already visited scores of homes in this district where he found that the English boys were happy and peaceful in their new environment. They are also being adapted to the Canadian ways and customs and every one of them are making ideal citizens" stated Mr. Soar. Within the last year eighty or ninety boys have been placed in the County of Hastings, most of them on farms.

All of the boys who arrived last May days were placed by the British Immigration and Colonization Association the same day, mostly on farms in Ontario. "They are happy and well fed, are well settled, in good homes and are receiving real Canadian hospitality," he said.

Mr. Soar was very pleased with the work that has been undertaken by the Lindsay Rotary Club in connection with Boys' Work and especially among English immigrant lads. The Rotary Club have formed what is known as a "Big Brother Club." One of the members visit the boys, see that they are well cared for and thus help to eliminate any possibility of unhappiness.

Mr. Soar recruits boys for the overseas Dominions from Northern England and the boys on their arrival in Canada are taken to the B. I. C. A. Hostel, Montreal, where the application are handled and they are then despatched to their individual homes

One special instance mentioned by Mr. Soar was a lad who two months ago had been a bell-boy in a large London hotel and is now employed on a farming vocation on the farm of Mr. Chas. Rosbury, Tweed.

At Newcastle-on-Tyne all prospective immigrants are sent to a training school, where they are taught the rudiments of farming, carpentry and leather working. Eight hundred boys were brought to Canada by Mr. Soar's district in Northern England last year and ninety-five per cent. of them are happily settled.

Mr. Soar stated that the farmers put in their applications for a boy to him. "The boys themselves are responsible for the applications" he said "their behaviour when they arrive here has been to other farmers seeking boys from the same district."

When the boys leave the Montreal Hostel they are given a self-addressed envelope and an order to write immediately notify the Inspectors who visit their foster homes with the object of finding out any difficulties they may have acted. Mr. Soar is very delighted with his visit to this city. His first visit to Canada speaks highly of this great Dominion which he regards as the finest country for the young ambitious immigrant.

TRAINING YOUNG CRIMINALS HERE

Toronto.—Adoption of the Borstal system which is in use in England in connection with young criminal offenders, the first place of Borstal treatment used in Ontario, was advocated by Allen Harvey, District Governor of the Optimistic Clubs of Alberta, in an address here. It provides a training for young people who have reached years of reason of from one to three years at an institution conducted similarly to a boarding school, with classes and there are made up, concentrating on vocational education, with their own school colors, teachers and athletic sports. A headmaster is trained in the handling of boys and acts as friend and coach as an adviser and counsellor, and who in addition to obtaining the boys' confidence will act as a foster parent to them. At the end of the two-year detention, they are "graduated" and released on parole for the balance of the detention for them, and they have an individual mentor, to whom they report weekly.

SHORTENED BIBLE SOON BE PRINTED

London.—(By C.P.)—A shortened version of the Bible, edited, by Sir Arthur Quiller Couch, "Q", Regius Professor of English Literature, Cambridge University, and Sir F. H. Glover, classical lecturer, St. John's College, Cambridge is being produced by the Cambridge University Press, and the setting-up of the work is already well advanced. This new is an interesting pendant to the discussion on the advisability of a shorter Bible, started by the recent address of Dr. Francis Wrigley, chairman of the Congregational Union.

Three years ago, Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, Professor Nairne and Mr. Glover, edited for the Cambridge University Press a "Children's Bible" and a "Little Children's Bible", the sales of which have been more than 125,000. The "Children's Bible" was designed to meet the needs of the Cambridge Syllabus for Religious Teaching.

Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, who is famous as novelist and anthologist, is King Edward VII. Professor of Literature at Cambridge.

CRITICS DO NOT LIKE NEW PLAY

Drama Goes To Pieces Half Way Through Its Production

London.—(By C.P.)—"Queen Elizabeth", a new history play by W. G. Hole, was produced recently at the Everyman Theatre after it had been refused by most of London's theatre managers. E. A. Baughan, dramatic critic, writing of the play says: "Apart from the fact that it is a play for a star actress the production proved that Mr. Hole has his share of dramatic faults. The drama goes to pieces half way through. The execution of Mary Queen of Scots, Elizabeth's mortal struggle between her desire to remove the Queen of Scots from England and her horror of being called a murderess make a telling climax. Elizabeth herself is a fine part, but in the scope of the drama does not allow any full portrayal portraiture.

"The second half of the play is devoted to Elizabeth's infatuation for Leicester, but his character is poorly drawn. And several of the scenes especially the description of the assault by a drunken sailor, break the action and hold back the interest. The play is written in decent blankverse, but it is not at all distinguished and is often commonplace. The acting is good.

"Milton Rosmer has done wonders with the play, and I must commend the gradual fading out of the figure of Elizabeth at the end when she has left the death of Leicester. As to the acting, Nancy Price's Elizabeth had a good deal of power, but she was always Nancy Price. She was too intent on acting to be alive as Queen Elizabeth should be. Ursula Jeans's Mary was too light, and debonair and too young. Of the rest Mr. Dallas Bower's Walsingham's Burleigh was the most impressive."

The critic however, says the play is well worth seeing.

LISTEN TO SERVICE ON GRASS OUTSIDE

London, —(By C.P.)—Sitting in a deck-chair on the grass outside of Hoxton Church, and listening to the sermon through the agency of a microphone and loud speaking apparatus, how hundreds of Londoners are attending service on fine Sunday evenings this summer on the borders of the pretty Regent's Canal.

Christ Church, Cockfosters is a mile or two beyond the endless brick and mortar of North London. It is reached by Hadley Woods, to which the people from the suburbs flock every Sunday afternoon. The Vicar of Christ Church, the Rev. Cecil Hallett, has provided for the overflow of the congregation of Evensong by placing deck-chairs under the trees outside the church and installing loud speakers.

"Bulky evenings will no longer offer excuse for any of the congregation not to attend," says the Vicar. "Only the poor pleasure and occasional restless in the church. The congregation can pick chairs to suit every whim, they listen to the sermon or join in the singing."

MRS. GEORGE ROSEVEAR

The death occurred on Sunday, June 3rd, of an old and respected citizen of Camilton in the person of Mrs. Geo. Rosevear. The sudden passing caused a great shock of surprise and grief in the vicinity.

The funeral took place from her late residence on Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended by her many friends and relatives.

The service was conducted by Rev. Jas. MacMillan, of Belleville, a friend of the deceased, and was ably assisted by Rev. Enos Farnsworth, Camilton.

Following the impressive discourse, very appropriate music, entitled "Looking Beyond" was sung by Mrs., John Bush of Camilton, and Mr. J. Ed. Delworey, of Belleville.

The many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held:—

She leaves to mourn her loss, three sons, George, Camilton, Wesley, Camilton and Mrs. Beckett, Camilton.

The following were bearers:—Henry Parmum, Wm. Reynolds, Arthur Hollingsworth, Wm. Reynolds, Arthur Mullen, Wm. Reynolds, Arthur Mullen, and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lennon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helm, Mr. and Mrs. J. Downey and family; Mr. and Mrs. F. Wyman.

RECORD AT SCHOOL NOT A SAFE GUIDE

By DR. LOUIS E. RISCH,
Resident Psychologist.

Men and women who have achieved superior success are frequently those who have done very poorly at school. This fact does not quite agree with prevailing notions.

One assumes that the child who gets a high record average in school studies will probably strike it high mark in the battle of life.

Contrariwise, that the child who is poor in his studies will make a failure of his later life.

Nevertheless, some business men who are unusually capable, at figures will admit that arithmetic and mathematics are their hardest subject to master at school. They found them unbelievably. They were often "fumbled."

Sometimes, too, a child shows little imagination in school, such as in drawing, yet, later on, that same child will blossom forth and display marked originality of thought.

Again, the average teacher will surely not paint a bright future for a truant. Yet many truants have made their mark in the world and left the teachers who complained of them far behind.

Nor need cob really become alarmed over an unruly or disobedient child. Parents should not worry if an otherwise intelligent youngster, 7ets over, or rebels against, his lessons. Indeed, there is no cause for alarm when a child fails in a subject or two, or fails of promotion with his class.

As a matter of fact, and studied from a psychological viewpoint, disinterest or resistance to studies may indicate not a bad quality but a good one. It may indicate nothing more serious than the very natural rebellion of a gifted child.

The superior child is not one whom you can readily fashion after a pattern that fits the average. The inherent potentials of a superior mind are such that they tend to develop along original lines.

Great men are above all individualists. Napoleon and Bismarck individualized does not suddenly spring into being— it gradually develops from childhood.

Unruly, disobedient or truant children also may be what they are, not because they are defective in some way, but because they possess a type of mind that does not fit in with the usual.

However, although a superior individual may once have been a truant, or backward, it does not follow that truants or backward children will always be superior individuals. The point is that the children I speak of have different and these differences must be studied.

There may be something radically wrong with the child. On the other hand, the child's differences from the average may be worth while fostering.

All this emphasizes, of course, the value of the school and specialized studies of the school child.

Every school should have a psychologist to do the work. Then, and then only, can the pupil's various potentialities and gifts be given the proper attention so that the mind may develop on the whole, and not a unit, in the most efficient manner possible.

KNOW THE JOY OF BRIGHT WATERS AND MARRY LAURA

'The Indians coming upon a chain of gleaming, shimmering lakes about ninety miles east of Toronto, named them 'Kawartha'—the waters and happy lands.

It is many years since the Indians gave the name 'Kawartha' to these lakes; yet today vacationists find it the source of many happy hours in the many resorts scattered along the shores.

If you are an ardent fisherman, cast your line in the larger lakes for bass and muskinonge. All the smaller and speckled trout provide good sport.

At any of the many good summer hotels there is every facility for canoeing, motor-boating, bathing, tennis, golf and all the other out-of-door recreations.

Illustrated folders with full information and map of 'Kawartha Lakes' will be gladly given you by any Canadian National Railways Agent.

ADVERTISERS ATTENTION!

To insure insertion of advertisements on the day desired, copy must henceforth be in this office by five o'clock of the afternoon previous to the day of insertion of the advertisement.

It has been found absolutely necessary to make this ruling, both in the interest of the advertiser and the paper. With considerable copy reaching the office on the day of insertion, as has been the case in the past, it is impossible to give advertisers the kind of service we strive for; so in fairness to all, advertisers are urgently requested, in their own interest, to bear in mind that in the future, copy must be in previous to the day of insertion.

Crisp Taffeta In Youthful Vein

THE exhilarating and uplifting sensation that reerect, smartly tailored clothes give is experienced by Phyllis on this night of her May fiance. Any sense of inferiority that she may have had at various times in new throat suits and evening frocks is strong feeling of confidence and well-being. Cooly and calm she awaits her guests in her crisp taffeta frock whose bouffe hem peeps out daintily and graceful, the slimness of her figure is accentuated by the surprising closing of the tight bodice and the flattering silhouette of the bouffant skirt. Longer in back than in front the hem crosses the skirt diagonally and is joined at the bodice by a jetted bow and two taffeta flowers. Made in two shades of a pastel color as in contrasting black and white effects as above, this frock has a fairy-like charm which will assure its wearer many delightful evenings.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl, 18 years old, and have a lot of friends, both boys and girls. Lately I have been going out with several times and every time I see him he is watching me. He spoke to me on the street one night when I was alone, but I never answered him. Did I do right? I would like to get acquainted with him as I think he is real nice. Is it proper for a young girl or a young man to speak unless they are introduced? What would you suggest that I do? FAIL.

FAIL: Very assuredly did right, Fail, and it is by all means considered unconventional to speak to a man you do not know. Unless you can get some mutual friend to furnish an introduction I'm afraid you must put his thoughts of this young man out of your head.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

THE GAY ADVENTURER.

Celia couldn't believe that she had heard aright. Falconer's voice was so light, so gay, so cool. There was no menace whatever in his manner as he spoke those incongruous words.

She stammered: "I don't believe I understand."

He smiled at her and shrugged. "It's quite simple my dear Celia."

"How dare you call me Celia?" she snapped.

"It is usual for a husband to call his wife by her first name," he answered, severely.

She turned away from him sharply. "What was his game? Was he merely baiting her, for his own satisfaction? Perhaps he was angry that she was in possession of his uncle's fortune.

She said, after a moment, ironically: "I trust you are enjoying this little comedy you have tried, since the ride from New York."—I must ask you to excuse me this evening."

He regarded softly: "Ah, that is better. Much better than ordering me from the house . . . I fear you have a quick temper, Celia. Such a pity—in a woman so pretty and charming."

She turned on him furiously. "What is the point of all this? What are you trying to say to me?"

"I repeat, that it is simple, my dear girl . . . You have, for reasons of your own, deceived a charming little artist. Longer in back than in front the hem crosses the skirt diagonally and is joined at the bodice by a jetted bow and two taffeta flowers. Made in two shades of a pastel color as in contrasting black and white effects as above, this frock has a fairy-like charm which will assure its wearer many delightful evenings.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl, 18 years old, and have a lot of friends, both boys and girls. Lately I have been going out with several times and every time I see him he is watching me.' He spoke to me on the street one night when I was alone, but I never answered him. Did I do right? I would like to get acquainted with him as I think he is real nice. Is it proper for a young girl or a young man to speak unless they are introduced? What would you suggest that I do? FAIL.

FAIL: Very assuredly did right, Fail, and it is by all means considered unconventional to speak to a man you do not know. Unless you can get some mutual friend to furnish an introduction I'm afraid you must put his thoughts of this young man out of your head.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Fine linen collars, simple to the point of severity, are being worn in Paris with the most elaborate of afternoon gowns.

Miss Poppy Baring, a favorite dance partner to Prince George, is about to open a lingerie shop in London and will import the wonderful 'Lalique' beads in Paris for the beautiful Lady Abdy, a Russia, who has the reputation of being perfectly dressed.

Black opals are the newest fashion in London, where society women are buying thousands of pounds worth, and big consignments of them are being dispatched under guard to the States at prices which have trebled since the boom began.

London brides and bridegrooms are complaining that they receive such an immense number of wedding presents in plate that they hardly know what to do with them, and simply pine for the good old days of gifts of silver plate.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Grilled Shad With Sorrel.

The Indian way of grilling on a thin pine plank may be useful for camping and week-end cottagers, but shad may also be grilled by splitting, cleaning, dipping it in milk, then in fine oatmeal, and frying it in a little fat in a pan over the fire. A better still grilling is on the grille under the gas, or in a hot oven, in which latter case basting it occasionally. If too large for the frying pan it may be cut in pieces about four inches square.

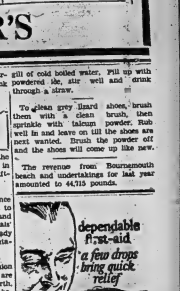

It is excellent garnished with creamed sorrel and slices of lemon, and is improved by being sprinkled with a little finely chopped fresh parsley.

Egg Lemonade.

Egg lemonade is not only a very refreshing drink, but it is nourishing, and will please the guest who is hungry as well as thirsty. Beat up an egg with a dessertspoon of castor sugar until it is light; beat in gradually the juice of a small lemon, strain into a tumbler and add a shinly peeled strip of lemon rind and half a glass of cold boiled water. Fill up with powdered ice, stir well and drink through a straw.

To clean grey linard shoes, brush them with a clean brush, then sprinkle with bicarb powder. Rub in well and leave on till the shoes are next wanted. Brush the powder off and the shoes will come up like new.

The revenue from Bournemouth beach and buildings for last year amounted to 44,715 pounds.

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH TO DO HER WORK

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. John, New Brunswick.—"I was run-down from a pain in my back and my left leg bothered me so sometimes that I was unable to do my work. I saw your ad in the newspapers and decided to give your medicine a trial. I have taken over seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now relieved of this suffering. I am a farmer's wife and have three children. I tell all my friends of your Vegetable Compound and I am sure that when it helps me it will help them. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about the benefit of your medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR SHARP, 1 Hazen Street Extension, St. John, New Brunswick.

KIWANIS CLUB PRESENTED GENIAL HOST TOM POWER WITH GOLD RING

R. J. Graham Painted Vivid Picture of African Country

Kiwanis turned out one hundred per cent. strong yesterday for their weekly meeting, transferred for the occasion to the dining room of the beautiful Country Club. The members were the guests of genial Tom Power, and the luncheon, musical entertainment, and an interesting address by Mr. R. J. Graham together combined to form an enjoyable a meeting as Kiwanis has held this year.

The Club members today took the opportunity of expressing in tangible form their appreciation to Tom Power for his whole-hearted cooperation with the Club in all its activities during the several years the genial host has been Kiwanis headquarters in Belleville. Playing host to Kiwanis today was but one instance of many of a similar nature indicative of Tents interest in Kiwanis and its work. On behalf of the Club, secretary George Griffin presented the host with a handsome Kiwanis gold ring. In replying Mr. Power expressed his pleasure at being privileged to help Kiwanism in every way possible.

Mr. R. J. Graham, an ever welcome speaker at Kiwanis, carried the listeners in imagination to the Union of South Africa, and painted a vivid word picture of the country, its people, and then activities. One of a delegation of British Empire Chamber of Commerce representatives, it was the speakers pleasure to be entertained for several weeks first in Capetown, then later throughout the country and various cities surrounding.

The gold mines of Johannesburg, the greatest gold producers in the world, with cheap colored labor, vamping out on only about four dollars in gold from every ton of their low grade ore, obtained from a depth of possibly seven thousand feet; the diamond mines of Kimberly and Pretoria; a picture of a fully unproductive country which while diligently pastured its sheep which produced the best wool in the world; ostriches turned loose— or driven to the wall by the demand for their feathers has ceased to exist; these were but a few of the many interesting things which Mr. Graham graphically described to his listeners. Returning to Canada, Mr. Graham was more than ever impressed with the fact that our own Canada and Ontario especially is the greatest country of them all. Enjoyable vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Dr. Biddle together with a duet by Messrs Bankier and Rickard.

MRS. EBER WEEKS ON FRIENDSHIP

Splendid Paper Is Read At Recent Ladies' Guild Meeting

At the birthday tea and Guild meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Jones, the following paper on 'Friendship', was given by Mrs. Eber Weeks.

There are two possessions which every man must secure if he is to be happy in life. The domestic love which surrounds him at Home, and the friendship which shelters him outside.

The time for making friendship is the early part of life, (school and college days.) But none of us travel far in life. Certainly no: farther than manhood or womanhood, before we begin to realize that denim is rubbing on all our friends, perhaps the ones which leave us first are the ones we feel are the nearest and dearest to us and sometimes feel they can never be replaced and then we recognize that in less ye repair these losses before we grow old we may be left with few friends to make our last few years pleasant, this is one of the tragical facts of life. A friend established in one day if one does right makes new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will find himself left alone. One should keep his friendships in constant repair by one means do without friends. Either in sickness or health the value of true friendship cannot be told too highly, let each one of us ask our selves these two questions: Who is there that does not value true friendship especially in the time of trouble? and, who is there that does not enjoy true friends in health? The answer will be no one for true friendship means happiness and when we all learn the secret of friendship.

One lesson let us bear in mind.
Be very gentle with our own;
Be to their faults a little blind,
Nor wound them by a look or tone.
Put self behind, turn tender eyes,
Keep back the words that hurt and sting.

We learn when sorrow makes us wise,
Forbearance is the grandest thing.
Be patient, for some day we turn
Our eyes tin dear ones fast asleep,
And whisper as we learn and yearn,

"How often I have made you weep!"
"Some loved you not, and words let fall,
That must have pierced your gentle heart.

But I who loved you best of all,
Did turn you more than all the rest."
Our lesson let us bear in mind

Since loyal hearts are hard to find,
And life so soon is past.

Instead of some of the doggeral that fills some of the pages of our lives why not think of this little poem. Let dogs delight to bark and bite ending with them little hands were never made to scratch each others eyes. Oh life is so short and we waste so much time of it making other people unhappy, why then not take that time so misspent and turn it (to things that count as the children play about our door and the funniest little fellow is a little four-year-old who is always ready to share his candy or toys with the others and we grown up children fancy that happiness consists of getting rather than giving. Blessed is he who has the art of making friends, was written long ago and is one of the statements true for all time. Some one asked where are we to get material for friends to this day and age. But it can be found though one cannot make a friend out of one always ready to stab in the back, one does not make enemies of them. No, they are enemies of the soul and need friends. There are those that are more polished and others again have a different way of pretending they are your friends and at the same time are your worst foes and only wait to see wrong you; a false friend is like one who poisons the food he so smilingly offers you, and then goes away smiling as well as people it is to be feared with them one can maintain an armor of neutrality but if kindness be not protection enough we must suffer for there is nothing more powerful than jealousy cruel as the grave has murdered many individual friendship, has destroyed many a home, has caused many a war. Nations have yet to learn that there is nothing so kingly as kindess that is why it is wise to cultivate the ability to forget as well as be inflicted and keep far enough away from the offender to prevent another attack.

Life is so short, too fast of possibilities of service to waste time quarreling or casting stones before either. Nothing is ever gained by hurting other people's feelings needlessly. But some excuse for their own good it is necessary, our best friends are our most candid ones. Our biggest souls can only be depended on to tell us the plain truth about ourselves all be it flatter-ing or otherwise. It is one of the most annoying at times when they upset our pet ways and we have to make explanation to the other friends who will only say practice thinns to us. But deep down in our hearts don't we admire and love the out-spoken best, of course because they love us and they care enough for us to lend a helping hand in digging up our faults and failings unworthy of us instead of covering them up from our view.

Making Friends.

How many of our members know of the inspiration to be gained and the good will fostered by being friendly with the people we meet as opportunity offers, it is true we may never meet again, but there is always a pleasant memory to cherish which means a great deal, this world is full of splendid souls and the more we come to be sure of this the more life seems worth the living. Looking back we wonder if people know how much they have to be thankful for by being friendly. I feel that I am not half grateful enough for it all. So a good thing to discover the gold of pure friendship, again to hear that is a wonderful world and I am glad to be alive and enjoy it.

He added not what he could get but what he could give, he tried to make the world a little better and a little happier, he was always looking for a chance to say a kind word or two, to do a kind act, relieve sorrow or loneliness or lift a fallen comrade, dry the tears that flowed so freely and to help those who were sad at heart to smile again. These are some of the things that count.—

Not what we have, but what we use,
Not what we see, but what we choose,
These are the things that mar or bless
The sum of human happiness.

The things nearby, not things afar,
Not what we seem, but what we are—
For life is not in mirrors of fame
Nor in the heart its joy or ache,
But what seems fair but what is true,
Not what we dream, but the good we do—

These are the things that shine like gems,
Like stars in fortune's diadems.

Not as we take, but as we give,
Not as we pray, but as we live—
These are the things that make for peace.

Both now, and after time shall cease.
Friendship (the wine of life) cannot be like a well stocked cellar continually renewed, although we can seldom add what will equal the generous first growths of our youth are the ones which seem nearest and dearest to us all through life and as we grow older and our friends die our youth have passed on, and we make new friends which are very dear, yet friendship of youth can never be replaced, and although our early friendships the products of the first crush of grapes can never be reproduced, later one matures comparatively as quickly and in not many years prove both pleasant and mellow. The very best investment any young person can make is just the fact that each day we live our very best, doing every day all we can to make for the future as well as the present everything that is worth while—good deeds to make someone else happy as well as living the best we know how, with a little laid up for the future and we get a broad selection from living the worth while life.

BELLE THEATRE

"The Flag Lieutenant' is a picture par excellence, a superb production full of the very spirit of the British Navy at peace and in war. For the assistance of the British Navy was granted in no grudging measure. Battleships, destroyers, seaplanes, seamen, marines—all were placed wholeheartedly at the disposal of Admiral Beatty, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Fleet, when the Admiralty decided to make the film. Mr. Herbert Brenon, the director, was given the run of the Navy, and the result is a picture which exists in the whole of the Navy personnel animated officers and men, and each and every one of them set out to show their fellow countrymen that a proper naval romance can be made only in British waters and with the full aid of the British Navy. No take second-rate sea ever calmly for such a production.

Produced on a gigantic scale with an all star cast headed by Henry Edwards in the title role with thousands and thousands of others. Tomorrow, one day only, at the Belle.

REGENT THEATRE

A black dot on the horizon—The silhouette of man and horse—And the fearful word flashed round that "The Riding Horsemen" had arrived. None knew his name or his purpose, but all knew the terrible justice his fury dispensed—A cattle thief, a cloud of dust and he was away to cheer the oppressed and strike fear into the hearts of the oppressors! Tomorrow at the Regent.

GAS FUMES NEARLY TOOK MAN'S LIFE

Odessa, June 12.—The condition of W. H. Hollister, manager of the Odessa branch of the Royal Bank, is slowly improving, but he is not yet out of danger. He was overcome as a result of an accident last week when he was nearly asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas when he was trying to fix a leak in the exhaust of his automobile.

The doors of the garage were open but the wind apparently held the gas inside of the garage. Mr. Holmes was leaning over close to the engine, and it he had not been noticed when he was, there is a likelihood that the accident would have proved fatal.

HEAVY HITTING IN KI-Y LOOP

Ravens Defeat Sikhs And Maple Leafs Trounce Wolves

Two Juniors, one Midget and two Juvenile games were played in the KI-Y Circuit last night. In the Bantam group Cardinals and St. Michaels were the winners the former scoring 8-5 in the expense of the Beavers 18-8 and St. Michaels bested the Gold ish Bantams to the tune of 12-10. Nationals were the winners of the Midget fixture played with Coleman Plate after a closely contested game which ended up with the score of 12-9.

Ravens added another win to their credit at the expense of the Sikhs scoring 14 runs to the Sikhs' 4 counters. In the other Juvenile game Maple Leafs administered a bad beating to the Wolves, the latter being able to tally only one circuit trip while the Leafs were clouting the baseballs to the extent of ten runs. These two fixtures are the initial games of the second half of the season and under special arrangement to which all teams have consented, the winners of the first half will be pitted against the winners of the second, half in a two out of three series to decide the championship. This special arrangement was arrived at yesterday afternoon following a conference with the managers of the teams and the secretary of the league and it is hoped that the protest lodged against the Maple Leafs by the Sikhs, for the use of a player who had played in all games of the first half, intended to put their team who was over the Maple Leafs in top form, becomes moot but if successful in winning the second half they will still have a fair chance of winning the championship.

Thursday evening the scheduled games for the Juveniles will be played and in addition to the postponed game on June 5th because of rain, will be played off the Bantams and Midgets. These games were as follows:

Beavers at Golden Bantams.
Cardinals at St. Michaels.
Royals at Coleman Plate.

When these games have been played off the Bantams will be able to declare a winner but in the Midget "A" and "B" group winners will have to play off to decide the championship.

HANKINS BADLY BEATEN BY KEYS

Reading, June 13.—Bombarding Don Hankins for fifteen hits, of which ten went for extra bases, the Reading Keystones crushed the Toronto leaders in the final game of the series here yesterday by a score of 7 to 1. Quellich his his third home run in two days, while Pete Fowler held the Leafs to six hits.

Jersey City, June 13.—Montreal defeated Jersey City 4-1 yesterday in the final contest of a five-game series. The Royals thus gained the edge on the series, three games to two. They have defeated the Skeeters seven games in twelve starts this season.

Baltimore, June 13.—The Orioles and the Bisons divided a double bill here yesterday afternoon, each team taking the first game, 4-3, and the visitors capturing the afternoon second contest, 8-3. Elliott, of Buffalo, hit for the circuit once in each game, bunded collected six hits in three trips to the plate.

Newark, June 13.—Newark and Rochester split a doubleheader here, the Red Wings taking the first tilt, 6-5, and the Hawks winning the twilight affair shortened to seven innings by agreement, 8-4.

With the Olympic trials scheduled this week, bicycle racing was never keener than at present. The colt-timers are not having things their own way, for by many wheel lengths, and the above pair of youngsters have been prominent. They are: Art Best, left, and Russell Hunt, a strong contender, as are Torchy Pelan of Victoria, B.C., winner of the Washington state 10 mile championship and the best, long distance rider in the west, Jim Davies, Don Sutherland of Vancouver, and Stan Jackson of Victoria; Davies who holds two Dominion championships, has held every British Columbia and Washington state title and is an all-round athlete of note. Sutherland is a former British Columbia champion, while Jackson has beaten Pelan and Davies on several occasions.

SportOgramS By "The Observer"

The Nationals will play in Kingston this afternoon and a win for Walter Gerver's club will help a whole lot. The pilot was undecided as to who would pitch the game but "Hoot" Gibson will. They get the call over the others as his record during the present season has been the best of the lot. Jeffery ran into a heap of tough luck last week in the Limestone City and should have won his game. It's been many a moon since the Nationals managed to win a game in Kingston but they hope this afternoon to break the jinx that has been following them for some time.

Jamieson pitched a great game against the Deloro team and he may be handed the assignment by Joe Daley. On the other hand Van Young always had the locals pretty well baffled and may line he was in the points and he may go to the hillock this afternoon.

Oshawa are sitting on top of the Central League with a brilliant record but still they are only a game in front of the other teams and they cannot afford to drop any games. The Motor City crew have been extremely lucky in several of their starts but the Nationals are out to win the Central League and will give the others a smart battle before the league is completed.

Peterboro have a tough row to hoe with four games within three days. Today they play a double-header in Deloro, on Friday night they have been ordered to play in Kingston, while on Saturday the Petes will be in the Lift-Lock City for a return. This latter two games will be watched with interest as different rivalry exists between these two following the recent refusal of the Peterboro Club to play in Kingston.

The Kingston team have asserted their willingness to play in Peterboro on the grounds that the Petes play there at home.

Many golfers were afforded an opportunity this afternoon of seeing in action two of the finest players in the golf realm in the persons of Miss Ada McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington. The Country Club swarmed with followers of the mutter and putter game for this exhibition.

These Ki-Y soft ball games are hard-fought affairs and the team that wins will justly deserve the laurels. The writer is one of those who has been handed the privilege of umpiring some of the games and it isn't the best job in the world by any means.

The youngsters take the games seriously and the result of each is only decided after a grim struggle These lads are the coming ball players who will fill the shoes of those who will pass on and it is a fine work that the Rivanni Club and the Y. M. C. A. officials are doing.

Joe Shorti and Ralph Morden are supervising the league and there has been few complaints registered on their work.

The soccer games are drawing fine crowds and splendid turn-outs have featured each exhibition to date. The game is being placed back on the map in Belleville after the absence of some years and everyone is attending the efforts of those who are assisting.

We hear that the round Ernie Rowsome of the Belleville "Nationals" lost a lot of weight on June 4. Too bad, Ernie, and just when it seemed to be in the old Bat Rag! But these Pexies have a terrible kick! ! —Oshawa Times.

Sir Richard Cooper has given 6,650 pounds to Lichfield to assist in making arterial roads.

GIANTS SUBDUE CINCINNATI 10-1

Rube Benton Pitching Marvellous Ball For Clan McGraw

New York, June 13.—The Giants hit hard behind Rube Benton's good pitching here yesterday and easily subdued the Cincinnati Reds, in the third game of the series 10-1. It was Benton's tenth victory in twelve games, all of which he completed, for a run of 110 innings without relief.

After bowing lamely before Charley Root for five innings at Brooklyn, the Robins turned loose a barrage of base hits which started them on the way to a 13-1 victory and an even count in the series to date. It was also Brooklyn's first victory of the season over Chicago.

Brooklyn crowded fifteen hits into the last three innings, including Del Bissonette's twelfth home run of the season and Tom Elliott's first. Bissonette had a perfect day at bat with a walk, a single and two doubles in addition to his homer. He drove in five runs, and remained in a tie for National League home run honors with Rogers Hornsby, who hit a circuit blow at Boston.

Pittsburgh crushed the Phillies under an avalanche of hits and evened up the Philadelphia series by winning 15-4. Miller, McGraw and Wilkinson collected three hits by each of the Corsairs. Ray Kremer allowed the Phillies only five hits, two of which were home runs by Leach and Hurst.

With two home runs and a double, Jim Bottomley led the St. Louis attack as the Cardinals won the second game of the Boston series from the Braves 9-2. St. Louis now has won 10 games out of 13 on their present road trip and is one game behind the pallies only five hits, two of the Cardinals made a total of 24 bases. Cooney relieved R. Smith in the seventh and stopped the visitors' scoring. Roetter and Hornsby also drove out home runs.

Victor Sorrell, Detroits new pitcher, who is proving one of the rarest sensations of the American League race. On Sunday he turned in a brilliant game against Philadelphia. Which Sorrell is good he is unbeatable.

JOSH CRAIG TO MANAGE PETES

Peterboro, June 13.—At a meeting of the officers and players of the Peterboro ball club held in the Belmont club rooms last night, Tommy Holyman asked to be relieved of the duties of manager of the Petes inasmuch as he was finding it impossible to give the position the time and attention he felt it deserved.

In view of this request it was decided that the club should be handled in future under the direction of Ray Rose, as captain, and F. D. Craig, as manager.

The players all agreed to get into real shape and go after the central league honors with determination. The feeling was unanimous that the Petes could turn the trick and members of the team will give their best to put the local colors in front.

YANKS DEVELOP HITTING SPREE

Ruth And Gehrig Contribute Honors As White Sox Beaten

Chicago, June 13.— "It's a funny thing about them Yanks," said Elmer Higginbotham, the baseball trainer, after yesterday's game. "You think you got them on the run, and then all of a sudden you ain't got them on the run. Next 'em a couple of times and get them near and then look out." They defeated the locals 15-7.

At mere stages, this looked like one of those games between the Freeport Elks and the Jonestown Shriners, where the Ladies' Aid Society made sandwiches and coffee for the players, and the big feature came when Cy Smith fell down between second and third and broke his suspenders.

The Yanks put together seventeen hits which were good for thirty-nine bases, five homers, three triples, one double and eight singles.

Bob Reeves' triple off Baynie in the ninth inning scored Judge with the run that gave Washington a 3-2 victory at Cleveland and postponed Cleveland's losing streak to seven games. Baynie started the final in place of Lee who had weakened nine batters.

Lloyd Waner outpitched Owen Carroll and the Philadelphia Athletics took the third game of the series at Detroit, 2-1. With a single to centre, Jimmy Foxx drove in Cochrane with the winning run in the eighth after Marty McRyan had tied the score in the sixth with a home run which scored Poberejewski ahead of him.

Allowing the Browns only seven hits while his teammates were collecting an even dozen off Sam St. Louis hurler, youthful Morris, Red Sox rookie, emerged with a 5-2 victory at St. Louis.

A homer by Dykstra in the third, driving McNeely in ahead of him, brought the Brewers' tallies. Rothrock's homer in the sixth routed Blaeholder.

HOW YOU PROFIT

Whenever you buy Cities Service oils and gasolene, think of this unique situation:

You're buying from a producer which not only controls every step in production and distribution from oil wells through refineries to service station, but which also is its own best customer.

Cities Service is a diversified organization—its utilities division, serving millions in 17 states and in Canada, uses large quantities of Cities Service oils and gasolene. This fact insures rare quality.

These super-products of Cities Service are available to the public—millions of dollars have been invested in perfecting its petrol ing gasolene and oil to meet the strictest specifications of our utility companies.

No finer gasolene and oils are obtainable at any price. You are getting identical products used by one of the 12 largest industrial organizations in America.

For quick starting—longer life for your motor—Cities Service gasolene has proved its superiority. Instant ignition at the touch of the starter!

A THRILLING SUMMER TOUR

Through 1,500 Lakes and Virgin Forest Without a Guide.

Algonquin Park, in the Highlands of Ontario, is the ideal spot for a roving holiday. Some 3,000 feet above sea level, its cool pine scented air and fresh invigorating breezes bring new life and health to nerve-worn people.

You may paddle or hike almost anywhere throughout the park without a guide. The fishing—speckled trout, lake trout and small-mouthed bass —can hardly be bettered.

The Park, with its glorious pine woods, rocky hills, sparkling lakes and rivers, is a veritable Eden for those who like a "do-nut" holiday. Every mile of its three thousand square miles is interesting and beautiful.

BELLEVILLE SECURE EARLY LEAD AND DEFEAT KINGSTON EASILY

Van Young, 'Locals' Jinx, Is Hit Hard And Often

CHASING OSHAWA

Vern Weir And Wicky Ross Supply Chief Fielding Features

(Special to The Intelligencer.)

Kingston, June 14.—A big first inning when five stealing hits, chalked up four runs, practically won the game for Belleville here last night, and they finished up with the long end of the 8 to 3 score in the scheduled C. O. B. I. game. Belleville won the game when their proverbial jinx Van Young had nothing but a prayer, and even at that, wasn't up much in his praying, as he was pounded hard and was about to be pulled from the box when Green ended the frame by trying to stretch a double into a triple.

Belleville held the upper hand throughout, though Kingston was close enough to gather a flock of runs. The Nationals got good pitching in the pinches from "Moon" Gibson, who, while touched up rather freely was tight when hits meant runs. On the other hand Young was no puncie and Smith was popped effectively in spots, however, Belleville had the game cinched anyway. The Nationals lost little time in getting into the score column. Weir started a hot single through third. Ross, filed to Ada, but H. Mills dropped a short single into left, W. Mills then scored Weir with a drive to centre for two sacks. Blakely was thrown out by Britton, Scott, however, drove in two runs with a double and Green followed suit scoring Scott and being nipped by a hair at third.

Blakely's Free-Swinger

Belleville made it 5 to 0 in the fourth on a walk and two errors, while Kingston were only able to gather three runs in three innings, hitting by George Ada being responsible for the fifth with one out. H. Mills walked, W. Mills rolled to Elliott, but Blakely drove out a terrific smash to left for three sacks scoring H. Mills. Blakely himself counted when Scott singled. In the seventh the Nationals got their last run. Ross pulled a walk, stole second and then scored on a wild pitch. Some cross catching featured the game. Weir's work at second and Ross catching in centre standing out. One of Weir's catches was an almost impossible one, while Ross had four difficult chances which he took care of. Ada, of Kingston, was the hitting star, connecting with three solid hits, two of them on the first pitch. Del Cherry aiffr going to the bat the last on times without a hit, finally came through in the sixth when he singled to left the ball dropping in front of Hagerman who was playing deep.

PETES DISPOSED OF DELORO 12-5

Second Game of Double Header Was Called On Account of Rain

Fred Craig, the newly-appointed manager of the Senior Petes made an auspicious start when his boys went into Deloro and took the first game of a double-header yesterday afternoon by a score of 12-5. The second half of the double bill was called on account of rain in the last half of the fourth with the teams tied 2-2.

In the first game the Petes would not be denied, they donned their hitting togs and proceeded to knock the spots off the three hurlers that Manager John Heenphill introduced. The Petes batted all three pitchers and left no room for doubt as to who was the best team on the afternoon's play. Jeff Hardill who recently pitched a two-hit game in Peterboro was in the points with Max Swanzer in the opening game and he held the Deloro team well in check. Woods started for the Smelters, lasted until the fifth inning when he was replaced by Frank Leal who hurled but one inning and Vaughan also finished the pastime. The latter was the most effective.

Hardill pitched a splendid game and backed up by the Pete's vociferous hitting he had no trouble in registering the route. Alex Kay and Ben Kerr umpired.

The second half of the bargain day affair had proceeded but four innings when Jupiter Pluvius turned on the taps and sent the boys scurrying for cover. Heckman was pitching for the visitors and fifteen of the Ball fame was doing the mound work for the Deloro Club. The game will be replayed at a later date.

Belleville's victory over the Kingston team yesterday means that the Nationals are half a game behind Oshawa, who are league leaders and the Nationals are right on edge to go in and bring the gonfalon home after the splendid work they have been playing better ball than any other team in the league and their boosts should ordinarily have resulted in victories. Walter Gerow has a smart ball club, make no mistake about it, and if the locals win, they should go through to the Ontario championship.

With an additional two weeks in which to decide a winner the championship of the Central League will likely be pitted against the Toronto champs.

Gibson pitched masterful ball yesterday and is undoubtedly toe ace of the pack. Utzschi will turn in plenty of good games and with these two, in form the Railroaders will be in the fight all the way.

Jeffery had no license whatever, to lose the only game when he pitched and the umpires is a reliable starter any time.

Belleville fans are behind the Nats to a man and in their next home stand they will no doubt play to a packed house.

"Josh" Craig has been appointed Manager of the Senior Petes. "Josh" is Editor pf the Petrboro Examiner, covers the major sporta events and is an all-round good fellow. He is incidentally, the best scorer in the Central Ontario League and his judgment on a play is never questioned, with his years of valuable assistance.

Fred Craig knows the ball game from A to Z and while succe'ed Tommy Holtman when the Petes are in the red he will no doubt boost their stock considerably. He is popular with the players, as will as the fans and league officials and while we are with Belleville first, last and all the time, we cannot help but admire Mr. Craig's courage in taking charge of the Petes when they are in the rut. May success attend his efforts.

Tommy Holyman felt he was unsuited to the job and after the Petes had got away to an unsuccessful start he was not slow in informing the officials that he desired to relinquish the role.

Yesterday's victory for the Nationals will no doubt be received with dismay in Oshawa as the Motor City clan had ambitions of a League championship with a hand-picked crew. Belleville, with a team of hardy veterans and untried youngster will be a thorn on the side of the Oshawa team right to the wire.

The Petes will play in Kingston on Friday night and it is bound to be a battle royal. There is little love lost between either of these teams following the fiasco a few weeks ago. According to the Whig-Standard scribe town will be a lad time in the Limestone City when Mr. Craig's laddies blow into town.

The Kingston team will undoubtedly receive the same cool reception when they return to Peterboro on SHurday.

Jeff Hardill allowed Oshawa but two hits last Saturday and yet the home team lost. Tough on Hardill. The boy is one of the aces of the Central League, for whom a great future in baseball has been frequently predicted.

"Penny" Mills is leading the Belleville hitters with a smart average. The big boy can still lead the young'er bloods when it comes to laying on the hickory. Mills has been pounding the spiders at a tremendous rate and that's one of the chief reasons that Belleville is chasing Oshawa for the leadership.

The Kingston Frontes are in the midst of a hard drive to get into contending position, as their two wins in last two starts indicate that they are hitting their stride, and are going to be a hard nut for any man's team to bump off. And what a Manager Rev they have in Buck, "Judy" Britton, "Del" Cherry, and Cecil Ada—anything can happen, anything, with these sluggers in action.—Oshawa Times.

Ken. Colling says that the Deloro Smelters is a real team, and is going to be awfully hard to keep down. So it looks like a real game will be on tap for next Saturday afternoon, when their book-up with the League leaders at Alexandra Park.—Oshawa Times.

TRAVEL BY CANADA'S FAMOUS TRAIN

Wending its way from coast to coast the crack train of the Canadian Pacific Railway the "Trans-Canada", pioneer of de luxe trains in the Dominion, has now entered on its tenth summer schedule. This noted "Flyer," which leaves from both Toronto and Montreal for the run to Vancouver and from the industrial capital of British Columbia to the two great eastern cities cuts off no less than twelve hours from the ordinary train time between Toronto and the Pacific Coast. This summer the Trans-Canada will make one hend red and forty trips each way; thus running up to September 29 inclusive.

It is composed entirely of compartment and sleeping cars with the exception that a parlor car is attached to the train for the run between Ottawa and Montreal and vice versa. By a careful arrangement of times the journey through the magnificent country of the Canadian Rockies is made in daylight, thusenuring to the traveler the certainty of a perfect view of Canada's priceless scenic arena.

All travel particulars will be gladly furnished, by any Canadian Pacific ticket agent.

My dear Sole

Thanks for yours with enclosure. At last I seem to have found a means to you - the complete insurance - Our Unlimited All-Risks Automobile policy.

And to think that in the past I have been exposing my resources to possibly expensive accidents with only $5.000 protection.

It has been my constant worry that some day I or some member of my household should badly injure some person of note and that I should find my home and income world to pay the bill.

TOO MUTCH LEISURE HARMFUL TO WONEN

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

According to a bulletin issued by the Department of Commerce regarding the 1930 U. S. Census, eight and one-half million women were employed in various gainful occupations throughout the country as against thirty-three million men.

Also, the increase of women workers since 1910 was only about half a million.

In other words, not more than one-quarter of the female population of America was employed outside the home when those figures were compiled.

Such estimates, to be sure, would be cause for rejoicing were we to conclude that those women not employed outside the home were actually employed within the home.

But were they? Are they now? Is it not safe to assume that out of the twenty-four and a half million women who are now registered as working for money a few million at least perform merely a little if any, work that is productive?

What can this vast army be doing with its time? How can all these women who contribute practically nothing to the home possibly get through the day?

Well, we know some of them do. Bridge, Mah Jong, crossword puzzles, gossip, tea dances, self-admiration and adornment before the mirror—these are their chief time killers!

Far be it from my purpose to decry the possibility or desirability of leisure for women!

Would that all women, without exception, could be leisurely! Would that all men could enjoy like advantages!

But to deliberately waste the wonderful opportunities of leisure is quite another matter!

That so many of our womankind do nothing that is really worthwhile, day in and day out, for years at a stretch, is deplorable!

It's astonishing, for instance, how many members of the female sex never read a newspaper!

Entirely wrapped up in themselves, dissipating their thought and energy on trivialities, with an outlook on life that is distinctly material and selfish—are they happy?

I have met and studied such women and I know that they are not! They are nervous, dissatisfied and discontented. I always advise such women to get busy with something in which they can find their efforts rewarded in a tangible way.

What they need is work of a kind that is regular, stimulating and constructive. Gardening, millinery, housemaking—women's opportunities are legion in turning idle, devastating leisure to personal profit.

And the results of such changes invariably are prompt and gratifying.

The woman who wastes her leisure is a pitiable object. She profits nothing but she courts all sorts of disaster.

She even gets old before her time because her nervous system is undermined.

Too much leisure is certainly bad for women.

The Place to Buy a Good Used Car

The Five Points Of The Spring Mode Combines In This Frock

"Have I forgotten anything? Does my dress hang straight? Do I look right?" are only a few of the excited questions that Cecilia meets into her mothers ears. Quoting Juliet "No, my liege, you look absolutely perfect" restores her self confidence somewhat and a last glance at her reflection assures the lady that other fellow alcuaes with whom she is leaving could not fail to see that she had done full justice to Saint Anna Maire. For her dress strikes just the right note. Not too flapperish, and surely not matronly, it stands for all that is new and smart in figuring fashions. The circular cut of back hangs from the shoulders of the blouse that is draped artfully at the hips. The "scalloped" tiers are finely pleated and cling closely to her slim figure. Made of printed crepe silk, "crepe de Chine, or georgette this frock combines five of the most important details of style in the season, and mode—scallops, cape back, pockets, three quarter sleeves. Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my early teens, and in love with a boy a few years older than I am. I live with my father and grandmother. My father doesn't want me to go with boys. Is it proper for a girl of my age to have a steady boy friend?

JINKS.

JINKS: I quite agree with your father that you are entirely too young to be going with boys and thinking of love. Now is the time for you to be working hard at your studies, and spending your spare time building up your body at outdoor sports. Wait until you are several years older, dear, before you bother about such matters as love and men.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We are two worried sisters troubled over a love question. Please, help us out. Do you think when one does not with a boy the other should be present? Our folks say one cannot go without the other; but we realize how a fellow feels when he asks to take one home, to a dance or show and the other comes trailing along—yes, just lost. The worst is following the two and he with for that reason. Tell us if you think it is necessary for both to go.

TULIPS.

TULIPS: Of course, I understand how you feel, and can sympathize with you. When a young man is interested in one of you he doesn't like to feel he entertain both. Why don't you suggest to your mother that she give you a sort of trial—permit you to go out individually—and then, when she realizes you can conduct yourself properly she won't have any defense.

THE FISH ARE BITING
Up Among the Thirty Thousand Islands of Georgian Bay

If you love the out-of-doors—enjoy the thrill of the rod, the rocky pine-studded islands of Georgian Bay will fulfil your deepest desires for the perfect holiday.

This inland dotted summering place is one of the finest fishing grounds in Canada. Here black bass, great lighting smaskinonge and lake trout are ready to test the wits and skill of any eager fisherman.

The islands and their connecting channels are veritable paradise to the camper, canoeist and angler. Yet it is only five hours by train from Toronto. Cottages, boarding houses and hotels are now open.

Illustrated literature and complete information as to individual resorts (in choice rates) and steamer service will be gladly given to you by any Canadian National Railways Agent.

For a long time after young Falconer had made this preposterous proposition, Celia found herself unable to speak.

At last she said: "Either you are completely mad — or you are amusing yourself at my expense."

He answered: "Neither, my dear girl. I assure you that I am perfectly serious. I have merely taken advantage of what Fate, who has turned her face from me for some time, has so pleasantly offered at last."

Celia laughed suddenly. The whole affair was so ridiculous.

"It's been a diverting half hour," she told him. "Your account of your adventures was quite interesting. . . . I will repay you by asking you to dine with me. We will consider ways to lessen your financial difficulties. I assure you that, as your uncle's widow, I have no desire to see you in want. It is true that Mr. Falconer left you but of his will, but there is nothing to prevent my making you a gift, or a — or — loan, perhaps it would be more discreet to call it."

He shook his head.

"Admirable of you, my dear Celia. I begin to understand the charm you had for my uncle. . . . But it is not enough. I need the protection of your household more than money."

She answered angrily: "It is unnecessary, to remind you that that is quite impossible. You cannot remain here — even as my guest."

"But as your husband——" he suggested softly.

She stared at him silently. He returned her gaze boldly.

She said finally: "It is useless to continue this discussion. I refuse absolutely to allow you to remain here under any conditions."

"Ah, but you daren't refuse," he reminded her coolly.

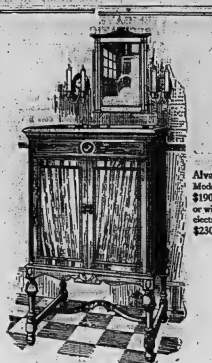

"Why—how?"

"Do you want your mother to know the truth? Do you want your friends to know?"

She gasped, "You couldn't be such a brute!"

He shook his head sadly.

"I greatly fear that I am lacking in gallantry, where my own interests are concerned. It is difficult to be harsh with so charming a woman, but necessarily is a stern master.'

"What would you do, if I refuse? . . . And I shall refuse, of course.'

He rose and made her a low bow. 'My first act will be to pay a farewell call to your mother.'

He was at the door, but Celia flung herself in front of him, terror in her eyes.

'You couldn't be so cruel — she might die of shock.'

'You don't know me yet, Celia. I don't think at much. Besides, it may even be my duty to my uncle's memory to set certain things straight. All this is your fault, Celia.'

She saw the look of resolution in his eyes and remembered, with a sense of panic, all she had heard about him. He would do all He would! He was quite capable of any cruelty to gain his own ends. He had nothing to lose by denouncing her.

'I'll give you money,' she promised desperately, 'all you want.'

His mocking eyes assumed an expression of pain.

'Celia, you hurt me when you speak of such sordid matters. All I ask is to remain under your roof as your guest, for a time — as your husband, in the eyes of the world.'

Her arms, outspread to bar the doorway against him, fell.

'Give me time,' she begged. 'I must think — I must try——'

He glanced casually at the clock on the mantel.

'There isn't much time. If you turn me out of the house tonight, it will be an admission to your mother — to every one — that I am not your husband. There will hardly be any need for my saying a word.'

The truth of that statement came home to her with sickening force. It was quite true. If he left the house that night and went to an hotel, her story, built for her mother's safety, would collapse about her ears.

She though desperately: 'If only Owen were here to help me! Or, better still, Annesley, in that moment, she longed for him with all her heart.

She came to a swift decision . . . Until she could reach Annesley, she would humour Falconer, so that he would do nothing rash. After that, Annesley could deal with him.

She turned to Falconer, with a smile.

'You were right, when you said to you held all the cards, Mr. Falconer. You may stay here tonight.'

He bowed.

'You're a good little loser, Celia. It's quite a little sport. If you're square play, my role. And, he looked her in the eye, serious, for the moment, 'you needn't be afraid of me. You're a pretty woman, but women aren't much in my line.'

'I'll see that a room is prepared for you,' said Celia, as she turned away.

1ST COURT WAS FESTIVE SCENE

Brilliant To Say The Least At Buckingham Palace In May

London.—(By C. P.)—Describing the first Royal Court of the season, which took place at Buckingham Palace on the night of May 9, a London paper says the Throne Room, where the Court was held, was ablaze with lights and beautiful with color. Hyacinths, lilies, and Dorothy Perkins roses formed the floral setting against which glittered the uniforms, orders, and decorations of foreign diplomats and the soft tints of the women's dresses.

Members of the Corps Diplomatique are always hidden to the first Court, and, in addition, there were a great number of representatives of the Dominions. As early as five o'clock cars began to line the Mall, but it was nearly 9 o'clock before their exquisitely groomed and bejewelled occupants alighted on the red carpet in the Palace Yard and entered the long hall.

After the discarding of cloaks there was the walk up the impressive grand staircase to the first drawing room. Here sealed on rows of gilt chairs, the gay company waited breathlessly. The scene, then, as the doors of the White Drawing Room were thrown open and the King and Queen, preceded by officials of the household in their dark-blue and gold uniforms, advanced, hand-in-hand and took their seats upon their thrones.

The King wore the uniform of a Field-Marshal and the Queen was a field arranged her train and the Lord Chamberlain, announced her.

It was but a few brief moments till the waiting throng, row by row, took their places in the queue, which passed slowly to the gilt Throne Room, where each guest handed her card to an official, while another ordered:

majestic, glittering figure in a cream and gold gown, hand-embroidered in cut crystals and diamante, and a train of Irish point lace, lined with delicate gold chiffon tissue patterned in a leaf design.

Her diamonds which included the lesser Stars of Africa and the Koh-i-noor, glittered like stars under the myriad lights of hundreds of electric lights.

On the Royal dais were also the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Prince George, Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, and Viscount Lascelles.

The climax for the debutantes had now arrived. An official beckoned to the waiting throng, row by row, to take their places in the queue, which passed slowly to the gilt Throne Room, where each guest handed her

SCHEWEITZER GAVE BOCH RECITATION

London.—(By C.P.)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the great Bach scholar, and author of a standard work on Bach—and the man who devotes his life to healing the sick in equatorial Africa—recently gave four organ recitals of Bach's works in London: two at St. Martin-in-the-Fields. His programmes consisted of Chorals, Preludes and Fugues.

"As might have been expected from the scientific old book," says a London musical critic, "he emphasized the emotional and poetical side of the music, rather than the formal aspects, without, however, neglecting them. In the Preludes he played with poignant expression, which made the music sound as fresh as if it had been composed yesterday."

The proceeds of the organ recital are to go in support his work in Lambaréne, in French Equatorial Africa.

HE BOOSTS NEW STYLES FOR MEN

London, England—(C.P.)—Dr. G. W. Oakeley, writing in "Overseas," demands reform in men's clothing; especially does he want "shorts" for male tennis players. He urges that all men would not look well in shorts, but other considerations are more important.

"We men must really begin to do something about our clothes. We are becoming ridiculous and threaten to become effete. Our sex is chiefly responsible for modern discoveries about the value of sunlight and air for the human body and mind, acting on and through the skin; but it is the other sex that has benefitted. Hence, in no small measure, the practical disappearance of chlorosis, simple anaemia, the green-sickness of Shakespeare, from amongst our young women; and the great reduction in tuberculosis; whilst wonderful records in sport, and notably in the water, are being put to their credit. But, in deed, these contentions in favor of short skirts, the pneumonia blouse, falsely so-called, free arms and backs, which a few of us have been urging for half a generation or more, are now widely accepted and even repeated as new discoveries of a startling order."

THE power of Canada's rushing waters is applied in so many ways that it is difficult to conceive of any industrial and social life in Canada without it.

From the rock drill to the curling iron, from the tram car to the electric toaster, from the silk mill to the electric range, there are endless gradations of power needed, and the flexibility of this service is perhaps its most valuable feature.

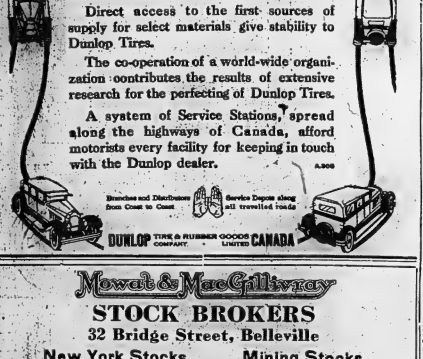

The home without electricity today is the home of fifty years ago. The wires in the house mean the ability to use the latest inventions for time-saving and efficient methods of keeping house, and also those more aesthetic and refining influences, which are represented by the electric piano, the electric phonograph and beautifully shaded lamps.

All of these combine to make the homes of today what they are—attractive, convenient, charming.

The Northern Electric Company, in manufacturing wires, cables, and other paraphernalia, which help make possible the application of the electric current, feels happy at being able to contribute to Canada's social progress.

SUGGESTS WORK FOR BRITISHERS

With Canadian Harvest Coming Due; Lunn Puts Forth Idea

London. (By C.P.)—The Canadian harvest will soon be due.' Why not an arrangement between the Dominion and Home Government and all the parties most likely to help for 10,000 Britishers to be provided with work during the coming harvest in Canada ?

William Lunn, M.P., of Rothwell, makes this suggestion in the Yorkshire Evening Post. He is an ex-chairman of the Overseas Settlement Committee and still a member of that body.

"In July last year," he proceeded to say, an arrangement was "almost arrived at for 10,000 to go to Canada, of whom 8,000 would be miners.

"The conditions were to give cheap passages, guarantee employment at not less than 4 to 5 dollars a day, and its as stat in bringing those back who could not find permanent employment.

One lady promised to pay the expenses for 150 South Wales miners, and others were prepared to help with smaller numbers. Just when everything was in order for the project being carried out, it unfortunately fell through.

No doubt three out of four would settle permanently in Canada. Those who seriously desire to return should be helped in cost of passage home, he says.

"The 7,000 or 8,000 who make their homes in Canada, would become nominators. Then they would be likely to nominate their wives, sweethearts, sisters, brothers, and in many cases their fathers and mothers.

That is the most satisfactory way of populating the Dominion. Here is the pebble which if thrown into the pond will begin the circle which is likely to enlarge and enlarge to enormous dimensions.

Cannot something be done, and done soon? asks Mr. Lunn, in conclusion.

POTATO CROPS

New potatoes will start to move to market from British Columbia Lower Mainland Districts June 10 and from the Interior Dry Belt July 6. Ontario early potatoes will roll according to present indications, about July 15th.

The British Columbia crop will run about 195,000 bushels and the Ontario 612,500 bushels. Exact and Kent counties produce the bulk of Ontario's crop and the acreage this year is 4,900, double that of 1927. The yield is estimated at 125 bushels to the acre. The early potato shipping period lasts about five weeks and should extend until about August 20th.

The acreage sown to early potatoes in the United States is greater than in 1927, and is estimated to be 225,000, the forecast of production being 22,- 610,000 bushels. Virginia and the Carolinas are the heaviest early potato producing States.

Canada imports early potatoes from the United States. The imports for June last year amounted to 1,943,340 pounds, valued at $34,139, and for July 18,520,800 pounds, valued at $404,810. Total imports for fiscal years ending 31st March were 1927—28,205,531 pounds; 1926—36,129,600 pounds, and 1925—62,091,945 pounds.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture in supplying the estimates for this season's early potato crop points to the splendid market possibilities. The consumption is approximately 80 million bushels of which Canadian growers supply about 65 per cent.

NEGRO FAMILY HAVE MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13—Four negro children, eldest 11, died from burns and suffocation here early to-day when they were trapped in the upstairs bedroom as the flames destroyed their home. Mr. and Mrs. August Benson, parents of the children, were able to escape the fire, but could not reach their children's fire but could not reach their children.

WEST HAS REASON TO BE OPTIMISTIC

Winnipeg, Man.—The entire West has every reason to feel optimistic over the present years crop, stated Wm. Neal, General Manager, Western Lines of C. P. R. Railway, who returned to Winnipeg today after a three week's inspection tour of the company's lines in the west. At the present Mr. Neal said it is practically impossible to visit any section in the west where conditions are not excellent. While surface soil in some parts are dry he pointed out, there is ample sub surface moisture with the result that crops generally are not suffering.

The same flourishing conditions are apparent in British Columbia. Mr. Neal said with every indication of a heavy fruit yield; the Okanagan Valley, looking especially good.

Mr. Neal expressed himself as being pleased with the progress of branch line construction now under way in many sections of the three Prairie Provinces. One of the most striking things on a tour of the west he said was the unceasing activity in the various centres.

A heavy movement of trucks, tractors and farm machinery of all kinds is under way throughout which will prove one of the most important factors in an increased acreage in grain.

REWARD HEROISM

County Fathers Take Up Discussion On Destruction of Ivel Corn Borer

Mr. Miller, Government Inspector, was received by the County Council this morning who heard his report on existing conditions with regards to the Corn Borer in the County of Hastings. The Borer is gradually working east, and next year both the Township of Rawdon and Huntingdon will be quarantined. Mr. Miller declared that a dozen Borers left in a field this year would multiply to over a thousand next year, so it can easily be seen how serious is this invasion.

The Finance and Public Property report was received and tabled, showing that the County paid : $1,266.39 for Road Liability Insurance to the Globe Indemnity Insurance Co., and that various bills had been paid which were left to the committee from the last meeting in January. Nothing has been done as regards recognition of the heroic deed of Miss Joyce Price in saving two small children from death last year.

Geo. A. Bailey was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and after some discussion it was decided to give $1,000 to the Municipal Board for a new ambulance on the strict understanding that charges for a trip to Madoc, Tweed and Marmora were to be not over $5 for one trip, with proportionate charges for longer or shorter trips. This agreement was to be made between the Municipal Board and the Council before the money was paid over. This was made on motion by Col. Vandewater and seconded by Mr. Miller.

The following were selected as members of the Committee on Equalization of Assessments; Messrs. Thompson, Vandervair, Bailey, Mitchell, Maclaren, Burke, Meagher, Moore, Laycock, Stokes, A. E. Wills, Marlon, Albert Brown, Montgomery, Rollins and Nugent. The council then adjourned till two o'clock.

AMULET SHOWS A MARKED GAIN

Heavy Buying In Nickel Noranda And Sudbury Basin Today

The market today was inclined to be hesitant, waiting to see when New York is going to get straightened out. Never the less some of the recent favorites showed a great deal of activity and some good gains. Very optimistic reports from Noranda had the effect of spurting it up $1.75 from yesterday's close to $35.50 Bid. Amulet gained 25 to a close of $4.10 bid. Nickel gained $2.50 to $82.00 while Tuck was down 20 points to $10.70. Mandy was up 5 and Malartic slightly lower at $1.70. Peel Oyalite must be worrying some of the buyers as they are down to 75 cents at over $20. It sold down to $12 today closing at $13.50 which is 50c better than the close yesterday. Central Basin made a good run up from $6.12 to $10.15 but failed to hold it all closing at $8.70. Closing quotations by Hosner L. Gibson & Co., Ltd., Jamieson Bone, Managers, are as follows:

TAX LEVY FOR ROAD AND BRIDGE IMPROVEMENTS IS INCREASED

County Council Will Spend $185,000 On Construction And Maintenance

Yesterday afternoon's session of the Hastings County Council was taken up for the most part with reports from the various committees appointed at the last session, the principal ones being the report of the Roads and Bridges Committee, which was read by James A. Moore, Chairman.

According to this report the County now has 378 miles of County roads, and in roads which the County must keep up. Since the last session the Tamboro-Marmora road has been taken over by the Provincial Government and thus 26 miles have been taken off the County load. Next year it will be made into a Provincial Highway, the County bearing 30% of the cost. The estimated cost of road work for this year will be $185,000, $95,000 being for construction, $70,000 for maintenance, $10,000 for the suburban area, and $10,000 for machinery, compensation and the superintendent. The levy for this year for road work will be 5½ mills, a raise of ½ a mill from last year.

Shannonville will have a new steel bridge this year, the contract having already been let to the Ontario Bridge Company. Pavements will be laid in

BOARD ENTERS GRAIN CONTEST

The Belleville Agricultural Society at a recent meeting decided to enter the Field Crop competition which the annual affair conducted by the Provincial Government. The local Board will specialize in Oats. Farmers desiring to enter this competition are urged to have their entries in the hands of Mr. R. H. Ketcheson, Secretary of the Belleville Fair Board by Saturday of this week. Many entries have been received already. This competition is conducted by the Government, with the Fair Board make application and the members enter through the local Secretary. An Inspector is despatched from Toronto and he inspects the oats according to the field from which it is chose on the quality, and height, of the grain as well as the presence of weeds. .

COURT HOUSE WILL BE RE-PAINTED SOON

When the County Council meets again in December they will notice a great difference in the appearance of the Court House, as it was decided to have the front painted at this session of the Council.

Although the contract has not been let, it is understood that the work can be done in fine style for the sum of $200.00. It is many a year since the Court House was painted, and to-day its appearance will be improved greatly by the application of a few coats of paint. Local laborers will get the contract it is understood.

DRANK LIQUOR IN PUBLIC PLACE

Thomas Levack Is Heavily Fined By Magistrate Casement

Thomas Levack, a farmer and a resident of the township of Rawdon, was fined $200 by Magistrate Casement at Madoc yesterday on a charge of consuming liquor in a public place. The accused who was faced with his second offence paid the fine. Levack visited Napanee last week, purchased a quantity of liquor and on his way home proceeded to stop along the highway and imbibe. Provincial Officer Ted Hill of Madoc met the accused on the Madoc road, searched his car and found Levack somewhat the worse for his intoxication. A bottle was found in the car and according to Levack's permit he had consumed a bottle of liquor. He was taken to Madoc placed under arrest, managed to secure bail, and was later arraigned before court. As it was his second offence on the same charge, a heavy fine was imposed.

Diplomatic Relations With Canada Plank In Election Platform

Kansas City, June 14.—Unable to negotiate a compromise by long negotiations between committee doors, the Republican National Convention faced the farm relief issue in the open today as the party leaders drove on toward the nomination of the ticket and the final adjournment.

As it came to the convention floor the party platform outlined the farm programme without all mention of af equalization fee or the McNary Hill. It had been adopted in that form last night by the platform committee but over unyielding opposition of the members from the Lenroot Farm plank was at once announced an appeal to the convention itself.

Kansas City, June 14.—Ignoring any mention of controversial equalization fee or the McNarry Haugen Bill but pledging every assistance to the re-organization of the farmers marketing system, the Republican platform which the Republican candidate for President will stand in the November election was presented to the convention today for its approval.

18th Amendment.

"There has always been and always will be a firm friendship with Canada" said the platform. "The American and Canadian people are in a large measure identical. Our relationship is one of fine mutual understanding and the recent interchange of diplomatic courtesies between the two countries is worthy of commendation."

The farm plank declares the party pledged to keep the tariff and instead of the equalization fee it proposes the enactment of legislation creating a Federal farm board clothed with power to set up the farmer-owned and controlled stabilization corporations or associations to prevent and control the surpluses through orderly distribution.

The platform contains sweeping endorsement of the administration and declares for the strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

ALBERT COLLEGE CLOSES FRIDAY

Miss Gardiner, Beloved Teacher, Will Be Honored On Departure

To-morrow will be a busy day and evening at Albert College. In the evening a farewell reception will be tendered Miss Gardiner, a respected teacher at the school, while in the afternoon diplomas, prizes and other awards of the scholastic year will be given out, under the sponsorship of the Reverend T. W. Neal, of Toronto, an old graduate of Albert College. Mr. Neal will also preach in the afternoon. A large crowd is expected to be on hand for the Commencement exercises, as this is the most important event of the school year.

Miss Gardiner's tomorrow evening's entertainment will be the unveiling of a large portrait of Miss Gardiner, painted by F. W. S. Forrester, of Toronto, a well-known portrait painter and one who has done all work of this kind for Albert College.

Miss Gardiner was one of the most popular teachers at Albert, and her going away will be noted with keen regret.

MRS. PANKHURST DIES IN LONDON

Eventful Career In Quest of Women's Suffrage Is Brought To Close

London, June 14.—One of the most picturesque figures in the women's suffrage movement, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, died this morning in a London nursing home at the age of 69 after a lingering illness. (Cuba).

Mrs. Pankhurst was the first militant suffragist in efforts to obtain votes for women.

After founding the Women's Social and Political Union with her daughter Christable, Mrs. Pankhurst started votes for women agitation by heading a deputation to the House of Commons to demand a vote. Many members of this body were jailed.

The militants spent several periods in jail during the years of the agitation, and on one occasion were released from penal servitude after going on a hunger strike.

Trenton, Ont., June 14.—Twenty killers were executed here yesterday, Sport aide fighting between the prisoners and the police took place in the various districts with numerous casualties.

PLAN TO FORM GUN CLUB HERE

After a lapse of some years efforts are on foot for the organization of a Gun Club in Belleville. Messrs. Russell White and Mark Sprague are the prime movers in the furtherance of this movement, they are receiving new members at the present time and according to report a meeting with considerable success. It is proposed to secure a trap-shooting club and efforts are being made to secure the use of the Agricultural Park for the event. It is proposed to offer prizes for the contests. Anyone desiring to affiliate themselves with this Club are urged to get in touch with Mr. White or Mr. Sprague. Some years ago Belleville had one of the leading Gun Clubs in this district but since the rifle butts were torn down there has been little interest in trap-shooting or rifle competition.

LADY CHAMPIONS IN RARE FORM

Large Gallery Followed Feminine Golfers At Country Club

Two of the best lady golfers ever seen at the Bay of Quinte Country Club were in action yesterday afternoon when Miss Ada McKenzie, exchampion of Ontario, met Mrs. Whittington who in 1925 was Dominion Lady Champion. Miss McKenzie won on the eighteenth green with the score of 83, while Mrs. Whittington took 86. Both ladies played steady golf all through, and many favorable comments were heard on all sides by the large gallery of spectators.

Miss Grace Cook and Miss Ann Schuster acted as caddies and fulfilled their duties in a capable manner, a doubt learning intricacies about the game which will help them later. Both these girls are coming golfers, and no doubt will be heard from in a few years.

Mrs. Whittington won three holes going out, lost one and divided the five remaining with her opponent, while she lost four on the second round, won one, and divided the remaining four. On the second round both players appeared to play better, Miss McKenzie being in a fine score of 79 for nine holes, which is just a few strokes above men's par, while Mrs. Whittington was also off her better.

Both Miss McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington drive well, and their approaching is rather difficult to follow, the applause from the gallery on more than one occasion. On the putting green especially, when Mrs. Whittington made a birdie there was this apparent. After a fine drive of over one hundred yards, she struck the pin with a chip shot and the ball lay a few feet away from the hole on the other point. Miss McKenzie took a par four.

Although neither player was especially strong on putting, the blame can be safely laid on the greens, as they were a few rough and there were a few temporary greens which were hard to play.

Many ladies were entertained after the match by the members of the Club, and left for Toronto later in the evening. During the afternoon the Dinsley Club held their first race of the season, some good times being clipped by those competing. Before the start Cliff Walker had the misfortune to overturn and so was forced out of the race.

SAFETY COMMITTEE SPEAKER BROADCASTS

The speaker for the Ontario Highway Safety Committee over Station CKNC Thursday evening will be Dr. P. E. He will broadcast his talk begins at 8 o'clock, daylight saving time.

Ice Floe Drifting Toward Boeck Or Layne Islands

SEARCH FOR OTHERS

Relief Expeditions Prepare To Cross To Polar Regions

Kings Bay, June 14.—General Umberto Nobile and five men of the crew of the Italia stranded with him off Northeast Land believe that they are now in safety.

In communications exchanged between the Citta Di Milano and the Nobile Party, C. Biagi, the radio operator of the stranded group, said that they felt that safety was in sight. This response, which was not elaborated was felt at Kings bay to indicate that the party is now so near Boeck Island or Layne Island that they could get ashore or that with the news of the various rescue expeditions hastening to their aid, they felt sure they would be saved soon.

Kings Bay, June 14.—No news has been received of either party of several who were carried away on the ice floe with the dirigible when it crashed or the three men who attempted to reach the shore. Ice experts said today that there was a possibility that Nobile's party might have drifted and by being blown toward King Charles Islands, a group south of Northeast Land, in the Baring Sea.

Dog Teams In Action

Rome, June 14.—Word was received here today that the search for the three missing members of the crew of the Airship Italia had been started with dog teams. San Paolo wireless Station was informed by Lieut. Biagi Citta Di Milano that the rescue expedition started Wednesday night from Amlopen Strait which separates West Spitzbergen from Northeast Land. The start on the eighteenth with the score of 83, while Mrs. Whittington took 86. Both ladies played steady golf all through, and many favorable comments were heard on all sides by the large gallery of spectators.

ENGINEER TAKES WITNESS STAND

Story of Fatal Train Wreck At Dockrill Told In Court-Room

Kingston, Ont., June 14.—Joseph Le Bradford, engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railways freight train which figured in a wreck at the river at Dockrill on November 27 last, when Fireman Alex Gilbert was killed, the stand in his own defence in the hearing of the charge of criminal negligence causing death, in Kingston today.

Bradford said the flier was proceeding at about 35 miles an hour if it went from Wilkinson to Dockrill in three minutes as stated. The freight train was 1,500 feet from rear to engineer of the flier could first see it and he stopped it would take more than 2,500 feet to bring the express to a stop.

BIPLANE VISITS LOCAL AIRPORT

A "Swallow" biplane, built at Wichit, Kansas, and owned by Mr. Jack W. Elliott of Hamilton, landed at the airport and refueled at Leavens' Bros. airport in this city. The biplane was enroute between Hamilton and Montreal, and the pilot took the opportunity of visiting Belleville's new airport, the latest word "Aviator" to drop in at the local field.

The visiting plane was one somewhat type of engine; it is capable of a speed of approximately one hundred and ten miles per hour.

The plane remained at the local airport about an hour, and after refueling resumed its flight to Montreal.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Our minds possess by nature an insatiable desire to know the truth.
CICERO.

SCATHING ATTACK ON GOTHAM PRESS

Henry Fairfield Osborn was awarded the degree of LL.D. at Schenectady recently by Union College and took the opportunity to flay the newspaper press of his country. New York papers particularly came under the indictment for their effect in lowering the moral tone of society and of life generally. People unconsciously yield to these influences because they are always active though not obtrusively so. People read the papers day after day and do not realize how greatly their minds come under the sway of the things they read. They have no time to read good literature, but they spend anywhere from half an hour to two hours a day reading newspapers, and they wonder why they think as they do. If they spent anywhere from half an hour to two hours a day with the greatest minds in literature, they would soon begin to wonder why they had not done so before. This is no diatribe against newspapers, which have their place in the world and for the most part fill that part admirably. Canadian newspapers have a different standard from those of the United States, and the space devoted, according to Dr. Osborne, but the papers of Gotham to various interests will show this to be the case.

"Yeast," said Dr. Osborne, "in the 4,131,223 daily newspaper circulation in and around new York city, literature, art, music and stage fill 2.8 of the space, as against 25.6 devoted to fashion, athletics and sport, 23 per cent. devoted to misconduct and crime 7 per cent. to religion, and at the very bottom, 4 per cent. devoted to education."

It will be observed that religion gets 7 and education 4 per cent. although in these papers. Some people think that religion has no place in a newspaper and education equally no claim to space. But newspapers have the greatest religious and educational influence of any agency in the world, not excepting the churches. Some people go to church one day a week. They all read the papers practically every day. There are certain things that all religious people agree about and that all educational authorities desire to see generally accepted. These are proper matters for newspaper comment and when this is understood Dr. Osborn will have less to complain about.

FYLE'S DERBY WAS ATHLETIC TORTURE

Anthony Yale is 28 years of age, yet his great desire last Sunday was to be allowed to put himself under the wheels of a railway train in New York city.

He took part in the marathon across the continent and is apparently a wreck now. Week after week he plugged along in a contest that was as inane in its idea as Izele was in determination to kill himself.

Izele must have been physically fit and very sound when he entered the race, otherwise he never would have been able to stand the grind. Now he's all in, he has no money and no health. All he wanted was a chance to kill himself.

Surely there's a big screw loose some place in the law that would permit Fyle, the promoter of the marathon, to start such a performance. Experts in physical training said at the time that a person who went in such a race and stayed with it would take from five to ten years off his life, although he might not have been conscious of the fact at the time.

Fyle's marathon was without doubt the most sinister performance that any man has been allowed to stage in a good many years.

INCURABLE SCRIBBLERS MENACE TO SOCIETY

One of the things which struck Premier Baldwin very forcibly when he visited the old Canadian trenches at Vimy Ridge was a notice to visitors informing them that the names inscribed on the walls of the trenches and dugouts were those of fallen Canadian soldiers. The notice had the words, "Please omit yours" added as a warning to scribbling fiends.

It is a peculiar trait in many people that wherever they visit any historic shrine or other place of public interest they have to deface these places by scribbling their names and addresses, and usually the date of their visit on the walls, doors or other convenient places. It is a strange type of malady which has nothing to commend it, and which touches the border line of absurdity. Probably they may feel that by writing their names they have added something to the dignity of the place they are visiting, but they do not think that they are destroying some of its beauty and significance.

This would be particularly true were they to add their names to those of the heroes who died at Vimy Ridge. The names of these soldiers will remain as long as they are legible as a striking memorial to the men who gave all they had in the defence of their Empire, who should they be desecrated by the addition of the names of tourists who happen to have an incurable mania for scribbling. Premier Baldwin did well in giving publicity to the presence of the sign at Vimy, because by calling attention to it he may unconsciously, help to make it more effective, because signs mean very little to people who are afflicted with the scribbling type of insanity.

MAD BULL CHASED FOR THREE HOURS

London, (C.P.)—A bull which escaped from a slaughter-house in Southend was chased for more than three hours by scores of men armed with shot guns and stout sticks. Aboutthe attempts were also made at lassoing, and one amateur cowboy was caught on the bestia horns and tossed several feet into the air. He narrowly escaped from being trampled on, and was himself swept for a shaking. Two women were knocked down by the bulls mad rush up and down the streets, but they were not seriously hurt.

The bull wrecked many front garden fences, and steeple-chased over private hedges down the whole length of several streets. It was finally cornered in a garden in Sutton road, where it hesitated, apparently unable to decide whether to charge its pursuers.

A slaughterer discharged both barrels of a shot gun into the bull, which sank to the ground.

JOINT-EASE For Stiff, Swollen Joints
Rheumatic or Otherwise
Says: "when Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."
It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff, inflamed joints.
And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.
Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the multitudes of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.
Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.
Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.
It is now on sale at Doyles Drug Store, Dolan the Druggist and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.

DINGHY RACES AT COUNTRY CLUB

Cliff Walker's Craft Upset And Occupants Plunged In Bay

Two exciting dinghy races, the one a part of the regular series, and the other an exhibition contest, were staged at the Bay of Quinte Country Club yesterday afternoon.

There was a stiff south breeze blowing, and it was necessary to reef the sails, otherwise mishap would have occurred. There is seldom such an ideal day for dinghy racing as yesterday and the enthusiasts made the best of their opportunity.

There were six entries in the first race, but just before it was started the boat sailed by Clifford Walker upset.

Mike Gillen's trim little craft had to be taken out of the race before it was over, as the boats started to skip the sea. The final results of the race were as follows: 1st, Bob Martin, 2nd Geo Graham, and 3rd, Dr. Proctor.

There were only three entries in the second race, and they came into the winning spots as follows: 1, Dr. Proctor; 2, Stanley Wilmot, and 3, Bob Martin.

Kingston Club Here

The Kingston Dinghy Club is expected to send five crews to the local club on the 30th of June. This should result in an afternoon's good racing as competition between Belleville and Kingston is always keen.

Another feature of this year's dinghy racing will be the arrival of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, of Toronto; the crews from this club are expected to come here early in July.

CORN SUFFERS NEW PRICE LOW RECORD

Chicago, Ills., June 14.—Corn suffered new setbacks in price early today, outdoing the season's low price record for September and December deliveries. Ideal weather throughout the corn belt led to continued selling pressure on the part of the holders. Opening 1-4c to 1c lower, corn soon underwent further drop. Wheat and oats were easier, with wheat declining 1-2c off to 3-4c up and subsequently averaging lower.

CHILD STRUCK BY CAR

A little baby of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Connors of Wharf Street, was struck by a car yesterday and sustained some minor injuries. The child was taken to Dr. Faulkner's office for treatment, and it was discovered that the youngster suffered only a few bruises. The driver of the car was not held.

Social and Personals

Mr. E. D. McKinnon, of the Standard Bank staff, leaves to-day on holiday. Saturday.

The many friends of Mrs. C. F. Donovan, Pinnacle Street, regret to learn that she is confined to the General Hospital, having undergone an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Donovan and son, Gerard, of Brockville, are in the city owing to the illness of the former's mother, Mrs. C. F. Donovan.

DIXON—EVERSON

Dumford, Ont., June 14.—A very pretty June wedding was solemnized in the United Church here on Saturday when Hazel Rebecca, eldest daughter of Rev. J. F. and Mrs. Everson, became the bride of James Elmer Dixon, Belleville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Everson, father of the bride, assisted by Rev. M. L. Hinton, Bobcaygeon, at high noon, under an arch of evergreens, bleeding-hearts and lilacs. During the singing of the register Mr. F. H. Edith sang "One Promise Me" and Jilmmie and Laffey Everson, cousins of the bride acted as ushers, while Fannie Everson, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. After which a reception was held. Luncheon was served to about sixty guests in the Church Hall. The bride was dressed in white silk jersey trimmed with silk lace and brilliants with silk embroidered veil with orange blossoms with shoes and stockings to match and carried a bouquet of lily of the valley. She travelled in sand silk flat crepe dress and sand coat trimmed with mole and hat to match. The happy couple left by motor for Toronto, Niagara Falls and points south. On their return they will reside in Belleville.

The church was beautifully decorated with mountain ash, lilacs and cut flowers. A delicate luncheon was served in the church hall for the guests who numbered fifty. Those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConnell, Mr. Wesley and Miss Linda Brown, of Marlbank; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Evans and Master Howard, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Mitchell, Miss Lulu and Gordon, of Northam; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Martyn and Miss Gertrude, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vickery and Misses Grace and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker, of Port Perry; Miss Stella Wood, of Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. William Everson and Miss Verna, of Yeaverton.

VIOLATORS ARE HAILED TO COURT

Eighteen Faced Cadi For Failure To Observe City By-Laws

One of the heaviest police courts that has ever been held in this city marked this morning's session with eighteen cases on the docket. Magistrate Millen stated that he had never tried so many cases since he became police magistrate for the city of Belleville.

The majority of the cases were not serious, being mere infractions of the city by laws, particularly with regard to the failure of stopping at stop-streets.

Herbert Urch, a big husky man, was charged with assaulting one John Nolan, who was also big and husky, at least not today. The charge was dismissed against Urch and the complainant was ordered to pay the costs of the court. There were sixteen traffic cases disposed of. The police are checking traffic violations more closely than ever.

PICTON TEAM WINS INTER-CLUB TOURNEY

Yesterday afternoon sixteen crack players of the Belleville Golf Club journeyed to Picton, where they engaged a picked team from the latter town in golf.

The matches were all fairly even, but the finals were won by the Picton men, the Belleville team won four games and tied two.

Following the play the local men were the guests of the Picton Club at a large dinner.

GUIDE LOST LIFE IN LAKE WATERS

Port Hope June 14.—John Smith, 79 year old resident of Bewdley, was drowned in Rice Lake between eight and nine o'clock Tuesday night under more or less peculiar circumstances. Joseph Light-Light Smith, Smith came to shore in a large motor launch after taking a party of three from Bellalo on a fishing trip. The three tourists left the boat to get supper and the late Mr. Smith, it is thought, proceeded to tie up the boat and return to his home.

On examination of the boat that Smith had come to shore in, it was found that the craft had been tied by the bow rope to the small wharf in front of the Kennedy hotel.

Some time later the unfortunate victim was found face downward in the water about twenty-five feet from the wharf.

Deceased was born in Frankford, November 23, 1849, and for the past twenty-four years has been a resident of Bewdley.

MISS EVA LAVOIE IS HONORED BY CHOIR

At the close of choir practice at Christ Church last evening the members of the choir presented Miss Eva Lavoie, who is leaving for an extended trip on the continent, with a beautiful fitted suit case, pearl and amber The presentation was made by Mrs. James Thompson. Miss Lavoie made a very suitable reply, thanking the members for the gift and for the able support they had given her in the choir.

Stirling and Tweedsmuir," and the approach and floor of the Frankford bridge will be paved. These contracts have been let to the Ontario Asphalte Co'p'n.

At the present time there are 261 men on the payroll of the roads department. Wages paid are from 40c per hour to foremen to 35c per hour for labourers. The report mentioned that there is need for some improvement in the patrolling. The report is signed by Jas. A. Moore, Chairman, Geo. H. Stokes, Chas. Thompson, R. Vandervaeer, and W. N. Gilroy.

C. B. Airhart, as Chairman of the committee to look after the matter of the Administration of Relief between the County and the City of Belleville and also the Town of Trenton, reported as follows:

They met with the committee from the City Council and reached an amicable settlement, the city agreeing to pay $6,550.00 per year, to be paid quarterly, in payments of $1,637.50 on the first day of April, July, October and January. Trenton agreed to pay $3,850.00 quarterly, in payments of $1125.00. This agreement is to hold good for five years, and is an increase on the part of the City of Belleville amounting to $2,000 per year, and an increase for Trenton of $700.00 per year. The Council felt that this was not enough, but waived to keep on good terms with the City Council to look a liberal viewpoint of the subject. This committee was composed of C. B. Airhart, H. Haycock, J. W. Haggerty, S. B. Rollins, and W. R. Nugent.

BERRY BROTHERS GET SYNDICATE

Aberdeen Newspapers Pass Into The Hands of The Allied Newspapers

London, (By C.P.)—Lord Rothermere is not to be permitted to establish his chain of evening newspapers in the important centre outside London without a stiff fight with his great rivals, the Berry Brothers. This is evident from what has already happened in Aberdeen.

Aberdeen newspapers passed into the hands of Allied Newspapers, the company controlled by the Berrys, as from January 1-2 last. Lord Rothermere has now caused a statement to be sent challenging the validity of the stockholders' resolution for the sale. It is stated that those opposed to the sale may very soon commence legal proceedings.

At the meeting of the shareholders of the Aberdeen Newspapers, May 9, the owner of the poll presided as follows:—For sale to Allied Newspapers.. 82,009 Against..... 1,000

Lord Rothermere has the first bidder for the undertakings, his figure being £700,000, or approximately £3, 17 shillings, 4 pence per share. The Allied Newspapers offered £3 10s shillings per share, and a guarantee that the present policy of the papers would be continued and the present editorial staff retained.

Immediately the directors of Aberdeen Newspapers circularized this offer to the shareholders and recommended acceptance.

Lord Rothermere then offered £899,000, which works out at £4, 6 shillings per share.

The directors made the shareholders aware of this offer, but indicated that they had already received from Lord Rothermere that was represented as a final offer of a figure below that which they recommended the directors to accept, and which contained no definite assurances as to the maintenance of the existing papers, and the preservation of the traditions of the publications.

GREATEST NEED OF MORE MISSIONARIES

Bradford, England.—(C)—The Canadian Presbyterian Church is one of some of the Canadian districts during an address on the call of the church for missionaries, delivered at a recent call demonstration, Sir John Eagleson, K.C., mentioned Cochin, in the north, where villages are often inaccessible for long periods in the winter. Unfortunately in some of the villages he said, there had been a strong Brahmevik propaganda, virulently anti-Christian. To any one who had seen the result of mission work as compared the necessity for doing what is possible with the neglected communities beside became clear.

Sir John in praising the work of emigration agencies, and the Y.M.C.A. and Church organizations had done a great deal to help the settler.

The appeal for means to send out 100 young men to be trained in the colonies, and for the same number who ought to be supported by all who had the cause of Empire at heart. The great need for young unmarried priests, and there was also scope for women for teaching children.

LOST FROM CIVILIZATION IN 3 MILLION ACRES OF FOREST

In the heart of the Timagami Forest Reserve, miles away from civilization, the vacationist who loves the crisp, fresh air of out-of-doors and the rug ged trail may find both, and still find a holiday very much to his liking.

Whether you take along your own tent or make use of the accommodation at the excellent tourist camps, this north country does wonders in health building for you. Tired nerves relax, days of paddling harden muscles and give you a healthy coat of tan.

Exploring and fishing trips, under the care of an experienced guide, are big features of your holiday—he takes you to his particular fishing grounds —away on hikes and portages that bring to you the thrill of the old voyageur.

BELLE THEATRE

"Sorrows of Satan" that female spectacle of the devil-on-earth which was written so expertly and so painstakingly by Marie Corelli is a triumph.

Those views of fantasy, glorious moving curtains in a semi-screened effect presenting a conception of Lucifer being cast out of heaven, constitute some of the most amazing laboratorial and camera realmistic which I ever have seen. The arrival of the devil (now in the silk hat and cape of Mephisto) on earth and his entrance into the lives of his victims are beautifully, impressively done.

Each and every one of these transpositional camera shots is managed with a perfect and arresting effect. The performances by Ricardo Cortez and Mr. Menjou are just about perfection. Tomorrow only at the Belle.

REGENT THEATRE

The work of Bob Steele, new PBO star, stands out strong in "The Riding Renegade" a swift-moving Western now showing at the Regent theatre.

Steele is the whole show, but that doesn't keep the picture from being

PROTESTS HIGH TARIFF RATES

London.—(C.P.)— Huddersfield, the Yorkshire seat of the heavy woolen industry, is protesting against the recent revision of the Australian tariff in regard to woolen worsted cloths.

In the assembly Journal of the Chamber of Commerce it is pointed out that the duties passed by the House of Representatives came into force the following day, and received final assent three days later. In the circumstances, little or no time was given for making representations of the subject, the Chamber of Commerce and Bradford Chambers cabled to Premier Bruce, of Australia, urging the Government to defer assent to the proposals.

"The exporters in Great Britain are naturally hostile to tariffs," the Journal adds, "but when tariffs are brought into operation by the Dominions without warning, and no allowance is made even for goods afloat or orders given prior the new duties coming into operation, it is bound to leave a very unfavorable opinion regarding the treatment of the Australian Commonwealth."

"British manufacturers use Australian wool, and they will not appreciate the imposition of a duty upon wool products imported by that Dominion, which ranks with the highest in the world. Time, however, will show whether Australia, with its small population, can afford unduly to protect its secondary industries."

When thinking of fire or automobile insurance think of J. L. R. Gorman, proprietor of Belleville Locators, office over Dominion Bank, phone 861. d. t. f.

COUNTY COUNCIL NIGHT AT EUREKA

Dr. Laycock Gave Splendid Talk To Assembled Masons

Last night was known as "County Councilors Night" at Eureka Lodge, A. F. & A. M., the members of the County body who are now in session at Shire Hall filling the various chairs. Samuel R. Laycock, a professor on the staff of the University of Saskatchewan and a brother of Reeve Laycock of Maynora was the speaker. He gave a splendid address on "Battlefields Then and Now." Dr. Laycock visited the Continent previous to the Great War, during the struggle and since the Armistice was signed. His address was one of the most interesting heard in the precincts of the Eureka Lodge Room for some time. His description of the Belgian and French villages before the ravages of war had taken their toll was most graphic remarkings on the splendid esprit-de-corps that prevailed and which has resulted in the building up of the many towns which were almost wiped out. He spoke of the ever-changing conditions and the ingenuity of the French and Belgian people since the war. Dr. Laycock served overseas during the war and was in a position to talk knowingly on the subject which he chose. He referred to the manner in which the cemeteries were preserved and made special reference to Ypres where the Canadian soldier distinguished themselves. A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Laycock for his talk.

The chairs were filled by the following: Immediately Past Wor. Master Arthur Burke, Immediate Past Master Wor. Bro. Laycock; Senior Warden, Wor. Bro. Airhart; Jr. Warden, Wor. Bro. Col. Vandervelzer; Chaplain Rt. Wor. Bro. H. J. Clarke; Treas.: Bro. Harry Deey; Bro. W. Jeffers Diamond; Dr. Deacon, Bro. Mitchell; Director, Bro. Haggerty; Director Ceremonies; Bro. Rollins, Inner Guard, W. Bro. Reid, Sr., Steward, Wor. Bro. Argue; Jr. Steward, Bro. McLaren.

Wor. Master Fred Wiggins, of Eureka was in the chair at the banquet table and presided in a most efficient manner. The usual toasts were proposed and "County Councillor's Night" will long be remembered in the annals of Eureka Lodge.

TWO DIE IN TORNADO IN U. S.

Pretona, Okla., June 14.—At least two persons were dead today and several were reported injured at Cashion a community 15 miles west of Hennessey, as the result of a tornado that swept that section of eastern Oklahoma last night.

REFRIGERATION PLANT IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Work is nearly completed on the new refrigeration system at the Quinte Breweries and in about five days Bellevillians, and tourists, will be able to purchase ale and beer at an iceland temperature.

"We are nearly through now," stated Mr. McClennan, President of the Brewery, to the Intelligencer today. "We have just to connect up some pipes, and the plant will be ready for operation."

RADIO FOUR TO BE ON THE AIR

Belleville Quartette Sing From Station CNRO Tonight

On Thursday evening, June 14th, commencing at 9 o'clock on the occasion of the book-up of Stations CNRO, CNRQ, CNRT and CNRM, forming the eastern chain of radio stations of the Canadian Nationals Railways, the Radio Four Male Quartette of Belleville, Ontario, will be heard in a thirty minute period of Old Time Southern melodies, the broadcast originating from CNRM, MONTREAL.

This quartette which is under the musical direction of Leo. B. Biggs, reputed to be one of the leading conductors and pianists in Canada, have been for over eight years Director of Music at the Hotel Astor, New York, has already appeared before the radio audience of Station CNRO, is composed of the following:

Dr. A. S. Haffner, 2d. Tenor.
A. F. Stillman, 1st Tenor.
J. Arnold Thomson, 1st Bass.
H. S. Montgomery, 2nd Bass.

The Quartette will appear before the microphone of Station CNRM at 8 p.m. Mountain Standard Time.

Quartette—John Peel (Adams); Open up the Gates (Gelbel); The Jolly Coachman (Smart); Medley—Piano Solo—Fantasia on the Theme from Rigoletto (Verdi).

Quartette—Swing Along (Cook); Old Black Joe (Foster); His Away Home (Bowles) Steal Away —Negro Spiritual (Gelbel).

7.30 to 8 p.m.—Twilight Period of Music.

8.30 to 9 p.m.—Light Operatic Period.

HOT STEEL CAN BREAK UP JAMS

Professor Claims White Hot Metal Demolishes Icebergs

New York, N. Y.—(C.P.)—White-hot steel can split icebergs into harmless fragments and break up huge ice jams along the North Atlantic steamer route, says Howard T. S. Barnes, professor of physics in McGill University, Montreal, in a research report to the Engineering Foundation.

Since 1902, Professor Barnes has been making scientific investigations of the physical properties of ice and practical methods of controlling it. The energy from white-hot steel, he says, supplies rays that equal or surpass those of the sun in power to penetrate ice.

"For a reasonable expenditure the menace of icebergs can be removed from the North Atlantic steamer route," the scientist asserts. "Also by skilful engineering utilization of physical researches extending over 25 years, the great expense caused by ice at power plants, bridges and many other structures and the damage from floods caused by ice dams, or jams, can be greatly reduced.

"Ice can be broken up by blasting, reduced to water by heat, or disintegrated by the aid of chemicals. Quick-acting sure, powerful, inexpensive methods are needed. To operate artificially enough heat to melt a berg or ice is beyond the range of feasibility. Skilful, limited, concentration of heat will however, accomplish much.

"Thermit can be used effectively at modest cost. Thermit is a mixture of finely powdered aluminum metal and oxide of iron. When properly ignited it reacts vigorously, generating very high temperatures and producing extremely hot liquid steel. Thermit may be seen in action in city streets where rail joints of a trolley line are being welded.

"The energy from this molten steel supplies much of the energy for summer those of the sun in power to penetrate ice for many feet. The action of the white-hot steel upon the ice is remarkable—converting it into hydrogen and oxygen gases so rapidly that a powerful explosion results.

"In this way a huge jam may readily be broken up so that the final pieces are harmlessly down the river, or an iceberg be split into fragments so small as to be no menace to commerce."

FATHER AND SON BANQUET HELD

Point Anne United Church Sponsors Worthy Movement

Point Anne United Church added another score to her long list of successes when the first banquet for Father and Sons was held on Tuesday evening (the last...

The tables were beautifully arranged by the Ladies Aid to seat about one hundred guests and promptly at 6:30 Mr. M. Morrison, head of the Trail Rangers who acted as Toast Master in this event called the assembly to order and proceeded.

Mr. Tom Bowler led the community singing in a very happy mood and Mr. Art Grose, of Belleville, efficiently assisted as pianist. As the serving of supper was concluded a Toast to "The Lads" who have so well responded in the Trail Ranger organization was proposed by Mr. Wm. Armstrong who has just returned from the big Safety League Convention in New York and showed that he knows how to say good things well. "Good-bye Broadway" and then spontaneously sang by those Pt. Anne Misses, Kathleen Genereaux, Jean Bowler and Margaret McDonald, who were heartily encored.

The Toast to "the Dads" was offered by Mr. Herbert Scollen who, while a bachelor as yet, knows the hearts of the lads and what the future of our lads should do. Eddie Turner, of Belleville followed with a comic song and an excellent encore was the usual acceptable style. "The Ladies" were next honored in Toast by Wm. Goss. In who rought merry rounds of laugh ter by his wittiness and showered the highest honour on Point Anne Ladies Aid in their wonderful efforts for the Church and the Community of Point Anne in sports as well. The Payne Brothers next gave one of their pop duets and an encore and the Toast Master fittingly introduced Rev. L. S. Wight, Chairman of Trustee Board, Secretary who gave the response to the Toasts in a happy and challenging address entitled "Lads and Lads". He dealt with the assets of Canada, stressing our opportunities in many points and placing the climax upon our wealth of young people and the lads of Canada.

Rev. L. M. Sharpe the pastor of the church next thanked all who had assisted in making the banquet the big success and repeated his thanks and appreciation for the splendid co-operation shown by all the denominations of Point Anne in every good work and calling upon all to continue in aid of the boys' work, the summer camps, etc. Mr. L. Bowler proposed a toast to the Toast Master. Mr. Morrison who announced the summer Moira Lake camp at Madoc, July 2-16 and the National Anthem closed the event.

Mountain Resort Acquires New Charms

Acknowledged by the most discriminating as the finest resort hotel in the American continent the Banff Springs Hotel, opened by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on May 15, inaugurates a new era for visitors to the Rocky Mountains. This internationally famous structure has been in process of rebuilding during the past two winter seasons and now stands complete, magnificent as to construction and furnishings, and beyond compare as to beauty of surroundings.

The Banff Springs Hotel is so constructed as to blend, in the beauty of its architecture, with the rugged grandeur of the mountain ranges. Built of native stone quarried from the base of Mount Rundle and trimmed with Tyndal stone from Manitoba the building itself, complies with all the tenets of dignity and good taste.

The Banff Springs provides accommodation for 1100 guests, and contains 600 bedrooms with baths in addition to a large number of suites of marked beauty and comfort. The layout of the public rooms and lounges has been carefully thought out, and these rooms are especially appealing in point of design and richness of furnishings. The main lounges are unique in beauty in themselves and the view, from the valley of the Bow River, is alone worth a trip to Banff.

The building of this great hotel or rather the rebuilding, has been going forward for several years, but the construction work has not been interfered with the comfort of the summer guests. The work has been carried on during the winter months. Enormous wooden sheds were erected and beaten through with steam, and the work done with the same ease as if at the height of summer. It is interesting to note that the method that this system of construction involved a monthly consumption of coal of more than 700 tons.

IMPORTANCE OF SWARM CONTROL

At one time the skill of a beekeeper was measured by the number of swarms he obtained from his apiary, but at the present time honey production is the index of success. Natural swarming is the bees' method of making increase but coming, as it does, just prior to or during the main honey flow it greatly lessens the storing capacity of the apiary. Furthermore honey is always the danger of losing bees through absconding swarms. After a colony has made its first preparations for swarming, there is usually a slowing-up of field work, and when the swarm issues this work may cease altogether, for it is the field force of the colony that goes to make up the swarm. Should nectar be coming in at the rate of ten to twenty pounds per day at the time of swarming, it will readily be seen that this loss of time on the part of the bees will have an adverse effect on the crop stored. As the colony from which the swarm issues is deprived of its field bees, it can no longer be expected to gather a crop of honey. Should the beekeeper be lucky enough to capture the swarm and return it to the colony from which it came, the loss in honey will not be so great as where the swarm is hived on a new stand, the time lost by the bees in preparing for and swarming, however, means lost honey. Fortunately the bees give ample warning when they are preparing to swarm. A thorough examination once every 9 or 10 days will enable the beekeeper to forestall natural swarming. The bees will, in the majority of cases, abandon their preparations if sufficient room is given them in which surplus nectar or the queen given more room by the brood nest. Shade and ventilation during the hottest part of the summer also aid in reducing the tendency. For those colonies that would give swarming, frequening or separation of Queen and brood, will be found the best. For further particulars, send to the Bee Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, for Bulletin No. 32.

Seizing the Moment

"Seize the moment," urged the genial Horace, nearly twenty centuries ago.

The principle is as sound for business to-day as it was for life in the Imperial City.

The C.D.S. proves every day that to seize the moment is to take advantage of all special conditions in all the great world sources of supply which would mean a lower buying cost—and in turn a lower cost to the C.D.S. customer. These are moments which it is profitable for the business concern to be able to seize.

Cash pricing, with the inevitable results of bigger business and more rapid turnover, enables the C.D.S. to pass on to their customers the advantage of seizing the moment.

North Country Hive Of Illegal Liquor Trade-Nobile's Rescue Near-Closing Day Of Court

MOONSHINE OPERATIONS IN NORTH HASTINGS CLEANED UP BY POLICE

Nine Prosecutions For Illegal Stills Follow Officers' Visit

$1300 IN FINES

Manufacture of Home-Brew Flourished Near Bancroft

Inspector Loughred, Provincial Constable Hammer and Government Property Inventive Officer Bishop have recently returned from the Northern section of Hastings County where they conducted a wholesale clean-up in connection with moonshine operations existing there. Nine prosecutions resulted from their visit and the cases were all tried at Bancroft before Magistrate Jarman on Wednesday of this week.

Eight stills operating illegally were seized by the party which included Provincial Constable Gray who is stationed at Bancroft. This is one of the largest seizures ever effected by Provincial Officers in this County and doubtless the illegal manufacture of liquor which has been going on in the Northern Township has been effectually terminated.

Periodically seizures have been made by the officers in this district since the Government Control Act was passed but it was a well known fact that the business was being carried on along an extensive scale. The most outstanding registered had little effect in curbing the trade and Inspector Loughead felt that the time had come for determined action. The officers spent a few days investigating before any definite action was taken and then swooped down on the violators of the law.

George Woodcock, of Farraday Township, was convicted under the Excise Act for operating an illegal still and was given six months in the Ontario Reformatory.

Frank Zaller, of the same Township, was given six months in the same institution on a similar charge.

Richard Edwards, of Carlow Township, was in a position to pay his fine of $300 for himself, and his wife was also seen the following: John S. Logan, Carlow; Isaac Logan, Carlow; Tom Dupuis, Bangor; John Strickland, Bangor, and Angus ——— of Bancroft. As a result of them convictions the Government is richer to the extent of over $1,300.

In addition to the money realized the Northern Townships have been greatly improved by the clean up of the conditions which have existed there for some time.

REV. FATHER CRAWLEY MOVED TO TRENTON

Picton, June 15.—Rev. Father M. E. Crawley, who for the past twenty months has been pastor of St. Gregory's Roman Catholic Church, has been notified of his transfer to Trenton to the Church of St. Peter-in-Chains. The transfer takes place the last of the month. During his stay here Rev. Crawley has endeared himself to his congregation who deeply regret losing him from their midst. The financial position of the church has improved greatly and it is owing to the need of its extra expenditure at Trenton that Fr. Crawley has been transferred.

SEND DEIGHTON TO INSTITUTION

Toronto Man Discharged By Judge Is Declared Insane

Toronto, June 15.—Geo. Deighton, who was recently found not guilty of the murder of his four-year-old son on the ground of insanity, will be removed to a mental institution in the near future, it was stated today by Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General. It has not yet been decided as to what institution Deighton will be taken. Some difficulty arose owing to the fact that Dr. W. S. Parry, Jail surgeon at the jail where Deighton was confined, had expressed the opinion that Deighton is now sane.

NORANDA CHIEF MARKET FEATURE

Board Inactive With Little Change In Mining Stocks

There was not much excitement in today's market, but Noranda started out at $38.50 bid which is $3 up over night. Shortly after the opening a bid of 240 appeared for Noranda, but no sales took place higher than $38.50, subsequently it eased off closing with a loss of 75c from yesterday at $38. Amulet, ToC and Malartic were all active with little price change. Pend Oreille was heavily bought gaining 8c to $14.35. Towards the close some good sized blocks of Sudbury Basin changed hands around $10 which was 50c up from previous close.

FATHER TRIED TO DROWN SON

Police Conduct Intensive Search For Boy In St. Clair River

Sarnia, Ont., June 15.—Strenuous efforts are being made by the police to find five year old George McCallum, who is believed to be adrift in an open boat on the St. Clair River since Saturday night the father of the boy, John McCallum, laborer, informed police officers that he had just tried to drown his son. He spoke incoherently and seem ed much excited. He was handed over to the police and held on a charge of drunkenness, while the search is being made for the boy.

Motorists driving along the road near the spot where the man and boy were last seen reported seeing the open boat drifting with the current and on which were the small boy and a white dog.

Sarnia, Ont., June 15.—The discovery today of a rowboat containing a small dog and a fishing line believed to establish that five-year-old George Nicol was drowned in the St. Clair River last night. The boat was found at Stag Island seven miles down the river. George McCallum, Arnaud, who took the lad for a ride was arraigned in police court on a nominal charge of vagrancy.

HUNGER FORCES MAN FROM BUSH

Raoul Lallamme, Suspected Murderer, Was Arrested Early Today

Alexandria, Ont., June 15.—Raoul Lallamme, sought by the police in connection with the shooting to death of Albert Lallamme, his brother, on Sunday, was arrested today. The arrest was the culmination of a six days search through the St. Raphael's district. The coroner's jury yesterday found Albert came to death by being murdered by person unknown and recommended the police continue the search for him.

Lallamme was arrested on a farm near St. Raphael, after a farmer noticed a light smoke of smoke from his barn. He is believed to have been forced to return from the woods by hunger.

WHEAT WEAKNESS ON CHICAGO MARKET

Chicago, Ills. June 15.—Lower prices for wheat here went hand in hand early today with a comparative weakness in quotations at Liverpool. The suspicious crop advices from Canada and favorable weather for domestic wheat counted as an additional bearish influence. Opening at 1-8c off to 7-8c up, Chicago wheat later showed declines all around.

Corn and oats were easy with corn starting at 1-4c down to 1-8c up and subsequently undergoing moderate general setback.

HORNSBY SUSPENDED

'Rajah' Reaps Stern Rebuke And Suspension From League President

New York, N. Y., June 15.—Charged with the responsibility for bottle throwing that marked yester day's game between the Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals at Boston, Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Braves, today was ordered suspended for five days. The disturbance occurred when Hornsby was knocked down by some air-cap disputing the Umpire's decisions on strikes.

AMUNDSEN WILL ASSIST SEARCH

Believe Seven Members Drifting Westward Toward Land

Oslo, Norway, June 15. — Raold Amundsen intends to fly to Spitsbergen to assist in the work of rescuing General Umberto Nobile, the companion in the dirigible Norge's flight across the Pole two years ago.

He telegraphed the French ministry of marine his intention when thanking them for the replane they have placed at his disposal.

Rome, June 15.—Word was received in Rome today from the crew of the Italia Di Milano that in two days General Nobile and five members of the crew of the Italia had drifted seventy seven miles to the west. The wind has changed to the east.

King's Bay, June 15.—A strong east wind blowing in Spitsbergen today has delayed the start the Nobile relief party was being driven more to the westward in the direction of the rescue parties now seeking to reach the stranded men off the northeast land.

It snowed during the night, but the sunshine discarded the storm today, making conditions favorable for further investigations.

While there has been much speculation concerning the fate of the seven men carried off in the Italia's balloon, it was felt here that this party must be fully equipped with skis and rifles which would enable them to add to their provisions by hunting polar bear.

BELIEVE WOMAN TOOK OWN LIFE

Coat And Penned Note Indicative of Another "Falls Suicide"

Niagara Falls, N.Y., June 15.—Authorities today were investigating in the belief that the body would be found in the Niagara River above a short distance from the Canadian Falls, of a coat another "Falls suicide." A piece of paper pinned to the coat bore the name and address, Mrs. A. J. Muir, 31 Colborne Street, Thorold, Ont.

Mrs. A. J. Muir, Thorold, whose name and address was found on the coat found on the Niagara River, is the mother of Miss Jean Muir, aged 19 who has been missing from her boarding house in Niagara Falls, N.Y. since Wednesday night.

HEAVY WAVE BREAKS

New York, N.Y., June 15.—The coming heat wave in the Central Atlantic States had been forecast yesterday as a result of several electrical storms that caused the death of one person and the injury of seven. Lightning was the cause in each case.

THUGS HELD UP OFFICE STAFF

Buffalo, N.Y., June 15.— Three masked gunmen held up the office force of the Hasselbeck Cheese Company here today and escaped with more than $1200 in cash and several thousand dollars worth of cheques. Covering fifteen of the office clerks with revolvers the men forced Clarence Hasselbeck, president of the cheese plant, to turn over the keys to the safety box in the safe from which they took money and cheques. They then fled and nobody saw the get-away.

SAFETY AWARD TO BE UNVEILED

Big Day At Plant No. 5 Canada Cement Company Tomorrow

One of the biggest events in the history of the local plant, Number 5 of the Canada Cement Company at Point Anne will take place tomorrow when the safety premium to the local plant for having led in the matter of safety first will be formally presented and dedicated. Plant Number 5 has maintained a splendid record for safety first, five hundred and thirty six days having passed without one man in the plant having lost any time through accidents.

The ceremonies will start with a banquet at the Quinte Hotel at 12:15 when officials of the plant, outside guests, officials from the head office, Montreal, officials of the Workmen's Compensation Board and members of Parliament for this district will be present. Among the honored guests will be Messrs. A. C. Bazge, President of the Canada Cement Company and Mr. Johnson, Vice-President. Mr. Jas. Hill, M. P. P. and Mr. W. E. Johnson, M. P., are expected to attend.

Mayor Morley Duff of Belleville and the Council officials will be the guests of the Canada Cement Company on this special occasion. At one o'clock the parade will start on the baseball grounds at Point Anne, led by the Belleville Light Infantry band and masters of ceremonies, Col. Eric Keeler and Mr. P. J. Hart Assistant Superintendent of the Canada Cement Company's plant at Point Anne. The band will be followed by the school children of Point Anne School, followed by the employees of each department of the plant, including the quarry, ballast, clay pit, drying department, raw mill, coal mill, kiln room, clinker mill, bag department, packing room, railroad department, track department, yard repair room, machine shop and carpenters. The parade will pass the Club house where the guests will review the procession from the verandah.

The cortege will proceed to the office where the trophy will be unveiled by the President of the company, Mr. A. C. Bazge. Short presentation speeches will be given by officials of the plant and others. Mr. R. Abbott, the Safety Engineer at the plant is to be congratulated on the record attained by the employees.

Wimbledon, June 15.—Miss Eileen Bennett, of England defeated Mrs. Molla Mallory of the U.S. champion in the opening singles match of Wightman Cup Tennis Competition between British and the United States Women's teams today by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

Two Per Cent. Is Added To Present County Taxation

RAISED $250,000

County Council Finally Came To Terms In Matter

When County Council convened again this morning the report of the Equalization of Assessment Committee was read by Mr. Geo. Bailey, who made the motion that it be adopted, seconded by R. Vandewater. Carried.

In detail the committee reported as follows. Moved by Mr. Embury, seconded by Mr. Meagher, that the assessment remain the same as last year. For 3; against 10. An amend ment to the motion was that the Court ill should accept Thurlow's offer of $100,000.00 and leave the remainder of the assessment on last years basis, and this motion was also defeated. This was moved by Mr. A. L. Tufts and seconded by Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Laycock moved an amendment to the motion originally moved by Mr. Moore, that $250,000.00 be the amount set, and that each municipalities share be figured out at this amount. It further recommended that 2% be added to every municipality of the County, raising the equalized assessment of the County to the amount of $10,000 or over and above the present equalized assessment.

Thurlow	$150,000.00
Sidney	$ 25,000.00
Rawdon	$ 25,000.00
Madoc Township	$ 10,000.00
Hungerford	$ 15,000.00
Tyendinaga	$ 5,000.00
Deloro	$ 4,500.00
Elzivir	$ 1,000.00
Frankford	$ 4,000.00
Tweed	$ 2,000.00
Madoc	$ 10,000.00
Marmora	$ 1,000.00
Marmora and Lake	$ 3,000.00
Tyendinaga	$ 5,000.00
Elzivir, Grimsthorpe	$ 500.00
Total	$250,000.00

The equalized assessment of the remaining townships will be the same as last year, with the exception of the 2% increase which every township will be called upon to pay. As the $250,000.00 will be shared amongst municipalities brings the total equalized assessment of the county to a fair figure $18,000.00 this extra 2% means an additional revenue to the county of over $600,000.00.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

PARTLY TO BLAME FOR BAD SPELLING

Stenographers are notoriously bad spellers, according to a popular belief which must have been spread by their employers. Not all of those who give dictation are infallible in spelling, but it is obvious that they must know the right of some words or they would not detect the errors of their typists and those who type their incoming mail.

No caustic and general has been the criticism of the stenographer for her orthographic shortcomings that a defender was bound to appear. This inevitable champion is here. He is Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, noted lexicographer, orthographer and orthologist.

Doctor Vizetelly does not go so far as to say that stenographers are good spellers, but for much of their bad spelling he places responsibility upon those from whom they take dictation. In a recent newspaper interview he was quoted as saying:

"Anyone who mispronounces has no right to chide anybody else for misspelling. The man who says 'program' has no right to complain if his stenographer spells the word as he mispronounces it."

This acquits the stenographer in part. All who write have had the experience of misspelling a common word simply because they or someone in their hearing gave it an erroneous pronunciation. The employer who uses shoddy English needs an orthographer for a stenographer but usually makes a word-butcher out of a fair speller.

30 DAYS IN JAIL IS A SURE-CURE

Within the last week, in Hamilton police court, three men have been consigned to jail for thirty days, upon conviction of the offense of being drunk while in charge of motor cars. In only one case did an accident result. The others were simply recognized as being in no condition to safely operate an automobile. The penalties may seem severe to those upon whom they have been visited, but there can be no temporizing with this offense. Compared with the eternity into which drunken drivers have plunged scores of victims in the last few years, a sentence of thirty days is but the tick of a watch. It has been demonstrated that fines are impotent to discourage the mixing of gasoline and booze. In some cities, the slashed sentence of the courts for this offense is a week in jail, in others two weeks. Magistrate Jelfs is placing his dependence on the thirty-days' cure and we have an idea it will beget the best results. There is no subsiding in local court, either, over degree of intoxication or the question, "When is a drinker drunk?" If there is a smell of liquor upon a man's breath and his car has been wearing an erratic course, the court presumes that the accused was intoxicated. This is as it should be. It is a risky business operating an automobile in traffic when one is sold sober. Fly a driver of a motor car with even one drink and it is conceivable that the stimulant will affect his judgment—that the little cogs and gadgets of his thinking mechanism will be either retarded or accelerated—in other words, that in an emergency he would act differently to what he would if he had not taken the liquor into his system. Such a man may be able to talk rationally and walk rationally, but if an accident occurs it must be presumed that alcohol made him incapable of operating the car safely. Thirty-day sentences will educate the motoring public to the advisability of doing their drinking without driving, or their driving without drinking, and the magistrate will be generally commended upon his effort to remove this greatest of all menaces, the drunken driver, from the streets and highways.

"What are you here for?" he asked.

"To report anything unusual sir."

"What would you call unusual?".

"I dunno exactly, sir."

"What would you do if you saw five battleships steaming across the field?"

"Sign the pledge, sir."

Now comes the season when a man who gets mad at his wife can go to the ball park and yell at the umpire.

"You 21 today, and I can vote."

"Yes you can't."

"Why not?"

"There's no election."

THE PASSING YEARS
(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

One of the very prettiest of June weddings took place this morning at St. Michael's Church when Miss Minnie Dolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dolan, became the bride of Mr. Edward McHugh. Right Rev. Mons. Farrelly officiated at the ceremony. The charming bride looked lovely in a gown of white silk crepe de chine with chiffon trimming and she carried white roses.

TO A PARROT TULIP.

Forth from the chilly bosom of the earth
Exotic child of Nature, thou dost spring,
Swaying on slender stem, so gay a thing.
In splendor of barbaric lines! Thy birth
In our cold northern clime seems marvellous.
As 'twere a gorgeous southern bird astray,
Vivid and flame-like, sporting for a day
In pale and placid paths, adventurous host come
And to thy radiant presence, who hast
In sheer, unbending beauty's glorious guise,
We give our thanks, but wonder thou art dumb.

—No voice to match thy plumage?
Thou art wise:
Only a subtle perfume speaks for thee,
And deeper sets thy spell and mystery!

—Christine Henderson.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

STUDENTS FROM SOUTH.

Notice was received this week at Carleton Business College of two more students coming to the College from the distant South early in August, one of them from Bermuda and the other from Barbados in the British West Indies. The latter is Mr. R. C. Brooker, who is mathematical master in a large school in Barbados.

NO COURT TODAY.

After yesterday's heavy police court session, with eighteen cases on the docket, there was no court whatever today. The police, however, are still catching for visitors of the city's by-laws and more offenders will appear in court.

BOARD TO MEET

Tonight will probably see another distinctly warm session of the Board of Education, in the City Council Chambers, the matter of equipment for the new Collegiate Institute will come up once again and will no doubt create animated discussion. Last night a sopping of the Vocation Committee was held.

FOR PICNIC PARTIES

Frank Smith has announced that his spacious new auto bus is at the service of picnic parties who wish to take trips to summer resorts in Hastings and Prince Edward County. The bus is equipped with air-cushions which is one of its special features. The bus has also several other accessories to ward comfort in driving. Parties desiring to procure this bus will call 365.

MAY GUARANTINE TOWNSHIPS.

Mr. Miller Carl, Government Corn Borer Inspector, reported to the County Council yesterday that the pest was gradually working east and next year unless the corn borer is stamped out a quarantine will be placed on the Townships of Rawdon and Hungerford.

AN ERROR

An error occurred in Arnolds advertisement of Thursday's issue. Among the specials featured for this week end by Arnolds is one in which eight bars M Comfort Soap and one large leather shopping bag are offered at the special by low price of 89 cents. It was erroneously stated in the advertisement yesterday that the price was 98 cents. This combination offer is the big feature at Arnold's this week, and one that shouldn't be overlooked.

IN THE CITY

Mr. Searle Leach, a student at Dartmouth University, is visiting friends in the city. Mr. Leach is on his way home to Winnipeg, and he will make a great part of the journey by boat.

LOCAL SINGER ON AIR.

Mr. Jack Deacon, well known local tenor, will be heard over radio this evening from Station CFCA, Toronto, between ten and eleven o'clock. It is understood that Mr. Deacon has signed a contract to sing regularly at this broadcasting station, and his performances will be looked forward to with interest by a large number of friends in this city.

Social and Personals

Mr. George Tilley and his son, are in Toronto attending the funeral of Mr. G. Tilley's sister, Mrs. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Chasters, of Maynooth, N.Y., have returned home after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. C. Eyre, 9 Ridley St., City.

Mr. Bert Powley and Mr. George Smart, of Toronto, are camping at Rice-a-Wee, Moira Lake, for a few weeks.

Mr. Edward Day, of the Canadian National Superintendency, is attending in Montreal attending a meeting of Junior Clerks.

Mr. G. Kirby Waterhouse and wife have returned to Dodoma, Que., after spending their holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Waterhouse, 14 Forin Street.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. MacTavish left this afternoon for Toronto. Dr. MacTavish has been invited to preach on Sunday at the Jubilee service of the Presbyterian Church in Dixie, about fifteen miles west of Toronto. This is a church which he served when a student 42 years ago. He has also been invited to remain for the Jubilee banquet on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bryson Donnan and two sons, Bryson and Edward left Montreal accompanied by her husband Mr. B. aboard the Steamship Duchess of Bedford this morning. Mrs. Donnan was accompanied by her husband, Mr. B. C. Donnan as far as Montreal. She will spent some weeks visiting at her old home in England. The Duchess of Bedford is making her maiden voyage across the Atlantic.

SUMMER—PRESENTS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bailly, 4 Ashley Street, was the scene of a pretty June wedding at 8.30 last evening, when their only daughter, Lila Georgina, was married to the bride of Mr. Ernest William Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Summers of Toronto, formerly of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. E. McCutcheon, pastor of Tabernacle Church, under an arch of evergreens from which was suspended a large white bell.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white satin with rhinestone trimming and her veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of American beauty roses and lily-of-the-valley. Miss Ina Summers, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid and wore a becoming frock of orchid georgette with ecru lace trimming and picture hat to match, and she carried roses and lilies. Mr. Freddie Stirland performed the duties of best man. Little Rose Summers was flower girl and wore a dainty frock of white organdy and carried a basket of flowers.

Mrs. J. Bailly, mother of the bride, wore a gown of pallee crepe with trimmings of orchid satin. Mrs. Alfred Harrow, grandmother of the bride, wore black satin with hand-painted trimmings.

The groom's gift to the bride was a six tube radio set, to the bridesmaid an onyx ring, to the groomsman, a gold tie pin, and to the flower girl, a gold garnet ring.

Mrs. Wickfield played Mendelssohn's wedding march during the ceremon and as the bridal party left Miss Aileen McLaurin sang very prettily 'Guili.'

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party, numbering about two hundred, gathered in the True Blue Hall where a reception and dance was held. An orcestra wit Mr. Jack Deacon at the piano and ukulele furnished excellent music for dancing. Following a buffet luncheon the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a blue ensemble with hat to match.

Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. Summers, mother of the groom, Mrs. and Mrs. Harrow and Mrs. Gilg and an embossed silver tray from Magistrate Mikel. The bride's gifts to the groom were a pair of military brushes and to the groomsman, a military brush.

Mr. and Mrs. Summers will leave on Saturday for their new home in Toronto.

MOTHERS HONORED BY MISSIONARY SOC.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Tabernacle United Church held a largely attended Mother's Day meeting Thursday afternoon. The meeting opened with hymn 'All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name.' Mrs. Tinsdale read the Scripture lesson from the 14th chapter of St. John. After the reception of reports and the transaction of business, the programme was opened by a reading on 'A Mother's Influence,' given by Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. McCutcheon followed with another reading on 'Motherhood.' Prayer by Mrs. Emerson in memory of Mother. A delightful solo was rendered by Mrs. Donaldson, 'My Mother's Songs,' accompanied by Mrs. Frouts. Mrs. Horton gave a very beautiful reading on 'Mothers' Love.' All these numbers were truly effective.

Mrs. O. Sharpe brought interesting gleanings from the recent meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch of W.M.S. held at Lindsay. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Sharpe on her most excellent report. The meeting closed with all singing the Doxology after which a dainty lunch was served. The offering of the afternoon was gratifying, proceeds amounting to $42.50.

MIND NOT MERELY GRANARY OF FACT

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Endowed Psychologist.

There is a popular conception of education, frequently voiced, that is incorrect. The mere fact that it is incorrect would not matter so much were it not that such ideas tend to turn people, especially younger people, against wanting an education.

Education does not, for instance, mean an accumulation of dry facts. Education does not mean the remembering of dates in history. Education does not mean having read a lot of books.

What education actually means is training—training of the mind!

The subjects and facts that one gets in school and college are employed essentially for that purpose only!

Education is the unfolding and development of latent possibilities.

What one studies, learns or memorizes at school is merely the material through which the various mental faculties are stimulated.

Mathematics, for example, develop the reasoning powers better than any other subject.

History broadens the perspective on life and enables you to interpret current events with intelligence.

Literature adds to your vocabulary, gives you an insight into human nature, and makes you more sensitive to the beauties of life.

Education does not set out to put something in the student that isn't there. Education can only develop potentials and possibilities.

If a person possessed only a low degree of intelligence or native intellectual endowment, no amount of education will ever make him superior.

Such a person may acquire a sort of veneer, because of the facts he has assimilated, but such a surface polish is readily detected as fraudulent.

Education does not and cannot bring out what isn't there, at least in embryo.

What's more important still, you and everybody, no matter how old you may be, no matter how little schooling you have had, can educate yourself.

Read, study, profit by experience—that is education—that you can do by yourself quite easily.

Education is worthwhile even in small doses at irregular intervals. Never stop educating yourself.

Even a college professor cannot afford to do this! If he did he would soon grow stale.

Take up the studies that interest you. Before you take up those which bore.

In this way you will keep your mental machinery alive and alert.

Then study some language or science, anything that requires more special effort on your part. That will awaken dormant brain cells.

But whatever you do, keep exercising your mind as you would your body. Keep your mind alive through education.

A satisfactory way of keeping cut flowers fresh during transit is to push the ends of the stalks into pieces of raw potato. Pack blossoms in the usual way. If treated in this manner, the flowers will arrive in perfect condition.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Smart Paris is wearing white ermine wraps with fox or kolinsky collars.

Latest Paris small hats are of felt and straw, and large floppy hats of straw and maline, while strap wrist bags are emphasized.

The little frock in rainbow hues is so lovely and dainty that it is finding great favor among the younger set for dances and evening festivities.

Narrow pieces of silk sewed in stripes which run crosswise instead of lengthwise, is Lanvin's new conception of a scarf.

The popularity of net hose has made its influence felt in lingerie as net underthings are now sponsored for summer in such colors as pink, melon, yellow, seed pearl and skin, or a soft beige.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

THE GAME OF CAT AND MOUSE.

Leaving Falconer in the living-room, leisurely reading a magazine, Celia mounted the stairs slowly.

Miss Page called to her: "Your mother is having her broth, Mrs. Falconer, before settling down for the night. She wants to see you for a moment."

The invalid looked up eagerly when Celia entered the room.

"Darling, I'm so happy tonight to have both my children under my roof. I'm so proud of my new son. I've been lying here, thinking how handsome he is and how devoted to you."

Celia put her hand to her throat.

"I'm glad, I— Oh, Mother dearest all I want in this world is your happiness," she said brokenly.

"I've ordered the guest-room prepared," Mrs. Drew went on.

Celia said, hastily: "Oh, no, no. D-Dick prefers Dad's old quarters. He — he likes to work late at night, just as Dad did."

"Oh, Celia, not that old laboratory!" her mother reproached her. "And the bedroom is so tiny and so bare. Your father didn't care, but your husband——"

"Dick doesn't care for comforts," Celia cut in quickly.

Her mother sighed: "How strange, for a man so rich. But then, I dare say, that's rather a splendid quality. Most young men, these days, are too fond of their comfort."

Celia kissed her good night.

"Sleep well, dear."

"Oh, shall, now that I've seen Richard and know that all is well between you. For a little while, I was worried. You acted so strangely —— and he didn't come to see you —— and you didn't seem to care about seeing him. Be sure that the laboratory and the bedroom are in order, and give him a reading-lamp, if he's going to work there."

Celia promised. She left the room, thanking Heaven for a moment in which to collect her thoughts.

How fortunate that her fathers old quarters were ready for occupancy! While the household slept, Professor Drew had stolen into all his endless experiments in a laboratory located in an ell at the rear of the house. He had fitted up a bedroom, so that, when he worked late, he could sleep there.

Celia found the key in her desk and went down to the ell. The rooms were quite in order. She rang for the maid and told her to dust and make up the bed.

Later she dressed and forced herself to dine with Falconer. He rose to greet her with grave courtesy. To her surprise, he made no reference to the subject they had discussed at such length earlier in the evening. Instead, he began to talk about a book he had been reading. His conversation was gay and witty.

Celia nerved herself to play her role, wondering at her ability to meet the situation so calmly. When the meal was over, he said:

"I must compliment you on your cook, Celia, my dear. I have rarely had a more excellent meal."

They had coffee afterward in the living-room. Falconer lit a cigarette and sank into a chair with a sigh of contentment.

"After all," he said and done, there is nothing to equal the placid joys of married life is there, Celia?"

She murmured something, keeping her eyes lowered to hid their vindictive flare. His assurance, his absolute control of the situation enraged her.

He said: "I see a piano here . . . . Do you play?"

"A little —— when I'm in the mood."

"Then play me some Chopin. I'm in the mood for Chopin tonight."

The odious phrase threw him made him laugh softly. She said, between her teeth:

"My mother is sleeping. The piano would disturb her."

"Of course. How thoughtless of me," he answered quickly. "But some other night, Celia . . . . There will be so many other nights."

She said, choking: "Are you quite heartless?"

"I think so," he replied calmly. "My life has not been the sort that makes one gentle and tender. Would you have me tender, Celia?"

She rose swiftly, conscious of his mocking glance.

"I am very tired. I want to go to my room. If you will come with me now, I will show you your quarters. As long as you are in this house, you are to remain in them —— you understand?"

He sighed, as he dragged himself from the chair. "I'm afraid that you're a bit of a tyrant, my dear. Ah, well, a pretty woman always has that right."

He followed her down the hallway to the door that led to the workshop of the late Professor Drew. Celia switched on the lights.

Falconer said: "Very good. Very good, indeed. I've slept in much less luxurious quarters in my life, I can assure you."

"You will find everything you need, I think. . . . . Good night."

He followed her to the door that connected the ell with the house. His face rested on the key that Celia fitted into the lock.

He laughed softly. "You don't trust my word very much, do you? . . . Ah, well, I dare say you're right. Sleep well. Pleasant dreams."

He turned away. Celia closed the door, turned the key in the lock, and carried it to her room.

Falconer would be a prisoner until she chose to release him the following morning.

SINCLAIR'S

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Never apply paint or enamel to floors or furniture before you have dusted the surface with a dry brush.

By placing the sweetend and spiced vinegar from sweet pickles on cold slaw, you have a different and altogether pleasing dressing.

You may wish to cut down on the amount of shortening to be put into the cake. Then it is worth while to know that cream may be used as a substitute—use two cups of cream and one less of shortening or in proportion that ratio.

SURPRISES IN KI-Y CIRCLES

Game Between Beavers And Golden Bantams Will Be Replayed

Two games were played in the Bantam series which had been previously postponed on account of rain, Golden Bantams were able to take a close game from the Beavers by the score of 8-6 while St. Michael's were downing the Cardinals to the tune of 9 to 7.

In this series after all scheduled games have been played the teams stand in the following order:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Cardinals	4	2	0
Golden Bantams	3	2	1
St. Michael's	3	3	0
Beavers	1	4	1

It now transpires that the game played between the Beavers and the Golden Bantams on the opening night of the league will have to be replayed since it may effect the standing of the teams. The Golden Bantams should they be successful in winning this game, would then be tied with the Cardinals and these two teams would require to play off for the championship. In event of the Beavers winning, the championship of the Bantam section would go to the Cardinals without further games. This game, Golden Bantams at Beavers will be played net Tuesday the 19th at the Prince Street School grounds.

By winning a postponed fixture from the Coleman Flats in last night's game, the Royals made sure of 'B' Section of the Midget group. Royals will now play off with the Flying Canadians, winners of 'A' Section. Home and home games will be played the first to take place at Queen Alexander School grounds Tuesday, 19th, and the return game on Thursday the 21st at the Pine St. School Grounds. In event of each team winning a game a sudden death game will be played the following Tuesday.

The two games played in the Junior section furnished the surprise of the night. Maple Leafs trounced the West Hill Pounders 6-0 while the Ravens were taking a white washing from the Wolves. Six games remain to be played in this series in addition to two postponed fixtures. Following these, the winners of the first and second half will play off for the championship.

A bargain sale is an arrangement wherby a woman can ruin one suit and buy another.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. A. Biltuzgk, of Toronto, and family wish to thank their many friends in Belleville for their kindness at the death of their daughter and sister, for their floral tributes and the men of the C.N.R. for their cars, also their neighbours for their sympathy and their assistance.

Why pay rent when you can buy a home from Belleville Locators at your own terms. Office over Dominion Bank. Phone 561.

WEST HASTINGS INSTITUTE MET

Mrs. Walter Grass of Foxboro Again Honored With Presidency

The last annual district meeting of West Hastings Women's Institute was held at Trinity Church, Trenton, June 8th. About fifty were in attendance. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Walter Grass, of Foxboro. Minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. Reports of the district and branches were given.

The President's address was well given, explaining very clearly and suggesting many ways how new work could be carried on in the district. She introduced a new branch in the district that has recently been organized, now making eight branches in West Hastings districts.

The old officers were again elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Reid and Miss Harris of Belleville, were present and spoke on Shelter work. They told the branches where they could financially, help the Shelter; or any donation would be accepted. They appreciated very much gifts of clothing, food, vegetables, etc. and especially the thoughts we gave them in their work and care of the children, for so many of the children are hopeless cases.

A motion was made that the directors be given authority to have a brass plate made with the name of West Hastings District on it and be put on the door of the dormitory in the Shelter that the district is furnishing with linens, spreads, pillow cases, etc.

A piano solo was well given by Mrs. C. McCrae.

A motion was made and carried that each branch be asked to pay $5.00 to the district to help supply the linens, etc. for the Shelter.

The afternoon session opened with the singing of the Maple Leaf. Mrs. Beatty, District President of East Hastings was the first speaker. She spoke on the splendid work the branches are doing in that district.

All enjoyed the solo played and sung by Miss Eva Rose of Trenton.

Mrs. Pinkie gave the report of the Convention held in Belleville. She gave a very full report of the many splendid addresses that were given at this Convention.

A solo was then given by Mrs. Clayton Curtiss of Trenton which was very nicely sung.

Mr. Wilson, agricultural representative of Stirling spoke on School Fairs, speaking briefly on the changes being made this year. He mentioned very clearly the competitions that are being tried out this year among the boys and girls of the County, held at the Belleville Institute July the 10th.

Dr. Reynolds, President of the Agricultural College at Guelph was the last speaker. He spoke on the rural problems and now they had been before us for a number of years. He told us of many different ways he thought they could be overcome.

The ladies of the Bay of Quinte branch served a very nice lunch at noon, proceeds $11.65.

The next district annual will be held at Chatterton.

News Of Movies

BELLE THEATRE

An amusement park fortune-teller informed her that fame and fortune were to be found as a boxer—she staged a "boxing ballet," called the act "Rough House Rosie and Her Six Roughnecks" and—was a success from the start! That's one of the side-lights discovered in Clara Bow's new picture starring vehicle "Rough House Rosie" which reaches the Belle Theatre tomorrow.

The star is an east side girl, who falls in love with a handsome prizefighter but temporarily deserts him for a society scion. The latter offers her wealth, culture, and all the things which her flance doesn't possess. Naturally, she has a hard time deciding who her true love really is and in the interim, laughs, thrills and dramatic incidents pile up—all culminating in a big smash at the middleweight championship bout.

Reed Howes heads Miss Bow's cast. Arthur Rousman, Doris Hill and Douglas Gilmore also enact featured roles. Frank Strayer, a new comer to Paramount, directed. Max Marcin prepared the adaptation and Ethel Doherty and Louis Lang, the scenario. Monroe Johnson's short story served as a basis for the film.

REGENT THEATRE

The spirit of the great West, with its hardy pioneers, Indians and cowboys, has been successfully transferred to the screen in "The Riding Renegade," an FBO Western picture starring Bob Steele, which is now on view at the Regent Theatre. William Bailey, the director, has invested Frank Howard Clark's story of theadventures of a youth who runs away from home to become a wanderer of the wasteland with a scenic background of the Arizona city of character that will stir the imagination of everyone in the audience. "The Riding Renegade" is a vivid tale, replete with hard riding and fighting and finctured with a delicious love story between Bob Steele and Dorothy Kitchen, who play the two principal roles.

SPARKS' CIRCUS TO SHOW HERE

Advance Car No. 1 Arrives Today — Office On Wheels

Sparks Circus Advance Car No. 1 arrived today, and twenty-five men who make this special Pullman their home eight months of the year are busy heralding the coming of the big show which is to exhibit in Belleville, Friday, June 29, afternoon and night. This is the first arrival of the advertising department of the show, with others to follow at intervals from now until the date of the exhibitions.

The car is under the management of Col. James Randolph, with Harry Mack, contracting paper agent, and a crew of bill posters, lithographers and lithographers. The Pullman is all-steel in construction, and is perhaps the most modern now being used for this purpose, having been built especially for Sparks' Circus this season. Its equipment was all installed under the personal direction of Col. Randolph. There are staterooms for both Col. Randolph and Mr. Mack, and comfortable berths for each member of the crew. The staterooms are so designed as to serve as offices during the day, with every modern device in the way of equipment, including steel filing cabinets, typewriter desks, and other appliances to facilitate the business of this office on wheels.

Sparks Circus this season has been enlarged in every department, and many European novelties have been secured as features of the program which is presented in three rings and on elevated stage.

Cheer up! There can't be any more divorces than there are marriages.

LADY WATERHOUSE DEAD

London, June 15.—Lady Waterhouse, wife of Sir Ronald Waterhouse, former private secretary to Premier Baldwin and now with the Canadian General Investment Trust, died yesterday at St. Raphael, Vaucres.

WILKINS ENNIGHTED

London, June 15.—Capt. George Wilkins, Australian aviator who recently completed a brilliant flight around the top of the world from Alaska to Spitzbergen, was knighted by King George at Buckingham Palace. An announcement of Capt. Wilkin's knighting was made in the recent birthday honors list.

Strawbridge, of Philadelphia, Pa., plans 14-story department store to cost $7,000,000.

BARLOW BARRED FROM FOOTBALL

Director of Oldham Club Will Not Be Active Any More

London, Eng.—(By The Canadian Press).—A. M. Barlow, a director of the Oldham Athletic Football Club, on the recommendation of a Football Association Commission, is not to be permitted to take any further part in soccer football management.

The Commission had been set up to inquire into an alleged remark made by one of the directors of the Oldham Athletic Club at the match at Fulham in which the two clubs were engaged at the height of the "relegation struggle" in April. Fulham had reported the incident to headquarters.

Sir Charles Clegg, the president of the Football Association, was chairman of the commission, the other members being Messrs. A. Kingscott, W. Hart, H. Keys, A. J. Dickinson, and F. J. Wall (secretary).

The following statement was issued at Sheffield:—

"The commission, after hearing the statement of Mr. Lucio, regrets that they are under the necessity of finding that A. M. Barlow, a director of the Oldham Athletic Football Club, made a proposal of a serious character to the Fulham Football Club, and calculated to affect the result of the match between the clubs, played at Fulham on April 14, 1928.

"That they unanimously decided that he be not permitted to take any further part in football management.

"The commission think the Fulham representatives for fulfilling their duty as required by the rules of the Football Association.'

On the day of the match both Fulham and Clapton Orient were in imminent relegation—a fate that subsequently overtook the West London Club.

The game at Fulham resulted in a draw of one goal each. Two days later Oldham visited Clapton Orient. Officials of the Football Association were present at the match—Fulham's complaint had been lodged with the parent body—and they saw the Orient win.

By "The Observer"

The Nationals will face the acid test next Wednesday when they clash with Oshawa here in a double-header. The motor city supporters think very highly of their team and they have visions of a C. O. B. I. championship. The locals fresh from their victory over the Kingston team on Wednesday are sitting pretty had two wins last Wednesday will put them in first position.

Walter Cerow will send the boys at top speed for the next few days in preparation for this double bill. The pitchers will be forced to work out every night and the rest of the squad will be given plenty to do.

Gibson, Uzinski and Jeffery are all in good shape right now and two of them will be needed badly. It would be a sweet victory if the Nationals should slip the Motors a double loss and just at this time it would be mighty handy.

The locals met with considerable success in their game at Oshawa and easily defeated the boys from Sam McLaughlin's burgh. However, that game has been put in the moth-balls and the locals will be taking nothing for granted when the Burgoyne-Schultz squad step out next Wednesday.

Stan Burgoyne, a former Belleville boy and well-known hockey referee has been coaching the Oshawa team and the position occupied by the team at the present time is ample testimony to Stan's ability.

Belleville fans may see our old friend and college chum "Duke" Dalnty in action here. The passing years have not taken their toll in this case and Dalnty can hurl just as good a game now as when he was in his prime when Jack Williams, Teddy Gallagher and Jack Oulette graced this league.

Now that the Nationals have broken the jinx that has prevented them from winning a game in Kingston, they have gained a whole lot of confidence in themselves and they are out to hand the lemon to all and sundry.

The Pets have come back into their own following their win over the Deloro team on Wednesday but they will have their hands full with Joe Daley's scrappy outfit at Kingston tonight.

According to press reports there will be no floral horse-shows awalting Fred Crate and his ball-tossers when they breeze into Kingston Fair Grounds tonight.

The Kingston team and fans have soured on the Pets and they may be prepared for the well-known raspberry when they step out tonight. The people down that way, strange to say were never anxious to hand Shiner Johnston and Company the keys to the City and tonight the enmity will have increased one hundred per cent.

The other teams are bemoaning the fact that Belleville is literally having "it soft" but the Nationals have their share of double-headers ahead.

Miss Ada McKenzie turned in a card on Wednesday in which many a male golfer around these parts would have difficulties in fashing real proud. Miss McKenzie and Mrs. Whittington were conceding each other eight-foot putts while the male fraternity stood about gawkered. Both of them have made a name for themselves in the realm of golf and they made a lot of friends in Belleville by their modest display. The younger adherents of the game picked up a few points which may assist them later on in tournament playing.

Keep in Line on Curves — Don't Try to Pass

CARE COURTESY COMMON SENSE

Don't risk your life on the left side of the road when you cannot see what is coming.

WHAT would you think of a railway engineer who swerved to the rails bearing traffic the opposite way? And then suppose he could not see the head-on traffic!

That is exactly what you do when you attempt to pass another vehicle on a curve, near the top of a hill, at an intersection or at any other place where the road ahead is not in full view.

If you cannot see the road ahead for a reasonable distance, or if there is not a place you can easily reach in your own traffic line ahead, DON'T TRY TO PASS. A car may come in the opposite direction before you get back to your own traffic line. Then—a SMASH—head-on or "side-swipe." In either case, you're hurt for sure, and likely others too.

Highways will be more crowded this year than ever before. There has been a big increase in Ontario-owned cars. A bigger tourist traffic is expected. At times last year there were 800,000 cars on the streets and highways of the Province.

In the face of this increased traffic, the Highway Safety Committee again urges the co-operation of all motorists and pedestrians in an effort to lessen accidents. Both must become "traffic conscious"—aware of the danger which arises from inattention or failure to exercise Care, Courtesy and Common-sense. When driving or walking on streets and highways help in this movement to make Ontario's highways more safe.

Remember these 7 Rules for Safety

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape—particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a clear view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

LADY CAVE IS MADE COUNTESS

London,—(C.P.)—Lady Cave, widow of the late Viscount Cave, who died within twenty-four hours of his resignation, through illness, of the Lord Chancellorship, has been created a Countess in her own right. Lord Cave left no heir. The announcement that he had resigned was accompanied by an intimation of the King's intention to bestow upon him an Earldom of the United Kingdom. The immediate death of Lord Cave, however, precluded the possibility of the issue of the necessary letters patent.

There are many precedents for the bestowal upon the widow of a distinguished public man of an honor for which her husband had been designated but which he did not live to enjoy. On the death in 1861 of W. H. Smith, M. P., who was first Lord of the Treasury and Leader of the House of Commons, his widow, who died in 1913, was raised to the Peerage as Viscountess Hambleden. In the same year the widow of Sir John A. Macdonald, the famous Canadian statesman, received the Barony of Macdonald of Earnscliffe, which became extinct on her death in 1920.

The creation of Lady Cave as a Peeress in her own right increases the number of such Peeresses to twenty-three. The other Countesses in their own right are the Countess of Cromartie, the Countess of Loudoun, the Countess Roberts, and the Countess of Seafield.

NEW STRENGTH FOR WEAK STOMACHS

Indigestion Disappears When the Blood is Enriched

The most unpopular of all who suffer from any form of indigestion is a tonic to enrich the blood. Pain and distress after eating is the way the stomach shows that it is too weak to perform the work of digesting the food it takes. New strength is given to weak stomachs by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they purify and enrich the blood. This accounts for the speedy relief in stomach disorders that follows the use of this medicine. The value of this medicine in cases of indigestion is shown by the case of Mrs. George W. Johnson, Lequille, N. S., who says:—"I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was greatly distressed with indigestion. I suffered pain and relief from pains in the stomach and other distressing symptoms. I tried different remedies, but without getting relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I readily did, and I am feeling very grateful ever since to the person who gave me the advice. The very first box helped me and before I had taken a half dozen boxes I was restored to my former good health and all traces of this distressing trouble disappeared. It is now about a year since I took the pills, and I have not been troubled with indigestion since. I have taken every occasion to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those in need of a medicine and shall continue to do so."

A little booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat", will be sent free to anyone asking for it. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Medicinal Value of Liver

One often finds that old-fashioned dishes like liver and bacon are considered in their effects upon health. A few weeks ago we mentioned in this column that doctors engaged in research work were proclaiming the value of liver as a food. Now comes a report that American scientists have used it with success as a remedy for that dreadful wasting disease called "pernicious anaemia." The vitamine which liver contains ("A") is particularly needed by sufferers from that distressing complaint. There seems to be no doubt that many who have been treated in this way have been cured.

WHIT

David Lee Wharton.

Why do we persist in likening evil and disagreeable people to animals who for the most part are undeniable traits? For instance:

Why is coarse and boisterous laughter called a horse laugh? Horses surely do not indulge in rudeness.

Why is the name given to common person said to be "as cross as a bear," when a bear is noted for his rollicking good nature

Why is an unkind and meddlesome person referred to as a cat fight, when is one of the kindest and most mother-like of creatures, attending strictly to her own brood?

Why is one who is deceitful and dishonorable referred to as "a dirty dog", when a dog'sheart is clean and honor able in the core.

Why should a coward be called "chicken-hearted" when chickens will fight to the death not only to protect themselves and their young but to defend friendless pets to their property?

Why is a man who turns upon his benefactor, and seeks to injure him, termed "an ungrateful cur"? Such a thing as an ungrateful cur does not exist.

TAKING SIDES

"The story is told," writes Mr. John T. Faris, in "The Book of Everyday Heroism," of a head master of a boys' school famous for turning out virile, aggressive students, that he once began a talk with the telling quotation: Gustavus Adolphus, King of Sweden, to the ambassador of the Elector of Brandenburg: 'I will hear nothing and know nothing of neutrality. His Highness must be friefid or foe. When I come to his borders, he must declare himself hot or cold. The battle is between God and the devil.'

"Day after day, in some form or other a like message was given to the lads; for the master knew that, unless they got fast hold of the lesson that they must take sides, his other teaching would fail. He wanted them to understand that success is measured by the power to choose, that the only ploughshare that can get through the flinty soil of daily life is robust will. That reasowwarrenne edrdno rethantoday. lesson was never needed more than today. Indecision is flai failure. It is crn fessed infirmity. The undecided man owns that he is unequal to the occasion.

"See how it is in daily life. The banker must determine whether to invest his funds in real estate or in some other promising investment; he cannot let them remain idle. The merchant must decide as to the necessities of his trade—for instance whether gingham or prints will be more in demand this season. He may be wrong in his judgment but he must make his choice. The engineer, surveying for the proposed railway line has a number of available routes. He must choose among them; the road simply cannot be built until the choice is made. The physician needs to follow some regular course of treatment, or his patient stands little chance of recovery. The invalid in a rch of health keeps always his object in view, and tries to bend everything to his purpose to be well once more.

"If these things are true in such comparatively small matters as money, pleasure or health, how much more so in all that pertains to the higher life. The individual, the moral, the spiritual powers respond to the same law with only more celerity and certainty. What course of action will you take? You must decide, or your mind acquires no fixity. What rule of morals will you follow? Amid conflicting claims you must determine, or you gain no character."

Let Me Tell You

A slice of lemon bandaged over a troublesome corn will be a few consecutive nights will enable the corn to be easily removed; this treatment may also be applied to warts.

A little lemon juice cooked with mashed rice will keep the grains separate and white.

If you swallow a fish bone, suck a lemon slowly. The bone will dissolve.

Lemon juice as an ingredient of salad dressing is much more delicate than vinegar.

Left-over sandwiches, sweet or savory, can be used up in fritters, when being dipped in batter and fried in deep fat.

A little orris root tied in a muslin bag and placed in water in which handkerchiefs are boiled will give them a scent of violets when ironed.

The reason why batters should be well beaten and left to stand some time before eggs are added is that the grainsaf flour may have room and time to swell.

Patent leather shoes should never be put under a bed and should always be kept on trees. They can, too, with advantage have a little French chalk dusted into them occasionally.

To whiten a kitchen table add a few drops of ammonia to the hot water used for scrubbing the table in the drinking water. This will prevent it turning a yellowish colour.

When peeling onions hold them under warm water. All smell may be removed from the hands by rubbing them with a little ground coffee. A few grains of coffee will also destroy any taint from the breath if chewed for a moment.

Poems Old And New

FIVE

He's five!
How glorious just to be
Alive—and five!
There are so many things I'd do,
If I were five, without the O-
To follow it
And make me sit
Sedately so,
When many times
All that I really want
Is just to romp and play
In daisied fields away.
He's five!
How glorious just to be
Alive—and five!

SOLACE

By Dorothy Parker

There was a time that faded young:
I saw its shattered beauty hung
Upon a broken stem:
I heard them say, "What need to care,
With roses budding everywhere?"
I did not answer them.

There was a bird brought down to die;
They said, "A thousand fill the sky—
What reason to be sad?"
There was a girl whose lover fled:
I did not wait the while they said,
"There's many another lad."

LATE SPRING

By Theodora Maynard

The spring is late this year,
But now that she is here
The long delay
Gives joy a keener edge.
The dogwood and the hedge
Know it in May.

The impatient trees explode
Into the tremulous load
Of leaves and flowers
April kept back too long;
And into frenzied song
Flute, bugle, violin, gong,
The bright birds flash among
The petalled bowers.

Though many seeds have died
In the cold earth,
Refusing to be denied
The live have multiplied
Death in their birth.

ONTARIO MAKES RAPID STRIDES AS POPULAR SUMMER PLAYGROUND

A ready answer to the question "Where shall we go for our holidays?" is found today among the many attractive and pleasurable resorts that have made Ontario's highlands and lake districts the mecca of vacationists from all across the continent. From the blue waters of Huron to the rock spattered streams of the Ottawa Valley, picturesque lakes, and sparkling rivers vie with each other as popular resorts.

For the ardent fisherman the Kawartha Lakes, the Thirty Thousand Islands of Georgian Bay, the Magnetawan, Pickerel and French river districts and Aniand lakes of Algonquin Park offer the best of bass, muskinonge and trout fishing.

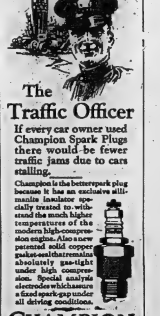

For some a holiday is not complete without a canoe trip. For these, once again, the Rideau Lakes and the upper streams and lakes of Algonquin Park offer a thousand delightful canoe trips with open-air camping and cooking thrown in for extra measure.

For general holidays such resorts as Muskoka Lakes, Lake of Bays, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, and Lakes Couchiching and Simcoe are recommended.

Any Canadian National Railways Agent will gladly give you literature and full information on all of Ontario's summer resorts and assist you in planning your holiday. 111418

CLAIMS FAMILY WAS SWINDLED

Yorkshire Woman Thinks Canadians Gave Them a Poor Deal

York, Eng.—(C.P.)—Allegations of poor treatment on their arrival in Canada, are made by Mr. and Mrs. James Lowe, who left Halifax, York, some months ago with their four children—a girl and three boys—under the Assisted Passage Scheme.

The Yorkshire Post says that when the couple left England they understood they had been promised there would be work for them in Canada, and they carried letters of introduction from the Mayor and Mayoress of Halifax to the Mayor and Mayoress of Winnipeg, and from the Halifax Rotary Club to the Winnipeg Rotary Club. The joint income promised was 14 pounds a month.

According to a letter received at Halifax, Mr. Lowe was out of work for some time; and when he received employment it was at a farm, with long hours at a rate of 5 shilling 3d per day. Mrs. Lowe declares: "It is nothing but a huge swindle for the Canadians to get labor at next to nothing."

A. H. Gledhill, who during his stay locally was the means of establishing a Migration Committee at Halifax to assist emigrants, says the Overseas Settlement Department had called direct to Canada asking for a full report on the case.

It is stated by the Winnipeg Rotary Club President that Lowe has been placed in one of the best crop-producing sections in the whole of the Canadian West.

The Canadian National Railways Department at Liverpool have written stating that official cables deny the accusations of Mrs. Lowe. It is, however, admitted that some difficulty was experienced in placing this family, owing to the number and ages of the children, as opportunities, which were available when they arrived at Winnipeg, did not suit Mr. Lowe."

To this letter Mr. Gledhill has replied that in view of the very definite promises which were made to the Lowe family, even to the name of the town —Port Lookout, Manitoba—no difficulty ment in the letter was unsatisfactory. "My committee will be glad if you will kindly arrange for the representative who interviewed the Lowe family to come to Halifax to interview the chairman and secretary of the Migration Committee," concludes Mr. Gledhill.

DID NOT HOLD UP LIQUOR SMUGGLERS

Boston.—(C.P.)—Because a vessel, alleged to have on board a cargo of liquor, sank in flames with any evidence she might have carried, U. S. Attorney-General Tew refused to hold members of her crew on charges brought by the coast guard.

The coast guard cutter Paulding found the Humpe, a three-engined craft, afire off Nantucket and took off her crew of five. Because of danger of a gasoline explosion the coast guard craft sank the Humpe with a shot from one of her guns.

The fact that the material evidence was on the bottom of the ocean, well outside the territorial waters of the United States required long deliberation on the part of federal officials, although coastguardmen insisted the Humpe carried a cargo of valuable liquors.

RAWLINSON WAS NOTED SOLDIER

Probably Saw More Active Service Than Any Other Warrior

London.—(By C.P.)—Cable despatches have referred to the life of General Lord Rawlinson," which, edited by Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice and published by Cassell, has just appeared here. Lord Rawlinson, at the time of the outbreak of the war, had probably seen more active service than any of his contemporaries. He went through one of the skirmishes in Burmah as a subaltern, was deputy assistant Adjutant-General in the Nile Expedition, and participated in the South African War from start to finish. As the Great War he commanded the Fourth Army, and finally gained the sanction of his life by being appointed Commander-in-Chief in India. He was holding this appointment on his death in March, 1925.

Maj.—General Maurice has let the late soldier tell his own story through his letters and diaries. "Rawly", as he was known to soldiers and civilians throughout his career, was termed, one of the lucky ones." He started with plenty of means and family influence; he came early under the favorable notice of Lord Roberts, and later Lord Kitchener. "I have been very lucky but I think I can honestly say I have done my best to deserve my luck," he wrote at the close of the South African War. His biographer remarks that neither Roberts nor Kitchener would have advanced his career as they did, had he not proved to them that he possessed qualities to make him worthy of their interest. In the war, says General Maurice, Rawlinson had few copper bullets to prove his fallibility as a strategist; it was as a tactician and leader of men that his powers were displayed.

The book is so interesting that only one or two minor points perhaps special tunities to give proof of ability as interest to Canadians can here be touched upon. How Rawlinson one time had thoughts of settling in the Dominion, and how impressed he was with its possibilities of development, has been mentioned in cables, as also his high opinion of the Canadian militia as he found it a few years prior to the war.

It is interesting to note that Rawlinson was a fellow-student with Viscount Ilyng at the Staff College, Camberley. Rawlinson's bosom friend throughout their careers was the late Sir Henry Wilson, whom he first encountered in the hills of Murmah when as subalterns they were hunting Dacoits, or thugs. Rawlinson has a touching entry concerning Wilson's assassination. The news came to him when he was Commander-in-Chief in India.

"I am sick at heart. I have lost my most intimate and valued friend,...Our careers have been parallel ever since we first met in the Mounted Infantry in Burmah in 1886, and we have written to each other almost continuously for 30 years.....Well, he is out of the race and I must replace him as a friend. Losing one's friends is the thing of all others that makes one feel one's years. The boys are very nice, and I delight in them; but they can never be the same as part of one's own age, with whom one has worked and played."

"How Much Water Should Baby Get?"

A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brigden

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of baby weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves him feverish, cross, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies, and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, and increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book for Mother—hood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for its signature and that of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottle contains thirty-five doses.

Great Praise For Baby's Own Tablets

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co. have received the following letter from Mrs. Griffith, of 21 Merchant Ave., East Hamilton, Ont., concerning her experience with Baby's Own Tablets:

Dear Sirs,—I wish to thank you for the kindly little hooklet you sent me on the Care of Children. My baby boy was six weeks old when I first used Baby's Own Tablets, being new to Canada, but since the first proof of their many uses in bringing up a family, I have never been without them, for they are worth their weight in gold. There is no trouble in getting the little ones to take them and they often prevent an illness if taken in time. My first baby is now a boy of five years and a half years, a picture of health and strength, and the baby is also well and happy. They are both a real good sample of what Baby's Own Tablets can do, for I have never yet needed a doctor for either of them."

The booklet to which Mrs. Griffith refers is entitled "Care of the Baby," and treats with what a mother ought to know for baby's sake. A copy of the booklet will be sent free to anyone requesting same from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

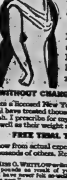

1ST TEMPERANCE SPEECH, DELTA

Centennial Will Be Observed In Tiny Village In Ontario

Brockville.—(C.P.) — The centennial of the delivery of what is reputed to have been the first temperance address in Ontario, as well as of the foundation of the first temperance society in Province of Ontario, is to be celebrated on Sunday, June 10, in the village of Delta, formerly known as Beverly, under the auspices of the Prohibition Federation of Canada...and the Ontario Prohibition Union, acting in conjunction with the Brockville and Lyndhurst Prohibition Unions.

The address was delivered by Dr. Peter Schofield at that time a physician practising in the vicinity of Delta, and was followed not long afterwards by the organization of the Brockville Temperance Society, the first in Upper Canada, which was fathered by a Rev. Mr. Christmas, of Montreal, and which had as its original members Luther Houghton, afterwards a minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church; Stephen Gardner; Silas Flint, later a Senator belonging to Belleville, and a strong upholder of temperance legislation; Stephen Richards, father of three Cabinet ministers, one of them also the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; and Adiel Sherwood, for many years sheriff of Leeds and Grenville.

Descendants of several of these pioneers in the realm of temperance reform are expected to be in attendance at the observance of the centennial, to the programme of which a number of distinguished speakers have been asked to contribute.

NEW FILMS TO BE IN COLOUR

For Use In Ordinary Cameras; Will Take Natural Color Pictures

London (By The Canadian Press)—Prevailing to open up a new and delightful world for the amateur camera fan who loves taking snapshots, is a development perfected in this country by which snapshots in color can be taken with the same ease as the ordinary black and white snap and at only 3½ times the cost of the ordinary film. The ordinary camera may be used.

The amateur can buy a special roll film, insert it in an ordinary camera, give one exposure at a 25th of a second in any reasonable light, producing simultaneously three negatives, approximately blue-sensitive to be printed in yellow, green-sensitive to be printed in red, and red-sensitive to be printed in blue. He can send the exposed rolls through the ordinary agencies to service stations arranged by the new organization, and in due course will receive as many prints as he wishes of his snapshots in color. If he likes to do his own developing and printing he can buy the necessary materials and produce his own results with no apparatus that he does not already possess.

Photographs of scarcely in flight taken at an exposure of 1-25th of a second in February, street scenes, landscapes, groups, pottery, home pastimes, flowers, marine subjects, studio portraits, and a snapshot of King Amanullah during his recent visit to the Royal Air Force display at Hendo, have turned out perfectly. They have a more pleasing result than those obtained by block-makers and color printers using new methods, but what their visual work is touching up the plates.

The simple solution for which inventors have been striving for more than 50 years seems to have been found. Notwithstanding the many hundreds of patents which have been filed, until now there has been no system by which an amateur could use films or plates in his own camera from which snapshot pictures in color, reproducible on paper, could be made. There is, as always in applied science, a long history of invention and experiment, but the new system is the product of a small group of scientific and business men who have combined their efforts for several years and have had a laboratory at work for two years continuously.

The scientific advisory committee has included H. G. Klein, a well-known authority on photo-chemistry who did valuable work during the war in the manufacture of photographic and optical instruments; Mr. Thorne-Baker, F.R.C.S., a specialist on photographic emulsions; Dr. L. G. Martin of the department of optics at the Imperial College of Science, and Major Klein, color adviser to the Calico Printers' Association whose work on camouflage during the war was important.

P. E. I. TROUT A HATCHERY BOON

New Englander Finds That Mixed Stock Produces Fine Specimen

Wareham, Mass.—H. L. Handy, proprietor of one of the largest trout hatcheries in the world, has found that introduction of trout from Prince Edward Island has greatly improved his stock. Much of this improvement, according to Handy, is to be seen in the delicate pink tinge coloring the underpart of the fish now in his hatchery and the waters he has stocked.

Handy annually raises hundreds of thousands of trout and at the present time there are over 200,000 trout ranging in size from five to ten inches in his hatchery. Also he has countless thousands of smaller fry. He has placed ten tons of trout averaging nine inches in length in the streams and ponds on his property this year.

Feeding the herds of ravenous fish is no small problem. Handy says the larger fish consume four tons of meat and fish weekly. The smaller fish, these newly hatched and up to fingerling size, are fed liver, ground to almost liquid consistency. This is introduced into the clear, cold water, absolutely necessary to trout.

Like any other business, Handy's has its risks. Natural enemies of trout must be combatted throughout the year. These include mink and otter and various species of eating birds, such as the Blue heron. During the winter months the mink and otter are trapped and many of them are caught.

A by-product of the hatchery is trout eggs, and these are sent to many widely scattered sections of the country. An average sized trout will yield a thousand eggs, according to Handy. Handy is of the opinion that trout fishing of the future in this colony will depend to a large extent on the stocking of streams.

GERMAN GLIDERS ARRIVE IN U. S.

Will Demonstrate To American Youth Fascinating Art of Gliding

New York, N.Y.—Three of Germany's most skilful pilots of the elementary flying machine, the glider, have come to give youthful aviation enthusiasts in this country a few pointers on the fascinating pastime of touring the skies in motorless planes. The visitors are Captain Paul Roeder, Peter Hesselbach and Dr. Paul Lauchenthal.

Germany has probably gone farther than any other nation in the development of gliding since the war. She has now more than a hundred gliding and gliding clubs, with a total membership of nearly 30,000 persons, mostly boys too young to use powered planes; and older youths who are seeking pilots' jobs with the commercial aviation companies. These concerns now demand that their flyers be "three bird" gliding and soaring experts before they can take the advanced two-year course of instruction, which is the preliminary training for motor piloting. The three birds denote that the young airmen have mastered the three common types of gliders.

Air currents provide the motive power for a glider, and the knowledge of their eccentricities which the prospective pilot gains in flights with this simple machine is of great value to him when he graduates to a ship that has a power plant.

The first type of motorless plane, assigned to the beginner, is called a circling machine. It is simply constructed so that repairs can be made easily and is used chiefly for teaching ordinary gliding. When a student can operate it efficiently he wins his third bird.

The next assignment is to a machine of slightly different construction, in which the youth does his first soaring and learns the trick of making his plane rise in the air. A thorough grasp of this technic gains him his second bird, and he is ready for his season with the third motorless air vehicle, a more complicated type, which both glides and soars. Mastery of this brings the third bird.

Hesselbach, who, like his two comrades, is a licensed motor pilot, holds the world's record for sustained flight in a two-seater motorless plane with a passenger. In the European gliding and soaring contests held last summer in the Crimea, he remained aloft with companion for five hours and fifty minutes. The single seater mark is held by Ferdinand Schulz, who soared for fourteen hours and 40 minutes without a motor.

The German birdmen have come to this country at the invitation of C. C. Pemcy, Jr., and the American Motorless Aviation Club, recently formed in New York to promote interest in gliding and soaring. They plan to give exhibitions in various cities.

SIX EASTER DATE

London, April 15.—The House of Commons today adopted the so-called Easter Bill which provides for the stabilization of Easter, fixing the date as the Sunday after the second Saturday in April.

No wonder the movies started to talk, after all these years of listening to people making the subtitles. It was enough to make the movies cry right out loud.

My dear Sole.

Thanks for yours with enclosure. At last I seem to have found—thanks to you—the complete insurance—An Unlimited All-Risks Automobile policy

And to think that in the past I have been exposing my resources to possibly expensive accidents with only $5.000 protection.

It has been my constant worry that some day I or some member of my household should badly injure some person of note and that I should find my house and home sold to pay the bill.

The new Whippet Six arrives backed by a Series of gruelling Performance Tests that set up a
New World's Record

Setting
NEW WORLD'S RECORD
for Power and Endurance

Chick Murray

MOTOR-WISE BUYERS are no longer accepting claims. They want facts, not fancies. Actual tests—not horse talk.

For that reason the new Whippet Six was put to the most rigid tests before offering it to the public. It broke all speed and endurance records for cars listed in Canada under $1200.

Chick Murray, Internationally known racing driver, made the tests with a strictly stock Whippet Six Coach at Indianapolis on March 17th, 1928. Each run was officially timed and checked, and an affidavit furnished. Here are the results:

1 24-HOUR RUN—1357.5 miles at an average speed of 56.52 miles per hour (elapsed time). To maintain this speed it was necessary for the new Whippet Six to go at least 6567 miles per hour—thus breaking all speed records in its price class. The former record of 54.103 miles per hour was held by a six-cylinder car selling for a price far in excess of the new Whippet Six.

2 HIGH-SPEED RUN—50 miles in 47 minutes 37.14 seconds. An average of 63 miles per hour. No stops were made during the run. At the finish one's finger could be held in the water of the radiator without experiencing any discomfort—thus proving the efficiency of the cooling system.

3 SECOND-GEAR RUN—150 miles in 4 hours, at an average speed of 37.5 miles per hour. To maintain this average speed it was necessary to go 41.25 miles per hour.

4 ECONOMY RUN—2245 miles at an average speed of 25.5 miles per hour, using only 5 carefully measured gallons of gasoline, or an average (per American gallon) of 24.7 miles per gallon.

The New Whippet Six has not only a performance ability never before obtainable in any car of its size and price but it has a

(instead of the usual 3 or 4)
GIVES SILKY SMOOTHNESS

The heavy, rigid, drilled crankshaft is perfectly balanced and supported on seven bronze-backed, babbitt main bearings—giving the utmost smoothness of power delivery.

The New Whippet Six offers, too, an array of other mechanical features worthy of a car costing twice its price, for instance a high-compression engine ... full force-feed lubrication ... thermostat ... silent timing chain ... four-wheel brakes ... a sprunch, dependable chassis ... smooth-shifting transmission ... finger-tip steering—all resulting from its new principles of design.

The World's Lowest-Priced Six
With 7-Bearing Crankshaft

The New Whippet Six is in many respects the most amazing car of the year. Excelling not only in performance and flexibility (accelerating from 5 to 25 miles in 7.2 seconds) but in appearance as well. It is a car of most modern design. Long, low-swung bodies in harmonious lacquers, cadet type visors, remote door controls and smart, extra-roomy interiors give a distinction and an air of luxury that will evoke your admiration.

We will place a new Whippet Six at your disposal. Drive and test it yourself. What you'll find will be a revelation. Buy no car until you drive this remarkable new automobile. Immediate delivery.

MODERN BAKERY SOLVES SUMMER BAKING PROBLEM

Tarlington's Line of Cakes And Pastry Fills Need

Summer weather at last that we've all been waiting for; makes one think of outdoors and holidays, and all that sort of thing. And with those thoughts, one realizes that this is no time of the year to spend hours in a hot kitchen making pies, cakes, and all kinds of pastry, especially when the best of them may now be baked for you in a modern bakery, mid spick and span surroundings, and all one has to do is to select what she wants in that store.

Naturally when one thinks of good cakes, doughnuts, cookies and all the rest, one thinks of Tarlington's, the firm which has been the cause of a great reduction in the amount of home cooking being done today.

The women of today simply don't find time for it anyway, and Tarlington's fills demand for pastry of the better class, which will actually replace that baked at home.

Next time you're down street, if you're not already a regular Tarlington customer, drop into the store and see for yourself what a choice array of pastry awaits your selection. And it's all just as pure and good as it looks, because made from only the purest ingredients by expert bakers. You'll like it, and it will let you out of the kitchen and into the open air this summer.

IDEAL SERVICE AT WONG'S CAFE

Good food well cooked, and promptly served is something any man naturally seeks, and you'll get that at Wong's. You'll find Wong's full course dinner for only fifty cents a daily business man's meal—and one you'll like.

NEW DECORATING SERVICE IN CITY

Have you any painting or decorating promptly, skilfully, and at the same time done at the price you want to pay?

If you have, G. Gazley at 125 Yeomans Street is ready to fill the bill for you. Years of experience with reputable painting and decorating firms in this city and elsewhere put him in a position to handle this work for you in a capable way.

Mr. Gazley has been handling some fairly large contracts lately—and giving satisfaction on these jobs, too. At the present time, he is engaged in painting the pumphouse.

A phone call to 1971 will bring you prompt service from this firm, one of the newest in this line in the city.

GERM FREE ICE ESSENTIAL FOR PROPER HEALTH

Graham's Is Pure And Clean And Is Cheaper

If you haven't got your name on Graham's lists for ice delivery yet, don't hesitate any longer, for it looks as if the hot weather is here to stay.

Every day, Graham's list of satisfied ice customers is increasing, and the reason is not hard to find. Graham's is the one ice that is absolutely pure and safe, is harder and is actually cheaper than any other choice.

These are not idle statements but may be easily proven to your own satisfaction by the verdict of your friends. Any bf them, customers of Grahams, will tell you that Graham's ice is harder than other ice, therefore lasts longer; they will tell you too, that it is absolutely clean, and free from dirty messy sawdust, so there's no clogging of the drain pipes.

The chief feature of Graham's pure ice is of course the fact that it is made from pure water and is therefore absolutely safe and healthy—free from any possibility of disease germs, it may safely be used in your drinking water and the user can be perfectly satisfied that his ice is safe and clean in every way.

A phone call to 374 will put your name on Graham's lists for immediate and regular delivery. Do it now.

THE NEW WHIPPET SIX SEDAN.

Introduction of the new Whippet Six equipped with a seven-bearing crankshaft, a new achievement for the Willys-Overland Company, shown above is the Whippet Six Sedan which power plant that has already set a new record for a 24-hour run on the Indianapolis Speedway for cars selling under $1,200. The bodies are marked by smart lines—while the interior compartments provide an unusual amount of leg room.

THE NEW WHIPPET SIX COACH.

Willys-Overland's presentation of the new Whippet Six—which, is equipped with a highly developed power plant featuring for the first time in the history of a low priced six, a seven-bearing crankshaft—is a new achievement for the Toronto manufacturer. The Whippet Six Coach, which is priced at $915, is shown above. The interiors are marked by unusual roominess—easily accommodating five passengers. This new line of sizes is presented in smart color combinations that blend perfectly with the interior upholstery. In tests made in every section of the country over a period of more than six months, the new Whippet has shown unusually high sustained speed-averages and a marked ability to climb steep grades smoothly and without any strain on the power plant. These cars are now being shown in all Willys-Overland showrooms.

Board Of Education Draft Estimates-Warm Debate In Council-Hall Thronged For Graduation

DISCUSSION ON EQUALIZATION

Reeve Mitchell of Thurlow Voices Strong Opposition To Scheme

WARM SESSION

Reeve Geo. Bailey of Rawdon Makes Plea For His Township

When County Council resumed for the closing session on Friday afternoon a representative was heard from a company in Toronto with reference to the use of Calcium Chloride on roads.

Calcium Chloride is used largely as a dust layer and a road binder, as it saves the gravel by holding it on the road and keeping it moist so that dust does not form and consequently does not blow off the road. When dust blows away the road is really blowing away.

It is a white flaky chemical substance which attracts water and dissolves when placed on the road. When it dissolves it makes the road keep the same condition, as if a light rain had fallen. The first application a season is needed and it is cheaper than oil by far. This matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

A deputation from Tweed was next heard consisting of Dr. Mather, Mr. Houston and Mr. Carey, asking for $600.00 to help them equip their Hospital with modern requirements. This was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Argument waxed hot and furious for a time when the By-law with respect to the Municipality Assessment was given its reading. Mr. Mitchell, Reeve of Thurlow, disagreed most emphatically with the Equalization Scheme as laid down by this year's Council, and proceeded to tell the other members so in no uncertain manner. He took the stand that as Thurlow represented at least one fifth of the assessable property value in Hastings, they should have some consideration as regards what the increase should be.

Mr. Mitchell at the committee meeting yesterday felt that $100,000.00 was all that Thurlow should be raised this year, and then he went up $25,000.00 when the balance of the committee felt that Thurlow should be raised to $150,000.00, however, and Mr. Mitchell declared today that he thought certain members of the Council were very unjust in their stand.

The other side of the story was not lacking in supporters, however, and Mr. R. C. Thrift of Madoc was on his feet immediately Mr. Mitchell sat down. He declared that Mr. Mitchell had practically admitted that Thurlow needed to be raised, as the Reeve had offered to raise $100,000 of the year's assessment. Why should he

EXECUTIVE MAY CONVENE HERE

Finance Committee Will Provide Entertainment For Road Men

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Airhart told the County Council of the likelihood of the Ontario Good Roads Association holding their Annual Executive Convention in Belleville this year. As the President of this Association is a Belleville man, Mr. Rupert, County Clerk, it was felt that the Hastings County Council should in some manner make arrangements for the entertainment of the Executive when they came here.

There are twelve or fifteen active members of the executive, and some sort of recognition should be given them. The Finance Committee was elected to act as Entertainment Committee, and they are to get in touch with the Belleville City Council and work in conjunction with a committee from that body if such committee is formed. This matter will likely come up at the City Council meeting on Monday evening next.

PROSPECTUS OF CURRICULUM WILL BE SENT TO ALL H.S. STUDENTS

Small Plot of Ground Is Sold To New Canning Company

Some discussion centered around the increase in salary of Prof. Hunt during the reading of the minutes of the last meeting but this was finally ironed out and the minutes read and adopted.

The Finance Committee read their report and it was adopted without much talk. Later in the evening they adjourned and were out considering the levy for so long that when they returned a quorum could not be made, so the report on their finding could not be given.

P. C. MacLaurin asked the Board in a communication for the use of Queen Alexandra School this year for the examinations to be held later in the month, and this request was granted.

A very complimentary report was received from the High School inspector regarding the manner in which the principal and the teachers had come through this very trying year, when they worked under great difficulty and under the very trying handicap of having construction go on around them, yet came through with flying colours. This report, too, was adopted unanimously.

SCHOOL NURSE SUBMITS REPORT

Miss M. F. Ross, school nurse, gave her report to the Board of Education last night, as follows. During May, 14 Dental Clinics were held at which the following work was done: Permanent fillings 139, permanent teeth treated 8, temporary teeth treated 2, temporary teeth extracted 57, examinations 16.

Special examinations were made of 97 pupils in Queen Alexandra School and eight were found to have defective vision. There were 2 cases of pneumonia, 11 cases of pink eye, 5 of whooping cough 3 of mumps, 11 of chicken pox, and one of measles. Two of the scholars were taken to hospital. There were 43 treatments in the office 50 home visits and 61 consultations. All of which are respectfully submitted by Miss Ross.

SEVEN NURSES GIVEN DIPLOMAS

St. Thomas' Parish Hall Was Packed For Graduating Exercises

SPECIAL PRIZES

Seven Cardinal Virtues of Profession Outlined By Dr. E. Connor

Graduation is always associated with the commencing of life in a new sphere and also as being at a somewhat most impressive ceremony, seven young women were graduated from the halls of the Belleville General Hospital to begin life in the nursing profession, the chosen work wherein and devotion to duty are ranked above all other considerations.

Owing to the crowded condition of the Hospital the exercises were conducted in the St. Thomas Church Parish Hall and the large crowd present taxed the seating capacity of the building. Sharp at 8 o'clock the seven graduates, Misses Leila Miller, Marguerite Fitzgerald, Agnes Wood, Eleanor Pollock, Ila Ashley, Marie Drinkwater and Minnie Perrill in company with the Superintendent, Miss McIndoe, the nursing staff of the Hospital and the Medical Staff training, marched up the aisle and took their places on the platform which was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut roses.

His Worship, Mayor M. F. Duff, performed the duties of chairman and was a happy choice. Present on the platform with him were Col. Vanderwater, Warden C. S. Rollins, The Rev. J. Tyrrell, Rev. St. Thomas Church, A. B. Collins.

Rev. Mr. Jones opened the exercises with prayer, followed by the chairman's remarks. In a short address Mr. Duff, congratulated the young ladies on the realization of their ambition, the attainment of the goal for which they had spent three years in difficult work and application to study.

Presented Diplomas.

Col. Roscoe Vanderwater then presented the diplomas and the young nurses as they rose to receive them made a charming picture in their crisp white uniforms relieved by their large graduation bouquets of American Beauty roses. Presentation of the nurses' pins by Miss Collier then followed. Perhaps the most impressive part of the whole exercises then took place when the young nurses repeated in unison the Nightingale pledge in unison with the Rev. J. Tyrrell. The pledge binds all in the nursing profession dedicates the professional life to the highest principles only.

A splendid address was delivered by Dr. Connor, Dr. Emma Connor, who spoke of the apparent miracles brought about by medical science in healing ills of the body. Her words of advice she stressed seven cardinal virtues, namely, sympathy, charity, sympathy, cheerfulness, self-reliance, self-sacrifice, cleanliness, discretion and tolerance. Dr. Connor closed her remarks in the words of Tiny Tim, "God bless us, every one."

FEARS FOR VESSEL

Steamer Morse Four Days Overdue; Crew May Have Perished

Halifax, N. S., June 16.—Anxiety is felt here for the safety of the schooner Morse, which left Sydney last Sunday for Halifax and which has not been reported since. She should have arrived Tuesday.

It is feared she may have been the victim of a storm which destroyed two Lunenburg vessels early in the week, one on the Magdalen Islands and the other at St. Pierre Miquelon.

ROBBED HOMES OF FURNITURE

Robert Young In An Inebriated State Collected Household Effects

Stating that he was intoxicated when he committed the series of thefts, Robert Young, popular young man about town and hotel salesman, was arrested by the local police yesterday morning, for stealing a number of articles in his cottage, at "Little Belgium" which were not his property.

Young confessed the thefts when he was arrested, and was allowed out on $500 bail till he came up on year in police court on Monday morning. It is not known yet what charges will be preferred against him.

There were several complaints in the police station from residents of the west hill that they had been missing articles of furniture and other things from their verandahs. Sergeant Hartman, Sergeant Trudeli and Provincial Constable Hammer yesterday morning investigated the crime, and searched a cottage owned by Jack Marshall of this city, and rented by Young and one or two other boys. All the missing articles were in the bungalow and were promptly seized by the police.

Young promptly admitted that he was occupant of the cottage from any blame in the matter, and they were his own articles.

Mr. Harry Day, one of the victims of the thefts, complained last night that it would have been necessary for Young to enter the interior of his home in order to have taken all the stolen effects.

The Missing Articles

The following is the list of articles that Mr. Young had in his possession. Bedspring, mattress, comb, cornmock; sea-grass mat, a few cushions, a blanket, a child's "kiddy" car, a baby cap, a quilted cover, two dollies, wicker rocker, red cushion, mixed colour block cushion, a small comforter, all in bed and clothing.

Those were the victims of the thefts are Mrs. Noakes, 57 Grier Street; Mrs. Sayers, 296 Coleman St.; Mrs. Hargrave, 10 Grier Street; Mrs. Langabeer, 10 Burton Street; Mrs. Al Day, 20 Everett Street.

Besides this the police state that they have in some articles that have not been claimed.

MRS. ANNA BOYD RECEIVES HONOR

The regular meeting of Belleville Chapter No. 53, Order of the Eastern Star was held on Friday last, election of the Delegates to Grand Chapter, which meets during the week of June 4th, was given out. Apparently they had a very busy and interesting session, one of the most important results, as far as Belleville and the surrounding district was concerned, was the election of Sister Anna Boyd of this city, to the office of Associate Grand Conductress, thus placing her in line for the office of Grand Matron.

This honor is richly deserved, and is the more appreciated as the complimentary vote was by seventy majority, no standing for election. We wish her continued success.

PRESENT AWARD TO PLANT NO. 5

Portland Cement Trophy Is Formally Unveiled At Point Anne

Shortly after twelve o'clock today, a huge gathering assembled at the Quinte Hotel, for a banquet, at which dinner, officials of the Canada Cement Company, an officer from the Workmen's Compensation Board, members of parliament, the assistant manager of the Portland Cement Company and many others were present.

Today was the occasion of the unveiling of the safety award presented by the Portland Cement Company to Plant No. 5 at Point Anne for operating throughout the year 1927 without one single accident.

With such a wonderful record, and Plant 5 may well be proud of such an extraordinary record, it will be of interest to other industrial concerns. Mr. A. C. Tagge,? president of the Canada Cement Company and a resident of Montreal was one of the important officials present while W. B. Tunnon M.P.? J. F. Hill, M.P.P., Mr. Morley, General Manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Toronto, Mr. Sinclair, of the Workmen's Compensation Board and Mr. Warren, assistant manager of the Portland Cement Company, of Chicago were among the celebrities present.

Following the banquet the entire party adjourned to Point Anne for the ceremonies which took place later in the afternoon.

SCHOOL BOARD PASS ESTIMATES

Board of Education estimates for next year were gone over by the Finance Committee last evening, and the following estimates were drafted after a great deal of discussion:

For Public Schools expenses, $71,793, less $569, which is a revenue derived from the schools. Balance for Public Schools is therefore $71,224.00.

For High School purposes an estimate was reached at $61,230.00, less a revenue of $14,150.00 being a balance of $47,080.00.

The total amount of nearly one hundred and twenty thousand dollars is payable as follows: $50,000.00 on the 30th of June, and monthly instalments 20th of June and monthly instalments the following months, July, August, September, October, November and the balance to be made in one payment on the 15th of December.

ALUMNI AND STUDENTS BID FOND FAREWELLS TO BELOVED TEACHER

Miss Ella Gardiner, B.A., Is Recipient of High Honors

VISIBLY AFFECTED

Cheque, Flowers, Portrait And Books Among The Presentations

From almost every city in the Dominion of Canada, many metropolitan centres in the United States and even from far-off Bermuda, graduates of the Albert College yesterday to pay a tribute to Miss Ella Gardiner, B.A., who is retiring from the teaching staff of Albert College after forty-three years active service. Miss Gardiner, who the acted as Lady Principal, matriculates in Latin, French, English and German is beloved by hundreds of students in every clime, and the tributes expressed last night were all in the same strain, indicative of the splendid characteristics that they manifested themselves during Miss Gardiner's career. The Alumni held a re-union in connection with the occasion, reminiscences were exchanged and the events of college days recalled.

Following the closing exercises yesterday afternoon, the Alumni gathered in the dining-room for a buffet luncheon and reunion. Dr. Bishop presided over the Alumni gathering at the door, and students of former days mingled with old comrades and a happy hour was spent. Following the luncheon the members of the Alumni Association left the Memorial Hall for the evening ceremonies. Dr. Globe of Belleville, President of the Association, spoke a few words of welcome to the visitors and discussion on some matters pertaining to the welfare of the Association was launched.

Dr. Stevens read a motion that Miss Gardiner should be tendered the honor of writing a history of Albert College. Mrs. Glover seconded the motion, which was ultimately unanimously carried. Mrs. Bishop the Principal of the College, stated that Miss Gardiner had been presented with a cheque on the 25th Thursday.

Dr. Stevens also moved that the chairman and secretary of the Alumni be appointed as a committee to start a subscription list for the publishing of the volume. "This is in order that the book be of good binding and of the best, a wonderful record, and that may preserve and keep," said the speaker. Mr. H. Hamilton seconded the motion and the publishing committee will make a report at a later date.

The officers of last year were re-elected, namely:

President, Dr. George Stobie of Belleville; Vice-President, Sam Argue, Toronto; Secretary, Miss Gardiner; Treasurer, Rev. L. B. Wight.

Two Honorary Members were then made the persons of Dr. Baker, Principal Emeritus of Albert, and Dr. Bishop, the celebrities present.

It was decided to organize Alumni branches in the various centres and reunions which took place later in the afternoon.

LEVEE CRASHES LAND INUNDATED

600,000 Acres In White River Valley Are Under Flood

New Port, Ark., June 16.—Nearly 600,000 acres in the White River Valley flooded today and thousands more are being inundated as water released when the Steven Levee near here broke. More than 700 families are homeless and many are being cared for by the Red Cross.

Three hundred men were working on the levee when it collapsed, and gave way suddenly and laborers fled, leaving tools and narrowly escaping death. Families whose homes were flooded, prepared and had moved to higher ground.

GEO. PAULEY IS AGAIN CHOSEN

The Y's Men's Club last night were the guests of Messrs. Bert Adam and James Alexander at Glide-A-Wee Camps, a delightful summer home on the bay shore.

A supper, mainly consisting of hot dogs, was served to the guests and afterwards a ball game was staged in the vacant field.

George Pauley a prominent and popular Y's Man was re-elected president of the Club for 1928 by the Board of Directors last night.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

A shiny costume of real life in the gaudy jacket of the postman. Eternal love, and instant payment.

—JERROLD.

SUNDAY, MARKS FATHERS' DAY.

Some few weeks ago there was a celebration called Mother's Day. A fine idea, and it went off very well indeed. There were people who wrote feelingly of the observation, who spoke fine sentiments, and mother was perhaps made to feel for at least a few hours that she was really standing on the threshold of a new era.

Those persons must have figured out that if mother should have a day, then it was only fair that there should be one for father. Why should he stand to one side and have no chance whatever to share in the glory of a special day? Why should he not sit still for a moment and have a little share of the world hooing and scraping in homage?

We really don't know just what's back of the idea, but it has been decreed that next Sunday, June 17, is Father's Day.

Now what do you think of that?

We don't even know what fathers are expected to do on that particular day; nor yet what is the proper thing to do to them.

It remains for the day to bring forth what bonds and glory it will bestow, and to demonstrate what hidden virtues will be brought to light and disavowed to the long list of attributes already admitted to be found in Fathers.

MARVELLOUS TALES FROM ORIENTAL CLIMES

Professor Book of the University of Indiana, who has been giving an address in Montreal on leading Europe after an eight months' trip around the world, stated among other things that he had no fear of the socalled "yellow peril." He admitted that if the civilization of the east proved superior in quality to that of the west it would no doubt supplant it. This would only be a matter of the survival of the fittest, he said. If the western ideals of life are best they cannot be beaten. If the eastern are better, they will take their place in the development and benefit of humanity. As a professor of psychology and philosophy he was naturally interested in India, which he found considerably dominated by illiteracy, superstition and poverty. At the same time he found that book "Mother India" an unfair picture of conditions there, and as unfair as a book confined to the horrors of the white slave traffic would be as a description of the United States. He regarded the forms of worship in India as being, for the most part, broken down forms of Hinduism. He thought Japan a country of marvellous artistic appreciation, but he "could make neither head nor tails of China." Japan, he felt, was a truly great nation and one to be reckoned with among the powers of the world. What strikes us about this tour of Dr. Book's is, that if our professors generally went about the world in this way with open minds and observant eyes, the benefit to their students would be enormous. The world is growing wider all the time, and the men of the future must be acquainted with things as they are in other countries, and not as they were supposed to be in the days of old travellers. Canada would not like to be thought of as still under conditions of a century ago. Aviation, radio broadcasting and other modern inventions have made us all neighbors and it is the enemies of neighborliness not to judge people before they know them.

CLAVE HAD HEARD THESE?

The Father—Marry my daughter. Why young man, you couldn't keep her in clothing.

Young Pkoye—But, sir, am I to blame for the modern spirit?

Customer—No, I simply couldn't wear this coat, it is too tight.

Assistant—Perhaps you're right, madam, but I've shown you all of our stock now. That's your own coat you have on.

"My dear child," said a woman to a young unmarried acquaintance, "you must realize that when one loves, it should be for life. I know what I'm talking about, my dear—I've been married three times."

"What because of that hired man you got from the city?"

"Ah, he used to be a chauffeur, and one day he crawled under a mule to see why it wouldn't go.

"You have been a good boy. Pap going to buy you a nice violin."

"Goodie! Now I wont have to get my hair cut."

"Will you lend me ten dollars?"

"Young man money-lending destroys friendship and ours shall not be destroyed for ten dollars."

"Then lend me twenty dollars."

GRADUATES OF ALBERT COLLEGE MAKE THEIR MARK IN THE WORLD

Rev. T. Neal, Well-Known Divine, Is Convocation Speaker

TEACHERS LEAVING

Howard Purchase Is Chosen Best All-Round Student In School

An inspiring sight was presented at Albert College yesterday when the annual convocation was held in the college Memorial Chapel in the afternoon. The chapel was packed with visitors, alumni and students. On the platform at one end were important visitors, mostly ministers of the Gospel, and members of the Board who were also to be present.

The numerous prizes were distributed by the visitors, each group being given away by a different man.

The Reverend Tom Neal, of Toronto, one of Albert College's old boys, and well known in Mission Circles in the Queen City, was the speaker of the day, and a most interesting address he gave to the students, mainly concerned with the old days at Albert, when he was a boy and attending that institution. He recalled the halcyon times in the old college, what famous figures in the world of today had graduated from there, and the good times there used to be.

The Reverend Neal explained that he had not prepared an academic address, that he wanted to speak about the old days. The numerous prizes distributed by the boys too long.

Visiting Ministers.

There were many visiting ministers present, graduates of the College. All had a part in the program, mainly in the distribution of prizes. Those who helped to give out the awards were; Dr. Thompson, Mr. Anglin, J. B. Taylor, Dr. Wilson, Mr. Mahaffy, Reverend F. Brown, Reverend George Purchase, Reverend W. Cassell, George Ostrom, Dr. Bishop, H. V. Ackerman and Dr. Baker.

The list of prizes was indeed lengthy, but one student deserves special notice. This is Howard Purchase, son of one of the well-known citizens, Howard carried off prizes in nearly every line, besides that much coveted award, Dr. Bishop's prize. Purchase was roundly cheered by the students.

Dr. Bishop Speaks.

The convocation was opened by a hymn, followed by a prayer, and was ended by Reverend Neal's address.

Dr. Bishop spoke a few words with regards to the past year, and the hopes and expectations of the college for the years to come. The Doctor spoke of the wonderful school spirit that was present at Albert. He also remarked on the great progress that has been made by the pupils and the staff. The principal stated that the attendance was not all that had been hoped for, but that in a year or so it was expected that this would be overcome.

Dr. Bishop congratulated the pupils and the staff, "During the year," he stated there has been a marked improvement in team-spirit between the two bodies."

"Quality first, not quantity is what we want," he said. The speaker mentioned with regret the fact that several graduates were going away at the end of the year. These included the Rev. Roy Rickard, Mr. Ebbrellife, A. E. Perry, H. F. Gardiner, who has been at the school for forty-three years. "Those buildings are a symbol that the day will come when the students will fill every inch of them, I believe," stated the Doctor in closing.

Prizes Are Lists.

Part of the prize lists were presented in yesterday's edition of this newspaper. The following is a translation of them:

DISCUSSION

not be willing now to accept the fact when he had admitted it yesterday?

Mr. Airhart declared that today was the first time he had heard any criticism of the Equalization program. He had an open mind on the subject as he had not thought he would be on the committee yesterday. Thurlow was the only Township which had had an industrial increase since last year, and now the township was not willing to pay for this increase. Others have had industrial losses and yet they are all being put up 3% on their total.

Mr. Miller, Reeve of Frankford—Mr. Mitchell has been fair and just so far as I know, up until this afternoon. But I do not think that he is fair and just in his remarks that he has just made. Just because his Township pays more than any other it is no reason why Thurlow should have more to say in this Council than any other Township. Frankford has increased slightly and so I am in favor of the Equalization Increase.'

Grounds For Complaint

Mr. Bailey of Rawdon declared that if his Township had been any industry they would not mind being raised, but thought that they had more grounds for complaint than any other but were not doing so as they thought that all the members of the Council were working together and they wanted to keep everything agreeable. Mr. Mitchell said he was sorry if anyone had misconstrued his remarks and declared that he had not meant to hurt anyone's feelings by what he had said. If he had, he apologized to them.

A great deal of discussion was caused over the $200.00 special grant which is usually given to the Townships of Dungannon, Faraday, Monmagle and Herschel, Carlow, Mayo, Ranger, Wicklow and Madoc. It was finally seen that these Townships really need the special grants to look after the maintenance of their roads, so the grants were passed on unanimously.

Mr. Bronson in his first speech since taking his seat in the Council asked for a grant of $400.00 for the re-building of a school in his Township. The new school is to cost $2800.00, the attendance being 30, while the assessment for schools in that township is only $4,725.00 so it can be clearly seen that the grant was not at all unreasonable. The motion was put and carried unanimously.

The Committee on Finance then took charge and the rest of the meeting was concerned with matters of finance. Council then adjourned until next December.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

CLARISSA B. DUNCAN

The funeral of the late Clarissa B. Duncan took place from her home, 73 Frank Street, yesterday, at 1 o'clock. There were many beautiful flowers and a large concourse of sympathising friends. She was interred in Elmwood cemetery. The bearers were Geo. Nolan, Gilbert Roblin, Chris. Ackey, Jas. Weir, H. Dougherty and Will Thrasher.

The floral tributes were as follows:

Anchor—Husband and Son.

Cross—Sisters, Celia, Annie, Maude, Mabel and Flossie.

Wreath—Hudson nieces and nephews, Toronto.

Spray—Daisy and Nac, nieces, Toronto; Neide and Bruce, nephews, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. R. Duncan and Helen, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Griffin, Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Evadena; Mrs. Sergeant and Mr. Noles; Mr. Johnson and Florrie; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holly; Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Lutz; Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Anselmo and Helen; Mrs. Nohan and Lee; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vickers; Mr. and Mrs. Solmes Hickett and Daddy; Mr. and Mrs. David Osborne and family.

CHARLES HALL

The funeral of the late Charles Hall took place on Friday afternoon from his residence on the Front of Sidney. The service was conducted by the Rev. T. S. Wight, of the Rollcrest Street United Church, and interment took place in the Belleville Mausoleum.

Many friends of the deceased were present and the huge amount of floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the late Mr. Hall was held.

EDWARD BOLTEA

Edward Bolyea died last night at his late residence, 21 Franklin St., in his 68th year. Deceased was born in Vermont, U.S.A., and had lived in this country practically all his life. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bolyea. He is survived by four children, Mrs. C. [illegible] Frankford; Mrs. O. Seams, City; Mrs. H. Dolton, Toronto; Mrs. Alex. Ponton's and is a Past Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge. Mr. Purchase's son is a student at Albert College and was among those receiving a scholarship.

TRAINING FOR 1ST JULY SWIM

Entry Forms For Big Aquatic Meet Obtainable At Y.M.C.A.,

A number of the swimmers who anticipate entering the Y.M.C.A. Across the Bay Swim have been training for the past week in the waters of the bay of Quinte, for the most part about the vicinity of the harbour. Although the water is still a bit chilly, these enthusiasts claim it is fine in all the, and you get "ducked" and start to work.

After giving the splendid trophies, which are now on exhibition in the Walker Hardware Co., the one over, quite a number of persons have been heard to remark, "I believe I'll have a try at the swim myself this year." Last year and the year before there were just over twenty entries in the various age groups but this year it is hoped to have double that number. When one sees the cups that are being given and which become the outright property of the winners, with no strings attached, it is a great incentive to try for them whether we have any special aptitudes as a swimmer or not.

On the two previous occasions that this event took place there were a num ber of swimmers in both the ladies and the boys section who had never attempted as long a swim before. It is to this field that the Association hopes to make its appeal by such an event more than to the expert swimmers. It is by trying that we do and not a few average swimmers could cover the distance between Rossmore and the Government Dock if they would put forth the effort.

Entry forms are available at the office of the Association on Campbell St., as also are the rules governing the event, age classes etc. Prospective candidates for this event are urged to file their applications at an early date so that all may be prepared for in making the necessary arrangements for suitable accommodation at both the starting and finishing points.

Nine women have been appointed to assist police matron of Wausau, Wis.

The evening was featured by solos by Mrs. Stobo, Miss Lorraine and Miss Valerie Wrightmeyer, the latter of whom has just returned from her studies in Boston. These added much to the pleasure of the evening. Warden C. E. Rollins in a short address emphasized the need of co-operation between the city and the county and expressed much pleasure in announcing the granting of a sum of money by the County Council to the Belleville Hospital.

Following the conclusion of the ceremonies an informal dance was held in honour of the graduates in the Parish Hall and a happy time was spent.

PROSPECTUS

as teacher in one of the Belleville Public Schools, and this also was referred to the school management with power to act, not only in this case but in any other that comes up.

The Sites, Building and repairs Committee reported that they had looked over the ground that the Belleville Can was invited to buy from the School ground and found that it would probably never be of any use to the School Board," so had decided that with the approval of the Board they would sell it for $100.00 and that the Canneries would fill in and level the ground and build and maintain a fence around it. The report went on to say that as to turn around at this spot, and it was felt by the Board that it was a new company they should be encouraged as much as possible. The report was carried unanimously. It was decided that nothing would be done about the appointment of a Truant Officer at this meeting.

Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School should have a prospectus printed and mailed to every student in the school, and to the senior pupils of the Public Schools, so that they would have an opportunity of choosing the course which the pupil would like to take. Mr. McLaurin was left in charge of this and will draft a prospectus for the approval of the Board.

A motion was made that the Vocational Committee be informed that it was the desire of the Board for them to make application to the Department of Education for four additional classrooms to be added to the Vocational School, making a total of eleven. Motion carried. The Board then adjourned.

SIR JOYNSON HICKS IS NO PURITAN

London,—(C.P.)—It seems that the opinion generally held that the views of the Home Secretary, Rt. Hon. Sir William Joynson-Hicks, lean to the puritanical and the killjoy is a grievous misjudgement of his character. At a gathering recently he admitted that as a boy he went to the theatre as often as he could—about once in six months—and said that with a different girl. Sir William even confessed to having been to night clubs twice, but whether he enjoyed these experiences he did not say. He confessed that his greatest pleasures were derived from his estate at Newick, among his horses and other livestock and among his fruit trees.

"What faults youth of today possess are due to the chaotic times and to errors in upbringing," he declared in clares. "Perhaps the value of work is not insisted on as it should be. When I look back on my own youth I see we had a harder time than the young people of today. There is an all-round lessening "of this strictness and of the old discipline, though I would not say the change is necessarily bad. In any case I believe there is the right material in our youth, as there was in the generation who were faced with the war and responded so splendidly. Given the support need I believe our parents and folk would respond as their fathers and mothers did."

FINE RESPONSE FROM CITIZENS

Today was the Independent Order of the Daughters of the Empire tag day, better known as Alexandra Day, and all morning pretty young girls and smart-looking ladies were tagging industriously the citizens of the city, who responded to their efforts nobly.

From early morning, when the first workers were starting their day's task until noon the taggers worked, and worked hard. Few, if any, people passing along Front street managed to get by without buying a tag, and the returns, when turned in, should show a considerable amount. The money derived will be devoted towards charity.

Mrs. Elizabeth Byers died in Wooster, Ohio, aged 102.

DEATH OF W. C. KILLIP

Picton, June 15.—William C. Killip passed away at his home on King Street, June 12. Mr. Killip had been confined to his home for some months. His passing removes one of the prominent men of Prince Edward county. He was born at Concession B, years ago. For many years he resided at Consecon, farming in Ameliasburg and conducting a general village. Thirty one years ago he removed to Picton, retiring from business pursuits. When he lived at Consecon he was active in municipal life. In 1895-96-97-98-99 he was a member of the County Council and in 1898 was Warden of the County. Surviving are his wife, one daughter and three sons. His wife before marriage was Victoria E. Jacques. The family are Miss Mae Killip, at home; Charles, in Hamilton; Harold in Hallowell, and Roy in Toronto. The funeral took place Thursday at 2.30. The Masonic order took part.

DON'T BE A SLAVE TO YOUR OBSESSIONS

If you examine yourself closely, if you carefully observe your own reactions, you will probably find that you harbor one or more obsessions.

Have you ever felt compelled to add together the numbers on automobile license plates?

Have you ever tried to avoid stepping on the cracks in sidewalks?

Have you ever found it difficult to control an impulse to touch certain objects when passing them, such as gates, lamp-posts, signs, etc.?

All these are samples of obsessions. An obsession is an impulse to do a certain thing which you know is rather foolish. If you don't give way to the compulsive idea you are likely to want to repeat it soon after.

Scarcely anyone is absolutely free from obsessions. Some people have many of them.

It doesn't matter much whether you have obsessions or not, provided they do not harass you or influence your life overmuch.

If you have an obsession that nags you, for instance crossing streets in the middle of the block—"jay walking" style—and thereby you risk being run over by traffic, then the obsession is a nuisance.

Superstition is a kind of obsession, too! You may know a superstition, such as walking under a ladder, is perfectly silly. Yet you will not take a chance. You are afraid in some vague way. The superstition then has become an obsession to you.

When obsessions are very annoying they had best be banished.

For this, special psychological procedures are necessary. But often you can overcome obsession yourself. Just defy the impulse to do the foolish thing that happens to be your obsession. You will have to be brave the first time. You will feel ill at ease for a while. But, you soon learn that nothing dreadful happens and the uneasy feeling disappears.

This gives you courage to defy the obsession a second and a third time. The offener you try the easier it gets. You improve in overcoming obsessions through practice!

Don't make the mistake of trying to deny to yourself that you harbor an obsession. That's being afraid of it. Admit the obsession and then fight it to a standstill.

In that way not only will you rid yourself of an obsessing torment, but you will also fortify yourself against the development of obsessions in the future.

Obsessions have a way of accumulating and spreading when once you give them mental cupboardroom.

Therefore the sooner you get after them the better.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I like a man, but he is seven or eight years older than I. People tell me things about him. I do not know if they tell me these things because they are jealous or because they have to have something to say, but I would like to have you tell me what you think.

HELEN.

HELEN: What an unhappy thing you're making of your life, Helen. Surely if you think as much of the man as your letter indicates, you wouldn't be so ready and willing to believe all people tell you of him. Gossip and jealousy ruin more lives than could possibly be counted, and if I were in your place I should shut my ears against anything that might be said of one for whom I cared, until that person himself proved that the gossip was right. Why not tell him of these things and give him a chance to disprove them? In the meantime, stand up for him and uphold him to your friends until you are convinced to the contrary.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

WISE ADVICE.

Before breakfast the following morning, Crila slipped down-stairs, the key to the laboratory in hand. She wanted to unlock the door to Falconer's quarters before any one should learn that he had been a prisoner during the night.

She could have wept with exasperation when she became aware that Miss Page was in the upper hall, greeting her with a cooing "good morning" and a knowing smile. It was obvious that Miss Page thought she was hatching down for a tete-a-tete with her husband before the breakfast-gong.

She found Falconer seated at ease near the big studio-window, ruffling the leaves of one of her fashion technical books.

He said: "You know this is funny. Quite like a farce. I didn't really believe that I was locked in, until I tried the door handle. Remember, I thought you were only bluffing."

"Breakfast will be ready in half an hour," she answered coldly.

"Good! I'm ravenous. It's fine healthy air you have in your charming studio, Crila. . . . Buh, by the way, Oella, do you think you could let me have a little light reading in my prison? This," indicating the book, "I find a trifle heavy, especially before breakfast. Scholarship never saved one of my stirpus points in college."

She turned on her heel, without answering, but he quickly stepped before her.

"I should advise you, my dear Crila, not to be too curt with me. There are limits to my patience. Besides, it's against my policy. Remember, you supposed to be rather newly married and completely devoted."

There was contempt in her gaze as she looked at him.

"Come, Crila," he said easily, "be a sport. If We're going to play the game at all, let's play it well."

She realized the logic of the argument. If she was going to yield to his demand, she might as well yield gracefully and make the best of it.

"Call it a truce," he begged, with laughing eyes.

"An armed truce," she smiled, in spite of herself.

"Heaven's, you're pretty — when you're in a good humor!"

She felt him abruptly. At the breakfast-table, she assumed her wife-like role. Pouring his coffee, she asked unwarily:

"Sugar and cream?"

His brows went up; his eyes warned her that the maid was in the room.

"My darling, have you so soon forgotten how I take my coffee?"

Her cheeks crimson, she said, with a readiness of invention that surprised even herself: "But you said you were going to diet. And the best way to begin is with black coffee."

He laughed: "One begins to diet always — tomorrow!"

After breakfast, he remarked: "I'm going out for a stroll. I want to buy some cigarettes and have a look at the town."

She lifted her eyes quickly apprehensively. They held a question. He reassured her.

"You needn't be alarmed. As long as you play the game with me, I'll be square with you. I shan't speak to a soul — except as Falconer, your husband, from New York."

She heard him, and had a relief, half in despair. Once he appeared in public in that role, there was no backing out. The die would be cast. And even yet, she hadn't resigned herself to the inevitable. Even yet, she believed there must be some way of escape. She remembered another thing, and said:

"Last night you told me that you'd got most of your information about me from a man who lives here. I don't know who he was. But, if he sees you, how can it ever be explained that you let him talk about me — your supposed wife — without telling him that you were Richard Falconer?"

He brushed that aside.

"Yes, needn't worry on that score. He was a traveling salesman and said that he would be here only a few hours while going out on the road again for several months."

Falconer had hardly left when Gwen Burns rushed in.

She kissed Cella warmly.

"So sorry to have missed you last evening! I hadn't expected you back so soon. And Mr. Annesley! Did he come with you?" She lowered her voice. "I saw a stranger leave the yard, as I was going over. Was that her fiance—how, I didn't think he fitted your description of Annesley?"

Cella drew Gwen down on the divan beside her.

"Listen!" she commanded, and proceded to tell the entire story. Gwen listened, grave and silent. When Cella had finished, she was still silent, staring at a design in the wall-paper.

"What am I going to do?" wondered Cella. "Gwen, what am I going to do?"

Gwen said slowly: "It is a darned fine mess, isn't it?' You poor child. And the worst of it is that I don't see any way out."

"Unless I can get in touch with Jim with Jim Annesley—"

Gwen shook her head.

"Do you think that would help matters? Cella, if Annesley knows, won't he rush here and throw Falconer out? Well, what will happen then? Your rumor will collapse. The town will be boiling with a fresh scandal — worse than the old one, for worse. No, my dear, I'm afraid that's not the way out."

Cella stared at her hopelessly.

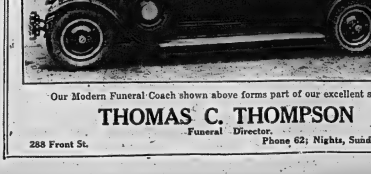

"Then what shall I do?"

Gwen reached out a hand that gripped Cella's with a firm, reassuring clasp.

"Grin and bear it, old girl. It's the only way. . . . The ways of Fate are curious, aren't they? You were wondering last week where you'd find a man who would pose as your husband, to make your mother happy; you missed Annesley by a hair's breadth, and now the gods offer you a husband to order on a silver platter. There's a streak of silver in the lining of your cloud, Cella."

"I beg your pardon. Am I intruding?" Falconer stood in the doorway, smiling confidently.

News Of Movies

BELLE THEATRE

A Hollywood fire recently razed over 100 Indian homes to the ground and provided the film crews with one of the best thrills of the year.

In a short, space of time, over $100,000 went up in smoke, attracting thousands of motorists from the highway with the scene of the blaze, which rivaled from the center of Hollywood.

Fire engines from the film city were on the ground, their hose stretching over a half mile to the nearest water connection.

The fact that the giant blaze was staged for an episode in "Flamenco" now being released in motion picture form, did not matter a particle! Even the oldest-timer, hardened by years of film thrills the movie city offers daily, stood by with "open mouth" and agreed it was a real, not "reel" conflagration.

Edwin Carewe, directing "Ramona," starring Dolores Del Rio, assigned three hundred Indians to participate in the scene. But over two hundred Hollywood cowboys were included in the massacre which showed the whites demolishing an entire Indian village and razing it to smoldering debris.

The short cries of the Indians, aided by the excitement of the scene, combined with the roar of the fire engines and the movie cameras, could be heard for many blocks, attracting countless onlookers, all eager to view the fire, few oftment suspecting it was staged for a motion picture.

Old-Timers compared the scene to the giant sittings which D. W. Griffith erected for "Intolerance" and other films of nearly ten years ago. The filming was continued into the early evening hours and the flames leaping skyward, provided a most spectacular effect.

Carewe and a corps of assistants made all precautions against accidents. The fire apparatus was needed only after the cameras stopped clicking, to extinguish the smouldering bonfires and to put out any hidden flames. No casualties were reported, the film truly recorded by the inspiration Pictures.Edwin Carewe camera, will form a brilliant part of "Ramona" when it arrives at the Belle Theatre Monday.

Gardiner.

At this stage he read telegrams from Mr. T. Rod. Edmonson; Miss Margaret Baker, Toronto; Miss Carol Clarke, Mt. Hamilton; Mr. S. B. Kennedy, Mr. Geo. Campbell and Florence Theroddyke, Talbot, expressing their greetings and regrets at their inability to attend.

Dr. Neal announced that speakers of the various periods would deliver short two-minute talks.

The first period, 1885-1895, was presented by Mrs. J. A. Denyes, who was the first speaker. "This is the greatest hour of my life," she said. "Miss Gardiner's name is revered and honored in every land, her idea was that every student had a spiritual inheritance, she understood each one of us thoroughly and she had a true mother spirit. Miss Gardiner combined the teacher and the adviser and we learned the very principles for which she stood." Mrs. Denyes paid a warm tribute to Miss Gardiner's qualities. Rev. P. L. Brown said, "As a boy from the north country I came to this city. I have related some interesting anecdotes in connection with his college days." Miss Gardiner had the full equipment, mentally and spiritually, which had enabled her to deal to the young women and men," said Mr. Brown. "She had the intuition and the understanding as well as the heart to discover those with whom she came in contact. Thousands came under the divine that Miss Gardiner has helped to develop their mental and spiritual capacities."

Mr. Sam Anglin rendered a song, with Mr. Alex Gordon acting as accompanist.

A piano duet by the Misses Lawlis, Brookdale, made delightful music, and during March was delightfully rendered.

Madame Rachal, spoke of the gay memories and the associations with Miss Gardiner. "There is not one in Ontario who can equal her," said Madame Rachal, "My own inspiration came from Miss Gardiner and as a teacher she could not be surpassed."

Reports from Literary and Social Committee taught him the beauties of the English language, clothing it with the finest of thoughts. Mrs. Gordon Neal, Treasurer, reported a splendid financial condition.

Mrs. Luther Lenny expressed her appreciation of the "College Mother". Students are at Albert during the moulding years and her influence has been greater in shaping the lives of hundreds of students than anything else. She took a unique interest in every phase of our lives."

Rev. C. G. Clifford said it was in the personality of Miss Gardiner that he received his greatest impulse. "She had the penetrating power in interpreting Literature, with a great reserve."

Mrs. Leo Biggs sang two solos, "Atonement" and "Philosophy." Dr. Bishop took the occasion to say a word in behalf of the present faculty. "When Miss Gardiner thought the time for her retirement had arrived, we believed that we would be an ideal time and we have devoted ourselves towards making this the best year in the college history and the proceedings tonight have more than justified our judgment. We feel we are in the presence of a personality as well as a symbol, of a great profession." Mr. Bishop declared, "Miss Gardiner has been with Old Albert and the students and graduates paid our expressions at this time."

43 Years a Teacher

Mr. J. F. Walmsley in reading an address stated that, "for 43 years she had presided with masterful ability ten thousand students have passed from greenness to grandure and those who have come have been an inheritance to their homes, community and the great Dominion of Canada. No one has left her without a decisive answer and her pupils always passed highest in Provincial and University examinations by their stage of morality than found in many homes."

Miss Baker said he had been thirteen years as Principal and during this time he had found Miss Gardiner's supreme quality to be humility. He read letters, including one from Mrs. Lawrence, who was third on the roll in 1857 when the college was opened and also one from Thaddeus Rohlen, son of Bermuda. "This is one of the red-letter days of my life," said the Principal Emeritus in conclusion.

Mrs. Dr. E. W. Dawson, (Helen Dyer) said, "My father, former Principal and Miss Gardiner, understood each other perfectly and she was close to our family. One of the secrets of Miss Gardiner's success was the fact that she never worried." Mrs. Dawson revealed the first lesson in modern languages and many other interesting anecdotes of her college life. She presented a book of remembrances containing the names of the Alumni to Miss Gardiner.

Mr. Anglin led the gathering in the college song.

Portrait Is Presented.

Mr. J. W. L. Forster, portrait painter in short address said: "Albert and that spirit have heard tonight you know the test that came to me, to reproduce upon canvas that which I had already appreciated, a certain quality which Dr. Baker spoke of as "Illumility." He then unveiled the portrait.

Judge Moore on behalf of the student body presented Miss Gardiner with an envelope containing $1,000 on behalf of the Alumni and about $1,000 from the Board of Management of the college. Miss Gardiner thanked the donors for the numerous gifts and said she could not relegate herself after the many subjects. In the last talk she recalled the time when she graduated from the University of Toronto, following her graduation had taken a position at the College, and was pleased to receive the utmost consideration from the Board and the pupils and I cannot tell you how much I appreciate the kind things and the many gifts that have been presented upon me. Albert College girdles the world and I am, always glad to have the old students come back to visit me."

Dr. Neal, who had acted as chairman spoke of the fine record of Albert College fellowship and urged that Alumni lend the utmost support toward the institution in the future.

IN MEMORIAM

LOADSMAN—In Loving Memory of Lance Corporal H. Loadsman, who died June 16, 1927.

Softly the stars are glaming
Upon a silent grave
Where he sleeps without dreaming
One we loved, but could not save.

More and more each night we miss him
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in our hearts concealed.

He is gone but not forgotten
Never will his memory fade,
Loving thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where he is laid.
Sadly missed by Mother, Sister and Brother.

LOADSMAN—In loving memory of Mr. Harold Loadsman who passed away June 16th, 1927.

Wife and two daughters.

An Essential of Modern Life

BANKING Service is one of the essentials of modern life. It assists in the production of every article and in its transportation of every commodity. Without it, distribution would be impossible. Yet Banking functions so smoothly that we are scarcely aware of our dependence upon it. By taking Banking Service for granted we pay our greatest tribute to its efficiency. Each year an increasing number of depositors and clients affords evidence of its character of Service offered by the Standard Bank of Canada.

HUDSON
On the Open Road

Where great performance is Master Indeed!

Its performance has centered on Hudson the most dramatic public interest ever extended any car. Thousands, riding daily, are carrying the story world-wide.

They tell us that they travel faster in city traffic, because of flashing getaway, swift, smooth acceleration and instantaneous control that easy steering and four-wheel braking give.

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle and to its companion invention on which patents recently were granted.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor.

A thrill, never to be forgotten, is in store for you when you take your first ride in the new Hudson Super-Six.

GUNMEN HELD HERE ON ADVICE OF MONTREAL POLICE

Monoplane Friendship Successful in Negotiating East to West Crossing of Atlantic Ocean

FRIENDSHIP CONQUERS ATLANTIC FOG, LANDS ON COAST OF WALES

Boston Society Worker Is First Woman To Make Crossing

FUEL SHORTAGE

Miss Amelia Earhart And Male Companions Are Taken Ashore

Burry Port, Wales, June 18.—Transatlantic Monoplane Friendship landed in Burry Estuary on the Carmarthen coast shortly after noon today coming to lack of fuel. She circled Burry Port, which had been advised by a motor boat and did not appear fail ed to find the plane's air journey from Trepassey, Newfoundland.

London, June 18.—The Trans Atlantic monoplane Friendship carrying the first woman ever to span the Atlantic by air landed at Burry Port, Wales, at 4:30 p.m. today just 20 hours and 45 minutes after taking off from Trepassey, Nfld., The plane, which had been piloted 2½ miles west of Ireland by the steamship Arabia landed in Burry Inlet because of a shortage of fuel, Wireless Studio, pilot, bringing in also Miss Amelia Earhart, Boston social worker, and co-pilot of the plane, landed with her safely. Miss Earhart was first to set out immediately from the coast guard station here. The crew of the Friendship included Wilmer Lou Gordon, mechanic, was in the best of spirits and looked none the worse for their twenty hour flight across the 3,000 mile stretch between Newfoundland and Great Britain. Almost the plane glided down off the swampy region, some distance from the little town of Burry Port which had never dreamed of its arrival it was not long before hundreds of spectators were on the scene. Crowds of people got out and by motor rushed to the port and gave the aviators a great reception. Studio said had weather held a heavy mist accompanied the Friendship for the greater part of her journey while rain was almost incessant. He said it was the intention of the crew to proceed to Bristol, their destination as soon as possible.

Ambition Realized

Burry Port, Wales, June 18.—"I am very glady we have done it and very happy we landed" said Amelia Earhart in a correspondent of the Associated Press as she stepped ashore from the monoplane Friendship.

When asked what Miss Mabel Boll, who had hoped to be the first woman to fly the Atlantic, would think now, that the Boston social worker had made the trip, Miss Earhart said: "Oh, I dare say no race between us, across the Atlantic. This was faked by America's newspapers."

"I've realized my greatest ambition," she went on. "I always knew the Friendship could do it and I was right. The conditions weren't very favorable but I can honestly say I never felt the slightest anxiety. The plane behave beautifully from start to finish and the roar of engine trouble, the only real difficulty was that of the landing course."

ROTARY HEARS TALK ON CHINA

The Rotary Club had today as a guest speaker, Roy Anderson, a dentist and a returned missionary from China. The doctor gave a most interesting address about that great country its troubles and its topography.

"The country had spent seven years in China and took up the subject well. He spoke of the great rivers there, the Yangtse-Kiang and the Yellow River, spoke of the railroads and the climate of the country.

Dr. Anderson briefly traced the history of the present trouble in China. "There is no government now in China" said the doctor. "The government is only a government in name. The country labors under a military regime."

Next Monday will be "Belleville Day" at the Rotary Club. This will celebrate fifty years as a city for Belleville and Colonel W. N. Ponton is to be the guest speaker. It was announced today that McKenzie Robertson, D. McMillan and William Deacon were all in attendance at the International Rotary Convention being held at Minneapolis.

DR. BLAKSLEE TO SPEAK AT CAMP

Moira Lake Boys' Camp Will Be Largest In History

The Camp Committee has been successful in securing Dr. Van Blakslee to give the Sealth talk at camp sometime during the first two weeks in July. Health Officer Dr. Sam Cronk, gave the boys a fine talk last camp period and the Committee feel that Dr. Blakslee has been a good choice for this year.

Preparations are now under way for the largest and best conducted camp ever run at the Belleville Boys' Work Camp site at Moira Lake, and from the interest taken by the Belleville Boys this city will be well represented. The County boys were present last year in large numbers and it is expected that a goodly number will again attend this year.

Camp tickets are available at the Y. M.C.A. These folders contain complete information with regard to what is required.

If any person knows of any boy or boys who cannot afford to attend camp arrangements can be made by the Committee to cover the fee. Boys who attend camp under such conditions are not in any way embarrassed owing to the fact that the parents of the child have been taken on by the Business Manager are the only ones aware of the fact. The committee will consider it a great favor if those who operate and notify any member of the service club, Camp Director Joe Short, or Army Armstrong,the Chairman of this committee, of any boys who should be in camp.

On the other hand let it be understood that this is not a scamp for under-privileged boys but special arrangements are made to cover such cases.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE ON PERJURY CHARGE

Mrs. Vick Robertson mounted the witness stand before Magistrate Mott on police court today charged with perjury.

It appears that Mrs Robertson, who lately was charged with contributing to the delinquency of children, made a statement in the police while under oath and today she was faced with the serious charge of perjury.

She was found guilty of the offense but sentence was postponed for two weeks in order to give the accused another chance.

Mrs. Robertson claimed that she would find employment in the city.

The woman promised not to live with Peter Murray, who was jointly charged with her in the original offence.

COLUMBIA READY

"Queen of Channel" And Crew Scooped By Miss Earhart

Harbor Grace, Nfld., June 18. In the face of continued adverse weather conditions over the great circle course, the monoplane Columbia was groomed for a possible Trans-Atlantic hop today, while the crew strove to conceal disappointment at the march stolen by Miss Amelia Earhart and her companions aboard the Friendship.

GIRL IS KILLED; COMPANION HURT

Miss Olive Guy of T. Eaton Company Victim of Crash

Barrie, June 18.—Miss Olive Guy, aged 24, of Clarkson, an employee of Eaton's, Toronto, was killed, and Miss Mabel Stockdale, of Portsmouth, St. Toronto, was injured in an automobile accident at Midhurst, eight miles from Barrie, yesterday afternoon. Miss Guy died ten minutes after being admitted to Royal Victoria Hospital. Miss Stockdale is not seriously injured, having ruises on her right shoulder and hip. She expects to leave the hospital on Tuesday.

The young women were on their way from Toronto to Miss Guy's home in Clarkbourg for a week-end trip. Miss Guy was driving the Ford sedan car near the Forestry Station at Midhurst. Miss Stockdale lost control of her car in loose gravel. The car turned over in a four-foot ditch.

Miss Guy apparently attempted to get out of the car, for the right door was found open when the car was righted, and she was pinned between the auto and the ground.

In addition to internal injuries, her back was broken, doctors state. The body is being sent to Clarkbourg, to the home of her parebis, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Guy, tomorrow morning.

TRADING SLOW ON WALL STREET

Several Stocks Register New Low Prices In Lethargic Conditions

New York, June 18.—Further readjustment of the speculative accounts featured an irregular trend to the price movement in today's market, with the main price change still downward trading was extremely dull. Total sales in the first three hours fell below 1,000,000 shares. Another break of more than 30 points in Bancitaly Corp. Common and stock on the curb market ket tended to unsettle the prices on the "big board". There was no change in the quotation for call money but the prime commercial paper rate advanced slightly. Bigger floced specialists were again large for selling pressure, Wright Aeronautical dipped from an early high of 146 to 139, Curtiss-Wright from 3-4 to 92 1-2. Case Thrashing from 305 to 290 1-4 and Case Threshing from 100 to 96 1-4. New low prices for the year or longer were registered by Consolidate Steel, Corporation Class A and B. International Silver, Dupont and Goodrich Rubber, the loses ranging from 1 1-4 to 2 points.

FRANCHISE BILL PASSED

London, June 18.—An equal franchise bill, giving women the vote at the age of 21 under same terms as men, passed the third reading in the House of Lords today. The bill now only awaits royal assent.

GATORS DEVOUR VICTIMS' BODIES

Bogota, Columbia, June 18.—Reports from Barranquilla say fifty-one persons are missing and are believed to have perished in an explosion that destroyed the Colombian army gunboat Heroiches Saturday on the Magdalena River near the port of Puerto Nuevo. Most of the victims were drowned and their bodies were devoured by the alligators, say the reports.

UNVEIL AWARD AT LOCAL PLANT

Portland Cement Safety Trophy Presented At Point Anne

NOTED VISITORS

Biggest Event In History of Local Branch Held On Saturday

Safety Follows Wisdom

"Portland Cement Association Safety Trophy awarded the Canada Cement Company, Limited, Belleville, Ontario, for a perfect record in 1927."

These are the words inscribed upon the memorial tablet presented to the Canada Cement Co. Plant No. 5, by the Portland Cement Company for the year that is seldom equalled elsewhere in this world, that of working through an entire year without one single accident. Many fine civic attributes be proud of such an achievement as several of Saturday's speakers pointed out when the memorial was unveiled at a monster celebration held in Point Anne.

When one considers that, to mention only one department, 2,965,000 tons of rock turned out by the mill, and that 612,000 tons of material were taken from the quarries to the Point railway during 1927, all these without any serious accident, the magnitude of the workmen had to apply to the Compensation Board for remuneration for injuries, then who can equal this record? Is it not wonderful to think that in a plant where hundreds of men are employed daily that such a record could be made?

Prominent Men Here.

Many prominent men were in Belleville and PointAnne on Saturday for the unveiling of this memorial. Present year and far they came, great and near-great, and one of the greatest the crowning of one of the greatest achievements of the modern machine age—the conquest of accidents and total prevention at that.

R. B. Morley, Chairman of the Accident Prevention Committee of Ontario, V. A. Sinclair, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario, George E. Warren, assistant manager of the Portland Cement Association, A. C. Tagge, president of the Canada Cement Company; E. Bailey, superintendent of the Point Plant; Rev. H. Abbott of the Safety League, located at Point Anne; A. G. Beck, superintendent of Plant No. 1 at Merrickville; L. M. McDonald, superintendent of Plant 2 at Port Colborne; W. H. ARREST INDIANS IN LIQUOR CASE

Were Celebrating All Night Festivities On Deseronto Reserve

Provincial Constable Hammer of Belleville and H. T. O. Byles of Napanee arrested Goldie Marsack of Picton and Raymond Leves, Indian, living on the Reserve, when Goldie Marsack's car it was found to contain several bottles of home brew beer. Later he arrested as he walked along the road, the bottles he had in his pockets being plainly visible. Another Indian named Louis Levis escaped and mingled among the crowd of Indians who were celebrating the whole day by a dance. This dance started at two o'clock in the afternoon and was to have lasted all night, however, there no doubt the beer would have been a disappointment to the many dancers.

Both men were lodged in Deseronto Jail and were arraigned in Police Court on Saturday to answer the charges made against them. Both were fined $20 and costs, but as Levis did not have the necessary cash he was forced to remain in the goal. Friends are busy raising money for his release.

FATHER MEAGHER IS APPOINTED

Brockville, Ont., June 18.—Announcement was made here today of the appointment of Father Patrick Meagher, now parish priest of Smiths Falls to be parish priest of Brockville in succession to Rt. Rev. Monsignor C. B. Murray, who has resigned owing to advanced years and impaired health. The appointment was made by Monsignor Nicholson, administrator of the archdiocese of Kingston and is effective immediately. Father Meagher was ordained in 1895 and has since been stationed at Carleton Place, Toledo, Marysville, Deseronto and elsewhere in the archdiocese.

THE WEATHER

Fresh east to southeast winds, unsettled today and Tuesday with rain and probably thunderstorms.

ALLEGED GUNMEN ARE ARRESTED AND HELD BY BELLEVILLE POLICE

MURDERED MAN

farmer of Cornwall, Ontario, who was shot down in cold blood last Sunday, and with whom murder his brother, Hector Laflamme, is charged. Laflamme, arrested on Friday, was sought all week, a man-hunt being organized in the eastern Ontario counties. He existed on roots and berries while in hiding, it is said.

The charge has been altered to that of "carrying loaded weapons". The Crown Attorney stated that that $14,000 bail will be necessary for their release.

Three men bearing all the appearances of desperate characters were placed under lock and key last night. Arthur Booth and Constable William Evans in the city cells, while Nicholas Rapanos is in the goal.

The trio fully-armed with three loaded revolvers and ninety rounds of ammunition, were arrested by the local police to be bank-robbers and there is a distinct suspicion that they may be the gang who have been responsible for several recent "jobs" in Toronto and Western Ontario. The trio gave their names as Harry Wade, of Montreal; Marvin Holly, 26, of Winnipeg and Joe Mernardo, 28, of Montreal and formerly of Detroit. They are being held on a nominal charge of "carrying arms" pending further investigation by W. C. Mikel, K. C., this morning when further charges and their previous records have been investigated. The arrest of the trio was the result of information laid by a part of Booth, who was recently promoted and Constable Evans, who, it is understood, they are robbers of some description as the club-bag in the rear of the car revealed all the accoutrements of the trade. They have been finger-printed and a description sent away to the criminal headquarters in Ottawa and Toronto as well as United States cities.

Shooting Scrape

On Sunday morning shortly after one o'clock, Sergt. Booth received a hurried call from a man named Moores at Deseronto, stating that a gang at the new station owned by Mr. L. Cole at Deseronto had been broken open and a quantity of gas stolen. Moores had noticed the pull away and he immediately phoned along the line. The car was driven by a large touring car, answering to the description given, here in sight, and as it drew up to the car at the corner of Bridge and Front Streets the police jumped on the running board on each side and at the point of revolvers forced the driver to halt.

Three Desperadoes.

Examining the car at the police station Sergt. Booth found that in the rear, under a hood-cloak, a club bag was searched and two more loaded guns of heavy calibre were found with several rounds of ammunition. The men were told to produce their weekly pennies or less which revealed the total sum of $3.00. They denied having broken the store and stated that they were bootleggers, making their way toward the western part of the province, where they intended to launch into their trade. The fact that they were heavily armed and in view of their distinctly gang appearance it was deemed advisable to hold them pending an investigation.

Fortunately none of the men were in the rear seat, otherwise a gun-battle would have resulted with the fire arms ready at hand, but as it happened they were covered by the police and could not move a hand. The car bearing a Quebec license plate is being held pending the investigation. Police believe it is a stolen car.

NO TRACES OF MISSING AIRMEN

Nobile In Wireless Message Asks Advice In Treating Fracture

Rome, June 18.—Stefani News Agency announced today that General Nobile had informed the Base Ship Citta Di Milano by radio that he had seen two seaplanes trying to reach him. He said he had pointed out his exact situation to the plane. Capt. Riser Larsen and Lieut. Holm, flyers, however returned from their flight and reported they had not seen the missing men of the Italia. The men returned to the base before Pregame their base after a flight of an hour over the district where a group of the survivors headed by Nobile was thought to be. Nobile in his wireless message asked advice as to how to treat a shin bone of his leg which was fractured when the cabin of the Italia was torn off by striking the ice cap. Nobile in reporting to the base ship gave his exact location and it is expected this will aid in finding the marooned men on the next flight of the seaplane.

REIGN OF TERROR IN SOUTH MEXICO

Three Casualties In Earthquakes Which Rocked Gulf Regions

Mexico City, June 18.—Terror reigned in Central Southern Mexico today after the earthquakes had shaken the region from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of Tehuantepec for two days; Fortunately the only casualties recorded in the State of Oaxaca from where three were reported dead. Many persons have been camped in the open refusing to re-enter their homes for fear of new tremors. Fifty distinct shocks were felt at Oaxaca in five hour of dake.

The destruction in the mountains is felt as late as 5.30 last night and these shocks sent many persons scurrying into the streets and pavements. In Loxicha groups of foreign tourists fled into the streets and pavements. In Loxicha groups of foreign tourists fled into the streets and pavements. In Loxicha groups of foreign tourists fled

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Do not yield to misfortune, but meet them with fortitude.
VIRGIL.

WALKING PATHS FOR PEDESTRIANS

It does seem to take an unusually long time to get anything done in the way of building paths along the side of the highways where people can walk with no more danger than bumping into each other in the dark.

On nearly every road around here drivers can see pedestrians walking along the highways. If they happen to be wearing dark clothing and going the same way as a car, it is not okay to see them.

There are bicycles too, who use the highways at night without any rear lights on their wheels, and very often with none at all.

People seem to realize that it is dangerous to walk on the railroad track, and yet they are forced to walk on highways or else take to the ditch.

In some ways it is safer to walk on a railroad track—only it is not permitted.

People know when the trains are coming. They blow a whistle and ring a bell and at night carry a powerful headlight.

On the highway cars are coming and going all the time, up and down both sides of the road. They can't even be depended on to keep in a straight line like an engine on rails.

The paths at the side are badly needed, and it is admitted they should be constructed, but it is taking a long time to make a start.

AIR ROUTES OF THE EMPIRE

A map has been published showing the air mail routes in operation in the United States, with those in contemplation. They cover the entire country. The transcontinental service extends from New York to San Francisco; there is a mail route from Los Angeles to Seattle, with extension on Canadian territory to Victoria—the Pacific coast route; in the east a route runs from Boston south to New Orleans; another north and south, which is that which stretches from Chicago in the north, to Galveston and San Antonio in the south. Besides these there are many ramifications from the big cities. The development of commercial aviation in the United States has been rapid, putting that country in the lead. In Europe Germany has taken first place in respect of air traffic. This is due to her central position and to the fact that she has not been permitted, by the terms of peace, to go in for an extensive military and naval program. As a result, Germany has turned to the development of aircraft. Commander Charles Burney declares Germany's position in the air today is "similar to that of Great Britain on the sea." By reason of Britain's location, she is and will remain the center of the world's sea business, but it is not feasible to expect her to wrest the supremacy from Germany in the matter of airplane transportation. The limited range of the airplane precludes England from developing air routes to the west. Trans-Atlantic airplane flights as a commercial proposition, are not immediately practical; but, no doubt, that will come. There is the lighter-than-air ship. Improvements are daily being made and to this Britain pins its faith.

There are two great airships being built in England at the present time, the R.100 and the R.101. The former will have a range of over 3,000 miles and a speed of seventy-five miles an hour, when carrying 100 passengers and ten tons of freight. She will be used on the London to India route. It is expected that before long airships will be built for the trans-Atlantic service with a wider range and with greater speed. Commander Burney ventures a look in the future, contemplating the construction of airships capable of carrying 150 passengers and traveling 4,000 miles at 85 miles an hour without refueling. It will be possible then to establish regular air routes between London and New York and Montreal; London and South America; London-Bombay-Melbourne-Wellington; Melbourne-Hongkong-San Francisco; London-Tokio-Hongkong-Vancouver; London, Cape Town, with Pernambuco as an intermediate station. "London would then become for the air traffic what the Suez Canal is for the central has been for sea traffic, the central spot from which the air lines of the world will radiate."

In the meantime, there is nothing to prevent Canada from leading ahead with aerial development so as to reap the advantage which our geographical situation gives us. What has been done in the United States is an example of what might be accomplished in this Dominion. In any event, the Canadian people are expected to develop their own services "feeding these main world routes," Canada, situated between the Atlantic and the Pacific, will be in a position to play a big part in this great imperial air development.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN POSITION AND JOB

"How many of you expect positions after you graduate?" was the question put by a prominent banker to senior commercial students in a Salt Lake City high school. Nearly all raised their hands. Then the speaker added: "Now let's see the hands of those who expect a job."

Only one signified this intention!

Obviously there is a difference between a position and a job, says the Christian Science Monitor. The former you accept; the latter you hunt. The one permits white collars, the other calls for sleeves rolled up. There is generally an office with one—and perhaps a rose on the typist's desk; there is work any old place with the other—and perhaps a trace of perspiration. Perhaps a position is more permanent; a job, at best, is only temporary—a stepping-stone perhaps.

But to go back to the story. Only one was interested in a job. "You come and see me after you graduate," was the banker's only comment.

If there is any moral in this, no doubt it will be apparent to the tens of thousands of enthusiastic young folks who are about to finish school, and are wondering what the world has to offer.

GEYSER DID NOT ACT FOR PRINCE

Henry, However, Put One Over His Brother And Saw It

London, (By C.P.)—With the advance of aviation, who knows but that one of these days it may be able to fly to New Zealand. Anyway, if that does not come in my lifetime, it will not stop me making an effort to return." This was the concluding passage in a speech made by the Prince of Wales as guest of the New Zealand Association, at their annual dinner.

He was responding to the toast of his health proposed by Sir James Parr, High Commissioner for New Zealand, and President of the association, who was in the chair.

The Prince regretted that other engagements would prevent his early return to New Zealand, so that he would have to content himself with memories of his last visit.

"My brother and I have collected notes of our trips, but naturally small difficulties arose. I noted that particularly was concerning the geyser of Rotorua. Not only from what my brother told me, but from the newspaper reports, the geysers played up very much better for my brother than they did for myself," the Prince said.

"I remember sitting for a very long time at the mouth of Old Pohutu where quantities of kdip were poured into it with the idea of inducing it to spout, but even the efforts of a bunch of Maoris, who sang to us to pass the time, and who considered it their prompto programme with a somewhat ribald war song about the Kaiser had no effect on either the Kaiser or on Old Pohutu. With great reluctance we had to give it up.

"Then again we compared notes, and I told my brother that the New Zealand Government had not provided him with one of those very slight, very graceful, and very short industrial disputes that happen in New Zealand. I told him that he had missed a good deal.

"I made a suggestion at the Canada Club, dinner last night that people from Great Britain should, if they can do it with their own means, and if they cannot, should be encouraged to do so by other means, to step right over and see the Dominions for themselves, even if they do not mean to settle there. I consful tour of public school boys to

Victor Opens Record Studio at Hollywood

Dolores Del Rio, Star of "Ramona"

The world of motion picture stars, hitherto unknown quantities to most film fans, can soon be heard in every home where there is an Orthophonic Victrola according to an announcement made by the Victor Talking Machine Company. A special recording squad has been installed in Hollywood and records will be made there.

The first of the players to be recorded is Dolores Del Rio, star of United Artists' "Ramona," who sings the popular theme song of the photoplay which she recently sang over the radio. Following Miss Del Rio's recording in Hollywood she was impressed by camera, her voice were rushed to the Victor plant in Oakland by airplane, where shells were immediately made. Within a few hours records had been pressed, returned to Hollywood and played for the star. With "Ramona" blaring, Miss Rio sings a Mexican serenade in her native Spanish.

Another star of screen and stage who may soon be heard on Victor records is John Barrymore. Famous for his portrayals of Shakespearean characters, it is said Mr. Barrymore will probably choose two famous selections from Shakespeare for his recordings. They will most likely be "Soliloquy from "Hamlet" and "To be or not to be." Should Barrymore play what is said being the conclusion of the "Hamlet" murders, and the soliloquy from "Henry VI, Part III", in which Richard, Duke of Gloucester, plans to remove every obstacle that lies between him and the throne.

MOTHER LOVE IS A NEVER DYING THING

Toronto, Ont.—(C.P.)—Editorial references are being made to city papers under the heading "A Mother's Love for a Wayward Son" to the story of Mrs. Peter Storms' journey from Saskatoon to this city. The Mail' thinks her exploit "reserves to be recorded on something more lasting even than brass." The physical strain upon the woman can easily be imagined, but the strength of a mother's love is not to be measured. It truly passes the understanding."

The 52-year-old youth had left the farm last year when work was scarce and came to Toronto, where he drifted into bad company. Hearing of his plight, his mother travelled 2,675 miles, with only two slight stops, to take her boy back home. "I pushed along pretty hard," she said, "but I will take it easier coming back. It has been worth while to get the boy home."

It was no mere flight of poetic fancy that found expression in Kipling's well known poem, 'Mother o' Mine," says the 'Globe'. The debt that the work of the Empire owes to the mothers of men is incalculable.

GREAT FUTURE IN SOO MINING

Claims Sault Daily Star; Iron Ore Operations Are Beneficial

Sault Ste Marie, Ont., (By C.P.)—The Sault Daily Star, in a front page story, says the plans announced for a $13,000,000 expansion of the Sault Steel plant bring sharply into view the near approach of the mining of iron ore in Ontario. When the first iron ore operation is begun by the Algoma Steel Company, it will e necessary to invest $5,000,000 in getting the mine under way.

Pointing out that iron mining is more beneficial, as regards amount of employment furnished, than any other mine operations, the Star continues:—There are vast quantities of iron north of the Sault, unlimited areas of magnetite in the Mississauga Forest reserve east of miles 65-68 on the Algoma Central Railway and great hills of siderite at Michipicoten.

At the New Helen mine, there are 20,000,000 tons exposed above grade—that is mining will be simply blasting the ore from the side of the hill. In one deposit of magnetite in the region there are 150,000,000 tons above grade.

No iron ore is mined in Canada. None has been mined since 1921, when the Helen Mine closed down.

The Algoma Steel Corporation spent $2,000,000 in working out the problem in beneficiation of low grade iron ore at the Magpie mine, a small deposit, in Michipicoten some years ago. The Helen ore is exactly the same as that at the Magpie.

There is no difficulty about the treatment of Algoma low grade iron ores. The reason Algoma iron has not been used is because the big operators in Minnesota mine on so large a scale that a smaller operation in Algoma could not compete in price. But in any case the Minnesota high grade ores won't last for many years, and Algoma ore must come in sooner or later. The steel corporation of Minnesota ore, and the sudden forced development of Ontario mines is simply Ontario finances cannot be contemplated with complacency. The only business course is to get ready gradually and by easy stages. Otherwise the change might be disastrous," the Star says.

The Texas liquor makes possession of more than a gallon evidence of bootlegging. Some exception should be made, of course, for politicians.

HOSPITAL WON

That soccer is becoming popularized in Belleville is indicated last Friday night when several score spectators gathered to witness a friendly game of Pine Grove School grounds between the Belleville General Hospital team and the Canadian Railroads. After an exciting tilt the Hospital finally emerged victors by a score of 3-0. The Hornridge twins forward and Captain of the Hospital team scored all three goals and played an excellent game all through. He was given some valuable support by his teammates. Another Soccer team will likely be entered short ly and a league may be formed.

It's costly to hit a man on the nose for a dance as one young man found out at the police court today. This young gent took a kindly stranger at a dance at Bilty's Pavilion the other night and let him right in the nose. This morning the police court man was hailed before Magistrate Mikel and charged with disorderly conduct. He was fined $25 and costs, to pay the costs of court, which amounted to $12.50.

FRIENDSHIP

Llanelly, near Swansea, about noon, she says flying low through the mist and was skirting the coast and looking for a suitable landing place on Llanelly foreshore, when she disappeared towards Burry Port.

A few minutes later she was sighted at Burry Port, circled Burry Inlet for a few minutes and then dropped in a field inland. She landed along the river and came to a halt soon after, making fast to a buoy.

A motor boat immediately went out and took the plane's passengers ashore in the presence of hundreds of people who ran across a marshy swamp near the scene for a distance of three quarters of a mile, to greet the intrepid aviators. The region in which the flyers had ended their flight across the ocean made a depressing scene, but the aviators did not seem to mind and looked well after their long journey.

Peterboro, June 18.—Andrew Healey was seriously wounded near Keene yesterday afternoon when he was shot in the back while riding his bicycle on the road through a wood. A number of boys were shooting and one of them aimed at a tree and missed it. Young Healey was hit. The wounded boy was rushed to the Lindsay Hospital. His condition is critical.

KINGSTON CLIMBING IN C. O. LEAGUE RACE

Peterboro, June 18.—Kingston, for the second time in three days, defeated Peterboro by an overwhelming score of 12 to 2. On Saturday Kingston played their first game of the season in this city and were the victors by 14 to 4. Both games featured pitchers, and the game, from the spectators' standpoint, was most unexciting. Hamill started for the Petes and in his six innings on the mound the visitors scored nine runs.

KEEN GAMES IN INDUSTRIAL LG.

Two games were played in the City Baseball League on Saturday afternoon and both were keen contests. At Cockburn Park, Grand Trunk Shops and the Alemite squad and the latter team won by a score of 18-8 in a fast game. The Grand Trunk which was only recently completed is first-class and a splendid team to top class senior. It is indeed as good as any playing ground in the City. A large crowd witnessed this game. Batteries for the winners were the the points for the Alemite while Corbyville used Pinchell and Meagher, Latchford and Cretney, while Wardhaugh did the catching. Alemite had the best of the play and hit all of the opposing pitchers hard.

Ivig Woodley and Vern Weir, umpired.

The Redcrerville team defeated the Moore at the Fair grounds at 4.30 by a score of 4-1. Watts did the pitching for Redcrerville and turned in an excellent game. Gerow and Young were the battery for the losers. Cleo Colin and Alan Meagher handled the game.

GLASGOW HERALD MAKES COMMENT

Discusses Recent Statement of Henri Bourassa Made At Ottawa

London.—(C.P.)—Under the title "Canadian Sovereignty", the Glasgow Herald discusses the debate initiated at Ottawa by Henri Bourassa, Independent M. P., for Labelle, Que. The Herald remarks that since the last Imperial Conference the advocates throughout the Dominions of Imperialist or Nationalist views have made good progress towards a realization that, so far from being incompatible, the two outlooks are mutually complementary, and that it is as a part of the greater unity that each Dominion has best developed its own nationhood. "Nevertheless it is still possible for external partisans to carry on points of detail. It is therefore matter for satisfaction that the debate has been answered in the House of Commons by Mr. Bourassa, who appears to regard all imperial obligations as unsought, have been achieved so convincingly by the Dominion Premier," the Herald says.

Premier King's account of the considerations which led Canada to break off relations with Russia is interesting, continues the Herald, since it not only illustrates Ottawa's freedom of outlook but supplies further proof—if any is needed—of the justice of Britain's attitude in the dispute.

"Though it followed the Anglo-Russian rupture, Canada's action was not decided by it. It has been shown to be a initiative of her own Government, which had become so incensed at the evidence of Soviet propagandist activities as to contemplate searching the Russian headquarters at Ottawa" the newspaper says. "It was because Canada's experience was similar to our own that she took the ultimate step," The Prime Minister's clearing up o these points affecting the Dominion's status can have little effect on the Russian-minded Canadians that their country has—to put it bluntly—full sovereignty she can have any use for. While it is true, as the Opposition leader pointed out, that absolute freedom of action is not in every respect possible to any of the British Dominions, it cannot be denied that the Home country is equally restricted in its policy by having full freedom of consult them. "The present bond has given each member of the British commonwealth the utmost degree of freedom consistent with their deriving mutual benefit from forming parts of an organic whole."

STOLE LEMON EXTRACT IS GIVEN SIX MONTHS

Stealing a bottle of lemon extract from Loblaw's Grocery Store was the cause of Frederick Irwin receiving a sentence of six months in jail, from Magistrate Mikel, in police court this morning.

The Chief of Police claimed that Irwin has been a nuisance for some time past, with begging and obtaining money under false pretences, and the Magistrate did not show much leniency in sentencing the accused. Irwin is an elderly man and has no one dependent upon him.

MATTHEWS—ADAMS

A quiet wedding took place at 11 o'clock this morning at Christ Church, Rev. C. E. Clarke officiating, when Miss Ida Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Adams, Bull street, became the bride of Garfield Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Matthews, 272 John street. After a short honey moon, the young couple will reside in Belleville.

MULHOLLAND—LOUCKS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday evening, June first at seven o'clock when Gladys Mildred youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loucks became the bride of Samuel John Mulholland, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Mulholland, of Kingston, by Arch Deacon Colman of Christ Church, officiating.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. H. Loucks; she was beautifully gowned in white georgette with picture hat, white stockings and black satin shoes. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley. She was assisted by Miss Lillian E. Mulholland, sister of the groom, dressed in a printed georgette fro and white hat carrying sunburst roses. The bride's mother wore Navy blue. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Sidney Mulholland.

Following the ceremony the party proceeded to the home of the bride's brother, Mr. R. G. Loucks, where a reception was held. Later the happy couple accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Gladys Loucks left for Belleville where they spent the week end later returning to Kingston, Niagara, Montreal and New York.

The presents were numerous and beautiful showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. A few weeks ago a kitchen shower was given for Miss Loucks when she received many beautiful and useful presents.

Among those who attended were friends from Toronto and Cleveland, also Mrs. W. Robinson and daughter, Belleville.

UNVEIL AWARD

mer French, Hull, Quebec, superintendent of Plant 3; Peter Moyneaudes man and George W. R. Tummon, member of parliament for south Hastings; Joseph Hill, M. P. P. for East Hastings; Stanley Bell, Belleville, Mayor Hall, O. Hertig, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harold Legate, superintendent of the Plant at Point Anne all these were notable visitors to the industrial ceremonies.

The Monument Unveiled.

George E. Warren, assistant manager of the Dorland Company was called to the man elected to unveil the monument as presented by his firm. Speaking briefly Mr. Warren said: "I am particularly proud to come to your plant because of the work in leadership that has been undertaken by Mr. Tague, your president. From all of the Canada Cement plants you have carried off honours. This should make you proud of your company and community; it is you men who have done it and the unveiling of all the more glorious in that this year has proceeded without an accident. A performance like this is a matter of credit to all of them for the work and self-control. The only way to success is by these things."

"You have accomplished something," continued the speaker, "that only five or six industries in the world have done. It has made your company one of the most highly respected business opportunities in the wide world. You, the men who are making cement are making something more worth while than any other commodity."

At this juncture Mr. Warren pulled aside the flag that covered the handsome trophy, and several hundred men of the plant, visitors and onlookers cheered him to the echo. "This is a monument to self-control," said Mr. Warren, "it is a constant reminder to you that you will always be remembered this day when the eyes of Canada and the world are on you. The work of the plant and the safety of the community depends upon your efficiency."

A Big Day.

Saturday was a big day for the Canada Cement Company. To achieve such an enviable record meant a year's hard work, but it was done.

The day was started at noon with a banquet of the important guests at the cafeteria of Plant No. 2, and the ceremonies at the Point.

No addresses were given at the Quinte Hotel where the banquet was given, but seven or eight speakers addressed the assemblage to the accompaniment of the festivities.

At about three o'clock in the afternoon the ceremony was started. A huge parade, in which Roe-up were practically all the workers at Plant No. 5 of the Canada Cement Company, as well as the school children of Point Anne, started in front of the club house and marched down to the plant where the ceremonies were to take place.

The parade was headed by the Argyll Light Infantry Band and each department of the cement company was represented by a banner, denoting the success that it had achieved during the year.

J. O. Herity

Upon arriving at the place where the monument was situated, just outside plant 5, the workers and school children formed into mass formation in front of the monument, and the impressive ceremonies were commenced.

There were several speakers present, but all gave short addresses. The first to step to the crowd was Mr. Legate, who introduced each speaker in turn. Mr. J. O. Herity, manager of Chamber of Commerce was the first visitor to give an address. "It is fitting that I should have been chosen to do this," stated Mr. Herity. "I am a native of Hastings County and the administrative head of the power house of this community. As a citizen of this county and of Belleville it is indeed a great pleasure here. You may well be proud of your record."

Joseph Hall, M. P. Deft.

"I wish to congratulate you," stated Mr. Hill, "and your plant on the more than great record that you have achieved. I want you to remember while days without accidents are wonderful records, when you do you have to look up the Compensation Board. I, at this point, want to thank the officials of Point Anne for what they did for me in the last elections."

Mr. G. R. Tummon

Mr. Tummon was the next speaker. Like those preceding him, his remarks were brief. "This trophy was won by united effort and co-operation from all. I want to extend my congratulations to you upon winning it. Not only to the management but to every employee who helped to carry off this prize."

"I know the time and attention you employees have put out to get this wonderful record. It is a great thing to be bonding towards the prevention of accident, such as you have been bonding during the last few days."

S. B. Morley.

"Last year about 72,000 accidents were reported to the Compensation Board. About 20,000 have been presented so far this year. Plant No. 5 did not swell that total one little bit. You are doing practical work here. I went to the convention at Geneva, Switzerland, last year, where they were considering the theory of safety. You are practising it!"

V. A. Sinclair.

"This record is something you will be proud of. 16,000,000 men spent on relief to the injured workmen last year, but not here. Boys and girls are the most important part of your organization. Get them started right and all will be well."

United effort is what is required.

Every accident is a great economic loss. It is a loss to both the employer and the employee."

Hope to Repeat.

Plant No. 5 has great hopes of repeating the same average next year if, it is at all possible. The employees of the plant are proud of such a record, and the employers too. If everything turns out as is expected there will be an addition to this year's monument in 1928, for the men are all firmly resolved to co-operate in every way and make 1928 a success. Good luck to them!

MENTAL DEFECTIONS NOT ALL HELPLESS

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Eminent Psychologist

One would scarcely associate even a minute amount of ability with the lowest types of feeble-mindedness, yet in an unusual condition known as "idiot-savants," genius and idiocy coexist in one and the same individual.

In the Barnsford Asylum, England, there is a patient who entered at the age of fifteen and is now in his seventies. As a child he could not walk till seven, was never tolerated at school, and only learned to write and spell a few simple words. But his memory was good and at an early age he showed an aptitude for drawing.

This man now has over fifty excellent crayons to his credit, wonderful carvings in wood and ivory, and a ten-foot model of a fully rigged man of war of the old wooden type.

He has also built a huge and awe-inspiring mechanical doll, thirteen feet high. By means of a complicated internal mechanism it can be made to turn the head, raise the arms, open and shut the eyes and mouth, protrude the tongue, etc.

Yet this 'Genius of Earlswood' is feeble-minded, unable even to dress himself in the outside world without supervision. He is one of those remarkable idio-savants.

The condition is rather rare, and curiously enough, it is seldom found among women.

Apparently in these feeble-minded geniuses a certain part of the brain is overdeveloped at the expense of all the rest. For example, they may be 'lightning calculators,' or musical prodigies, while mentally defective in every other way.

Their superior talent usually carries with it a phenomenal imitative power in some special field. Cases with pronounced memory ability have also been described.

The combination of idiocy and marked ability lends color to the older psychology which claimed that the brain is made up of separate and distinct faculties, having functions entirely title to do with each other.

We do not subscribe to this theory nowadays. We believe the mind is inter-correlated in an exceedingly close fashion.

Normal development must needs therefore pay attention to as many phases of mind activity as possible!

The brains of Idiot-Savants are exceptional and differ in structure from those of normal individuals as well as those of average feeble-minded state. It must be remembered, however, that the feeble-minded can be trained to do many things.

The highest types—that is, those who most nearly approach the normal can be made self-supporting.

Even cases of idiocy can be taught very simple performances, although the value of such teaching is open to question.

In institutions, however, the various grades of mental defect can all contribute something toward the overhead expenses and general upkeep.

It is possible that an institution for the feeble-minded may be run so efficiently as to be practically self-supporting.

This is one of the best arguments for more institutions throughout the country for this type of case.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl, 18 years old, and I am very much in love with a boy who is 22. He took me several times to parties and is always anxious to give me a good time.

Whenever we come home from a party I kiss him and he seems to really like to kiss. I told my girl friends about this and they all tell me that it is a wrong thing to kiss a boy. Do you think it is wrong for me to kiss him after a party? He is always in love with me. KISSIE.

KISSIE: I think it would be a little more natural if he distributed the kisses, my dear. If you are engaged to the young man, it would be perfectly all right, but if you do not approve of promiscuous caresses. Some day when you meet the right Man you'll be sorry that your lips are not untouched.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

My girl friend says she likes me tremendously, dances with me, and we go out, but she is for the reason that she is taller than I.

Is there any way to change her mind?

Who is the originator of the idea, that a man should be taller than the girl?

A READER.

A READER: I haven't the faintest idea who originated the idea, Reader. It probably comes from the fact that man is the protector of woman, therefore, should be taller and stronger. However, this is a very foolish notion; as some of the happiest married people I know are the ones who realize that, as a rule, the husband is shorter than the wife. It is a matter of pride, I suppose, but I surely wouldn't let anything like that injure my happiness if I cared for a girl.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am intensely in love with my English instructor, a unique individual, highly educated and cultured. He is strikingly handsome, tall and athletic-looking. I am in a tenth-grade class which he teaches. I love him! Please advise me. I cannot tell him this of my mind.

BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: Don't be a silly child, Blue Eyes. There is plenty of time for you to think of him. To your teacher you are just one of his pupils and that's that! Every girl in the world has at some time or other a 'crush' on one of her teachers, and after she grows up laughs at herself. And you'll be doing exactly this same thing some day. Apply your mind to your studies and prepare yourself for the life that lies ahead of you, my dear, and you'll never regret it.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

A COUNCIL OF WAR.

Celia presented Falconer to Gwen herself with charming simplicity as 'Enchanted, Miss Burns.'

She inclined her head slightly, pocketing not to see his extended hand. Not a whit abashed, he said coolly:

'Celia had not told me she had such a charming friend.'

Gwen answered: 'You pay drop the pretense with me, Mr. Falconer, Celia and I have been friends since childhood. I am completely in her confidence.'

'A very happy state for you, Miss Burns. Celia is at times a bit—er reticent.'

Unwilling admiration crept into Gwen's eyes. The man was so magnificently confident. She said deliberately:

'I want to have a talk with you, Mr. Falconer.'

'I am honored,' was the blithe response.

He went to the door and closed it ostentatiously.

'I'm very much afraid the young person who acts as your mother's companion is very curious about your affairs, Celia, my dear. I saw her on the stairs when I came in. . . . Now, Miss Burns, I am at your disposal. What do you wish to say to me?'

'I'd like to say first that I think you are a cad and a coward to take advantage of a helpless girl who is motivated solely by her devotion to her sick mother.'

He nodded with an air of polite acknowledgment.

'I have been called worse names than that, Miss Burns.'

She made an impatient gesture.

'Secondly, I will tell you that I shall protect Celia to the best of my ability with my last breath, if need be.'

He laughed easily.

'Really, there is no need for that. I assure you that I will do all in my power to make the situation unemotional as it is, easy for you. After all, she is rendering a service to me, as well as to herself.'

Gwen said grimly: 'I understand that you are anxious to be — shall I say 'in bullet' in time, Mr. Falconer? Might not the authorities be interested to hear that?'

He smiled.

'If you mean that for a threat, I'm afraid it fails to hit the bulls eye. . . . I happen to be entirely innocent of any crime. The only reason for my death or retirement rests with a certain gentleman in Central America who has a personal grudge against me. True, I'm not popular there, since the presidential forces happened to emerge triumphant from the revolution and there is a price on the heads of rebels, of whom I was one. But the American authorities have no reason to be interested in me.'

Gwen bit her lip in vexation. She had so hoped, for Celia's sake, that there was something more serious back of Falconer's desire to remain in town, and that he would betray himself by some sign of apprehension. She realized now that he was probably telling the truth. She turned to Celia.

'Do you think you can go through with it, if Mr. Falconer gives us his word of honor that he'll be square?'

The scorn in her tone, as she spoke the word 'honor,' failed to disturb Falconer's armored hopelessly: 'What else can I do? . . . I must think of it in the centre, while this also has been copied in brightly colored velvet.

INSTITUTES ARE MAKING ADVANCE

Women's Institutes Take Great Strides In Great Britain

London, Eng.—The women of Canada will be interested to note the progress of Women's Institutes in Great Britain, for it was a Canadian, Mrs. Alfred Watt of Victoria, B.C., who was instrumental in establishing here during the war these organizations, which Premier Baldwin has said constituted Canada's greatest contribution to England. The 12th annual general meeting of the National Federation held in London recently attracted 2,000 delegates from all parts of the country. The pioneers did not have an easy time, and as Lady Denman, the chairman, said, they were frequently told not to interfere but to 'stay at home and mind the baby.'

Today in England there are about 4,000 branches, while Scotland, starting from England, has 500. The situation has changed and the movement, meets with encouragement and approval, partly perhaps because it has become self-supporting and for the last two years has been able to dispense with the financial assistance which at first it received from the Ministry of Agriculture. It's effect, says The Times, 'has been to enlarge the sympathies of cottage housewives by talks and lectures on art, history, literature and other subjects of interest, to institute a revival of old-time village industries and handicrafts, and generally speaking to relieve and brighten the monotony of their everyday life.' At the London meeting it was suggested that the practical usefulness of the work might be extended if urban and rural district councils were asked to co-opt members of local women's institutes on to their housing committees so that women might exercise their views, especially on the problems of rural housing.

This remarkable movement, which had its beginning in Saltfleet (Lincolnshire), Wentworth County, Ont., in February, 1897, now almost encircles the globe. The majority of other organizations have been founded on the plan which has worked so well in Ontario, and every effort will be made to look to Ontario for inspiration. In Belgium there are over 700 branches; in Germany the Conservative Association was formed a year after the Ontario organization and now has 1,315 local associations; in Ireland 21, Poland 900, Finland 220, New Zealand 12, India 150, while Australia, Czecho Slovakia, South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, Natal, France, Sweden, Holland and other countries also have their association. Some are called by different names, as in the United States, where the Home Bureau reaches millions of people and is purely rural, but all have the same objectives, home and country.

CANADIAN CLAM IS IN GREAT DEMAND

Boston.—(C.P.)—The prohibition on clam digging in many sections of the Massachusetts coast has increased to a considerable degree the consumption of shell fish from the Maritime Provinces. Pollution of virtually all streams emptying into the Massachusetts coast line results in the state departments of health and fisheries closing many hitherto productive sections of the coast to clam digging. Here departments agree there is little prospect of cleaning up the pollution of the streams because of the large expenditure which would be necessary to carry sewage from inland cities to the sea by any other method. Experiments are being made in an effort to make the clam crop available as food. They include a chlorination plant at Newburyport, in which softshelled clams may be treated as is drinking water in some inland cities to remove impurities. The hard-shelled clam of southern Massachusetts waters has been found to react to simpler treatment. These clams, including the quahog and 'little-neck,' have been found to be all bacteria after they have been taken from polluted water and allowed to remain for thirty days in pure sea water. The department of fisheries is permitting some clam digging when these conditions are observed.

It's getting to be quite a serious problem for a man about to marry to choose a little woman that will help him with the dishes.

MAKING LOVE BY ART OF MUSIC

Selberling Singers Will Broadcast Special Program

The bashful Red Mushing millions whose tongues are tied by maiden modesty, should dial the Selberling Roxy next Tuesday evening when the famous Selberling Singers will give an air recital in the age-old art of musical love-making. From the same spot on the moonlit Mississippi levees from the twiddles crooned to the Ceilsha girls of far Japan, from the tunes that Broadway sings to its cosmopolitan youth, they have selected a program 'curriculum,' that fits a wide variety of moods and occasions. It runs the gamut from the droll and delightful aria, 'Una Furtiva Lagrima' (A Furtive Tea), which the scampish lover sings in Donizetti's opera, 'L'Elisir d'Amore' to Eric Coates' lovely English ballad 'I Heard You Singing.' It includes Deppen's beautiful Oriental love song, 'Japanese Sunset,' which they'll interpret dressed in quaint kimonos, and which they are repeating Tuesday night by special request. It includes that modern-day waltz favorite 'Dream Kiss' and that delightful negro love song 'Ole Lucindy.' Even the orchestra will take a hand in the demonstration—having prepared to play one of the loveliest of love songs without words, the 'Elegie' from Victor Herbert's 'Naughty Marietta.'

The Selberling Hour goes on the air every Tuesday evening from 8.30 to 9.00 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time (from 7.30 to 8.00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time) through 29 stations of the National Broadcasting Company's Red Network.

Of the seven members of the June 19th program, three—O Lucindy, 'Dream River' and 'Japanese Sunset'—are being repeated in response to thousands of requests from listeners-in.

PROMOTION IS WELL MERITED

Charles Ross To Go To Ottawa; Was Well Known Calgarian

While Calgary citizens, deeply concerned in the sound development of the natural resources of this province, will regret the transfer of Charles H. Ross, supervisory mining engineer of the Department of the Interior, to Ottawa, they will be reassured by the knowledge that Mr. Ross will continue to have supervision over the mining and oil development work that is being carried on in Alberta. Mr. Ross came to Calgary in 1910 as assistant to O. O. Finnie, who was inspecting engineer of the Department of the Interior. From the outset Mr. Ross, who had a thorough technical training at McGill University, Montreal, supplemented by researches made for 12 years in connection with the mines branch of the federal government, made it his business to become intimately acquainted with Alberta's mining and oil field conditions and development. When Mr. Finnie, in 1914, he conducted a survey into the mining situation with a view to establishing the proper royalty basis.

Although the oil development was not extensive during the war years, Mr. Ross maintained a constant supervision and the records that have been prepared under his direction since 1919 have proved invaluable. This important work will still be carried on by the Calgary office under Mr. Ross's supervision and the system, that he has established, will be maintained. Even those who are acquainted with the details of oil field exploration in Alberta can perhaps fully understand the worth of Mr. Ross's services, but it may be stated that his plan, perhaps, more than to any other individual is due the established conditions which now obtain in the Turner Valley and other Alberta oil areas.

What applies to the oil resources and the useful reports that have been gathered with infinite care and pains, applies also to Western Canada's coal industry and in respect of both matters this province and the Dominion as a whole are very real debts to Mr. Ross.

Such balanced progress in the development of Alberta's mineral and oil resources is to be desired, for on such progress will depend a considerable measure the material prosperity of this part of Canada. With so much at stake and with so much real capital wealth in sight, reason for satisfaction is found in the announcement from Ottawa that Mr. Ross's promotion to a larger field of activity does not mean that his association with Alberta resources will cease—on the contrary, it is intimated that one of Mr. Ross' important functions will be the continued administration of all mining and oil operations in this province.

Mr. Ross' new sphere of influence will include the solving of problems arising in the development of the new mining areas of Northern Manitoba and Northern Saskatchewan, an undertaking for which the former Ottawa and McGill hockey and rugby star is adequately equipped.

The best wishes of his Alberta friends go with Mr. Ross in his responsible mission.

PRINCE CAROL NOT SO WELL?

After Rejection By Britain May Have Lost a Little Weight

Apropos of the reports of the ex-Roumanian prince, Carol Hohenzollern's appearance in London, the sports—or from Brussels especially—deal with his health and appearance when in Belgium. At that time age, then it was considered that he was in bad, even dangerous health and straitened financial circumstances. He remained in Brussels for three days. He was dressed in civilian clothes and a bowler hat, accompanied by Magda Lupescu, of the famous red hair, her brother, father and a chauffeur-valet.

Looking wan and thin, with all life seemingly extinguished from his pale blue eyes, the prince admitted in an interview that he was feeling quite badly and longed for one thing only—a good long rest.

Carol's face and figure were, says the correspondent, shockingly different from former photographs in the newspapers. His cheeks are hollow and his entire face seems to be wasting away. He gives the impression of a man whose health is failing.

The prince refused to discuss the possibility of his visit to this side of the water.

Carol and Mme. Lupescu occupied an entire suite in the apartment of the friends of a wealthy Roumanian expatriate.

SON WAS SENATOR FATHER COMMONS

In 1874, Patrick Power, a merchant of Halifax, N. S., was returned (for the second time) as M. P. for that constituency, and sat until 1878, recalls the Montreal Standard. In the spring of 1877 his son, Lawrence Geoffrey—a young lawyer of 26 years—was appointed by the Mackenzie government to the Senate. When the 1878 session of parliament was called young Power and his senior father went to Ottawa together. The old gentleman went to the Lower House and took his accustomed seat, while Lawrence crossed over to the Red Chamber and sat among the Solons. The case is unique.

MAY BUILD BIG CANAL IN N. S.

To Connect Bay of Fundy And Northumberland Strait

Amherst, N. S.—(C.P.)—A ship canal connecting the head-waters of the Bay of Fundy with Northumberland Strait and shortening the water route between Fundy port and the Gulf by over three hundred miles, is the immediate aim of a group of prominent citizens of Cumberland County, who hope to interest the whole Dominion in the proposition and push it to completion.

A neck of land some eighteen miles wide, the Isthmus of Chignecto, is all that prevents Nova Scotia from being an island instead of a peninsula. That same "neck of land" also makes it necessary for shipping between the Bay of Fundy and Prince Edward Island or Northern New Brunswick ports and farther, to circle the entire province, to return, perhaps, to a point fifty miles from where it originated.

Years ago when large craft were scarce in this country and bulk ever means of water travel was by Indian canoe, the Isthmus was easily crossed with short portages and great volumes of supplies were bogie from Bay to Strait in that fashion. As the country grew and prospered it was felt that a canal would be essential but along 1888 George Mendows, a prominent engineering authority of the day approved the scheme and it was decided that surveying men were engaged on the project. Huge docks were built at each terminus, miles of permanent road bed built over the low-lying marshes, concrete culverts sunken deep into the ground and bridges thrown over gulches. Then, when it seemed that all was in readiness for the trans-shipment of the full rigged vessel and cargo, the scheme collapsed. The Dominion government withdrew its support and the whole enterprise was abandoned.

To the present day some of the concrete structures remain unmarred by the ravages of time, but the docks and much of the roads have gone into disuselessness. Many engineers were connected with this project, including O'Rourke of New Brunswick fame and Sir Maurice Fitzmaurice, who tunneled the Thames, built a huge irrigation dam on the Nile and was prominent in the Quebec bridge construction.

The new committee, recently formed, to stimulate action on the proposed canal, is headed by Cumberland's foremost member of the Dominion Parliament. It is not a new idea. The late Sir Charles Tupper, "The Warehouse of Cumberland," gave his support to the scheme and Sir Robert Borden, premier of his day had a survey made by the late Alexander Murray, but the action was not followed up.

Board of Trade officials co-operating with the committee are busy compiling figures to prove the economic value of such a utility and the committee is convinced that the scheme can be proved to offer unlimited advantages to the country as far beyond the cost of construction. Building the canal, it is stated by engineers, would be comparatively simple as, owing to the nature of the soil for almost the entire distance, the excavation could be done mainly by dredges.

One object in the way of successfully constructing this waterway is the exceptional high tide on the Bay of Fundy shores, but engineers declare that this difficulty can be easily overcome.

An Attractive Mining Speculation

GRANT MAHOOD outlines the opportunity presented by ALEXANDRIA GOLD MINES shares:

AFTER months of careful investigation, I am now prepared to offer through the Anglo-London Security Corporation, 1,000,000 shares of Alexandria Gold Mines Limited.

It is both unwise and unnecessary to make extravagant statements regarding Alexandria Gold Mines Limited, as its position appears sound as to policy, operation and financing.

Undoubtedly a sudden speculation usually accompanies a sound scheme of development. The fact remains, however, that the accumulation of shares in a sound developing enterprise, carefully selected and thoroughly analyzed by men experienced in the intricacies of the mining world, when the company is in its infancy, has in the past substantially rewarded the speculator.

Mining in Canada offers—to the men or women who risk their funds in the shares of companies which are now developing new mines, the greatest opportunity for creating an estate that may bring independence in later life.

Alexandria Gold Mines Limited is a development, holding, exploration and operating company and—with its five outstanding properties situated, as they are, in three of the producing mining areas of Canada and which were chosen only after careful investigation of 60 odd blocks of ground by competent mining men, with the direction of the company under such men as General A. E. Ross, President, and Sydney Anglin, Treasurer—with Mr. Thomas S. Davey, M.E., as General Manager and Director—a man who has attained the highest possible position in his profession and with a past record on three continents seldom equalled—the obvious soundness of this company's policy should appeal to all who are interested and wish to participate in the development of our enormous mineral resources.

In my opinion, Alexandria Gold Mines Limited is an outstanding mining speculation with tremendous profit possibilities. This public offering of these shares at 50c a share is a price which is a prospect—not a mine price.

The only people I want, to take advantage of this opportunity, are those who can afford to speculate, and so, if you like the thrill of playing in a big game—a man's game—a game where the element of Real Profits is ever present—where the rewards when won exceed your fondest expectations, then—to you—if you are the type of man who is willing to take a chance to reap rich rewards—the type of man who can smile when he wins—when he loses—I extend this invitation to you to join my friends and myself in this venture which I feel will be to our mutual benefit.

Application for shares may be made direct to Anglo-London Security Corporation, 1603 Royal Bank Building, Toronto, or through your broker.

Public participation already points towards an oversubscription of this issue. If interested I advise you to make immediate application, as shares will be allotted in the order of their reception.

Sincerely yours,

Grant Mahood

Anglo-London Security Corporation have prepared a comprehensive survey on Alexandria Gold Mines Limited—over 40 pages—which will be mailed to you upon request.

EXPEDITION TO BE ENTERTAINED

Scientific Band Will Explore Isle In Coral

London. — (C.P.) — A handful of young people, men and women, living for over a year in wooden huts on a lonely island in the Coral Sea, and another method of keeping fit, dancing to the music of London's bands. Never before have there been a scientific expedition of which it has been possible to paint quite as assertively. Such will be the expedition to the Great Barrier Reef of Australia, which has just sailed from Tilbury, in many respects unique.

Even in such weird and desolate surroundings as those of the 1,200 mile long reef whose secrets the expedition is to probe, explorers need no longer be cut off from a homeland 12,00 miles and more away. The B. C. C. shortwave station at Chelmsford, 5 S.W., which is conducting continuous experiments in Empire broadcasting, will tell them the time by Big Ben, give them the news, and teach them the latest fox-trots, too.

The party of ten young people is headed by Dr. C. M. Yonge, a brilliant scientist of Cambridge, who is only in his 28th year, and is accompanied by his wife, a doctor of Edinburgh University, aged 24, acting as medical officer.

The expedition; from which important scientific and economic results are hoped to accrue, such as the removal of decaying industries and the establishment of new commercial undertakings, is costing 10,000 pounds. Among those financing this ambitious exploration are the Empire Marketing Board, Commonwealth Government of Australia, the British Association, Zoological Society, Royal Geographical Society, Australian Barrier Reef Committee, Australian Association for the Advancement of Science, and numerous private subscribers in England and overseas.

"It is a responsible task to be in charge of the health of an expedition like this," Dr. Yonge's wife said, "but I am looking forward to the new experience. I hope there will be little for me to do. I am preparing specially for sunstroke and collecting from insects or from contact with certain parts of the Great Barrier Reef. Hence, as you may imagine, my medicine chests are well stocked."

The members of the expedition are: Dr. C. M. Yonge, in command; F. S. Russell, second in command; Mrs. Russell; Dr. T. A. Stephenson, lecturer in Zoology, University College, London; Miss Stephenson; A. P. Orr, assistant; Miss S. M. Marshall, assistant Naturalist, Scottish Marine Station; G. Tandy, botanist, British Museum; G. W. Otter, personal assistant to Dr. Yonge; Mrs. Yonge, medical officer; A. Steers and M. Spender, both of the Royal Geographical Society and J. S. Coleman, assistant Naturalist.

BENNETT HOLDS RESERVE POWER

While the more ardent members on the opposition side would doubtless have applauded more aggressive leadership Mr. Bennett has followed the wiser course by exercising restraint on several occasions when much more noise might have been made. Mr. Bennett has demonstrated that the Conservative party in parliament is concerned with something more than mere tub-thumping-comments the Ottawa Citizen.

No one with any experience in politics will make the mistake of assuming that this restraint meant weakness on the opposition side. It has rather conveyed the impression of plenty of reserve strength. People who insist in beating th big drum on every possible occasion sometimes find that they have only succeeded in wearying the public.

When the occasion calls for it, there is no doubt of Mr. Bennett's ability to drive home an attack on the opposite party. Something more than merely negative politics is needed, however, to win the confidence of the Canadian electorate.

STALIN FIGHTS FOR PEASANTS

Hopes To Defeat "Upper Class" Farmers; Socialization of Peasantry

Joseph Stalin, the predominant political figure in Russia, according to a Moscow despatch to the New York Herald, taking advantage of the temporary disappearance of opposition after Trotsky's exile is taking aggressive measures against the rural Kulaks a superior class of farmers, whom he hopes to destroy preliminary to the "socialization" of the poorer peasantry.

The destruction of the Kulaks is to be effected by the confiscation of their possessions and then imposition of heavy fines for not using the soil to the best advantage.

The poorer peasants, on the other hand, are to be absolved from the payment of certain land taxes and to be supplied with up-to-date agricultural machinery purchased by the state, thus making them more amenable to state discipline.

There is also a campaign being carried on in an effort to show Kulaks as bourgeoisie who live on the toil of their poorer neighbors.

This Stalin policy, however, threatens to be split on the rocks of solid opposition of the peasants who are rallying around the menaced Kulaks as their natural leaders.

My dear Sole

Thanks for yours with enclosure At last I seem to have found thanks to you the complete insurance An Unlimited All Risks Automobile policy

And to think that in the past I have been exposing my resources to possibly expensive accidents with only $5.000 protection

It has been my constant worry that some day I or some member of my household should badly injure some person of note and that I should find my house and home sold to pay the bill

BELLE THEATRE

Interesting incidents have arisen in the present-day making of Hugh Jackson's "Ramona" with Dolores Del Rio in the star and Edwin Carewe, who will be the banner attraction at the Belle beginning today.

Thirteen years ago, David Wark Griffith made a screen version of "Ramona". In real life, Mary Pickford was "Ramona" and Mack Sennett was the bold, bad villain who shot "Alessandro," to death.

Henry B. Walthall was "Alessandro," the Spanish lover of "Ramona". Other now famous personages of the film world were also in the big thriller of that period.

Some years later, another version of the Jackson story was put into screen form. This was in fifteen reels and consumed an entire evening to view. That was thirteen years ago.

Today, Inspiration Pictures and Edwin Carewe have produced their version of "Ramona" with Miss Del Rio as the star. The production, regarded as one of the important films for the new year, is being released by United Artists.

In addition to Dolores Del Rio, the cast boasts Warner Baxter, as "Alessandro," Roland Drew as "Felipe," Vera Lewis as "Senora Moreno," Michael Visaroff as "Juan Canito," John Fridge as "Father Salvierderra," Carlo Vivaldi as the interpreter and Mathilde Comont as "Margo."

According to Carewe, "Ramona" should prove equally as fine a film as "Resurrection," his last directorial effort. It is ideally written for the tal ent of Dolores Del Rio and the producer has lavished upon it much time and money. Finis Fox wrote the film story. Robert Kurrle photographed it.

REGENT THEATRE

New York's night clubs and the while breed secrets of the city's most notable hi-jinks and jamborees are featured by Director J. G. Blystone in "Slaves of Broadway," a Fox Films production featuring Holmes, Herbert and Olive Tell, which opens a three day engagement at the Regent Theatre beginning today. This is a screen version of one of the best stories written by Nina Wilcox Putnam and it is replete with human detail. The production runs the gamut of human emotion. It was scenarized by William M. Conselman. Others in the cast are Frank Furz, Richard Walling, Sue Acrroll, Mary Foy and Mickey Bennett.

The Rocky Mountain Lakes fish-ing season was opened recently with a catch of a thirty-two pound Lake Trout by Mrs. Hildebrand of Banff, in Lake Minnewanka. A number of others did not have as great weight were caught by guests at the Chateau Lake Louise.

The month of April was the most successful so far this year from the standpoint of building permits according to a statement issued by Chief Building Inspector Alexander Don. During the month 51 families were settled through the making of 51 permits on 19,249 acres of land, bringing the total of settlement since the first of the year up to 224 on 44,297 acres.

There are in Alberta today 77,152 farmers who have 834,324 horses in their 59,258 stables. Of the 77,152 farmers with 1,136,540 horses and 97,367 stables, Manitoba has 51,300 farmers with 356,450 horses and 16,-181 tractors, and Saskatchewan 76,-000 farmers with 1,000,000 horses. These figures were obtained by Western Canadian farms, the day of the tractor has definitely arrived.

Miss Jean Cameron, who came to the province of Alberta at the age of four, at ten commenced the keeping of a diary of her father's homestead. Today, at the age of 15, she has 1,000 pages of narrative and congenial pursuit, and quite expects to say accompanied which would keep her in the city. She has been trying for years to persuade her horse and her cats to include carrots, bran, wheat and fox.

A record passage by a freighter and one that has not been surpassed of a passenger ship was recently accomplished when the Canadian Pacific steamship Assiniboia Saint Boston docked at the Surrey Commercial Docks in London after only leaving Montreal. The trip was the first one of the season and was the new "Empress" vessels and this record will be the first of many to follow to fifteen hours now that the Saint Lawrence channel is free of ice and ready via the Straits of Belle Isle.

Seed growing is one of the latest industries in Saskatchewan and is steadily increasing importance. Vancouver Island even now pays seed sells on the English market from three to four shillings per pound more than the California seed. The largest seed pea grown farm is at Duncan, which produces yearly about two tons. Fifteen to 20 acres of oats are employed each year to grow flax and grass seeds, for excellence and high quality of which is becoming world-famous.

All the speed records for with a minimum of destruction of fuel was realized recently when a party of four members of the Lions' Rideau League of Amateurs enjoyed a forty-eight's autumn fishing on the Grand River, New Brunswick. The party, took life saving and returned their all to the water except twelve. The fish ranged from 15 pounds to an average of fifteen lbs and were taken in the Grand River rapids and streamer flies. Very fine sport was enjoyed by the fish were in no way injured, when returned to their native stream.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, June 18.—Owing largely to the Liverpool quotations, lower than looked for and to favorable weather northwest, wheat prices here averaged lower today, in the early dealings, heavy rains over Domestic winter wheat sections southwest, however, led to rallies, opening 5-8c to 1-3c, down, continued to move at times of time to fluctuate below Saturday's finish. Corn and oats were also easy with corn 3-8c to 11-4c off and subsequently holding near to initial rate.

Pittsburgh Barnes Go To Victory—Vance In Good Form

New York, June 18. — Burleigh Grimes was in splendid form and the Giants were down to defeat before the Pirates by a 5 to 0 in the first game of the series here yesterday. The former New York pitcher gave the home team only five hits.

The Giants ended their home stand with an even break in the Pittsburgh series in four games.

Paul Waner's single sent Lloyd Waner and Adams in with the first two Pittsburgh runs, while Charley Rarrgrave, former Phillie, the base fill ed in the sixth accounted for four more. Pirate runs and helped Dutch Henry to the shower.

Delay Vance has spectacular heights at Brooklyn where he struck out fifteen Chicago batsmen while pitching a 5 to 1 shut-out victory. Jim Robins bunched their hits off Root to win handily by four to nothing.

In the second and third innings and again in the sixth and seventh, Vance fanned five batters in a row. Every regular in the Chicago batting order except Hornsby succumbed at least once. Beck fanned three times; English, Wilson, Cuyler, Grimm and Root twice each, while McMillan and Maranville were victimized only once.

Fifteen strikeouts in nine innings approaches the modern national record of 16 set by Nap Rucker twenty years ago. Cuyler in 1924, Vance struck out 15 Chicago batters in nine innings.

Timely hitting gave the Robins six easy victory. Del Bissonette drove in two runs with a long double in the first inning. In the third Hendrick hit a home run over the right field.

Jake May's wildness enabled St. Louis to win at Cincinnati 8 to 2, and strengthened the Cardinal's lead for the pennant race. Reiu started to fall the first part of the fifth inning but play was continued until two were out in the sixth.

YANKEES WIN GAME; BABE, LOU, HOMERS

St. Louis, Mo., June 18. —The Yanks said au revoir, but not goodbye, to the west yesterday with a flock of home hits and the Browns as their busy, busy, calmly, and to wit, with a whoop. The Browns bustled and ambitious were the victims of the wrath of Ike. Ruth had cast by losing 4-3 while the Bees was hitting his twenty-fifth homer and Gehrig his sixteenth.

Local figure bounds declare that this was the largest crowd which ever has seen the Browns play baseball. The throng numbered 30,000, which is an ordinary crowd on Sunday in New York, but a whopper out in these parts. It was the biggest attendance the Browns have drawn in the enlarged park, and consequently the big post that ever saw them play.

OSHAWA TO PLAY HERE WEDNESDAY

Nationals Clash With Motors In Half-Holiday Double-Header

On Wednesday afternoon Belleville Baseball fans will have the privilege of seeing the Oshawa team in action for the first time this season, in a double header. This will be a special bargain day affair with the usual price of admission allowing the fans to witness both games. The Oshawa team are at present time leading the league and the Motor City clan have hopes of A.O.B.A. championship. They have a smart team and the locals will be forced to extend themselves to get an even break on these two games. The visitors are coached by Stan Burgoyne, a former Belleville boy, and his presence on the coaching lines in a new role will be an added attraction as he has a host of friends in the city.

Manager Walter Schulz is also well known here. Duke Daisly will likely hunt one of the games for the Oshawa Club.

Manager Walter Gerow is hoping to take both ends of the double bill and climb into first place. The Nationals have been playing a splendid brand of ball both on the road and at home and the team deserves a full house when they step out on Wednesday. Gibson and Uhrnik, two of the leading ballmen on the roster are being groomed to hurl on Wednesday with Jeffery in reserve and with a nice rest the team should be in fighting trim.

The Nationals are well-balanced with every position taken care of and provided they continue in their present stride should be first under the wire.

The first game on Wednesday will start promptly at two o'clock.

CLIFFORD BARBER WON 5000 METRE RACE SATURDAY

Bert Girling Makes Splendid Showing And Ran In 12th Place

Saturday morning Clifford Barber and Bert Girling journeyed to Toronto to attend and take part in the meet being conducted at Forest Hill. both boys had sent in their entries for the 5000 metre race and the report came back that Cliff captured this event. Running his own race, Barber let some of the less experienced get away in at about a sprint start but when the field settled down to a steady pace he was not long in overhauling them. Bill Paul Monnrgh runner, led the field at all of the way during the last mile and the finish. Even thirty-five runners started in this race, amongst whom were the outstanding athletes of Toronto and District as well as many prominent athletes from other parts of the province.

Bert Girling, a promising local runner came in twelfth in the same race. Girling was running under a considerable handicap having recently recovered from a recent illness. Taking this into consideration his performance on Saturday was most commendable.

Wednesday afternoon, Cliff Barber will take part in a meet at Picton held under the Auspices of the Junior Farmers Association of Prince Edward County. Cliff intends to try for the all around championship and judging from his showing of late, he should be one of the strongest contenders. Ralph Morden, Physical Director at the local Y.M.C.A. has been invited to act as one of the officials at this meet and will accompany many Barber fans there.

On July 2nd the Deloro to Marmora and return, Road Race will be staged and it is expected that a number of local athletes will take part in the event. This is for runners under twenty-one years of age Jan. 1st who are residents of Hastings County since that date. An additional event open to Hastings County residents is a Junior Road Race of approximately 9 1-2 miles for boys under sixteen years of age Jan. 1st.

Ki-Y League Fixtures for Tuesday 19th

In the Bantam series there will be a replay of the tie game in the opening of the series between the Golden Bantams and Rovers to be played at the Pine St. School Grounds.

The Midget Series will see the first of the play-off games between the Royals and Flying Canadians at the home field of the former, Queen Alexander School Grounds.

West Hill Pounders of Oshawa and Maple Leafs at Ramsay are the regular scheduled games in the Juvenile group.

DELORO SPRINGS BIG SURPRISE

Oshawa, June 18:—Oshawa received a serious setback in her pennant aspirations when Deloro, the new O.B.L. entry took the measure of the General Motors team to the tune of 7-4. A great factor in the defeat was seven errors charged up to the locals, and their poor, base running. Shea, for Deloro, hurled a steady and at time brilliant game and was well backed up by his teammates, while Duke Daisly was far from being at top form. Score by innings:

	R.H.E.
Deloro ...	3 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0—7 10 1
Oshawa ...	1 0 2 0 0 0 2 0 0—5 10 2

Batteries—Shea and Collins; Daisly and Quinn.

Umpires—Kay, Peterboro; Judd, Oshawa.

SCHWAB LIKES NOT DEBT COLLECTION

Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, now in London, was asked what of Britain's debt repayment the United States. He repeated his words delivered before the iron and Steel Institute in London: "I am one of the men in America who openly believed and stated that, while we were not able to contribute with man power in the war, it was our duty to contribute money," adding that he did not favor the collection of debts from men who stood together in the war.

BELLEVILLE LOST TO PETERBORO

Lift-Lock Tennis Squad in Trifle Too Strong For Locals

Belleville entry in the Central Ontario Tennis League, journeyed to Peterboro on Saturday to compete with the Peterboro Tennis Club and while giving that club plenty of opposition before they won out, Belleville was forced to take second spot in six out of the seven events.

Twomey Black, one of the youngest and incidentally one of the best players in the club, was the only player to win his match, winning from Dunfield, 6-4, 6-3. Armstrong got the other singles to Scott 5-3, 6-4. Miss L. Riggs and Miss Wrightmeyer in the Ladies' Doubles took the short end of two sets, each being won by the score of 6-4 6-1.

Mrs. Hannah and Bob Brown put up one of the best matches seen in the whole match when they went down to defeat at the hands of Mrs. Moore and Chestnut, by the scores of 6-1, 6-8, 6-2.

Two Men's Doubles were played, Percy and Alphonse Black being defeated by Jackson and Langley, by the scores of 6-4, 6-4. Al Walters and Percy Black were successful in winning one set out of three in the other Men's Doubles, beating the match 6-4, 6-8, 6-2.

Although Bllleville undoubtedly made a poor showing, they were by no means disgraced, as no courts have been available in this city this spring, and it was only due to the kindness of the Point Anne Club that any practice has been had at all, as they offered their courts until the new ones at the Country Club were ready. It is expected that these courts will be ready for use by next week.

ROYALS SPLIT ONE GAME WITH ORIOLES

Baltimore, June 18.—Fresh from their double triumphs at Newark Satur day, the Montreal Royals came to Baltimore yesterday afternoon and broke even in a twin engagement with the Orioles. Inferior pitching allowed the Orioles to capture the first 13-5, but high grade work in the tux gay victory for the Royals 5-4, in the seven inning night cap.

The fans in Baltimore have failed to patronize Jack Dunn's park extensively this season, but yesterday the largest crowd of the year, more than 8,000 saw the Royals and Birds divide honors.

The fact that the Orioles swept the entire five-game series with the Toronto Leafs, and climbed in a week from but fit fifth place, gave impetus to the sport of baseball here, and p colorful and hard-hitting crowd that saw the Birds run their consecutive victories in six by taking the opener and lower their colors to the Royals in the finale.

Oil—or trouble...which?

When you watch the bright stream of motor oil being poured into your crankcase, ask yourself: "What am I buying, oil—or trouble?" Only one in a thousand buyers of lubricating oil is getting a barrel of trouble. The story of 75% of all motor repairs goes back to the failure of some oil. That's why it pays to watch your lubrication.

Motor oil has a big job to do. It works by forming a thin film between all the whirling, flying surfaces of your motor. And it has to stand terrific punishment—the lash of scorching heat—the thrust of grinding friction. Here is where ordinary oil breaks and burns. Through the shattered film vital motor parts are exposed. Friction gets in its destructive work and your car is headed for the repair shop.

Because the whole problem of correct lubrication lies in a film of oil, Tide Water technologists spent years studying not oils alone but oil films. Finally they perfected in Veedol the oil that gives the "film of protection". Thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel, the Veedol film defeats deadly heat and friction.

To solve the problem of correct lubrication for high-speed, high-compression motors, Tide Water has reformulated the entire line of Veedol motor oils. These new oils are heavier, tougher, longer-lived than ever. They not only lubricate the new type of motors safely and correctly, but they are better oils for any motor. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and give your motor the extra protection it requires.

LOCALS LEADING CENTRAL LEAGUE

Belleville Nationals are today leading the Central Ontario Baseball League as a result of Delora having beaten Oshawa on Saturday by a score of 7-4. The locals are leading Oshawa the former league leaders by half a game. This will correct the impression in an article on the sport page of today's edition which was written before the result of the Oshawa game was known. Wednesday's game here will be well worth seeing as the Motors will be fighting to win back the ground lost while the Nationals with their team lead will be anxious to retain the leadership. Deloro's victory was easily the surprise package of the season as they had previously been occupying the cellar.

BLIND STUDENT GOT HIS B. A. DEGREE

Stanley A. Saunders of Moose Jaw, a young man totally blind for the past seven years, notes the Regina Leader, has just graduated with Bachelor of Arts degree from Dalhousie University, Halifax. He was one of four to graduate with "great distinction" as the exercises the other day. Not yet content with what he has accomplished, he intends to apply himself to a post-graduate course in economics in the fall. Stanley Saunders' career should be an inspiration to every blind child in this country. SHANNONVILLE

An enjoyable social evening was spent in Shannonville Church on Wednesday evening, June 11th, when people of the village and countryside having assembled for the purpose of presenting Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, who will soon be leaving for their new home at Belleville, with tokens of their love and esteem.

Rev. Prebr Hawley took charge of the meeting and after the opening hymn stated he like the Irishman was sing...ed, in prayer, Mr. Hawley spoke of his friendship for Mr. Seymour and all it had meant to him. He highly commended the work of the "W.M.S. and told in a very interesting way of his own missionary work on the island of Anticosti, his having the honor of being the first Protestant missionary to work there. At this stage of the meeting Mrs. Seymour was called to the front and presented with a beautiful electric floor lamp by Mrs. Harry Stone on behalf of the ladies of the church.

Mrs. Seymour made a suitable reply and in a few well chosen words very feelingly thanked all for their kindness.

It was then Mr. Seymour's turn, he be called to the front and Mr. Sam Elliott made the presentation to him of a handsome club bag. Mr. Seymour after thanking the people for this tasteful gift, spoke of the esteem in the way he first started out with only his pony, a few belongings behind the saddle, very little money in his pocket, and the different way he would now, upon carrying his fine new club bag, thinking of the contrast.

Like many another self-made man he paid a glowing tribute to the self-sacrificing efforts of a devoted mother who was present, a widow left with three small children to bring up and the Christian ministry, thus making it possible for them to follow in the footsteps of their father and grandfather. It is an interesting fact that after being a minister's daughter, mar...ying Rev. Mr. Seymour, and then a minister's daughter married a minister, her mother afterward marrying Rev. Mr. Snider who died some years ago. Rev. Mr. W. T. L. was only fifteen years old, in thinking to the people of Shannonville and Melrose, Mr. Seymour had many difficult problems to face but he has always endeavored to do his best under all circumstances.

The blessings was always open for hearing of God's different messages sent and for their practice and as Grandad of the church, Mrs. Seymour had been uniting in her efforts to make the work of the choir a success. She has proved herself a faithful and efficient worker as President of the W.M.S. and worked for the Mission Board. We say, God-speed to the institute. The best wishes of the people follow Mr. and Mrs. Seymour and family to their new home and we rejoice that they are not going far from us.

While the ladies were getting the refreshments ready, Rev. Mr. Hawley kept the audience in good spirits with his many humorous and witty remarks. Those in charge are very grateful to Mr. Hawley for his help in making the evening such a success and we feel we are fortunate in having Mr. and Mrs. Hawley make their home in our village, for not only does he help with the work of this appointment but last winter drove his own car and supplied at Thomasburg, Ormsby, Wellington and Sidney although retired from the active ministry, he still is working for the best interests of the cause to which he has devoted his life. Many friends wish for him and his devoted wife many more years that they may enjoy their well-earned rest together. Mr. Hawley has charge of the work here until the new minister, Rev. Clarke of Hilton, comes in July.

Birthday Party

On Thursday, June 14th, Miss Roberta Mcintyre entertained a number of her young friends to a delightful birthday party. At 5.30 all had gathered and after a game of ball the birthday supper was served and greatly enjoyed by the young people, the chief feature being the birthday cake and ice cream. After supper, games were played, and ridio music was listened to. That popular Shannon-seen-zeal-ous miss received many lovely presents and as a late hour all departed wishing Roberta many happy returns of the day.

IRENE COLE PRESENTED WITH GIFT BY FRIENDS

Over one hundred and fifty friends invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cole on Monday evening, June 11th. A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of their daughter Irene, on her departure from their home. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foote taking up their residence in Oshawa.

After a pleasant time spent in social intercourse and music, the company was called to order and Miss Baldwin Bradshaw came forward and read the following address.

Dear Irene,

There's a time to laugh, there's a time to weep and a time to pray, but our motive in coming here this evening is to laugh and be gay with you once more in your old home before we all have had so many joyous times together.

A review of the past brings the remembrance of the many times you have assisted in the branches of Church work, as organist of our Sunday School, a member of our choir and an active member in our Missionary Society, we always found you ready and willing to lend a hand to take part in any church work.

You are leaving your old home and friends and we trust as the many duties and obligations present themselves in your new home that you will still be governed by the same high ideals.

We greet you tonight with kindest thoughts and best wishes for a happy future, and trust both you and dear may long be spared. We have brought gifts and ask you to accept them as a sure substantial expression of our love and esteem for you, than mere words can express.

As you assign them to their various uses we trust that you will be reminded of us all. Many things will remind us of your former residence among us and rest assured the willing hand will always be extended, whenever you come back to this community.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

Julia Roblin.

MATERNAL DEATH RATE IS LARGE

Queen City Has Not a Good Record For Births

Toronto, Ontario.—(C.P.)—In the matter of Toronto's poor record in maternal mortality the splendid service rendered by civic and other social organizations as a means of alleviating conditions generally referred, but the fact still remains that while the general death rate has been comparatively low, maternal mortality rates in this city are unfavorable in comparison to many other centres and have shown a steady and decided increase in each of the past three years.

No cases of maternal mortality have been registered among the cases coming under the observance of the Fred Victor Mission clinics, explained Miss Jones, one of the nurses belonging to the staff. Miss Jones, who is a graduate nurse from England, referred to the alarming rate of maternal mortality known in England. So alarming was the condition that the doctors, realizing that their numbers were insufficient to provide care necessary to maternity cases, instituted the training of a certain percentage of graduate nurses in maternity practice. The training was particularly stiff and a nurse qualifying must officiate at 20 cases under supervision and 20 cases on her own as well as pass examinations before she was allowed to practice. Maternal mortality had shown a remarkable decrease of late years since England has awakened to a realization of conditions.

Canada's problem in combating maternal mortality. Miss Jones thought, was with the immigrant and ignorance brought by people of foreign birth to their home of adoption.

From experience in prenatal clinic work at the mission and home-to-home visits among maternity cases Miss Jones was of the conviction that the question of diet was of great importance. In the homes of unemployment, with the family depending upon the city for relief supplies, the mother's diet was painfully restricted. She believed that if, in relief cases, the expectant mother's diet could be supplemented by special, and nourishing articles of food, the problem would be lessened.

CAR ASS'N WILL SPONSOR FLYING

Association of Great Britain Has Many Members Who Are Aviators

London.—(C.P.)—Canadian Press—Air travel is to be thoroughly organized in Britain by no less powerful a body than the Automobile Association. A large number of motorists are also airmen and the decision of the A.A. will undoubtedly stimulate private flying in this country.

The new organization can be established within the framework of the existing motoring organization.

The Automobile Association will study the problem of providing the air tourist with assistance and advice similar to that supplied to every motorist member.

Recent notable strides in light aeroplane touring and the ever-growing number of motorist airmen have obliged the Association to give the serious attention to aerial travel. The success of a demonstration tour of Central South Africa last winter, organized by the London Daily News and of individual flights has emphasized the value of these light aeroplane as a vehicle for strenuous high-speed business and holiday travel.

One of the first tasks to be undertaken by the A.A. will be the compilation of a complete list of aerodromes and emergency landing grounds. In this work the A.A. scouts will play a prominent part. Grounds receiving favorable report will be licensed to the attention of the Air Ministry, and arrangements made for their inspection by a qualified aeronautical expert.

Once the scheme is in operation A.A. scouts may be employed at regular intervals to inspect each field, reporting any changes in the field or the building of houses or other obstructions nearby.

"Two other important projects are under consideration. Hotel proprietors on the A.A. list may be asked to assist in the discovery and marking out of possible landing grounds, with the object of attracting tourists by air. Further, it is possible that arrangements will be made to supply interested hotel-keepers with daily weather reports and forecasts for the guidance of air travellers.

Other directions in which the Automobile Association could aid the airman is in the aerial 'sign posting' of the country by encouraging the painting of the place-name in large letters on roofs of suitable buildings and in emergency landing grounds. One interesting pressure on these responsible for provide high chimneys, factories, gas works and other high obstructions with warning lights marking their position at night."

AUSTRALIANS SEE OWN BATTLESHIP

London.—(By The Canadian Press).—It was a happy coincidence that when 600 Scottish Australians who are visiting this country arrived at Plymouth in the liner Hobson's Bay, the Australian cruiser, Australia was anchored in the Sound flying the flag of Rear-Admiral H. F. Hyde, commander of the Australian Squadron.

The first experience of the visitors after leaving the liner was being taken around the cruiser in the tender which was bringing them ashore, and long-term Cruiser Captain Agnus the water as a greeting to the sailors.

Each of the 600 members of Australian Scottish Association is some particular sphere of business or industry. They brought with them samples of their trades in the holds of the Hobson's Bay, and they are bent on developing trade relations between Australia and this country.

BIG FERRIS WHEEL WILL BE SCRAPPED

GOOD LOOKS A DRAWBACK HERE

Profession Doesn't Want Good Looking Girls in Its Ranks

London, (June 16)—Good looks are said to be a drawback to a girl taking up engineering work. This assertion was made by Miss Hazlett, assistant of the Women's Engineering Society, at a conference here on her careers for women.

"We put forward a woman for a drawing office appointment," said Miss Hazlett, "and her qualifications were excellent, but the director said quite frankly that she was too good looking for the job, and would probably upset the men in their work. Another director, expressing the technical qualifications required by a girl, added, 'And she must not jump if the foreman says Damn!'

"A girl must also get rid of the idea that if she goes in for engineering she will spend the rest of her life in dirty boiler overalls. She passes through that phase, but it soon goes. Parents are often a great handicap for they think that a girl is abnormal if she wanted to take up engineering—that is not a nice, humble profession like secretarial work. This is true in a way, for a girl has to work with men, wear kickabootees on occasion, and sometimes do night work. But this does not make it abnormal, and we want girls to cease to be regarded as curiosities. We want to work with men and not against them."

Miss Hazlett later informed enquirers that the lady she had in mind had accepted a very good position abroad.

Leaders of industry, to whose attention Miss Hazlett's remarks have been directed, are not inclined to agree entirely with Miss Hazlett's conclusions.

Sir Eugene Machin, a former president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, said, "My view is that good looks are rather an advantage than otherwise. Good looks in the hands of an irresponsible woman in business may be dangerous, but in the hands of a properly conducted woman good looks are certainly a benefit. If a woman merely uses her good looks to attract the men with whom she is working, then they are wasted, but otherwise they are a benefit. I quite disagree with Miss Hazlett that good looks are a drawback."

Harold Sayers, Injures Six Persons on Wild Drunken Ride--Oshawa Suffers Heavy Fire Loss

EARLY MORNING FIRE DESTROYS SKATING RINK AND DWELLINGS

Firemen of Oshawa, Whitby And Bowmanville Fought Blaze

$100,000 LOSS

Flames Finally Under Control After An All Night Fight

Oshawa, Ont., June 19.—Bradley's Skating Rink and five frame houses, between William and Richmond streets fell a prey to a fire of unknown origin which broke out in the skating rink early this morning. The aggregate loss is estimated at $100,000.

Within half an hour of the outbreak the skating rink and the houses adjoining as well as the old Primitive Methodist church were one huge mass of flames. The occupants of the houses fled in panic, salvaging up what garments they could hastily gather.

The roaring flames reached across the street and ignited the structures on the opposite side. Citizens helped the harassed firemen with buckets of water or anything that could be utilized in the work of quenching the flames.

Bowmanville, Whitby and other neighboring towns rushed their fire apparatus to the assistance of the Oshawa fire department. At nine o'clock this morning the flames were reported well under control.

Percy Horn, 26, in the Oshawa Hospital with burns on his hands and face, thought at first that his neck was broken in a fall from the top of a rest dence. Other casualties at the hospital revealed that the injuries were not of a serious nature.

Horn and Lodge's large grain warehouse was saved although it seemed doomed for the very worst. All the buildings were partially covered by insurance.

Residents in the neighborhood were up all night to protect their homes and adjoining structures. The fire was limited with furniture which had been removed.

The livery stables of Edward Jannes were imperilled and twenty-two horses were carried loose on the street. The building, however, was saved.

RUTH WIRED AMELIA

Paris, June 19.—Ruth Elder who failed to fly the Atlantic last year and was rescued from the sea, telegraphed Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic that "I appreciate explicit, lucky than any one."

CHILD IS GIVEN DOSE OF POISON

Elmer Hallam, 7-Year-Old Boy Recovering At General Hospital

Elmer Hallam, seven year old son of Mrs. R. Hallam, 180 Mary Street, had a narrow escape from death early this morning when paralyz by accident his mother administered a dose of poison for the medicine he had been taking.

Elmer had been sick with the whooping cough and a physician ordered that medicine be given through the night. At five o'clock this morning he was given what he thought to be the correct medicine, but this was soon found to be poison as the child immediately complained and Dr. Proctor was hurriedly called. The boy was removed to the hospital where the stomach pump was used, and he is now resting quite comfortably. Mrs. Hallam is a widow and is employed at Corbyville.

MABEL BOLL IS DISAPPOINTED

Harbor Grace, Nfld., June 19.—The plans of Miss Mabel Boll for future flying trans-Atlantic or otherwise, seemed definitely at an end today.

The disappointed loser in the race to be the first of her sex to fly across the ocean was reported to be considering a flight direct to Rome and a return trip in July.

She also was said to be contemplating taking her monoplane Columbia to Europe by Steamer and then essaying the difficult East to West flight back.

STREET OILING WAS DISCUSSED

Council Decide To Oil Streets If Deemed Necessary

Various by-laws regarding the levying of taxes on the Separate, Public and High Schools were given their first, second and third reading at the city Council meeting last night, as were also by-laws authorizing a grant to the W. C. A. also took after the Hospital.

Lengthy discussion featured the report of the Street Oiling Committee, and petitions from some of the residents on same were also heard, although it was felt by the Council that if the petitions thought necessary these streets needed oiling it should be done, whether the requests wanted it done or not. Street Street residents do not want the oil, and the same can be said of Yeomans Street, but the committee declared that Yeomans Street should be tarred so it should be done.

At Canniffon Road, Moira Street E., Moira Street, W. the Bay Bridge Road, Bleecker Avenue, Pine Street, Alexander Street, Mary Street, Brock, Dundas, Church Street W. and North Front Street will be oiled this year, some of them having been already finished. This matter was left in charge of a Special Committee with power to act, consisting of Alderman Donahue, chairman, and Aldermen Walker and French and the City Engineer in the rest of the committee.

Woman Gladly Takes Gun From Big And Escapes With Cash

Chicago, Ill., June 19.—Can dollars in change is terrible, said the middle-aged woman in a black coat who entered the candy shop of Mrs. Mary Steebe early today. "It isn't safe for a person anywhere in this town."

She began fumbling in her hand bag and extracted a pistol. She pointed it at Mrs. Steebe, took all the money out of the cash register and departed, leaving the shopkeeper in wonder on conditions in Chicago.

ENGINE MISFIRED IN MID-OCEAN

Pilot Would Fly Back If Given Sufficient Guarantee

Southampton, June 19.—The Trans-Atlantic monoplane Friendship arrived at Southampton from Barry Port, Wales, shortly after noon today. The plane, piloted by Wilmer Stultz, who flew it most of the way across the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Barry Port, was escorted by two British planes. One of these planes was from the Southampton aerodrome while the other flew all the way from Barry Port as a guide.

Whistles and sirens of Liners in Port sounded a shrill welcome which was added to the outbursts of cheers from the crowds lining both sides of the estuary. Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic, was greeted by Southampton's woman mayor, Mrs. L. M. Webb and a detachment of police then clear ed a pathway for the automobiles which carried the party to their hotel.

Southampton, June 19.—The fliers again were made to relate the story of their flight when they arrived here.

"There were times when our hearts beat a little faster," declared pilot Wilmer Stultz "Most were when engines were missing, and at one time began to miss five when a driving rain would get into them. The rain lasted more than four hours.

Stultz is not adverse to flying back to America, "I wouldn't mind flying back," he said, "And I shall if I get the right kind of offer. I'd like to use this same plane, as now in perfect condition "I had no difficulty making my way across because the fact that the visibility was very poor, I knew per fectly well where I was all of the time and when we reached Britain I do not believe I was more than a mile off my estimated course."

GARDEN PARTY THURSDAY EVE.

Plans have been completed for the annual Garden party at the Children's Shelter on Dundas street on Thursday evening of this week. Mrs. Hall-Wanone, informed The Intelligencer today that the Argyll Light Infantry Band will be in attendance, and a splendid number of selections. Miss Harris and Miss Dunn are convenors of the party and to the camp for the children which was erected at Redcarrville last year. The camp is in a beautiful site on the shores of the Bay of Quinte and the kiddies of the Shelter had the time of their lives there last year. This is for a worthy cause all it is hoped that a large number of people will attend the Garden Party. A good time has been assured by those in charge. Miss Harris has requested that those desiring to donate home cooking or candy may do so by writing in touch with her at the Shelter.

TAX RATES FOR 1928 INCREASED

Erection of New Collegiate Forces Council To Boost Assessment

GENERAL RATE SAME

Public School Rate 45 6-10 Mills And Separate School 43 9-10

Belleville City Council struck the tax rates for 1928 at last night's meeting and it was found, that owing to the erection of the new Collegiate the rates would be increased. Supporters of the Separate School will pay 43 9-10 mills, while supporters of the Public School will pay 45 6-10 mills, an increase from last year of each case. Separate School supporters paid last year 41 5-10, while Public School ratepayers were taxed on the basis of 41 9-10. Thus Separate school ratepayers will be assessed 2 4-10 higher while Public School supporters will pay 3 7-10 mills more.

The general rate is 21 7-10 just a minor increase of 1-10 of a mill from last year.

Following are the rates struck:

Separate Schools	8 7-10
High School	6 9-10
General	21 7-10
Collegiate Institute	6
Hospital	1
Local Improvements	5 4-10
Total	43 9-10

Public school supporters will pay the same with the exception of their School rate which is 19 4-10 mills.

In connection of the motion that the being spent on the building of the new school and various current expenditures the finance committee have done especially well in keeping the rate down as was indicated by the fact that only a minor increase is noted in the general rate. Alderman Wallace, chairman of the Finance Committee brought in the estimates last night and they were adopted without a hitch.

Miss Amelia Earhart Has Difficulty In Reaching Hotel

London, June 19.—Miss Amelia Earhart Trans Atlantic flier, arrived in London from Southampton by automobile, late today and reached her hotel at 4.30 p.m.

Advance information of her coming brought a huge crowd of cities workers who were just leaving business. In the absence of special police protection, the cheering party had difficulty in getting her into her hotel.

The flyer was still in the clothes in which she had crossed the Atlantic and went immediately to her suite for a rest. She planned to visit Mrs. Frederick Guest, sponsor of the flight later, to arrange for new clothes.

MAY IMPLICATE MEN AS ROBBERS

Two Montreal Detectives Visit Belleville And Interview Trio

Detective Gauthier, inspector of the Hochelaga district of the Montreal police force, accompanied by Detective Francis Allen of the Montreal police force, Montreal arrived in Belleville today for investigation of the three alleged bandits who were arrested here on Sunday morning by Sergeant Arthur Booth and Police Constable Evans.

The two men went to the County Jail to see the trio and to question them. It would not issue any statement to the press today.

It is understood that the men may be implicated in a $50,000 bank robbery which took place in Montreal last January and this is one reason that the Montreal detectives are here.

Inspector Gauthier knows Orsag, one of the alleged gunmen, having had sundry dealings with him before this.

POLICE PROBING BOMB OUTRAGE

Missile Was Intended For Destruction of Municipal Building

Detroit, Mich, June 19.—Injunctions of the labor robbery which among the possible motives suggested today for the bombing o fthe County Court building yesterday which caused injury to 14 persons and damage to the building interior.

Inspector John Boyle of the police homicide squad believed the bomb was intended for the court rooms but failing several blocks away where nine men are on trial charged with extortion in connection with the clean ers and dyers war.

"Someone was hired to plant the bomb and probably unknow the county building for the city courts building," the inspector said.

"The bomb was a powerful one. If it had exploded in the enfilmed space of the rest room instead of the courtroom," he said, "many would have left the building and killed the people. As the injured, none was seriously hurt."

Harold Sayers, 296 Coleman Street, Is Held On Serious Charges

GRANTED BAIL

Crashed Cars On Front Street And Attempted Get-Away

Crazy drunk, Harold J. Sayers, of 296 Coleman Street, about 10 years, drove his car through the parading Argyll Band about ten o'clock last night, sending two of the bandsmen to the hospital with serious injuries, and lacerating and bruising a number of others. Just previously he had crashed into the parked car of Mr. Leon Walmsley on Front street near Victoria Ave., swerving across the road and into the front of Cherry's print shop he narrowly missed wrecking another car in which two people were sitting. In the car with Sayers was a boy friend, Thomas Boyle, of Belleville, but the boy was not held by the police as he was strictly sober and was not charging the car. Sayers made a brief appearance in police court this morning and was remanded for a week. He was given his liberty on a $1000 bail. The bail for damages, it is stated by some, will amount to considerably more than $1500.

Sayers picked up his young companion near Marsaka's pool room and started his wild career down Front. He struck the Walmsley car in front of Symons' Ladies' Wear Store where he left one of his front fenders, swung across the street between other cars and crashed the front of Cherry's printing business. Hope had gone for the youthful motorist. He drove off the sidewalk safely navigated the distance to Bridge street and made the turn on to Bridge street west. Here he increased speed and according to bandsmen, was going at a fast pace, with only one hand on the wheel, and a cigarette in the other. He ran into them, just west of Sinclair street. The car was among the bandsmen they could move but one of the bandsmen injured.

Two in Hospital

Fred Howard, of the Sorwell street, is the most seriously injured, with a broken leg and other cuts and bruises. Howard was to have been married before the end of June, but will likely be unable to walk for a month or more.

Arthur Rowland suffered injuries to the head and other bruises and may have received internal injuries.

Four other bandsmen were more or less injured. Verrel Rollie, of Dorsel street, was taken to the hospital to have his cuts and bruises dressed. Another bandsman later, Wilbur Hart has a bruised hip and leg and Frank Howard, brother of Fred, received a cut on the head. The other injured man was Harold Crowe whose address was not learned.

DOG TEAMS ONE REMAINING HOPE

Small Possibility of Rescuing Noble From The Air

Hay Bay, Spitzbergen, June 19.—After two futile attempts of the flyers to find General Umberto Nobile and his party of survivors on the ice of Northeast Land, it was felt here today that the rescue by air was likely to prove a difficult task. Hope for immediate relief turned to dog teams.

A fast patrol of Italian Alpine troops was making its way over the ice hard toward Nobiles position. Another patrol was preparing to start out in search of the three men who have been missing since they left the Nobile party on May 24.

Twice, Sunday and Monday, Nobile's rescue ship has been made to a high point on seeing the aeroplanes approach him. Twice they have been dashed as they disappeared again without sighting him.

Rome, June 19.—Major Maddalena, the Italian flyer, made a unsuccessful reconnaissance in search for the Nobile party this morning and proceeded to Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, in his Savoia Marchetti S3, planning another flight shortly.

SCAVENGER WON HIS ARGUMENT

Garbage Collectors Not Forced To Collect Building Materials

The garbage collector is within his rights when he refuses to collect if he devines that a certain prominent citizen in this city, after leaving a quantity of waste paper and boards in his verandah out with the rest of the refuse on the corner of the wagon was on without them.

When asked to take them he refused, stating that it was building material, and consequently outside the city jurisdiction. When informed by Mr. Orr that his driver did not have to take the trouble, the irate party wrote a letter to the City Council in regards to the matter, but as the driver was within his rights the matter nothing was done about it. So remember folks when you have certain articles left with your waste cans that there is probably some good reason for the scavenger leaving them there. He knows his business.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Praise within, thyself, and thou will discover how small a stock is there.
—PERSIUS.

TRAVELLING NOW IN PEACE AND QUIETNESS.

Can't help feeling a trifle anxious for the safety of William Thomas, radio editor of the Cleveland Press. You see, William decided to make a little trip into Canada, and entered at Niagara Falls, and has gone on toward Toronto. Arriving at the Falls the officials on this side happened to notice a nice big revolver in the car, and asked how he happened to bring such a piece of machinery into a friendly nation. Will then told the magistrate that it was absolutely necessary for him to tote it 'around with him when he went about his business at home, and therefore he took it for granted that he would have to bring the implement along when he came to Canada. The cash thought otherwise and placed Williams bit of artillery in cold storage on the understanding that he can gather it upon his return trip. So he's on his way now without a gun, and we hope that the Cleveland man will be able to return safely to broadcast the good news that he was able to travel in Canada while his artillery base remained at the border.

HE LIKES US AND WILL TELL OTHERS

Within the last few months there have been a number of complaints made by United States motorists regarding the treatment accorded them while touring through Ontario. Taking into consideration the hundreds of thousands of motorists who now visit this province annually, these complaints have been remarkably few, but it is regretted that there should have been any cause for them. That the conditions complained of are not general, however, is evident from the many messages of praise and appreciation which are left behind by tourists visiting this province.

One such message has been received from an Ohio resident by the Hon. George S. Henry, minister of highways. In response to the receipt of a 1928 road map of Ontario, this letter is worth quoting as follows:

"I am in receipt of your 1928 road map, for which I thank you.

"The map you sent and asked us to send me last year was used on no less than six trips, totalling nearly 8,000 miles. Personally, I derived no small amount of pleasure from the use on two trips of slightly over 3,000 miles. It is the most comprehensive road map I have ever used, and the most accurate. Sir, I like your roads, their markings, your people and your country, and I will miss no opportunity of saying them a visit in the future, as in the past."

There can be no mistaking the whole-hearted nature of this tribute to Ontario and its people, but it only voices the sentiments of practically all the tourists who visit the province. Such a tribute is worth earning, and it lies with the people of Ontario, by their attitude towards the visitors from the United States, to deserve it.

GETTING ACQUAINTED IS THE FIRST STEP.

The interest of the leader of the Opposition to tour the Dominion during the parliamentary recess is commendable. In the course of this tour Mr. Bennett will have opportunities of studying the organization of his party in the various provinces, and of defining his policy from the public platform. He will be brought into closer contact with the people, will become better known by them, and will know them better; all of which is highly essential to successful leadership, and Mr. Bennett does well to profit by certain historic commissions in this regard.

Dangers and surprises often lie in wait for those public men who, as was said of another leader not so long ago, never look out of the window. The electors have a painful but quite excusable habit of losing interest in politicians who get out of touch with them, and that has been the explanation of more than one election in this country. It is, therefore, distinctly desirable that the Conservative leader, in his capacity as such, should meet the people, discuss public questions with them, and explain to them the views and purposes which they will be asked, perhaps a year hence, to sanction by their votes.

Mr. Bennett, in making his appeal, will have certain advantages that are peculiar to him. His literary as a speaker and his complete grasp of political issues are well enough known, but he has the additional advantage of a broad citizenship, so that wherever he speaks he will not appear as in any sense a sectional leader. He was born and bred in the Maritimes, has lived more or less in the central provinces and has interested himself largely and intimately in their affairs, and he has spent many years in the West, rising there to both professional and political eminence. Moreover, he knows the Old Country and is known there, and his outlook is Canadian and British—which is something worth keeping in mind.

THE PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

Miss Nellie Roblin, Hillside Street, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roblin, died at her home, Hillside Street, today.

Mr. John Finnegan, a old resident of this city, was struck by a cyclist on the corner of Victoria Avenue and Pinnacle Street. He was taken to the office of Dr. Yorker, who treated his injuries, which, however, were not serious.

Ex-Ald. John Ross and Mrs. Ross are in the city, the guests of Dr. Caldwell, Bridge Street. Mr. Ross is now in Brampton where he is manager of the extensive agricultural implement manufacturer formerly belonging to Haggart Bros.

Mr. J. S. Earle spent Sunday with his family here.

Mr. Wilfred Caldwell has returned from the Northwest territories.

Miss Clara Brown has returned home from the Normal School at Ottawa.

Rev. Dr. J. H. George of Montreal is the guest of Mr. A. O. Northrup.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn is in Toronto today in connection with a legal case which comes up for trial there

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Will—"If they don't move they're dancing."

"Dumber says he is wedded to his art."

"Pshaw! It is just one of those complaisance marriages."

"You should be more careful to pull your shades down at night. Last night I saw you kissing your wife."

"Ha, ha, ha! The joke is on you. I wasn't at home last night."

It was visiting day at the jail, and the upliters were on deck.

"My good man," said one kindly lady, "I hope that since you have come here you have had time for meditation and have decided to correct your faults."

"I have that, mum," replied the prisoner in heartfelt tones. "Believe me, the next job I pull, this baby wears gloves."

THE ROLLING STONE.

I'd rather be a rolling stone
Than sink below the moss;
It may be very cosy there,
But I would count it loss
To snugly settle down like this
And all the world's bright beauty miss.

I'd rather be a rolling stone,
And travel anywhere,
Not knowing drafts when there is nought
To shield me from the air.
I may be tossed about a bit,
But anything than idle sit.

I'd rather be a rolling stone,
My edges worn away,
And never cut the feet above
When in their path I stray.
I'll be a pebble, smooth and bright,
Until my dust at last takes flight.
—Gwendolen M. Marrin, in the Toronto Mail and Empire.

SOCIAL CENTRE IN NORTHERN WOODS

Deep in the heart of the rugged North Country, hidden by pine topped hills and thick virgin forests, lies a chain of sparkling blue lakes known as Lake of Bays. Almost unknown to the outside world only a few years ago, these Lakes have become the summer playground of vacationists and tourists.

The Lake of Bays district is large enough to enjoy seclusion and a holiday of backwoods life—if that is desired. If pleasure, gayety and joy-ous companionship is your holiday goal, there are large luxurious hotels—ultra-modern—where golf, tennis, bowling, swimming may occupy your time—where music and dancing makes a perfect end to a perfect day.

Any Canadian National Railway Agent will gladly give you illustrated literature and full information on the Lake of Bays. Ask him for a list of hotels and cottages from which to make your selection. j11a19

U. S. LOSES BIG AMOUNT TRADE

Commerce Being Diverted To Canadian Ports Say Authorities

Washington, D.C.—To what extent commerce has been diverted from the United States to Canadian ports, a condition frequently described as seriously affecting this country's agricultural and shipping interests, will be laid before the senate when congress is reconvened in December.

Investigation of the causes and consequences and the possibilities of effecting it into American channels was authorized under a resolution by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, which passed the senate with the endorsement of Senators Pepper of Pennsylvania and Hale of Maine, republicans. The machinery of investigation soon will be set into motion by the secretaries of the state and agriculture departments, the interstate commerce commission, and the United States shipping board.

In substance Senator Walsh charges that United States ports are losing millions of dollars of export trade annually because railway rates known as the United States and Canadian ports are more favorable than those between the same points and United States ports, and because of more stringent regulations as to grading and inspection of grain at United States ports than at Canadian ports, especially the higher grain standards and the dockage rules.

Also, he says, the preferential customs regulations of Canada give lower tariffs on products imported into Canada directly through Canadian ports than on those routed through ports of the United States, and the preferential schedules of other parts of the British Empire impose lower duties or more favorable regulations on products of the United States routed through Canadian ports than on those shipped direct from United States ports.

According to the senator's figures the pork and lard export business at Boston which approximated 111,000,000 pounds in 1913, has practically disappeared, and in general these products that once passed through North Atlantic ports are moving through Montreal and other Canadian ports. In 1913 about 36,700 bes of cattle were exported through Boston whereas last year not a single head was shipped although that port practically 40 per cent. of all grain passing through Montreal last year was of United States origin. Each year, the senator says, finds more United States grain reaching Canadian ports and less arriving at ports of the United States.

As a remedy Senator Walsh suggests that some readjustment of United States freight rates undoubtedly will be necessary.

"Our own regulations in the matter of grain inspection and grain standards ought to be so modified that there shall be no hardship imposed on the shipments of our own grain passing through our own ports. Perhaps we ought to enact a preferential customs regulation favoring our own ports for our protection similar in character to the preferential treatment Canada gives to her imports."

FATHER LEBEL HAS PUBLISHED BOOK

Montreal, Que. (C.P.)—Under the title of "Family Allowances" the Rev. Father Leon Lebel, S.J., has just published a little book of 84 pages. He has in the present work—a successor to his "Les Allocations Familiales"—taken up the case of the large family as a factor in the development of the economic life of the nation, and as such a real asset demanding careful consideration at the hands of society and those who make the laws of the country. So far as family allowances may be applied to Canada, Father Lebel offers no revolutionary method by which the large family should be served at the expense of society: but he does show that Canada's economic future is very much wrapped up in her family life, and that her success depends largely on how far she is prepared to encourage that family life, the greater part of which is supplied by the workers.

REV. GEEN SPOKE.

At the regular meeting of Shannonville Loyal Orange Lodge on Monday evening a deputation from Belleville paid them a fraternal visit. After opening of the lodge with Scripture reading and prayer, Rev. Brother Geen, was called upon by the Master. After a short address he said a pleasant duty was the object of his visitation, as they came to present to the lodge the prize won by the lodge for the largest turn out at the annual celebration at Belleville. Worthy Brother Paul then placed the banner safely on the Master's neck with the same time expressing his pleasure at the Master responded in suitable words.

FOXBORO GARDEN PARTY

The first of the summer Garden Parties will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Foxboro tomorrow evening, and as an added attraction the Argyll Band from Belleville has been secured to give a program. Refreshments will be served from 7 o'clock till 9, and no doubt a good time will be had by all.

NAME OMITTED

In the report of the female quoiches at Peterboro on Saturday last, the name of that Syrita Road ladies' singles player was inadvertently omitted. The Club players' will take on the Holloway Club at the latter's courts tomorrow afternoon in a Trumon Tennis League fixture, which is sure to bring out some real battles. It is not known as yet who will play for either club. The bay of Quinte Country Club courts will be finished next week and the players will then be able to get in some very much needed practice.

ANOTHER MEETING

After a most enjoyable evening last night spent in the camp of Jimmy Alexander and Bert Adams, the Y's Men's Club decided that their next meeting should be the same place, so they will proceed again up the Bay at six o'clock on this coming Friday. Hot dogs, coffee, ice cream and baseball all mixed together made for a good time and it is expected that a full turn out will be on hand this week.

ANNUAL KIWANIS LADIES' NIGHT

His Honor Judge G. E. Deroche Gave Talk On Recent Tour

Another milestone was reached in the history of Kiwanis Club yesterday, the opening day of the International Convention at Seattle, Washington. This well-known service organization had completed another year's work, and a review of the year's activities formed the opening of the big Convention in Seattle with representatives present from practically the whole of Canada and the States.

Simultaneously Kiwanis Clubs throughout the two countries were marking the event with "all Kiwanis" nights and appropriate programmes. expressive of the work the Club was doing.

Belleville Kiwanians celebrated the event with one of the most successful and enjoyable "Ladies' Night" meetings ever held here. The city was honored in the person of the first citizen, His Honor Judge Deroche, who was chosen for the chair and proved a good host; the large ballroom overlooking the Bay was well filled with Kiwanians and their guests, and the excellent dinner was supplied by Tom Mason and his orchestra, and singing led by Roy Richard and Roy Anderson, the programme ing soon caught the Kiwanis spirit of good fellowship, and ushered into the spirit of the occasion. Kiwanian MacLaurin acted as chairman and Art McConnell, sergeant-at-arms.

Immediately following luncheon, a number of thoroughly enjoyable vocal solos were rendered by Messrs. Wrightsenger, Mrs. Stobie and Kiwanian Roy Richard, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Leo Riggs in his usual finished style.

His Honor Judge Deroche was the speaker for the occasion, and, introduced by Byron Donegan, gave his audience a most interesting and interesting places and incidents encountered during a recent trip to Europe and Asia. The speaker's humorous and pathetic casualties of his experiences in Paris, on the Rivers, at the Pyramids and the tombs of the Egyptian Kings, painted vivid and interesting pictures in the imaginations of his audience. It was a fine half-hour travelogue, and six instructive ones.

The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing, Tom Mason's orchestra—incidentally voted one of the best ever heard in Belleville during three lastable dance numbers until midnight.

DRUNKEN DRIVER

Jip was badly cut. All the injured men were shaken up and bruised to some extent.

Damage Bill to Pay

As well as hospital and doctor bills the property damage will be considerable. Sayers' car is now in less damaged and there will be a bill for Mr. Wadsmay's car, while several expensive instruments in the orchestra car were broken or damaged.

The regimental band was marching down the right han dside of the road with a lad at their head carrying a torch. Sayers mistook the lads for the marching column and went right through the bands. He was accompanied by the inspect but instead of dismounting Sayers attempted to start his car and speed away again, but was he started to leave, a score of bandsmen and soldiers seized the car and forced him to stop. There were scenes of ugly feeling but the police were on the scene and order and revenge was done to the driver of the car.

Sergeant Arthur Harman made the arrest bringing the accused and his companion, Doyle, to the police station but the latter was shortly thereafter released. Sayers spent the night in the cells, being released after his brief hearing this morning. Chief Hall brought the ambulance up to the scene of the accident and took the more seriously injured to the hospital.

Was Speeding

This morning the Intelligencer interviewed Mr. Fred Howard and Mr. Arthur Rowland, who is an elderly man. In the former's words:

"Why," said Mr. Howard, "we must have been going about forty miles an hour when he hit us. He was right in the midst of us before we saw him." Fred is quite cheerful today and says that "there's on consolation, none of us were killed."

"We were marching in formation of four," stated Arthur Rowland. "The car was coming at a terrific rate of speed as far as I can remember and it plowed through us three lines of us. I don't think it went beyond the third line before it was stopped." One of the men took the number of the car Sayers and held them until the police came to take the man down to the police station. There was a little ugly feeling among the men of the regiment after the accident had occurred but perfect discipline prevailed and the driver was not touched.

The police stated today that after Sayers was taken into the cells he laid down immediately and went to sleep and had to be shaken to be aroused this morning. A crowd gathered in front of the police station last night, over one hundred strong, immediately after the accident, curious as to what had happened and what would be done with Sayers.

The young man who engaged Charles Payne as referee in the wrestling bout last fall was arranged by Mr. Richard Arnold of the firm of Porter, Payne and Arnold.

The bearers were: Messrs. Vanhoman, Clarkston, Duckworth, Madden, Allison and Dr. E. Ming.

MARY G. HAWLEY

At an early hour this morning, Miss Mary G. Hawley passed away, at the home of Miss Bell, 21 Queen St., where she had resided for the past twenty-five years. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hawley, and had been born in Adolphustown in 1843. Deceased had been in ill health for the past two months but had been this illness with true Christian fortitude. A member of Bridge St. United Church she had been connected all her life with Sunday School work and was a member of the W. M. S. and Ladies' Aid. She is survived by one sister, Miss Frances Hawley, of Adolphustown, and one nephew, Mr. George Hawley, of Bridge St. The remains were taken to Napanee for interment and the funeral notice will appear tomorrow.

EMILY R. PHILLIPS

Mrs. Emily Kathleen Phillips, beloved wife of Mr. Daniel Phillips, passed away suddenly at her late home at the Junction of Thurlow Township, early today. The deceased was born in Hungerford Township fifty-five years ago, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lanning. The late Mrs. Phillips was a member of Bethany United Church. Besides her husband, one daughter, Mrs. John Tait, of Thurlow Township, two sisters, Mrs. John Phillips, of Trenton, Ont., and Mrs. Badgely, of Melrose, survive. One brother also remains, Reuben Lanning, of Stirling. Mrs. Phillips was well and favorably known in the community and her death will be regretted by a wide circle of friends.

WAYS TO OVERCOME SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Self-consciousness is a terrible bugbear. It can make a person miserable. It can undermine an entire life.

Self-consciousness makes one forever worrying how they appear to others, if they are acting correctly, if their clothes look right, if they said the wrong thing. If their self-consciousness is being noted, etc. etc.

They fret over all sorts of petty things that make them appear a fool.

And the trouble is that when self-conscious persons are obsessed with the question of what people think, they become all the more self-conscious, with the result that their awkwardness becomes all the worse.

Curiously enough, those who are so self-conscious often possess real superior ability. If only it were possible for them to reveal their better side. If only they could let themselves go. If they did not care a rap about others they would, of course, be able to express themselves.

But that is exactly what no self-conscious person can do.

Nevertheless, self - consciousness has a cause and it can be mastered. If you happen to be self-conscious take the time to figure out why you are that way.

You will probably find that it is though you had committed some trivial experience that is at wrong. Nevertheless, all of a sudden, the bottom of it all and merely by bringing it to the surface and looking it accurately in the face, its self-consciousness will disappear.

You will probably find it is some thing buried in your unconscious thoughts that is responsible—and because of what it actually is but because you consciously do not know what it is.

Anyone can overcome the habit of self-consciousness through this simple procedure. But it might be an easy if you do not stick at it. You may try to find the embarrassing experience or the mental shock that is responsible and have difficulty in doing so.

If so, you are suffering from what psychologists call "resistances." You are fearful, in other words, of facing facts.

But temporary conscious upset is better than a life of self-consciousness. It's worth trying!

Take a comfortable couch or an armchair, think of the last incident that made you self-conscious, and then let your thoughts drift from that point on.

Don't try to figure out why you behaved the way you did. Simply let your mind drift from one idea to another.

You will find that your thoughts seem to all sorts of subjects and experiences before you reach the actual occasion of the original embarrassment that started you off anything yourself as being self-conscious.

All Over Lace Frocks Are Smart For Summer

Two exquisitely designed laces introduced this season for summer frocks show up to great advantage when simply fashioned. A soft drape here and a bow there are all that is necessary to add the touch of femininity without taking away from the beauty and exclusivity of the design in the material. The frock above is a smart and flattering example of the new mode in lace covered. A short cape floats from the left shoulder. The circular tier, which also shows itself in the back, repeats the shirr diagonally to meet the bow of the belt at the hips. Narrow bands of the self sleeves at the wrists. This model would be equally effective made in printed georgette, voile or chiffon.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

A FRESH COMPLICATION

The letter was postmarked New York; it was addressed in Rosemary's hand. Celia realized that it was another daily from her husband.

And her "husband" was, at that moment, seated in the living room with Hugh Farr.

She felt Miss Prague creep upon her. And she recognized that the other letters that had come from Annesley, when she was supposed to be with her husband in New York. She had feared that she must get word quickly to Annesley to discontinue sending the fake letters.

She tore open the envelop, expecting to find blank sheets of paper, for it had been a long time since she had composed, with Gwen's assistance, a love-letter for him to copy in his own hand. Instead, she found a real letter.

Annesley said:

"I am writing this in Chicago, where I was called on business, and am sending it to another envelop in New York to be posted. You see, Celia, I am faithful to my trust, I wanted so much to slop off and see you on my way west, but it was impossible. It has been a long time since I have written you a letter, and I suppose you have a little bit

"I find now that I shall have to make a hurried trip to Alaska for my client. But I promise you that the letter shall be posted to you, and handed through my secretary in New York, who is completely trustworthy. I want very much to hear from you, to know how everything is going, the state of your mind and health—all. But it is impossible for mail to reach me during my rapid journeys, and I must, therefore, wait until I return to hear from you. But I'm going to slop off to see you on my way to New York.

"Mr. Eastland, who will look after some of my work during my absence, will do anything in his power to relieve you. But, if anything very important arises and it is possible to wait for my return to discuss it, I suggest advise you to do so. However, I anticipate for you, my dear, nothing but happiness.

"Celia thought I bitterly, half-aloud: "Nothing but happiness! . . . If he only knew!"

It was then that the full significance of Annesley's letter came to her. He was thinking of her as telling when he would return. And those letters would be sent to her at regular intervals while she did, if the situation with Falconer became too precarious!

She must get word to Annesley to discontinue sending the letters, at the very least. She couldn't have them coming, when the man w.' was supposed to be writing them to her.

She dressed hurriedly for the street. She didn't dare transmit a telegram over the 'phone.

Suppose Annesley had already left Chicago! His letter hadn't stated the date of his departure.

When she came down-stairs, Falconer was in the hall, hat in hand.

"Going out—" he remarked genially "I'll just stroll along with you."

She bit her lip in exasperation.

"I prefer that you shouldn't. I have some private business to attend to."

"Oh, I shan't interfere. I'm not going far. . . . I forgot to tell you—or rather, I haven't had the opportunity, with your belligerent young friend around — that, when I was in the tobacco-shop this morning, I met an interesting chap. You see, they didn't have my favorite brand of cigarettes, so I asked them to order a lot for me, gave my name and your address. This other laddie was buying cigarettes and, when he heard me, he jumped as if some body had stuck a knife into his back. Then he introduced himself. Said his name's Horace Vail. We had quite a chat, and he asked me to lunch with him at his club today."

Celia's sigh was one of resignation. Falconer was looking at her with a smile.

"Why so glum? Anything fishy about this Vail chap? Old sailor or yours? . . . Oh, I say, he's not the man you were engaged to, the one who caused all the talk?"

"No. He's not the man," Celia answered.

"Not a very chubby type, I should say". Falconer went on, as they left the house and started down the street. "I can't quite fancy why he cottoned to me."

"I can," said Celia dryly. "He carried what you say to him. He'll want to question you. He's clever. And he hates me."

"Ah, so that's it! The disgruntled rival, eh? So I'm supposed to be the lucky chap who cut him out." He chuckled. "Celia, this gets better and better. Before it's over, it will have been a revolution before for intrigue."

Celia made no reply, and he went on:

"Are you aware that various neighbors of yours seem to be watching us interestedly from windows and verandas, and that three people have turned to stare after us. If I were you Celia, I'd look a trifle more happy. You're supposed to be strolling in the bright sunlight of a lovely morning with your husband."

She said:

"I wonder if you can guess how I hate you! . . ."

"I'd rather have your hate than indifference, Celia, dear," he told her lightly.

She left him, after telling him how to find Vail's club. People bowed to her, beamingly, and cast upon Falconer a quick, appraising glance. She knew that already it was all over town that her husband had arrived. That afternoon a clerk in the telegraph-office called her on the 'phone.

"It was not possible to deliver your telegram, Falconer. The party had left the hotel in Chicago, and there was no forwarding address."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

1.—I have been going with a boy for three years. He will graduate from High School soon. Would it be correct for me to give him a gift? If so, what.

2.—When a girl is introduced to a boy, upon leaving, which should say the word "I am glad to have met you," first?

3.—When a boy is leaving a girl's home at night, should he say "good-night" or "bye," or is it just a matter of choice?

4.—Where should a boy walk if going down the street with two girls—also sitting in a theatre?

ONEIC

ONEIC: 1.—Yes it would be correct to send him a gift. A book, or perhaps a set of books; a fountain pen and pencil set, cigarette lighter (if he smokes), are not bad suggestions. Any large store has quite a selection of gifts for just such purposes.

2.—The young man usually expresses his delight at the meeting.

3.—It's a matter of choice. However, "Good-night" is the best form.

4.—He should walk on the curb side of the street. In the theatre he sits nearest the aisle, allowing the ladies to precede him to the seats.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

A jelly or blancmange can be removed from the mould with greater ease if the mould is dipped in boiling water for a couple of seconds.

Hands which have become hard and rough can be made soft and white by rubbing well with olive oil, which should be allowed to soak in for half an hour, and then washing in soft water, after which a little lemon juice should be well applied.

To make fruit junket place a jam jar in a tin can. Pour prepared junket round. When set remove jar. Fill centre with oranges, apples, or fruit salad.

If you rinse a plate with cold water before breaking the eggs on it, and add a pinch of salt, less stand where there is a current of air, you will have no difficulty in heating them to a froth.

HANDICRAFTS ARE SENT TO WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., —(Canadian Press) —The Canadian Handicraft Guild, which is the invitation of the Canadian Pacific Railway, undertook, with the aid of its recently-formed branches in the West, the organization of the whole handicraft section of the festival to be held at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, in this city, June 19 to 23, has sent a careful selection of eastern Canadian handicraft. This has been assembled by its own technical committee, from Quebec, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Ontario as a special "hors concours" exhibit. Miss Hughes-Charles, of Montreal, is in charge.

Prizes at this festival will be restricted to articles made in their new hours by western settlers of continental European extraction. The Manitoba branch of the guild is arranging to have demonstration workers of perhaps ten different nationalities, wearing their various peasant costumes, to display the actual process of the numerous crafts they have brought with them to this country.

The programme will include also folk singing and dancing and the popular homely contributions of the workers held be started by Displays of highly specialized immigrant talents. The Ukrainian groups are expected to be well organized for public appearances, and their dancing, ballet and girls' orchestral contributions, all given in their decorative native costumes, will be outstanding features of the festival.

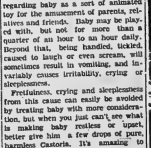

CHAMPAGNE CARGO SEIZED

New York, June 19.—Consignments seized on the ocean-going tug Malcyon and a cargo of champagne, estimated to be worth $100,000 as booties prizes as the craft docked at Green street today. The crew escaped.

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby' —Babies Have Nerves—

By RUTH BRITTAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is the matter, a dose of castoria, or, better still, a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

A BUG BATTLE IS NECESSARY

Various Sprays And Poisons Are Needed To Fight The Pests

Now that the garden is up and growing most mobilize sprayers and spraying material to fight the millions of insects and other pests which prey on flowers and vegetables.

Roughly speaking, these pests are divided into two groups, those that eat holes in the foliage, and those that suck out the juices.

In the first case, poison is applied while the "suckers", the damage from which is apparent by the plants wilting and dying, are destroyed with a spray which will burn them.

For Eating Insects.

For eating insects spray with paris green, arsenic of lead, hellebore, or some patent, poisonous preparation. Paris green is usually applied at the rate of one ounce, dissolved in ten gallons of water. It is well to add a couple of ounces of freshly slaked lime to make this more sticky and prevent burning. Arsenate of lead in powdered form is applied at the rate of 1 scant ounce to a full gallon of water. As hellebore rapidly weakens when exposed to the air, a fresh supply of this poison must be secured every year and applied at the rate of 1 ounce to a gallon of warm water. It may be dusted on dry, when the foliage is damp.

Cut worms which eat through the stems of plants close to the surface of the soil require special treatment. These grubs are about three-quarters of an inch long, gray in color, and about one-third inch in diameter. If the tomato or other plant withers and topples over, cut worms are generally responsible. Cultivate thoroughly and spread a little poisoned bran around the plants. Mix one quart of bran with one teaspoonful of paris green, add one tablespoonful of molasses, with enough water to moisten the bran. Paper collars around the stems of tomato and similar plants will also protect from these pests.

For Sucking Pests.

For sucking pests, chief of which are the aphids, or plant lice, spray with whale oil soap, one pound of soap to six gallons of water; nicotine sulphate of "Black Leaf 40" or any other repellent advised by seedmen. Cold water from a fine nozzle under high pressure will sometimes wash off the pests.

Fungus Diseases.

When a fungus attacks the plants the foliage usually "burns" yellow or brown, or white spots like mildew cover the leaves. Careful examination will usually reveal the presence of tiny spores on the underside of the leaves. Attacks of this kind may be expected during warm, murky weather. Spraying with Bordeaux mixture, or dusting with flour of sulphur, when the plants are moist, will usually be found effective. Sulphur dust will also protect Hollyhocks and other plants from rust. Apply with a large shaker made of a tin can pierced with holes. Adding a dry poison such as arsenate of lead or tobacco dust will make the mixture effective against fungus and insect pests as well.

TRY TO RAISE FUNDS FOR "GRADS" TEAM

Edmonton, Alta. (C.P.).— Steps have been taken to raise a fund of $5,000 to enable the "Grads" basketball team to go overseas and defend their world's title. A committee of ten business men is in charge of the campaign. "There is no question about the intense pride of Edmontonians in the remarkable record established by our girl athletes," says the Journal. "Though the personnel of the team has completely changed since it first brought such distinction to the city, its skill was never greater than at present. The players have earned the trip to Europe and it would not be at all in our spirit if they had to abandon it through failure to receive the necessary financial support.

REDUCE DEATH RATE MATERNITY PERIOD

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.).—Reduction of maternal mortality, through the association of the public as to the importance of prenatal care of mothers, was the object of a resolution discussed at Hygiene Council here recently. One of the meeting of the Canadian Social of the members suggested that the term "maternal mortality" be changed to "maternal welfare," and he stated that the public had a perfect right to make inquiry into the causes of every case of maternal mortality. Representatives of the League of Nations and the Women's Labor League rose to speak of the work of their organizations with regard to this problem.

POLAR BEARS IN WRESTLING BOUT

New Features With Sparks' Circus Which Is Here June 29th

Men have been known to sign as sparring partners with kangaroos, have elephants walk over them, and tigers jump over them. But now comes Franz Woske with a brand new stunt. He puts on wrestling bouts with Polar bears.

This most unusual man is an Austrian and with his associate trainers last winter brought over a consignment of trained wild animals to America for the Sparks Circus. These animals will be seen when the show exhibits in Belleville, Friday, June 29.

The wrestling bears are "Max" and "Moritz"—shaggy giants weighing more than 700 pounds each. Franz Woske is a man of six feet and of powerful build. In his bouts with the animals he wears a heavy leather cap but is otherwise dressed in simple uniform. First Woske wrestles "Max" and succeeds in putting the bruin on his back. He does this by a clever left foot trip. But the man has never succeeded in throwing "Moritz". Trained animals in large numbers vie with the 700 human performers in the 1928 program of this big immaculate circus. Today, Sparks Circus is the largest in the world giving a daily street parade at 11 a. m.

LIME BIG AID TO FARM SOIL

Is Especially Beneficial In Eastern Parts of The Province

Lime is not a fertiliser, and increases fertility only indirectly, as it renders conditions favorable for the liberation of plant food, and also as it stimulates bacterial action, which in turn acts on the organic matter in the soil, and breaks it up into a form available for plant food.

Lime also improves the texture of the soil by flocculation of the soil particles. It's greatest value, however, lies in its capacity to correct soil acidity. Many crops will not grow well on acid soils. This is true of most of our common farm crops, but is particularly apparent in connection with legumes, and, as these crops furnish our most economical source of nitrogen, their place in the crop rotation is doubly important.

Lime to be used in correcting soil acidity is put on the market in many forms. It has been determined that material applied in the form of finely ground limestone is the most desirable and economical. The rate of application varies with the degree of acidity in the soil.

In order to determine the actual increase in crop yields due to the application of ground limestone, a project has been under way at the Dominion experimental station, Lennoxville, Que., for years. Ground limestone is applied to the land on one set of plots, at the rate of two tons per acre, just before seeding the oat crop, in a rotation of corn, oats, clover, timothy. Lime is applied to the land previous to plowing for corn at the rate of sixteen tons per acre. Another set of plots are treated in the same way in every respect, except that limestone is not applied. This experiment is carried on in duplicate, and accurate records have been kept in connection therewith, for the five-year period.

In every instance there has been a decided increase in the yield on the plots treated with lime. Corn has given a five-year average increase in yield of 2.2 tons per acre. The yield of oats has been 12.2 bushels per acre higher on the limed plot. The increase in yield of clover hay was 1/2 a ton, while timothy has yielded .62 of a ton more per acre. The increase in the value of crops on the limed plots after deducting the cost of the lime, has been as follows: corn, $4.14; oats, $5.58; clover, $2.71; timothy, $3.81. These values are figured from the average market price for these crops over the five-year period. Such results prove quite conclusively that the application of lime is a very important factor in obtaining high yields.

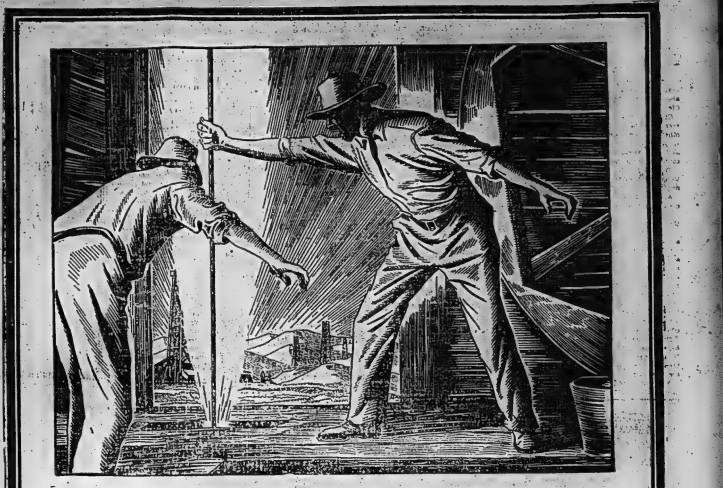

It has also been proven that lime may be applied with beneficial results on old pasture land. In many instances the carrying capacity of such pastures has been increased by an application of two tons of ground limestone. It might be said that lime ing certainly does pay in the eastern townships, or any section where an acid condition of the soil exists.

"Ya Viene!"

Four thousand feet underground the drill bites into the oil bearing sand. The peon driller, sensing the upsurge of petroleum, gives warning: "Ya viene!"—here it comes!

So, below the equator in far Peru, another source of incomparably rich crude oil is established. In a few days the well is capped and the oil is feeding through an underseas pipe line to mammoth Imperial tankers, riding at anchor a mile offshore. Then follows the long voyage to Canada where the unduplicated equipment of Imperial refineries conserves in Marvelube the superior lubricating qualities found in Peruvian crude alone.

Only Peruvian crude is used in making Marvelube; only Imperial Oil Limited has access to Peruvian crude, the better crude from which a better oil is made.

I.L.D. FOR SIR ROBERT FALCONER

Rochester, June 19.—Sir Robert Falconer, K.C.M.G., president of the University of Toronto, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the 78th annual commencement of the University of Rochester today.

STREET OILING

of June respectively were passed. Another recommendation that the Superintendent of the Tourist Camp be paid a salary of $65.00 per month at the beginning of each month was passed.

Suburban Roads.

A large amount of correspondence between the County Council, the City Council, Engineer Campbell and the City Solicitor was on file, the gist of the whole matter being that the City instead of owing in the neighborhood of $3,000 to the County, had a balance of over $4,000 which the County owed to them. When the Corbyville Road was built, the Provincial Government assumed the cost of 50 per cent., with the city of Belleville paying 30 per cent. and Hastings County paying 20 per cent. What should have been paid was 50 per cent. by the Government, and 25 per cent. each by the City and the County. A notice to this effect will be sent to the County Council immediately.

Stephens-Adamson Co. put in a complaint to the Council about the bad condition of the roadway leading into the plant, and asked for some repairs to be made on it. The matter was referred to the City Engineer for him to report on. Wider sidewalks are wanted on West Bridge Street, below the hill, and these will be made possible by the removal of over forty old telephone poles which clutter up the street. The amounts to be levied for the support of schools need not be shown here again as the statement was published in Saturday's issue.

R. J. Graham has an option on the twenty acres adjoining the Tayer Pea plant, which is almost the only good factory site in this city, and a letter was read from Mr. Heriz, head of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce saying that Mr. Graham was willing to put up $5,000 of the money it would take to put in a siding from the Canadian National Railway, and that a Railway Commissioner would be in the city soon to examine and report on the cost. This was referred to the Industrial Committee.

A letter of thanks from the head of the Provincial R. of C. was read to the Council for the fine manner they had treated the members of their order when the R. of C. Convention was held here a month ago.

The Council agreed that the Canadian Oil Co. and Boyce's garage should have a proper approach from the street to the curb of one hundred and twenty-five dollars asleve for the fixing of the roads at these points. Aldermen Tice and Walker entered a motion for an estimate and report of the cost of a traffic signal at Bridge Street, E. and Pinnacle Street, as this is a particularly bad corner and no doubt would eliminate a great deal of confusion which now exists at that point. The City Engineer will give a report on this at the next meeting.

BELLE THEATRE

This spectacular camera shot was taken from one of the summits of Cedar Brooks, in Southern Utah, from a height of more than 10,000 feet, and shows in the distance the peaks and palisades of Zion National Park.

The scenic vista is framed by the cameramen nearly two miles above sea level forms part of the sheep-shearing episode in "Kazanga," because of the difficulty in approaching the site, and mounting cameras and other equipment in the high altitudes, this territory had never been filmed before by a movie company.

In this particular long-range scene several thousand sheep are shown in the foreground, at shearing season, and the towering mountain caps 65 miles away, form a picturesque background for the action.

"This scene alone should provide considerable praise and comment from filmgoers and students of the movies," declares Carewe. "It was a difficult shot, but one often the most beautiful I have ever seen on location."

"Ramona" is an Inspiration-Carewe production, made under the personal direction of Carewe for United Artists release. In Dolores Del Rio's support are Warner Baxter, who plays the part as "Alessandro," the Indian lover and "Felipe," the Spanish Romeo. Other principal players in the cast of this absorbing cast include Vera Lewis, Michael Vavitch, Carlos Amaya, Jean Del Rio's cousin, and newcomer in films, Mathilde Comont and John T. Prince.

REGENT THEATRE

"Slaves of Beauty", Fox Films delightful version of Nina Wilcox Putnam's sensational magazine story, "The Grandfather," which has been playing to crowded houses at the Regent Theatre, will have a final presentation tomorrow night.

Earle Foxe, Olive Tell, Richard Walling, Holmes Herbert and Margaret Livingston have the featured roles.

FIELDS OF CORN WELL CLEANED

Inspector of Wentworth County Well Satisfied He Says.

James Ready, Wentworth corn borer inspector, is much pleased with the way the farmers of the county have co-operated with him and his assistants, William Wood and Morton Williamson, in clearing up the corn stubble of the country.

The inspector explained that the amount of heaving caused by frost early in the spring made the work of cleaning up difficult for stubble that seemed to be well plowed down and covered had fall was brought to the surface by the frost. This meant it had to be picked up by hand, carted away and burned. One man can clean ten loads of stubble off his fields and did it cheerfully although there was much inconvenience and time spending his attention.

During the last week the corn fields of last year in the country have been inspected by an assistant to Professor Caesar and unofficially by Professor Crawford of Ottawa. Both expressed themselves as being well pleased with the results.

Only one man in the county has neglected to do his share and he has been given one more chance before a summons is issued.

Mr. Ready pointed out those who did not clean up did harm to no person except themselves for their neighbors benefit did not hurt him or those over him.

TEAMS BATTLING FOR LEADERSHIP

Belleville Nationals Meet Oshawa In Double-Header

PRICES SAME

Gibson And Utronki Will Perform On Hillock For Locals

Oshawa team which is at the present time half a game behind the Belleville Nationals in the Central League race will be here tomorrow for a double-header at the Fair Grounds. The Hillsiders are hoping to take both ends of the affair and thus play themselves into a one-half games ahead of the Belleville. The Oshawa team have been playing good ball but the Delora Club pitcher took the wind out of their sails last Saturday when Manager John Campbell and his sturdy warriors went into Alexandra Park and came out with a 7-5 victory which altered the standing considerably sending Belleville into first place for the first time this year. The Nationals are confident that they shall remain there and an even break on tomorrow's games will do the trick but Manager Harper is hopeful of taking both games. The Oshawa team appeared to be getting back on paper at the semi-discouragement of the season but their hitting has gone down fifty per cent since that time.

According to advance notices a young pitcher by the name of Gibson formed second-base has been the ace of the club and is a regular whiz-kid, who, Manager Dainty thinks will win for his games will, in all probability be short at least one game tomorrow. The Oshawa team is managed by Walter Schmalz, while "Skinner" Burgoyne, of former Belleville fame, is behind the receiving. With this special paragraphic spiel for the ball-dodgers the officials are planning for a record crowd. The prices will remain the same as in the past and admission will be given double their value. To correct a wrong impression in the minds stated emphatically today that there will be no extra charge for the grandstand and bleachers. Belleville's line-up will remain the same with Gibson and Utronki, Oswald and Jeffrey, three comparative youngsters showing effective ball the Railroaders should be in the runs for the Johnson Cup all the way. Belleville have lost but two games and have captured the verdict on four separate occasions.

The leadership of the league will be staked on Wednesday, when Oshawa and Belleville will meet in a double-header here, and from present indications, fans passing up this game need to have their head read as it promises to be one of the feature attractions of the season. The Schulte-Burgoyne coached crew are still stinging from the defeat handed them on Saturday while Belleville are determined to retain the leadership and capture both ends of the bargain-day affair. The Nationals have been practicing faithfully and Wednesday's game will undoubtedly be one of the tit-bits of the year. Manager Walter Gprow is confident that the locals will take both games and a bumper crowd is expected.

Slugging scored two decisive victories over Peterboro on Friday and Saturday by big scores and the Petes are sinking far into the cellar. The hitter rivalry between these two was manifested in both games and Manager Joe Daley is chalked over the showing made by the Eastern member of the league. The Petes a born Club recently underwent a shaking up, Fred Craig, Editor of the Peterboro Examiner assuming the role of Manager left vacant by League fans by their display in Oshawa. They have been occupying the cellar position due to their apparent failure to connect with the Spalding as the pitching has been on a par with any in the league.

Belleville are now atop the Central League derby and are at the time of writing leading Oshawa by half a game. The Nationals on their past record appear to be the club to beat for the league honors. They have been playing consistent ball and with Gibson, Utronki and Jeffrey, three comparative youngsters showing effective ball the Railroaders should be in the runs for the Johnson Cup all the way. Belleville have lost but two games and have captured the verdict on four separate occasions.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

While Oshawa have been leading the Central League since May 24th in opening day, they were forced to relinquish the role of league leader on last Saturday when the Delora Club, the lady member of the circuit furnished one of the chief surprises of the current season when they walked into Alexandra Park and handed the Motor crew a lick-trimming to the tune of 7-5. The Delora Club have not up to this time been recognized as serious contenders for the championship but they certainly opened the eyes of Central League fans by their display in Oshawa. They have been occupying the cellar position due to their apparent failure to connect with the Spalding as the pitching has been on a par with any in the league.

Kingston people have complained that the Peterboro Club has accompanied by a patched-up line-up to Kingston and on the return trip they proceeded to add insult to injury and promptly sent the lowly Petes tobogganing for the cellar position by a 7-5 score.

Ray Rose, hockey player extraordinary made his debut as a pitcher at Kingston but it was an inauspicious one, the Frontenacs taking kindly to his offerings.

The Delora Club are naturally very much entitled over their recent win at the expense of the league leaders and while they are still hob-nobbling with the cellar they may take a new turn of speed and overtake some of the other teams.

It seems to be the concensus of opinion among sporting writers and others around the circuit that the Oshawa team were rising for a fall as some of their victories could hardly have been termed as well-earned, the Peterboro Club having lost two very tough games to the boys from Sam McLaughlin's town.

Two extra, weeks have been granted to the Central league by the governing body, the O. B. A. A. and the teams hope to catch up on the schedule which was interrupted by the weather.

The Petes are more or less of a joke team, when you look them all over. Saturday they got their only pitching from a first baseman, Manager 'Jodi' Craig is doing the best he can, but you can't win without players.—Wnig-Standard.

The fielding of the Petes in the last few games has been, wretched. When the pitchers are right the fielding is poor; when the pitchers are punk the fielding's worse. And all the time the batters are not hitting.—Wnig-Standard.

The veteran 'Duke' Dainty is liable to expire from overwork if the local management insists on sending him in against every team in the league. The law of averages should be considered.—Oshawa Times.

Delora beat Oshawa right in the Motor City Saturday 7-5 with Jack Shea having the edge over Dainty. Oshawa's days are numbered. They don't belong at the top.—Peterboro Examiner.

C. O. B. L. STANDING

The League standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Belleville	4	2	.667
Oshawa	3	2	.600
Kingston	4	3	.571
Delora	2	3	.400
Peterborough	2	5	.286

Clamps this week:

Wednesday—Oshawa at Belleville (3 games); Kingston at Delora.

Saturday—Belleville at Peterboro; Oshawa at Delora.

LEADING CARDS HALTED BY REDS

Hornsby Celebrates Return To Game By Feature Clouting

New York, June 19.—The Reds stop ped the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 3, in a home-coming battle at Cincinnati yesterday. Leque celebrated his return after a three-weeks' layoff by allowing only two runs in 10 innings. Kolp took up the burden where Leque left off, allowing two hits in four innings and driving in the win ning run with a single that brought Duncan home.

The Brooklyn Robins halted the four game winning streak of the Phillies at Philadelphia when Jess Petty turned back the latchdrop by four to three.

After a rocky start, Petty settled down and pitched capital ball, not permitting a hit from the first inning until Bond broke through for a single in the ninth.

Three of the Phillies' four hits came in the first inning.

A double by Bressler, followed by a single by Bancroft, with two out, scored one run for the Robins in the second. The winning Brooklyn run was tallied after two were out in the ninth when Hendrick doubled and Herman followed with a single that brought the Brooklyn third sacker home.

Malone held Boston to one hit in the second game of yesterday's double-header and Chicago defeated the Braves, 13—6. In the first game, Virgil Davis, Boston pitching ace from the New York Giants, pitched Boston to a 10-3 victory.

The single Boston hit in the second game was Taylor's double in the eighth. Every Chicago player hit safely at least once, Cuyler leading the attack with two home runs, a double and a single.

In the first game, Rogers Hornsby, Boston manager, celebrated his return to suspension, celebrated his return to road standing by driving in three runs, two of them on a home run into the centre field stands.

OSHAWA PLAYED LETHARGIC GAME

Speaking of the Oshawa-Delora game the Oshawa Times says:—

Seven errors three of which accounted for the three winning runs in the seventh inning, lost the C.O.B.L. game that Oshawa tried to play against Delora on Saturday afternoon.

Five home runs provided about the only bright spots the game afforded, two of these going to Herb. Wolfe, two to Vaughan Jack and one to Cecil Young, who this year made his debut in senior company. Delora's fielding showed up much better than that turned in by the locals, and only one error in each inning against them. Consequently although ten hits were made off each pitcher, four of Oshawa's five runs were earned, while only three of Delora's seven came under that heading.

TORONTO HURLER HERO OF GAME

Montreal Rivals Get Unmerciful Drubbing At Hands of Orioles

Baltimore, June 19. — Montreal Royals suffered a severe defeat inflicted upon any team in the International League this season when they bowed to the Orioles, 20-5, in the first game of the series here yesterday after noon.

Baltimore, who was welcoming back an old favorite, Bob Shawkey, who had left for the higher pastures of the majors going up to the big leagues, was given a warm ovation. Shawkey was called for nine hits in the first two innings, scoring five runs in the first inning and a third number in the second.

Standing, June 19.—Rochester's winning streak of six straight victories came to a halt here yesterday when Jack Welch pitched and batted the Key stoners to a 6-3 decision over the Hornets. Wynes in the second game of the series, Welch clinched the triumph with a home run with a man on base in the eighth. Quellich also hit a homer for the Keystoners.

Jersey City, June 18.—Kunesch's masterful pitching, Gilhooley in the ninth inning gave the Black Cats a 1-0 victory over Buffalo here in the third game of the series. The contest was a tight pitching duel between Edwards, of the Bisons, and Stephens, of the locals, each twirler allowing but seven hits.

Toronto, June 19.— Frank Bell, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, has been sold to the Wakefield Club and Jaffy Martin and Don Songer will be released as an early date according to a recent announcement.

Newark, June 19.—Pitcher Leverenz was the hero of the Toronto victory over the Bears here yesterday in the tenth inning. The final score was 5-3.

Leverenz the third hurler the Leafs used after Fisher and Prudhomme blew up, stopped the rally, and on his first at bat he drove a homer over the right field fence with one on.

Pitcher McQuillan, of the Bears, has been suspended by Manager John son for failing to keep into condition. Umpire Pyle chased Manager O'Hara, and Infielder Brown from the game for disputing a decision.

MOOSE, ALEMITE POINT ANNE WON

Splendid Contests In Bay of Quinte Industrial League

CLOSE SCORES

Ciacos Handed Another Defeat By Frank Goyer's Team

Three fast games were played in the lay of Quinte Industrial League last night. This is the one and only band, all league operating in this district uside from the C.O.B.L. team and ans are passing up some nice battles. Point Anne, Alemite and Moose were he winners of the arguments last night. Large crowds witnessed the games which were all played out of town.

At Corbyville's new baseball diamond the Point Anne team took the measure of the Ciacos handing two hundred spectators. The Point Anne team were the best on the night's play with some of the old-timers to the fore. Frank Goyer did the catching for the winners and banged out some nice hits. Frank Bennett and Hal Strachan alternated on the pitching mound and both were effective Jack Cumming and Arthur Pitcher did the pitching for the Ciacos with Martin catching. Vern Weir and Twig Woodley umpired.

At Redneersville the home team were handed a trimming by Art Young's Alemite squad by a score of 7-1. Hagerman, Burley and Flagler all hammered out three baggers. Darragh was his hard but was very effective in the pinches. Peets was behind the stick. Cap and Ken Gordon headed this game.

At Foxboro the Moose put up a grand battle and won out by a score of 10-5. It was a smart game, tight all the way through and the local club had to be at their best to defeat the Foxboro Club. Ab Young did the flinging for the Moose with Jack Casey supporting him. George Faulkner got a home run, a long drive which was far beyond the reach of the fielders. Alan Meagher and Reeves umpired.

CELEBRATION FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY.

Toronto, Ont.—(Canadian Press)— While his father and mother sat in the congregation celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Rev. Leo Smyth, who was the day before ordained a priest, on Sunday last sang his first Mass in the church beside his parents was his sister, a nun, who was celebrating the silver jubilee of her entry into religious life. The preacher, first Fr. Leslie Marks' of St. Augustine's seminary, referred to the celebrated as "altogether unique in a world where life is bounded by three score years and ten."

The population of the whole world is estimated to be approximately 1,800 millions.

BELLEVILLE WON OPENING GAME

Huge Crowd Attends Double Header At Exhibition Park

GIBSON PITCHING

Ross Opens Scoring With Pretty Double To Centre Field

Exhibition Park, Belleville, June 20. —The leadership of the Central league was staked this afternoon, here when Belleville Nationals met Oshawa in a double-header. The local team is lead ing the parade by half a game and Manager Walter Gerow hopes to increase this lead this afternoon by taking both ends of the half-holiday affair. At game-time the stands were packed by an eager crowd and the fans were still filing in when the "umps" called play ball. It was an ideal baseball weather with little or no breeze blowing.

As was expected Walter Gerow announced that "Hoot" Gibson would do the pitching with the evergreen "Peeney" Mills on the receiving end. Oshawa will pitch Mathews, a new comer with Elliott catching. Utzoski is slated to start the second game for Belleville with Hargerman receiving. "Duke" Delahty the likely choice of the visitors. "Stan" Burgoyne, a former Bellville Boy who is coaching the Oshawa team was given a hand by both the local fans and friends when he went to the coaching lines. Wilson of Oshawa, umpired at the plate and Ken Colling, Belleville handled the bases.

Title line-up:

Belleville—Utz 3b; Ross s f; H. Mills lb; W. Mills c; Blakely s s; Scott 2b; Green r f; Hagerman 1 f; Gibson p.

1st Inning—Oshawa — Wolfe singled on second pitched ball. Young walked. Williams out to H. Mills, Wolfe going to third and Young to second; Matthews fouled out to Bob Scott, who made a nice running catch; Sutton hit by pitched ball; Elliott hit to W. Mills who threw Sutton out at second.

0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Belleville—Utz fouled out to Young. Ross walked. Harry Mills hit a nice single over first; Ross stopping at second; "Peeney" Mills struck out; Blakely fired out to Williams.

0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

2nd Inning—Oshawa — Bob Scott threw out Keller; Pair hit hard to Blakely who accepted the drive on the hand, it being good for a hit; McCallum got on on Scott's throw-out; Pair cut off at second. Wolfe hit out to Harry Mills.

0 runs; 1 hit, 0 errors.

Belleville—Scott out, McCallum to Keller; Green singled through the box; Hagerman hit 3 hard drive to Young who doubled Green off first.

0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

3rd Inning—Oshawa — Young struck out; Williams safe on Gibson's error, Gibson easily returning too far off first and he was run down by Blakely; Blakely threw out Matthews.

0 runs, 0 hits, 1 error.

Belleville—Gibson out; McCallum to Keller; Wolf dropped a nice hit between centre and left field, and went to second on Matthew's error; Weir scored from 2nd on Ross' hit over second, which was good for two bases; H. Mills struck out; "Peeney" whiffed also 1 run, 2 hits, 1 error.

4th Inning—Oshawa — Sutton went out; Weir to H Mills; Elliott out, W. Mills to H. Mills; Keller fired out to Scott, this play caused an argument as Scott tossed the ball to the ground almost as he caught it.

0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

5th Inning—Oshawa — Pair hit through second, and Ross missed it up in the field; Pair going to second; McCallum sacrificed; Pair going to third; Wolfe hit to Weir, who made a bad throw; Pair scoring and Wolfe went to second; Young struck out; Wolfe stole third; Williams struck out.

1 run, 1 hit, 2 errors.

Belleville—Hagerman walked; Gibson hit into a double, Keller to McCallum and Hagerman; Weir rifled a single through second; Young took Ross' bounder and threw them out at first base.

0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Smouldering Coke Stove Is Believed To Be The Cause

Montreal, June 20—Fire this morning practically destroyed the Polytechnical school, a section of the University of Montreal on St. Denis Street. Early estimates placed the loss at $100,000. The fire started at six a.m. and swept through the building with such rapidity that firemen fighting by the Fire Department was necessary before it was finally put out.

It was stated that the fire may have been started by a smouldering coke stove left by the plumbers who had been working on the roof; it was also possible that an explosion may have occurred in one of the testing rooms.

The library of the school which has more than 15,000 volumes of technical books, plans and industrial papers on its shelves, was saved from damage.

POLICE ON GUARD FOR BOLD THUGS

Trenton Authorities Reported Heavy Car Speeding This Way

Today saw police of Eastern Ontario watching for the men who committed the daring mail robbery last night.

The Trenton police notified the local force early this afternoon that a large Packard touring car had travelled through the main street of the town at a high rate of speed. The car contained seven men.

The Belleville police promptly turned out and stationed themselves at the lower bridge on Bridge Street. A truck was commandeered, in order that it might be placed across the road to stop the alleged bandits' vehicle if it attempted to speed over the bridge and down the highway.

A Toronto motor-cycle policeman down here on special duty, guarded the north end at the top of the west Bridge Street hill, but nothing happened. Either the car turned north and so missed Belleville, or else it was merely some young men from Oshawa in a hurry to see the ball game, as they were late for it.

All roads are being carefully watched by the police in the hope that if the bandits come through here they may be stopped.

Intrepid Aviatrix Captures London With Unassuming Style

London, June 20—Talking to London's assembled newspapermen today Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic, declared firmly and emphatically that during her brief stay in England she did not want to be the subject of "news worship." "I have come nothing to sell," she said.

A friend then interposed the remark that Miss Earhart was distressed that she was occupying limelight at the expense of pilot Stultz and "just the point," Miss Earhart interrupted. "It is because I am a woman that I have been forced into the spotlight. Credit for the success of the flight is due Stultz. He controlled the plane practically throughout and was just splendid.

BORROWED CLOTHES.

London, June 20—Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman ever to fly the Atlantic faced the world today just as Lindbergh once did, in borrowed clothes.

The Boston girl, who arrived in London yesterday with Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon her companions in the trans-Atlantic flight of the monoplane Friendship, was wearing a loose-fitting flowered dress this morning when she held a little reception in the sitting room of her hotel suite which was rapidly filled by a bower of flowers sent by friends and admirers.

"Everything I've got to wear at present is borrowed," said Miss Earhart, "she said and her hearers agreed that she spoke truth.

Miss Earhart was greatly refreshed after her night's rest. Her programme includes a luncheon with Lady Frederick Guest, sponsor of the flight and a shopping tour in the afternoon.

LOSSES COVERED BY INSURANCE

Crew of Mail Car Admit They Were Taken Completely By Surprise

Brantford, Ont., June 20.—Members of the mail crew held up at the Toronto Union Station early this morning were thoroughly insured by surprise, they confessed, when interviewed here at their train went through Brantford. They were Thomas W. Mc. Allen and Gordon Robertson. Farrow stated he whistled the 40 bags of registered mail from the bandits, despite a sawed-off shotgun held into his face. Robertson did not get such a description of the men. They did, however, notice that the robbers were young men.

There were no weapons of defense in the mail car, the crew said, and even if there had been, a surprise attack would have prevented any action by the clerks.

Toronto, Ont., June 20.—Inquiry made today revealed that practically all losses sustained in last night's mail robbery will be covered by the insurance companies. All registered letters are insured up to the value of $25 by the payment of a registration fee and the banks' insurance is also taken out against which they send out through the mails. The Canadian Bankers' Association assumes responsibility in the matter. "It is purely a matter for the banks and the insurance companies," said an official.

At least $10,000 of the total shipment of more than a quarter of million dollars belonging to the Canadian Bank of Commerce was known to have been in the bags taken by robbers, according to A. W. Campbell, Head Accountant of the Bank.

Six Heavily Armed Thugs Escape With Mail Bags

UNKNOWN LOSS

Clerks In Canadian National Car Are Taken By Surprise

Toronto, June 20.—Inspector of Detectives Guthrie, announced this afternoon that the loss through the early morning mail car hold-up and the Union Station had been set at approximately $125,000.

Toronto, Ont., June 20.—Estimates of the amount of money involved in the biggest hold-up in the city's history grew materially today as hundreds of police officials and detectives searched the highways and byways of Ontario and Quebec and the bordering states for a trace of clue in connection with the six armed motor bandits who early this morning robbed the government mail car attached to the Canadian National Chicago flier at Toronto Union Station. An exact check on the loot was placed at $30,000 or $40,000. This afternoon it was stated the total might amount to $100,000 or $150,000. Police and police authorities lacked the information for official statement.

Toronto, June 20.—In the absence of official estimates from the police, of postal officials, figures of the amount taken in the robbery of the mail car at the Union Station by six armed bandits early this morning grew to staggering proportions, unofficial estimates of 10 a.m. placed the amount of the mail robbery at from $700,000 to $800,000. It is understood that registered mail bags contained heavy bank assignments. The police of Ontario and Quebec at the border have been strongly reinforced in hunt for the bandits.

Hamilton, Ont., June 20.—"Police this morning checked the license numbers, telegraphed them to inspectors, from the Station mail robbery in Toronto and found that in each case by car in question was not privately owned here and had been in their garages all night.

Rushed to Scene

Toronto, Ont., June 20.—Although the police and detectives are scouring the city and the surrounding district with a systematic vigilance, no trace has yet been discovered of the six armed bandits, who shortly after midnight yesterday made away with the city's biggest hold up ever staged in the history of Canada.

The bandits held up the clerks on a Canadian National mail car as the latter backed into the east three bags containing registered mail routed for Detroit and Chicago. The van of which has been variously estimated at from $30,000 to $100,000.

Immediately the alarm was given the police emergency cars sped to the scene of the robbery, but the bandits had made a clean get-away, before officers arrived. Chief of police Draper immediately got in touch with the city and the entire detective force was called on duty and ordered to the scene from the city. All points near Toronto were notified to be on the watch for a car answering to the bandits which was equipped with license plates issued in 1931, but "doctored" to appear like 1928 markers.

Bandits Headed West

As the bandits were last seen heading in a westerly direction the police immediately informed all border points and towns throughout western Ontario. Provincial authorities are eager in efforts to ascertain the exact amount the bags contained as the mail car disappeared from the scene. It was left for Detroit after the hold-up. Nothing is known as yet, however, as to the amount until the check-up has been made with the banks.

The loot was carefully planned the robbery is shown by the manner in which they conducted the affair. They backed their car directly up to the mail car door and two levelled shot-guns at the clerks while two others entered the car and selected the bags containing the money. Then the bags to the cement runway where their confederates aided them and threw them into the car which then sped away.

The car was in charge of J. M. Farrow, of London, Ont. It is reported the bandits overlooked a large sum of money in another car.

THE WEATHER

Moderate winds, unsettled with local showers at thunderstorms tonight and Thursday, but much change in temperature.

RALLIES CHECKED ON WALL STREET

Small Orders From Railways Have Effect On Industrials

New York, N.Y., June 20.—Stiffen ing money rates checked a promising rally in today's stock market. Prices of the Standard Industrial and rails advanced one to five points in the early trading, but these gains were cut down or converted into losses, on the renewal of selling pressure. Trading showed a tendency to turn dull on the rallies and to pick up on the declines.

Call money advanced from 5 to 6 per cent as the banks called some $10,000,000 in loans. Time money was on flat 5 3-4 per bent. Instead of 5 5-8 to 5 3-4, and advanced 1-4 of 1 per cent was made in the rates on bankers acceptances. The New York stock exchange reported that brokers loans on June 1, were 9.46 per cent of the market value of the securities listed, the highest percentage since March 1926, and contrasting with 8.65 per cent May 1 and 8.19 per cent on June 1, 1927.

The drive against the equipment issues was based on the reports of the heavy buying of small orders from the leading railroads. American Locomotive dropped 4 points to 94, the lowest price since 1926, and the American car and Foundry and Lima Locomotive each lost more than two points to new low levels for the year.

TWENTY-SIX KILLED IN VAST EXPLOSION

Mexico City, June 20— Twenty-six persons were known to have been killed when a boiler exploded in the bath house in a suburb of Mexico City last night. Thirty persons were injured. It was feared more bodies would be found in the ruins when the rescue crews finished removing the debris.

SHARP ADVANCE ON WHEAT MART

Chicago, Ills., June 20.—Fears of black rust in the Northwest together with a sharp advance in Liverpool quotations, had a decided bullish effect early today on wheat here. The unfavorable crop developments southwest continued also to attract noticeable wheat heid near to the initial range. Opening, 1 1-4c to 1 3-4c up Chicago Corn and oats were likewise influenced with corn starting at 3-4c to 1 1-8c gain, but subsequently yielding somewhat. Provisions showed but little change.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The foundations of justice are that no one shall suffer wrong; then, that the public good be promoted.
—CICERO.

PUBLICITY CAN HELP CURB THESE FOOLS.

One of the most glaring examples of the deadly inadequacy of modern driving was furnished Monday evening when young Harold Sayers crashed into the Argyll Band while it was on a route march, injuring more or less seriously six men and it is not Sayers' fault that the ten more deaths did not result. A few minutes before he had struck one car and narrowly missed another, besides running on the sidewalk, narrowly missing some pedestrians.

The Intelligencer has taken the stand particularly since the introduction of the Liquor Control Act, that any person attempting to operate a motor car while under the influence of liquor should be severely dealt with and that no consideration of rank or position should be allowed to interfere with the stern punishment of the offender. On more than one occasion within the past year the Intelligencer has thought and said that drunken drivers have escaped too lightly in our local Police Court. It is absolute folly to attempt to curb so dangerous a pratice by the infliction of a mere fine and a suspended sentence. Most motorists are able and willing to pay whatever fine is inflicted and it is no particular punishment to them or detriment to others.

If every man knew if he sat in the driver's seat after drinking to such an extent that he was not fully capable of handling his car that he faced certain imprisonment with the attendant publicity and disgrace this evil could be largely checked. Every drunken driver, intentionally or not, is a potential murderer. He is handling an instrument which if not properly controlled is capable of deadly destructiveness. That he may break his own neck or the necks of people foolish enough to ride with him if not of so much to the point. That phase of the question is his or their own concern. But he is still more likely to inflict death, suffering and destruction on innocent motorists or unsuspecting pedestrians.

In the belief that publicity will exercise a strong deterring effect the Intelligencer has printed and will continue to print the names of all drunken drivers caught and full particulars of their offences. Most men will pay a fine cheerfully and many are not particularly worried over a short term in jail, providing it is not made too public but all will hesitate to face the fact that their criminal foolishness and its attendant punishment will be broadcasted in the press. Many reputable newspapers in different parts of the Province are pursuing the same course as the Intelligencer, notably the Woodstock Sentinel-Review which has already published the full details of drunken driving offences committed by prominent citizens of their city.

DEAL WITH QUESTION IN A SENSIBLE WAY

It is unfortunate that the divorce question cannot be dealt with apart from prejudices and conventions that the world has outgrown for some generations past. The idea that morality will suffer because people who are utterly incompatible are not compelled to observe a nominal union does not appeal to reasonable minds. We are accustomed to do things differently now, and as in many recent advances in legislation, there is no warrant for supposing that because persons who absolutely require to be set free are given liberty to go so, therefore a general mania for divorces shall pervade the province.

The general laws of the land and the principles of public opinion will not permit any gross violation of the proprieties because we follow the example of Great Britain in this matter and have our divorce cases adjudicated by properly qualified justices instead of by laymen of the senate. Common social justice requires that the facilities now often to the well-to-do should also be accorded to the more straightened classes.

Perhaps this is the best reason of all for making the proposed change. Our Canadian citizens who for one cause or another have good grounds for seeking a divorce, and who cannot afford the expensive routine of the present practice, should go across the border, where in many states of the Union divorce is granted much more easily than anyone thinks of making it in Canada. This temptation to go across the border has been proving a handicap, and figures indicate that a large and increasing number take advantage of this method of relieving themselves of what our senate would relieve them if they could pay the price, and which is not therefore somehow wrong and ought to be approved of in Canada.

Frequently, too, those who cross the line on this mission, stay across, and our census suffers, as well as our society. What is right in other provinces of Canada is not wrong in Ontario, and will not be wrong when the change is made, whenever that may be; but the sooner it is made the better it will be for our social party. We need not fear that our judiciary will be more liberals such proceedings as have given notoriety to some of the courts of our southern neighbors.

"Oh, I shouldn't worry," replied old Brown. "Let her wait until the right sort of man comes along."

"Why, quit!" returned Mrs. Brown, "I didn't!"

Just Stories

Mrs. Elihu Root, wife of the famous legalist, is dead. In New York. Her maiden name was Clarke; she was a New Englander of mid-seventeenth century origin. Puritan associated with the noted Mather family. There is a Wales in Massachusetts. She married Mr. Root, now 83 years of age in 1878. She was nine years his junior.

The Nizam of Hyderbad, India, rules a state of 82,698 square miles with a population of 12,471,000. The Nizam who is extremely wealthy and owns a valuable diamond mine in Golconda, is asking his own and the independence of his country from British rule. He quotes Alexander's saying in justification. His collection of gems is beneath the Hyderabad palace where stored in a special compartment handling the jewels. The importance of his status is underlined by the fact that he enjoys a special exalted title while other native rulers are merely "highnesses." His request will probably not be granted.

HUNT SEALS WITH MACHINE-GUNS

New Westminster, B.C. (C.P.)—Japanese fishermen armed with machine guns have been invading the harseal rookeries off the mouth of the Fraser River in an attempt to enter the inlands the vessels have been taking a heavy toll on salmon, but so far the invaders have met with indifferent success. The hair seals are said to be extremely wary and elusive, near at sight of the armed vessels, which they seem able to distinguish from harmless fishing boats, with discouraging cunning.

DECLARES WAR ON DEATH RATE

Maternity Mortality One of Cruelest Scourges of The Earth

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.)—Miss K. M. Lisars, the Canadian author who wrote "In The Days of the Guards" and "Memoirs of '37" is at present in England. She writes to the "Mail and Empire" about maternal mortality in London:—

"The Minister of Health, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, has declared war on what he called one of the cruelest scourges of the race—the permanent injury and often the death of women in child-birth. One of the papers, in declaring war, published a speech on the subject, before the House of Commons, some of him as taking as it were the work of serving with the white facing and restrained passion of a recruit in the Guards." His unsight chill and flat tones, they say, throbbed with emotion, and The Minister who rein his feelings hard, for once slackened the bit. The House, signifying its approval, applauded him. A man mother died in childbirth.

"In enumerating the lowering of the general death-rate from 14 to 12.3 a thousand, and the infant death-rate from 69 to 70 a thousand, and referring to the strenuous campaign against cancer, tuberculosis, etc., Mr. Chamberlain went on to speak of the one thing that had been neglected. 'One figure,' he is quoted as saying, 'shows no improvement, though it concerns a vital subject—the figure of maternal mortality. It seems to me a terrible thing that this rate has remained unchanged for 20 years.'

"Following a general enquiry into the causes of maternal mortality, the Ministry of Health has decided that every case throughout the country is to be the subject of immediate investigation by the local officer of health. And to make sure of results, it has been decided, also, that a committee, similar to that now in charge of cancer research, shall be established, and will have to prepare reports which will come up for review every three months before another special committee."

MOONBEAMS.

Yonder where the leaves are dancing,
In the twilight hours,
There you'll find the moonbeams dancing,
Through the shaded bowers.
See how silver white they glitter,
Round the pine tree's stem,
Every flower, sweet and bitter,
Seems a living gem.

All along the, railway tracing,
With a gilded hand,
Turning, twisting, interlacing,
To a fairyland.
Soft and wonderful they make it,
All around they fall,
Why then must they soon forsake it,
At the night wind's call?

PEDIGREES OF CATTLE BREEDS

The Canadian national livestock record office has in 25 years registered 1,481,706 pedigrees of pure-bred livestock.

These were made up of 707,841 cattle, 120,155 horses, 102,992 sheep, 268,212 swine, 141,400 goats, 67,975 dogs, 4253 poultry and 1701 goats. During 1927 the records office handled 107,855 pedigrees, 72,955 transfers of ownership and $310,156.51 in fees.

Twenty-seven associations and societies of breeders whose organizations are incorporated under the livestock pedigree act operate through the Canadian National livestock records. The membership of these organizations totals 18,111 breeders, distributed over the nine provinces of Canada and nine other countries: Ontario, 5713; Manitoba, 1413; Saskatchewan, 2104; Alberta, 1845; British Columbia, 1028; Quebec, 2020; New Brunswick, 714; Nova Scotia, 731; Prince Edward Island, 1298; United States, 153; Great Britain, 8; Newfoundland, 1; Ireland, 1; Holland, 2; mane, 1; Germany, 1; Norway, 1; and Argentine, 1.

The twenty-seven associations embrace ten breeds of cattle—Aberdeen Angus, Ayrshire-Brown Swiss, French-Canadian, Galloway, Guernsey, Hereford, Jersey, Red Poll and Shorthorn; horses and ponies, Belgian, Clydesdale, French Coach, French-Canadian, hackney, Percheron, Shire, Standard Bred and Suffolk. Thoroughbred, Shetland, Welsh, Polo and Dartmore. In sheep there is one association for each, which covers all breeds.

During 1927 the records office issued certificates to pass 2130 animals through customs duty free, as they were pure bred and for the improvement of stock. These were from the United States, 1356; Great Britain, 814; New Zealand, 2; France, 31; Belgium, 14; and Newfoundland, 3. The total of 2130 included 953 cattle, 606 horses and ponies, 644 dogs, 9 goats, 328 sheep and 28 swine.

Organizations of breeders of pure bred livestock must have their constitutions and bylaws approved by the ministry of agriculture for the Dominion before incorporation can be secured under the livestock pedigree act, and last.

BOYS ON LONG TRIP

Two Canadian National Telegraph messengers reaching from Montreal to Toronto left Montreal on Sunday night and arrived in Belleville yesterday. They stopped at the local office and visited with the agent and messenger boys. The boys, Lapierre and Chiasson appeared to be enjoying their trip immensely.

HAVE ENGAGED COUNSEL

It was stated this morning that the three men alleged to be gunmen and "dope" in the County Jail here have engaged local counsel, known in the jargon of the underworld as "mouthpiece," but it is not known what lawyer has been retained.

There are no new angles to the case at present, but no doubt a lengthy record will be found against the trio.

LEFT ON VACATION

Mr. G. A. Weir, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, left yesterday for a two months' vacation. He went to Ottawa yesterday morning, but is expected to spend the remainder of his holidays in the north country.

WERE DISMISSED.

Yesterday ten guests at a local hotel were ordered to appear in police court on a charge of violating one of the city's by-laws, that of obstructing the city street cleaner by leaving their cars parked in front of the hotel all night. The charges were finally dismissed against the men, and all were much relieved.

MANY HERE FOR BALL GAME.

The ideal baseball weather today saw many people from the neighboring towns in the city for the games this afternoon between the Belleville Nationals and the Oshawa team. Wednesday is a half holiday in most of the County towns, and they took advantage of the opportunity to witness the double-header. Oshawa team was accompanied by a score of supporters. "Duke" Delaney and Matthews were slated to do the pitching for the visitors with Cheesbrough and Uttrodi doing the pitching for the Nats.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Coroner William Donohue this morning appeared in police court facing a charge of being drunk in a public place on June 20th last and was assessed the usual fine of $10 and $7 costs.

Mr. Donohue explained that he was charged with operating a car without a driver's license and was fined $10 and costs, which was paid.

Magistrate Mills was in Toronto today and so was not on the Bench, but Justices of the Peace John Elliott and John Herring relieved in his stead.

Arrangements were discussed for homemade cooking sale to take place this week.

PICTON FIELD DAY

Two members of the "Y" will take part in the Junior Farmers field day being staged at Picton this afternoon, A. Herrington and C. Barber. Barber, who won the 5000 metre event of the Forest Hill program last Saturday, is conceded an excellent chance of winning the all around championship at the Picton meet this afternoon.

EXPECT SIXTY BOYS AT MOIRA CAMP

The Belleville Boys Work Board has prevailed upon the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. to release Jos Sherrit the general secretary and Ralph Morden, the physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. in order that they can direct the Boys' Camp at Moira Lake. The Y's Men's Club and the different directors of the Board of the Y are supplying the necessary relief staff in order to allow these officials the privilege of being with the Belleville Camp. These men will have a good opportunity to study the boy life of Belleville as well as that of the county as several guides of boys will be in attendance from Tweed, Marmora, Trenton, Corbyville, Madoc, Stirling, etc. It looks as if this year's camp will have twice the number of boys it had last year.

ITALIAN PILOT AGAIN IN SEARCH OF NOBILE

King's Bay, June 30.—Major Maddalena, crack Italian pilot, took off for Point Rosenvinge at 6:04(2 a.m.) this morning on a second attempt to find the stranded party of General Umberto Nobile. Maddalena failed in reconnaissance of six hours' duration yesterday because the engines were not keyed to find them today as he had arranged for the Nobile party to attempt to communicate with him by wireless.

BOBBY JONES TURNED IN SPLENDID CARD

Chicago, Ills., June 30.—Bobby Jones turned in a 70 yesterday, one under perfect figures on the difficult Number Four links of the Olympia Fields Country Club where the United States open golf championship begins tomorrow.

Previously a 72 card turned in by Tommy Armour, the defending champion, had been the low score of the practice rounds.

ROOF OF HOUSE BADLY SCORCHED

When the fire department were called to 306 George Street today they found that a small barn was on fire which later burned down. They then proceeded to 275 John Street, where it was found that a false alarm had been turned in, and went back to the station. Fifteen minutes later the department was called for the second time to 275 John Street and this time the roof was found to be on fire. After a short struggle the flames were subdued. The house is owned by Mrs. McIntosh, and it is not known how the fire started.

MANY PLAN TO VISIT ROCHESTER

Interest Shown In Excursion Under Auspices of Argyll Band

Great interest is being manifested in the excursion to Rochester, N. Y. next Wednesday under the auspices of the Argyll Band. A special train will leave the grand junction at 7 a. m. and will proceed as far as Cobourg where the picnickers will board the Penetanguishene steamer for the day. A special orchestra has been engaged to furnish music both on the trip across the Lake as well as the return. Those who take this excellent opportunity of a trip on beautiful Lake Ontario will be afforded about five hours in which to visit and see the sights of Rochester which is known as one of the most picturesque cities in New York State. The Eastman Kodak works are one of the largest industries of its kind in the United States is located at Rochester.

Proceeds derived from the excursion will be used toward the band fund and every citizen in Belleville should do their worth of this organization as an advertising medium for the city. Many from the surrounding district who take in this excursion and arrangements are being made to pick up parties all along the Lake Shore route. Chas. Hands is General Chairman of the excursion program.

MINING MARKET STAGNANT TODAY

Little Or No Change of Prices Marked Slow Trading

Complete stagnation is about all that can be said of today's market. Practically every issue closed just where it opened, and the only beneficial sign, is that there seemed to be no rush of sellers. Closing quotations as supplied by Risser L. Gibson & Co., Ltd., per Jamieson Bone, were as follows:

MISS EARHART WAS CONFIDENT SUCCESS

Southampton, Eng., June 30.—Before leaving Burry Port this morning after a breakfast of bacon and eggs and toast and marmalade.

"I can't help feeling elated," she exclaimed, before she boarded the plane. "I propose the flight did require pluck and courage but all the credit is due to Bill Stults and Slim Gordon. They're the most wonderful fliers in the world.

"Without boasting I think I could say these two men are wonderful, and my old I seem in the slightest degree afraid. I felt cold and uncomfortable and would appreciate the chance to get the fuselage to get a little warmer. YANKEE MONEY IN VANCOUVER ISLAND

Victoria, B. C.—(C.P.)—Looking to the day when Victoria will be within thirteen hours of San Francisco by air and twenty hours from Los Angeles, a group of California millionaires have bought an island off Sidney, Vancouver Island, as the basis for summer homes.

The low cost of living here as compared with California is one of the major factors that persuaded the Californians to invest in this part of the country. The air route, it is declared, will be the means of making Vancouver and other islands a holiday ground for hundreds of wealthy United States citizens who otherwise would be unable to afford sufficient time to spend their vacations here.

When the air services are operating on regular schedule this summer it will be no easy for residents in the California cities to fly north to Britt Columbia for their holidays as it is now for them to take train or motor to the high Sierras.

Colonel W. N. Ponton tomorrow will attend the Benchers of the Law Society of Upper Canada at Osgoode Hall.

Mrs. Chas. Mott and son are visiting at Mrs. Mott's home in Prescott. Her sister, Mrs. Maitin has been ill for some time, but is said to be improving.

Mrs. A. E. Pollwell, of Elm Street, entertained a card evening last night, where she visited her son and friends. Miss Ida Pollwell accompanied her mother.

Mr. Fred C. Beaudry, Sporting Editor of the Kingston Whig-Standard and official scorer of the Central Ontario League was a caller at the Intelligencer office today. Mr. Beaudry was accompanied by Dekora, where the Kingston team played today.

LETTIE—SMALLHORN.

A pretty wedding took place at twelve o'clock noon on Tuesday, June 29th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smallhorn, Cobourg, when their eldest daughter, Edith Elizabeth was married to Mr. Harold Ira Lettie of Albion, N. Y., the Rev. Farnsworth officiating. The house was tastefully decorated in pink and white with many ferns and flowers. The bride was given away by her father, and entered the living room to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Myrtle Archibald, cousin of the bride. The bride's gown was of rose beige georgette over white trimmings and the Christ Orphelia rose and sweet pea and was attended by her sister, Elspeth Smallhorn, in a frock of powder blue georgette. Mr. Jack Smallhorn was best man.

Mrs. J. Smallhorn in a dress of black flat crepe with a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses, received the bride and groom after which a buffet lunch was served.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Lettie left on a motor trip through Western Ontario. The bride's travelling costume was a green ensemble with hat to match and brown shoes and stockings. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and will reside in Albion, N. Y.

SPRAGUE—WAY

On Saturday, June 26th, at ten o'clock at Ameliasburg Parsonage, Milford, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Way, Hillier, became the bride of Mr. Jay Sprague, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Sprague, Mountain View. Rev. Keogh performed the marriage ceremony and Mrs. Keogh had the rooms prettily decorated with June flowers for the occasion. The bride entered the parlor in a frock of pale pink georgette trimmed with ball-beads of brilliants, with bow to match and shoes and slippers. The bridesmaid, Miss Audrey Way, sister of the bride, wore pale green crepe de chine frock, and Mr. Norman Wallbridge assisted the groom. The bride travelled in a gown of dark blue tricotine with duvetyn coat and white hat. The happy couple left immediately afterwards by motor for a two weeks tour visiting Toronto, Niagara, Sydenham, Buffalo, Montreal and other places. On their return they will reside at Mountain View where they are both well known and have a host of friends.

MRS. ELIAS HOLMES HONORED BY FRIENDS

Mrs. Elias Holmes was the guest of honour Friday, June 18th when her family and friends gathered at her home, Ilmington, to celebrate with her, her eightieth birthday. At twelve o'clock the guests numbering forty sat down to a sumptuous dinner. During the afternoon games and a baseball match were enjoyed.

Although taken by surprise Mrs. Holmes was an entertaining hostess and was happy to have her family gathered around. All her family were present, including two great grandchildren, Miss Lois and Master Dick Groves. Mrs. Holmes was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and the party broke up after supper by singing "God Be With Us Till We Meet Again."

The guests included:

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmes and family; Mrs. Phillips, Evelyn, Brian Harry, Hazel and Nellie; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Taylor and Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Dolce Fen and Norma, Ilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brigham, Wind sor; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey and family; Mr. J. MENTAL ERRANCIES NOT ALL SERIOUS

There seems to be a general mis-conception as to what hallucinations and delusions really are. If someone is known to possess them they are promptly put down as mentally unbalanced.

This, however, is not necessarily true. An hallucination is a mistake of the senses—nothing more. If you think you see a clock on the mantel shelf, for instance, and there actually is no clock there—that's an hallucination of sight.

If you hear the ticking of a clock when there aren't any ticking, when your imagination has tricked you into hearing something that does not exist—that's an hallucination of hearing!

The same holds true of the other senses of taste, smell and touch.

Nothing bitter or sweet when what your taste is not actually bitter or sweet—being convinced that an odor is foul, or touching a thing and having it feel to you as quite different from what it ought to—all such things make you a sufferer from hallucinations.

A delusion is a mistake of judgment. If you believe you own a million dollars when you don't—that's a delusion! If you think people are following you and persecuting you—again when actually they are not—that's a delusion.

But whether such mistakes of the senses or of the judgment—whether hallucinations and delusions respectively, are the result of a derangement, is another matter.

If you have an hallucination of sight, and see a non-existent clock, but then verify it, find it is not so, your inconvenience ceases. Your solution—why, you've simply made an ordinary mistake, that's all. You have corrected your senses besides. Your hallucination is not insane.

If you have a delusion and you persecute you and an appeal is made to your reasoning, through which you correct your error of judgment— if then you cease to think you're hounded, why, here, again, your delusion is not insane.

Our senses and judgments often make mistakes!

Only if we persist in believing, after evidence is brought to bear that disapproves what we believe, are we in a dangerous way.

Besides, when dealing with insanity the delusions and hallucinations are numerous.

They are also very unusual and very far-fetched and absolutely out of accord with the individual's surroundings and past life.

People don't go insane so easily anyway! The mind is an tough mechanism after all.

But fear of insanity is very common, and most people believe that hallucinations or delusions mean insanity and nothing else.

Let us know what's what in any case.

Let us banish ignorance with knowledge.

That's about the best way to get rid of unwarranted fears.

FLY-TOX NECESSARY WARS ARE LESS FATAL THAN COMMON INSECTS

"Flies have caused more deaths than wars," says Major Ransom of the Montreal Department of the United States Army. "Since the fly came to the world it has been synonymous with epidemics of pestilence and disease." But with Fly-Tox it is a comparatively easy matter to rid the house of them—to keep it fresh and clean, free of insect taint. FLY-TOX is the scientific insecticide developed at McLaughlin Institute of Industrial Research at Niagara Falls, Ontario. Simple instructions for using ALL household insects on plain labeled bottles. A Smart Frock For The Modish Matron

Pun the benefit of those young mothers who have been making frocks for their mothers, the charming model above is suggested. It reflects rare good taste and is very flattering and youthful for the matron. The soft jabot falling from a V-neckline gives symmetry and balance to those whose hips are becoming a problem. The sleeves added to its straight skirt give a slenderizing effect and straight silhouette to the figure. Long, tight sleeves and tucks at the shoulders are features that add effectiveness to the whole costume. Made in voile, crepe or silk crepe, georgette or batiste of plain or small figured material, all the details in this model may be duplicated and any matron or daughter may be proud to suggest for mother's wear or for herself if she wishes to appear slimmer.

Advice to Girls By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and go to high school. My father says I am too young to go with the boys. I slip away once in a while to go to the movies to see a boy that I like. After the movies he takes me home. He has never asked me for a date. Do you think there is any harm in slipping away and not telling my parents know where I am going?

ANXIOUS.

DEAR ANXIOUS: I am afraid you are not going to like what I have to say to you. Anxious. Yes, you are doing something that you should not when you slip away to see some one of whom your parents do not approve. You are too young to go around too much with boys, and you should obey your father. He acts for your own best good, my dear and some day when you are older you can understand why he wanting to keep you a little girl for a while. Put your mind on your studies and there will be lots of time when you are older to have the good times you crave. I do not mean by this that you should not have any friends, so why not ask your father if you cannot invite some of the boys and girls to your home? I am sure he would agree to this, for he wants you to be happy. Best luck to you.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I know a young man just as an acquaintance. I went to a friend's home where I met him. He attends church and comes from a very good family. If a boy of his grade asks a girl to take tea with her she refuses and he repeats it three or four nights after in his own home and the girl refuses both times, how can a girl expect to hold his interest and show him she really likes him if she takes that attitude?

Would it also be wrong to write him first, taking into consideration that it is Leap Year?

ANXIOUSLY WAITING.

ANXIOUSLY WAITING: I'm going to answer your last question first, Leap Year or not, don't start a silly correspondence which may be the cause of a lot of unhappiness to you later on. If the young man's interest in you is such that it may be lost by your refusing a kiss, his friendship isn't worth having. You are both in school and probably too young to even think of anything very serious, so if I were you I'd put the whole thing out of my mind. Have you ever tried "laughing it off" when young men ask for kisses

CHAPTER 45.

DANGEROUS DAYS

The weeks that followed the arrival of Falconer, who insisted that she appear before the world as his wife, were a nightmare to Celia. Her insanity and circumstances were unequal to the utmost. She had to be always on guard, always watchful lest she make a slip.

Given gay, the dinner party that introduced Falconer to Gwen Larry Dare was one of the guests. She told Celia that she had sent him an invitation and Celia gasped at her daring. Given and slipped.

"I know it's risky. And a beastly unconventional thing to do. But I was never a coward, Celia. And listen—I reasoned it out like this: In the first place, if I sat hurry to meet your supposed husband, it will quell in the minds of everybody the last suspicion that there was ever any inkling of truth in that old scandal that involved you and him. In the second place, Larry is striving with all his might to make a comeback. Nobody has given him a hand. If I accept him socially seek him out, in fact—it puts him in a big way of regaining his old position in this town." She laughed bitterly. "There's going to that, my dear; all I'm good for is to put the stamp of social approval on pe..ple who bother to...

Moreover," she continued, "I'm a little selfish too in this. I want to see Larry. He'll never come to me of his own accord. But, even if he refuses my invitation, he'll have to pay his dinner call."

However, Larry came, looking hungry-eyed and pale and ready of food and clear of eyes. He was introduced to Falconer; it was an awkward moment for Celia, for she knew what to expect, and the latter was most genial to Larry. The town burned the next day after the dinner, but it could find no fault with the behavior of Celia's "husband" and the fact she had once precipitated her into a scandal.

During the days that followed Larry's eyes per...ere more than once. She knew that he still loved her. The pity and tenderness in them told her so. She knew that the only man in the world she loved [illegible]

After twenty days' invitations began to come thick and fast from all directions to "Mr. and Mrs. Richard Falconer". Falconer proved enormously popular. He was gay, clever and witty and splendid company. He joined several Clubs. He and Celia went everywhere. Every invitation, every introduction was like a knife thrust to Celia's conscience. She slowly awoke as nightly terrified at the thought of what she was doing—feeling upon her acquaintances a man who was not her husband and who probably was the worst type of adventurer. But she was helpless, under the circumstances, to do more than try to keep ever her like a whip. She shuddered to think of what might happen if he told the truth.

Revelation . . . denunciation . . . scandal . . . her mother's dark, perhaps!

Mrs. Dyer was enchanted with her new guest. She made herself so agreeable to Falconer, spent hours in the afternoon, entertaining her with stories of his adventures.

The doctor told Celia:

"Your mother's visit has been a wonderful thing for your mother. It is to be hoped that he remains here as long as possible."

When Celia recounted that to Gwen, the latter said dryly:

"Well, I'm glad some good result from unpleasant circumstances. But you're paying a heavy price, Celia. Do you realize that you're getting a position as haunted woman?"

"Wouldn't, you, too, if you lived in hourly dread of exposure."

Gwen shrugged.

"I'm beginning to think that the danger is not as acute now as we first imagined it to be," she said cryptically.

"What do you mean?"

But Gwen refused to explain, and went away with an inscrutable smile: Celia puzzled over her words, but not for long. She had too many other matters engaging attention.

There was Horace Vail, who was deliberately making a target of Celia's corner. Why? What on her hope to gain by such intimacy? Was it possible that he suspected something? Her secret in Vail's hands would mean disaster, indeed.

There was Tom Harrington, who pointedly shrieked himself from all the parties at which Celia and Falconer were invited. Celia noted that fact with mingled emotions. She ordered, with all her heart, to see Tom, but it was saved to know that he still cared so much for her that he couldn't meet the man whom he believed to be her husband.

There was, moreover, the matter of that door into Falconer's quarters. Celia never failed to look him in at night and take the key with her. She slept fitfully, always afraid that she might not wake in time to slip downstairs and unlock the door before one of the servants learned that it had been locked during the night.

Falconer would chuckle when she presented in the morning.

"Letting me out for my daily exercise, eh, Celia," he would say, as she opened the door. "Do you think you should buy me a leash, or a muzzle?"

Celia flushed and paled by turns. Her mother had had a bad night and she had remained with her. Celia knew that she was a sound sleeper. Her mother had had a bad night and she had remained with her. She had lied her hand in the panels.

ISN'T IT REASONABLE

In buying any commodity you naturally seek the utmost value for the least money. That's only common sense.

So in choosing your ice with a view to quality, cleanliness and absolute economy the matter is easily settled, for there is but one ice which fulfills all your requirements, and which will adequately protect the health of your family.

Isn't it reasonable, then, to choose that kind?

THE SOLUTION IS GRAHAM'S

for Cleanliness

Graham's ice is perfectly clean—that's all you buy—clean ice—not a lot of dirty sawdust thrown in with it. Graham's is clean and crystal clear.

for Purity

Made of the purest of water, also twice filtered, from day to day, Graham's ice carries no disease germs; you may safely use it in your drinking water, knowing that you're taking no chances, because it is really pure.

For Economy

Graham's ice is harder than other ice, lasts longer, hence is cheaper in the long run. So you get economy, as well as purity and cleanliness when you use Graham's Ice.

PAGAN FEASTS ON SAME DAYS

Were Incorporated With Christian Festivals Years Ago

Montreal, Que.—(C.P.) — Religious history exhibits many instances of pagan festivals incorporated with religious feast days, the practice doubtless being a tribute to the tact displayed by the early Church, in its conversions. Strangely enough, the national feast day of the French Canadians, a people young in comparison with other nations, celebrations are still distinguished, is a striking example of this linking of the pagan with the Christian. The celebrations with which the feast of St. Jean Baptiste is identified in the metropolis of French Canada, on June 23 and 24, indicate that a very ancient pagan rite evolved by primitive man—the lighting of bonfires with ceremony and song.

The eve of St. Jean Baptiste falls on Midsummer Day, the second anniversary of the death of Jacques Cartier, and on this day dedicated by Pagan peoples to the honoring of fire as a beneficient deity. So on that night thousands of Montrealers and visitors will congregate at the city's summit, Mount Royal, and in a torch-carrying volume of ragtag and, but sincere, harmony as the torch is applied to the huge pile of kindling wood.

There will be no speech-making, of course,—civic officials cannot yet slip such an opportunity for self-expression—but 25,000 people will gather to hear the choir of 200 trained voices, accompanied by a large orchestra, render the "Te Deum," a composition composed by a well-known French Canadian musician, Guilliaume Couture. This sacred composition draws its inspiration from the story of the patron saint of Old Quebec.

Then there will be the great procession, an event said to be honored and indeed the grand climax of the whole festival. Borne on, its way by the music of 25 bands, the saint in his brilliantly decked flocks, each a symbol of that tenacious faith which came into being on the shores of the St. Lawrence, will move from east to west across the city, there to be delighted eyes of the crowd which annually surrounds that dream together by any other event in the city's life.

The procession is to be haphazard affair, but a carefully planned one, for recent whose details are harmonized by expert directors. Each year a theme, closely related to the past or present life of French Canada, is selected and the floats designed to bring out this central idea.

The wedding rehearsal is regarded as indispensable in America, where society weddings are not unusually rehearsed three times.

BELLE THEATRE

Theatre patrons who will see Tom Mix in "The Arizona Wildcat," Fox Picture now playing at the Belle, will even star in a more and more daring actor than he has had put in his pictures before.

Mix has the role of Tom Phelan, owner of an Arizona ranch famous for its polo ponies, and in the opening sequences Tom rescues Dorothy Sebastian from the wreckage of a stage coach at the edge of a high water fall. She was in the coach when the horses ran away and wrecked the vehicle as a ford above the falls. The girl is pulled from the coach just as it topples over the brink of the fall. Tom's daring in the attempt Tom again saves the girl after she has attempted to ride an unbroken bronco. Tony takes seemingly impossible jumps. Tomorrow at the Belle.

REGENT THEATRE

Mary Miles Minter as high school life embodying all its activities and humorous incidents. Daily matinee prices 10 and 25c. Another delightful performance of her very short career in Fox Film "High Heels" at the Regent for three day showing at the Regent Theatre from today to Saturday.

HOPE TO BETTER THE SEED CROP

A peculiar interest is attached to the work of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association at the annual meeting at Quebec city from June 13 to 18, because on the work of its members depends the well-being of Canadian seed and Canadian grain largely depends. At this time, when well-informed men point to the rising danger of a deterioration in the quality of Canadian seed and grain crops, it is reassuring to learn from the directors of the association that they are working to further safe-guard the high quality of the seed grown from which quality of the seed grown from which quality of the seed grown from which

LEAGUE LEADING CARDINALS WON

Philadelphia Player Made Successive Home Runs Yesterday

New York, June 20.—The league leading Cardinals recovered yesterday from Monday's 14-inning disaster to swamp the Reds at Cincinnati, 12-3. Sunday, starting his first game this season, was plastered for 10 hits and seven runs in the six and one-third innings and the Cardinals then took a pair of Sabbatarian and contrary Edwards.

Holmberg started the action in the fourth with a home run and five batsmen in the next five runs in the fifth. Two singles and a double for a run in the opening of the sixth finish Donohue. Grimes.

Grover Cleveland Alexander was relieved by Sherdel in the seventh, when the Reds scored three runs. All of the Cardinals except Hafey and Sherdel had at least a pair of hits.

Walter Lerian's triple down the thirty base line with two on and one out in the ninth won the first game of yesterday's doubleheader for the Phillies over Brooklyn, 13-10. But the second contest was fained out at the start of the fourth with Philadelphia in the home team ahead 4-1. Jim Elliot, who pitched Phillies ahead with a home run in the last round of the opener, was the losing pitcher; having put two runners on base before Ray Kaney entered the box to retire to Lerian.

Leach, the Philadelphia, outfielder, made home runs on successive trips to the plate in the first and second, and Whitney cut in with another in the seventh with one on base, tying the score. These blows accounted for six runs.

KINGSTON GIRLS HERE FRIDAY EVE

Beavers Will Have Kiwanis Team As Latest Opponents

Softball fans will likely turn out in large numbers Friday evening when the Beavers clash with the Kiwanis Kingston team of city league. It is reported that the team sponsored by the Kingston Kiwanians boast of a real outfit and that they will do their best to down the locals. On the other hand the Beavers are out to establish a string of wins which now stands six wins out of eight games which is nice going considering that they do not play each opponents.

Mollie Gray, the fast repeater in the pitcher of the Beavers will likely start with Ms. Whalen catching. Ev. is just now rounding into shape and should go big. Pearl Tuttle whom work for the first year with the Beavers pitching and pitching is has been a real surprise, will cover 1st. L. Meisner 2nd. G. Knott's 3 and L. Gould 3rd. The outfield for this important game will be picked from Mooney Cook, Wartman and Keelcher, all good players and dependable hitters.

The Beavers claim a large majority have been very good in chipping in and mostly through their kindness have been able to carry on and have good games. Others have been still handing in the pickles or nothing at all. The girls are furnishing real sport as come on fans, you are good to sports too—make the collections a little heavier as the Club can have sufficient funds on hand to arrange further leagues without worrying to much about finances.

There is considerable work arranging games and when you chip in remember the home team have to pay for grounds, rental, umpires, new balls, advertising, perhaps calls and telegrams, all arranging games as well as amounts to visiting teams. Also the girls like a trip every once in a while and it costs money to travel. The girls are doing their share to advertise Belleville and this is an appeal from them to you.

ROYALS SUFFER ANOTHER DEFEAT

Rochester, June 20.—Unable to solve the clouted offerings of Jing Johnson, the Royals again fell before the Orioles yesterday afternoon, the Birds batting Bill Bailey hard in the early innings to win 8-3. Acting Manager Eddie Holley should have called Carl Thompson to hurl the game. Dunlap relieved Bailey and pitched from the fifth inning on, and in that period not a single Bird could make a hit or score a run.

Dunnagan was a complete puzzle to the Orioles. But Bailey was an open book. Hungry canonading in the first inning yielding four runs to Jack Dunn's men while an equal intensive bombardment in the third inning brought in a similar number of markers.

Reading, June 20.—After Parks was shelled from the hill on a rally of five runs, Reading cracked three Rochester pitchers for a 13-6 victory in the third game of the series here yesterday. Left Archbacher, rookie hurler, held the Red Wings to five hits after relieving Parks in the second.

RALLY WINS FOR LOCAL BEAVERS

Miss Generaux Drives Out Home Run With Bases Full

Belleville Beavers were four runs down going into the last inning of the game at the armories last evening with the Point Anne team but they scored seven runs and won the engagement by a score of 16-13. Overconfidence nearly defeated the blue-shirts and their playing in spots was decided by ragged especially in the earlier stages. The visitors showed the results of good coaching under the direction of Mr. McMorrison and will give a good account of themselves in a game with any team around these parts. Miss Generaux formerly second baseman with the Deserinto, May at Quinte League team was the heaviest batter for the Point Anne Club, pulling out a long home run with the bases full in the first inning. Marjory Mooney at the Beavers also drove out a home run but the cushions were unoccupied at the time. The recent lay-off did the Beavers little good as was indicated by their lethargic display.

Miss Tuttle started on the mound for the Beavers and she was not effective and was relieved by Molly Gray in the second. Evelyn Whalen did the catching. Miss Tuttle was hit hard and the Point Anne girls scored ten runs off her delivery. A fair crowd witnessed the game which was handled by Ken Colling and John Kerr.

The Beavers are preparing for the invasion of the Kiwanis Queen's of Kingston who will play here on Friday night. The Kingston girls are supported by the Kiwanis Club and have made a name for themselves in Kingston softball circles in the last two years.

SENATORS DIVIDE WITH RED SOX

New York, June 20.—The Boston Red Sox and the Senators yesterday divided a doubleheader at Washington. The Red Sox took the first game 5 to 1, but the Senators came back in the second for a 16-7 victory.

Russell was hit for ten safeties in the first game, but Washington got very little benefit from the blows. Boston clinched the game by four runs in the first three innings. The second game was a wild, free hitting affair. Washington also had an early lead and was never headed.

The Detroit at St. Louis game was called after the fourth inning by rain. The Tigers were leading 3-1. A double-header will be played tomorrow.

QUEEN VICTORIA GIRLS WON CUP

Prizes For Public School Sport Winners Are Distributed

On Monday evening on the Armouries Lawn Queen Alexandra girls brought in 16 runs in their first inning, enough to start them on an 18-7 eclipse of King George. This was in the semi-final round of the O.H.I. cup competition.

Last evening at the same venue, Queen Victoria girls accomplished a smart performance by defeating Queen Alexandra by 26-17 in the final, and thus winning this handsome cup for the first time in history. All the more credit is due to the Q.V.I. since their pitcher had left town and two untried recruits had to be used, namely Marion MacLean and Ruby Peppler. Q. A. S. had Helen Mackintosh in the box. The heavy hitters were Margaretta Hall up of Q. V. and Alice Knott, of Q.A.

The umpires were Messrs W. Grove and J. W. Irwin, to whom thanks are due.

Prizes Won

Ex-students, and parents of the present school generation, may be interested in the allocation of Sports Trophies during the year just closing, the result of the athletic activities of the stars of the future. There are two noteworthy features about the list: 1st, the revival of Queen, Mary after a period under a shadow; 2nd, the wide distribution of winners. Second and third in the last cases sweep by some one institution. The list is as follows:—

Harvey Cup for Soccer, won by Q.V. S. (Q. M. runner up).

Dog trophy Hockey, won by Q.V.I. (K.G. runner up).

March Cup for Cadet Drill, won by Q. M.S. (G.V. runner up).

Marsh Cup for Shooting, won by Q. M. S. (Q. A. runner up).

Merchants Cup for shooting won by Q. M. S. (G.V. runner up).

Harringer Cup for Boys' Baseball won by K. G. S. (G.M. runner up.

C.N.R. Cup for Girls' Baseball won by Q. V. S. (Q. A. runner up).

Board of Education Shield for singles won by Q. M. S.

BANTAM FINALS PLAYED SHORTLY

Flying Canadians Trounced Royals In Midget Series

By winning from the Beavers last night by the score of 11-6, a play-off of a previously tied game, the Golden Bantams qualified to meet the Dufferin's in the final series for the Bantam Cup championship honors. The Bantams won last night's game because they afforded their pitchers better support and were able to collect hits when they most needed same.

Thursday night the first of the play off games will take place between Bantams and the Cardinals at the diamond of the former. Capt. Major School grounds.

Flying Canadians got away to a flying start in the Midget Series finals when they handed the Royals a 12 to 4 beating. The return game will be played at the Pine St. School grounds on Thursday night. Manager Wilson with their backs against the wall, are calling for help to bring things normal for the Canadians and should the Royals succeed in evening up the series, a six inch death fixture will have to be played.

West Hill Polanders and Maple Leafs were the winners of the two scheduled fixtures in the Juvenile Series. The Polanders took a close one from Park Stukhs by the count of 9 to 8 and the Leafs were all but swamped with runs manufactured by the Maple Leafs. The latter garnered in 23 counters while the Ravens were getting 413.

Thursday's games in this series are Wolves at Sikhs, Ravens at West Hill Founders.

BOTTLING PLANT IN FULL SWING

Five Hundred Cases of Soft Drinks Distributed Each Day

A local industry which has forged to the front on its own merits and by dint of hard work on the part of the owner and manager, is the Pop and Fresh Bottling Works, owned by Bruce Bottoms. For the past sixteen years Mr. Bottom has been in the bottling business and has had his own plant for the last ten of these years. He started in as a boy with Mr. Foy and learned the trade from the ground up, but when he had enough experience to run a business of his own, he bought Mr. Foy out.

When he started to run his own plant, Mr. Bottom had two helpers, a man and a boy, and most of the work was done by hand. Recently it was found necessary to instal another semi-automatic capper, to keep up with the orders which were coming in. Right now Mr. Boy on the pay-roll, and three trucks carry the several different lines of soft drinks as far as Madoc. The full capacity output of the plant is five hundred cases a day, or 12,500 bottles. Everything is extremely sanitary in the bottling of the drinks, all the bottles going through a bath where they are scorched before they are used again.

5 MILLIONS OF THEM INVESTORS

Women Play Big Part On Markets of Modern Day

New York, N.Y.—The estimate that there are 5,000,000 women investors in the United States who have accounts with brokerage firms has been one of the cyclone to say it is the end of the bull market.

Another such fact is only a minor by-product of the increasing power of American women, according to a publication by Babbacher, Granger & Co. The feminine half of the population learned the lesson of the Liberty loan campaigns, and out of 20,000,000 investors in the country now it is estimated one-quarter of them are women.

"In many of the soundest and largest of American corporations today there are more women than men stockholders, surprising as that may seem," the review says. "It is true of the American Telephone and Telegraph, of the Pennsylvania Railroad and many other companies. Women own more than 41,000,000 shares of A. T. and T., with a market value of more than $800,000,000.

"They comprise 39 per cent of the stockholders of the Union Pacific, owning stock with a value in excess of $114,000,000. Nearly half the stockholders of Southern Pacific are women. The 8,600 women who own 300,000 shares of Southern Railway have securities worth about $26,000,000, while their ownership in Chicago & North western is nearly as large. English, French, Canadian, Dutch and American women are the most numerous holders of Canadian Pacific."

COTY FIGHTING 'PAPER TRUST'

Famous Perfumer Sells His Edition Cheaper Than Do Others

Paris.—Newsboys and newsgirls who disappeared with the war are back on the streets of Paris, helping Francis Coty, the multimillionaire perfume maker, fight "the newspaper trust" by selling a new newspaper for less than any other.

His rival publishers say that it will cost him seventy to a hundred million francs a year, but Coty says it will not, and anyway he has the money. He has named the paper "L'Ami du Peuple" (The Friend of the People), after Marat's celebrated revolutionary publication. Coty made several hundred million francs during the war furnishing chemicals for explosives and is making a good many millions more out of his perfumes. He bought the aristocratic old Figaro, but launched the new paper for big circulation among ordinary people. It sells for two-fifths of a cent, and competing newspapers sell for a cent.

The big corporation, controlled by them, which distributes the periodicals throughout France, boycotted the new paper. Coty, thereupon, plastered the walls of Paris, calling on the people to help him break what he calls "the great newspaper monopoly." He says he is approaching his goal of 200,000 circulation, selling through the retired agents of newsboys and newsgirls who are usually middle aged men and women. As the kiosks can't get the principal newspapers if they sell "L' Ami du Peuple", Coty continues to pay vendors.

The combined opposition replied to Coty's posters display with a manifesto insinuating that "L 'Ami du Peuple" must be financed from abroad by interests who want to influence French public opinion.

DISCOVERY "BIOS" BY PROF. MILLER

Winnipeg, Man.,—(Canadian Press)—When the Royal Society was in conclave here a noted achievement in research work, the discovery of "Bios," by Prof. Miller of the University of Toronto, was made known in a paper read by Miss E. Hazlett, a graduate in chemistry at the University of Toronto in 1918, who has been one of his principal assistants carrying out the work.

For the past five years a succession of workers has been engaged upon this research at the University. In 1922 M. D. Kinnaird and E. M. S. Sperling helped in important steps, Miss E. Tayler, at this time, was also working with Miss Hazlett.

Discussing the possibilities that may result from the discovery, a well-known chemist of Toronto hinted that the finding that Bios I is inositc may cause a revision of the whole theory of diet from the vitamin standpoint. While it has been proved by Prof. Miller that Bios is not a vitamin and does not have the remarkable effect of certain vitamins in the curing of scurvy and other results of mal-nutrition, still it is definitely proved that Bios is essential to all plant growth and reproduction.

NEW CAR WILL MAKE ITS BOW

Plymouth, Latest Addition To Vast Automobile Industry

Detroit, June 20.—The trend toward naming new cars after well-known figures and occurrences in history was accentuated by announcement here yesterday that a brand new car, soon to make its bow to the public, is to be called the Plymouth and will be manufactured in Canada.

According to the announcement the car has been under construction for some time, the formal decision as to its name was not determined until a few days ago.

No information as to what company is to build it, its price, size or other details could be obtained. Speaking for 24 said the name Plymouth was chosen because the car "so accurately typifies the romance and strength, the rugged honesty, enterprise, the determination of achievement and the freedom from the limitations of the Pilgrim land which were the first American colonists."

THEY WEREN'T WED HAPPILY ALWAYS

Victoria, B. C.—(C.P.)— When King John ruled Old England divorce may have been unknown, but married couples were not always happy. In fact, those who were happy must have been in the minority for when Sir Robert de Fitzwalter instituted a ceremony whereby a flitch of bacon would be presented to each couple that was able to prove a year and a day of complete marital harmony only a few couples applied, and in later years the average was only one couple per century. The ceremony lapsed from disuse, but now the farming community of Metchosin, near here, has revived it and in a few days ago two couples who testified to living happily together for more than a year were presented with flitches of bacon. It is proposed to make the ceremony an annual event.

"In this way," said Stuart Yates, grand pkyor, "we will provide an additional inducement for married people to live harmoniously together. British Columbia now leads Canada in the number of divorces granted. Perhaps the flitch of bacon will help to reduce that number to something nearer a reasonable proportion."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl seventeen years of age and have never yet kept steady company with a fellow, but I have been out with quite a number of different ones. Most of them have kissed me.

I do not know whether a girl should kiss a young man or not. Please give me your advice on this question.

BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: There are certain liberties one does not permit the casual friend, Miss Blue Eyes—and kissing is not the least of them. When you are in love and engaged to be married, then you may make demonstration of your love. But you don't want to cheapen this beautiful thing, my dear—so withhold your affection for that happy time when the man you love says "I love you."

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and have been going with a boy for nearly two years.

We thought a lot of each other, but not quite a week ago we quarreled over a silly misunderstanding. I realize now it was my fault and I am very lonesome and wish to regain his friendship. Please tell me what I should do?

MARY.

MARY: Since you are in the wrong in your quarrel, it would be graceful of you to write to your friend admitting it, and asking his pardon. I am sure that the quarrel will be easily patched up. Good luck to you, Mary.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and have been very fortunate with the boys until about a week ago.

I had been going with a boy for about a week and, he insisted on taking me for a ride in his car. I didn't know whether I should say yes or not, but finally consented.

He acted in a most ungentlemanly manner, but I told him if he didn't act like a gentleman I would walk. He began to act very nice, and apologized for the way he acted. Then he took me home.

It has been just about two weeks since I heard from him, until last night. I met him at a dance and he insists on coming to see me. His didn't act like the same boy, so nice and refined. What do you suggest

IN SUSPENSE.

IN SUSPENSE: I would say that this young man has shown you that he is sorry for his actions and that you should be willing to give him another chance, Suspense. We are none of us perfect, you know, and if he is sincerely sorry, as his apology and subsequent actions indicate, it is possible that a very firm friendship may be formed.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

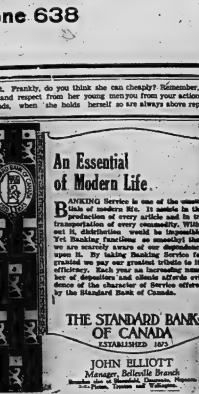

Will you please give me your opinion of a girl who would sit on any boy's lap?

Several girls have argued with me on this question and I would like to know what your opinion is.

C. B.

C. B.: This is a most undignified and most unwise action, C. B., and the girl who has any respect for herself would do it. Frankly, do you think she can cheaply? Remember, young men judge demand respect from her young men from your actions, as men that they friends, when she holds herself so are always above reproach.

WHY NERVOUS CHILDREN NEED SPECIAL CARE

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH

Eminent Psychologist.

The child who is nervous is a special problem. He requires considerable care and special guidance.

Nervous children are different. They possess mental and emotional make-ups that may be assets or liabilities, depending entirely upon how intelligently they are handled.

Children show nervousness in many ways. They may sleep poorly. They cry out and scream during sleep. They twist and turn and suffer from sleep starts. Sometimes they walk in their sleep.

They are children who sleep soundly but during the day display unmistakable signs of nervousness by their restlessness, irritability, crying spells, and the frequent and quick shifting of attention from one kind of play to another.

Often these nervous states are caused by some physical condition affecting the nervous system. Eyestrain may be responsible for nervousness. In such cases it is remarkable how quickly children improve when fitted with a proper pair of glasses.

Adenoids and diseased tonsils are frequent causes for nervousness.

Poorly prepared food, or spicy and "made over" dishes can make children high-strung and peevish.

Too much scolding and nagging, poorly ventilated sleeping rooms, too much clothing, too little play—all of these and many other unscientific ways of living may cause nervousness.

Then there are cases where there is no physical, mental or environmental cause for the nervousness.

Under such circumstances one should think of purely psychological causes such as fright, worry, etc. Nervous children tend to see, hear and worry than they can produce and that is primarily where the danger lies. Every care should therefore be taken to make their lives as quiet and natural and agreeable as possible.

Competitive games are not good for nervous children. Anything that excites should be avoided. Books and movies picturing fear are highly emotional should not be indulged in.

And above all else, such children should not be forced and pushed ahead in school.

Keep nervous children in the open air as much as possible. Try to break the day with a nap in the afternoon.

Nervousness may be an asset, because it usually indicates intelligence and alertness of mind. An unstable nervous system not infrequently goes with precocity.

The dynamic nerve force of the nervous child is likely to be greater than average. It must be understood and harnessed to get best results.

Shunt this power into the right direction and a decidedly superior individual results.

Nervousness in children can be controlled if you make a careful study of the condition and consequently learn how.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

A strikingly interesting development in fashions appeared when the Bias roof opened in New York for the season with its usual brilliance, was the adoption of day-time colorin evening dresses of tulle and satin, including brown, various shades of beige and blue.

Biarritz reports that the long-coat suit is undoubtedly both the smartest and the most popular costume there at present, confirming it to be so Paris, and it has a shirt and coat of the same material, with sweater jumper.

New York editor remarks: "She's tired of it all, thinks everything there own way nowadays should consider the high cost of living, fine women dying in New Jersey, who take daiquiris for radium poisoning and accept, even get, a court decree to determine whether they may sue, until next September—when all five may be dead."

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Table linen should be ironed on the wrong side first and then on the right side. It is the only way a satisfactory finished gloss can be obtained at home.

Avoid storing tomatoes or cucumbers in your icebox, where they may get frosted, as these vegetables are very susceptible in frost injury. Keep cherries, apricots and berries in a cool place, but keep them as dry as possible. Fresh fish should be kept as cold as possible, a good plan being to pack them on a platter of cracked ice.

Keep the can opener and cork-screw in a handy place. Then you will not be tempted to the a knife in place of these articles and receive a nasty cut by doing so.

LIKE AN ARABIAN NIGHT'S ADVENTURE

Have you ever wished to see with your own eyes the deserted village, snow-topped mountains, rugged pathways that lead picturesque souls from the heart of forest lands up to rocky, misty heights?

All this is part of the magnificent panorama of mountain, glacier and racing stream that you can see and enjoy as you travel through Canada's Pacific Coast and to Alaska.

On the way there you can stop off at Jasper National Park—see the wonders of this greatest of Canadian playgrounds.

Then leave civilization behind for a day or two as you pass through ranges of mighty glacier-clad mountains. Taste again the joy of city life at beautiful Vancouver and Victoria. Then take the fascinating trip through the scenic seas of the North Pacific Coast to Alaska—the land of the Midnight Sun.

Low tourist fares are now in effect. The complete cost of the trip is surprisingly low—well within reach of the average person. This way you really see the West.

Ask any Canadian National Railways Agent for full information and literature on these tours. He will be glad to assist you to plan your itinerary. 111ad3t

CHAPTER #1

THE POLICY OF HATCHFULNESS

Celia said sharply to Miss Page: "What are you doing here?"

"I came to call Mr. Falconer to breakfast," cooed Miss Page. "I've been waiting half an hour. Cook says the bacon will be ruined."

"Cook can prepare some fresh bacon," Celia answered crisply. She was trying to hide the fury in the fall of her alarm. She was large and heavy and old-fashioned. She prayed that Miss Page's sharp eyes had not discerned it.

"I guess Mr. Falconer must be oversleeping," the woman said sweetly, as she turned away. "I knocked several times, but he doesn't answer."

Celia waited until Miss Page had disappeared, before opening the door. Falconer was standing by the window. He said:

"I say, Celia, this business is dangerous. Some one's been knocking here for about ten minutes, and I didn't dare answer. You had better start your domestic staff talking, Sis—you're on duty—late anyway," was Celia's weary answer.

"You know you needn't be afraid of me, as I've told you before," he said impatiently. "I'm really as harmless as a lamb."

"A lamb in wolf's clothing," she flash ed back at him angrily.

He whistled softly.

"A trifle cross, this morning, eh, my dear?"

"I was up with Mother half the night. She wasn't so well."

"Too bad. Why didn't you call me? My presence would probably have buck ed her up tremendously."

She flung him a look of disgust.

"How contemptible you can be!"

"And how sweet you can be—when you want to," was the bland reply. "Celia," do you know I've never wish ed I had been I, and not my poor uncle, whom you married."

She left him abruptly and went up to her mother, pressing him to breakfast alone. But, when the pantomiry which sounded, she was in the downstairs hall again, to forestall Miss Page, who hovered in the offing.

Another of her worries was due to the fact that Annsley's letters continued to come faithfully. Since her failure to reach him before he left for Alaska, she had been forced to a new watchfulness. Always she must be the one to receive the mail from the postman and take out the letter purporting to come from an absent husband.

She had thought of writing to Annsley's secretary, requesting her not to forward letters that arrived from Alaska. But that entailed more intrigue, and also necessitated explanations, since Annsley knew his secretary and her friend. So she resigned herself to a policy of watchfulness that became increasingly difficult each day, in view of Miss Page's evident determination to receive the mail each morning. Once Celia said to her coldly:

"You have so many duties with my mother, Miss Page, that it is not at all necessary for you to take or work that really belongs to the servants."

Miss Page responded sweetly: "Dear Mrs. Falconer, I have a fiance who writes me every day. I can hardly wait until the postman comes. You know how it is, Mrs. Falcon, you're in love. And Anna is frightfully careless about the mail. She leaves it for hours on the hall table."

On this particular morning, Celia took the letters from the postman, expected the envelope addressed in Annsley's hand, and hurried up to her room. She opened it, hoping to find a note from him, but it contained only blank sheets of paper. She thrust it into a cupboard, there resided all her other communications from him, and turned the key. Then she hid the key in a safe place. Some day, when the household was busy elsewhere, she would carry the bundle to the basement and turn it in the furnace.

When she went back to her mother's room, Falconer was sitting beside the bed, reading aloud to the invalid, who was looking quite bright and cheery, for all her bad night.

"Isn't he charming, Celia?" she said. "He's really too kind to his poor old mother-in-law, sitting cooped up here on such a glorious day. And, Richard, I've been thinking—I'm a selfish old woman to make you stay here, away from your business and your pleasures in New York. It must be deadly for you in this little town. Would you like to go away "

Mrs. Drew's voice was cheery, but her eyes were wistful and pleading.

Celia trembled. Was Mark a moment of wild hope. Did this mean her release?

But Falconer answered, with an easy laugh: "What an idea, Mother Drew! Go away and leave you, when you're still ill? I should say not! My affairs will keep. I've earned a holiday. And I'm ready enough to live with your little town."

Cold eyes strayed to Celia. She felt their malicious challenge. Not until he has ready to depart was there any hope of getting rid of young Falconer!

Mrs. Drew smiled delightedly.

"My son! How happy you make me. I didn't want to be selfish, but, oh, how I hoped you'd say that!"

He patted her hand.

"Of course, Mother Drew, I can't claim that my staying on is all for you. It won't be a hypocrite. There's another reason, and it's sitting here now, with its pretty chin propped in one hand and its lovely eyes looking pensively out of the window, not giving me a thought...."

He rose and walked toward her, put a hand under her chin and lifted it. She gasped, her eyes doubled him, but his wavs mocking, triumphant. He knew he had her fairly caught, there in her mother's presence.

He bent over, and, with a sense of utter revulsion, she felt his laughing lips brush hers.

She sprang to her feet, flaming with indignation, discretion, for the moment, forgotten.

Terrible Eczema Goes Quickly

Strong, Powerful Yet Safe, Sure geon's Prescription Called Moone's Emerald Oil Has Astonished Physicians

Here is a surgeon's wonderful prescription now dispensed by pharmacists at trifling cost, that will do more towards helping you get rid of unsightly spots, and skin diseases than anything you've ever used.

In skin diseases its action is little less than marvelous. The itching of eczema is instantly stopped; the irritation dries up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of barber's itch, anal rheum and other irritating and unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of the ailments noted above is next to impossible. Boyle's Drug Store can supply you at any time.

CANADA'S SONG CAUSED TROUBLE

Edmonds, B. C.—(CP)—The municipal school board was asked to resign, the principal of the local high school was threatened with dismissal and the neighborhood was treated recently to several days of heated discussion as a result of a dispute as to which verse of "O Canada" the pupils of the schools should be taught to sing.

Most of the bitterness has disappeared now. The school board is still in office, and so is the principal of the high school. But the dispute has not yet been settled, as exemplified by a mutual free-for-all which took place at the annual banquet of the high school when both Buchan and their version of Canada's national anthem were sung simultaneously by their respective adherents.

Chairman Herbert Stanley decreed that the Buchan version must be sung at the banquet and when he encountered opposition refused to preside. Trustee A. G. Grant acted as chairman.

"I don't care which version you folks sing," said Trustee Grant in opening the banquet. "Let's have harmony at any price."

The banqueters proceeded forthwith to sing both versions at the same time, but everyone was happy and harmony, after a fashion, was restored.

ROYAL AERO CLUB FETES EARLY FLIER

The Royal Aero club has decided to give a banquet to A. V. Roe, famous British pilot and aircraft manufacturer, to commemorate the 21st anniversary of his first flight.

Roe was the first Englishman to fly, and his flight, in 1907 was the first ever made in the British Isles. It took place at Brooklands, and his machine was a biplane driven by a 7 horsepower motorcycle engine.

As a result of this feat, Roe was requested by the authorities to leave Brooklands, as nothing but danger could be seen in his further experiments.

Roe's afterwards successful flights in foreign countries and the crossing of the Channel by Blerlot confirmed the world that there was something in aviation, and Roe returned to Brooklands, where he started one of the first and most successful flying schools in the country.

Since the war, the firm of A. V. Roe & Co. has been one of the leading aircraft concerns in the world and among its successes have been the 1,000 h.p. Avro-Raiper, the first machine in the world with a 1,500 horsepower engine.

Says Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

Rev. Dempsey, Lisbon, Ont. Is and Even the Crankiest Cases

Yes; it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to insure up-that stiff, rusty knee joint is to oil down the inch of muscle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and dis appears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your rheumatic knee joint will free its "creaks" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried this new discovery, "You'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk brisk ly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease: They call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or relieve the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that knee, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smooth ly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

PREACHER ALSO RUNS TAXICAB

Mingles With Life To Get Material For His Sermons

New York, N.Y.—(By the Canadian Press)—Spending only fair to Thomas H. Whelsley, formerly of Halifax and the Canadian army, and now the minister of the Chelsea Presbyterian Church on Downtown New York, that the sermons he preached should be based on his own discoveries in New York life, rather than, on the more easily obtained evidence of second-hand reports. Mr. Whelsley obtained a taxicab license and cab, and nightly he mingles with the traffic while successive opportunities for insight and experience come to him.

The 31 year-old preacher-taximan, who went overseas with the Dalhousie Medical Unit and later joined the 87th Battalion, (Canadian Grenadier Guards) as a lieutenant in France, has been only recently driving his cab but intends to keep at the job every night until he "has a pretty good slant on New York in general." Already he has learned the courtesy and gracious ness are not always incident to wealth, discounting the biggest tips come from a chorus girl and a banker gives a dollar on a ninety-five cent fare and says "keep the change."

"I wouldn't take double fare for any of the experiences I've had since I started cabbing," says Mr. Whelsley "and I've heard of not an intelligent insight into life in the city unless you actually live it, and that of us live in a pretty limit ed sphere. After this I'm going to know whereof I speak."

"Driving around at night I gain a wonderful insight into the so-called vivid life supposed to exist and to present the scene of depravity of which I have been told."

Mr. Whelsley's motive in forsaking the pulpit for the streets of New York is a purely personal one.

"I'm not trying to reform anyone or to look for horrible examples from which to write sermons," he asserts, "I wouldn't have to drive a cab to do that."

Mr. Whelsley came to New York from Halifax about two years ago. He is a son of Mrs. Richard H. Whelsley.

This is the season when vacation and vacation begin their annual game of tag.

N. W. TERRITORY TO BE SURVEYED

1928 Season Will Be Busy One "North of Sixty

Ottawa, Ont.—(C.P.)— The 1928 summer season will be one of great activity in the Northwest territories of Canada. In the vast regions "north of sixty" administered by the Department of the Interior exploratory and investigatory surveys will be carried on by officials of the North West Territories and Yukon Branch, and the annual patrol will be made by the S. S. Beothic. The members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police stationed in the North will carry on overland patrols in their work of maintaining law and order.

Preparations are now under way in the North West Territories and Yukon Branch for the annual trip of the S. S. Beothic to the police posts in the Arctic archipelago. The ship will sail from North Sydney, Nova Scotia, on July 18. It is expected that the ports of call during the northward trip will be Godhaven, Greenland; Pond Inlet, Baffin Island; Dundas Harbor, Devon Island and Craig Harbor and Bache Peninsula, Ellesmere Island. The return trip from Bache Peninsula, the farthest north post, will begin somewhere during the first week in August. The ship will again touch at Craig Harbor, Dundas Harbor, and Pond Inlet and the move on to Pangnirtung and Lake Harbor, Baffin Island. Circumstances will determine whether or not the expedition will sail to points in Hudson Strait farther east than Lake Harbor.

George P. Mackenzie will again be the officer in charge. Dr. Livingstone will go north this year to Pangnirtung where he will remain for a year carrying out medical patrols among the natives on Baffin Island.

In the districts of Mackenzie and Keewatin many important investigations will be conducted. Major L. T. Burwash, exploratory engineer of the North West Territories and Yukon Branch, leaves Ottawa early in June for Edmonton en route to Aklavik in the mouth of the Mackenzie River. From the latter point he will begin his patrol eastward along the Arctic coast. The principal investigation to be carried on by Major Burwash will be a further search around King William Island for record and relics of Sir John Franklin's ill-fated expedition of 1845; a survey of navigation conditions in Franklin's Strait and Peel Sound; an examination of a proposed tractor train route from Wager Bay on the west coast of Hudson bay to Cockburn Bay south of King William Island and a visit to the magnetic pole on Boothia peninsula. It is expected that Major Burwash will complete his work in the autumn of 1929.

A patrol of the musk-ox sanctuary lying on the Hudson and Thelon rivers of Great Slave Lake was undertaken early in the year and this work will be continued during the summer. H. B. Hoare left Ottawa in January for Edmonton. From that city he travelled by train to the end of steel at Waterways, where he began an 800-mile journey by dog team to his base camp on the site of Fort Reliance, at the east end of Great Slave Lake and about 25 miles southwest of the watermost corner of the 18,000 square mile game sanctuary. He is accompanied by a warden from Fort Smith and his investigations will not be completed until the summer or fall of 1928.

The Canadian National Exhibition waterfront is 1 1-2 miles long.

CAUCHON IDEA TOWN PLANNING

It Has Been Adopted The Wide World Over

Ottawa, Ont.—(By the Canadian Press)—The Citizen publishes the following editorial:

"Three years ago, Noulan Cauchon of Ottawa presented to the world in general and to town planners in particular his scheme for the adoption of the hexagon as a substitute for the rectangle as a basis for laying out streets. Since then, the Cauchon idea has spread around the world, and with interesting results.

"Two years ago, Laurence Veiller, secretary of the National Housing Commission of the United States, writing in 'Housing Betterment,' declared that the Cauchon idea was 'the greatest contribution to twenty years to the science of town planning; it will revolutionize future urban development.' Soon hexagonal planning was the talk of the town planners of the country. It was similarly received in Germany, where one famous architect and garden city designer claimed it to be the solution of a vital problem.

"In England, too, it was studied and acclaimed. And now it has been applied to town planning in the city of Manchester.' In a report to the Wythenshawe Committee of the Manchester Corporation, Barry Parker, R.R.I. A., vice-president of the British Town Planning Institute, and designer with Raymond Unwin of Letchworth, England's first garden city, recommends the adoption of the Cauchon hexagon planning system to areas to be developed by that city.

"In recommending the hexagonal plan, Mr. Parker says that it is the most economical, the most efficient and the safest of any yet devised for laying out streets. It means a saving of 10 per cent. in development charges and corresponding gains in every other direction, mainly because it incurs without sacrificing a single amenity number of houses for which the lengths of roads and services are He has applied the Cauchon scheme the planning of areas in Manchester which will largely be devoted to the ception of houses for the working How was the hexagon idea received Canada? Outside of a few obscurthusiasts, the reception given was lethal and government authorities an enthusiastic silence'.

RELIEF PLANES OFF FOR CAMP

Noble Issues Further Instructions To Rescue Parties

PARTY DISAPPEARS

French Minstry Orders Cruiser Strasbourg To Spitzbergen

Stockholm, Sweden, June 21.—The Swedish relief expedition consisting of four planes, one of which is equipped with landing wheels, will fly in a southern today for the camp of General Umberto Nobile on the ice north of Spitsbergen. If it is possible a machine equipped with wheels will land on the ice.

Kings Bay, June 21.—Cheered by 400 pounds of provisions dropped yesterday upon his camp off North East Land by Major Mathiesen, Umberto Nobile today sent further radio directions for the rescue of his stranded party.

Nobile, in a wireless communication with the base ship Citta Di Milano, gave instructions about what further procedure is to be followed in rescuing his party and gave details as to what were conditions on ice where he is stranded.

London, June 21.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen says Major Maddalena, who dropped provisions to General Nobile and his party yesterday, intends to make an attempt to rescue them from the polar ice with his plane today.

A despatch says that anxiety over Roald Amundsen and his five companions who set out by seaplane to aid in the rescue went and disappeared, was unfounded.

It was possible that relief expeditions will be sent out to search for them.

Paris, June 21.—The French ministry of marine had ordered cruiser Strasbourg and destroyer Boot Quentin Roosevelt to go to Spitsbergen immediately to help in search for Roald Amundsen now missing in French relief plane piloted by Capt. Rene Chilliard.

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF IS FREED

Agreed To Buy Animal But Hadn't The Necessary

Robert Kinney appeared before Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning, charged with the theft of a horse, the property of Mr. Elney Ives, which was considered serious. Mr. Elney lives in Tyendinaga and the complainant in the case was Mr. C. McDonald, it is stated, offered to sell Elney the horse for $250 and took a dollar down to clinch the agreement, with the understanding that Elney would bring him the remainder next day. The following day however Elney had sold it and when he offered it to McDonald it was spurned. A few days later Elney quietly took the horse to the farm where it was pastured.

Charge was dismissed against the accused by Magistrate Mikel stated that he did colour of right.

REGRET REFLECTION ON LOCAL COUNSEL

The Daily Intelligencer regrets the publication in its issue of June 19th of an article under the heading "Local Counsel Engaged", in which it is stated that a local counsel was to defend three men arrested and charged with carrying offensive weapons and that counsel for the bargon of the underworld are known as "mouthpieces." This article was written by Kenneth Weir, a reporter on the Intelligencer and inserted without revision by the editor.

The Intelligencer regrets the use of such language to indicate the member of the legal profession as it is not the policy of this newspaper to employ such phrases in its articles and apologizes for any possible reflection on the counsel handling this case.

MONEY RATES FORM RESISTANCE TO AN UPWARD PRICE MOVEMENT

American Car And Lima Locomotive Stock At Rock Bottom

New York, N.Y., June 21.—Frequent shifts of the speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market with the general tendency lower. Stocks rallied one to four points at the opening, but their gains and in many cases recorded substantial recession in the midday reaction and then started upward in the early afternoon. Plenty of stock was for sale on rallies.

Mid lenger improved the chief resistence to the resumption of upward movement of prices. Call money entered at 6 1-2 per cent and a firmer undertone was apparent for other accommodations as the banks called loans and strengthened their reserves in preparation for bank calls and mid year settlements.

Trading in today's market was on an extremely small scale, compared with the recent sessions, the total sales 11 per cent less than those of Monday's 900,000 shares. Renewed selling of the railroad equipment shares based on poor current business and unfavorable dividend rumors, sent the American locomotive issues to new low and Fonnery and Lima locomotive to their lowest prices in years. The losses running as high as seven points. A brisk recovery took place on the publication of a state ment by President Woodin, of the American Locomotive Company that no reduction in dividend was contemplated.

MRS. GEO. RENNIE SUSTAINED INJURIES

An accident that might have resulted in more serious consequences occurred on Tuesday when Mrs. George Rennie, 8 Cedar Street, fell down an auto stairway at her home, and was severely bruised.

Today the Intelligencer learned that the injured woman was resting easily, and was slowly recovering. Mrs. Rennie is recuperating at her own home.

DAMPNESS CHASES SMILES WHILE GLOOM THRIVES

Mr. Freeborn, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, advertised here as the Mysterious Mr. Free, dispenser of smiles and laughter, has found it no laughing matter. Yesterday, however, Mr. Freeborn, anything but gloom for the next few days, for though he has not departed from the city, he has been temporarily put on the retired list and his address is the Belleville Hospital.

Mr. Free, although always keeping a brave front in his public, like all great men, had a secret sorrow. When a youth, he had had the misfortune to contract a bad case of blood poison and his doctors had always warned him to keep away from dampness, if this were not possible, to take the best of care of himself.

Jr., arrived in Belleville to spend his vacation with his father, the gloom chaser, and although the elder Mr. Free knew that it would be a wet night, he felt that he could not allow an occasion such as this undoubtedly was to pass without some kind of celebration.

After a pleasant evening, which was enjoyed by all present the party on the way back to their hotel, it is understood became extremely "wet," with the result that the Police Ambulance was called to remove the Mysterious Mr. Free to the Hospital at about nine thirty this morning.

Carlin Field, N.Y., June 21.—The Trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia with Mabel Boll as a passenger, headed today at 2.50 p.m., daylight saving time, from Harbor Grace NfId. She had left Harbor Grace at 2.27 a.m.

Harbor Grace, NfId., June 21.—The monoplane Columbia carrying Miss Mabel Boll off at 5.27 o'clock Atlantic Daylight Saving Time today, on its return flight to New York.

Harbor Grace, NfId., June 21.—Before Miss Mabel Boll took off from Harbor Grace for York today, she announced that she intended to investigate the alleged difference in the weather advices received by her and those furnished Miss Amelia Earhart before the latter had Saturday last prior to the latter's successful flight. She failed to elaborate on the statement but it was clear that the Bellevilleite here that any partiality had been shown by the United States weather authorities or others in the forecasts given the flyers.

New York, N.Y., June 21.—The Earhart and Boll trans-Atlantic air expeditions were furnished carbon copies of the identical weather forecasts made by him, Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist in the local weather bureau, said here today.

His statement was made in answer to an announcement that Miss Mabel Boll intended to investigate the alleged difference in the weather reports received by her and those furnished Miss Amelia Earhart at Trepassey.

PRINCE CAROL'S WIFE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Bucharest, Rumania, June 21.—Bucharest courts have granted a divorce to Princess Helen from Prince Carol, the former Crown Prince of Rumania.

Princess Helen, the deserted wife of Prince Carol, filed a formal petition for divorce two months ago, the suit being instituted in the appellate court at Bucharest. The Princess who was deprived of her title to the throne at Athens in 1921, pleaded for a divorce because of "profound incompatibility of character."

LONGEST DAY OF SUMMER SEASON

June the 21st, today, is the longest day in the year. It the sun had been shining from the most northerly part of its orbit, as tomorrow it will have started back on its journey to the Equator, on its way to the Tropic of Capricorn.

The Tropic of Cancer is in the northern hemisphere and when the sun reaches that point, it begins to go to the Equator and farther south. The winter solstice, when the sun will have reached the Tropic of Capricorn, is on December the 21st six months away. Spring was officially ushered in at the end of March and Summer will leave us on the 21st of September. Thus it will be near that today, being also the longest day in the year is also the first day of the summer season.

FAILS TO APPEAR IN POLICE COURT

Accused Alleged To Have Been In Intoxicated Condition

W. Davenport, Herchiner Avenue, missed his automobile last night and when he visited the police station in an effort to have it recovered.

Davenport, it is alleged, was under the influence of liquor and the police promptly placed him under arrest. Later he was allowed out on bail with the understanding that he should appear in court this morning. The police claim that Davenport got more than slightly peeved and, among other uncomplimentary remarks, stated that one or two of them would lose their positions over the affair.

This morning the accused failed to appear in court and a bench warrant was promptly issued for his arrest by Magistrate Mikel.

Car Found Abandoned On Toronto Street Early Today

OFFER REWARD

Police Conduct Intense Search For Mail Car Robbers

Toronto, Ont., June 21.—After many conferences the police and postal authorities last night came to the conclusion that some one formerly connected with the postal department took part in the planning and execution of the holdup. Finding of the bandit car this afternoon gave an impetus to a further search and investigation. It is anticipated that the Toronto police department will offer a large reward for the arrest of the robbers. It is to be called that on the occasion of the robbery of bank messengers here in 1923, a joint reward of $10,000 was offered.

Toronto, Ont., June 21.—Automobiles used by six bandits in their armoured car robbery of government mail car at Union station early yesterday morning, were found on Bigbee street, north Toronto, this afternoon. Mail bags were in an auto and had been ripped open.

Toronto, Ont., June 21.—After 30 hours of intensive search following daring raid of mail car on Canadian National Railways Toronto-Chicago train early yesterday, no clue as to identity of wherabouts of bandits has been unearthed. Police appear to have made clean get away and about $150,000 in loot, vanished from sight as Sunnyside no trace of them has been found.

Local police are strongly inclined to believe that robbery was helped by some one who had considerable knowledge as to operation of railway mail service 2nd. Reason in fact. Others indicate that Federal Post office authorities believe $125,000 to be approximately correct estimate of amount taken. Reward of $2,000 has been offered by Dominion Government for information leading to arrest and conviction of men.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The love of praise, how-e'er concealed by art,
Reigns more or less, and glows in every heart.

—YOUNG.

FLYING NOW SAFER THAN DRIVING CAR

Only a man who is given to reckless comment would attempt to predict the extent to which flying will be developed within the next few years. Today regular air routes have been established in many parts of the country, both are flying to add fro, in all sorts of weather and under all manner of diverse conditions, with apparent safety. In fact it is claimed by many that even today flying is one of the most convenient, comfortable and safe forms of travel.

The contention seems to be borne out somewhat by the fate of an American aviator named Rene A. Colem. He was an airmail pilot. In all of his experience in the air, throughout many thousand miles of travel he had come through unhurt.

The other day he took a few hours off from his supposedly dangerous calling and with a number of friends went for an automobile ride, to attend the theatre. At a cross-road the auto collided with another car and Olsen was killed outright.

No one in these days contends that automobile riding is absolutely safe, but the ordinary laymen would prefer it to flying through the air. Rene Olsen would be alive today, however, if he had stuck to his comparatively safe plane, and had kept out of the dangerous automobile.

We hear of all the accidents which happen to flying machines, because that aeroplane is still in that embryo state of development, where a mishap is regarded as an item of news, of more than ordinary importance, but it would be interesting to know the number of accidents which happen to aeroplanes and automobiles in proportion to the number of miles that are covered.

The point seems to be, however, that flying is rapidly taking on a new status in this country. It will not be long before the public will take to the air as a matter of course. There will be great opportunities for cities who prepare for this development, and those who are far-sighted enough to provide suitable landing fields will be the ones to get on the ground floor when this development reaches the proper stage.

EVEN MONTHS PLAN FOR NEW CALENDAR.

It is highly significant that the Canadian Manufacturers Association, at its annual convention, voted by a majority of 21 to 1 in favor of the adoption of a new form of calendar for the year. The calendar which is favored is that which will divide the year into thirteen months of equal length, instead of the twelve months as at present. The idea was put forward more than twenty years ago by a man named Moses B. Cotsworth, who now lives in Vancouver, B. C., and was given approval by the Royal Society of Canada. Since that time, with the aid of interested persons and organizations, Mr. Cotsworth has labored unceasingly for the adoption of his plan, and organized the International Fixed Calendar League. It is not claimed that he was the first to think of the plan, but he was, at least, the first to secure definite action.

In view of the vote of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, it is interesting to note that there is a committee of the League of Nations now considering the plan, and an international conference on the subject may be held next year. There are many who are so enthusiastic over its advantages that they confidently believe that it will become effective in four or five years' time.

The new calendar idea, of course, has much to commend it. It would make all months equal, and the various dates of the month would fall on the same day each month and every year. All the statutory holidays would fall on a Monday, thus simplifying the holiday problem for business men and workers alike. But it is hard to bring about great changes such as the one suggested, and there are many who would be strongly opposed to changing the calendar which has been in effect for so many years. The campaign of Mr. Cotsworth, however, is gaining ground, and if it does not achieve success, it does, on account of his perseverence, deserve it.

STIRS UP TROUBLE IN EVERY QUARTER.

The constant denials by Stalin or other leaders of the Soviets that Russia takes no part in agitation in other countries in favor of the Soviet system are constantly discredited by the facts. There can be no doubt that the trouble reported in Greece is due to the interference and propaganda carried on by the Russian emissaries wherever they are permitted to operate. It will no doubt be said by the Russians themselves that conditions in these countries lead to the agitations, strikes, incipient revolutions and all the other disturbances" with which Bolshevism has its unenviable associations. But these things could all be settled by other means than the murder and outrage that usually follow in the wake of Soviet activity. What will happen in Greece as the result of the present outbreak it is not easy to say. There is always danger of a conflagration spreading from any fire lighted in the proximity of the Balkans. The situation is truly described as critical.

PLAY IN PETERBORO SATURDAY

Belleville Nationals play in Peterboro on Saturday of this week and they hope to increase their present lead in the Central Ontario League to three and one-half games. The Petes have been rumbling in tough luck of late, having lost two games to Kingston over the week-end and "Josh" Craig has been having little success with his ball club. The Petes however, will put up a strong argument against the Nationals and the locals can ill-afford to lose this game.

PARTY UNDER SHELTER

Miss Harris, matron of the Children's Shelter stated to the Intelligencer today that owing to the inclement weather the Garden Party which was to have been held on the lawn tonight will not be postponed but will be held inside the Shelter building. Those who wish to donate home cooking or candy should get in touch with Miss Harris at once. The money derived from the party will be applied toward the purchase of swings for the Children's Camp at Rednersville. This camp was opened last summer and the youngsters were given the benefit of spending two months in the open air. The Camp will re-open for this year within the course of a few days.

HERE ON DUTY

Traffic Officer Hinchcliffe is in Belleville on special duty for a few days. Mr. Hinchcliffe is a Toronto man and is a fairly new arrival on the force. He arrived in Belleville two days ago.

Social and Personals

Mr. "Bill" Lowery of Frankford was in the city yesterday attending the baseball game.

CHURCH WINDOW IS INSTALLED

Sir Gilbert Parker Donates Memorial To His Late Wife

A memorial window given to St. Thomas Church by Sir Gilbert Parker in memory of his wife Amy Elsie Parker who died in September 1925 was placed in the Church this week. It is the work of the Robert McCausland Ltd Toronto, and is a beautiful piece of work. The window will be formally dedicated at a later date.

Interesting colour effect.

The subject of the window is "The Nativity" or "Adoration of the Shepherds." The entire work is carried out in the Gothic and gives scope for rich and intricate detail. The subject makes a fitting theme. The background is suggestive of the scene Bethlehem.

The Holy Child lies in a manger bathed in a warm glow, with adoring, angels, make an exquisite setting for the subject and serve to give a uniformity throughout the series.

The memorial wording at the extreme base reads:

"To the Glory of God and in Loving Memory of Amy Elsie, wife of the Right Hon. Sir Gilbert Parker, Bart. Born Oct. 7, 1865—Died Sept. 12, 1925."

The work was designed and carried out for Sir Gilbert by the Toronto Studios of Robert McCausland Limited, and is an excellent example of Stained Glass on traditional English lines.

TUMMON TENNIS LEAGUE GAMES

Holloway St. Club Triumph Over Rivals In Yesterday's Matches

Several matches in the Tummon Tennis League were played yesterday and some keen competition resulted. The matches took place between the Bay of Quinte Tennis Club and the Holloway Street Club on the latter's courts. The ladies' and men's singles will be played at a later date as they were not completed yesterday.

The scores were as follows:

Men's Doubles, Bay of Quinte Club represented by Bryant and Cole defeated Jones and Andrews of the Holloway Street Club by scores of 6-4 and 7-5.

In the Men's Doubles, Black and Brown of the Country Club won back to Harden and Symons by scores 2f 6-4, and 7-5. The Brown-Black team won one game by a score of 7-5. These matches in the Tummon League are real interesting and will continue throughout the summer months.

BARBER ADDS TO TRACK HONORS

At the Field Day held under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture representative in Picton and the Kiwanis Club of same town, several local members of the local Y.M.C.A. who reside in Prince Edward County carried off prizes. Entries were limited to Prince Edward County residents.

Cliff Barber, who is making a name for himself in running circles in Ontario, won the five mile race in the age of 25 minutes, while he took second place in the high jump. A Herrington, another member of the local Y, took second in the shot put. On the whole the meet was a success, and although no records were broken, several promising young athletes were found.

FINDING OF BLACK RUST AFFECTS MART.

Chicago, Ills., June 21.—The finding of black rust in the wheat fields near Mitchell, South Dakota, led to a moderate early upturn in wheat values today. Ideal harvest weather, though, and the absence of furthr crop damage reports sentiment tended to check the buying. Opening unchanged to ic higher, wheat prices scored general advances, but afterward reacted. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, with corn starting 1-2c off to 1-2c up and subsequently showing sag all around.

ROYAL VISIT WAS MADE WHITSUNTIDE

London.—For some years the King and Queen spent Whitsuntide at the Royal Pavilion at Aldershot, the King holding a big review on Laffan's Plain on White-Monday. But of late this rule has been broken, and this year the visit preceded Whitsuntide.

The Royal Pavilion, where Their Majesties stayed, was built by the Prince Consort at the time he discovered Aldershot and made it our chief military training centre. Then it was always supposed that Prince Albert caught the typhoid fever of which he died, from its defective drainage. After his death the place remained virtually derelict until it was thoroughly overhauled, renovated and refurnished in King Edward's time. Now, the interior, robbed of all its Victorian heartiness and gloom, is gay and attractive.

SOVIET CONSULATE RAIDED

PARIS TEACHER PAYS TRIBUTE

Old England Complimented; Not Often Mother-land Gets This

It is with pardonable pride that Eng lishmen pass on this tribute by a Frenchman to their country. It is from a letter in The Times by Profes-or Le Cocilla Lyons de Poix, who sug gests that if there were an international prize for world's service it should be given to England.

You delivered Europe and ourselves from the tyranny of Napoleon, whose regime has been called by a French thinker "the military orgy". You succeeded in that great undertaking, although you had a very small army and scanty resources at your disposal. But you knew how to make good use of them. England knows how to rise to any emergency.

Now for British generosity. A contidership number of political refugees, monarchs or private citizens found in England the comfort and sanctuary denied them in their own country. Such a fact speaks highly in favor of the good standard of a nation.

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, was on Friday chosen by the Republican in convention at Kansas City as their candidate for the vice-presidency. Curtis, who is of French-Canadian and Indian descent and a former jockey, is popular among the farmers of the west and is regarded as a good running mate for Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee. There are two pictures of Curtis.

METEORIC RISE OF LEROY MASON

Someday Soon This Will Be Heard Throughout The Land

One of these days you will be hearing about the meteoric rise of LeRoy Mason, now just a brilliant prospect on the cinema horizon.

Mason probably will be heralded as an "overnight star." The story of how he rose from obscurity to fame in one picture will be told. But you will not hear of the five long, long years that LeRoy struggled before he got his chance. That is too drab.

Mason is now playing the role of Jorgs' opposite Dolores Del Rio in "Revenge." This is the part that is expected to put him over in electric lights. And he should do it well, because he has had the training—five years as an extra, then a villain and leading man in important films and "quickies." Mason was an extra with Charles Farrell and Gregory O'Brian in "The Ten Commandments." And some day he may reach the heights they have attained. It's just taken him longer to get his break.

The young actor has worked in every Hollywood studio and under 25 or 30 different directors. But not one of them ever gave him a thought as a good trooper. Not long ago I dropped into Henry's for lunch with Eddie Darero. Mason was just leaving as we sat down.

"There's the man you should have for 'Jorgs' in Revenge,' I remarked. Darero sent a waiter for him. He came back, talked a few minutes with us and was told to be at the studio that afternoon for a screen test. The test was made. And then tests were made of other and better actors. But Mason was the only one who fitted the character perfectly.

LeRoy still isn't quite sure that he is awake and actually has a big role. He has waited and hoped for just this 'break' for so long that he can hardly realize it's true. They get that way in Hollywood.

ARTISTIC

Ladies' and Men's Wear

301—303 Front St.

After the Great War, although sorely tried yourselves and confronted with so many economic difficulties, you came to the help of France, adopting 100 towns and villages of our devastated area. You declined to try to attempt to stamp Germany out of existence; you thought you must be merciful to them who are fallen, however cruel the enemy may have been to you.

The benefactress of mankind. Ens land works with earnest zeal and more than any other nation for the success of the League of Nations.

Other nations are frequently inclined to treat England unfairly; often your intentions are misinterpreted through ignorance and bad faith. England often reminds me of the picture of the Just Man in Plato's Republic. Of course, I know that, according to the Greek philosopher, in the midst of his torments the just man is supposed to be happier than those who persecute him; but such happiness is only negative. England is entitled to a better recognition of her services. It is high time that the other nations should pay to England the tribute she deserves.

AFGHANISTAN KING BUYS UP FACTORIES

The Prince of Wales is known as the "royal salesman of the British Empire," similarly King Amanullah of Afghanistan has turned into a royal buyer for his country.

During his stay in Germany he placed orders with German industry for the erection of factories for the manufacture of sugar, leather, paper, gunpowder and buttons, it is revealed. Negotiations for several other factories are still pending.

There are about 12,000 Britons, a great number of whom are Scotsmen, in various communities throughout China.

ART TREASURES BRING WEALTH

Heirs of Cowper Are Lucky In Getting Beautiful Paintings

London.—Our ancestors, when following the custom of their times in adorning their country houses with paintings by great masters, little thought what a heritage of wealth they were providing for their successors a couple of centuries or so later.

The colossal sum of £175,000 paid by Sir Joseph Duveen for Lady Desborough's Madonna and Child by Raphael, is a case in point. Lady Desborough inherited the picture together with Panshanger, a huge house in Hertfordshire, from her uncle, the last Earl Cowper.

There were some other very valuable pictures besides the Raphael, and many of them have also been sold.

Something, representing close on £3,000 a year handed upon your walls is a prodigious price to pay for the pleasure of possessing a picture you seldom see.

The late Lord and Lady Cowper brought up Lady Desborough as if she were their own child, and used to give splendid entertainments for her at what was then the Cowper town house in St. James' Square. Panshanger, too, was the scene of many memorable entertainments in the old days. Now ladys, Lord and Lady Desborough do most of their entertaining at "Taplow Court, a delightful place on the Thames.

An ideal always becomes in a sense, degraded when it is actually realized. —General Smuts.

Miss Betty Nuthall, England's youthful tennis star, and Miss Helen Wills, the world's champion, at Auteuil, France, where they both participated in the French hard-court championships. Miss Nuthall was eliminated in the third round while Miss Wills won the title. Incidentally Miss Helen Wills, American champion of all three leading tennis countries, recently beat a man, D. H. Williams, a well known English tournament player, 8/7, 6-4, in an exhibition match at Stamford Hill, her first match in England this season.

IRISH ARTIST WINS HONOURS

Paris Salon Breaks Precedent To Give Prize To Irishman

London.—For the first time in its history of 140 years, the Paris Salon has awarded the gold medal for sculpture to a foreigner.

Aimee O'Connor, on whom this honor has been bestowed is an Irish-American, with a Paris studio, and a flat in the Latin Quarter, where there lives one of the happiest families ima ginable.

The medal was awarded for O'Connor's wonderfully fine group, "Dieu et Vesalt," and its well deserved success has excited art lovers both in Paris and New York, where there are many striking examples of his work.

Although he has lived more than 20 years in Paris, and speaks French like a native, O'Connor is at heart a true Celt.

With his rather rough grey hair, still tinged with gold and bright blue eyes, and happy-go-lucky manner, you would never mistake him for a Frenchman.

Unlike so many artists in Paris, he mixes little in the society of the Quarter.

When he is not working hard in his studio or chasing off on some big commission, he is to be found at home with his wife and boys.

BOATS CARRIED VARIED CARGO

Vancouver, B. C.—(C.P.)—Cargo ships arriving here from the United Kingdom and Continental ports by way of the Panama Canal carry an extremely varied assortment of merchandise and manifest of the motorship Kinderdyk of the Holland-America Line, which arrived here recently read like a department store advertisement. Here is an incomplete list of the goods carried on the Kinderdyk.

Wines, beers, tobacco, used postage stamps, cigarette papers, biscuits, hosiery, hats, clothing, blankets, hardware, brassware, insect powders, a wide range of chemicals, chemists supplies, printing press and machinery, shipyard and lumbering machinery, joinery, glass and colorings, bronze propellors, motor cars, straps, fishing nets, fish hooks, cobbler supplies, furniture and furniture polish, shoe polish cards, isinglas, papier mache, canary and poultry feed, cheese, fruit trees, shoes, asbestos, medicine, fish, preserved fruits, silk, bicycles, vinegar, lead, glass, iron, steel.

The liquor parcel included 5,000 cases of champagne, 25 puncheons of rum, a 5c whundred case sof bottled beer, 1,2000 cases of gin, 2,000 cases of brandy, some spirits and some light wines.

The Grandstand at the Canadian National Exhibition has a seating capacity of 16,000.

Paris declares that the newest buttonhole is fairly large and mostly matches the dress or coat lining and it can resemble any favored flower, such as a gardenia, camelia or Mahalmbra, and is at its best in a fragile fabric, like printed chiffon georgette or a fanciful foulard or patterned crepe de Chine, while each soft petal has under gone a starch wash and the buttonhole is generally worn below the left should er of a coat.

VISITING BALL PLAYERS DINED

Oshawa Club And Officials Guests of Alemite Products Company.

Through the thoughtfulness of the Alemite Products Company, the players and officials of the Oshawa General Motors Baseball Club, and officials of the Belleville Club were entertained at a dinner in the Queen's Hotel after the game yesterday. It was a splendid affair and the good feeling that has been a marked feature between the Belleville and Oshawa Clubs was strengthened last night.

Mr. W. E. Rowsome, General Manager of the local plant of the Alemite Products and President of the Belleville Baseball Club was host of the evening and he left nothing undone to provide an interesting hour for the guests. Mr. Rowsome is a real live wire, an asset to the City of Belleville and since becoming affiliated with the Ball Club he has lent every assistance toward the success of the game. Last night's gathering was unique almost in not customary to banquet visiting teams but the bond of friendship between players and officials was undoubtedly cemented by the get-together. A program of community singing, solos and instrumental together with short pithy speeches combined to make it something not soon to be forgotten.

The members of the Oshawa Club in thanking the host proposed the same courtesy when the local team play in that town. While readily admitting that Belleville was yesterday's victor fairly and squarely they said that were not counted out and would provide plenty of competition before the season was completed.

F. G. McLaurin, Past President of the Kiwanis Club and principal of the Belleville Collegiate occupied the chair and with a few remarks concerning athletic endeavour he opened the proceedings. "I have yet to see a man who took an active interest in sport, played the game clean,and stayed on board who did not make good in the world." Mr. McLaurin referred to his association with Mr. Rowsome and stated that he found him to be a man who was always working in the best interests of the City of Belleville.

The Speech-makers

Short speeches were made by Dr. J. J. Robertson,G George Griffin, treasurer of the local ball club; Harold Greenlee, Secy of the Parks Board, Walter Gerow, Manager of the team; Mayor M. P. Duff, Stan Donovan, coach of the Oshawa Club; Mr. Donovan, Treasurer of the visiting club; Harold Luke, Secy of the Motors team; Duke Dainty, player; Art Young, Factory Supt. of the Alemite; F. G. Chester, President of the Oshawa Club; Captain Sutton of the visitors; Major Arthurhoott, Advertising Manager of the Alemite; and others. Among those present beside the members of the Osh awa Club were Messrs. Stanley Happerman, Ken Colling, and representatives of the press.

All of the speeches were in the same strain, stressing the value of fraternis ing as advocates of sport.

Jimmy Rinaker lead in the community singing while he also rendered one or two solos. "Duke" Dainty who plays at the Casa Loma Hotel, Toronto, or the records, delighted his listeners with two piano selections as well as two solos. "Duke" not only excels at baseball but he is a musician of real repute and his numbers were heartily encored.

Leo Ring played for the community singing.

Mr. Rowsome in welcoming the guests said he had found only pleasure in his brief acquaintance with baseball and declared that he had already made many staunch friends. Mr. Rowsome stated that he looked forward to similar gatherings of the kind in the near future. He declared that Belleville possessed the finest baseball club in the league and predicted that they would be in the running for the O. B. A. pennant but the Provincial championship as well. Three hearty cheers were given for the host and the evening when the gathering was brought to a close.

RURAL DEANERY GATHERED HERE

The first regular meeting of the re cently defined Rural Deanery of Prince Edward was held in Meade College on Tuesday 19th instant. The P. E. Deanery is now composed of the parishes of St. Thomas Church Belleville; Christ Church, Belleville; Trenton, Picton, Wellington, Marlyburg, Ameliasburg and Bloomfield.

The members of the Chapter assembled at 3 p.m. Rural Dean Clarke occupied the chair and opened the meeting with prayer. The minutes of the special meeting were read and confirmed. The election of Secretary-Treasurer was next in order and on counting the ballots Rev. A. L. Geen was found the unanimous choice. Mr. Geen expressed in fitting words his appreciation and mentioned that half a century ago he was appointed Deanery Secretary by the late Archbishop Lewis. The election of Rural Dean was then proceeded with. The ballots were collected and placed in an envelope and forwarded to the Bishop of the Diocese who will make the appointment.

A committee of the two Rural Deans and two Secretaries of Prince Edward and Hasting Deaneries were elected to arrange for another conference such as was held in Belleville last April.

Other matters of importance to the Deanery and Diocese were discussed. The meeting was then closed by Rev. A. L. McTear, rector of Wellington, pronouncing the Benediction.

After the business meeting was closed, the clergy enjoyed a social chat and also home grown strawberries and Hastings cream. The refreshments were appreciated and in sincere words acknowledged by a motion by Rev. F. G. Kirkpatrick M.A. L.L.B.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

MARY ROACH.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Roach took place this morning from her late residence, Carnation Road to St. Michael's Church, where Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Reverend Father Kinlin. The bearers were Messrs. Patrick Hayes, John Donovan, Wm. Milne, Frank Carney, George Hamilton and Joseph Bredden. Interment took place at St. James' Cemetery where Rev. Father Kinlin conducted the services at the graveside.

JONES OFF TO A FINE START

Bobby Two Over Par In First Round At Olympia Field

Chicago, Ill., June 21.—Many of the best golfers in the world lined up today for the long torturous four rounds of the Junior course at the Olympia Fields Country Club in quest of the Unified States National Open Golf Championship.

Toeing the mark at the start were such representative stars as the British Open Champion, Walter Hagen, National amateur champion, Bobby Jones, Premier British Golfer; Archie Compston and the leading French links man, Audrey Boomer.

Olympia Fields, Chicago, Ills., June 21.—Bobby Jones got off to a sensational start in his quest for the third American open championship today, as he hung his putter with magic effect to earn even par, 35, for first nine holes of the opening 18 hole round. His partner, Johnny Farrell, favored by many, was badly off form and took 40.

Olympia Field, Chicago, Ills., June 21.—Scoring 72, two over par, for his first round of the National Open Golf Championship today, Bobby Jones, veteran former of the Big Crown, put himself into second place among the early finishers, one stroke back of Leo Diegel, of New York and Bill Leach, of Philadelphia.

BOATS COMPETE WITH TAXICABS

Victoria, B. C.—(By the Canadian Press)—Steamship companies believe they have at last devised a way of silencing the tally-ho and taxicab spellers who have for years been regarded as a nuisance along Victoria's waterfront. When the passenger vessels warp into their berth and the first lusty shouts of the spielers rend the air, the steamships to port take up the cry as a signal and compete with the human voices with their own siren whistles.

But while the noise made by the last and tally-ho men is exceedingly troublesome and, according to members of the city council, is giving Victoria a bad name, it is not much worse than the shriek of sirens.

"The steamship companies should, n't be forced to end the nuisance by making a worse one themselves," said Alderman J. S. Mara at a recent meeting of the council. "The city should have intervened a long time ago and told these noisy spielers where to get off at."

The situation reached such proportions that members of the city police force were stationed at the docks to see that the spielers do their soliciting more quietly or else arrest them. As a result of their activities one man was arrested and fined $25 in police court. If the spielers can be silenced the sirens will automatically cease, members of the council have been informed by the steamship companies.

Turn rugs in a room that is in constant use every six months. They will then wear more evenly.

L—Lions in in' world is the Banff Springs Hotel, which is one of the new swimming pool built in the hotel.

Acknowledged by the most discriminating as the finest mountain hotel on the American continent the Banff Springs Hotel, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on May 15, inaugurated a new era for visitors to the Rocky Mountains. This internationally famous center has been in process of rebuilding during the past two winter seasons and now stands complete, magnificent in its construction and furnishings and beyond compare as to beauty of surroundings.

The Banff Springs Hotel is so constructed as to blend, in the beauty of its architecture, with the snow capped peaks of the mountain ranges. Built of limestone quarried from the base of Mount Rundle and trimmed with Tyndal stone from Manitoba the building itself, complies with all the tenets of dignity and good taste.

The Banff Springs provides accommodation for 1100 guests,and contains 600 bedrooms with baths in addition to a large number of suites of marked beauty and comfort. The layout of the public rooms and lounges has been carefully thought out, and these rooms are especially appealing the point of design and richness of furnishings. Many of these are unique in their beauty in themselves and the view, down the valley of the Bow River, is alone worth a trip to see.

The building of this great hotel or rather the rebuilding has been going forward for several years, but the construction work has not interfered with the comfort of the summer guests. The work has been carried on during the winter months. Enormous wooden sheds were erected and heated throughout with steam, and the work done with the same ease as if at the height of summer. It is interesting to note in this connection that the system of construction followed a monthly consumption of coal of more than 700 tons.

FOREST FIRES PUT OUT BY EXPERTS

Salmon Arm, B.C.—(By the Canadian Press)—When the fire menace grain sweeps through the forests of this section of British Columbia this summer it will be combated by men trained for just that emergency. The fire-fighting will be done by experts and not by novices.

The reason for that is that the men who will be employed in fire-fighting this season have literally gone to school again and have studied the most approved methods of reducing the hazard and beating the flames when they once get under way. Special subjects were taken up each day and included the study and demonstration of approved methods of disposal of slashing.

ONE TROUT CATCHES ANOTHER ON LINE

Kamloops, B.C.—(By the Canadian Press)—All the big fish that get away are not lost, if the following story is true:

Two weeks ago O. Jennings of Kelowna,was fishing in Paul Lake, near Kamloops. He was using a double lead er and two flies when he secured a strike. A large Kamloops trout flash ed and snatched at the fly and was gone like a flash, taking hook, line and sinker.

The following day Fred Arnett, of New Westminster, was trying his luck in the same vicinity and while seating secured a big one one-half pounder and, believe or not, attached to a separate leader on the same fish was another two and hone-half pound trout.

One trout had caught the other and Mr. Arnett landed both. Will Nation, tells the story and displayed the fish to fishing guide, who piloted Mr. Arnett, prove it.

GOOD SEASON FOR COSTLY FUR SEALS

Ucluelet, B.C.—(By the Canadian Press. — Fur seals have been unusually plentiful this season along the West Coast of Vancouver Island and the Indians, to whom pelagic sealing is permitted if guns are not used, have brought in a large number of skins for sale. The price is high and some of the hunters have been making big profits.

The weather was stormy at times and the Indians, in the frail dugout canoes, had no easy time during the hunt but are well pleased as the sealing has not been any too good.

YOUTH SHOULD NOT TAKE UP GOLF EARLY

London.—Jack Hobbs, the famous cricketer, agrees with Lord Hawke that youth should not take up golf too early. When opening a new golf club house at Harrogate recently, Lord Hawke revealed that he was 66 before he began to play golf, and he advised youngsters to play cricket and football which were games that developed as exercise-de-corps. Golf should not become their chief game until they were older.

Golf is Jack Hobbs' favourite game after cricket. "I was 30 before I began to play it," he said to a reporter, "but it is a game for youngsters to take up to the exclusion of other games. It will not develop character in the way that football and cricket do, for golf is not a team game."

CHINESE SCOUTS IN VANCOUVER SMART

Vancouver, B.C.—(By the Canadian Press)—The 32nd Vancouver troop of Boy Scouts is unique in Canada, for every member is a Chinese. The scoutmaster, C. W. Wiseman, alone is white.

The Chinese troop held its first week -end hike to Lynn Creek a few days ago and passed their fire-fighting and cooking tests for the second class badge and are well on their way towards completing the required tests.

Although the troop was formed only six weeks ago, all of the boys have passed their tenderfoot tests and it is expected that they will all have secured their second class badge within a month.

The troop holds meetings every week in the Chinese public school, loaned for the occasion by the Chinese Benevolent Association.

Often a housewife is so glad the furnace is through its duties for a while that she is inclined to forget it, and leave it full of soot and ashes through the summer. All soot should be cleaned from the pipes and the flues and furnace examined to see if any repairs are necessary. Then when cold weather comes we are all prepared and do not have to wait for the furnace man to repair it at a time when he is most busy.

BELLE THEATRE

One of the best tale stories ever put The Arizona Wildcat." Fox Films into a western picture is found in latest release to the Belle theatre, where it had its first local showing today. Probably one reason for this is that it was written by Adela Rogers St. Johns especially for Tom Mix and one of the best known writers of popular horse Tony. Miss St. Johns is ular fiction, whose stories appear in such magazines as the Cosmopolitan and who is also the author of several best selling novels.

REGENT THEATRE

According to Nick Stuart, one of the contestants for Sally Phipps' heart in "Fox Films 'High Hat Hero,' now at the Regent Theatre, Sally's affections are really not so really worth it.

"While we were working at the high school," Nick says, "it was a drama of real life the way the students from Hollywood High School rushed Sally. As far as the stronger sex of the was concerned, she was certainly a sensation.

"But Sally was a true coquette and only favored her boy friends with a smile. The trouble was she smiled at all of them alike."

David Rollins and John Darrow, the other boy friends afflicted with fair Sally's charms in "High School Hero" agree with Nick. David Butler directed.

1,500 performers take part annually in the Canadian National Exhibition pageant.

SLOW IN CARING FOR DEFECTIVES

Mentally Affected Persons Thrust Upon Province Untrained

Toronto, Oct. (C.P.—Ontario's ... ciency in providing sufficient accommodation and training for those in the Province who are mentally defective was again the subject of a vigorous discussion when the Ontario Provincial Council of Women met in annual session. It was stated by one member during the discussion that for well over a quarter of a century the women of the Province have been asking the Government to provide such care for these unfortunates who constitute such a vital problem in the welfare of the country.

"The educational system of Ontario is taking extremely good care of the feeble-minded up to the age of 16 years," said Mrs. R. O. Smythe the previous president, "then the child is broken and the poor unfortunate defective is thrust out into the world to look after itself. The records of our courts, hospitals and reformatories tell the story in full measure."

She quoted from Judge Mott's official report covering a period of five years dealing with the question of unmarried mothers in institutions and of the equivalent reformatories who were feeble-minded.

"And so, after floundering along in groping evil and ignorance, we finally gather them in and take care of them in the Mercy of Christ," commented Mrs Smythe, "Surely, as an economic question alone, it would be cheaper to care for them from the beginning rather than let them spread disease, commit misdemeanor and crime and add greatly to the feeble-minded population."

Recommendations made by the Committee on the Feeble-minded included the appointment of two more physicians at Orillia, a request that more money be set apart for intensive research, to find if possible causes and cure for mental deficiency and, last, but not least, an appeal for unifying zeal in an effort to bring the matter before the Government and the legislators.

Satisfaction in the way Dr. Margaret Patterson carried on her women's court was recorded by Mrs. W. R. Lang, convenor on Laws, in her thoughtful report. She expressed also the Council's satisfaction at the way Dr. Patterson made of the psychiatric clinic and of the Deferred Sentence Act, which had enabled her in many instances to readjust and reinstate persons without prison sentence. She also urged that the Council appeal to the Government for an institution for girls along the lines of the Bowmanville farm for boys.

THIS THIEF WON'T BE HEALTHY LONG

Nanaimo, B. C.—(C.P.)—Residents of this city have discovered the meaning of the word "beware" for him.

The thief broke into a section of the old hospital quarters and stole two bureaus, two beds and two mattresses. He is regarded as particularly mean and thoughtless by reason of the fact that Nanaimo hospital was recently closed for lack of funds and several organizations and townspeople are endeavoring to raise sufficient money to complete the furnishing of the establishment in order to have the institution, so badly needed, operating once again.

The reason that people are sorry for the thief is that in his thoughtless haste, he broke into and robbed the pest house. The sanitarium beds were smallpox cases and the cashier, when carefully locked the doors from the inside after leaving the building through a window, was amazed to discover the door swinging open and the furniture gone.

When you buy new clothespins soak them in cold water for half an hour before using. They will not then split.

ULSTER FORCE HAS A BARONET RANKER

The Royal Ulster Constabulary is probably the only police force in the world with a baronet serving in the ranks.

He is Sergeant Sir John Rohlin, who is in charge of the police barracks at Enniskillen, and head of one of the oldest families in Ireland.

He draws $20 a week pay, and apparently is quite content.

The Rohlin estates have long been encumbered, and Sir John's great grandfather was probably the last of the family to derive any financial benefit from them.

Wild ancestors, it is stated, dissipated the family fortunes. The fifth and sixth baronets were forced to work as hired help and the eighth baronet, Sir John's uncle, kept an English inn.

The total value of the Canadian National Exhibition Park is $15,000,000.

BELLEVILLE WIN FROM OSHAWA TWICE AND ARE OUT IN FRONT

Nationals Capture Double-Header Before Packed House

SCORES 5-4

Gibson And Uronki Boost Average At Expense of Motors

Belleville Nationals are riding high and dry in the Central Ontario baseball League with a commanding lead of two and one half games over Oshawa the nearest contenders by virtue of their double victory over the Motors City. Club here yesterday. The local team sent a thousand spectators into ecstasies of joy when they pounded out two wins and the boys are determined to remain in first place for the balance of the season. Ideal baseball weather saw the stands and bleachers packed to their fullest capacity for the day and while the display of the great summer pastime on the part of both clubs was rather intangible at times still the fact that Belleville won, took the bad taste out of the mouths of the tired-to-the-wool fans. The visitors were indeed sweet and with a good 5-4 hit club should smile home with honors by several lengths in the Central League derby. By a strange coincidence the score in both games was identical, 5-4 with the home team in front in each case.

Make no mistake about it, the Oshawa team went down fighting in both games and they will be heard from before the curtain rings down in Central Ontario League ball. There were several redeeming features to the afternoon, particularly the closeness of each game. There was excitement galore in the first game and it was only in the ninth inning of the second that the Nationals managed to pull the ball out of the fire. The verdict in the second fracas of the afternoon by attraction was in doubt until the last man was out and a spirited rally in the final chukker on the part of the Oshawa team nearly sent the game into overtime. The latter was an abbreviated contest, going only seven innings.

First Game.

Jimmy Quinn, formerly of Delora, who substituted for Elliott behind the bat was really responsible for the Nationals capturing the honors. In him which "Sonny" Green dropped a neat fly over third base and Quinn in attempting to catch him off first base heaved the apple into deep right field. Gresh counted on that play and made a dead-lock and placed the gamb in the bat-bag of the Belleville team. Freeman, Oshawa's hurler had struggled along with the Nats leading for the most part with runs by the visitors tying things up. In the seventh after Belleville players had committed errors easily crown the Oshawa club scored two and knotted the count and it was not until the ninth that Belleville fans broke the silence.

Matthews, a newcomer to Central League talent lurked the first game, and he made a good job of it, and it was no fault of his that the visitors came out second best. Matthews beats all the car-marks of becoming a first rate moundsman and with a little more experience will develop into a useful artist.

Nine hits runs from the bludgeons of Belleville players but with one or two exceptions these were well-scattered. Our own "Shot" Gilmore opposed Matthews and he really had the Indian sign on the Schulte-Burgoyne crew most of the way but his wildness at times or two occasions threatened to upset the apple-cart for him. The Railroaders committed ten errors which is far too many in any ball game. The visitors were costly but although they contributed but six miscues. The errors made, however, assisted in livening the proceedings and both teams were responsible.

Four base-running on the part of the Oshawa team was costly and Stan Burgoyne gave the boys some kindly advice on the art after the game. Belleville were fortunate in the sixth when three lusty runs crossed the plate, almost sufficient to win any ordinary game, "Peeny" Mills singled to start the fireworks and the Oshawa team helped things along by two errors.

Night-Cap Affair.

Belleville fresh from their win took nothing for granted and proceeded to treat the verversable "Duke" Daintily with disrespect right off the bat. Two runs were counted in the first inning which ultimately won the ball game. Weir tied to Wolfe, Ross singled and stole second, Harry Mills got a life on McCallum's hobbles and Peeny singled to centre to drive Ross home. Blakely whiffed but Scott poled a pretty bingle to centre field to score Harry Mills and Green grounded out to Young to end the inning. It was an auspicious opening and the crowd was in good humor.

Manager Walter Gerow as was predicted sent Virtuoso Uronki, the Oshawa Valley boy in to do the pitching. The lad turned in a good game despite the fact that he was a little erratic at times and was hit hard. His wavering of several times and there was a suspicion that he might be motioned to the showers but he rallied and came through with flying colors. Several tin-fan sports in the stand shouted for his withdrawal but the major part of the cash customers were with Uronki to a man. He and Gibson certainly make a great team and the more that brought him to Belleville was a wise one. Dainty, the veteran south-paw can still heave them down the alley with a gusto but he is not the same pitcher that he was five years ago.

Uronki drew some well-merited applause in the second inning when he forced Young the Oshawa third baseman with the bases full. He went to work with a will and promptly struck out the batter, only allowing one run.

Oshawa felt keenly the fact that Belleville stole, a march in the opening frame and in the second inning Quinn drew a walk after Fair struck out. McCallum was hit by a pitched ball and stole second. Kellar hit to Scott who tagged Quinn coming into third. Sutton singled again filling the bases. Elliott walked and McCallum was forced home. However, Uronki closed the lid down by striking out Young.

Belleville threatened again in the third when Harry Mills was hit by a pitched ball. Peeny flied to Wolfe and Blakely d'd likewise. Bob Scott got a single after an argument in which it was claimed that he had attempted to bunt on a third strike. The umps ruled differently and he was allowed the base. On the same play Harry Mills was safe on a very close play at second and the Oshawa team stampeded about the diamond like

DELORO DEFEAT KINGSTON 7-5

Art Quinn Clears Bases With Long Triple In Fifth

Kingston ball club, following a very successful week-end against the Peterboro Club lost to Deloro yesterday on the Smellers diamond by a score of 7-5. The Deloro Club have won their last two games and may yet make things interesting for the other teams in the loop. They played excellent ball yesterday and really deserved the verdict. Art Quinn erstwhile goal-keeper with Queen's Hockey team was the star of the game and it was his terrific hitting that really accounted for Deloro's victory. Quinn got held of one of Wolfe's shoots in the fifth inning, sent it to deep centre field and cleared the base which had been fully-populated previously. It spelled exit for Mr. Wolfe. Buck finished the game and was in good form and the Gunners found the going harder after he assumed the hill.

Frank Leal started for the home team but in the fourth inning the Deloro attack commenced to hit him and Vaughan Jack went into the box and was more effective. George Sullivan umpired behind the plate and Kerr, of Deloro on bases.

JUST NEXT DOOR

An ocean voyage seems a long way off sometimes but here just next door the Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamship service presents a two days inland ocean voyage across Huron's blue waters through the lovely St. Mary's River and away over the broad expanse of Lake Superior. A steamboat cruise from Toronto to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is but a short trip to the proud white ship; the mornings are let go and away we start on a delightful cruise that cases fagged brains and weary bodies.

There are two sailings a week during the summer months from Port Mcnicoll and one from Owen Sound and the same number of eastward sailings from Port William and Port Arthur. Few ocean vessels have more luxurious accommodations than those provided on the S. S. Keewatin and S. S. Assiniboia which ply the route as sikes nor the S. S. Manitoba which sails between Owen Sound and the Twin Cities.

Tickets, parlor car and boat reservations from any Canadian Pacific ticket agent.

Tiny Tot Plunges From Path Of Reinless Car--Democrats Assemble For National Convention

LOCAL CAMP IS TOURIST MECCA

Over One Hundred Parties Have Already Registered Here

FINE FACILITIES

Florida Travellers Assert Belleville Grounds Are Unsurpassed

One hundred and two motor parties and a total of three hundred and fifty-one persons have visited the Belleville Tourist Camp on Dundas street since the official entry for this year was made on the Camp Register on May the 30th.

At this rate, the number of tourists stopping at the camp should be nearly doubled this year as compared with last year, and every evidence of a successful season in every way is expected. Yesterday four parties stopped for the evening, and all expressed approval of the camp.

Mrs. G. Thomlinson and party were from Smith's Falls, C. H. Lewis and Cecil Hawkins were from Detroit, going to Sydney, Nova Scotia, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cay were from Long Beach, California. These latter two had made their trip by way of Florida, a distance to Belleville of a little over 2,000 miles and they declared that they had not visited any better camps during the whole trip.

Excellent conveniences are provided at this camp, free cooking gas, sewer, daily garbage disposal, hot and cold showers, and police patrol by the Civic Utilities are features of this model Tourist Camp, as well as three separate kitchens, with tables, gas plate, sink, and laundry with tubs and clothes line provided. There are fourteen park tables, with seats, in the grounds for the use of the Tourists, and separate buildings for men and women, are fitted with hot and cold showers as well as basins, toilets and sanitary bowls.

Running water is in all the buildings, and there is a small trash rack with hose for washing cars. The City of Belleville is to be congratulated on the Camp which they have created, as it is one of the best advertisements the city has.

COOLING SYSTEM IN OPERATION

Refrigerator At Quinte Breweries Is Now Installed

The large refrigerator in the retail department of the Quinte Breweries is now in operation. The refrigerator is approximately 10 feet by 14 feet and is walled in all exterior walls and bottom with the new Gypsum product known as insulex.

The refrigeration is supplied by the ice machine in the plant and maintains a temperature sufficient to cool every package for consumption.

On account of the brewery summer traffic space has been reserved by "no parking" signs in front of the office and in addition to this increased space now drive in the side entrance to return empty bottles, as well as leave by the south exit. On account of the Brewery being in a congested district the management has apparently exercised stone unturned to give the public service.

CHAS. HANNA IS AGAIN HONORED

London, Ont., June 22.—Clare Jarvis, of London, was re-elected head consul commander of the Canadian Woodmen of the World, at the elections here yesterday. Only two new officers were elected. These were Head Watchman, J. A. Bradford, of Lindsay, and Head Sentry J. Nysel, of Niagara Falls.

Other officers who were re-elected were, Charles Hanna, Ex-M.P., of Bellevill; Head Advisor Lieutenant, and C. Cinnamon, of Lindsay, Past Head Consul Commander.

SUSPECTED TORONTO BANDITS

May Be Hiding In Queen City

Detroit police officials believe that one of these four notorious American gunmen may have been the "master mind" in the sensational Toronto mail robbery, when $125,000 in cash and perhaps upwards of $100,000 in securities and other valuables was taken. The same men, it is believed, may have engineered the recent robbery of the Detroit News cashier. 1. Fred Jaworski, alias Paul Toppe, robbery leader of the famous Flatbread mob of Detroit, once sentenced to the chair, escaped and has since staged several successful robberies. 2. Robert Sweberg, also of the Flatbread gang and several times an accomplice of Jaworski. 3. John Anderson, who has a long record of armed hold-ups; and 4. Thomas Kemp, also suspected of being implicated in one or more robberies.

LITTLE GIRL ESCAPES DEATH BY INCHES WHEN CAR LEAPED AHEAD

SAFETY COMMITTEE RADIO BROADCAST

Toronto, June 22.—This week's radio broadcast from the Ontario Highway Safety Committee will be from Station C F R E of Saturday night at 8 p.m. Daylight Saving time. The speaker is J. E. Corcoran, chairman of the Toronto Board of Education, and he will address himself to the subject of accident prevention in regard to children.

The little girl was sitting on a chair in front of the store, but when the car, Silverstar touring, started forward she tried to escape by throwing herself sideways. A second later the chair had been jammed against the wall by the car, but little Ila had managed to get partially off and the car then bore into the doorway of the store, the only injury she suffered being a scratch on the leg.

Hall was also thrown into the doorway, but did not escape so lightly as he suffered a badly wrenched knee, but bruises were found on his body when glass window in the front of the store was smashed, but Mr. Hall immediately paid for the damage and after the police investigation was allowed to go as it was clearly a case of an accident.

PAID FOR HORSE BEFORE SEIZURE

Robert Elmy Believed He Had Every Right To Take Animal

Apparently a serious injustice has been done Mr. Robert Elmy of Tyendinaga in the matter of a charge of horse stealing against him, and the subsequent publicity. A report of the police court case appeared in yesterday's issue of this newspaper, but the evidence was not complete and the Intelligencer is glad to publish the following which subsequently excercised Mr. Elmy of any charge of theft.

Elmy agreed to buy the horse from Mr. McDonald, the price of which was to be $55 and he paid $1 to bind the deal. Mr. John Charlesworth, hearing of the deal immediately had a garnishee issued for a bill which he claimed McDonald owed to him, so he clear the matter up Elmy paid into court the amount of the garnishee. When the Charlesworth-McDonald case was tried the court awarded the money to Charlesworth.

Counting in the $1 deposit and the amount paid into court Elmy still owed McDonald $5 which he offered to pay, but McDonald did not deliver the horse. Believing that the horse was to be his and paid for it, Elmy took it from the pasture to his own property following which a charge of horse stealing was laid against him. As stated in yesterday's paper this charge was dismissed.

FRIENDLY RELATIONSHIP BROKEN OFF BY THE LAW

A Scotchman, an Irishman, and a Frenchman made a good combination, as was the case with McDonald, O'Leary and LaFernier, until the Provincial Police in the persons of Constables Shepherd and Sergeant Clarke came on the scene.

True to the time honored fables regarding Scotchmen McDonald was the only member of the trio who had any money of the realm. O'Leary and LaFernier being absolutely without funds, while McDonald, the philosoral was the proud possessor of thirty-five cents.

After McDonald had lost all his money in Montreal in some unknown manner he decided that he would take to fresh water sailing, so headed for Port Colborne, where he had heard that sailors were able to get good jobs with little trouble. At Cornwall a few days ago he met O'Leary and LaFernier, and all three started west together.

PROHIBITION IS BURNING ISSUE

Governor Smith Provoked Controversy On Recent Statement

RIFT IN RANKS

Norman E. Mack Declares Smith Stands For Temperance

Houston, Texas, June 22.—The prohibition question has been injected squarely into the Democratic National Convention here even before the opening of the headquarters of Alfred E. Smith. It has provoked an endless round of discussion as to the effect it may have upon the convention deliberations and the New York governor's candidacy itself. Although all along it has been a smouldering issue. A series of developments here and in New York state has served to centre the attention on the question at the time when the drys, men particularly were hoping to avoid any open rift on the subject. It was one of Smith's foremost supporters, Norman E. Mack, National Committeeman from New York, who inadequately opened up the new prohibition discussion. He issued a statement through which he declared that Governor Smith was opposed to prohibition and stood for Temperance.

The Governor himself got into a row on the subject in New York when the New York is response to a question that his belief that there should be an amendment of the present-prohibition provisions had not changed.

MANY ATTENDED AFTERNOON TEA

The Ladies' Aid of Bridge St. Church held a most successful tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hosking on Dundas street. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion and the guests were received at the home by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Blakey, President of the Ladies' Aid, and Mrs. (Dr.) Maskell. Mrs. W. F. Clarke invited the guests to the tea room which was decorated in a color scheme of mauve and yellow. The tea table was very pretty with yellow candles in silver candlesticks and centred with a bowl of yellow and mauve flowers. Mrs. Chas. Bishop and Mrs. Geo. Simmons poured tea and were assisted in the room by Mrs R. Smith, Miss Helen Sulman, Mrs. W. B. Deacon and Mrs. Oartley. Mrs. O. B. Thompson and Mrs. Jas. A. Moon were the convenors for the pleas and affair.

PICTURES DEPICT CITY LONG AGO

Mr. Hope McConkie, Sanitary Inspector, has in his possession two extremely old photographic pictures, the type that were made before the present photographic art was introduced. They portray scenes of Belleville, one of them is particularly interesting, showing the location of the present footbridge, but in those days, of course, there was no foot-bridge. The land on the west side of the bank is a cleared bare, with few buildings upon it. There is no date on the pictures.

MARY IS SHORN

Tresses Beloved By Thousands of Movie Fans Are No More

Chicago, June 22.—Mary Pickford had a big story for the papers today and the reporters swarmed to hear. "I've cut my hair," she exclaimed and then she muttered, gasped. "I had to have it done because I'm not going to be a little girl any more, on shows or cards in my next picture."

TRIED TO BRIBE POLICE OFFICER

James Brennan of Point Anne Is Convicted On Double Charge

James Brennan, of Point Ann, appeared before Magistrate Mikel this morning in Police court facing two charges, the one that he was inebriated last night and the other that he had in his possession a bottle of liquor without having a permit.

Brennan was convicted on both these charges by the Magistrate and was fined $10 and costs on the one count and $10 and costs on the other. The costs amounted to $9.

The Provincial Police, who arrested him, declared in court today that Brennan had tried to bribe them to let him go away, offering $10. Brennan vigorously denied this, and also denied being drunk, and having liquor in his possession.

The accused man was represented by Mr. Bertram Arnold, of Porter, Payne and Arnott.

STAGE SET FOR V. O. N. TAG DAY

Victorian Order Nurses Committee Appeal For Support Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Saturday June 23rd is the day chosen by the local Victorian Order of Nurses Committee for the fourth annual V.O.N. Tag Day.

As is well known, the Victorian Order of Nurses has been operating for some four years ago, and since that time the services have been daily received here in this city. Since, however, no remuneration is received for much of the assistance given by the nurses, sources of funds other than fees are necessary in order that the nursing staff be maintained here.

The Women's Club has assisted great by both financially and through the donation of another car recently, and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company also supports the work; for the rest, the V. O. N. committee appeals to the public through its Annual Tag Day. Chairmain E. D. Pinkis of the committee announces that the organization will are the usual generous response as in the past on the part of the public.

VETERAN ACTOR DIES AT COUNTRY HOME

Atlantic Highlands, N.J., June 23.—Robert D. Mantell, veteran Shakespearean actor and producer, is seriously ill at his country home, Bruceswood here, it was learned today. Mr. Mantell, who is 74 years old, suffered a grave nervous breakdown last month.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GAINS FREEDOM

Convicted After Accident Is Given Suspended Sentence of Six Months

Ralph McDonald, who about two weeks ago drove into the rear end of a hauler car on the Dundas road and was arrested and charged with being drunk while in charge of a car was given six months suspended sentence by Magistrate Mikel on the second appearance of the McDonald case in police court this morning. In giving the boys their freedom he stated that further occurrences of the kind will result in their being sent to an institution. They must pay all costs in connection with the case.

FILM DIRECTOR

Irving Fisher

A likely angle to the U.S. presidential campaign was revealed on Thursday when supporters of Al. Smith, the Democrat, threatening to go to court to prevent Prof. Irving Fisher, above, lecturing in movie houses on the evils of prohibition. Fisher is now making a picture called 'Deliverance' for release to Y.M.C.A. and church groups. In the film Smith is ostensibly signing the bill which repealed the Mullan-Gage state prohibition act.

YOUTHS ENTERED SUMMER HOMES

Magistrate Finds Boys Guilty And Suspends Sentence

For some time past cottagers at Moira Lake have been missing articles from their summer camps and despite a vigilant watch on the areas of the miscreants were found. Mr. A. L. Connor, Madoc, was visiting his cottage Thursday recently, and as he entered, he heard rustling and strange noises in the rear of the cottage. Investigation he found two boys in the kitchen apparently prowling around looking for valuables. Mr. Connor held the boys in custody and turned them over to the police. The case was heard in Police court held at Madoc last night. The two boys were charged with trespassing and housebreaking and were arraigned before Magistrate Casement. The youths, Gerald Pullen and William Johnston, both residing near Moira Lake, pleaded not guilty and were defended by George White. Mr. Connor was represented by Frank Baskin of Madoc. After the evidence was taken Magistrate Casement found the youths guilty and in view of their extreme youth he suspended sentence. In giving the boys their freedom he stated that further occurrences of the kind will result in their being sent to an institution. They must pay all costs in connection with the case.

Hold-Up Artist of Wide Reputation Suspected Leader

LOSS HIGHER

Believed To Be Same Gang Held Up Detroit News Office

Toronto, June 22.—Apart from the fact the local police believe the six bandits, who perpetrated the sensational mail car robbery at the Union Station early Wednesday morning are in hiding in Toronto, over sixty hours of intense man hunting has yielded no developments in the chase of the gunmen, it is stated that the police feel certain that they are definitely on the trail of the robbers.

The leader of the gang is believed to be a well known hold-up artist and one of the shrewdest and most desperate criminals on the continent, who is charged with nearly a dozen similar robberies, including a recent hold-up of the Detroit News. Local police are informed that he was seen in Toronto the night before the robbery. A further check up on the account of the money taken shows that the haul was greater than at first believed. It is now thought that the estimate of $125,000 made yesterday is too low. One bank is known to have lost a parcel containing $70,000. In the mail car, not forfeitable securities to the value of $130,000 were found.

BOYS' WORK BOARD ARRANGE FOR CAMP

The Camp Committee of the Boys' Work Board will hold an executive meeting at the Y.M.C.A. tonight at 8 o'clock, the purpose of which is to complete arrangements for the Boys' Camp at Moira Lake which opens on the second of July and will continue until the 18th. During the two weeks at the camp, over sixty boys will be given an outing, and the camp will be filled to capacity for more than ever this year. It will be under the very capable supervision of Ralph Morden and some of the members of the Y's Men's Club, so parents need feel no uneasiness with regards to the safety of their children.

PREPARING FOR ANNUAL PARADE

Argyll Regiment Will Undergo Inspection Next Thursday

Next Thursday evening will see the annual inspection of the 49th Light Infantry, probably to take place at the Fair Grounds. It did last year, but this has not definitely decided.

Colonel W. H. Anderson, O.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., will be the inspecting officer, and in all probabilities the general will be Brigadier Gregg No. 1 will accompany him. Colonel Anderson was recently moved to Kingston from Toronto as Area Commander.

The regiment is putting the final touches to its annual inspection parade and should present a spic and span appearance when it is inspected by Colonel W. B. Anderson.

APOLOGY

The Editor of The Intelligencer wishes to apologize to Mr. Freeborn, of Grand Island, Michigan, whose the article appearing at the bottom of columns 3 and 4 of page one of our issue of Thursday, June 21st, headed "Dancing Chess Causes Smiles While Clocks Tick-em". The statements as published were quite contrary to the fact and untrue, and The Intelligencer regrets exceedingly that it published the paragraph above mentioned and takes this opportunity of apologizing to Mr. Freeborn and the readers of this paper its sincere regrets for having published the same.

The Daily Intelligencer understands that Mr. Freeborn is a gentleman of splendid reputation and at the present time is engaged on an advertising campaign with the Commercial Club of this city. We again express to him our regrets for the misleading statements contained in our issue of June 21st.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Confidence placed in another often compels confidence in return.

—LIVY.

BETTER COWS SHOW A GREATER PROFIT.

Newspapers of western Ontario are giving special position to an item telling of a calf which brought a price of $5,500 to its owners in a recent sale. It is unnecessary to point out that the animal was a thoroughbred of high type. The incident should teach all farmers that it pays to raise the highest quality of stock and indeed same principle might be extended to all branches of farm product. Nor is there any reason for limiting the lesson to the farmers. People in all walks of commercial and industrial life might well remember that it pays to produce articles of quality.

There are some farmers who make light of the contention that thoroughbred stock is the only kind of stock worth raising. It costs just as much in feed to raise a mondescript steer as it does a thoroughbred animal, but there is a big difference in the results on the days of the sale.

Farmers are coming to a better realization of the truth of this statement as the years go by. The competition engendered at the annual shows, does much to instil interest in quality production, and to convince stock breeders of its value. At one time the annual fair was regarded as an occasion for a holiday, but today it is viewed as an opportunity for education and when we find a single cow bringing a price of $5,500 it would appear as if this education is producing results.

HELP KEEP ROADS SAFE FOR DRIVING.

What is everybody's business is nobody's business. This seems to be particularly true with regard to assistance which the police should receive in the enforcement of the motor laws. There is not a single motorist whose interests are not affected and whose liberties are not being encroached upon, every time a man in charge of an automobile breaks a traffic law.

It is utterly impossible for police officers to be on the ground to detect every offence. Other motorists see reckless, careless and even criminal drivers breaking the law every day — breaking it in out-of-the-way places where there are no police officers to lay information. If people had their own best interests, and the interests of the general public at heart, they would report to the proper authorities, every offender whom they find transgressing against the Motor Vehicle Act. It is only in this way that the law can be enforced and examples made for the benefit of offenders and others tempted to offend. And yet how often do you find a private citizen laying a charge against a motorist, unless he happens to have been personally injured by him?

The suggestion has been made that Motor Clubs throughout the country should have the authority to appoint Vigilant Committees to patrol the highways and lay informations against people who disregard the law. While this sort of system leaves itself open to serious abuses, it is at least an honest suggestion in an attempt to correct a great evil.

Every citizen who is sincere in his advocacy of law enforcement owes it as a duty not only to himself but also his fellow-beings to constitute himself a temporary police officer when he sees flagrant abuse of traffic regulations, and at least see that the proper officers are acquainted with the particulars of the offence. If something like this is not done the time is coming shortly when no man will be safe on the highways.

THE PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 36 years ago.)

An enjoyable social was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Sidney Town Hall Methodist Church, last evening. Rev. J. C. Willmott, M. A., occupied the chair and an address on "Temperance" was delivered by Rev. R. Duke of Foxboro.

There will be a cricket match between Lydford and Oxford-Lodges S. O. E. at Massassaga Park on July 1st.

Rev. C. W. Walch, the new pastor of Hillcrest Street Church, with his family, arrived in the city today and received a warm reception from his congregation.

Seven members of the Quinte Gun Club shot last evening in the first monthly competition for a badge. Mr. W. H. H. Fenton was the winner and will wear the badge for a month.

Ex-Ald. M. Graham is seriously ill.

Dr. Curlett, Green St. is confined to his home through illness.

Mrs. A. W. Pickle and Mrs. Moody returned today from a trip to New York.

Mrs. D. M. Waters is entertaining her friends at a progressive euchre this evening.

"I don't. A lot of bunk and you never get anywhere."

Reporter—Well, I congratulate you. It is a great honor to be the oldest in habitant.

Native—Yes, sir, I know; but what makes it so funny is that my old woman is older than me, but she won't admit it.

Claude—They say brunettes have sweeter dispositions than blondes.

Horace—Well, my wife has been both and I can't see any difference.

Barrister to red-nosed motorist—"On the night in question did you drink several large whiskies?"

Red-nosed motorist—"That's my business."

Barrister—"I know it's your business. But were you attending to it?"

JUNE NIGHTS.

You might travel the earth till your strength did swoon,
And you ached in every bone,
Ere you'd find the like of these nights in June,
In our fragrant Northern Zone.

The weary goslings home from the bog
Whisper and sigh and croon;
And far in the night a tuneless dog
Doth bay at the smiling moon.

The frogs they chant in the weedy pool
Where nests the lonely loon;
And the lambs they lie on the grasses cool,
And they wonder at the moon.

Somebody's out at the garden gate,
Smiling beneath the moon;
He's there for his answer and will not wait,
Oh, I know what will happen soon!

July was made for the "Glorious Twelfth!"
And March for St. Patrick's Day;
Last month, I think, was chiefly made
For the twenty-fourth of May.

But every day in the month of June,
'Tis so the law provides,
Was made for maiden, swain and moon,
For birds and buds and brides.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Boston police are under orders to prosecute motorists who needlessly blow horns. This ought to reduce the volume of noise sufficiently to enable us to hear the squealing of the brakes—Boston Transcript.

These motorized Sundays are becoming so strenuous it will soon safe to drive to church.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Life consists of trying to put one's stocks over par and one's golf under par.—Financial Post.

A year ago the United States had a real hero, a courageous and modest young man. If Lindbergh is the same unspoiled boy today he was a year ago, then he is one of the most exceptional of human beings. If, as Mr. Howe claims, he has a head the size of a pumpkin then the people have almost succeeded in making ridiculous a name that a year ago became a household word. Hero worship is all very well in modest doses. Overdone it becomes tiresome and the hero is the helpless victim.—Garnia Canadian Observer.

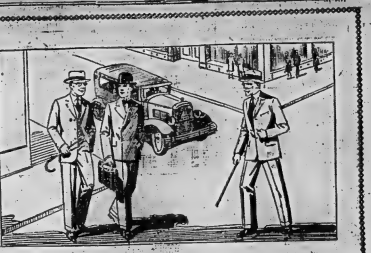

Just Stories

Standish O'Grady, Irishman of letters, recently died at Shanklin, Isle of Wight, at the age of 81. He will be long remembered in Ireland as the man who first revealed to readers in English the splendor and romance of the mythical period of Irish history. These lay buried in the voluminous ancient Gaelic manuscripts in the libraries of the Royal Irish Academy and Trinity College, Dublin. He, by his graphic and poetic pen, brought the heroic characters to life again. O'Grady followed this up by doing equally fine work in the field of authentic Irish history, which took the form of a series of tales and stories dealing principally with Elizabethan Ireland. He was regarded as the originator of the 'Celtic Renaissance,' which, according to Matthew Arnold, brought into English poetry "its turn for style, its turn for melancholy, its turn for natural magic." His prose was of the highest order.

HOTELS CROWDED.

The tourist traffic is becoming so heavy that the tourists have difficulty in find hotel accommodation. Last night, especially, was it difficult to procure a room in any hotel in Belleville, and this condition will probably continue for the greater part of the summer.

INSTRUCTOR TO ADDRESS BOYS.

Mr. Frank Austin of the C. N. Railways has agreed to give the boys who attend camp this year a talk on "First Aid." Frank has been assisting in this good work for the past two years and the committee is more than pleased to know that he will give the boys and their leaders a demonstration of how injuries should be dealt with prior to the arrival of a physician. Frank is very popular with the boys and his visit although short will be looked forward to by all.

T'S MEN HELP ORGANIZE.

The Y's Men's Club has offered to organize a work party for the purpose of putting the camp site at Moira Lake in first class shape ready for the arrival of the boys on July 3rd. During the winter someone entered the dining hall and broke through a section of the floor and this together with getting the grounds in shape will require some manual labour. President George Pauley should be able to render a good piece of service if he can get a large number of his gang on the job. "Come on in the water is fine will be the high sign when workers slip forth with the dock and the diving tower. The Y's Men have agreed to stand any expense in connection with repairs.

PARTY CANCELLED

Owing to the threatening weather and to other indications the Belleville Club which had planned to hold an out door masters banquet at "Glen Ayre" on the Trent Highway have called this meeting off and will not convene again until last September. A most excellent year has been enjoyed by the Club, and although there will be no more meetings until the Fall, their work will not stop, as each member will have one or two nights' through the summer when they will be required to preside at the office 'Y' in order to give the officials a few nights to themselves. Work will also be done by the members at the Lake Camp.

PLAYED IN NAPANEE.

Tom Mason's Musicians journeyed to Napanee last evening where they entertained the members of the Napanee Golf Club with their music until an early hour this morning. This is a new organization in Belleville but it has already made a good name for itself and the boys are masters of their instruments, and when they have a little more experience together will undoubtedly be one of the leading orchestras in the district.

TO VISIT BOYS CAMP.

Mr. McCutcheon has agreed to give the campers at the Boys Camp an inspirational talk sometime during the two weeks camp which will be open from July 2nd to 14th, inclusive. Mr. McCutcheon has had considerable experience in camp work and he will certainly add greatly to the program which is being lined up by the committee.

BELLEVILLE CLUB MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the Belleville Club will be held at eight o'clock this evening at the Club rooms, and all members are requested to attend. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting, so a full turnout is expected.

ARRIVED SAFELY.

Crown Attorney Bryan C. Donnan this morning received a cablegram from Mrs. Donnan who is visiting the Old Country, that she had arrived at her destination safely. The boat on which Mrs. Donnan sailed arrived in Liverpool, England.

FALSE PRETENSES.

H. Van Walker this morning, appeared in police court charged with obtaining credit under false pretenses, via Wagner paid a fine and was placed on a farm job far from Belleville. The case was adjourned for one week. The provincial police arrested Wagner.

TEA AT ST. GEORGES

In spite of the downpour of rain Thursday afternoon, St. George's Sunday School was a popular centre of activity, when a sale of home cooking and afternoon tea was served. The Sunday School was prettily decorated for the occasion varieties of flowers and the tea tables were very inviting. Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Rose served the tea assisted by members of the Guild. All visitors were graciously received and served at home by Mrs. Trump, President of the Guild.

MAY_LAY SIDING

The morning several of the laborers could be seen in the laying of a siding at the old Tyer Tire and Rubber Company plant were on the property, along with Mr. Logie who is the Canadian National Engineer in this city, and plans will be drawn up and submitted to the Railway Board for their consideration. R. J. Graham, owner of the property has offered to pay five thousand dollars of the cost if the city and the Railway will pay the remainder. This is probably the best factory site in the city, and no doubt a siding at this point would make the place inviting for some large industry.

GARDEN PARTY WAS SUCCESSFUL

Although the Garden Party at the Children's Shelter was not held on the date last night it had been originally intended due to the rain, the program was carried on inside the building and it was certainly enjoyed by all present.

Considering the weather, a large crowd was on hand, and over $60.00 was taken as profit. The Argyll Band rendered the music which was in keeping with their usual high calibre, while a Fish Pond, Home-Cooking booth and refreshments counter kept many busy. Miss Harris, matron of the Shelter, is to be complimented on the success of the evening, as well as those others who were associated with her.

AFTERNOON TEA AT MRS. DOLAN'S

Catholic Women's League Held Delightful Affair

Under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League a delightful tea was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Dolan, Victoria Ave. The rooms were beautifully decorated with cut flowers for the occasion and the guests were received by Mrs. J. P. Dolan and Mrs. P. Flagler, President of the League.

In connection with the tea there was a table devoted to the sale of home cooking presided over by Mrs. J. Lafferty and Mrs. J. Fahey and a novelty "touch and take" booth was in charge of Mrs. Mulligan.

The guests were conducted to the tea room by Miss K. Dolan and Mrs. A. B. Collins. The tea table looked lovely, decorated with pink carnations in silver candlesticks and centred with a large bowl of iris and peonies. Mrs. Joseph Polis and Mrs. F. Fitzpatrick presided, pouring tea and was assisted in serving by members of the League by committee. Mrs. P. S. Anderson acted as treasurer for the occasion. A popular attraction was the "fortune telling" booth with Miss B. Riordan acting as fortune teller.

During the afternoon a reading by Miss A. Lafferty and a vocal number by Miss Lillian Manley added much to the entertainment of the function.

HEAVY BUYING IN AMITY TODAY

Amulet Takes Another Plunge Due To Late Report

The market continued rather quiet today and holds up surprisingly well all things considered. There certainly is no rush of sellers. Amo and Amity were stronger and quite active, the former selling up 8 points to 38 at one time. Amity was up 5 points at 48 and Darry was active but off 2 points. Amulet was also in the active class but sold down 24 points to 34 probably on account of no official news being available for a month yet. Reports of Hollinger's Bay were firm Malartic up four points to $1.30. Noranda has been running up hard and fast and apparently the operation today by again passing it over the previous close of $17.50. Sud bury Basin sold up $10.10 and Vipond at $9.50 10 points better than yesterday's close. Closing quotations were Homer L. Gibson & Co., Ltd., Jamieson Bone, Manager.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

WILLIAM EASTON.

William Easton passed away at an early hour this morning at the residence of his son, Robert Easton, 383 Ann St. The deceased was born in Thurlow Township, 84 Oct. 28rd 1843 and had lived on the Third Concession, Thurlow, practically all his life, moving to Belleville seven years ago. He was a faithful adherent of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by a widow, three daughters, Lela of Toronto; Libby of Ottawa and Mrs. Robert Peacock of Thurlow; two sons, George of Sidney and Robert of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Isaac McCutcheon and Mrs. P. J. Casey, of Belleville, and one brother, George of Chicago.

EMILY CATHERINE PHILLIPS

The funeral of the late Mrs. E. M. Phillips took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence, 4th Concession of Thurlow to Victoria Cemetery. Rev. Farnsworth conducted the service at the home and at the grave. The home was filled with sorrowing friends, and many flowers testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were C. Cole, R. Miller, W. Yateman, W. Sills, S. Cooley and W. Bradshaw.

MARY HAWLEY

The remains of the late Miss Mary Hawley were laid to rest yesterday afternoon, the funeral service taking place from the late residence, 31 Queen St., the service being taken by the Rev. Dr. Mabee, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Baker and the Rev. Dr. J. P. Wilson. Interment was made in Riverside Cemetery, Napanee. Many beautiful floral offerings were in evidence and a large number of friends were present. The bearers, Judge Deroche, C. A. Cameron, L. W. Read, Paul Phillips, F. S. Deacon and E. P. Frederick.

BLANCHARD—VANALLEN

John St. United Church was the scene of a pretty June wedding at high noon today when Miss Phyllis Lenore Vanallen, elder daughter of Mrs. Constance Vanallen of this city became the bride of Mr. Melvin Lloyd Blanchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Blanchard of Seaforth, Ont. The Reverend A. E. Cragg performed the ceremony.

The bride was charmingly attired in a wedding gown of white georgette crepe made along simple lines. Her wedding veil of tulle was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bridal bouquet a pale pink sweetheart rose. Miss Gladys Sheppherson acted as bridesmaid and wore a pretty frock of rose georgette. She wore a bandeau of rose tulle in her hair and her bouquet was of deep pink roses. Little Miss Hope Allison Vanderwater was flower girl in a dainty little frock of organdy and she carried a basket of flowers. Mr. Edward Lally performed the duties of best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum fox fur.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at St. Agnes' Manor where some thirty guests were in attendance.

After the reception the young couple

WORK YOUR WAY—DON'T DEPEND UPON LUCK

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Business Psychologist.

It's so easy to take it easy and to wait for luck to help you out. It's so easy just to slide through.

It's so easy to get away with little work, little thought, little planning, and for a time, to fool yourself, perhaps others as well.

Big shots, a do-nothing policy of watchful waiting for luck and opportunity to come knocking at the door is not the way to build for a big career.

Nobody can afford to sit still, hold back, and wait. Freedom and equality, as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, does not imply that we are going to be pushed ahead without effort on our own part.

There's a lot of idle, silly talk about luck, pull, inspiration and all that sort of thing. It's perfectly true that circumstances often shape themselves in a happy way without any apparent effort on the part of the person benefited.

But what good is this sort of luck, what wealth it if opportunity does knock unbidden at the door—if the opportunity is not seized and brought to fulfillment

Inspiration! Anyone who creates—whether it be poet, novelist, painter, designer, inventor, builder of business, or what not, would starve if he sat idly by, waiting for inspiration—for luck, in other words.

Even geniuses in creative lines must knuckle down and work. If the luck or inspiration does not come to the rescue, they must work and try to make it appear.

Even if you have the luck, no matter what its kind or quality, you've got to bolster up that luck with real worth-while achievement on your own part in order to reach Class A.

And if you happen to be lucky enough to be born wealthy, or have advantages denied others, that is no reason for taking it easy. That is the very reason you should show your gratitude for such luck by working harder than ever—even harder than anybody else.

Waiting for luck has spoiled many a man who started life with a good brain and plenty of possibilities for making a name for himself.

Waiting for luck is soothing for the time being. But a day of retribution is sure to follow.

And then, when you find that luck did not come after all, or that luck deserted you—then it may be too late to knuckle down and make good.

By then luck will have spoiled you.

Waiting for luck will have sapped your best powers.

You will be flabby and spineless at a time when you should be robust and vigorous. Keep your mind in trim always.

Master yourself so that you can do so you will.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I saw in the paper where three girls wrote you for advice and signed their names. I think I would like to correspond with these girls. Please send me their address.

B. L.

P. S.: I am sorry Mr. B. L., that I cannot give you the answers you ask. My correspondence is held in the strictest confidence, and you therefore see how impossible it would be for me to comply with your request.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We are two girls in our early teens and would like to know the following:

1.—Which side of the sidewalk should the boy walk on if he is walking with two girls?

2.—Is it proper to chew gum in public?

3.—Is it proper to ask a boy to take you to a place of amusement?

R. & M.

R. & M.:1.—On the side nearest the curb.

2.—Absolutely NO. It's a vulgar habit and should not be indulged in public.

3.—Most improper. The young man should ask the lady and she may then state her preference.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my late teens, and I met a young man last September. I care for him very much and at first he seemed to care for me. But now he only comes about once a month. I would like to know if he really does care for me or not. BROKEN-HEARTED.

BROKEN-HEARTED: It may be that this young man does not want you to pin your hopes on him—he may not be in a position to think of marriage. At any rate, don't question him about his apparent neglect. Accept his invitations, chat with him about the things he cares about, and make this friendship a lovely thing. Then, he will respond in kind. In the meantime go out with your other friends and try not to think of love too seriously just yet.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a boy sixteen years of age, but I can't seem to mix with other young people of my age. I don't know whether it's because of my shortness of not, but all the girls pass me by.

Another of my shortcomings is talking. I can't think of anything to say when I'm talking with a girl.

Will you please advise me on these things?

B. A. R.

B. A. R.: You must learn to overcome your shyness, my friend. When you are talking to a girl forget her sex and chat about anything of mutual interest. Surely you must have something in common with your young friends. Friendships are a give and take—an exchange of thoughts, ideas and conversation. Remember this and forget your height.

All that is required is to hold a spoon in a flame until it becomes very hot; that not hot enough to burn clean it, then insert the bowl in the loop of the ribbon, drawing it slowly round till the ribbon becomes smooth.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 45.
NEW TROUBLES.

"How dare you!" said Celia, as Palconer kissed her. "How dare you!" Her mother's scattered exclamation cut across her consciousness like a knife.

"Why, Celia, darling, how can you speak so to your husband, because he kisses you?"

Celia gained control of herself in an effort to hide her utter confusion.

"I was only pretending, dearest, really. Did I startle you?" She turned to Falconer, with her best effort at an arch smile. "You understood, didn't you?"

"Of course," he laughed. "I've a little wildcat of a wife, Mother Drew. She likes to torment me."

The incident passed, but Celia, later in the day, saw her mother regarding her worriedly.

To Falconer she had said furiously, after they had been sick-room.

"How could you be such a beast as to kiss me in presence of me like that? Have you no heart at all?"

He answered coolly: "I didn't think it a crime, dear."

Something in his tone, his glance, disturbed her. She told Gwen about it when they met that afternoon at the country club.

Falconer was playing golf with a foursome. Gwen and Celia found a secluded corner in the lounge and ordered tea.

Gwen shrugged over the recital.

"I thought as . . . Remember what I said the other day about the danger of Falconer's exposing you to being as abate now as it was at first? . . . Well, what I meant, was this: the man is losing in love with you."

Celia gave a little cry.

"Oh, Gwen, that would be too awful!"

"I don't think so. I believe that, if he really cared, you might be able to manage him more easily, coax him into leaving."

"But don't you see the danger?" Celia argued desperately. "As long as I'm a mainstay a tool, and my house a place of refuge, we get along fairly well. But, if he falls in love with me . . . . He's posing as my husband, before the world. . . . Suppose he demands that I marry him? If I refuse, he'll tell Mother and the whole town what I've been doing. He just reckless and vindictive enough for that."

"Of course, I see your point," sarcastically Gwen. "But don't cross that bridge till you come to it. If I were you, I'd play him along. When a man of his type falls, he falls hard, and a woman can generally wrap him around her little finger."

"Not Dick Falconer," replied Celia bitterly.

Gwen said: "Another thing, Celia. Are you being very careful about the Page person? . . . Because I've heard rumors. I think she's on to the fact that you keep Falconer locked up at night in your father's laboratory—or, at least, she suspects something of the sort. And she's hinted her suspicions very broadly to some of our chattiest matrons. I'd advise you to be very nice to Falconer in public, because there's talk that you and he are not in complete accord."

Celia's head drooped.

"Oh, Heaven, what next ?

"I know, dear girl, it's beastly. Troubles simply roll up on one, don't they, once the Goddess of misfortune turns her back?"

"And that little wretch — the Page woman — watches the mail like a hawk. Jim Annesley's letters continue to come — vague luck — and I can't always get them out from under her nose in time. She'll be saying next that I'm corresponding with some man in New York while my husband is right there in the house."

"Sh!" warned Gwen, in an undertone. "Here comes Tom Harrington."

Tom came strolling toward them across the lounge, very smart in riding-togs.

He greeted Celia diffidently and cast an imploring glance at Gwen, who nodded, saying:

"I promised to take a hand at bridge with Mrs. Atmsworth's party. See you two later."

Tom seated himself beside Celia. She found herself trembling absurdly. She discovered that Tom was staring stupidly at the platinum band on the third finger of her left hand.

She managed to say lightly: "I haven't seen you for a long time. How are you, Tom?"

But Tome had no ability for subterfuge. He burst out miserably:

"Celia, are you happy?"

And she answered, playing he role well:

"Divinely so, Tom."

He sighed, turning away. She asked carelessly:

"May I give you tea?"

He shook his head. "Thanks bo . . ." After that, there was awkward silence. But what words were possible? Celia asked herself. Tom still loved her; this was obvious. He had recovered quickly from the fury that had led him to dash blindly from his father's office-building that night, refusing the explanation of an incident that later had had such disastrous results.

She wondered if he had suffered as she had. They were still sitting there in miserable silence when Falconer came blithely in from the links.

It was the first time the two men had met.

Motherhood!

Peterboro, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was very beneficial to me. I had become all run-down, tired, weak and miserable, had no appetite and my nerves were all upset. I saw the Prescription advertised as being helpful to women, so I decided to try it. It built me up, quieted my nerves, gave me an appetite and I got along in the remainder of the time—was able to do all my own work. I had comparatively no suffering, and my baby was very strong and healthy."—Mrs. Lottie Blaney, 301 Townsend St.

LADIES' AUXILIARY OF CANADIAN LEGION PRESENTED WITH CHARTER

Rev. A. L. Geen, Chaplain, Speaks of Work Being Done

Before a large audience of appreciative listeners at the Canadian Legion, last night, the Charter was presented to the Ladies Auxiliary of the British Empire Service League, by Rev. A. L. Geen, The Canadian Legion is a branch of the above named Service League, and has done a great deal of good work among the families of deceased soldiers in Belleville as well as other places. The meeting opened with a two-minute silence in memory of the comrades who fell overseas.

Major Reg. Bumpstead presided as chairman of the evening, and fulfilled his duties in a very capable manner. In a few words he expressed his appreciation to the Ladies Auxiliary, which is a very necessary adjunct to every post of the Canadian Legion, and then told of the time some years ago when Sir Arthur Currie was made a member of the Legion. Up until that time Sir Arthur had done very little Legion work, but since being made a member of the Legion at Belleville has been quite active and now is the President of the Dominion Legion.

Mayor Duff told of some of the work which the Ladies Auxiliary had already accomplished, and declared that without the women, much of the unfortunates which featured the work of the Legion in Belleville would no doubt be lacking. He expressed the feeling of the city as a whole and himself in particular when he declared that the work of the ladies was a great factor in helping the families of deceased soldiers to re-establish themselves when the head of the family had been taken away.

Rev. A. L. Geen Presented Charter.

Rev. A. L. Geen, Chaplain of Post 99, Canadian Legion, Belleville, next presented the charter to Mrs. R. Bumpstead, who is the head of the Ladies Auxiliary. He told of the high honour which had been bestowed upon him when he was made chaplain, but thought that an even greater honour had befallen him when he was chosen to present this charter to the ladies. The motto of the Auxiliary is 'Service,' and they have certainly lived up to their motto for the good they have done is far reaching in its effects.

Their work will be remembered long after the individuals themselves have been forgotten, Rev. Geen declared, and even though they failed to reap their reward here, they certainly would in Heaven, and no doubt countless people in this country already appreciate the work which the Legion and its Ladies Auxiliary have done. Rev. Geen is a most fascinating speaker, and his address sparkled with humour which held the audience in high spirits.

As soon as the presentation was made, Miss Jean Knight presented a large and beautiful basket of flowers to Mrs. Bumpstead, who thanked the ladies and also replied to the presentation of the Charter. In nine and one half months, the Ladies Auxiliary have raised over one thousand dollars and now intend and expect to rent a cottage on the Bay shore where widows and their children could stay during the months of July and August, Mrs. Bumpstead thanked the ladies for the support they had given her during her term in office, saying that she could not have hoped to accomplish the work which had been done without their whole-hearted support.

Master David Bradford favored with a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Bumpstead and Comrade Dolder, sang a comic song which was well received, accompanied by Mr. Dolder. Mr. M. Sprance also gave a solo and Mrs. Bradford rendered a reading during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Semmler put on their dancing act, and to say the least it was good. They were heartily encored and obliged the audience by coming back twice.

Short speeches were made by the Rev. J. Lyons, of St. Thomas Church, the Rev. C. E. Clarke, of Christ Church and the President of the Belleville Legion, Mr. J. D. Batchelor. John Elliott also said a few words. Those on the platform were Rev. J. Lyons, Rev. C. E. Clarke, Mayor Duff, R. Bumpstead, Rev. A. L. Geen, J. D. Batchelor and John Elliott. The name of Mrs. Bradford was inadvertently omitted in the account of the meeting on Tuesday evening and this is regretted by this paper, as she took a prominent part in the pr gram of that evening.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. H. Melburn and family wish to thank their many friends for kindness and sympathy during their recent bereavement, also for beautiful flowers received.

EQUESTRIANS IN SPARKS CIRCUS

Stables Include Many Fine Arabian And German Horses

Manager Charles Sparks of the Sparks Circus which exhibits in Belleville on Friday, June 29, prides himself on two things—his ability to raise blooded horses, and his ability to select charming girls to ride them.

At Macon, Ga., where Mr. Sparks maintains his home and where the winter quarters of the circus are located, are his large training barns, where much time is devoted to the training of the splendid steeds which play so prominent a part in his circus. Although a large corps of expert horsemen are retained there all year round as an enormous expense, Mr. Sparks gives his horses his personal attention.

While he has specialized in native breeds, his stables include a number of fine Arabian and German horses and all trained to a remarkable degree of equine intelligence—the latter group of stallions being a recent importation from Stellingben, Germany and are valued at the modest sum of forty thousand dollars. But it takes more than perfect horses to make an exhibition of equestrianism complete and attractive. The fine, sleek, well kept animals are shown at their best only when ridden by pretty girls. Here Mr. Sparks finds his southern home locally located, for within a short riding are hundreds of beautiful girls—Georgia Peaches' in birth and looks—from whom he selects his dashing equestriennes who have

A western photo-drama that has been playing to enthusiastic audiences at the Belle Theatre, The Arizona Wildcat is nearing the end of its run and will have a final showing tomorrow.

Tom Mix and his great horse, Tony show that they can always create something new in the way of thrills. The story was written especially for them by Adela Rogers St. Johns, author of many best sellers. Dorothy Sebastian and a fine cast support Tom.

REGENT THEATRE

Not in many a day has a photo-play contained more real human interest and comedy than Fox Films "High School Hero," which opened for three days at the Regent Theatre yesterday. This picture is a fast moving comedy drama of the modern American youth. It shows this great American Institution, the high school, as it is, full of clean life and fun. It revolves around the story of two boys who are rivals for the same girl and all of the intricacies involved in trying to win the girl.

YANKEES SAVED BY A DOWNPOUR

Ruth Got 26th Home Run But It Doesn't Count As Game Was Called

New York, June 22.—With the aid of cold Jupe Pave, a rugged lad with a goodly arm either hand, the Yankees gained a full game on the merry Macgraws of Cornelius Mcmcneedy yesterday.

After young Hank Johnson had hung a 4 to 0 thrashing on the astonished Mr. Robert Grove in the first encounter, the Athletics sailed forth and began to bit Waite Hoyt with everything but the kitchen stove. One run was in, men were on third and second, with one out, and the visiting firemen were a tally to the good when Jupe Pave charged in the rescue of the hapless champions.

Old Jupe turned on a fancy brand of wet goods and Mr. Hoyt staggered pitifully to the bench when Umpire George Hildebrand suspended hostilities. After waiting a reasonable length of time, the umpires called the game, thus Mr. Hoyt was saved by the bell.

The only Yankee who was annoyed by this turn of events was C. H. Ruth, Mr. Ruth did not hold a snake section and throw his hat over the fence bar, for in the first inning he had hit his twenty-sixth homer of the season, and now it stood as such and Mr. Ruth will have to go back to number 25 and start all over again. The Boston Red Sox have only pounded two Washington pitchers for eleven hits and won, 8-2, at Washington.

The Red Sox bunched their attack in the second and fourth innings, respectively scoring four and three runs. Berry and Myer took the Boston hitting honors with three hits apiece.

Revengeful themselves for the relief pitching of Willis Hudlin, which sent them to defeat in the first game, Chicago came from behind and, with a three-run ninth inning rally, clinched the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland. The Sox were scored out in the first, 4-3, but won the second, 4-3.

In the first game, Hudlin stepped in when Walter Miller was driven from the box in the fifth and proceeded to hold the Sox hitless for 4 and 2-3 innings. Joe Shantz allowed only four hits for eight innings of the second the deciding runs.

C. O. R. I. STANDING

The Central Ontario League standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Belleville	6	2	.750
Kingston	4	4	.500
Deloro	3	3	.500
Oshawa	3	4	.429
Peterborough	2	5	.286

The race is thus so close that only a game and one half separates the last four teams. On Saturday Oshawa plays in Deloro and Belleville will be in Peterboro.

NATIONALS HELP PETES SATURDAY

Hope To Gain Another Lap In Central League Race

Belleville Nationals will play in Peterboro tomorrow and they will need to be on their toes to take a fall out of Fred Twigg's boys at Riverside Park. The Petes have been playing splendid ball of late, and they are out to maintain their unbeaten record. The Petes are in a slump at the present time and have been playing miserable ball and the locals hope to stretch their win streak at Peterboro's expense tomorrow. Gibson is favored to start as he has had enough rest since the Oshawa game to put him in shape. The Nationals lost a tough game to Peterboro on their last appearance there when Cecil Hall cracked out a long one which Ash snared to end the pastime in sensational style. Again Walter Cerow may pitch Utzuski, saving Gibson for the return game with Oshawa on Wednesday. The fans should see the Lift-Lock City have soured on the Petes and the team will be out tomorrow to show the citizens of the Ozonsbee Metropolis that they are still very much in the hunt for the Johnston Cup. The boys will go to Peterboro by motor, leaving early tomorrow morning. The Peterboro Examiner giving the advance "dope" on the game says:

The story shows the made by the Petes Saturday and the things that have been said about it by the fans have kettled the whole squad and they declare that when Belleville lands here Saturday they will find themselves stacked up against different opposition. The Ballmakers are heading the loop at present and up to today had lost but two games, one to the Petes, game, but they pounded him heavily in the last inning, Cissel driving in

ST. LOUIS BROKE EVEN WITH CUBS

Hack Wilson And Fan Mixed In Argument On Playing Field

New York, June 22.— Sylvester Johnson held the Cubs to three hits in the second game of yesterday's double-header at Chicago and the St. Louis Cardinals won 4-1 to divide the contest.

The Cubs had taken the first game 9-1 after Sheriff Blake had let the Cardinals down with two hits. Bottomley led the St. Louis attack in the second game with a double and a triple. It was Charlie Root's fifth consecutive defeat.

The second game was held up in the ninth when Hack Wilson, Cubs' centerfielder, and a fan sought to settle an argument. A crowd of five thousand swarmed on the field before the police and players succeeded in parting the player and fan.

After Fred Fitzsimmons held the Braves to six hits and won the first game for the Giants, 8-3, at Boston, Arthur Delaney pitched the home entry to an even break by holding the Brooklyn McGraw to seven hits and nightcap to win, 3-1.

Johnny Cooper, making his first start in two years, was knocked off in the first inning of the opener by Bill Terry's seventh home run with two on base.

Rogers Hornsby's two doubles in the second game each drove in a run and helped tumble Larry Benton, who had won seven straight and a total of eleven. Benton extended his complete game record to 14 with two wins without relief for 127. It was his third defeat. The game was played in a chill east wind, yet only one error was made.

Cobb sacrifice fly in the ninth inning of yesterday's game at Pittsburgh allowed Pittsburgh to score, breaking a four to four deadlock and giving Cincinnati a 5-4 victory. Jablonowski's double followed Pittsburgh's single to advance what proved the winning run.

8 1-2 miles of paved streets support the Canadian National Exhibition traffic.

The Petes need a win in the worst way and they realize that they can't beat Belleville with the kind of ball they dished out last Saturday. They promise a new deal and a repetition of the win over the Railroaders three weeks ago.

FINE AND SEA

A Well Advised Holiday Tonic From The Maritimes

Spend this year's vacation by the seashore. Let the scent of the pine and the salty tang of the salt sea air help to fill the days with joyous health.

Ocean plunges every day—golfing, motoring—boating—tramping. Something to do every minute. Pictou Lodge in Nova Scotia is a well recommended resort hotel. Plenty of other accommodation too—cosy farm homes—inexpensive woodland resorts —or delightful havens on the seashore.

Any Canadian National Agent will give you information about the holiday possibilities of our Maritimes. Write or ask for illustrated literature. J1242

BEAVERS CLASH WITH KINGSTON

Kiwanis "Queens" Bringing Full Line-Up For Tonight's Game

The stage is set for the visit of the famous Kiwanis Queen's of Kingston who will cross bats with the Belleville Beavers on the armouries lawn tonight. The Kingston team is reputed to be a well-balanced one with Mr. Shaw well-known Kingston merchant acting as Manager and coach. The Queen's play in the northern section of Kingston City and what is known as Kiwanis Square and any teams invading that grounds know that they will be given a battle royal. The Queen's will bring their full line-up here tonight to do battle with the Beavers. Alan Meagher, Jackman, Johnny Kerr have been coaching the Beavers in the various indoor plays and following their game with the Point Anne team they hope to add another victory to their long string tonight. The Beavers have built an enviable reputation this year having won the most of their games played.

Alan Meagher will likely start Molly Gray on the mound tonight. She has been coming along splendidly and is one of the leading pitchers in the city. Spectators are reminded that only officials of the team, umpires and players will be allowed on the lawn in the interest of safety.

1927 Canadian National Exhibition attendance eclipsed all previous records with 1,870,000 visitors.

Why the High-Powered Car?

RARELY do you need all the braking capacity of your car—rarely do you need all its Power—all its Speed. Use your excess power as you use your excess brakes—the latter to keep you out of danger, the former to get you out. It is not the high speed car but the "high-speeding" car that is the menace.

Drivers must use the power of their cars with caution. The speed limit on the open highway is 35 miles per hour, or such lower speed as conditions may warrant. Careless or reckless driving will not be tolerated. Traffic officers on the highways and police in villages, towns and cities, will summons those who make the highways unsafe either by reckless or careless driving. Your driving becomes reckless the moment your car travels so fast that you cannot control it under any condition that may arise. This may be at 10 or 15 miles an hour, as well as at the higher speeds.

Care for your own safety and that of your passengers, courtesy to others on the road whether in vehicles or afoot—these are combined in the two words COMMON-SENSE. If you do not exercise Common-sense in your driving, you are a danger and nuisance to yourself, your friends and the public. Sooner or later you will come to grief—either through injury to yourself and others, or by the penalty of imprisonment or the loss of your right to drive a car.

The Highway Safety Committee is engaged in an effort to make the highways more safe for both motorists and pedestrians. It is appealing for the support of all who believe in decency and safety on the road. Those drivers who will not heed and who persist in breaking the law will be dealt with as the law demands.

CARE COURTESY COMMON SENSE

Highway Safety Committee

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Chairman—HON. CHS. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways. Secretary—F. B. MICKEL, Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

H. E. CARRUTHERS, Dep. Comm. Ed. of Trade
T.W. MORRISON, Asst. Gen. Mgr. Canadian Pacific Railway
HAYDN J. WILSON, Canmotor

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

All Editors, Heads of Municipal Governments, Police Chiefs, Presidents of Boards of Trade, Automobile Clubs and Service Clubs of the Province of Ontario.

Remember These 7 Rules for Safety

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape—particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a full view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

MRS. COOLIDGE RETURNS TO WASH.
Headlines in a Taunton, Mass. paper.)

A PLEASANT PROSPECT.
A farmer had persuaded one of his town friends to accompany him in his dog-cart on a jaunt into the country. The horse seemed to resent the stranger's presence, and, taking the bit between his teeth, bolted. "I say, Tom," said the townsman, "I'd give five pounds to be out o' this!" "Dash'd then be so lucky wi' the horses," replied his friend; "tha'll be out for nowt in a minnit."

KNEW ALL ABOUT IT.
"Have you heard about Mother, Ray?"
"Yes, mean Mother Abrahamsen!"
"Yeth, he went to Liverpool, 'emt into retail trade, in jewellery, and it thith: mathes he made a fortune of thirty thousand pounds."
"Oh, girls, I've heard, Abey, but you've got all the details wrong. It wasn't Liverpool, it was Birmingham, and it wasn't retail, it was wholesale, and it wasn't jewellery, it was furs, and it wasn't thousands of pounds, it was thirty thousand, and he didn't make the fortune, he lost it; and it was my money."

BREATHING EXERCISES.
Regular practice of deep, full breathing, as we pointed out last week, is extremely good—especially for the nerves, and anyone who is unduly excitable will find that breathing exercise in the morning will have a wonderful soothing effect. It also helps to inspire confidence and self-reliance, and strengthens mental and physical powers of endurance.

A simple exercise is to place the hands firmly on the hips, draw back the shoulders, and take in a deep breath through the nostrils without raising the shoulders. Mentally count five, then exhale the air slowly through the mouth. Repeat a dozen times, but do not expect to be perfect at the first attempt.

Another exercise is to stand firm with the arms flat by the sides, and slowly draw in a deep breath through the nostrils. Hold the breath in the lungs, raise the right arm round in a circle from front to back, then exhale the breath through the mouth. Repeat this six times; then do the same thing with the left arm, and finally with both arms together.

A third breathing exercise is to stand firm with the hands on the hips, and steadily inhale a good volume of fresh air. While "breathing in" bend the body from the waist as far forward as possible again—meanwhile exhaling the inhaled air.

Such breathing exercises, regularly practised, will increase general, mental, physical well-being; they will improve the figure and carriage, will tone up a depressed brain and give vitality to an apathetic face. You just cannot help getting such results if you practise regularly and perseveringly. Do not be down-hearted if things do not go right all at once; perfection and failure and spasmodic movement are inevitable at first, but practice will inculcate rhythm and steadiness.

JUST IN PASSING

THE WANDERER'S EVENING SONG

O'er all the mountain steep
Is Peace.
Low in the valleys deep
Release,
From Day's weary quest.
Birds sleep on the bough.
Presently thou
Too, shalt rest.

—Goethe.

They are the best comforters and helpers of their fellow-men who go about with large hopefulness and cheerfulness in their own hearts, trying to put a little more hope and cheer into the life of every one they meet.

LOOK PLEASANT, PLEASE!

Having one's photograph taken is usually a bit of an ordeal, but there is a fashionable photographer in London, England, who makes his place after a Court one of the most entertaining places in town. When waiting his turn to face the camera a lady tells that she was regaled with one of the pleasantest cocktails she had ever met, and on being asked what it was called she was told by an assistant that it had been named 'Look Pleasant.' When she asked if she might be told the ingredients, the assistant said: "Two negatives."

IT SEEMS TO CUE!
"How you wannum shine—light or dark?"
"Shine 'em dark, Gus.'
"Who's gonna be nex' President; you think, huh?"
"I don't know, Gus. Who do you think it'll be?"
"Wanna bet?"
"Sho'! All a lotta hoey bums.'
"Do you like Al Smith?'
"Aw! Heem no good. Heem beg bum.'
"Do you like Mellon?'
"Aw! Heem beg bum. Heem no good.'
"What about Reed?'
"Aw! Heem lotta baloney.'
"Hoover?'
"Aw! Applesauce! Beg bum.'
"Well, Gus. Who do you think ought to be President?'
"Mussolini! Dotta no chance. He gotta good job already in old country. ..... You needa new shoe-lace, too.' —Life.

OTHER PEOPLE'S WINE
The following story of Thackeray was told to Sir Anthony by Sir Henry Thompson, the great surgeon and the perfect host:
He had Thackeray among his patients, and had taken him into his own house for observation—he said nothing about an actual operation—for two or three weeks. In his professional capacity—yet, as I gathered, he had not seriously—he asked the illustrious patient: 'About how many bottles of wine do you drink in a year, Mr. Thackeray?' Thackeray affected to think. 'Well—roughly—about five hundred, Mr. Thompson.' The doctor looked grave—or as grave as he could—and the patient added, in deprecation of imminent rebuke, 'But it's almost all other people's wine, you know.'

Let Me Tell You

When making pancakes make sure that the mixture is well beaten. Pancakes should be served as soon as cooked, and should never stand.

Milk for pancakes should preferably be new or, at any rate, good and cool.

Mix the batter smoothly, beat the eggs well, and see that the flour is quite dry.

A small round pan is best to use when frying pancakes; they are then better size and shape.

Paraffin applied to baths and sinks will remove stains with hard water and grease quickly cleanses them.

A teaspoonful of borax in warm water when washing the hair removes grease and improves its appearance.

Haddocks can be filleted, sprinkled with lemon juice and chopped parsley, fried in butter, and served with tomato sauce.

A child who is restless at night should have his face and chest gently sponged to soothe and rest him and bring on sleep.

When making pastry, allow at least half fat to flour, and bake it in a sharp oven at first, reducing the heat as the pastry cooks.

Care of Brass

Outside brass may be prevented from tarnishing if the merest trace of vaseline is rubbed over after cleaning. Brasses brass, of which many trays and ornaments are made, should never be cleaned with any kind of paste or other preparation, for they leave a deposit in the chasing which is unsightly and extremely difficult to remove. They should be washed in very hot water, to which a little borax has been added, scrubbed with a brush, and finally rinsed and dried with a towel. Very discoloured Benares brass may be cleaned with the squeezed half of a lemon.

If you are feeling tired and depressed, or if you want to smooth out the signs of a headache or "a mod cry" apply cream thickly to your face and neck and all round your ears. Then wipe off nearly all the cream, but not quite all, and put a piece of ice in a bit of soft towelling and massage the skin. It is unwise to apply ice direct.

LIONS LIKE PEOPLE BUT KEEPER BETTER

London.—The two half-grown Abyssinian lions recently deposited in the zoo by the King are cultivating an unusually close intimacy with human beings, for they lie in their temporary cage at the end of the Lion House blinking in youthful majesty within touching distance of the spectators, but the gather day they seemed quickly to tire of the human voice and countenance and were much more interested in a fat pony drawing cart through the gardens. While the keeper's foot steps and the clank of a pail made them rush into their ante-chamber in terror of everything else in the world.

Missing for 25 months, 16-year-old Franklin Larimer of Paris, Ill, was located in a hospital at Baton Rouge, La.

SOUR MILK RECIPES
For Sour Milk Corn Cake, beat one egg until very light, then add one-fourth cupful of sugar, beat again, and add two cupfuls of sour milk and one teaspoonful of salt. Measure and sift together one and one-fourth cupfuls of pastry flour, three-fourth cupfuls of Indian meal, and one teaspoonful of soda, and add to the first mixture while beating constantly. The result should be a soft drop batter. Add two tablespoonfuls of melted shortening, beat again, and

GREAT HELP TO YOUNG MOTHERS

..Baby's Own Tablets Have Many Uses and Are Absolutely Harmless

To have in the house a simple, harmless remedy for the minor ills of babies and little children is a great boon to young mothers, and this is exactly why Baby's Own Tablets have been found in thousands of households. The Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and ingle fevers, allay the irritation of cutting teeth, yet they have no drug taste and the children like them.

Concerning the Tablets Mrs. Ruthven Cruminham, Ont., writes: "Kindly send me your little book on the Care of the Baby. I have two children, one four years of age and the other a year and a half. Both are in excellent health and the only medicine they have had is Baby's Own Tablets, I always keep the Tablets in the house and am happy to recommend them to other mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Poems Old And New

OUTSIDE THE TERRIBLE DOOR
By Harold Monro

Too long outside your door I have shivered.
You open it I will not stay,
I'm haunted by your ashen beauty.
Take back your hand. I have gone away.

Don't talk, but move to that near corner.
I loathe the long cold shadow here, pour into two greased, shallow pans. Bake at 400 degrees F. from twenty to twenty-five minutes.

Sour Fudge Cake is a sour milk chocolate cake. Cream together one-half cupful of butter or margarin and one cupful of sugar. Then add one well-beaten egg and two squares of melted chocolate. Measure and sift together one teaspoonful of salt, three-fourth teaspoonful of soda, two cupfuls of pastry flour, and one teaspoonful of baking power. Add alternately to the mixture with one cupful of sour milk. Last add one teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into a greased cake pan and bake at 350 degrees F. for forty-five minutes. Frost with either chocolate or white frosting.

For Uneeda Sour Milk Doughnuts, beat one egg in a bowl until light; then add one teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar, and one cupful of sour milk, beating constantly. Measure and sift together one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful of soda, and four cupfuls of pastry flour to make a dough of a consistency to roll. Add to the first mixture and beat until thoroughly combined. If the milk is a little creamy, no shortening will be necessary; if not, add one teaspoonful of melted shortening just before adding the flour. Toss the dough on a floured board, kneed slightly; pat and roll out to one-fourth inch thickness. Shape with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep fat at 360 degrees F., turning frequently until a delicate, golden brown.

NEW PLAY DID NOT GET FAVOR

Was Too Sensual For Old London—"Mud And Treacle"

London.—What a pity it is that Mr. Ben Levy has gone off at tangent that seems not only unpleasant by reason of its nature, but wearisome by reason of its too frequent repetition in recent plays.

Structurally, too, "Mud and Treacle" is clumsy; and illogical. It seems rather as if the author had tried to spread the technique of the cinema to the purposes of the stage.

Oh! the screen "the" retrogressive movement of a story is often possible —even necessary. In the theatre, it nearly always slackens dramatic interest, loosens interest and leads, as it were, to general disintegration. Of course, what makes the endless coil of confusion, abstruse politics, feminism, that constitutes the main bulk of this play so disgusting is the fact that Mr. Levy can do so differently and so much better.

In "His Women Business" he gave the public sanity, youth, spontaneity —humor that was not only jolly, but true to life.

Wallows in Mire

In "Mud and Treacle" it is as if in his divings into the depths of sexual psychoanalysy, he had allowed the splashings of what is merely mud, to the lay understanding of you and me, only his creative powers, but his own critical faculty as well.

Although the play has clever patches and some brilliant lines, the audience is never moved. These antagonistic puppets have no interest for their listeners.

People do not care whether Polly Andrews lives or is strangled; the proletarian from the mining country bores; but for the actors, one should describe the performances as frankly ridiculous. The one exception is the silent, suffering wife, played by Miss Ursula Jeans—a living, pathetic picture of "masterly inactivity."

Technically Good

Miss Tallulah Bankhead's performance revealed more effort than sincerity. Her technical brilliance is unchallengeable; she was effective in the quieter scenes; but her impassionate moments were the visible work of a craftsman—they lacked the spontaneous striation of the 'art that conceals art.'

Mr. Robert Harris, on the other hand, was notably sincere—a rendering that should earn Mr. Levy's gratitude, since it saved the character from ridicule. Mr. Nicholas Hannen brought some magnificent oratorical outbursts to a part with which he did all that was possible.

Mr. Ivor Barnard, as the proletarian boyfriend, wasted no pot or ink of all the humor assigned to him. Miss Mabel Terry Lewis played a Victorian mother with such skill as to interest everyone in the character, and Mr. Douglas Burbridge's butler was monumentally impressive.

On July 17, the convention will journey to Banff, and on the way the ceremony will take place of making the Nicholas Prasident, Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts, an Indian chief.

The following books will be discussed:

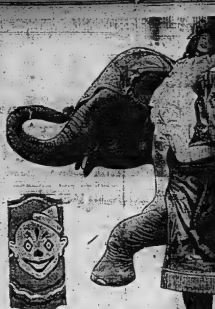

Canadian books for boys and girls, Craftsmanship, Backgrounds of Canadian Literature, Canadian History and Biography, Unexplored Fields for Canadian Literature, Free Verse, French-Canadian Literature, Book Reviewing, the Canadian Drama, Canadian Universities and Canadian Literature.

TOO MUCH TAKING OF SCHOOL NOTES

Edmonton, Alta.—(C.P.)—A fatal habit which is developing rapidly among our high-school and university students, and a habit in which some teachers certainly abet them, is that of making or taking notes on any and every conceivable subject. The student of today has no time to listen to lectures and class-exercises, because his head is buried in a note-book in which he writes incessantly. He cannot possibly put down the spirit of the talk, and so, being convinced that he must get down something, he grasps wildly at every proper name mentioned and at nearly at every date. And so he contrates but one sense, that of the eye.

For the young person who is going out into the field of practical affairs an ear-memory is going to be an important factor, and for this our present educational methods offer little training, if we may judge from their results as we do in other creative lines.

To stage the Canadian National Exhibition it costs nearly $1,000,000.

SHAKESPEARE IN MODERN GUISE

Provokes Much Mirth; The Taming of the Shew Portrayed

London.—The laugh of London—Shakespeare himself would join in could he but see and hear the glee and fun of The Taming in modern ways and modern guise.

Sir Barry Jackson and Mr. H. K. Ayliff combined have applied wonderful ingenuity to the modernization, and yet, in the romantic scenes, preserved something of the poetic spirit. From the very Induction—a house party in search of parlance reminiscent of Mervie England of the eighties—to that scene of innovation when Petruchio, in the sun and moon scene, gives his final touch to Katharina's subjugation in a motor trip—forward when she assented, backward when she demurred—the play was a continuous feast of joy volleying in unending laughter; a pan romance in the excess of rhythmic words.

"Frivosity and Sacrilege"

Who could blame the perpetrators of this huge joke— cry "Frivosity and sacrilege!" when people were so happy on both sides of the footlights, when amidst the nonsense the word rejoiced supreme; when, for all the mirth, one was spelled a admiration for the Bard, to essentially of his time, yet in human observation, in penetration of character, in mockery, and in sentiment, of all times beyond the count of centuries!

With a little effort of imagination, it appears in that first-night audience—one saw it with the eyes and heard it with the ears of today, as if it were an extravagansal of a young poet at the expense of feminism. In the upholding of the love, honor and obey axiom; and, in the end in Katharina's lovely speech—in which Miss Hermione Baddeley remarked, "She should have winked the other eye"—the triumph of the eternal feminine over the vainglorious male, the quarry fencying and preening himself, the tamer bowed.

A Case of Take It or Leave It

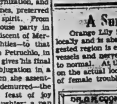

This is no occasion for serious criticism; it is a case, as the French say, of a preface on a tatser. And who was there in that audience who could accept, as so much humor, as such pure or reckless gaiety, as such picturesque settings of stage tableaux at such low price refreshmaldeck, from Petruchio in to a country squire to Tranio into a coauffeur, catchlock at times, but with the airs of a dandy of the world—a Christmas or a thaw creation! Yet, for all the fun, most of the actors played with great insight into the characters.

The Canadian National Exhibition Prohibitand stage is 1,000 feet long.

Do not remove your hat here when you wish to revive-it after a shower of rain.

Cute in a Baby—Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Britnain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it bangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or inclose teeth, and it always interferes with digestion. Plunging the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables it to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on Fletcher's signature on the package so many birthdays.

30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

ADMIRERS MOB ADOLPH MENJOU

He And Lovely Bride Most Popular In Old Country

London.—Women and girl admirers mobbed Adolphe Menjou, film matinee star, and his bride when they reached Victoria Station recently from Paris.

Extra police were necessary to control the crowd, mostly of women and girls.

Mr. Menjou—as sleek and immaculate as he is on the films—was the first to step from the platform. He was dressed in a loose-fitting grey tweed coat and a grey hat and tie, and carried his wife's sable coat on his arm.

Mrs. Menjou followed, holding gently in a black tailor-made costume and black felt helmet hat trimmed with black feathers, with a stole fur around her neck.

A battery of cameras clicked as a diminutive figure, Miss Eva Davies, from the Pixie Cinema, presented a bouquet of red roses and lilies of the valley to Mrs. Menjou, who looked nervous but happy.

Autograph hunters dashed forward, and as soon as one book could be signed others were presented.

Stops On Tin Car

Eventually police forced a way to a waiting closed-in-car, which the couple entered.

As the car slowly threaded its way from the station girls and women jump ed on the steps and shouted, "I must have a look at his bride!"

"Isn't she beautiful!" one exclaimed "She is a wonderful partner for Adolphe," said another.

"This is the finest reception I have ever received in my life," said Mr. Menjou. "I never dreamt it would be so wonderful. One would think the people here were Latin, as enthusiastic as they. This is the first time my wife and I have come here, and we think it marvellous. It is the happiest day of my life."

His bride declared: "Your countryside is beautiful—almost as splendid as your people."

MUCH ACTIVITY IN EXPLORATION

Canada's Resources Are Thoroughly Looked Over This Year

Ottawa.—(C.P.)—The intense activity in the exploration of Canada's natural resources this summer outrivals that of any previous year. More prospecters than ever before are scouring the map of the pre-Cambrian shield which stretches from Saskatchewan deep into the province of Quebec, searching for indications of hidden wealth. More electrical surveys are being made to ascertain the presence of subterranean ore. More diamond drills are piercing the rocks.

Not only in mining but in forestry also the plans this summer are unprecedented in their scope and thoroughness. The undertakings of forestry branches of the Dominion and provincial governments and the ambitious programme being undertaken by the private lumber companies to prove up Canada's timber wealth outstrip any other year. The same can be said, with respect to search after water-power possibilities.

The probing of the great areas of unoccupied land of the Dominion is evident by the floods of requests which poured in, particularly during May to the topographical survey of the Department of the Interior, for maps and aerial photographs. This branch is now able to provide the applicants with information which a few years ago would have been impossible. It gives the prospector prints to show him just the kind of country he is going into whether he should travel by canoe or on foot, where the rocks are on the surface and where they are "overburdened" with soil.

Those wishing information about the timber resources of certain limits get maps that tell what portions are wooded, where it is done, where the trees are sparse, as well as photographs of the landscape. It is estimated that this has reduced the effort necessary to locate timber to one-fifth what it was a few years ago. This while the number actually engaged in exploration work has been increased, the effective area of each man has been multiplied by the newly developed aids.

The topographical survey hopes this summer to photograph from the air 10,000 square miles of at present unmapped districts of Canada. Of course the total will depend upon the suitability of the various points where the 18 planes are at work. The work of plotting the photographs and developing maps from them will go forward at headquarters here as the plates arrive. To accurately map 10,000 square miles under the old system of survey would have taken many years. By air photographic, but aerial photography and the complex, fairy science of transferring the information of the photograph prepares maps, has revolutionized surveying.

The aerial photographer will go on in every province. In the extreme west, the greatest task is in the Fraser River district from Lytton to Fort George, B. C., together with the entire watershed north and west of that point. The district around Skeena, B. C., is also to be covered to ascertain its timber resources.

FLYING IS NOT SO DANGEROUS AT ALL

Montreal.—(C.P.)—Lieut. M. J. Bergin, formerly of the Royal Air Force, now a resident of Montreal, in an address here on aviation from the point of view of the man in the street, said that was not easily adjusted in time of emergency, and not by any means to be likened to a lifebelt on board ship.

OLD RECORDS OF ENGLAND SAVED

King Granted Historian Right To Beg In The Streets

London has just been saying thank you to old John Stow and putting a new quill in his hand where he sits at his desk in the church of St. Andrew Undershaft in the city.

There are a group of men to whom the world owes a great debt, men like Richard Hakluyt, who collected records of sea voyages and set them down for the first time; men like John Stow, who collected records of London and England and set them down. Without historians like these where should we be. They keep our memories for us, and often our consciences, lest we for get what we owe to the past.

In a Quiet Church

Thousands of people in the summer comes on will drift into that quiet church out of the roar of Leadenhall street and see John Usery, and quiet church out of the roar of Leadenhall street and see John Usery, and quiet church out of the roar of Leadenhall when he was alive in London. It was John's widow, Elizabeth, who put the terracotta effigy in the church about 320 years ago, and had it beautifully painted. There was no man in the city in that day who did not go to look at it, and think how like old John it was.

The city thought a great deal of John before he died. They were intensely proud of him, the poor tailor turned chronicler, poor all his life because he spent his money on his ideals. The old men told how they had often seen John as a little boy fetching milk for breakfast from a farm in the Minor ies.

John was brought up a tailor, and he died a member of the Merchant Tailors Company, but while he was still a young man his chosen work called him, and he set aside his own peculiar gains." From about 1560 when he was 26, to the end of 1605, he spent his chief strength, and all his income on getting together historical and ancient records of England, some in manuscripts, some in print, revising and rewriting them.

A Great Survey

He was a painstaking and accurate scholar, a born antiquary. He was the friends of all the scholars of his day for, in spite of John's zeal and the great enthusiasm for history which led him to spend as much as 300 pounds a year (a great sum then) on his collections, he was a cheerful and excellent company.

The crowning labor of his life was his great Survey of London. When that busy hand had written finis to that labor of love and genius John's work was done. He could lay his quill down.

It is strange to remember in these days that this famous old man, in recognition of the great work he had done, was permitted, not to visit the king in his palace, but to be a licensed beggar in the streets.

Every year the Lord Mayor of London remembers good John Stow, and puts a new quill in his hand, lest the world forget all he did for England.

Standing room at the Canadian National Grandstand accommodates 8,000 persons.

She—"Does it make any difference on which side I sit?"

He—"No, I am ambidextrous."

RAVENS HAVE A LIFE OF PEACE

Tower of London Keeps Them As Quaint Ornaments

Two new ravens have just arrived at the Tower of London and have become peace members of the army.

A very honorable and ancient post is that of being one of the ravens of the Tower. They are as old as the Beef-eaters, perhaps older, and many are the grim and tragic sights they have attended in their black livery.

Many happy days, too, the ravens have had, and great favors shown to them. Even a prisoner in one of the Tower cells might prophesy up were he able to see them hopping over the little lawns that, like that prisoners of old, have chains about them.

But the greatest day of the raven is perhaps the first pay he spends in the Tower, for then he is enlisted, and if he does not receive the Kings' shilling he is put on the strength of the Tower's garrison, and rations are allotted to him for life.

In government offices in Whitehall proper provision is made for the office cats, which appear in the Estimates. But the cats are there for use while the ravens is an ornament.

The three-piece sports costume, consisting of sleeveless cardigan, sweater blouse and skirt, tan, or cognac, becomes as standardized as the ordinary two-piece frock, but it was a stroke of genius on Paton's part to think of cutting away the sweater to permit an underblouse of crepe de chine.

WOMAN'S NERVES

This is a strenuous age. Household responsibilities, the care of children, social engagements, all have their claims on your nervous energies and there comes a time when you cannot get rested.

Sleep fails you and you get up in the morning feeling tired, worn out and depressed. You probably have headaches and long to go far away somewhere and have a long rest.

Now that is not practical it is necessary to fall in the assistance of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Women know that this is the one medicine on which they can absolutely depend under these circumstances.

Make this test: Use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after every meal and at bedtime for two weeks and see how much better you will feel.

ROYALTIES AT MUSICAL TREAT

Austrian Minister, Host, Entertains By Concert At Legation

London—The glorious rush of the season is in full swing now, and the number of parties and entertainments of every kind kept everyone fairly busy by day and by night. One of the most delightful and successful musical parties was Baron Franckenstein's concert. The Austrian minister is an accomplished musician, as a matter of fact, as well as a diplomat, and his reception at the Legation was not only a treat from a social point of view, but from a musical one as well.

Mme. Elisabeth Amber

Distinguished artists were accustomed to continental hours, which are much later than ours, so it was not at all surprising that it was past eleven before Baron Franckenstein opened the concert.

The programme which had engaged two other grand opera stars, Herbert Jackson and Elisabeth Ohms, is one which has always been very well received. Tilly Losch, a star of Cochran's revue, "This Year of Grace," to show her graces in various numbers.

The Legation has such magnificent rooms that it was quite easy to arrange a temporary stage for the concert, and special lighting effects were thought of for the occasion.

As for the guests, they included practically everyone likely to be seen at our opera this season. Royalty was represented by Prince Beatrice, looking remarkably well after her Spanish visit. She wore fine pearls with a gold tissue frock, and retained her scarf of gold and silver throughout the evening, a practice followed by many of those present. Her Royal Highness was attended by Miss Constance Eyre and Lieut. Freddie Pack, and seemed to enjoy the program immensely.

Lovely Gowns

Mrs. Wilfrid Ashley wore pearls and pearls of price, a pale green tulle with a scarf of the same shade, and Mrs. Robinson Gerrianger, who sat next to Lord Carnarvon and discussed music intently with him, looked enchanting in a black dress worn with a black pelleted scarf. The Duchess of Norfolk (in pale green satin brocade) her daughter, Lady Margaret Howard, the latter being one of the really lovely of flowered chiffon.

Lady Maud Warrender and Lady Arabella Baddeley low on her brow, wore a black dress; and the Duchess of Atholl was in a most attractive Dame Caroline Bridgeman, the Derek and Lady Kaplan, Cora Lady Strathcona (pearl black-and-gold dress with deep apple) and the Duke and Duchess of Rutland were just a few of the well-known guests to be seen. The Duchess of Rutland looked very picturesque in a flowered chiffon ladies, old-world gown with a big diamond necklace.

Naturally, the diplomatic world was specially well represented and the Austrian ladies were particularly admired. Some of them are strikingly handsome, and they attract particular notice by the way in which they arrange their hair—so often of a lovely blonde color.

DEAD HEART IS MADE TO BEAT

Radium Was Used; Science Hopes To Adopt The Phenomenon

For many years it has been known that when a heart cut out of a dead body continues to beat (as it sometimes does) the contractions are in some way due to a chemical substance of ferment. Indeed, a ferment capable of exciting the pulsations of the heart has been extracted both from the muscles of the heart and from the cells of the liver.

But a new and illuminating advance has recently been made by Professor Zwaardemaker of Utrecht, who has shown that radium will renew the pulsations of a heart, that has ceased to beat. He puts a ring containing radio-active substance round the seemingly dead heart, and in about half an hour the heart begins to beat again.

More wonderful still, if a suitable fluid is propelled by the resuscitated heart through another seemingly dead heart, the second heart begins to beat.

It is probable that the radium develops the ferment out of some substance already in the heart, as ultra-violet rays develop vitamin D out of a substance already in the skin.

The natural beating of the living heart is, of course, not due to radium but it is almost certain that the potassium salts of the blood which are radio-active and like radium and develop a stimulating ferment in the pulsations of the heart.

This discovery will probably in time be put to practical use. A heart really dead can never be made to beat again; but it should certainly be possible to stimulate a flagging and failing heart by the administration of the special stimulating ferment.

LIGHTEST METAL FOR AIRPLANES

Material 40 Per Cent. Lighter Than Aluminum To Advance Aviation

A revolution in the construction of aircraft is predicted by aviation experts as a result of the discovery in Germany of a new manufacturing process by which electron metal can be manufactured in large quantities.

Electron metal is just as durable, but is forty percent lighter than aluminum. This is of the greatest importance to aviation because it reduces the dead weight of the craft and enables it to carry that much more freight and fuel. The crew of the Bremen which flew from Baldonnel to Greenley Island had even pecked the oranges it took along as food in order to take a few more drops of fuel along, and these additional few drops proved its salvation.

The discovery of the new metal proteus has been made by the I. G. Farbenindustrie, the great German dye trust whose chemical laboratories have brought forth more than one revolutionary product. It has constructed special plants at Bitterfeld for production of this metal.

Electron metal was discovered before the war and has already been used in the construction of auto and airplane engines. Until the discovery of the I. G. Farbenindustrie process, however, it was impossible to produce this metal in commercial quantities.

The basis of the new metal is magnesium.

ADMIRAL URGES PLANE CARRIERS

Ridicules Idea of Floating Homes And Hotels Connecting Continents

Schemes for a chain of floating air drome extending across the three thousand mile expanse of the Atlantic Ocean are ridiculed by an anonymous British naval expert writing in the Daily Express in London.

These schemes would be perfect if only they were practical, in the opinion of his expert, who points out that any seafaring man with experience of the Atlantic will declare they are not.

"The best steel, for instance," the expert, writes, "is not indestructible under water, no matter how it is protected by chemical preparations. Therefore these airdromes would have to be docked sometimes. But in what?

No Secure Mooring

"No grating of floating dock on earth would begin to look at such unwieldy contrivances that so far have been suggested for these floating airdromes. At a rough average the depth of the sea on the Atlantic route is about 1,000 fathoms, and it is doubtful if anything that floats could be moored securely in such a depth. The Daunt Rock Lightship, off Queenstown, Ireland with a specially designed hull and anchored in a few fathoms, has been lost with all hands at her moorings once or twice.

"At the lowest estimate, using the same chain as the latest battleships, the weight of cable between sea and level would be as heavy as 20 tons. As no seaman uses less cable than three times the depth of water, the weight of the cable to be carried before anchoring would be 1,000 tons to each anchor. The cost would run into less than two anchors. So we start with 2,000 tons of cable chain, not counting the anchors. Our Cunard friends would brgk adrift in the first heavy gale."

The writer is in utterance pessimist, which he believes would be a solution to the problem. Three aluminum. This is of the greatest importance to aviation because it reduces the dead weight of the craft and enables it to carry that much more freight and fuel. The crew of the Bremen which flew from Baldonnel to Greenley Island had even pecked the oranges it took along as food in order to take a few more drops of fuel along, and these additional few drops proved its salvation.

A Better Idea

"A speed of about 100 knots would be enough to enable them to heave to in a gale and keep in station. Refuelling for docking and refitting it would mean building five such craft in order that only three should be at their stations. In summer, many rate, it would be possible to send provisions from time to time on their stations and also to change over their crews.

"It should be enough if they were dry-docked once a year. In a calm, heavily laden vessel can exceed a long fog neck or high speed on the part of the carrier unless means are provided for checking and controlling the speed landing and catapulting them on take ing off. Many such arrangements already exist. With a decent breeze the thing of the sort it wanted. Powerful smoke screens would increase the distance at which these vessels would be sighted by planes."

WOMAN POET IS GIVEN HONOUR

Toronto.—(CP)—Constance Lindsay Skinner, Canadian author and poet, has recently been elected a fellow of the American Geographical Society in recognition of her articles on polar exploration. She is a daughter of the Cariboo country, having been born at Stanley, B. C., on the old Cariboo road, the daughter of a Hudson's Bay factor.

This item in the Canadian Bookman, (says a Canadian author) might have had a supplementary note to the effect that Canadian literary and scientific societies and universities seem to leave the recognition of their celebrated daughters to outside countries. It is something of an anomaly to realize that Canada so entirely neglected what other countries delight in honoring outstanding work in literature. The Quebec Provincial Government seems the only one possessed of the idea that there is no sex in literature; and while its awards are peculiar, at least it has made a noteworthy attempt to "crown" distinguished work.

New World's Record for Speed and Endurance

SETTING a new world's speed and endurance record for cars under $1200, the new Whippet Six, in a continuous 24-hour run under official observation, covered 1357½ miles and averaged 56.52 miles per hour entire 24 hours . . .

Brought to a dead stop from a speed of 35 miles per hour in 49 feet 7½ inches . . .

Accelerated from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7.2 seconds . . .

Records that mean unqualified leadership in speed and safety . . .

Records made possible by the most advanced engineering of any light Six on the market . . .

The new Whippet Six upsets all previous standards of motor car value. It has an array of mechanical features, such as 7-Bearing Crankshaft, air-cleaner and thermostat, never found in a car of its price before.

Among the features of the bodies are unusual roominess, harmonious lacquer, smart cadet-type visors, remote door controls, attractive window reveals, extended dash panels affording greater leg room, and quick-acting cowl ventilator.

7-Bearing Crankshaft GIVES SURPRISING SILENCE AND SMOOTHNESS

The new Whippet Six is unusually smooth and silent, due to its 7-Bearing Crankshaft (instead of the usual 3 or 4) and its silent timing chain (a feature of the highest-priced cars). It is exceptionally powerful on hills; it has a flexibility never before obtained in a car of its size or price.

The new Whippet Six is now on display. See it. Drive it. You will find it a revelation in value! Immediate delivery.

Gang Of Thieves Rounded Up In Murray Township--Men Scalded At Industrial Alcohol Plant

BAPTISTS FLOCK TO QUEEN CITY

Seven Thousand Expected To Attend Congress Today

OFFICIAL WELCOME

Rev. W. G. McArthur of New Mexico Back After 20 Years

Toronto, June 23.—A Baptist army invaded Exhibition Park here yesterday when delegates from many parts of the world, forming the advance guard of the 7,000 delegates attending the fourth session of the Baptist World Alliance assembled in the Transportation Building to consider preparations for the first opening meeting. Delegates representing sixty-five nations are expected to swell the roll call here yesterday many rapid were in evidence as Baptists intermingled and exchanged greetings on the fabulous lawns of Exhibition Park.

An address of welcome will be delivered at the opening meeting tomorrow by Hon. Peter Heenan, K.C., the portfolio of the alliance interests being called to address by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, but it was stated in an Ottawa despatch that this was impossible and that Premier King had made his engagement to speak to the gathering.

Several thousand colored delegates will attend the meeting, and it was announced by Rev. Dr. George T. Webb, who heads the local committee, that ample accommodation had been arrange for them. Many homes have been opened to them for convention week, he said.

Widespread sympathy was expressed concerning the illness of Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the alliance, which will prevent him from attending the congress. A presiding officer will be chosen to fill the vacancy.

Rev. W. O. McArthur of Portales, New Mexico, was one of the delegates arriving yesterday. He is a Canadian by birth and has been away from Canada for twenty years. His native home is near Lachute, Quebec. Rev. Mr. McArthur commented on the remarkable changes to be found in the Dominion since he left.

More than 600 overseas delegates, including 90 fro mAustralia, arrived.

SALVATION ARMY LOSING OFFICER

Adjutant Boulton Will Be Succeeded By Ensign Rawlins

Tomorrow will see the Farewell Service for Adjutant Boulton in the Salvation Army Citadel. The Adjutant himself does not know where he will be stationed but declares that he will miss the friends he has made in this city since he came here 18 months ago.

In that time Mr. and Mrs. Boulton have endeared themselves to the people of Belleville as a whole, not alone to the members of their congregation. Always ready to lend a helping hand when needed, these two people will be greatly missed.

Ensign and Mrs. Rawlins will arrive in Belleville sometime during next week to take up the work where Mr. and Mrs. Boulton left off by Adjutant and Mrs. Boulton, and their first service will be a week from tomorrow.

MINOR ACCIDENT NEAR TRENTON

When R. D. Ponton, K.C., turned out to pass a Dodge Sedan on the Provincial Highway a few miles from Trenton yesterday afternoon, another car coming in the opposite direction at a fast clip forced him to turn into the Cobourg to avoid a head on collision with the result that the left rear wheel of the United States car was smashed as well as the fender and part of the rear end.

The Chevrolet was driven by the owner, the whole party being from Ashland, Ohio. The amicable settlement was reached between the two parties, however, and after the car was repaired by Chas. Savage, the parties went on their way westward.

SAILS FOR LONDON

Hon. W. R. Motherwell

Minister of agriculture, sailed Wednesday from Quebec for London to attend the world's dairy congress which will open there Tuesday next. The nine provincial governments will have representatives at the congress.

THREE DIED IN CHAIR TOGETHER

Paid Penalty At Washington For Crime of Three Years Ago

Washington, June 23.—The nation's capital had its first triple electrocution yesterday when Nicholas Lee Naples, Samuel Morrow, and John, Cline Proctor, were executed for the murder of Policeman Lee W. E. Busch, who was killed in a gun fight two years ago. They died in the electric chair at the District of Columbia jail. Only one previous execution by electricity has been performed in the District of Columbia under a few law of Congress.

Naples and Morrow walked to the chair with the utmost composure; Proctor was unconscious and had to be carried to death cooperative to stretcher. The executions were conducted with the utmost precision and rapidity.

Less than half an hour elapsed from the time Naples, chanting the ancient "El, Eli" went to the fatal chair until the lifeless form of Proctor was released on the stretcher on which he was carried into the execution chamber. Naples was the first to die, then came Moreno's turn. Proctor, the slayer of the officer, was the last to be placed in the chair.

Naples was accompanied to the chair by Rabbi William P. Rosenblum, who uttered a brief prayer as the body was borne away after the execution.

CHICKEN THIEVES ARE ARRESTED

George Puffer, Charles McGraw And Wm. Ingles Under Arrest

TRIAL AT COBOURG

Nearly Eight Hundred Bushels of Grain Have Disappeared

Barley, oats, wheat and chickens have been disappearing for some time from Murray Township, between the town of Trenton and the village of Wooler, and Chief Bain, of Trenton, Chief Councillor Louis McColl, Provincial Constable Storey and Provincial Officer Noble, after working strenuously on the case have made three arrests, and two of the alleged culprits are lodged in jail in Cobourg while one is detained in Trenton.

The alleged culprits are Puffer, Charles McGraw and William Ingles. All three at one time lived in Warkworth, McGraw and Ingles only last night arrested in Oshawa and taken to Cobourg, where they will stand their trial, while Ingles was picked up in Trenton, in which town he had been living for the past month.

The thieving has caused considerable alarm among the farmers of Murray Township as well as the County Council. Between five and eight hundred bushel of oats, barley and wheat have disappeared, while innumerable chickens have been spirited away.

Speaking to The Intelligencer today Chief Bain of the Trenton Police Force stated: "The authorities are going to take Ingles to Cobourg today. We arrested two of them in Oshawa last night and did not get home until after two o'clock this morning. The trio will stand their trial in Cobourg."

TRAVEL TALK HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

On Friday evening, June 22nd the congregation of St. John's Methodist Church and their friends were favored with a most interesting travel talk by Mr. R. J. Graham in the lecture room of the church illustrated with moving pictures which was much enjoyed.

Mr. A. D. Archibald very efficiently occupied the chair, and an interesting reading was given by Mrs Helen Pindlay; delightful solos by Mrs. Riggs and Mr. Bunker, accompanied by Mrs. Riggs.

A hearty vote of thanks was then tendered to Mr. Graham and all those who helped to make a very pleasant evening, which was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

BELLEVILLE CLUB CHOSE OFFICERS

Last night at the Belleville Club, officers were elected for the year 1928. Those elected include, Honorary President, Gus Porter, K.C., and Robert Tanner, M.D. The president this year will be A. P. Allen, while Mr. A. Payne will act as vice-president.

The directors elected were: P. Allen, C. A. Payne, B. L. Hynkin, W. N. Belair, J. C. Walker, J. V. Doyle, T. H. Wills and W. T. Lingham. R. H. Smith, Stewart Robertson and Alfred Gilen.

LOCAL COMPANY GIVEN CONTRACT

Walter Patterson Construction Company Will Erect Bridges

The Walter Patterson Construction contract for the building of three contract to the building of three bridges in Ontario County, two of them Canadian Pacific Railway bridges and the other a Canadian National-Canadian Pacific.

The last named will be erected just south the Port Bridge approach under the Canadian Pacific-Canadian National lines leading to the Bay Bridge. The work will be of concrete, a double ten foot rail top. Work has been started on this construction and by Monday will be going full blast.

The second bridge is to be erected at Whitby, and will be of steel construction with concrete piers. A bridge will also be erected at Cobourg this year. Concrete and steel, with concrete piers. Work on the last two specified will be started shortly.

The company is working hard to complete the work on three contracts here. These are the bridges over the British American, Consec Lehigh and Canadian gasoline stations, all being built in the city of Belleville. The work is progressing rapidly, and in a short time will be completed.

FLUE BROKE, MEN SUSTAIN BURNS

William Cooke And Matthew Campbell Injured At Corbyville

William Cooke, engineer at the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company's plant at Corbyville, and Matthew Campbell, his assistant, were both more or less seriously burned yesterday when a flue connecting two hundred pounds of steam blew out in the boiler room late yesterday afternoon. The men were working near the boiler when the flue broke and in an effort to escape the steam both men were severely burned. Cooke was burned about the shoulders and back and Mr. Matthew Campbell also received serious burns about the body. Dr. Dickinson was immediately called and he took the men to the Hospital where they were treated for their injuries. They returned to the physician they were resting easier today.

Pilot of Government Monoplane Stopped For Re-Fuelling

FLYING CLUB

Landing Fields Will Be Established By Transport Companies

Belleville was visited this morning by one of the Government Monoplanes which ply between Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto, the regular transit for the stop, being the fact that the pilot needed oil. These mail planes are a great deal more rounded and comfortable than the type of aircraft seen in Belleville at this time, as their large accommodation for three passengers as well as the pilot, besides having room for a large load of freight. After filling up with oil, the large plane proceeded down the runway and took off perfectly, circled, and soon was on its way to Montreal.

Why Mount Belleville be made a regular port of call for the air lines which is a fact, as it will be ever-ready of all over the country? At present the towns have been filled up Prince Van's Field for their own use, but with the aid of the City it could very easily be made into a large Municipal Field without much expenditure.

Trenton organized a flying Club three months ago, and already that Club has a membership of over one hundred and fifty. Two planes have been applied for under the Dominion Companies Act, and will be delivered there shortly. A special committee has been appointed to look over sites for a flying Field, and no doubt in the near future the members of the Club will be flying.

Belleville is better situated for an air port than Kingston, as the latter city is off the main travelled routes to Montreal and Toronto; while Belleville is on the line. Belleville will have to be established by the large Air Trans Continental Company in the near future and they will have to be not more than one hundred miles apart, so it appears as though this city should get busy and make some advance to those "higher up" who will have the placing of these landing fields.

ROBBERY ABOARD THE LEVIATHAN

Losses of $500,000 Reported From Trans-Atlantic Mails

Southampton, Eng., June 23.—An extremely cunning and thorough robbing of the mail aboard the steamship Leviathan, which arrived at Southampton yesterday has been disclosed. The extent of the theft and the cleverness of the mail bags tampered with could not be determined today. Nothing that could not be negotiated in the United States and this together with the thoroughness with which the robbery was carried out, seemed to indicate that the letters were tampered with before they left New York, probably on the pier at which sailed from New York, June 16.

Although no official figures are yet available, it has been reported that cheques bank drafts, bills of exchange and bank notes amounting to many thousands of pounds were involved. Some official estimates placed the loss as high as $500,000.

A special committee has been appointed to look over sites for a flying Field, and no doubt in the near future the members of the Club will be flying.

Belleville is better situated for an air port than Kingston, as the latter city is off the main travelled routes to Montreal and Toronto; while Belleville is on the line. Belleville will have to be established by the large Air Trans Continental Company in the near future and they will have to be not more than one hundred miles apart, so it appears as though this city should get busy and make some advance to those "higher up" who will have the placing of these landing fields.

ROBBERY ABOARD THE LEVIATHAN

Losses of $500,000 Reported From Trans-Atlantic Mails

Southampton, Eng., June 23.—An extremely cunning and thorough robbing of the mail aboard the steamship Leviathan, which arrived at Southampton yesterday has been disclosed. The extent of the theft and the cleverness of the mail bags tampered with could not be determined today. Nothing that could not be negotiated in the United States and this together with the thoroughness with which the robbery was carried out, seemed to indicate that the letters were tampered with before they left New York, probably on the pier at which sailed from New York, June 16.

Although no official figures are yet available, it has been reported that cheques bank drafts, bills of exchange and bank notes amounting to many thousands of pounds were involved. Some official estimates placed the loss as high as $500,000.

JUGO SLAVIA ON VERGE OF CRISIS

Belgrade, Jugo Slavia, June 23.—Premier Uzunovitch's condition after Stefan Radichi wounded peasant leader, none too reassuring and the peasants are threatening trouble in the event of the breaking point, Jugo Slavia today was threatened with a political crisis.

At Zagreb, Croatia, the scene of Thursday rioting, 100,000 are to march in the funeral procession of Paul Radichi and Dr. Basarichek killed by the assassins bullet in parliament Wednesday.

GORGE BRIDGE

Tried To Beat Way

While climbing down the face of the Niagara gorge to attempt a swim across the rapids, Lily Dnaska, a Yugoslav woman, aged 36, fell and fell on the ledge for 24 hours until found. The gorge and rapids are shown here, the arrow indicating where she was found in a serious condition. The woman said she decided on the swim after smugglers at the border demanded from $100 to $200 to get her across. She said she came to Canada in 1918, landing at Halifax, after serving as a Red Cross nurse during the war. She worked at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, for some months, she affirmed.

PRINCE OF WALES 34 YEARS TODAY

Plans To Spend Birthday Quietly At St. James' Palace

London, June 23.—The Prince of Wales is 34 years of age today. He has been a favorite throughout the week, riding with the King and Queen and the Duke of York in the state carriage. Last night he attended the London School of Economics' Commemoration Ball. Before the students made a birthday gift to the Prince of a beaver, modelled in gold, the beaver being the Prince's mascot besides Canada's symbol of industry.

The Prince will spend his birthday quietly at St. James' Palace. On Monday, however, he will present the colors to the Honorable Artillery Company, London's premier volunteer regiment, dating from the time of Henry VIII, when the bow and arrow cross-bow were reckoned first-class artillery weapons.

At the end of next week the Prince will fulfil a series of engagements at Glasgow, being the guest of Lord and Lady Weir at Eastwood Park, Renfrewshire.

STRAWBERRIES APPEAR ON MART

Slight Upward Trend In Price of Eggs Today

Local strawberries made their initial appearance on the market today. They sold for thirty and thirty-five cents the box and were received in good time for the year.

Prices still on the upward trend. They were offered at thirty-five cents the dozen this morning, two cents above last week's price, and they sold well. On the contrary, butter is not so expensive, going at forty cents the pound today.

Chickens ranged in price from $1.00 a piece up to the best. Vegetables (and there were plenty on display)have not changed in price in the last few weeks.

DOG QUARANTINE IS ORDERED IN PERTH

Brockville, June 23.—An examination of the head of a dog recently shot at Perth having revealed rabies, instructions have been issued by the health of animals branch of the Department of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario, a quarantine in that town. All dogs in Perth have been ordered tied up for a period of one months, and possibly longer.

FLIERS HOP OFF TO MEXICAN CITY

Pacheco And Bieler Attempting Long Flight To South

PLANE IN SHAPE

Two Airmen Left Early Today From Windsor Airdrome

Windsor, Ont., June 23.—Joaquin Pacheco and Fritz Bieler, Mexico City aviators, took off from Walker Field here at 7.35 a.m. Eastern Standard time today on their projected non-stop flight to Mexican Capital.

Because of the weather conditions which have held the two fliers back for the last week a change in the original route was made and instead of flying to Washington they decided to proceed would be a direct line to the Mexican Capital. It would take them over Detroit, Memphis, Tex., Dayton, Ohio.

The Big Bitzen Monoplane, powered with a 220 horsepower air-cooled motor was fueled with 410 gallons of gasoline which the two fliers said brought the total weight of their craft well above 5,000 pounds.

Only a few persons were in hand as the two fliers took their ship aloft. The tall, slender, dark-haired Mexican Army aviator and the Stocky, blond German-Mexican Pacheco, native Mexican, were supremely confident as they started the long three - nations flight. It was not more than a week they had tested the plane at Northville near Detroit and had stayed in the air an hour until the fuel load was lightened.

The primary object of the flight, Bieler and Pacheco declared, was to stimulate interest in aviation in Mexico. An early take-off defeated the plans for the rousing send off which had been arranged by Windsor people.

DETROIT POLICE HAVE NO RECORD

Harold Sayers Will Appear For Trial Next Week

The three alleged gunmen, Crake, Harley and Sayers, appeared in court early this morning are not known to the police of Detroit, at least not to the police of an official sense, it was found out at the local station today, before a letter from the Detroit police department arrived.

Much comment has been heard with the arrest of the trio. People on the street hold the belief that they were on their way to Detroit to participate in the recent mail robbery in the Queen City.

This case, and that of Harold Sayers who ran his car through the ranks of the Argyll band this week in a parade, has caused much comment. It has been rumored that the Argyll's took the affair up with the military authorities, but this was denied yesterday by one of the officers of the local regiment. Sayers is to be heard in court early next week.

SEC'Y OF LABOR IS DEFENDANT

Washington, D.C., June 23.—Justice Peyton Gordon refused to allow a suit brought by John Gaston, secretary-treasurer of Machinists' Union of North America, District No. 1, to restrain the United States to be a test case in the Supreme Court of Columbia today when the suit came before him in the Supreme Court of District of Columbia yesterday.

Justice Gordon ruled that to allow Gaston's suit to be a precedent might let down the bars to all aliens and thereby stop the deportation of immigration. He questioned Grahes counsel as to whether or not he was appearing for Grahes alone and by whom he was being paid. The final decision in the case was withheld until next week.

TAKING CHANCES TO GATHER EASY MONEY.

A recent issue of a popular magazine stated that the people of the United States are staking $1,000,000,000 a year in dubious financial schemes. This writer further goes on to say that the victims who are losing this money are largely widows and orphans of the country, but the hard-boiled men are not overlooked.

In these days there is little trouble in making money, but the great problem seems to be to hold on to it and make it work so that additional revenue is secured.

The first trouble seems to be that there are too many people on the continent many of them with capital, who are trying to make a lot of money in a very short period of time. Not being satisfied with a fair return on an investment, they take a chance on risky transactions in the hope of luck being on their side. If they win, they make a fortune, but if they lose, it is a different tale. Apparently from the figures quoted above the losses have been frequent.

The fortunes of those who have been changing on the New York markets is an example of this. It is an easy thing to gather wealth through buying at a different thing to hold the high values when money tightens and the slump comes.

There are plenty of investments in which money can be made—some money even though the winnings may not be abnormally large. These chances do not usually come from the "tips" of friends who have a "hunch." The wise man who wishes to conserve his money and make it work in such a way that he will have reasonable assurances of a profit is the man who consults his banker, or a good reliable broker, before he takes the leap. There are a large number of securities and stocks in which a man with surplus cash can place his money without sleepless nights and daily worries. A little thought on this subject may save the hard-earned savings of a man who is anxious to succeed in the world.

CAN YOU STOP AS QUICKLY AS START?

At the convention of factory service managers of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce recently held in Toronto, one of the most interesting papers dealt with brakes. It has been charged that faulty braking equipment is responsible for many of the accidents if they are filling the morgues and piling automobiles in shapeless masses of junk in the ditches that border the highways. After a collision has occurred it is difficult to prove that anything went out functioning properly and the responsibility is passed on.

Many times that periodical brake inspection by made compulsory.

Some years ago, we recall, an automobile engineer, came from local police headquarters that motorists would not be surprised if police officials boarded their cars and requested a demonstration of braking efficiency. That announcement sent motorists scurrying to service stations to have their equipment renewed or adjusted, but the campaign was not actively waged and memories dropped back into their old careless ways. The paper read at the convention, to which we have referred, charged that the automobile industry had lagged in the all-important matter of braking equipment.

It was claimed that the majority of brake cars will be obsolete in a few years; that 40 per cent. of the four-wheel-brake cars are weak in many only; that all four-wheel-brake cars on the road should stop in 30 feet when traveling at a rate of 30 miles an hour, but that less than 30 per cent. can actually do so because of improper adjustment; that accident insurance rates are going up instead of down; that the owner neglects brakes as a rule, and that compulsory brake inspection and certification is a possibility within the near future.

Perhaps it is well to remind the paper at the convention is the vice-president of a company which manufactures brake-testing equipment and had in contemplation the placing for sale of his product. In his treatise does not discredit the subject matter of his talk. In the United States last year, more than 800,000 people were killed or injured in automobile accidents and it will have to be accepted that many of these were victims of improperly functioning brakes.

The average motorist, it seems, is more concerned about whether his automobile will start than about its ability to stop in a given distance. Professional service station will testify, we think, that the majority of the customers who present their cars for brake-fitting obviously delay that necessary repair until the old linings will carry them to a garage. Most motorists have been educated to the economy of changing oil frequently to prolong the life of their engines. Properly adjusted brakes may be expected to prolong human life, which is decidedly more important.

THE PASSING YEARS
(From Thursday's Intelligencer of this day 25 years ago.)

Rhoda, wife of the late John R. Huffman, died yesterday at her home on Dominion Dundas. Deceased was a sister of Mr. James Haight of this city.

The Public Works Committee last night passed the pay sheet, $672.06 and the account of Chas. Dolan, $23.40. It was decided that Charles St., from Victoria Ave. to Bridge St. and Pinnacle St. be repaired.

Mrs. Burton Ketcheson of Wallbridge had one of his fingers badly cut by a mowing machine knife yesterday morning. Dr. Sprague brought him to the hospital here where it was found necessary to amputate the finger.

GIPSY GIRL

She passed, unseeing as she passed,
The fetted place-bound man
As alien to her ancient caste
Of camp and caravan.

Yet on his hand, her sign she set.
In beauty he cannot forget.

For in her eyes a light was born
That time can never tame,
As steady as a crescent flare,
As clear as candle shine.
A warmth to soothe, a fire to scorch,
At once a taper and a torch.
And so it is that when the spring
Comes through the sleeping rain
With roving foot and wandering wing
And fill of life again,
He sees against the sun slit skies
Only the glamor of her eyes.

RHEUMATIC PAINS Colors DUE TO THIN BLOOD

Relief Comes Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the swollen, aching limb is a little relief and all the while the trouble is becoming more firmly rooted. It is now known that rheumatism is rooted in the blood, and that as the trouble goes on the blood becomes still further thin and watery. To get rid of rheumatism therefore, you must go to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved so beneficial when taken for this trouble. They make new, rich blood which expels the poisonous acid and the rheumatism disappears.

There are thousands of former rheumatic sufferers in Canada, now well and strong, who thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that they are now free from the aches and pains of this dreaded trouble. One of these Mrs. W. F. Tait, McKellar, Ont., who says:—"I am one of the willing ones to tell you of the great benefits I received from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After trying in bed for seven weeks suffering untold agony with inflammatory rheumatism, relief finally came through the use of this medicine. I could not move in bed only as they lifted me, and I could only sleep when opiates were given me. The medical treatment I was taking seemed of no avail. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and soon I began to get relief. After taking six or eight boxes the rheumatism was banished and I had never felt better in my life. It is several years since this happened and I have had no return of the trouble since. I may add that I recommended the pills to two ladies friends who were suffering with rheumatism and the pills were equally effective in both cases."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Just Stories

A warning message from General Noble's wife kept the chaplain of the expedition, Father Giantranciasi, at King's Bay. It had been discovered that he would go on the Italia to drop on the North Pole the cross entrusted to General Nobile by the Pope. But Signora Nobile sent her husband a telegram just before the start begging him to drop the cross himself and saying that this would bring luck to the expedition. Beside dog mascots there were many luck articles aboard the Italia, including photographs of the King and Queen of Italy.

A Soviet farce organization held in Moscow put up a spokesman who asked M. Kalinin, the president of the gathering: "Where is Trotsky and how is he?" M. Kalinin, who is one of the highest dignitaries in Soviet union, replied: "He is all right. He is living in the city of Alma Ata, capital of Kazakistan." This answer is the first mention of Trotsky in many months. The mention of Trotsky by Kalinin brought laughter from the big crowd.

JUNE THOUGHTS

Under the old Michigan marriage law a couple could become engaged, get a license and be married within ten minutes.

Three years ago the legislature passed a "second-thought" law, which required a five-day waiting period between the issuing of the license and the wedding ceremony.

The marriage license clerk at Detroit who has a flair for statistics, lately undertook to check his records under the new law. He found that one couple, twenty-two days twenty-two hours and twenty-two minutes elapsed between the issuing of the license and the ceremony.

Reports from the distributors and dealers all over the country show that the preference by which Essex outsells all "Sixes" has established its first place so far ahead that there is no second.

You need only see and ride in the Essex to share this country- and world-wide conviction.

As you lounge in the roomy, high-backed form-fining seats, every evidence of quality and comfort surrounds you.

You have before you every control in their most natural and handy place. And all about you, the paneling, the weather-stripped doors, the silenced body construction, the flood-beaming and the hardware in graceful, silvery patterns speak quietly and certainly of quality.

In this and such things as the black rubber, steel-core, forge-alloyed steering wheel, the worm and tooth disc steering mechanism and the vertical radiator shutters, Essex visibly duplicates costly car practice, as it does also in the hidden things you never see.

INSTALLING NEW TELEGRAPH LINE

Bellevillle's down town streets will be greatly improved by the work which the Canadian National Telegraph Company is doing in tearing down their old poles which are covered with a mass of wires. These are being taken down and scarcer poles will replace them, with all the wires being placed in a cable.

The poles are also being moved from the gutter, where they formerly were, to the sidewalk, which will be another much needed improvement, as besides blocking the water from running into the sewers, these poles have been a great hindrance to the street sweeper which has been forced to leave refuse behind owing to the fact that the brushes do not touch the corners.

These poles will be moved first from the Lower Bridge to Pinnacle St., and the Hydro Electric Power Commission will remove their poles from Pinnacle to Church Street.

District foreman Charlebois, of Toronto is in charge of the work, which should be finished in about four days. The expenditure of some five thousand dollars is necessary to have these poles removed, and new ones installed, but it is well worth the price as the streets will be much improved.

PROFIT BY ERRORS ALREADY ON RECORD

By DR. LOUIS E. HISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

We have all made mistakes in life. And all of us have regretted them.

The person who never made a mistake in life simply does not exist.

Some people are luckier than others. At least, their appear so. Some also appear more unfortunate than others. They seem always to run up against hard luck.

But by far and large, life is doled with ups and downs in varying proportions and intensity. And because nobody's course through life is smooth, even and continuously successful, we often hear people say: "If only I had my life to live over again."

The truth of the matter is, however, that in most actuality did have your life to live over again you would do just about the same as you have done with the life your are leading right now!

Granted that you started all over again with the same hereditary background and developed your childhood in the same environment, there is no question but what the course of your adult years—except possibly for a few negligible differences—would be identical with what it is today.

The reason you wish you could begin anew is, of course, because you feel you would know better how to navigate next time. They believe you have learned from experience, in other words. You think the lessons have been profitable.

That is true. If you could apply the lessons you have already learned in this life to another, the story might be different.

But that can't be. It is impossible! What, then, is the next best thing?

What can be done with the experience that you have already rolled up to your credit?

Why, start afresh right now! Don't wish for something on this earth that you know is impossible.

Why not assume you are actually having another chance right here and now?

It is never too late to begin again, to turn over a new leaf, to start once more with energy and hope revitalized and buttressed by the experience of yore ups and downs.

Now is the time to live your life over again! Make a fresh start at once.

Try to crowd two lives into one! Pretend that you have been born again with the wisdom of your present years. Already developed.

Test yourself out and see what will happen. Many men and women have done just this and they have turned devastating failure into jubilant success.

Have a go at yourself! It's easier to work than you imagine.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Anti-infected cupboards should be sprayed regularly with strong tooacco-water, which odour thus troublesome insects detest. Blackbeetles can be got rid of by sprinkling a mixture of borax and white sugar near their haunts.

Cooked lobsters are easily distinguished because they turn red upon cooking. To distinguish between them which are dead before they were cooked, not whether the tail is turned under. A live lobster instinctively curls up upon contact with hot water.

Soiled white and silver brushe shoes need not be discarded, as a coat of boiled ink, applied with a soft camel-hair brush, will renovate them wonderfully. The white accepts the color and throws the silver into relief. There is such a wide range of colored inks on the market now that it is possible to match almost any dress.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 44.
THE STRONGHOLD.

Celia introduced Falconer and Tom Harrington. The latter bowed stiffly; the former with his accustomed suavity. But Celia saw the gleam in Falconer's eyes and knew that he was fully aware of the irony of the situation.

She felt a sickening fear of what Falconer's lively sense of humor might prompt him to do and say.

"I've heard of you, Mr. Harrington," Falconer remarked coolly, offering his cigarette case. "Why don't you believe in Fu Harvard myself. Deuce rivals, eh?" he laughed lightly.

Tom flushed hotly.

"What year were you?" he asked stiffly.

"Too far back for you to remember," was the affable reply. "You were probably in long dresses then."

His tone dismissed Tom as a person of no importance. Tom flushed with raging.

"It's a good policy to follow, my boy. Never be too serious in this world. It's such a waste of time. When I came in just now, you were looking as solemn as if you'd just been told that Judgment Day was scheduled for tomorrow before breakfast."

He lit a cigarette and glanced at Celia.

"Ready to go, my adored?"

She rose with alacrity, gave Tom her hand, and walked away with Falconer.

"So that's the lad!" he remarked, as they left the clubhouse. "Celia, I thought you had better taste. He's simply bull in satin—empty-headed youngster."

She answered resentfully:

"I have no desire to hear any criticism of Tom Harrington from you."

"Hoy . . . Ah, that's where love the wrong man —— and learn about the right one when it's too late."

"I detest your cynicism!" she declared bitterly.

"And I adore your ingenue qualities," was the response. "You're a sweet child, Celia, even if you have the choice of a temper."

"You'd try the patience of a saint," she laughed. "Come, let's be going on. What two people of the opposite sex quarrel constantly over nothing. It's a hopeful sign."

"A hopeful sign of what? . . . That we're incompatible will soon be evident."

"The ingenue again," he chuckled. "Yes, my dear, a sign that they are falling in love."

She bit her lip to keep back angry words, and consigned the wise bone in dignified silence. Not a whit abashed, Falconer straight and godeted once or twice, he laughed softly. It enraged her.

The afternoon mail was lying on the hall table when they arrived at the house. Celia snatched it up quickly. There was the letter from Annesley. She crushed it quickly in her hand. But Falconer grinned at her and caught her wrist.

"Let me see it!" he commanded, in a tone she had never heard him use before.

She tried to free herself from his grip.

"How dare you touch me! Let me go instantly!"

He snatched the letter from her hand.

"I'd like just a glance at this." In an undertone, he added: "Please be carefull!"

He glanced up. Miss Page was descending the stairs, her demure eyes taking in the scene.

He turned into the living-room. Celia followed him. She was fully aware of the construction Miss Page had put upon that parenthetic epithet. He opened the letter and stared curiously at the blank sheets.

"What is the meaning of this? Some new intrigue?"

In the end she had to confess the pitiful ruse. He rocked with laughter while she stared at him, her eyes flashing.

"Fancy Jim Annesley in a role like this!" he gasped. "Jim Annesley, who is so steadfast he fairly falls over backward. He must be in love with you, Celia, ever to have consented."

He is my friend —— as a gentleman."

"Touché!" he conceded. "It's a long time since I aspired to that title. So Jim sends you one of these every day. Quite a unique passion for you, my child, when the supposed husband is in the house. I can understand now why you dash to the door when the postman comes up the walk. I'd thought maybe you had a fancy for the man himself."

"Don't be insulting," she flared.

"I'm not." He came closer to her. "I'm not, Celia. . . . Only ——"

Leaving her, wild-eyed and startled he thrust the envelop into her hands and left the room. She stood looking after him, remembering what Gwen had said that afternoon. Was there a flaw in Gwen's judgment, or did Falconer merely wish to make her unhappy? Surely he was dangerous! She hoped that it was the latter.

She put Annesley's "letter" in the cupboard with the linen. They were always the same now ——only blank sheets of paper. She decided that he was too busy to think of her.

Someone had brought hurt her. She recalled those days in New York, when he had befriended her.

Then Falconer left, and Tom Tom, who was so boyish, so easy-going. And now Tom was gone. How different from Vail, surreptitious, uneasily alert. How different from poor Larry Cross, lighting his pipe, and confessed an inherent weakness. Above all, how different from the reckless, carefree adventurer, Falconer —— the man the world knew as her husband.

After dinner that night, Celia went up-stairs to sit with her mother. The latter said:

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Parts observes that two materials in a brim are only given a hat added interest but also a lighter and often prettier look, and it's a device frequently seen these days when frill and straw, straw and lace, crepe de chine and straw lace, and other fabrics are allied.

It is true beyond question that the small cloche hat, cut away sharply at the neck, is the leading favorite with our more exclusive Parisiennes, but there are many other small models which meet with their favor, such, for instance, the supple "pull on," made of straw and ribbon of straw and felt, which moulds the head and turns back sharply in front.

Long-haired furs in tones of grey assume importance as trimming on fall coats, either in original. Paris models or adaptations of imports, and these furs are employed to harmonize with the color of the coating, and appear in border, collar and cuff arrangements, while fox is the preferred pelty and several different blends of dark on light grey with black or white are observed in the dyed treatments.

Mainly About People You Know

TRAVEL TALK.

Last night in John Street Church Mr. R. J. Graham gave a most interesting Travel Talk, illustrated with lantern slides. A large audience was on hand and enjoyed Mr. Graham's address immensely. An added feature of the evening was music supplied by Mrs. L. Riggs an Mr. James Bankier.

FAID HIS FINE.

Harry Davenport, agent for an investment company here, was assessed $15 and $7 costs on a charge of drunkenness by Magistrate Ketcl this morning. Mr. Davenport was ordered to appear before and failed to do so, whereupon a warrant for his arrest was issued. The accused did not fail to appear in court this morning however, and paid the fine. This mean, stated Chief K.M. "is a mirage."

N.O.W. TAG DAY.

Starting shortly after 7 o'clock this morning little girls were busy tagging all the citizens of this city, as today is Victorian Order of Nurses tag-day. Few escaped the vigilant eyes of the young misters and all contributed cheerfully, and the proceeds when counted over should show a substantial profit.

DEPOSITORS RECEIVE ADDITIONAL RELIEF

Ottawa, June 23.—Mr. Justice MacLean, president of the Exchequer Court, expects that additional relief available to Home Bank depositors will be ready about September. Payments will be made to persons who did not file claims when the original vote of the Government was distributed.

A large number of depositors having several hundreds of dollars to credit, when the bank failed, did not file claims at all or filed them too late, and the extra amount of $460,000 voted by Parliament is to meet these cases. About 6 cents on the dollar is usually paid to needy cases, but much less than that is allowed to people who have other means.

CHAMPION TO VISIT IRELAND

Speculator, N.Y., June 23.—The Thalteau games, Olympics of the Irish, to be held in Dublin in August, will have as a spectator Gene Tunney, the heavyweight champion. Tunney will sail shortly after his battle with Tom Heeney, July 26, he announced yesterday.

CHILDREN PRESENTED WITH ESSAY PRIZES

A pleasant surprise came to some of the pupils at A. M. S. Early in the Spring the "Ontario Safety League" offered prizes to the pupils in Public and Separate Schools throughout the Province for writing an essay on the topic.

"What Our School can do to Prevent Accidents."

As the boys and girls 100 per cent strong had just become members of the "Link Kidd Safety Club" and had received their certificates and buttons many of them were interested in writing the Essay.

On Thursday, June 21st, along came the cheques for seven of the pupils. These were presented to the winners yesterday afternoon by Mr. A. F. Hill man, chairman of Q.A.S. committee, and other members of the Board.

Those winning the three prizes were:

Sr. IVth Class—Willa Elliot, Ann Carlyle, Floyd Henry, Kenneth Munnings.

Jr. IVth Class—Harriet Gilbert, Mary Hall.

Sr. IIIrd Class—Betty Walsh.

WOSKA AND HIS TRAINED TIGERS

Austrian Animal Trainer With Sparks Circus On June 29th

"There are two things that a trainer must remember," says Woska in discussing his profession.

"Keep your animals apart while they are in the arena; secondly, watch them with unblinking eye."

Woska is an Austrian and during the war was an officer in the Austrian army, but, training animals has been his born profession, we use the expression of born profession because from his earliest childhood his greatest hobby was training, first with small domestic animals and then with the fierce cat animals from the dense forests of Africa. Afraid, no, say Woska, for cowardice and training do not go together. All my animals that come in the arena I have entrusted to my training including Tigers and Polar Bears are wonderful specimens of the forest and as a trainer I take great pride in my trust. The public usually asks me if tigers are dangerous. Sure they are—very dangerous, however a steady eye, and good strong nerve are me through. Should anything happen to the tigers, they are open likely to spring all upon one accord—then they are, Mrs. O. B. Ragsdale, in Rochest.

BELL—RYAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 23rd, at Trenton, when Mrs. Mary A. Ryan, of this city became the bride of Mr. John C. Bell. The Reverend V. K. Nicoll performed the ceremony.

J. T. WARREN IS ALEMITE DEALER

An outstanding example of up-to-date lubricating equipment is to be found at the place of business of Mr. J. T. Warren, the city's Chevrolet dealer. Mr. Warren has installed the latest that proper lubrication plays in the automobile business.

With this in mind Mr. Warren has equipped his Service Department of his business with the best High-Pressure Lubrication that could find. He has installed the Alemite Air-Operated Lubrigun which operates by compressed air and which lubricates with Alemite-equipped and Zerk-equipped cars. This equipment makes it possible to quickly and efficiently lubricate a car.

Not satisfied with the best lubricating equipment he could get, Mr. Warren wanted the best lubricant to use in servicing his customers cars. And is the reason J. T. Warren is "Alemiteing." He realized that there are no better lubricants than Alemite Motor Chassis Lubricant and Alemite Gear Lubricant. Mr. Warren's expression, "The best is none too good for my customers' fairly well sums up his reasons for using none but Alemite Lubricants in his service department.

Mr. Warren has also installed a special type of steel rack in order to facilitate the work of lubrication.

The efforts Mr. Warren has made to give his customers better lubrication service by means of the best equipment and lubricants will not go unrewarded. The car owner of today realizes that "Alemite-ing" is like gas, oil, water, air—an absolute necessity in the operation of his car. He also realizes that the term "Alemiteing" means lubrication service that is performed with genuine Alemite equipment and using genuine Alemite lubricants.

Again—J. T. Warren is "Alemiteing."

FIGHT AGAIN TONIGHT

New York, N.Y., June 23.—George Godfrey, giant negro, and Jimmy Maloney, Cleveland baker boy, will make their second attempt tonight to stage the heavyweight fight at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. The first attempt threatening weather forced a postponement. It was scheduled for Wednesday, but pon

Performance typical of the Century's motoring progress

Century Six Sportster with rumble seat, custom-equipped, $2075, f.o.b. Windsor

STYLE POWER SPEED STRENGTH

THOUGH he may first have been attracted by the brilliant new beauty and distinction of the Century Six or Eight, any Hupmobile owner will tell you that sparkling performance comes foremost in the list of his car's fine qualities. Power, rated not in spasmodic bursts of speed, but in the manner in which these superlative high compression engines settle down to their tasks; sweetly and smoothly without visible effort or strain. Steering ease that eliminates the last vestige of driving fatigue. Brakes that will stop the car "on a dime," yet cannot squeak or rattle no matter how hard they are applied. Mechanically, the new Century Hupmobiles are as fair in the van of Twentieth Century motoring progress, as the modish body styles and luxury with which they are surrounded. Prove this statement to your own satisfaction by an hour or a day's test in a Century Six or Eight.

24 body and equipment combinations, standard and custom, on each line. Six of the Century, $1815 to $2215. Century Eight, $2495 to $2895. All prices f. o. b. Windsor.

BELLE THEATRE

Even without its absorbing story and thrilling action, Warner Bros.' production of "When a Man Loves," starring John Barrymore would be a great picture because of its sheer pictorial beauty.

Besides its many-sided appeal to the imagination it is an ever changing delight to the eye. The director was spared in the erection of the gigantic settings, perfect and realistic in every detail of time. The costumes of a naturally colorful and decorative period are also authentic and beautiful in tone and variety. The photography of these by the master who filmed "The Sea Beast" and "Don Juan" accentuates them and suffuses them with a romantic glamour which enchants the mind and holds the spectator the illusion of utter reality.

REGENT THEATRE

A work of one of America's most famous playwrights will reach the Regent Theatre Monday when Thomas Meighan's new Paramount starring picture "We're All Gamblers" is shown.

It is based on Sidney Howard's New York stage success "Lucky Sam McCarver" according to an announcement by Lockie Hubard, featured producer who supervised the production. 9

BEAVERS EASILY DEFEAT KIWANIS

Molly Gray Cracks Out Two Home Runs With Bases Full

Playing almost a faultless brand of ball the Belleville Beavers disposed of the Kiwanis Senior team of Kingston after a fast outdoors at the ampurtas last night by a one-sided score of 24-5. The Beavers really displayed their best ball of the season and they should turn in some victories in the invasion into Western Ontario on Dominion Day if they continue to show up as they did last night. Slow hitting like demons and their fielding was well-nigh perfect. Also Manager Read the rod act following the game with Point Anne and apparently is fast rounding into form. The game was fairly even until the fifth inning when the Kingston team went to pieces and the Beavers proceeded, at a rapid rate to pile up the score on their rivals. Even the Beavers' star hitting team failed to connect with any of Kingston's five pitchers which kept the amount of success. The little pokerface was in splendid form last night, pitching the entire game of the route. She fanned six and walked but two. The Kingston team went in pieces and the most part of young players who, with a little experience will give a good account of themselves on the diamond. Miss Powell din the pitching at all the way but the visiting Beavers back in the first five innings but the pace was too great and she weakened. Miss Powell caught one and was wild at times when the ball got by the catcher.

Twila Warham featured the game with a great running catch in centre field, and Molly Gray practically won her own game when she cracked out two home runs, on occasions with the bases full. The Beavers tremendous hitting was the big feature and Molly Gray was conspicuous toward the end with the result decided. Gladys Knott, "Smiler" Malcolm and Lena Devlin turned in fine games in covering the left side of the diamond. Miss Tuite got in some effective clouting. Miss Conley caught a great game for the visitors. The Kingston outfield trio covered acres of ground and patrolled the territory well but the work of the infield players was wretched at times. The Kiwanis Club of Kingston are being treated to a return visit on Monday, Jeffrey Kerr umpired at the plate and Kingston man on the bases.

FIFTY CLOWNS HIS PLAYMATES

Mgt Cotton Sparks, Jr., and his pal, "Tige".

Here's a boy who is enjoying just the sort of life that at one time or another has been the pet dream of every child. Happy, healthy, bronzed by the open, loving and loved, he gives a fantastic note where one is least expected —in the circus.

For Clinton, Jr. is mascot of the Sparks Circus and every day is circus day to him.

The four hundred men and women arenic artists with the big show consider themselves especially appointed guardians for the youngster. Fifty funny, paint-bemused clowns are his playmate, while a regiment of tiny Shetland ponies and whole families of cute baby animals have been sent over his pets.

How about it, children, don't you envy him

An abundance of clean, wholesome features and novelties, especially designed for the little folks, are included in the gigantic program of the Sparks Circus, which will exhibit in Belleville next Friday afternoon and night. And the most magnificent street parade ever seen by children of any age is scheduled at 11 a. m.

A conveniently located ticket sale will be held at Doyle's Drug Store on circus day, at prices the same as those charged at the show grounds.

Alfred Tennyson Claims Title of Descendant of Poet

INVETERATE SMOKER

Settled in Hastings County When It Was Heavily Wooded

Alfred Tennyson, who claims the title of a first cousin of the poet Tennyson, the immortal surgeon of Balaclava given by Valentine Tennyson Smith, interviewed recently. This remarkable old gentleman who if living will "only 90% next, will have attained the ripe old age of ninety-four birthday. Here is an example portion of his time with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Stillman, 2nd line, Marmora, moved in the second concession of Marmora Township.

Alfred, a native of age, Valentine's father with his parents and two other children, emigrated from Hampshire, England, finally settling in St. Andrew's Quebec, thirty miles to the east of Montreal. Here Alfred was born, his father being of Dutch descent. During those early days such was the custom of the father's name, given to be, Mr. Stillman remarked, that he had only known his father as Mr. Alfred Tennyson. Alfred's father was a farmer and by trade a shoemaker. He was also a preacher, having been ordained by the Methodist Church. A. E. Pepper Facing Charge of Reckless Driving As Result

Mrs. A. Newman is in the Belleville Hospital suffering from a lacerated knee, cuts on the face, and shocks, while three others were given Medical attention and were able to go home following an accident on the Trenton Highway yesterday. E. A. Pepper was charged with reckless driving but was released later to appear when called upon.

About one mile west of Riley's Dance Pavilion, Mr. A. Newman, of 24 Herbert Street, while travelling east on the Highway was struck by another car driven by A. E. Pepper, 19 Herbert Street, who claimed that he had to turn out because an unknown car had stopped in front of him without any warning. H. T. O. Hinchcliffe investigated for the Provincial police and brought Pepper to the Police Station, charged with reckless driving. He admitted that Newman was in no way to blame.

Besides Mrs. A. Newman, her mother-in-law, Mrs. F. Newman, suffered a cut knee, while Miss Verna Morse, suffered minor scalp wounds. Miss Pepper, passenger in the other car sustained a bad gash on the head. Mr. Newman was uninjured, as well as two children who were riding with him. This morning the case was enlarged for a week, Pepper being again released on his own recognizance.

FAREWELL SAID TO ARMY PEOPLE

Adjutant And Mrs. Boulton Recipients of Leather Bible

Last evening at the Salvation Army Citadel a large congregation, made up of many of the Canadian Legion members and the Ladies Auxiliary in this city, as well as the Salvation Army members themselves, paid a tribute to the work which Adjutant and Mrs. Boulton have done in this city in this city.

Although here for only eighteen months, both have made themselves known and loved not only to the members of their own congregation but to all who had any dealings with them. While Mrs. Boulton was short but very well-liked, have the good wishes of a multitude of friends in this city. At a social hour in the Adjutant and Mrs. Boulton, Mr. S. Batchelor, on behalf of the Canadian Legion and Ladies Auxiliary presented them with a wonderful leather bound Bible, which the Adjutant acknowledged in a few words. Work has not been recried yet as to where Mr. and Mrs. Boulton will be stationed in future.

MINOR COLLISION ON WEST BRIDGE

Thuide Thompson, of Rossmore, had the misfortune to have his new Ford comfortably damaged when his car was struck from behind by Harry Webb, of Frankford, on Thursday afternoon on the West Bridge St., into Victoria Street yesterday. Webb's car was also damaged and when Police Constable Thompson investigated, both parties had reached a satisfactory settlement.

Percy T. Wiggins, who lives at St. Agnes Manor, reported to the Police this morning that some one during the night had picked up his car and stolen one of the front wheels. Sergeant of Detectives J. Truesich is investigating the disappearance.

MANY PLAN TO VISIT ROCHESTER

Chas. Hanna Promises Outing Will Be Best of Season

Judging from present indications a large crowd will take in the excursion to Rochester under the auspices of the Argyll Band on Wednesday of this week. Charles Hanna, Chairman of the Excursion Committee, told The Intelligencer that 600 tickets had been disposed of and band members feel that it will be the big event of the season.

A special train will leave the down-town Canadian National station at 8 a.m.; the fare is $2.50 for adults and $1.75 for children. The special train will start at Napanee and pick up passengers at all of the Lake Shore towns. It is stated that many people in Trenton, Brighton, Cobourg and other towns will attend the Excursion. Arrangements have been completed for a supper-room to provide music for dancing on the boat on the trip across the Lake as well as the afternoon. The excursionists will be taken directly to the Ferry Dock at Cobourg where the boat will be met by the band and will take the trip across beautiful Lake Ontario will be started. Arriving at Rochester the picnickers will be allowed several hours in the 'Flower City.' Rochester parks are one of the most picturesque of American Cities and those who have not already paid a visit to the home of the Eastman Kodak Company are passing up a treat. The boat will leave Rochester late in the afternoon and the guests will have ample time for shopping if they desire. The funds realized from the excursion will be devoted to the Argyll Band which is just now getting organized for the season after a hectic period.

CIACO CLUB TO HOLD FIELD DAY

The Ciaco Club of the Canadian Industries Limited company is planning a monster athletic meet and Field Day on July 2nd at the new grounds at Corbyville. The committee have officially declared at 10.30 and' at 11 a baseball game between the married and single men will take place. At one o'clock a Baby Show will be held and this will be followed by forty-five different athletic events. It is expected that these will be completed at five o'clock and a dance at Kerr's Club House will conclude the day's program. It is planned to make it one of the big gest days in the history of the plant and the Committee are working hard to make it a success.

UMPIRE STABBED

Arbiter of Baseball Game Is Victim of Players' Attack

Philadelphia, Penn., June 25.—A volunteer umpire for the impromptu baseball game at a local park is in the hospital today with 13 stab wounds. Partisanship between the pick-up teams became heated and when the players disagreed with the Umpire decision the ballplayers used their knives.

CROWDS SWARM PICNIC GROUNDS

Golf Courses Mecca For Scores of Adherents On Week-End

Although it was a rather wet weekend until the sun managed to get out about eleven o'clock yesterday morning, Old Sol made short work of the moisture and some Golf Courses were crowded in the afternoon, as well as the various parks in the city. Whose the possession of the day was to be seen on highways and byways, all taking advantage of the warmth in the air and the bright sunshine.

No less than twelve cars were counted in one of the down town Street Car Rivers, while the whole family tried their best to keep pace with them and no doubt made the finney denizens of the river more or less uncomfortable with their tempting lures. To date there have been no record catches made, although this may be due to the fact that the bass season does not open until the 15th of July.

Each year the Seattle Hole becomes more popular as a picnic ground, and yesterday saw one of the largest crowds of the season at this popular rendezvous. The Seattle Hole gets its name from the fact that the Mairs Hotel at all spot in some past age was hung, combed the whole acre with tunnels and caverns, some filled with water and others which are now dry to the surface. It must be very interesting, and is certainly an ideal picnic spot.

Although so many cars were on the road yesterday, no serious accidents have been reported to date, in this vicinity, which is something to be proud of, as it shows that for the most part, the motoring public has adopted for its motto, 'Care and Courtesy.' Safe and sane driving is now the order of the day, and the reckless, foolhardy man or woman at the wheel should be severely published, even though no accident or other damage is done.

PUPILS AWARDED ESSAY PRIZES

Pupils in the public schools of the city have been honored by the arrival of the prizes awarded in their annual essay competition and is open to all pupils sixteen years and under in the province.

The pupils of Ontario this year sent in 3500 essays on the subject of Order, of Queen Mary School, was awarded $1h prize which was $2.00 in value. The other prize winners in Belleville scholars were for $1.00 each and were won by the following pupils:

MILLION DOLLARS IS SPENT ON CANDY

Washington, D. C., June 26.—A billion dollars worth of candy a year is used to fill the sweet tooth of the American people, according to a message made by the Department of Commerce in cooperation with the National Confectioners' Association. Candy consumption during 1928 amounted to 11.98 pounds per capita, an increase of 2.94 per cent. in quantity and 4.28 per cent. in value over 1925.

The report estimates that nearly $1,-000,000 worth of American candy are sent abroad in 1926, an increase of 14 per cent. over exports of the year before.

CONVENTION TO OPEN TOMORROW

Officers of Local Branch Attend Chamber of Commerce Gathering

IN CHATEAU LAURIER

Will Inspect Chief Power Plants Along Ottawa River

At Ottawa tomorrow the Eastern Ontario Chambers of Commerce will open the annual Convention. Five or six delegates from Belleville probably will be in attendance. They are R.J.E. Chown, president of the Belleville Branch; C. A. Cameron, vice-president; J. O. Herity, secretary, Cliff Campbell and E. P. Frederick, City Clerk.

The opening day will be taken up with the annual session and a banquet will be held in the evening. W. H. Wood, manager of the London, Ont., Chamber, will be the speaker at the banquet, as well as Mayor Ellis of Ottawa, and Dr. Drisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. The sessions will be held in the Chateau Laurier.

Tuesday morning will be taken up with an inspection of the power sites along the Gatineau River, when Belleville will see the work of its electric power in a few years. Lunches will be taken at the Dominion Government Experimental Farm and this will be looked over in the afternoon. No doubt a great deal will be gleaned by these delegates, who are all working for the good of this city of Belleville.

FEELING SURGES TOWARD SMITH

Stage Set For Opening of Big Convention At Houston

Houston, Texas, June 25.—Winding up almost in silence one of the quietest preconvention campaigns in the present generation, supporters of Governor Smith stood today in a preeminent position of leading all but eighteen of the nations big democratic national convention which opens tomorrow and the presidential nomination will be made next with it. As the arriving delegates swelled by hundreds upon the Texas city's headlong New Yorker, it became apparent even to his still defiant enemies that he was on the threshold of a definite first victory. The boldest estimate of the managers of the Governor's forces is that within less than 50 votes of the nomination. No other man so situated has failed of a quick and decisive triumph.

MOTOR LAUNCHES SUNK

Port Colborne, June 25.—Three motor launches were sunk in the canal this morning by oil carrier, L. L. J. 105. The captain of the craft was obliged to put out against the current when the boat increased its speed on a malicious signal.

LOCAL POSTMEN VISIT KINGSTON

Members of the local branch No. 44 of postmen motored to Kingston on Saturday afternoon, were met on the out skirts of the city and escorted to Memorial Hall where they were entertained for a short while. A tour of the city was then made and many places of interest were visited. At six p.m. the visitors were escorted to the banquet hall where a very fine dinner was served by the ladies furnished by an augmented orchestra. Vocal and instrumental solos by the postal employees of both cities featured the proceedings. There were present members of the post office staff as well as the train for department. After the programme had been completed a dinner was held and the postmen exchanged their views on matters of interest to their particular line of work. The guests left for home at a late hour delighted with the splendid entertainment provided by their Kingston brothers.

ROTARIANS MARK 50TH MILESTONE

Col. W. N. Ponton Gives Brief History of Belleville

Rotary Club celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the City of Belleville at their luncheon today, every member being required to bring his strongest coin piece, and over two hundred and down to luncheon.

Mayor Wolf spoke a few words of welcome to those who were visitors, while Notarian Harry Ackerman introduced the speaker of the day, Col. W. N. Ponton.

Col. Ponton said he regretted that the beauty of Belleville's water front had been practically destroyed when the Grand Trunk obtained permission to use this part of the city, and declared that Prince's Island and the whole waterfront should be looked after as it is one of the most beautiful spots in the whole of Canada.

There are two stories as to the manner in which Belleville came to receive its name, according to Col. Ponton, the first being that it was named after Lady Belle Gore, who was greatly taken with the place when here on a visit and the second that it was named after Col. Bell, who was one of the early pioneers of this section, after whom Bell's Creek is named. It is significant to note that in the old days Belleville was spelled as Belleville without the 'e', so some doubt exists as to which story is really correct, after all, but it may have been a compliment to both.

MARKED GAINS IN NORANDA TECK

Amulet, Sherritt Gordon And Sudbury Basin Held Firm

(By Canadian Press)

The market continued somewhat soft again today, with Noranda and Teck the exceptions. Noranda was actively bought by New York and finished at 36.00 for a gain of $1.50 on 6,000. Teck gained 17c to $10.70, Amulet, Sherritt and Sudbury held fairly firm. Arno was also in demand, selling up to 34 and Amffy very active up to 53 at one time, but reacted considerably before being down 11 to 60c. Howey was also a weak sister off 7 to 8$. Push Efforts To Rescue Aviator Whose Machine Crashed

Spurred by the rescue of General Nobile, an international group of aero planes and a ship in Spitzbergen waters bent every effort today to rescue the remaining stranded men. The Swedish fliers on the vessel Quest at Cape Mimdopen "were ready to fly to the Nobile camp again, particularly to rescue Lieut. Lundberg, Swedish flyer, whose plane overturned on his second trip to the camp.

Unconfirmed despatches reported that the Russian icebreaker Krassin was in communication with Nobile remaining in the tent of the French aeroplane which disappeared a week ago while flying to Nobile's aid.

The base ship Citta di Milano had left Kings Bay for Virgo Bay to be nearer the scene of the search work. General Nobile is aboard her.

COUNTY PIONEER DIED YESTERDAY

John M. Fair, One Hundred Years of Age, Passed Away

One of the pioneers of Hastings County passed away at the House of Refuge yesterday, in the person of John Morgan Fair. The late Mr. Fair celebrated his one hundredth birthday last summer and despite his extremely advanced years was active up until a few months ago. He was born in Prince Edward County in 1827 and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Fair. When a young man he left to reside in Marmora Township and out of the dense forest he hewed himself a home.

When interviewed last summer Mr. Fair told some interesting stories of life in North Hastings in the early days when farming was in its infancy in this county. He attributed his longevity to the fact that he spent most of his life in the country. Mr. Fair was an inveterate smoker and was a particular among the inmates of the House of Refuge where he has resided for the past ten years. Mr. Fair was a member of the 43 of his battalion up until the last although his sight was somewhat impaired of late years. His remains will be taken to Wellman's Corners for interment.

MALE SOLOISTS GAVE PROGRAM

A special musical service was held at Holloway Street United Church last evening, when the Radio Four, augmented by another male quartette, rendered several selections during the service which was conducted by Rev. L. S. Wrigt, Pastor of the Church. Messrs. Stillman, Haffner, Thomson and Moor man of the famed Radio Quartette, were assisted by Messrs. Dilmage, Verbeke, Austin and Mauch. The service was particularly enjoyed by a large audience and the double male quartette will be welcomed back to Holloway Street. The following was the programme:

Anthem, after prayer.

Solo by Mr. Mouck, after the Offertory.

Double Male Quartette, after third hymn.

Solo by Mr. Stillman.

Radio Four.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

He speaks best that hath the skill;
When for to hold his peace.
—VAUX.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE PROCEDURE

The need for two reforms in parliamentary practice has again been demonstrated in the session just concluded at Ottawa. One of these is for better sessions, the other is for a change in the procedure relating to private members' bills.

There has always been considerable momentum in the passing of estimates and the disposal of public business towards the close of a session. But it does now reached a point which is little short of a scandal. Some day parliament may meet early in the winter and give the farmer members a chance to get home for seeding, but until this happens there will always be slipshod legislation during the closing weeks and some passing of estimates which should never have been passed.

With respect to private bills the public will share the opinions expressed by both Premier King and Mr. Bennett that the rules should be changed to prevent a recurrence of the experience of last session when two important private bills were talked out and left stranded along with others of less importance at the end of the session. One of these bills was the Bell Telephone measure to double its capitalization. Another was the Sun Life bill. The western members from Quebec blocked the Edmonton-Dunsmuir and British Columbia Railway bill, which had been put forward at the request of the Alberta government.

Quite apart from the question whether the public interest of parliament to record vote on these bills, the contention is sound that it should be an impossibility for a handful of private members to have the power to prevent that vote being taken.

It should be provided that a decision of the House, one way or the other, should be recorded on all private bills that have been discussed.

THE SNAG IN THE BALKAN STATES

Prince Carol according to the latest intelligence from Rumania, has not flown that planet in the spring, has nothing to do with the case. The real dispute is between the National Peasant party and the Bratiano Liberals. This dispute arises out of the fact that the last-war alliance gave Rumania a lot of new territory and new people. The same conditions obtain in Jugo-Slavia where Punica Ratchitch ran amok in the national assembly, the new people there being Croats and Slovens, while in Rumania they are the Transylvanians and the Bessarabians. The difficulty lies in the discovery by the new people that they are paying the bulk of the taxes. The assimilation of the new elements in Rumania has been going on much more satisfactorily than has been reported. Bratiano is the chief difficulty and matters could be coalition government with Mr. Maniu arranged if he would consent to a of the Peasant party.

LOSE INTEREST IN OCEAN FLYING.

The most remarkable thing about the trans-Atlantic flight of the party of which Miss Earhearl was a member is not that it was accomplished, for the same feat had been carried out several times previously, but that it was accomplished with such a minimum of public interest. Newspapers all over Candada are reporting that the number of enquiries received by them concerning the progress of the flight was infinitesimal in comparison with the interest displayed in previous exploits of the same character, and the news that Miss Earhearl and her companions had successfully completed the passage and landed in the Burry estuary off the coast of Wales caused scarcely more than a ripple of passing notice.

This can only mean that the public is gradually becoming accustomed to these long-distance flying feats and that even the inclusion of a woman in the crew of a trans-Atlantic aeroplane new occasions little comment. Within the course of a few years' time, unless we are mistaken, aeroplanes will be hopping off for the Old Country or the Continent without any more fuss being made about them than is now made about the departure of a trans-continental passenger train. The public seems to have exploded all of its surplus enthusiasm in celebrating the exploits of Lindberg and the 'firemen,' an enthusiasm which, is might be remarked, was noticeably absent from the pioneer trans-Atlantic flight by Alcock and Brown, the British aviators nine years ago.

THE PASSING YEARS

A ROAD SONG,

These to be thankful for; a friend,
And these in which to take delight;
The wind that turns the poplars white,

Wonder and gleam of common things,
Sunlight upon a seagull's wings,
Odors of earth and dew-drenched lawns,
The pageantry of darks and dawns,

Blue vistas of a city street
At twilight, music, passing feet,
The thrill of Spring, half joy, half pain,
The deep voice of the Autumn rain.

Shall we not be content with these
Imperishable mysteries?
And found-hearted take our share
Of joy and pain and find life fair?
Wayfarers on a road where We
Set forth each day right valiantly,
Expectant, dauntless blithe, content,
To make the great experiment.

"I have faced many vicissitudes," said Hon. Peter Heenan, Canadian Minister of Labor, in Belfast, "since I left my farm cottage home in Tullygree, in County Down, in 1886. When I set out with my bundle on my shoulder, little did I dream that I should go to Canada a stranger, and forty years later put off my overalls and take up cares of office at the Ministry of Labor for that great Dominion. I will cast my eyes on the tumble-down cottage and see my only relative, my father's sister, who is eighty-six and anxious to see me." Hon. Mr. Heenan was on his way to a World Labor Conference at Geneva.

TIGER KITTENS WITH BIG CIRCUS

Litter of Tiny Tigers Will Be On Exhibition Here

Many who have visited the menagerie of Sparks' Circus this season have been accorded the unusual privilege of stroking a tiger's back and touching the sharp points of his claws to see how this jungle cat "scratches." The skin of no animal is more beautiful than the soft, glossy coat of the tiger, nor are the claws of any beast as dangerous. Therefore when one is given to pet on intimate terms with the most ferocious of all 'wild beasts,' and has the temerity to accept the invitation, it is something to "talk about." For those who study the habits of wild animals will tell you that it is better to have a lion cross your path than the man-killing tiger of India. The lion has always been accorded many noble qualities in fable and story, but the tiger has borne the unenviable reputation of being a desh-devilish, pitiless animal, showing no mercy to man or beast.

Looking upon the sleek and shimmering skin of the tiger, one feels almost an instinctive desire to touch it, but no one cannot resist the temptation of passing the hand over some little piece of silk, or smoothing the suface of soft velvet. But in the case of the tiger's skin, the temptation is seldom yielded to until the hide has been duly converted into a rug.

But those of the patrons of Sparks' Circus who have fearlessly touched the tiger's skin, have done so with perfect safety, for the animal is only a few weeks old. Six of these tiger "kittens" were born in the Sparks' menagerie a few weeks ago, and at present they are as harmless as the self-spring of a lamb's tail. They attract much attention in the menagerie where they are exhibited. Their nature will assert itself as they grow old, and then it will not be so safe to handle them. But all the children, as well as the grown-ups, who go to Sparks' Circus when it exhibits in Belleville next Friday afternoon and night will want to see these baby tigers, the very latest arrivals to increase the collection of animals from every quarter of the globe, all of which are exhibited in the big menagerie tent of these shows.

FARMER RESENTS NOSEY GOLFERS

Balls Dot Surface of Field Adjacent To Detroit Links

Detroit, June 12.—To the ordinary Charybdis of golf, Plum Brook course has added a Scylla. Just off the Utica road, Plum Brook beckons invitingly to the duffer. Its hazards are varied and interesting. The course abounds in streams, traps, bunkers, and other hypnotic features that fascinate the young and inexperienced golf ball.

But if Charybdis is survived, there re mains Scylla. Planking the fifth hole, leering wickedly toward the tee, is the pert of missing putts perchance—a golf ball cemetery. Like a landmine, it literalitly attracts the drive of that most ordinary of all golfing duns—the golfer with the chronic slice.

The burying ground is a wooded talient that juts out from Joe Graisbalper's farm into the fifth fairway, thereby making the hole a rather sharp "dog-leg."

When Plum Brook course opened more than a year ago, Mr. Graisbalper acquired an intense dislike for the game of golf. In golfers tramping up and down the fairway he saw only a menace to his property. In duffers slicing into his trees, trampling his grass in search of lost balls, and churning up his sand while killing snakes in the rough, he sensed an encroachment which was positively alarming.

It was then that Mr. Graisbalper decided to pronounce a requiescat in pace over the golf ball that landed in his property. The thing was done by means of a barbed-wire fence and a sign of warning. Golfers inclined to

Mainly About People You Know

CASE ENLARGED.

Harold Harrison, charged with being intoxicated in a public place, namely his garage on Front street, appeared this morning but his case was held over until the end of July, Constable Isard having informed the bench that he had in his hands a number of witnesses.

HEARD IN HIGHER COURT.

Elmer VanWagner appeared this morning charged with obtaining money under false pretences, but as he wished his case to be heard in a higher court only the preliminary evidence of Mrs. H. Bruce, the complainant in the case, was heard. Accordingly Mr. VanWagner's evidence will be heard later.

GUNMEN ACQUITTED.

Hoda Craig and Marano, alleged gunmen, appeared this morning in court but the case was laid over until Saturday, when it will proceed. Court will open on that date at 9.30 a.m. in order to give the Crown Attorney the opportunity to get away by afternoon-thirty.

REFRESHMENT BOOTH RIFLED.

Thieves broke into the Refreshment Booth at Victoria Park some time during last night according to Frank Diamond, who operates the booth. Sergeant Harman and Constable Isard investigated and found that there had been three different doors had been torn off Candy, tobacco and soft drinks were taken.

DAMAGE TO CARS.

When Gordon Adams, of Rossmore, allowed a lady friend to drive his car yesterday he made a mistake which may cost him some money. At the corner of Coleman and West Bridge streets, she collided with a car driven and driven by A. F. Vanderver, of Port Colborne, Ont., and did considerable damage. As she had no driving permit a charge may be laid, but the damage was settled amicably by the two parties.

TROPHIES ON DISPLAY

Several cups and trophies which have been donated for the Access-bike-day Swim on the 1st of July are on display in Ostrom's Drug Store. Those who have any idea of entering the race should have their entries in soon so that arrangements can be made to have boats to accompany every swimmer.

H. F. KETCHESON DIRECTOR.

In the list of new officers of the Belleville Club appearing in Saturday's issue of The Intelligencer the name of Mr. H. F. Ketcheson was inadvertently omitted. Mr. Ketcheson was elected as a Director of the Club for this season.

CHRIST CHURCH CARNIVAL

Tomorrow evening on Christ Church Parish lawn will be held a Lawn Carnival, which is sure to please both young and old. Everyone is invited, there will be fun for everyone and a good time is assured. The lawn will be tastefully decorated with lanterns and other bright lights, and no doubt many will take advantage of this opportunity for a good evening's entertainment.

ASK FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

Those who for any reason have clean warm clothing for which they have no need at present could do an untold amount of good by sending them to the Grenfell Mission, operating in Labrador. Mrs. W. G. Springer, Dundas Street, will gladly receive such parcels for this use up until the first day of July. This is a real opportunity for service among those who really need help, so bring your contribution along.

Emmanuel Church Ladies Aid will hold a Tea at the Rectory tomorrow afternoon to which any who care to come may attend. Tea will be served from three o'clock in the afternoon until six, and a silver collection will be taken.

FINED FOR DRINKING.

$100 and costs is the fine for drinking intoxicating beverages in an illegal place, as Herbert Brant, of Oshawa, found out this morning. On Mackenzie street last night, Constable Isard saw three men in a car whose actions aroused his suspicions. When he investigated he found six bottles of beer, and as Brant declared that his permit had bought the beer, he was accordingly arrested and appeared today.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN

William Cooke and Matthew Campbell who were sealed at Cobourg on Saturday are reported today by the attending physician as both doing well. Cooke was the more seriously injured of the two men, who are both confined to the hospital yet.

WEEK-END TEMPERATURES

Temperatures over the week end were fairly steady but there was a considerable amount of moisture thrown in for good measure. Saturday the mercury ranged between 60 and 74, on Sunday was practically the same with a high of 75 and a low of 61. Today showed a slight variation with 74 and 59 registered.

TRAIN DERAILED SIXTY INJURED

Small Hopes Held Out For Recovery of Fifteen Victims

Iola, Kansas, June 25.—Upwards of sixty persons were injured, several probably fatally, when three cars of the Missouri Pacific passenger train "Southerner" Little Rock, Arkansas, to Kaisas City, were derailed near Durand, 18 miles west of here, early this morning.

Thirty injured were brought to the hospital here where the condition of fifteen was announced as critical, physicians held little hope for the recovery of three or four of the injured. Two pullman and a smoking car were overturned and badly smashed. While the cause of derailment had not bee determined the investigation was started on the theory that a broken rail may have been responsible.

MASONS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

Rev. C. E. Clarke of Christ Church Delivered Inspiring Message

A short but impressive service featured the annual parade of the three local Masonic Lodges to Christ Church yesterday morning where the Rev. C. E. Clarke preached an appropriate sermon. Moira Lodge No. 11 was led by Master Wor. Bro. Wm. McNinch, Belleville Lodge No. 123 by Master Wor. Bro. W. Reid, while Tuscan Lodge was headed by Master Wor. Bro. J. W. D. Wiggins. Past Grand Master Col. W. N. Ponton took part in the service and the following Past District Deputies were present; R. A. Backus, W. G. Adams, Fred Diamond, John Newton, Chas. Symons, and Jesse Barlow. Rev. A. L. Geen assisted Rev. Clarke in the pulpit.

Rev. Clarke welcomed the members and officers of the three Lodges to Christ Church noting that the ideals of the craft are the same as the ideals of the Christian Church. He said in hoped that although the ever each one of the members would gain some inspiration which would lead toward the realization of these ideals. The pastor observed that the first step marking the birth of John The Baptist, one of the Patron Saints of the distant past. He was one who paved the bow in the ancient days each town or city that he visited. Many Masonic cities and towns were dedicated to these Saints, the inhabitants believed that they would be favored by glorious prayers and that they would be answered. "We still build churches in memory of these Patrons Saints because we believe they may be taken as perfect models" said Mr. Clarke. He complimented the Masonic Fraternity on their selection of John the Baptist as the Patron Saint since his life contained a great lesson for us. Continuing Mr. Clarke went on to point out the cruelty and hate exercised by Herodias Caesar when he took the liberties from the Jews. "Pontius Pilate was cruel to a degree and withdrew only when he feared an insurrection. Herod inherited all except the wisdom of his father" he asserted.

"Suicide was rampant everywhere because there was no hope, the world was given to despair and many went into the desert to die." "St. John, roughly dressed as he was was strong in spirit of God, noted that the King Hon of Rome stood for all that was vile and with all his strength of real he pointed to the people a wonderful picture for which the Lord had brought "They longed for freedom from the oppression and tyranny of Rome and wanted Justice and righteousness. John the Baptist gave them no prophecies, did not tell them to attack the despotic powers but he did tell them to live a true life and seek the Kingdom of God."

In closing his message Rev. Clarke said the only way in which to bring the Kingdom of God into our everyday life is to do our duty as we conceived the significance of the working tools of Masonism. "Not only must we live this way but we must try to make it permanent legislation. Let us try to learn from this service to go away with a stern and unflinching resolve that we will endeavour to create a mutual understanding and a broader and greater fellowship. Unless we do this we are not conforming to the lessons that He would have us reach."

Special music by the choir marked the service. The Church was packed to the very doors and Rev. Clarke's message was heard with the greatest of interest.

ROTARIANS

whom the Moira River was named, and as he had several other names, they in time came to be used for different parts of the section. He was Marquis de Hastings, from which the County name comes, Earl of Rawdon, from which we get the Township of Rawdon, he married a Huntingdon, and his mother was a Hungerford all of which names are designated townships in the the County of Hastings.

The first patent of land was taken out in what is now Belleville in 1791 by Alexander Chinn, and gave him all the land on the west side of Front Street, next to the river. In 1804 John Taylor took out a patent on the East Hill which was found for years as he Taylor Hill. All the trees plant ed on the East Hill were also planted by Sherrif George Taylor, one of his descendants.

In 1822, the first Church was built in this city, it being St. Thomas Church, as the Church of England was the established Church. St. Andrews was not far behind, however, as it was the established church of Scotland, and as they also received a grant, although it was not as large as the English Church.

Col. Ponton produced copies of the first deeds to land which were executed in this city, and which had the Royal Seal still on them, remarkably good condition. He regretted that the files on the City Council did not go back as far as fifty years ago, and felt that the present Council should look them up. He also had pictures which depicted the city fifty years ago, showing the condition of the streets as well as horse cars, and various other interesting subjects. The meeting was a fine success, and no doubt those who heard Col. Ponton learned much of Belleville's early history.

GOUGH—BROWNSON

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brownson at high noon on Saturday when their only daughter, Annie Marguerite, became the bride of James B. Gough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gough, of Wellington. Rev. L. B. Wight, pastor of Holloway St. Church performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. W.H.J. Smythe of Wellington. The young couple were unattended.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a smart travelling suit of beige serge, and a bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The wedding march was played by Dr. C. A. Brownson, brother of the bride, who also sang "I Love You Truly" later, Miss W. Pearce of Wellington sang 'All Joy Be Thine.'

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to some twenty-five guests.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque, to Miss Pearce, a beaded bag, and to Dr. Brownson a cigarette lighter.

After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Gough left by motor on their honeymoon wedding trip to Montreal through the Adirondacks to N.Y., returning by a different route. On their return they will reside in Bloomfield.

NASH CONTRIBUTES NEW & FINER CAR TO AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

Best Performing Cars Ever Built By Nash Co.

Today Nash presents a new and finer motor car, with a new high ignition motor and new salon bodies. The new series, announced today is known as the New Nash 400 and is regarded as the greatest achievements in Nash history.

Mr. C. W. Nash, President of the Nash Motors Company, in commenting on the newest product says:

"The three new Nash Series, which are being introduced everywhere today, achieve the ambition of my manufacturing career.

"They represent an entirely new type of motor car, priced moderately, but offering you all the beauty and quality and performance heretofore exclusive to very expensive automobiles.

"To create such a car we had to develop an entirely new type of design and invest over $2,500,000 in dies and machinery alone.

"Both the Salon bodies and the high compression motors which power these models exemplify the most radically modern advancement in body craftmanship and engineering.

"Naturally space prevents the full listing of all features but I do want to draw your attention in number of the outstanding attractions such as:—

"Twin ignition, high compression, Rohnalite aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts, Vibrating crank-shaft with balanced crankpins, Silpe centralized chassis lubrication, Hoodsille and Lovejoy shock absorbers, Ilitles-Nash bumpers and bumperettes, chrome plating over nickel for all exterior brightwork, double-drop frame, one-piece Salon fenders wheelbase lengths.

"This new-type engineering of the new motors makes them by far the best performing cars I have ever built.

"I don't think anyone will ever want to use all the speed and power they deliver.

"Refinement is absolutely complete in the factory fist price and you need pay no extras except at spare tire.

"If my judgment is worth anything you will find it well worth while today to examine this new automobile development with the greatest care."

Nash-Cameron Motors, Greenleaf Building, Station Street are local dealers. See the new series '400' in their showrooms.

DUCO FINISHING HERE SAME AS FACTORY JOBS

Popular Finish Applied Locally Just As At Factory

Just a reminder that if you're thinking about getting that car of yours refinished one of these days, Isaac Stephenson, local authorized Duco refinisher, is prepared to put a genuine Duco finish on it at lower prices than have ever prevailed for Duco refinishing.

The work will be done for you right here in the city and done by experts trained in Duco refinishing, so that your car will receive just as good a finish as is applied in the factory originally. Anyone who has made the trip through some of Canada's automobile plants and has seen the cars finished, knows that they are finished there in identically the same way as in Belleville at Stephenson's.

The writer had the pleasure a short time ago of visiting the finishing and ducoing department of the Willy Overland plant in Toronto, as efficient and complete a Duco system as exists anywhere on the continent. Starting with the bare metal of the bodies the cars are rapidly sprayed with various coats of Duco, which is quickly dried in immense "ovens" through which the cars pass continuously on a chain assembly system.

The local Duco refinishers, by handling your car, do the job in exactly the same way; the finish is first removed to the metal and the dents pressed out. The only difference is the job done locally requires a little longer time, the drying "ovens" not being used as in the factory, where quick drying is an absolute necessity.

As in the factory, Duco may be secured here in various colors and color combinations, sufficient to satisfy the taste of anyone. A phone call to Isaac Stephenson in the Greenleaf building on Station street will bring you prompt service.

London notes that the pocket skirt, by which the flares give a fashionable fullness, is a direct rival to the flatter silhouette that comes of self-supported down pleats, and variegated points give the uneven hem-line that is favored even on the tennis court.

FIRESTONE GETS GEORGE DELINE AS DISTRIBUTOR

Is Appointed City Distributor For Firestone Tires

An interesting example of actual results secured as the result of hard work and business acumen, plus the rule of a really quality product is seen in the announcements made recently to the effect that George Deline, for several years past one of the leading Firestone tire dealers in this part of the country, has been appointed as city distributor for the Firestone Company in Belleville.

The appointment of Mr. Deline comes as the culmination of several years' hard effort on his part to advance the interests of the Firestone Company and promote the sale of Firestone tires in Belleville.

During the period which Mr. Deline has been Firestone Dealer here, he has established a unique reputation, for sales and square dealing, he has won several prizes as a Firestone Tire salesman and has been entertained by officials of the Company both in Toronto and in Akron, Ohio, the main home of Firestone tire.

Right now, George Deline is enthusiastic over prospects for even increased business during the coming season, reasons, it promises to be one of the biggest Firestone years ever experienced. Now have become recognized all over America as providing the utmost tire value; a value, moreover, under every conceivable condition of travel.

Consult George Deline with your tire troubles; he will show you how to get increased mileage from them.

NEW STUDEBAKER DICTATOR SEDAN POPULAR LINE

Unusual Performance Plus Appearance Are Features

Fine car beauty at moderate price, and a wealth of power for every driving condition, are characteristics of Studebaker's new Dictator Royal Sedan which has just been announced.

Mechanically the Dictator has proved itself a worthy companion to the world's champion Studebaker Commander. Under the supervision of the American Automobile Association, a stock model Dictator recently traveled 5,000 miles in less than 4,600 consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars in the same price class. The motor develops 70 horsepower with exceptional economy. After the first 1,000 miles of operation, motor and chassis require oil change and greasing at less frequent intervals. As a further indication of sound design, precision manufacture and quality materials, the Dictator has driven 40 miles an hour the day it is delivered.

Body lines and exterior finish of the new Dictator Royal Sedan reflect fine car design. Wide full crown fenders hang low over black wire wheels.

Two extra wheels are set in the front fenders. A wide body from roof to

NEW REO TRUCK IN SERVICE HERE

Acid-free and Sure, local agents for Reo and Wolverine Motor cars and Reo Speed Wagons, this week announced the Quinte Breweries, Limited, one of the line new Reo three ton Speed Wagons.

The new truck is powered with a Grant six-cylinder engine which runs as smoothly and as quietly as double six any motor car engine; the truck has a wheel base of 197, and will attain a speed of thirty-five miles an hour per hour when loaded to its capacity; or it will idle to one or two miles an hour in high gear.

The brand new Reo Speed Wagon is equipped with pneumatic tires and has double wheels at the back. The driver's compartment is comfortable and glass encased. The large truck even with a heavy load steers very easily, and a touch will turn the wheels. It is equipped too, with Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes—same as the Reo motor car.

Also inspection of the new truck secured by Quinte Breweries is the finest Reo has ever turned out.

PRIMITIVE IMPULSES CAUSE NERVOUSNESS

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Eminent Psychologist.

Man, at bottom, is a very primitive animal. One can really look upon the civilized human being of today as a curbed, checked and inhibited savage.

Powerful instincts push the individual through life and keep him going. The gratification of hunger, of thirst, the urge for emotional expression, the impulse to avoid injury and death; the desire to stand well with our neighbors, to mount to successive levels of achievement and success—to throw are the energizing factors of life.

Yet the cravings are constantly being thwarted by the codes and conventions of the world we live in.

For example, a man may satisfy his hunger, or he will starve to death. He must first earn money enough to buy the food.

But suppose he cannot earn enough to buy the quality of food and service he prefers? Suppose he craves delicate dishes, cooked by an expert chef? Then there is nothing left for this individual to do—if he cannot pay for all these luxuries—but repress these over-refined yearnings and to force himself to eat a sufficient amount of coarser food in order to sustain life.

These repressions, these longings which are shoved into the unconscious mind,never entirely fade out. If they remain strong enough, they will try again and again to reassert themselves.

Repeated repression will convert the original longing into a symptom of nervousness. This will represent in a symbolic way what the mind really wants.

This may take the form of nervous dyspepsia, as a sort of defense reaction.

The individual, compelled to forego the delicacies he cannot afford, develops all sort of uncomfortable digestive symptoms, which lead him to refuse the wholesome food he can afford, on the ground that his stomach is seriously out of order, and that it cannot digest this or that item of his simple menu.

The nervousness of men automatically caused by emotional disturbances of one kind or another. The mechanisms —the way the nervous symptoms are brought about—are similar to that outlined above.

Struggles within the individual start the trouble. To avoid nervousness, therefore, it is your duty to face your emotional cravings.

Recognize your primitive urges for what they are, even if they are gross, ugly and unethical. Then bring them into harmony with the moral standards which you own intelligence and experience has led you to recognize as valid.

Such harmony is the first step toward mental and nervous health.

That is the way to keep in balance. That is the way to avoid nervousness.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in my teens and a junior in high school. I have been going out with boys for about two years with my father's permission. About two months ago I met a very nice boy whom I liked very much and who seemed to like me. We had several dates before father knew that he had a certain religion. When father found this out he told me not to go with him any more. I do not wish to give up this boy's friendship and I do not wish to disobey my father. If he calls up again, and I know he will, what can I tell him without giving up his friendship?

Would it be all right if I went out with him without telling father?

PUZZLED.

PUZZLED: Personally, I think that the question of difference in religion is one that should never stand in the light if friendship. Because after all difference in religion is not a lot of roads leading to the same place. Naturally, as your father forbids you to go out with this boy, you must accede to his wishes, even though it may deprive you of a very pleasant friendship. As to what you can tell him, my dear, I don't know. You must avoid the previous exaggerations each time he calls you, which would naturally discourage him in the course of time. I admit it will be a hard thing for you to do, but for the time you must obey your father. I'm sorry I cannot say anything which will help you, for after all, your father is the one whose wishes you must follow.

The following letter has made me curious. It gives the ideas of one group of girls as to what constitutes popularity and it will be interesting to hear from other girls and boys as to what their opinions are on this question: Do you agree or disagree with Sue?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have been married about sixteen years and my husband has started going with another woman. He takes this other woman out in his car and doesn't seem to care who sees him. I am the mother of three children. Please advise me.

ROSIE.

ROSIE: For your children's sake, Rosie, I don't know of a thing you can do but "grin and bear it." Are you sure that the fault lies entirely with your husband? So many of us are prone to put our troubles on someone else' shoulders instead of where they belong, and that is on our own. Have you done everything you can to hold his interest? Kept his home lovely? Never nagged? Been always the sweetheart whom he wooed and married? Never neglected him for the children? Kept him always first in your thoughts and heart. Search your heart and see how truthfully you can answer these questions, and then go about setting things to rights. Make yourself and your home and children so attractive and comfortable that he won't want to go out. Be a pal and sweetheart instead of nagging, slovenly wife. Mind, I'm not saying that you are, but it so often happens that we ourselves are to blame when we lose the very thing we want the most. All success to you and don't ever lose heart. Above all, DON'T NAG!

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl eighteen years of age and very much in love with a boy two years, my senior. He wants to become engaged and get married soon, but I think I am too young to be married before graduating from High School.

Please advise me what to do.

ANXIOUS MOLLY.

ANXIOUS MOLLY: I agree with you that you are too young to think of marriage while you are still in school, my dear. What a wife before you take such a momentous step for there will be plenty of time to make up your mind after you graduate.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

"Celia, darling, I'm worried, after that incident in my room this morning. You do love Richard, don't you?"

Celia bent bravely: "Of course, I do. How silly you are to fret yourself over something I only did in fun."

Her sweetheart sighed with relief.

"Then take a word of advice from your mother, who was a wife for over twenty years —— don't be cross so your husband, even for a caprice."

When Celia descended, Palomer was pacing up living-room, smoking a cigarette. He threw it away at Celia's entrance and came and stood in front of her, his bold black eyes seeking hers.

"Celia, there's no excuse in concealment. I've fallen mad over heels in love with you. . . . . Will you marry me?"

Chapter 47.
THE ALTERNATIVE.

Celia met Palomer's proposal of marriage with a gasp. Even with Owen's hints fresh in her mind, and the statements he himself had been making of late, she hadn't attached any real importance to the possibility of his falling in love with her.

He repeated: "I'm honestly crazy about you, Celia. It's the first time in my life that such a thing has happened to me. I'm an adventurer, a rover, not a gallant. I don't know how to say the words to you that, under the circumstances, should be said. I suppose. But ——will you marry me?"

She found her voice: "Never!"

He turned away from her and seated himself on the edge of the table.

"You've rather emphatic about it. I must say. Hardly complimentary to me. You might at least let me down easy —— if you're going to let me down."

She said dryly: "You can be quite sure of that fact."

"Now look at this squarely, Celia," he argued, with an earnestness she had never seen in him before. "What could be a better solution to all the difficulties? You said you were married to Richard Falconer." I am here, posing as your husband. Behold! We make the fictitious marriage a real one in New York, where nobody knows or gives a hang. There isn't a person who can find out the truth —— that you married me months after you'd said you had. No more trouble. No more intrigue. Everything nice and neat and tidy and in order. What do you say?"

"No!" declared Celia violently. "Do you think I'd ever marry a man like you?"

"Oh, I'm not so terrible," he said. "Merely a rolling stone with a taste for adventure. I'll probably get killed off, one of these days, in a reckless moment —— I certainly shall, if Manuel Cyer catches up with me. Then you'd be a widow again and could marry somebody for whom you have more respect than you have for me, Miss Jekyll—perhaps."

Celia regarded him coldly. "And, until this promised demise of yours, you would have the protection of my name and the use of your uncle's money. After all, that's really the motive back of all this, isn't it?"

He rose, his eyes suddenly dangerous. "You think that—honestly?"

Suddenly frightened, she backed away from him.

Sleep Insurance for Sleepy Travelers

IF you are planning a trip by aeroplane, automobile, boat, bus, bicycle or railway train — surely your object is to have a good time.

The only logical end of a perfect day is a good night's sleep, and no time is a good time if you've got to wander around from pillar to post trying to find a bedroom. That happens too often.

Ensure a good night's sleep by telephoning ahead for a room. It is the only way. The very fact of having removed the doubt will make you light-hearted — more capable of enjoying your trip.

"You think I haven't fallen in love with you?" he asked.

She found herself against the wall. There was no further retreat for her. Her hands went out to ward him off.

He seized them in his. With a single gesture, he swept her to him. She fought him, but he laughed and, holding her close, kissed her full upon the lips.

In an instant, he had released her. While she stood motionless, he lit a cigarette. She realized that his hand was shaking.

"Was that the kiss of a man who wants a wife only for her money?" She moved away from the wall and, by great exhibition of self-possession, managed to laugh.

"You needn't be afraid now. I'll be good. Only . . . that was a pretty nasty thing you said to me, Celia."

He found her voice.

"And that was a beastly answer you gave to it."

He shrugged. "You can scarcely blame a man . . . when he's in love with you."

She said wearily: "I'm going upstairs now. There is nothing more to discuss. I wouldn't marry you, if you were the last man on earth."

His eyes narrowed: "Suppose I forced you to it?"

For a full minute, she didn't understand. Then the full horror of the situation burst upon her.

"You couldn't—you wouldn't—do that!"

"I could do a great deal to win you, Celia."

"But that!" she pleaded, her voice shaking in spite of her determination not to let him see how he was frightening her.

He considered the end of his cigarette for a moment, thoughtfully. "You may be right. I hardly believe I could. . . . Dash it all, Celia, love makes a cringing weak, given his principles and a code. When a man came here, before I began to care for you, I could only have put it over. I wish I had. I was a fool not to have thought of it. . . . Now . . . "

Suddenly, without reason, she began to cry. She detested herself for this show of weakness before him, but she was helpless in her nervous reaction She leans settled in her eyes and coursed down her cheeks.

He said abruptly, with a curious new note in his voice: "Please don't cry Celia. I—I guess I have been a frightful brute to you, lately. We'll leave it at this —— you will consider my proposal for a couple of days—a week, perhaps. You will come to see the wisdom of the course I suggest. After that, you can give me your answer."

"I have already given it," she sobbed.

"Not the one I want and am waiting for. . . . A week, Celia. Think it over." He stood looking down at her. "I'm being rather tender—for me—tonight. You'd best take advantage of it. Because, when the week is up—I'm going to have my way, so help me Heaven!"

He left her alone, frightened, sobbing.

mothers-to-be," declared Mrs. Stuart Brown of 19 Market Street. "I had two children before I knew this wonderful tonic. My former experiences caused me dread. By chance I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription quieted the nerves and strengthened the body of the expectant mother and I proved that statement to be true, also I had comparatively no suffering and did not lose any of my strength or vitality. My baby is now 2 years old and weighs 30 lbs., is the picture of health."—Mrs. Olive Brown, 12 Markland St.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Do not blacken your gas stove, just get out a cloth a while with olive oil or cotton seed oil.

A teaspoon of salt and a dessert-spoon of lemon juice make an excellent "nails of lemon" for removing iron rust.

In preparing pineapple gelatine be sure that the pineapple is first cooked. The enzyme in the raw fruit will prevent solidification of the gelatine.

Scrim, lace or marquisette curtains should always be soaked for an hour in cold water, to which a little borax has been added, before being put into warm suds.

To guard house plants against insects, spray stems and leaves once a month or oftener with a solution made by dissolving half a cake of soap shaved fine in a quart of boiling water, and adding four gallons of cold water. Apply with a whisk broom or sprayer and rinse with clear water a half hour later.

"The men who thought themselves so fortunate as to get their name on Virginia's dance program on the 13th birthday are no better than the eager ones late. No one gets further than a dozen steps before he is tagged. Sparkling and handsome and with the full realization that she is a woman, Virginia never tires or falters. Slim with a certain willowy grace, she can be easily picked out among the hundreds of dancers by her green chiffon frock with its unusual flounce attached to the skirt in a U outline that dips almost to the floor in the back. The deep U decolletage, too seems created especially for her pretty back and shoulders. And the rounded skirt that flies at the fewest bits the hippeagerly and makes for a slim all beauty. No lounging at the floor in fact that Virginia has used in dance design with round cut and sleeves finished with a ruffle for effect. BELLE THEATRE

"When a Man Loves" is a studendous creation, gorgeous in setting and costume and incepcted by two who are acknowledged to be the greatest lovers of the screen, John Barrymore and Dolores Costello. The extraordinary quality of their support may be gleaned from the cable above. "When a Man Loves" is a retelling of the Abbe Prevost story, and while not tragic than the original, it is suffused with beauty and passion, and is peopled with many brilliant high lights and thrilling situations. The locale is the Prance of Louis XV. The sea and the shores of the New World also figure in the presentation.

Manon and Pabien meet first in the courtyard of an old Inn in Picardy. She is on her way to a convent, Jabound for St. Sulpice to finish his theological studies. They are attracted when Pabien hears her brother plotting to sell her, and while her way to Paris where the two live the idyllic happine.s until she is stolen by her brother and taken to an agent in lower of the King.

Pabien grows rich by gambling and one day meeting her with her protector and believing her to be a courtesan, he hurls his wicked charge at her. She is able to explain, however, and is forgiven. They again live together, and the procession of fabulous wealth Louis XV plays at cards for Manon, wins her, and leaves her ever to her ancient enemy. Pabien, trying to protect her is sentenced to the galleys by Manon her tormentor, boards the ships, stirs the crew to mutiny and rows Manon to safety.

REGENT THEATRE

His most recent appearance took place as a juvenile admirer of a famous fighter—Sam McCarver, who is none other than Tommy Meighan in "We're All Gamblers" which reaches the Regent today. James Cruze directed for Paramount.

Most of "Speck" education has been received in studios. A teacher is always stationed on the sets to conduct classes for him. During the past few months he has played in "Casey at the Bat" and in Florence Vidor's "The Spirit of the Fire."

OSHAWA - ROCHESTER STEAMSHIP SERVICE
CAR FERRY COMPANY

Commencing June 30th, the present four days per week service of the Canada, between Oshawa, Ont. and Genesee Dock (Port of Rochester, N.Y.) will be increased to the full summer service of one round trip daily, leaving Genesee Dock in the morning and leaving Oshawa in the evening.

The two steamers operating in this service, "Ontario No. 1" and "Ontario No. 2" are equipped for the handling of passengers, with splendid wide promenade decks, comfortable dining room and buffet service, where meals are served at popular prices, music and dance room, and large comfortable berths and state-rooms available for the benefit of those who may desire the privacy during the trip across the lake. The steamers are also equipped with a "Pneumopor" system for the effective ly operated gramaphone, providing music where and when desired in any parts of the ships, including the dance room and the dining saloon.

One of the steamers provides the regular scheduled service, Rochester to Oshawa and return, while the other steamer is used to take care of the many special organized excursion parties, which, during the summer season, both from the north and south sides of the lake, avail themselves of the pleasures of a day's outing on these fine vessels.

Excellent arrangements have also been made for the handling of tourist automobiles on these steamers.

This route provides a very convenient and attractive outlet between central Ontario and orbital New York State points.

Full information, tickets, etc., may be had of any Canadian National Railways' Agent.

Half a million automobiles from the United States and the provinces of Canada carrying a mill on and a half persons, will enter Montreal during the coming tourist season, according to the estimate of the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau.

The use of the combine is expected to be more general than ever in the 1928 harvest. In 1925 there were 176 combines in the Province of Ontario, 148 being in Saskatchewan, 24 in Alberta and 4 in Manitoba. In 1927 there was a total of 520 in Saskatchewan, 221 in Alberta and 22 in Manitoba, 774 in all.

There is considerable tree planting activity along the Medicine Hat division of the Canadian Pacific Railway. At Shackleton alone twenty-five hundred of small trees were received the other day from the Forestry Branch at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, and all are now planted. Cluny and other villages are completing activity.

Equaling the speed across the Atlantic ocean made by passenger liners of medium size, the five 10,000 ton vessels of the "Beaver" class flying the British ensign in ocean freight transportation for the Canadian Pacific Steamships. The speedy quintette of freighters will be the Dominion's fleet this year and have been running on the Liverpool-Montreal service between Canada and a British port for several months past.

Chicago. — "Billy Dilly Hogan," veteran C.P.R. conductor, calls "The Mountaineer," Canadian Pacific flyer from Chicago to Vancouver, in his initial run of the season this year. The train is one of the "Big Five" Canadian Pacific trains out of Chicago and one of the east of Canada across the continent during the summer. Conductor Horan joined the "Soo" line in 1884 as stoker on the old Wisconsin Railway, and is to-day one of the veterans of the company.

Montreal.— A new era in Canadian trans-Atlantic passenger history has been inaugurated in Montreal, where the fine new liner "Duchess of Bedford" has arrived recently. The new 20,000 ton vessel, the largest to ply under the St. Lawrence to Montreal, is the first of four cabin class sister ships of the new "Duchess" type, which will supplement the Canadian Pacific's trans-Atlantic and winter cruise services. Hundreds of the bankers' held on board on arrival in Montreal after her maiden voyage eulogized the occasion as an event of unique importance.

The Feast of St. John the Baptist, greatest of French Canadian national festivals, will be celebrated throughout the province of Quebec shortly. The annual baseball stadium, which will accommodate 25,000 persons, will be crowded by spectators of a French Canadian contest. It is followed by a spectacular fireworks display. On the Sunday afternoon, floats, depicting French Canadian history and dating back over 10,000 stages and minstrels, will come together in a procession several miles long through the streets of Montreal.

PETTY'S HURLING WINS FOR ROBINS

Alexander Pitches Superb Ball And Reds Lose To Cards

New York, June 23.—Jess Petty's super pitching and a flawless infield defense sparkled at Brooklyn yesterday as the Robins defeated the Giants, to 0.

Petty held the New York club to six scattered hits and the fast and efficient fielding of Dave Bancroft and Harvey Hendrick, took care of the rest. Although the field at the start of the game was a morass due to early rains, the only error for either team was Faulkner's wild throw.

Faulkner went the route for the Giants. In the second inning, Hendrick walked, took third on Wessler's double and scored on Bluoostle's infield hit. A pass to Carey, Wessler's hurl and Tyson's double added the other run in theeighth.

Grover Alexander, St. Louis Cards ist pitcher, won his third game from Cincinnati within eight days when he defeated the Reds at Cincinnati yesterday, 7 to 4.

Alexander pitched last Sunday against the Reds and won. He went back on Tuesday and beat them and followed with the victory of yesterday.

The Reds hit Alexander hard early in the game and scored three runs up to the fifth inning. St. Louis weakened in the sixth and when the Reds tied it up in the seventh the Cardinals started their heavy artillery, winning in the eighth and ninth by clouting for extra bases.

CRAIG'S PETES HERE WEDNESDAY

Nationals Will Play In Oshawa On Tuesday Afternoon

A BUSY WEEK

Saturday's Game At Peterboro Postponed On Account of Rain

Peterboro Central League Club will play the Belleville Nationals here on Wednesday afternoon of this week. This will be a postponed game which was called off some two weeks ago on account of rain. The Pelts have been running into tough luck but they hope to get back into the win column on Wednesday.

The Belleville team journeyed to Peterboro on Saturday but shortly after their arrival the clouds darkened and rain came down in torrents. The boys waited in vain at the hotel for the cessation of the rain and finally it was decided that the game would be called off and in the later afternoon the boys came back in the cars and started for home. It was unfortunate that the boys made the useless trip but Jupiter Pluvius was the winner on Saturday. James Stevenson Park resembled a quagmire when the taps were turned off in the late afternoon and baseball was out of the question.

Harold Lake, Secretary of the Oshawa Club was in Peterboro and stated that the Sparks Circus is playing in Oshawa on Wednesday which would have a decided effect on the attendance at the ball game. According to Mr. Gerow consented that Belleville should play in Oshawa tomorrow (Tuesday, which left Wednesday open date here. Therefore in order to catch up with the schedule it was decided that Peterboro should play in Belleville on Wednesday. Belleville is leading the Central League and they hope to hang up another victory at Oshawa's expense tomorrow and follow it up with a win over Peterboro here on Wednesday. Oshawa will throw the pitch tomorrow in Oshawa with Uttrodd the choice for the game with the Petes here on Wednesday. The locals have a lead of two and one-half games and they hope to increase this to four and one-half this week.

FARRELL WINNER NATIONAL OPEN

Bobby James, Atlanta Wizard, Is Beaten In Close Finish

Chicago, June 25.—Johnny Farrell, of New York, yesterday won the national open golf championship after a strenuous 36-hole play-off with Bobby James of Atlanta. Farrell won by one stroke, getting 143.

Farrell took an eight-foot putt on the eighteenth green to clinch the championship, with a birdie four. At one time James was only three feet from the cup for his birdie. Farrell, leading by three strokes at the end of the first 18 holes, withstood a sensational rally by Jones in the afternoon to win. Farrell got together rounds of 70—72—143 to 73—71—144 for Jones.

Houston, Texas, where the Democrats will open their national convention next Tuesday, has already taken on political life with the early arrival of delegates and candidates for the presidential nomination. It is expected that the biggest battle of the convention will ben centred on the prohibition plank now that it has been brought out into the open by Governor Al Smith's declaration in favor of a "change." There is a general feeling that Governor Smith, who is shown above in (1) and (4) is certain to win the right to oppose the Republican nominee, Herbert Hoover, Senator Jos. A. Reed of Missouri, (2) is hailed as a strong contender for the nomination. He is steering the "wickedness of the Republicans." A third competitor in the race is Cordell Hull of Tennessee. He is known as the deep philosopher of the Democratic party and for months has been working out a sort of Democratic primer of principles which may perhaps have some influence on the platform adopted. No. 5 is the big new cullinum at Houston where the meetings are to be held.

TORONTO SPLIT WITH BLACK CATS

Montreal Royals Emerge From Batting Slump At Reading

Jersey City, June 25. — Toronto Maple Leafs were forced to split a doubleheader with the heavy Black Cats here yesterday, the Leafs taking the opener, 7-3, and losing shut out in the nightcap, 1-0.

The Torontonians had ridden the crest of several upsets in the second game yesterday afternoon, when they struck a snag in Brown's Purdue. Brown held the mighty sluggers of Bill O'Hara to four hits and was given great support. Gene Doyle was three hurlers in great form and the Cats could only gather a quartette of tallies. It was a tight, fast game throughout and not until the seventh inning and two were out did Mc Hugh scurry across the plate with the winning run.

Reading, Pa., June 25.—Awakening from their baleful lethargy of the past few days, the Montreal Royals, in the fourth and final game of the series with the Reading Keystoner here yesterday afternoon, rounded out an 8-3 victory to earn an even break in the meeting and the title back to third place. Moreover, the Royals enjoyed the distinction of knocking Socks Seibold, the leading pitcher in the league with 10 wins and but one loss, out of the box, while Roy Sherrid, youthful collegian, held the Keys until he lost control in the ninth inning and had to be relieved by Dunagan, who slapped the finishing touches.

Newark, N.J., June 25.—The Bears increased their winning streak to three by taking a double-header from Buffalo yesterday, the scores being 6-0 and 11-3 and 3-1.

In the first game the Bears drove Williams from the box and then pounded Sid Snyder hard. Stevenson pitched good ball and Bengough held the Buffalo safe. The timely hitting of the Johnson brothers won the second game. Conlan, hit a home run in the first inning. Sergeant Jim Bagby outpitched Quinn in the third game.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—Rochester lost a doubleheader to the Orioles here yesterday by scores of 6-4, and 3-1. Monahan and Lamotte bit homers in the former, and Monahan drove for th circuit in the nightcap.

FOOTBALL STAR IS DEFENDANT

Ottawa, June 25.—A writ was filed here Saturday instituting an action for unstated damages in the Supreme Court of Ontario against Gilbert 'Gig' McKelvey, well-known football star of Queen's University. The plaintiff is Herbert E. A. Inman, son of H. J. Inman of the Western Canada Flour Mills. The writ set forth that the plaintiff's claim is for damages for injured.

Lehigh County's (Pa.) 1928 estate assessment has increased $20,000,000 this year.

Captain and Mrs. Samuel Vaught of Philadelphia, Pa., celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary.

The Woman at the wheel

Downtown in the shopping district; threading her way through the traffic; gliding along the smooth highways; everywhere is to be seen the capable woman who drives her own car. Invariably she drives her car well. And it is part of her code to care for it equally well. It is to you as a woman driver that this word of counsel is especially addressed.

As you spin along with your hands on the wheel, do you know what is going on inside your motor? Every minute your motor's life is threatened by twin enemies—heat and friction. Against these two destroyers stands only a thin film of oil. This film fights desperately to protect your motor. Ordinary oil soon breaks and burns. Hot metal chafing against hot metal produces friction. Then, engine trouble and big bills to pay.

You cannot afford to risk your motor. You must be sure. What your motor needs is a super oil—a heat-tested oil. It needs Veedol—because in Veedol you have an oil that gives a positive "film of protection", thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel.

Ask your dealer about the new and improved Veedol motor oils. Reformulated to solve the problem of correct lubrication for present day high-speed, high-compression motors, they are better oils for any motor. Heavier-bodied, tougher, longer-lived than ever, Veedol means greater protection for your motor, super heat-resistance and reduced wear, less and repair on the engine. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and let this heat resisting oil give your motor the extra protection it requires.

Sold wherever the familiar orange and black Veedol sign is displayed.

BEAVERS FACING HEAVY SCHEDULE

Belleville Beavers have arranged for a busy schedule for the balance of the week and Dominion Day with four games down on the card. On Wednesday night the Trenton Capitals will be here and will cross bats with the Beavers at the armouries' lawn. The Capitals played in Belleville previously this season and gave Alan Meagher's team a strong argument. The Blue Shirts will have their full line-up on deck for this game.

On Thursday night the locals will play a return game with the Oshawa team at the cement village. Matt' Morrison's classy squad almost defeated the Beavers in the game in this city and they are out to turn the tables in the return fixture.

On Saturday the Beavers will go on a long road trip which will take them into the Western part of Ontario. On Saturday they will meet the Hamilton Tentanals' Club at Oakwood Park, Toronto. The Planters recently played in Belleville and managed to eke out a win over on the locals. The girls will take the best line-up possible to Toronto.

On Monday (Dominion Day) they will invade Galt where they will tackle one of the best teams in Western Ontario. There is also a possibility that the Beavers will play in Guelph on the same day. This means a heavy schedule and steady practice will be the order of the Manager Meagher has entered into an agreement for the next few days. They hope to show Western Ontario fans the kind of ball that is played down East.

BOSTON SOX ARE EASILY BEATEN

New York, June 25.—Obviously suffering from a hangover after their glorious, victory spree of Saturday afternoon, the dour old Red Sox were an easy prey for the Yanks and George William Pipgras Sunday. The Yanks, specifically Mr. Ruth and Mr. Durst, hit homers and G. W. Pipgras held the bean-eaters to three hits to win by a 6-0.

Except for that one faux pas, it is claimed, Pipgras would have had a no-hit game, but just when the clouds were about ready to break down and sob over the hardships of a pitcher's existence, Myer cracked a single to centre and Flagstead followed with a spell.

The three Boston singlers and Reuhrock, who walked in the third, were the only Back Bay folks to get to first base. None got to third and only one to second base.

Washington hit Earnshaw hard while Hadley was effective with men on bases and Joe Senators took the third of the home series from Philadelphia, 6 to 3. Ty Cobb got three hits, including a three bagger.

Owen Carroll pitched shutout ball and the Tigers defeated the White Sox, 5 to 0 at Detroit, in the second game of the series. The victory lifted Detroit out of the American League cellar and sent Chicago back into that position.

Harry Heilmann's home run over the left-field fence in the seventh inning climaxed a rally that decided the game. Heilmann's drive came with two bases occupied.

Prior to the seventh, Lyons had stayed a pitching duel with Carroll, but the Chicago right-hander weakened at this point and the Tigers drove across five runs.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Walrus

THOSE who should know say that George Young is fully determined to stage a come-back in the Third Wrigley Marathon which will be held on September 5th, at the Canadian National Exhibition.

If that is so, it is probable that he will duplicate his Catalina victory which made him for a year the world's champion long distance swimmer, for there is no getting away the fact that he is performing better than ever. I saw him disturbing the placidity of the Credit over the week end and was struck with the improvement regular training had effected in him during the short time since he took it seriously. He has developed into a man in the last year—and a very powerful man, with tremendous shoulders, which he uses. He has more glide, I think, than formerly and appears to be as tireless as before he went to Catalina. He has added a lot of sweetness, but it does not seem to bother him in the water, and it is much easier to take this off than that it got on.

Despite his failure of last year he still has a great following of swim-fan fans, who will be more than disappointed if he is not away out in front at the finish of the Marathon.

This is George's latest. If he doesn't win this time he will have no alibis, for he is in the best condition he ever knew.

CAMPBELLFORD

HOWARD WOOD

Campbellford, June 25—Announcement of the death of Howard Wood, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wood, Front Street, came as a great shock to the citizens of Campbellford. The host of friends in the district had made every attempt to keep in close touch with his condition, and it was believed that he was improving. While his condition on Sunday was serious, people here found it impossible to believe that one of Campbellford's most popular young men had passed away.

Following an attack of appendicitis, Howard Wood was rushed to Toronto, where an operation was performed. It was believed that his condition was improving. His death came very unexpectedly to people here.

Deceased was in his twenty-fourth year, having passed his twenty-third birthday on the sixth of this month. Born and educated in Campbellford, he had successfully completed his first year at the College of Pharmacy, Toronto, and was employed in his father's store here during the vacation in order to gain practical experience.

X-RAYS USED IN MUSEUM WORK

Investigations Reveal Mummies Suffered From Diseases

Chicago, Ills., June 26—If the spirits of two infant Egyptian mummies in the Field Museum read newspapers they may learn they suffered from rickets and malnutrition.

Pathological studies of X-ray photographs of ancient Egyptian mummies have been made for the first time. The results, made known by acting director Stephen C. Simms of the Field Museum, showed the two Egyptian children whose mummies have long been familiar to museum-goers here, suffered the same childhood ills that prevail today.

Dr. Clara A. Matthews, diagnostician of the Cook County hospital, conducted the studies. One child, she found, had the characteristic of spinal curvature, so common among school children of the present day, due to a slouched sitting posture. Photographs of the other, a baby, revealed incipient rickets, lack of irregular calcium deposits in the bones, typical of the condition caused by improper and inadequate feeding among many children of poor families today.

Use of the X-ray is an new departure in museum practice, Mr. Simms said, and opens a new avenue of anthropological, botanical, zoological and ecological research, making possible examination of specimens without damaging them.

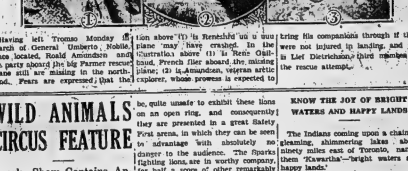

WILD ANIMALS CIRCUS FEATURE

Sparks Show Contains Animals From Every Clime

Manager Chas. Sparks, of the Sparks Circus coming to Belleville on Friday, June 29 is of the firm conviction that variety is not only the spice of life but a modern circus as well, and has this season deviated from the straight and narrow circus traditions of the past by augmenting his two hours' program with a real number of clothed wild animal numbers of a startling nature, among these being a troupe of five forest bred African lions. One thing that, according to newspaper reviews, impresses the public in watching the exhibitions given by this remarkable group of lions is the untamed fierceness of the animals. While yielding to the persistent efforts of their trainer, John Guilfoyle, to train them tricks that primarily make their performances so interesting, there is abundant evidence that their native wildness has not been subdued and that they are still fraught of the fierce, despite their enforced captivity. Clever, as they have been trained, it would be, quite unsafe to exhibit these lions on an open ring, and consequently they are presented in a great flaming cage-arena, in which they can be seen to advantage with absolutely no danger to the audience. The Sparks fighting lions are in worthy company, for half a score of other remarkably trained wild beasts are included in the new displays, chief of which are a group of royal Bengal tigers that have been trained to the last of animal intelligence by Prank Wicks. Then there is a mixed group of Polar bears, greedi Dane dogs and Hillsupian ponies —all recent importations from the world's foremost wild animal training quarters at Stellingen, Germany. Of course there are many Arab animal acts of a domestic nature intermingled with the wild animals, a group of which are trained to bend obedience to the will of Mme. Sparks, who will be another big feature of this famous circus in conjunction with the Sparks seals and sea-lions. The Bibb County educated pigs, and a host of other animal acts that have helped make the name Sparks famous, a household word. All will be seen in the stupendous street parade at 11 a. m. on Circus Day

KNOW THE JOY OF BRIGHT WATERS AND HAPPY LANDS

The Indians coming upon a chain of gleaming, shimmering lakes about ninety miles east of Toronto, named them 'Kawartha'—"bright waters and happy lands."

It is many years since the Indians gave the name 'Kawartha' to these lakes; yet today vacationists find it the source of happy holidays in the many resorts scattered along the shores.

If you are an ardent fisherman, that your line in the larger lakes for bass and maskinonge; in the smaller lakes speckled trout provide good sport.

All any of the many good summer hotels there is every facility for canoeing, motor-boating, bathing, tennis, golf and all the other out-of-door recreations.

Illustrated folders with full information and map of Kawartha Lakes will be gladly given you by any Canadian National Railways Agent. 1136CS

TO MISS GARDINER.

There's no dense I'm proud to say—
Miss Gardiner—
Grows more dear to me each day—
Miss Gardiner—
Life to us she tried to show;
Such a debt to her we owe
And it is a joy to know
Miss Gardiner.

Over forty years this soul—
Miss Gardiner—
Chastity, in her control
Miss Gardiner—
On students shone so pure and true
That lives with grace she might imbue
With Bible precept to pass to you
Miss Gardiner.

Vainly morials sum your worth
Miss Gardiner
Virtue claimed you from your birth
Miss Gardiner.
Pranced you the path you trod;
Shunned the voice which would applaud
Toiled, and left the rest to God,
Miss Gardiner.

Light the years may never fade
Miss Gardiner—
Brighter grows through each decade
Miss Gardiner;
Hearts that warmed beneath your glow
Wonder from remembrance grow
Of the priceless debt we owe
Of the priceless debt we owe
Miss Gardiner.

Living plain and thinking high
Miss Gardiner
Nothing vain could dim her eye
Miss Gardiner;
"Lord, we thank Thee for her life,
Loaned the earth of passion rife,
Calmly, sweetly, soothing strife
Miss Gardiner.

ODESSA STORE IS A TOTAL LOSS

Kingston, Ont., June 25.—Fire from none unknown cause totally destroyed the grocery store and butcher shop owned by Frank Miller, at Odessa, twelve miles west of here, this morning.

The fire was not noticed until it had good headway and there was little chance to save anything. Kingston firemen were ready to go to Odessa if the fire spread. The loss will be several thousand dollars, while the insurance will only partly cover this.

NO CHANCE OF RESCUE FOR THREE OR FOUR WEEKS

Baptists Will Not Enter Church Union At Present--Bennett Given Big Reception In Quebec

QUEBEC LISTENS TO NEW LEADER

Hon. R. B.-Bennett Warmly Welcomed By Farmers of Granby

NO PARTY PLEAS

Talks Frankly of Problems —Asks For Calm Cool Judgment

Granby, June 26.—Into this garden spot of the province of Quebec, where the lusty farmers smart beneath a lack of adequate protection, came the Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, yesterday, and hailed frank words to them of their problems and of those which affect all of Canada. Dominion Day, he told his report that too much stress be not laid on party, for, he said, party ties do not prevent Laurier and Gouin from the speech to vote for him; introduced Mr. Bennett.)

The leader was accompanied by Senator C. P. Beaubien, and Miss Mildred Bennett. The latter was in the park fronting the court house, and for some minutes before the meeting was called to order Mr. Bennett strolled about meeting the citizens individually and being photographed by himself and in groups, chatting with school boys about the happiness of summer holidays and getting presents of flowers from little girls.

Out of the photographers Mr. Bennett, clasping hands with Fred Wright, M.L.A., of Missisquoi, Missisquoi, which this town is situated. The two parliamentarians were always good friends, Mr. Bennett got under way Mr. Hay suddenly required the attention of the crowd, but not too far to hear Mr. Bennett's apology of the manner in which the Liberal Government's record is harming the dairy industry. "It is a record," said Mr. Hay, "unfair and forgotten. The morning was dyed in the neighboring town of Cowansville. It was high holiday, so said holiday, according to a proclamation of Mayor Cyrus S. Walsh, of Cowansville.

Miss Bennett Spoke.

Miss Bennett took to the hustings herself after listening to the eloquence of Senator Beaubien. "I can only a few words to say and they were to hope that the women of Quebec would soon be represented at Ottawa.

Senator Pope made a warm tribute to Mr. Bennett, describing him as one of the greatest legal minds of Canada. Never before in the political history of Canada was a leader of Liberals turning converts to the Conservative cause, and this indicated what the cause of the Conservative party stand would be victorious at the next elections.

"Protect our resources," Canadian jobs for Canadians," and "Canada for the Canadians," were the slogans that played in the park, amidst the flags and bunting.

Dr. F. F. Pickell, who was the Conservative candidate in this county in the last election presided. He remarked when Mr. Bennett had referred to the protection for Canadian industry by New Zealand butter that the problem did not worry the farmers of the dominion in any way, since he said they had no butter to export, their livelihood having been taken away from them by reason of the action of the Government.

Mr. Bennett was introduced by Dr. Pickell as "Canada's New Hope," and as a one hundred per cent. Canadian.

FIREWORKS BLEW UP KILLING FOUR

Thomastonville, Conn., June 26.—Four persons were instantly killed this morning when a building owned by the New England Fireworks Manufacturing Company blew up. The dead are Joseph Amalfiotti 14, his brother John 11, Rosario Sarno 45, and William Zeronda 19.

Employees of the concern claim there was a fifth man in the party near the shed when it blew up. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

BAPTISTS TO CONTINUE DISTINCT CHURCH DECLARES LEADER TODAY

Help To Preserve Common Heritage of Protestantism For World

Toronto, June 26.—Baptist attitude to church union received a clear expression at the Baptist World Alliance today, in the address by Dr. Dec. F.-W. Patterson, president of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S.

"The common heritage of Protestantism must be preserved for the world," he declared. "Even though the distinctive tenets of Baptists be lost." Notwithstanding this the speaker maintained that in the present state of the Protestant world the Baptist had no alternative but to continue as a separate denomination.

"The fact that Baptists were meeting today as a world alliance showed that they felt they were justified in continuing as a distinct church."

RAISED SAYERS' BAIL TO $2000

Case Held Over Another Week To Permit Witnesses To Recover

Harold Sayers, the young man who is facing a serious charge of being in charge of a car which intimidated as a result of an escapade last Monday night when six members of the Argyll Island were more or less injured, appeared before Police Magistrate Mikel this morning. As the witnesses are not in a position to appear at the present time, the case was enlarged for another week.

The bond which was previously $1000 was increased to $2000 and Sayers will appear next Tuesday when the case will likely proceed. The injured men were able to leave the hospital and are recovering. Fred Howard the one handsman who was seriously injured, having sustained a fractured leg, will be confined to his home for some time yet.

SMITH ON FIRST BALLOT LIKELY

Die - Hard Prohibitionists Fight Hard To Block Nomination

ATTEMPT FUTILE

Opposition To New York Governor Unable To Agree On a Man

Houston, June 26.—The Democratic Presidential nomination lies just around the corner for Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

Meeting here to-day for standard-bearer, the party's national convention got together at noon with a record turnout of delegates and alternates, more than at any time since 1916, when Woodrow Wilson was named by acclamation.

Seek Dry Candidate.

An insistent minority was doing battle against the New York Governor last night, but it was not a co-ordinated force. Its cry was for a dry candidate and a dry platform, but, where the Smith ranks were solid for their man, the minority group apparently had been unable to unite upon a single command or upon a leader for whom to wage its warfare. Its one purpose was to defeat Smith and to most of its delegates who came to Houston to name Hoover or Dr. Butler appeared that seemed to be a forlorn hope.

The struggle with which the British Empire Steel Corporation contracted sharply with the blustering smoke in which the opposition forces declined about in the hot Texas sun yesterday in their efforts to map out their plans ahead of the convention votes necessary to prevent selection of the man they had grouped against them.

Smith managers even went forth word that their main worry was to prevent his nomination on the first ballot. This strategy, it was explained, was designed to prevent wounds which might be inflicted upon favorite sons who failed to get early and complimentary vote from the convention.

There Was Fear Thought

There were three lines of thought over prohibition. One group wanted a plank naming the Eighteenth Amendment as a part of the Constitution which should be rigidly enforced. A second believed the party should call for enforcement of all laws without specifically naming the amendment, and a third asked that the Volstead act be modified.

DOZED AT WHEEL CAR IS WRECKED

Crossed Ditch To Hit Tree In Cemetery—Driver Unhurt.

Becoming drowsy at the wheel of his automobile while proceeding on the highway toward this city, J. G. Whitman, of Ottawa, lost control of the machine with the result that it left the road, went through a ditch and struck a tree in the Belleville cemetery shortly after midnight last night. Whitman who was driving alone engaged with a few scratches on the face and hands by Wm. Ash, of his home early this morning.

Whitman, it is understood, had been driving practically all day and planned to spend the night in Belleville. Motorists who were travelling east in the road suddenly commence to nod, over the wheel, the car started to jerk and just before he could apply the brakes or regain control the vehicle shot into the ditch.—As there is no fence at the point where the car left the road it was batted only by a large maple tree. The radiator was torn off and other damage resulted. Whitman got in touch with a local garage and the car was towed to the city for repair. He came to the city and without registering retired to his room. Provincial Traffic Officer Hipscher investigated the accident and reported the car held at the garage until further particulars have been received. It is unlikely that any charge will be laid as the crash was purely accidental.

CANADIAN TEAM IS SHOWING WELL

A LIFEBOARD FOR CITY OF FLOWERS TO-MORROW

Mr. Chas. Hanna, General Chairman of the Excursion to Rochester under the auspices of the Argyll Band Committee, states that arrangements have been completed and a large crowd is expected. Through the courtesy of the Canadian Natchez Railways, Mr. Harry Thompson, City ticket agent, has consented to sell tickets on Front Street open between the hours of eight and nine o'clock Wednesday morning to allow those who wish, to purchase tickets and thus avoid any confusion at the down town offices at seven o'clock in the morning when the special train will pull out.

Scores from Napanee, Deseronto and other Eastern towns will join the excursion and stops will be made in Trenton, Brighton and Cobourg for passengers. It is planned to run the excursion on scheduled time with the ferry leaving Cobourg dock at the appointed hour and those who attend will be given every opportunity to see the sights of Rochester. The ferry will leave the docks at Rochester late in the afternoon for the return trip. A special orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for dancing on the boat.

KIWANIANS HEAR CHINESE LEADER

Native Missionary Spoke Today On Conditions In Far East

Kiwanians were entertained at their weekly luncheon today by Mr. Ching, Chinese Missionary, in charge of the United Church in Sunning City, Canton, South China. The speaker in a short address told the Kiwanians something of conditions in China at the present time; through his interpreter, Mr. Long, he pointed out that with the recent death of the Northern leader, the Nationalist party looked for an end to the civil strife and the formation of a strong government for the entire Republic.

Mr. Long is in Canada for the purpose of collecting funds from his countrymen to assist in missionary work in South China.

After considerable discussion, Kiwanians voted against the erection of a "Hole in the Body" Candy at Moira Lake, as was felt that the time was not opportune to spend the rather large sum of money necessary. The Club will meet next week in the usual annual donation of one hundred dollars towards the cost.

VOTE ON EXTENSION OF CIVIC HOSPITAL

Frierboro, June 26.—Frierboro city council, last night, agreed to submit to be qualified Protestant ratepayers a by law to authorize the issue of debentures to Nicholls hospitals. The hospital has now a capacity of 45 beds. When the proposed extension is completed it will provide 65 more beds with new heating and plumbing equipment, kitchen etc.

PAINTER KILLED IN FALL

St. Catharines, June 26.—George Lindsley, 36, a painter employed on the warehouse of the Canadian Department Stores, Limited, died at the General Hospital yesterday afternoon from injuries received when he fell from a ladder.

KNEW TOO MUCH ABOUT ROBBERY?

New York, June 26.—An attempt to link the $500,000 Leviathan mail robbery and the murder of Edwin J. Hope, underworld character, was being made today by police and postal authorities. Jerge Hope shot to death June 18 in a flat with an unidentified woman in an automobile on Broadway here, was known to have specialized in mail thefts. His slaying occurred the day after the Leviathan sailed from New York.

Authorities are working on the theory that Jerge was slain because he "knew too much" about the robbery, or, possibly, after a quarrel over the division of the loot.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Ask I of have heard defended,
Litch said a science needed.
—WITHER.

LITERARY FIELD SUSTAINS LOSS.

Still another Canadian literary man leaves. The death of Basil King, the novelist, removes a popular writer whose work has always "made for righteousness." Somewhat of the order of Edna Lyall in his atmosphere and aims he became widely read and turned out a fair number of books. He first began life as rector of St. Luke's procathedral in Halifax and went to Cambridge afterwards as rector of Christ Church, and here his health failed him so that he resigned. His sight also failed him, and he learned to use a typewriter so that if he lose the use of his eyes altogether he would not be helpless. Basil King was his pen name, his given names being William Benjamin. He was born in 1859 on Prince Edward Island, the birthplace of another well-known novelist, L. M. Montgomery.

PITY THE POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL

As vacation time draws near, most people are inclined to look back over the past few months and recall the strenuous pace of modern business and professional life, in an effort to justify themselves for taking a couple of weeks off for care-free pleasure and recreation. Usually it is not hard to find the justification, for the two short weeks are not long in passing, and the holiday-seeker finds himself back at his desk or his counter or his bench, hard at work at the daily grind again.

But the picture is as nothing compared with the daily round of the poor over-worked girl who finds herself compelled to accept the role of debutante simply because her father is poisoned of a few millions, with a status of life to maintain.

One of these unfortunate hard-working "young things" has confided her troubles to Mrs. Emily Post in a vigorete specialist of New York, who complains:

"Of course we all know we'll be furious wrecks at the end of the season and we'll have to go abroad to recuperate. Then some of us will come out again in London and be still more wrecked. Then we'll travel like mad—and be exhausted trying to keep our families away from sightseeing and cures. And after we'll scurry back to Paris and spend hours looking at clothes and trying them on. After that we come back more wrecked—than when we left home."

We used to "pity the poor working girl, but the time has come, apparently when the poor little rich girl is deserving of far more sympathy and consolation.

As one writer has said, the wives and daughters of the striking coal miners and textile operatives don't know when they're well off! Shed a tear if you have one to spare for the poor little girl unfortunate enough to be born the daughter of a millionaire!

FORGET MEN IN THE BACKGROUND.

So much publicity has been given to the fact that Miss Amelia Earhart was the first women to fly across the Atlantic that there is a tendency to ignore the fact that she did not make the trip alone. The two pilots who accompanied her are being left very much in the background, while she basks in the spotlight of fame and publicity. There may be some excuse for according to Miss Earhart a measure of praise because of her sex to make the perilous crossing, but it should not be forgotten that she merely occupied the role of a passenger in the aeroplane, and that the actual work of piloting and navigating was left in the hands of two men. But it was ever thus. Even at a wedding the male participant receives very little attention, the whole spotlight being focused on the bride. Probably the same traits in human nature are responsible for forgetting those who make it possible for Miss Earhart to reach the other side of the Atlantic in safety.

THE EVOLVING POLICEMAN.

There was a time when the average policeman was pictured as an individual who did little more than dexterously twirl his billy as he nonchalantly strolled along amid the admiring glances of nursemaids and children.

The policeman of today has little opportunity for such ambulatory parades, even if he desired them. Things are moving faster than they did a decade or so ago, and police are generally as well in the van of progress. It has to be to keep ahead of the improved technique of the modern criminal.

It is not surprising to learn that thirteen college graduates recently joined the police force of Berkeley, Cal.; also that every other member of the junior ranks is taking evening courses at the University of California. "Only educated policemen," says the police commissioner of that city, "can hope to cope with highly educated and highly trained criminals. If police administration is to be a success, the education of officers is necessary."

Many American cities are following the example set by Scotland Yard years ago in having special police schools. The latest of these schools, in Portland, Ore., has attained such wide reputation that Canadian police circles, it is stated, that its application in many cities is only a matter of time.

Even the most casual observer realizes that the policeman of today has duties to perform that were undreamed of a few years ago. Dealing with criminals is only a part of modern police work. Much more than physical size and strength is demanded in the fulfilment of the many social services which have been added to the police duties. It is gratifying to observe from time to time how well the average policeman measures up to the demands that are made not only upon his physical strength and courage but also upon his tact, courtesy and common sense.

TO NOWHERE.

There's a pretty little path
That leads to nowhere,
And it beckons and it calls,
There's seduction on the breezes
Of the cedar-scented air,
There's enchantment in
Its wanton waterfalls.

But this solitary byway,
Branching off the beaten highway,
Is a luring, winding,
Seeking blinding share;
You may pace, or pause, or pause,
Mood and mien its only laws,
As it creeping crawls
And groping sprawls to nowhere,

With the woodbine and the bramble,
Like a wild rose I ramble
Each crooked crack
And crevice to retrace,
To dissect and search and sever,
Though I know that it will never,
Never take me any place.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

A Huddersfield man, who had come to London for the Cup final, got into the hands of the police. His name and address were demanded.

His fateful query was matter; his address was Oodaffeld.

"Oodaffeld," said the sergeant. "Where's Oodaffeld?"

"Top o' the league, you fool!" was the proud reply.

A man rushed into a tobacconist's shop.

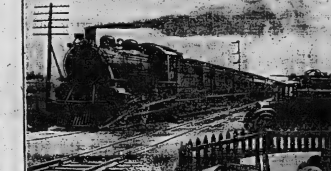

"This cigar you sold me," he said, "it's—it's simply frightful."

"Well, you needn't complain," said the tobacconist. "You've only got one; I've got thousands of the beastly things."

Counsel for the victim of a motoring accident:—Gentlemen of the jury, the driver of the car states he was going only four miles an hour. Think of it. Think of the agony of my client, the victim, as the car drove over his body at four miles an hour!

United States has only six per cent. of world's population, but has more than one-third of its railway mileage.

The Truck Driver's A.B.C. Always Be Careful

Accidents won't happen—if all drivers are careful. The ABC of accident prevention—"Always Be Careful"—has been learned so well by drivers of over 600 Bell Telephone trucks and cars in Ontario and Quebec that accidents to these vehicles rarely occur.

The telephone truck driver whom you see along street or highway knows and follows carefully all the rules in his instruction book. One of these is shown plainly on the back of his truck to warn others—be always stops at railroad crossings. And no Bell Telephone truck has ever been involved in a level crossing accident!

In fact, any mishaps of the road are so rare in Bell Telephone circles that other vehicle-operating organizations are studying and adopting the same successful safety-first principles.

It is interesting to read the remarks made in the column set aside for this purpose in the Register, as they contain some hidden meaning usually. For instance, the party whose only remark was the word "Clean" must have run into some Camp on his journey when someone hit him with the opposite effect. Others say it is better than the average, one says it is the best Camp in Ontario, while others appreciate the view and the conveniences. One tourist makes the suggestion, "Why not have signs on the Highways approaching the city advertising this very up-to-date Camp?" These are only a few of the remarks made, but they show that the tourist is interested in the Tourist Camp.

A THRILLING SUMMER TOUR

Through 1,596 Lakes and Virgin Forest Without a Guide

Algonquin Park, in the Highlands of Ontario, is the ideal spot for a roving holiday. Some 2,000 feet above sea level, its cool pine scented air and fresh invigorating breezes bring new life and health to nerve-worn people.

You may paddle or hike almost anywhere throughout the park without a guide. The fishing—speckled trout, salmon trout and small-mouthed bass —can hardly be bettered.

The Park, with its glorious pine woods, rocky hills, gleaming lakes and rivers, is a veritable mecca for those who like a "he-man" holiday. Every mile of its three thousand square miles is interesting and beautiful.

TWENTY PARTIES AT LOCAL CAMP

Majority of Tourists Say Belleville's Accommodations Fine

From ten o'clock last Friday morning until 7 o'clock last night, the Belleville Tourist Camp accommodated seventy-five persons, either for meals or overnight. Exactly twenty parties had registered at the Office between the times above mentioned. For this time of year, this is a very good showing, especially as Friday and Saturday are wet days, which naturally drives many who would otherwise have camped out, into hotels.

Those who registered for their parties are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright, from Troy, on way home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Forster, from Toronto to Lyndhurst.

Mr. and Mrs.. C. H. White, from Bordeguet, Mass., to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Snyder from Saylorsburg, Penn., to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Nile, from Toronto to Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, from Toronto to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Mullen, from Toronto to Toronto.

W. J. Bryant and party, from Lindsay to Kingston.

H. G. Garrett and party, from Williams, O., to Quebec.

E. Marks and party from Oshawa to Christie Lake.

G. H. Hall and party from Kingston to Iowa.

G. H. Carter and party from Brockport, N.Y., to Northern Ontario.

H. Sage and party from Brockport, N.Y., to Northern Ontario.

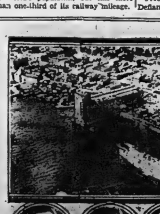

Mrs. J. W. Gragg and party from Brockville, on way home.

L. Blackland and party, Hillier, on way home.

J. A. St. Pierre and party, Wellington, on way home.

S. A. Northcott and party from Toronto to Kingston.

Fred Bergman and party from Defiance, Ohio, on way home.

NIAGARA REGION IS INUNDATED

St. Catharines, Ont., July 26 — Four deaths and damage exceeding $100,000 are attributed to a 15 hour of technical rain that visited the mountain section of the Niagara District Saturday. Alvin Shickler, 36, of Stevens, was instantly killed when his motorcycle skidded in the water-covered road and crashed into a truck this morning.

Three lives were lost in the Chippewa Creek which had been transformed into a raging torrent. Steve Arvic, nine years old Hungarian boy, Vitto Innamunelli, 30, and Marco Ramicia, 16, were the victims of the raging waters—greatest urban damage was caused at Niagara Falls, Port Colborne and Niagara on the lake, where cellars were flooded. Prince Arthur of Connaught from a merchants stock damaged.

Eleven players will make the trip, as there are two men's singles, one ladies' singles, two men's doubles, one ladies' doubles, and one mixed doubles to be played. They will leave about 1.30 p.m.

MORE ACCOMMODATION

Workmen are busy making alterations to the Board Room and offices of the Homer L. Gibson Co., in the Chamber of Commerce Building. Owing to the increase in business being done by this company more room was required and so much the customers will appreciate the roominess of the Board Room when the alterations are completed.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Messrs. R. J. E. Graham, J. D. Hertly, C. A. Campbell and E. Frederick left on Monday for Ottawa where they will attend the Chamber of Commerce Annual Convention. While there they will inspect the Gatineau River, and its power sites, from which Belleville will receive most of its electric power in a few years.

PLAY AT OSHAWA.

Belleville's baseball team, the Nationals left for Oshawa this morning by motor, where they will engage their old rivals this afternoon. The regular team was taken along, but who will be the pitcher is the mystery. Charlie Arthur, who was heaving in his spring start at Kingston, may get the call, as it was certainly not his fault that the team lost in Kingston. Belleville is batting on top of the heap, and a win today and tomorrow would put them in a position where they could count down the home stretch.

COMPETITIVE SAILORS.

At Deloro on July the 2nd there will be a Field Day, in which several local boys will compete. This will be the first boys under twenty-one who have lived in the County of Hastings since the list of January last. The place where there will be the Deloro to Marmora and return road race, in which Farley Faulkner, L. Way and J. Carter have entered. This is a distance of seven miles and there is a ten man over the course yesterday, reporting the road to be in good shape for racing. No doubt some of these boys will finish in the money, as they have been training steadily for several months past. A large permanent trophy will be presented to the winner.

TENNIS COURTS SOON READY

While the new Ameelia Tennis Courts which are being built at the County Club have not been finished yet, it is confidently expected that they will be ready for play within a week, according to the inspector of the Ameelia Corporation who is in this district looking after other jobs. Everything is in readiness for the top layer to go on, and when these courts are finished, there will be none better between Toronto and Montreal.

Brean Fur Chat. Money

New York, June 26.—Seven per cent. call money made its appearance again in Wall Street today and the stock market, which had been heavily depressed, backed up, but did not break as it did when the high rate first made its appearance, three weeks ago. Early gains of one to three points in the standard industrials and five points or 14 points in a few rare specialties were cut down.

Banks called about $20,000,000 in to strengthen reserve in anticipation loans by early afternoon, presumably of the completion of commercial loans call June 30 and the heavy mid year settlements. Expectations that about $500,000,000 will be distributed during July in the form of dividend and interest payments and the ease in the bond note of investment buying had a tendency to keep selling in check.

Raising of Assessment Company's annual dividend from $3 to $4 caused fresh interest in the buying of copper. Motors were mixed.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS

STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE

The Mining Market showed some signs of action today after the recent quietness due to liquidation in New York. Noranda as usual was the most prominent, selling at one time up to 240. BIRD—CONLEY

Madoc, June 26.—A very pleasing event took place at the home of the bride's mother on Wednesday morning, June 20, when Miss Blanche Conley, of Madoc, became the bride of Mr. Carl Bird, of Huntingdon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Rivers, B.A., B.D., of Trinity United Church in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

GEORGE—BROWN

Campbellford, June 26.—A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. John's parsonage at one o'clock this afternoon, when Verna, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Mervin Brown, Toronto, became the bride of Charles Henry George, Toronto. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Ernest Harrison. Miss Flora Elsie Brown, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Roy Yeoman, Toronto, was groomsman.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a creation of beige georgette with picture hat and shoes to match. The bridesmaid wore shell pink georgette with picture hat to match.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the parsonage to ten guests which included close relatives and friends of the bride and groom. An interesting item in connection with the ceremony is the fact that Saturday is the twenty-third (silver) anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents.

After the wedding breakfast the young couple left amid a shower of best wishes for a motor trip to Gen-eva, N. Y., and a tour of several states. Upon their return they will reside in Toronto. For traveling the bride wore a sand costume with clothe hat and shoes to match.

LAUGHTER THE THING THAT SOFTENS LIFE

By DR. LOUIS-E. BISCH.
Eminent Pyrobeutist.

In this "Le Barbier de Seville," Beaumarchais expresses the value of a sense of humor concisely. This is what he writes:

"I hasten to laugh at everything, for fear of being obliged to weep." . . . A clear-cut thought upon this complex question. Many people are afraid to laugh them a moment, for fear of losing their greater assets until the opposite, gloomy and unconvincing mood which takes everything at its face value, is dressed, and hangs in place.

One elevates the spirits, brightens the viewpoint and drives dull care away. The other dampens the spirits, clouds the viewpoint and invites the glee-man.

Life is fraught with disappointments and regrets. Life is correct! Life is at one long, hard and often heavy grind! Then why not lighten it wherever possible? Why not ease our way as much as we can?

"Humor," says E. P. Whipple, "implies a sure conception of the beautiful, the massive and the true, by whose light it surveys and shapes their opposites. It is a human influence, softening with mirth the rugged inequalities of existence, converting the tolerant foe, often blinding even the spaces which separate the just from the lowly, the great from the humble."

To be sure, we must take life seriously.

But we can very readily become too serious, forgetting that life is charged not with fun as well as with sorrow.

Be sure to evaluate correctly what you see, hear, feel and do. Be careful your own disappointments and the world's woes do not weigh too heavily upon you!

Keep your perspective! Look for the silver lining always! Preserve an inner serenity and calm!

Be slow to anger. Be tolerant and understanding! Neglect no duties! Shirk no responsibilities! Make allowances for human frailties! Refuse somehow into the picture your petty annoyances! Forget your cares of minor to the moment! Be cheerful! Be optimistic!

Stir your imagination during moments until these mistakes force to a gay color.

And you can think better, too, if your mind is glad. When you are depressed it is difficult for you to get around the trouble or worry that had fastened itself into the very substance of the mind like a thorn in the flesh.

You may develop so, after a while, that you are unable to think at all.

You droop, like a wilted flower. An utter confusion overcomes your thoughts are not worth tuppence.

Try, however, to laugh aloud. That is better even than smiling merely as you laugh feeling the humor inside you, although laughing it visibly.

For when you laugh aloud you hear yourself laughing. This appreciation of laughter through another sense organ augments the beneficial effects of mirth.

Besides, actual laughter is infectious. It makes others smile and laugh.

To do that is to render public service.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 48.

THE UNKNOWN CALLER

After thinking all night of her problem, Celia decided on a course of procedure.

Palconer had given her a week to decide whether she would marry him. This, if she refused, he would give the whole wretched business away, and, said she, the possibly fatal effect on her mother, plunge her into a new scandal.

She shuddered to think of what the town would say, if it ever found out that this man whom she had introduced everywhere as her husband, was a impostor.

She decided, therefore, that the best course was to humor Falconer—make him, if possible, more in love with her. He had admitted that his infatuation for her had weakened his ruthless determination. Ergo, if he came to care even more, might he not have mercy on her?

Over arrears after breakfast to take Celia for a drive.

"I want to talk to you seriously," she explained.

Falconer strolled out to the car, a cigarette between his fingers. He greeted Celia airily.

"Out so early, my charming lady? Well, the morning air is good for the complexion," he observed with his bold glance lingered on her.

She replied: "A little morning labor in the fresh air wouldn't do you any harm, Mr. Falconer. But I see you're supposed to be a gentleman."

"Why work with the hands when the head serves me very well," he answered. His glance lingered on Celia, looking more radiant than ever."

He assisted Celia into the car, with an air of gallantry. Celia felt curious eyes upon them from neighboring houses. She said as much to Gwen. The latter answered grimly, as the car got under way:

"It's just as well, Celia, that the neighbors viewed that little act of gallantry. Listen! I was at the Assembly Rooms last night, and later, in Daisy's boudoir, there were some women who were talking about beads off about you. They didn't see me, but I was darn careful that they didn't."

Celia's eyes widened as she realized the import of Gwen's words.

"Gwen, you don't mean that they were saying—that I was Falconer's mistress?"

Outwardly Gwen was calm, but inwardly she was seething. She told the story that you treat your husband like a dog. That you're rude to him in private. That you make him occupy your own quarters, and your father's. That, moreover, you're receiving letters from another man. In short, that your marriage is going on the rocks, through your misbehavior."

"Oh," moaned Celia. "Haven't they any one to talk about but me?"

"It seems not," said Gwen.

"But what can I do," demanded Celia desperately. "And, Gwen, things are worse now. Falconer wants to marry me. It's the money, of course. But he's threatened, delicately, but none the less definitely, to expose me if I don't."

Gwen whistled.

"I rather expected that..... Can you stall him off?"

"Hah! him off!" echoed Celia bitterly. "Until when? What for? What is there to help me tomorrow, or the day after, or next week, or next year, for that matter?"

"How long has he given you?"

"A week," said Celia dejectedly.

"Well, much can happen in a week," was Gwen's comforting reply.

"Much trouble for me," said Celia drearily.

Gwen slowed her car abruptly. A little color crept into her cheeks.

"There's Larry Cross," she murmured. "Let's stop and speak to him. There are mighty few people who do and I think the poor boy would appreciate it."

Larry came to the door of the car. Celia was impressed at the change in him. He looked thinner, but his eyes were clear, his hands steady. It was the first time she had seen him since Gwen's dinner-party, weeks before.

He took her hand diffidently. In spite of his effort at self-control, his eyes betrayed his feeling for her. And she felt a question in their dark depths. It was as if Larry asked whether she were happy. She wondered if he had heard the gossip about Falconer and herself—that they were not hitting it off well.

"Good-by, Larry. You haven't paid your dinner call. I've been expecting you."

He flushed and mumbled: "I didn't think you'd care to see me. I'm not very good company, I'm afraid."

"I dont invite people to my house whom I don't wish to see," was Gwen's reply.

A look of gratitude flashed into his eyes.

"May I come this evening—if you're free?"

Gwen assented. When Larry had gone, with a lingering look at Celia, Gwen put the car into motion.

"I'm sorry for that poor kid. In that, if I had had a million engagements, I'd have broken them all for an evening with Larry," she said bitterly.

When Celia arrived home, the maid said:

"There's a gentleman in the living room to see Mr. Falconer. I told him Mr. Falconer was out and hadn't said when he would return, and he said he was in no hurry—that he'd come a long time to wait. Shall I wait.'

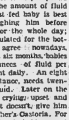

"Have you his card?"

"No, Mrs.-Falconer. He—he doesn't look like the sort of gentleman who would have a card. He didn't even give his name. He just said: 'Tell Mrs. Falconer that there's a party here who wants to see him.'"

Celia's heart stood still.

"Then the man's here. Who was this stranger who waited so doggedly?

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a high school girl, fairly popular with everyone and quite popular with most in my own class and other near associates. I'm not considered, but I do recognize the fact that one of the leaders.

I'd like you to publish in this column this short list of how girls of the leading grades handle their beaux. Who won't you act the boys to prepare a similar list?

Boys always wear their clothes.

They brushes whether or not their suits are pressed, their hair combed, their shoes shined, etc. Rather that "have to" do it, but they should be will career for and in every case a better.

They "tell their dates" how pretty they look, how stylish they are and the thanks they go with a boy who brushes all over her face, with powder puff, lipstick, rouge and what not.

They "make" the minute he may call her "darling," in dramatics, debate, oratory or something of that kind. They may just as well call her Mrs. He may do anything but be mean to be a leader in some way.

They "go with" not only a boy who brushes all over her face, with powder puff, lipstick, rouge and what not.

They "make" the minute he may call her "darling," in dramatics, debate, oratory or something of that kind. They may just as well call her Mrs. He may do anything but be mean to be a leader in some way.

4. Whether or not they have a car.

This isn't really important. Some girls prefer the back seat, but by far the majority would rather go places in a car that "belongs."

5. How they act on the way home.

A little discussion that important. Should they "neck" or not? I don't think "neck" is inevitably taken for granted, and the girl who "necks" on the first date is "cheap." About half of the course this refers to how to tell the girls not to. No girls wants to be too much petted over and too much neglected for the middle kind. Conversational. "Are you warm enough" is not girls like boys a chance to "neck." To list the kind that enjoys mistletoe. "No," says the latter as the opposite. Most girls will say "Yes." They like to go with boys because they like to be with them.

A boy should learn to talk to a girl easily before taking her any place and should always be polite, but should not treat her like a weakling and half carry her every place they go.

This opinion may not be the usual one among girls, but in our school it is, and I believe that it is in most schools.

SUE.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl nineteen years of age. Have been in love quite a while, but have always doubted my friend's love for me. He says he cares for me, but sometimes he does sometimes to prove he doesn't. I've never doubted my love for him, but the other side of the matter worries me.

Please tell me what I can do to make him prove he cares for me.

WORRIED BLONDE.

WORRIED BLONDE: The best proof of a man's love is his proposal of marriage. When you've been engaged for a month and a half, you can begin to doubt the sincerity of his feeling for you and a about the cue way in which you can decide that question. Until then, girls are engaged in the to the best of their ability to try to forget.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I'm a girl of eighteen and am very interested in a boy of twenty. His folks are very nice, and I love him more than life itself.

He is down about his home me, because I've heard he goes out with other girls. He is the only boy I have really ever loved. Do you really think he can love me and go out with several other girls? He always treats me like his own sister. Every time I go out with him I have a pleasant time. Please don't think me fool-ish or silly for I'm serious. Please tell me if you think he really does love me when he takes other girls out.

SIS.

SIS: Again and yet again—as long as no engagement exists, you are free to go around with whom you may choose. If he loves you, he will tell it by a proposal of marriage. Otherwise, I should just forget all about it. I think you are just the tiniest bit jealous, Sis, and that is why you don't like it. Be jealous not one of your best and you'll find that you are much happier.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am twenty-five years of age. I met a girl nine years ago and went out with her four years. She then left me, on account of her mother.

I was out of town for thirteen months, trying to forget her, but I could not. I came back and became engaged to her. I called on her a few times but her mother opposed this, and furthermore, made her promise to break her engagement ring.

I love the girl. As for her, she told me I was the only one and she would never love another.

I know her mother has nothing against me. It is only a question of money.

HEART-BROKEN.

HEART-BROKEN: I really do sympathize with you greatly. Heart-Broken, for a problem of this sort is rather hard to solve. Mother love and jealousy too often spoils the lives of their children when they are carried too far. Every girl is in a position to contribute something to the support of the girl's mother, if you should marry. Why don't you go to see the mother and have a frank talk with her. I'll warrant she'll think that way when she was married, although it might be more difficult to get her attention that feet in your conversation. But that is about all I can suggest to you. Otherwise, I see no other course but to abide by the girl's decision.

ANTARCTIC WILL BE INVADED BY THREE INDEPENDENT EXPEDITIONS

Parties Will Not Compete—Plan To Search Mineral Wealth

New York, N. Y., June 26.—(C.P.)—The prospective aerial expeditions of Sir George Wilkins and Commander Richard E. Byrd to the Antarctic are seen, in the nature of a race to the Pole, says a statement by Dr. Isaiah Bowman, president of the American Geographical Society which has endorsed and is contributing to both expeditions.

Commander Douglas George Jeffrey, R. N., retired, head of another expedition, which will attempt to define the boundaries of the elusive Graham Land, which lies south of Cape Horn, has also stated there will be no spirit of competition with Wilkins and Byrd. On the contrary he would complement those South Pole expeditions.

The Wilkins and Byrd flights will coordinate each other, Dr. Bowman said, the two flyers covering separate sections of the huge unexplored region. On one side of the great mountain range known to extend into the Antarctic will be flying Commander Byrd; on the other side Sir George Wilkins, each gathering data to make a complete record of the country.

The plans of Commander Byrd, he said, call for a flight from the ice barrier to the South Pole and beyond in an effort to explore a part of the high Antarctic plateau. Sir George is to fly from a point in the Ross Sea head of the barrier along the ice where the coast is believed to lie toward Graham Land. His plane is to be equipped with pontoons so that at the completion of his flight he can land alongside one of the many whalers which cruise in that part of the ocean and be picked up by Sir George, said Dr. Bowman, will leave Panama on a Norwegian whaler about November 1 and will begin the flight about January 1, just as Commander Byrd begins his work on the Ross barrier.

The Antarctic flight of Sir George Wilkins will be equal to if not longer than his flight from Alaska to Spitzbergen. It is over dangerous, unexplored territory probably beset by dangerous fog and strong winds sweeping down off the ice cap.

Wilkins in his long flight over the Antarctic ocean, the Ross Sea, it is said, "will photograph the details of the country, glacier-covered and rocky, for the first time. In the meantime he will be busy in select sites for the meteorological stations which are has long planned to establish."

The object of these stations would be to coordinate weather reports from all the world's meteorological stations in the southern hemisphere and establish a sounder basis for long range weather forecasting.

Commander Jeffrey, who is a veteran of the Antarctic and who was a member of one of the expeditions headed by the late Sir Ernest Shackleton, will take a party of about twenty-five men and two planes and expects to leave for the icy regions in September, returning about the first of May.

Veterans of the Ak.

Other veterans of the Shackleton expedition who Commander Jeffrey says will accompany him are George Vibert Douglas, of McGill University, geologist; Dr. A. H. Macklin, of Dundee, Scotland, who was with Shackleton on the spectacular 1916 attempt to cross the Antarctic by pack ice; and Wm. S. Marrin, of Aberdeen, a biologist.

"While we may fly over the pole," Commander Jeffery said, "the chief purpose of the trip will be to define the boundaries of Graham's Land, south toward the Ross Sea, and to learn whether it is a big continent or actually two or more bodies of land. There is some scientific reason to believe there are as yet undiscovered lands in that direction.

"We will establish a base on the west coast of Graham's Land and from there strike out, after completing whatever exploration two can do on that side, eastward toward Coats' Land which is the southern boundary of the Weddell Sea. There is much to be learned in those regions."

The ships to be used have not been selected, but Commander Jeffery said they would be of the deep-sea minesweeper type, capable of bucking the terrific ice floes. Onn of the two planes is being constructed. It is a small amphibian, such as Sir George will use, with a gasoline capacity of 1,500 gallons and a cruising radius of 6,000 miles.

AGITATION AFOOT TO CLEAN CITY

Chicago, Ills., June 26.—And now they are incorporating against crime. Certain citizens of the 42nd Ward have received a charter for the Forty-Second Ward Voters' Association, Inc., nonpartisan, the purpose of which is "to clean up the ward." Among the incorporators are P. J. Lesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission and W. H. Kirk, another of those active in the grand jury inquiry into criminal activity.

The association sets forth that it purposes "to foster honesty and safety in the administration of politics; to redeem our ward from political thieves, corruption abd graft; to secure honest elections and a fair count of the ballots; to enlist decent and upright citizens of this ward to accomplish these purposes."

Commander Jeffery pointed out that Shackleton had two craft in the Weddell Sea on his 1922 expedition and said he regarded his trip as a continuation of work on that trip which the vessel ever had survived the ice of Weddell Sea, he declared.

The expedition, it is expected, may shed light on the extent of mineral deposits in the mountain ridge on Graham's Land, which, Commander Jeffery says, is known to be a continuation of the Andes range in South America. Deposits of gold and coal have been found there, he says, but the extent of the mineral resources is unknown.

Commander Jeffery hopes to verify the belief that the Antarctic ice-herd of seals are not extinct, but have only fled south before the advance of man.

Commander Jeffery said that on the eastern side of Graham's Land his expedition would be widely separated from those of Byrd and Wilkins. He expected, however, to be able to operate with them by radio in gathering and checking meteorological data. He also suggested that the bases of the three expeditions might be linked by chains across the Antarctic and.

Commander Jeffery is a navigator and oceanographer. At the beginning of the war he resigned from a south polar expedition under the leadership of Shackleton and was placed second in command of a destroyer. He was later commissioned to submarine work and later given command of one of the British "mystery boats." He has been here since March.

QUEBEC ARTISTS GOOD GROUNDING

Sound Training In Basic Principles Are Evident At Exhibition

Montreal.—(C.P.)—Sound training in the basic principles of decorative art is manifested in the work of Quebec students now on display in the fifth annual exhibition of l'Ecole de Beaux Arts. Among the several portraits and posters, figure studies, still life, scenes of the provincial government's experiment in encouragement of art.

Perhaps the posters constitute the most interesting section of the exhibition to the casual visitor. These are numerous and colorful and, in the main striking for their originality as well as for the technical skill which they display. Some few of these eye-catching advertisements for agricultural shows, ocean voyages and other commercial undertakings verge upon a daring modernity in composition and design which contrasts strongly with the adherence to classically academic standards prevailing in the other groups. The majority of the students represented here have succeeded in putting their ideas across with vigor, and that is the first and last aim of poster painters.

Turning to the less spectacular black-and-white exhibits, one is more forcibly impressed with the stress placed on technique, sometimes at the expense of originality. Imagination has been permitted some scope in a delightful group of pen-and-ink book illustrations and their freedom has not been stultified.

Ambitious plans for the public buildings,—recreation centres, municipal halls, post offices—generally what is from the utilitarian point of view probably the most important department of the school. The architectural department, under the direction of J. Peivert, build excellent hopes many of the men who will take part in the re-building of Montreal as experts in the new town planning organizations of the city.

One impression stands out above all others after a first visit to the exhibition, and that is of the essentially French spirit animating l'Ecole de Beaux Arts. Culturally French-Canadian as they are to maintain a strict policy of isolation especially under modern conditions, and even of Quebec province who have wandered abroad to complete their studies in painting or literature are apt to find themselves looked upon askance when they return with new ideas burning restlessly in their brains. But the Quebec Government, when it decided that there are training available in its people, did not hesitate to turn to the capital of the art world for its men and its methods. The faculty of l'Ecole des Beaux Arts have been imported directly from Paris and in consequence the school which will this Autumn enter upon its sixth year in Montreal is a Parisian school.

In spite of this and of the use of the French language in lectures and instruction, many nationalities are represented in the student body. The French colony in Montreal contributes a striking proportion of the promising student material and one of the most prized awards for the term just closing go to an English-Canadian girl, Marjorie Smith.

KIWANIS ACTIVE IN BAND CIRCLES

Clubs Take Active Interest In Organizing Music Associations

Chicago, June 26.—In the past year Kiwanis clubs in the "United States and Canada have organized and sponsored 81 municipal bands and 69 high school bands and orchestras, besides assisting in all general musical activities, according to Albert J. Southwick, Tulsa, Okla., chairman of the organization's International Committee on Music.

This proves that the general appreciation of music in thousands of communities on the increase," said Mr. Southwick. "As this development is only a beginning, music lovers can be assured a great interest in the immediate future."

There was a time, Mr. Southwick explained, when community singing interested but a few individuals. Now, however, not only the service clubs but every organization, social and commercial, forms group singing.

"What Kiwanis hopes to do is to encourage community singing by constantly offering singers with music bulletins and pamphlets to its clubs. In turn the Kiwanis of those clubs can help in their communities. At present there are 1,725 clubs with over 100,000 members. It will be but a few years until all towns can have exceptional bands, orchestras, and other musical groups."

In the development of group singing Mr. Southwick advised, careful attention should be paid to the song leaders. Too often groups depend on one man. What is needed is at least six or more leaders who are qualified. Group singing said the orator, is frequently too large a job for one man to handle.

COMEDIAN DIES; LEAVES NOTHING

Famous London Performer Had No Estate After Bills Were Paid

London.—Little Tich, the diminutive comedian who for 43 years created laughter and riches for audiences the world over and who died in February at the age of 59, has left little behind him but the memory of how he could make merriment. The fact that his estate has realized practically nothing will surprise even those who knew most about him. It is true that he lived in good but not unduly extravagant style, and that he was capable of great generosity. It is also true that his particular style of humour had of late years declined somewhat in popular favor. During the last year of his life he worked for 20 weeks at a salary of from £100 to £150 a week; in the previous year his income was probably between £3,000.

He was rather quickly, on his arrangements for performances, she would accept a lower figure for a long run in London, for instance, than a contract for more remunerative series of performances in the big cities outside the Metropolis. This he rapidly accounted for his dislike in being encompassed by the crowd in the street. In London he passed along the Strand or Leicester Square after passersby merely gave a friendly glance towards him. On the other hand when he went to other English centres his diminutive often brought him an amount of notice which, off the stage, was decidedly distasteful.

"If you ever become one of the big you will be amazed at the number of poor relations you have to help," Little Tich, once remarked.

LIGHTHOUSEMAN ON RETIRED LIST

Portland, Maine, June 26.—Captain Joseph W. Strout, who has the distinction of being the oldest lighthouse keeper in point of service, and who kept the oldest lighthouse on the North Atlantic coast, has been retired. He had worked at Portland Head Light since he was two years old.

Members of the captain's family have been connected with Portland Headlight since it was first authorized by the United States Government. Joseph Crowhurst, first keeper of the light, was appointed by George Washington and a copy of the original document is in Captain Strout's possession.

Captain Strout is 72 years of age and although he was eligible for retirement three years ago he had been granted an extension from Washington and has been retired now only through disability. He will be succeeded by John W. Cameron, who has been assistant keeper with Captain Strout for twenty-five years.

REGENT THEATRE

Here is Thomas Meighan in a new type of role—two new types in fact. No Meighan vehicle in recent years has been crowded with so much action. 'Were All Gamblers' is the name of the production. It was directed for Paramount-by James Cruze, maker of 'The Covered Wagon' and 'Old Ironsides' and it, agreed, last night in the Regent Theatre.

It's a great story. It shows the star as a youngster at the start—a waif on a New York East River dock, who is picked up by a policeman and takes in by a kindly woman as her son. By the time he reaches manhood he is a contender for the heavyweight championship, a celebrity who stirs the interest of an aristocratic woman. An automobile injury prevents him from winning the title and he eventually becomes the proprietor of a night club.

The early scenes of the fight, an auto accident and East Side life are tense and exciting. The night club's New Year celebration later brings about a thrilling climax.

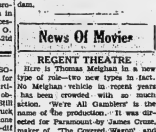

Supporting Mr. Meighan is a brunette beauty from Vienna, Marietta Millner. She has appeared in only one American picture before this, but her future is assured. That dear old Irish comedienne Claire, the Grandmother in 'The Goose Hangs High' lends charm to the film.

The screen play by Hope Loring is based on Sidney Howard's stage play "Lucky Sam McCarver."

Don't miss it!

CIRCUS CAMEL HAS FALLEN FOR RUSSIAN SIREN

Netcan, Member of The Sparks Herd Is Amiable Chap

Love has its own language, even in a circus menagerie.

Olga and Natacha, two splendid Russian-Siberian camels, recently imported by the Sparks Circus, can't speak nor understand a word of English.

And Billy, the old man of the Sparks' drove, doesn't understand Russian.

"But-they are getting along together famously,"says Charles Sparks, manager of the Big Show. "It seems to be a case of love at first sight between Billy and one of the ladies."

Within a few hours after they met, Billy and Olga were necking and kissing. Their romance has already become the talk of the several hundred members of the Zoo.

The long-neck congress of trained wild and domestic animals is but a part of the big Sparks Circus this season. Besides, there are 400 aerial champions and a magnificent interdestory ground act, for every de-partment has established a new record for height and innovation. Both ad-ernoon and night performances are to be given in Belleville next Friday.

It is announced that the world's largest and most gorgeous free street parade will be given at 11.30 a. m. Tickets will be on sale at Doyle's Drug Store on circus day at the identical price charged at the show grounds.

SEARCHING FOR 'MISSING LINK'

Dr. Cameron And Party To Study Pygmy Habits

New York, N. Y., June 27.—A two-year hunt for Darwinian "missing link" began recently when an expedition sailed for Europe on the first leg of a trip that will lead to the Kalahari desert of Africa. The leaders of the expedition are Dr. Will J. Cameron, Chicago dental surgeon and big game hunter, who is financing the trip; D. Breasted, anthropologist, and Professor R. L. Mannen, geologist from the University of Texas.

Living in the desert that is to be explored, the "missing link" section is a group of tribes of pygmy bushman more closely resembling the ape than any known human species. The desert lies 1,200 miles northeast of Cape Town and has never been explored by scientists because of the tales of cunning and cruelty told of the bushmen. The Bosman tribes have indicated the people are living in conditions believed to have existed during the stone age. They use only bows and arrows to hunt and their homes are of the crudest construction.

Dr. Cameron's knowledge of teeth makes him expert to study the dental formations of these people, for he believes that through this study much light may be shed on scientific value. He will also take moving pictures, having equipped the caravan which he will use with refrigeration plants to preserve the emulsion on the films during the long trip. He will also make satisfactory over the desert sands the expedition will travel all the way from Cape Town to Cairo.

TILLIE THE TOILER— A SILENT SUFFERER RUSS WESTOVER

NATIONALS ARE FAVORED TO WIN OVER PETERBORO

Locals Hope To Increase Lead In Central League

For the first time this season the Peterboro Central League Club will be seen in action here tomorrow afternoon in what should be a battle worth seeing. The Petes have reached the point where they are fighting with their backs to the wall and they must win tomorrow or side-step notch before the end of the season. Fred Craig, the newly-crowned manager of the Petes is fighting mad over the miserable showing made by his team and he is out to show the natives around the Liffy Lock village that the boys are still very much in the hunt. He will lead a strong team into Belleville Ball Park tomorrow in an effort to catch the Nationals asleep at the switch. The boys have a nice lead right now and they have every institution to remain at the top of the heap and a fast local effort would certainly not help matters any.

Belleville people have always supported the ball team well and with the hot boys leading they should fill the park tomorrow. Wednesday is a half-holiday and with little other attractions here it is expected that at least a thousand people will turn out.

Al Heckman, the old war-horse who has been the main-stay of the Petes for half a decade, will likely be the choice with, Jeff Hardill, his young lieutenant, the alternative. The Petes will likely be slightly shaken up for this game as some of the veterans have not been pleased with the kind of work that was expected of them. While the visitors are hugging the bottom of the heap they will take a back seat to none of them and Belleville fans are assured of a real game.

Following are the standings of the two clubs in the Central League and the batting averages of the players:

DOG TAKES A SHORT DRIVE BY HIMSELF

Local Plumber Recovers His Car Slightly Damaged Against a Tree

Jack Holley, well known plumber, of this city, stopped his car for a few minutes on George street, above Victoria Ave., this morning, and when he came out of the house he was in, it was nowhere in sight. He had left his dog in the back seat so thought that of course some one had stolen both the car and the dog.

He was informed a few minutes later, however, that his car had apparently started off on a tour by itself but it had soon come to grief by crashing into a tree across Victoria Avenue. Mr. Holley must have left the brakes off, for the car had started up and gone almost from the top of George street, down to Victoria Avenue, crossed the road, and then hit the tree. Only small damage resulted however, and his dog was safe in the car and seemed not at all worried.

DEDICATION MAY NOT TAKE PLACE

Battle Rages Fiercely Over Famous Louvain Library Inscription

BITTER FEELINGS

Italy And United States Use Pressure To Force Conciliation

Louvain, Belgium, June 27.—Despite the presence of four police on the Louvain church's old and civilians, demonstrating in favor of the American architect, Whitney Warren, behind the new library works today and shattered in pieces the plaques of the bitterness which Richer Ladeuza decreed to have erected instead of the architect. The trouble arose over the architects insisting that the inscription on the building should contain the words, "Destroyed by German fury" while the rector objected to this.

Brussels, June 27.—So fierce has become the battle over the Louvain Library inscription that there is now a possibility that dedication will not take place on July 4th as was proposed. Even American presidential politics have been dragged into the issue by those who are opposing Whitney Warren's name adopted M. Ladeuza behind the Rector's resistance to the placing of the famous inscription on the façade it is said stand, first, Rome

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF VALUABLE HORSE

Inspector Lougheed of the Provincial Police, of this city investigated a complaint from Samuel McKeown, lumber man of the Bannockburn district, regarding the death in his pasture field of one of his valuable horses.

At first he thought it must have been shot, but the only mark on the horse was a round hole in the head where a bullet might have gone in. The head was taken off and dissected but no trace of a bullet was found. Why an apparently healthy horse should die so suddenly is a mystery, the only explanation not yet thought feasible being that it was killed by lightning.

Rumors Spread That Resentment Is Felt Over Abandoning Crew

REPORTED INJURED

Said To Have Suffered Nervous Collapse Making Him a Burden

London, Eng., June 27.—In an exclusive interview with reporters from the Italian Naval Ministry states that General Nobile is insisting on taking part in the relief expedition to rescue the remaining members of the Italia's crew. It is said that he is not in a mental or physical condition to leave Citta di Milano where he is recuperating.

Officials of the Naval ministry deny categorically that there will be an investigation into the fact that General Nobile was the first member of the crew to be rescued. It is reported here as certain that his companions obliged him to leave first.

Nobile Reported Injured

Berlin, June 27.—A despatch from Rome to the Lokal Anzeiger today said that the Italian public was surprised that General Nobile, leader of the Italia expedition should have been saved first. A rumor is said to have circulated through Italy that Nobile suffered a nervous collapse due partly to injuries received when the Italia crashed. These reports say that he became greatly excited, spoke incoherently and in other ways made him self such a nervous burden to his shipmates that they insisted on his being transported to Citta di Milano first.

TAG DAY FRIDAY FOR CAMP FUNDS

Children's Aid Society To Open Summer Place Next Week

On Tuesday next the Children's Aid Camp at Redtherville will open for the second season. Many improvements have been made at the Camp including a dining room, sleeping porch and infirmary and all the children of the Inmates of the Children's Shelter are confined to the building under quarantine, one of the staff having been moved to the Isolation Hospital with diphtheria. The quarantine of Mited preparations will be made to move the youngsters to their summer quarters.

A tag day will be held on Friday (Crimes) to make an effort to raise funds to meet the capital expenses of the Camp for this season. It is to be hoped that the citizens will respond well as this movement is one of the worthiest ever attempted in the city The Camp will be in charge of Miss Harris the Matron. The Camp Committee is composed of the following: Mr. Merry, Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, Chas. Hanna, Capt. Ruston and two ladies, Mrs. A. A. McFee and Mrs. F. S. Anderson.

WEARY OF BUTTONS

House of Commons Spent Sixteen Hours Talking About Them

OHIO DELEGATES TURN TO SMITH

New York Governor Seems Certain of Election On First Ballot

CONVENTION OPENS

Wet-Dry Issue Threatens To Cause a Split In The Party

Houston, Texas, June 27.—The nomination of governor A. Smith of New York, probable on the first ballot, was assured today when the Ohio delegation to the Democratic National Convention arranged to swing most of it's 48 votes to the New Yorker.

Sam Houston Hall, Houston, Texas, June 27.— The Democratic National Convention was thrown into a frenzy of delight here last night by the opening guns of the campaign, set off by Claude C. Bowers, of New York ,the temporary Chairman.

Addressing millions of silent radio listeners, as well as 15,000 noisy persons in the convention hall, the party keynoter brought wild cheers as he pilloried the last two Republican Administrations. They had brought "mythical prosperity, mythical economy and mythical men," he said.

Thunderstorm Delays

Bower spoke in a hall swimming after a thunderstorm deluge that forced streams of water through every untested crack of the loam arched roof. But discomforts of a leaky roof failed to dampen the roar of approval which greeted his climax.

It was the first real session of the convention, which began with routine yesterday. The delegates were keyed up to applaud the lambasting they knew Bowers would give the party's political enemies. They let go with a vim when he came to the oil scandals, which he said, involved the "pilfering of the nation's property"; to the farm situation, "a disgrace to American civilization," he said, and on the "tariff loot" and "paternalistic privilege" in general.

TORNADO DOES DAMAGE

Casper, Wyoming, June 27.—Twenty persons were injured, three seriously and damage estimated at $500,000 was caused yesterday by a tornado in the Southwestern Section of the Salt Creek Oil field.

BUSY SITTING DRESSES

London, June 27.—Queen Amelia Earhart spent a busy morning packing in preparation for her departure for Southampton this afternoon. She had to lay in a whole supply of bags in order to hold the dozens of frocks which she purchased in London.

LOST HIS BRIDE ON TOUR BUT ALL ARE HAPPY AGAIN

Ottawa, June 27.— A train pulling out of Toronto yesterday carried a bride and groom from Chicago on their way to Montreal where they were to take a boat for the Old Country. At Napanee the groom took a walk on the platform and when the train was being split and when he saw an engine start log off with several of the coaches he made a run and got on board.

Sometime later he found that he

FOG AND SNOW HALT ATTEMPTS AT RESCUING STRANDED AVIATORS

Believe The "Italia" Burned Immediately After Being Wrecked

Virgo Bay, Spitsbergen, June 27.—Fog and snow continued today and prevented any attempts to search for the missing crew of the Italia or to save the six men marooned on the ice. It also held up the search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions.

Believe Italia Burned

Rome, June 27.—In the opinion of General Nobile the dirigible Italia brought fire shortly after it was blown away after one of the gondolas was torn off his airship, says an official communique issued by the Italian government today.

Nobile said that after the dirigible in crashing against an ice cap had ripped off a gondola it drifted away and a little later he saw about 10 kilometers away a small column of smoke. Nobile thought that this probably was due to the gasoline or oil tank catching fire.

Cheerono Ronsalia, motor attendant, who was in the stern of the gondola was crushed to death against the ice. His body was left behind in the ice.

Amundsen's Plane Seen

Berlin, June 27.—A second version containing additional details of the report; received in Norway that the plane of Roald Amundsen was sighted by a Norwegian sealer on June 28 was received in a special squash from Tromsoe to the local "Aneiger." This states that the telegram had been received from Captain Ramm, stating that a Norwegian sealer had sighted the long missing plane in an ice floe southeast of Northeast Land. Dense ice prevented the approach of the sealer.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD 1929 CONVENTION IN BELLEVILLE

R.J.E. Graham Is President of Eastern Ontario For Coming Year

OFFICERS CHOSEN

J. O. Herity Re-elected Secretary — Urge St. Lawrence Development

Ottawa, June 27.—That the fight against bovine tuberculosis in Eastern Ontario will be carried on with increased vigor, delegates to the annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce were assured here this morning.

At their meeting last night by Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture in the Federal government, Dr. Grisdale declared that the efforts of the department would be directed particularly to that section of the provinces lying between the Ottawa and the St. Lawrence rivers, extending up to the Ottawa in Pembroke and westerly up the St. Lawrence as far as Belleville.

At the afternoon session resolutions were passed asking that the Ontario provincial government make a survey of the province to ascertain the extent to which bovine tuberculosis is prevalent, that the province be divided into districts and sanitoria be established.

Next Convention Here

A resolution was passed urging the Federal Government to speed up the movement towards the development of the St. Lawrence waterways. The convention also by resolution indicated the use of Canadian and United States flags for advertising purposes. It was decided to hold the next annual convention at Belleville on a date to be later decided.

The following officers were elected:

President—Lt.-Col. R.J.E. Graham, Belleville.

Vice-Pres.—Mayor R. D. Preston, Oshawa; J. W. Roberts, Napanee; A. E. Hare, Brockville; Duncan McNaughton, Finch.

County representatives: Ontario County, Mayor R. Preston, Oshawa; Durham and Northumberland, Mayor T. H. Holgate, Bowmanville; Victoria, T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., Lindsay; Peterboro, Mayor R. Deane, Peterboro; Hastings, M. M. Lazelle, Parliamentary; Prince Edward, Mayor L. Pritts Prince Picton; Lennox and Addington, Mayor C. Robinson, Napanee; Frontenac, A. C. Hanley, Kingston; Leeds and Grenville, Mayor W. B. Reynolds Brockville; Lundas, Stormont and Glengary, Duncan McNaughton, Finch; Russell, H. C. Acres, M.L.A., Britannia; Lanark, Mayor Dr. J. A. Anderson, Smith's Falls; Renfrew, Mayor Logan, Renfrew.

J. O. Herity of Belleville was unanimously re-elected secretary. To day the delegates will conclude their convention with a visit to the experimental farm and other points.

MAE HAS A BOY

Birth of Marie Star's Son Supersedes Fee Fear of Hurting Her Career

Beverley Hills, Calif., June 27.—Mae Murray, motion picture actress, declared positively today that information concerning the recently announced addition to the family of a baby boy more than a year old. Mae Murray's husband, Prince David M. Lubovidoff announced the birth a few days ago, while the princess was in New York City. He declared that the news has been suppressed because of the possibility that it might affect Miss Murray's career.

Rome, June 27.—Signora Carolina Nobile, wife of the commander of the Italia, sent this wireless message to her husband: "May the Holy Virgin grant to you and me the supreme joy of saving the whole crew and smiling with her serenity upon the anguished hearts of their families. A thousand kisses."

RUSHED DOCTOR BY FAST TRAIN

Sault Ste. Marie, June 27.—O. A. Montgomery, vice president and general manager of the Algoma Central Railway and President of the Algoma Eastern Railway, died here this morning.

Mr. Montgomery is survived by his widow, one son Hubert, of Sault Ste. Marie, and two married daughters. He was born February 11, 1871, in Bradford, Ontario. Interment will take place at Mesginkrel on Friday.

BANCROFT PRIVATE STILL DRAWS NOTICE OF POLICE

Several weeks ago, Provincial Officer Gray, of Bancroft, seized a still on the property of Allan Bowers, near Bancroft, but Bowers heard of the officer being there and left that district, presumably going to Toronto.

Last week, however, Corporal Nelson and Constable Davis of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrested Bowers in Toronto, and brought him back to Bancroft to stand his trial. He asked for a remand and this was granted.

A little over a year ago, Wilfred Bowers, an uncle of Allan, was convicted of a similar offence, and sentenced to a fine. He was let out for a few days to get the money to pay the fine, but never came back. Constable Davis was one of the Mounties at that time who had arrested Bowers, so recognized him in Toronto last week. Wilfred Bowers was fined $200.00 and costs or seven months, the fine being paid. Inspector Greenwood, Provincial Officer Bishop, and Provincial Constable Hammer made up the party who found the still on Bowers farm.

CHANGE IN PLAN TO EXTEND THE SYNAGOGUE

Fifteen Families Hebrews In Belleville To Raise Over $7000

ENLARGE BUILDING

To Provide Room For Both Secular And Religious Training

Within a very short time the Jewish people of Belleville will have an attractive and up-to-date synagogue as their home in any city this size in the Province. Plans have been drawn and work commenced towards the erection and remodelling or re-decorating of their present small building on Pinnacle street, an undertaking involving an expenditure in the neighborhood of seven thousand dollars. The present building will be raised, a foundation built under it, an attractive church hall built and the interior will be completely redecorated. The improvements will be made in such a way as that of enlargement if necessary later; the property on which the new synagogue will stand is a large one with a frontage of sixty-five feet and a depth of one hundred and seventy-five.

Only Fifteen Families

Thus, within a few months time, the Jewish people of this city, as yet small in number, only fifteen families, will have a synagogue which will be a credit to their enthusiasm and self sacrifice and one which in time will serve as church and school, so that the old and young may be trained to adhere to the ancient Jewish religious principles and preserve the traditions of the Jewish people.

The Jewish children who so desire may learn Hebrew; Rabbi Gerzel will undertake to instruct them after the regular school hours. Here, at the Capital of Ontario, there is progressing and maintaining a place with the Jewish people in Canada, protected by the protection of the British flag, and aided by the Government, the Jews are greatly improving their position.

The Jewish people of this Province are particularly doing their part, to promote the growth of the country, and ever readily take their place in the front. The local Jews may possibly seek some financial assistance from their friends to help complete their new Synagogue.

SEATS FIVE PERSONS WILL NOT ENLARGE

Paris Resents Claim of Having The Smallest Restaurant In The World

Paris, June 27.—Paris is now boasting of having the smallest restaurant in the world. Gourmets have just discovered a petit restaurant in the Rue Hippolyte Lebas which seats five persons only. One table accommodates this number, the rest of the establishment being taken up by the proprietress and her small kitchen. Billnotes have been the chief clients, but the novelty of the place is attracting much more important customers. Madame, however, has refused to enlarge.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The essence of friendship is entireness, a total magnanimity and trust.
—EMERSON.

DR. ELIOT'S ADVICE TO YOUNG PEOPLE

The late Charles W. Eliot, one of Harvard university's greatest presidents, once wrote a treatise on "What Possessions or Acquisitions in College Lead to Success in After Life." Extracts from this article will be printed in the Harvard Crimson's booklet for incoming freshmen, and since they are thought well enough of to be taken as a guide to these young college men, they are surely worth consideration by the youth of Canada.

President Eliot places first on the list what he calls "an available body," by which is meant a strong and healthy body. He is careful to point out that he is not thinking of the athlete, with his muscle development, but the average young person, with good digestion, a healthy circulation, already said that it is not possible for every nerves and a quiet mind. It may be one to get these desirable qualities by merely wishing for them. Health is often a matter of inheritance, and our physical defects cannot always be overcome. Yet it is certain that very much can be done by taking due care of our bodies, going in for the right kind of exercise and forming regular habits. A steady life usually brings steady nerves; good digestion and healthy sleep come with right living and right thinking. One's first duty is to see that we treat our bodies right; for without a sound body it is not possible to accomplish much.

The second thing which President Eliot lays down as essential is the "power of sustained mental labor." For the college student this is absolutely necessary if he is to do well. This power is only to be obtained by self-discipline. The more one applies oneself to mental labor, the easier it becomes. It is like the use of the muscles of the body. If a person is lazy, rarely taking exercise, the least exertion tells on him; but if he is active and accustoms his muscles to steady work of any kind, they respond without causing fatigue. It is the same way with the mind; by making a regular practice of studying, it is found that what at first was a severe task soon becomes a pleasure.

The next essential the president discusses is the formation of habits of independent thinking "on books, prevailing customs, current events." This is important. It is so easy to take our opinions ready-made, which are really not our opinions at all, but some one else's. Independent thinking is harder, but it is worth making the effort, for until independence of thought is established developments cannot come.

Other qualities which it is desirable to cultivate, in the opinion of Dr. Eliot, are the habit of quiet, unobtrusive, self-regulated conduct; reticence and reserve. Not making too many acquaintances, but forming a few intimate friendships. Finally, he urges the young collegians to cultivate character—the student should "carry in his face the character he plans to be and to show by the social casual observer, that nobody ere makes to him a dishonorable proposal." This is a high ideal; but one which every young person who would amount to anything should strive heart and soul to attain.

POISON GAS EXCITES WORLD'S ATTENTION

The accidental discharge of poison gas over part of the City of Hamburg, Germany, last month is provoking considerable discussion in the European press. Measures for the outlawing of poison gas in warfare are being reexamined for possible weakness and loopholes.

The Hamburg accident is regarded as a foretaste of what warfare of the future will be like if any nation should ever choose to deny her international obligations against the use of gas. A depressing picture is presented to the imagination.

Details of the Hamburg disaster will be recalled. One Sunday afternoon the lid was blown off a poison gas tank of the great Stolerburg chemical works, and the fumes were blown by a light wind across a suburb of Hamburg. The lethal wave killed or disabled all who came directly in its course. Moving through the suburb the gas reached an open tract, where it left another trail of victims among returning pleasure seekers and overwhelmed cattle and other animals. But for a fortunate downpour of rain which helped to destroy the action of various gas pockets, and the evacuation of the affected district, the casualty list would have been much larger.

Last July the German government in accordance with promises made to the former allied governments, passed a war material law by which "asphyxiating, toxic or similar products adapted for war purposes" were prohibited. In addition Germany has signed, though she has not yet ratified, a protocol drawn up by the League of Nations' conference on International Trade in Arms which forbids the use of "asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and of bacteriological methods of warfare." The Treaty of Versailles also contains a ban upon gas used as a weapon of warfare. Germany is thus trebly bound not to make poisonous gases for war purposes.

It is recognized of course, that poison gas is used in large quantities in the manufacture of dyes, an important German industry. But the question that some are asking is whether the amount of poison gas being manufactured for Germany is not in excess of the need of German industry. The Hamburg explosion came under suspicion a few years ago as the alleged manufacturers of mustard gas in Russian factories, not withstanding that the Soviet government had both signed and ratified the anti-gas protocol. It is now being suggested in many quarters that the League of Nations should set the machinery in motion for a general survey of the toxic gas requirements for commercial purposes of many countries and see how these requirements measure up to the quantities being manufactured and the reserves in hand.

LOCUSTS.

Locust trees are brightly burning
Waxen tapers to the sun,
Pale and fragrant, they are yearning
Upward, one by fragrant one.

Altar candles, white flames springing,
In the breath of May and June,
Choir birds their hymns are singing,
Throats of happiness—and soon,

Red the flame on earth's green altars
Scarlet fire, leaping up.
Roses, holding prayers and psalters
In each burning, scented cup.

THE PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

Mr. A. C. Baker, Professor of Commercial Science at Albert College, who joins the ranks of the Benedicts to-morrow was presented with a beautiful urn on behalf of the college this morning. The gift was accompanied by an address.

Mr. Fenwick's new yacht will be launched in about two weeks' time.

367 pupils are writing entrance to H. S. examinations this year. The examiners are, Mr. John Johnston, I. P. S., Messrs. Milburn, McKeown, Clarke and M. D. Howey of Lindsay.

Mr. J. Bell of this city is registered at the Queen's, Toronto.

Miss Lillie Boyce of Montreal is the guest of Miss Gardiner at Albert College.

Mr. Wm. Graham of Bethel, Man., is visiting his father, who is seriously ill.

Mr. E. D. O'Flynn of Madoc is in the city to attend the convocation at Albert College tonight.

Mr. Thomas Roberts, formerly with Mr. W. Mikel, has gone to Toronto where he has secured a good position.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

A contemporary observes that no pedestrian has got to be told that this is leap year.

An Aberdeen woman went to a beauty parlor to have her right hand manicured. She said she could do the left herself.

New Clerk—That customer wants to know if this flannel shirt will shrink.

Proprietor—Well, how does it fit him?

New Clerk—It's too large.

Proprietor—Vy, of course it will shrink.

A farmer received a crate containing some fowls. He wrote to the sender, informing him that the crate was so badly made that it had come to pieces when he was taking the hens home with him, and they had all escaped, and after much searching, he had only succeeded in finding eleven of them. In due course he received the following reply:

"You were lucky to find eleven hens, because I sent you only six."

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

A good reducing exercise, now much recommended, is moving the head from side to side when asked to have some more.—Niagara Falls Gazette.

Kitchener has started something new in the line of a shower for men about to be married. That seems to be a kindly thing and quite proper. Too long has the bride-to-be been given all the attention. She is showered, and showered; people gather at a trousseau tea and go into raptures over her elaborate preparations, and then on the day of the wedding the bride surely receives the lion's share per portion of attention, smiles and tears. This Kitchener plan of some sort of a shower for the bridegroom has its good points. He could be presented with many articles of wearing apparel, likewise a lawn mower, some shovel, ash sifter, a rake, hoe, spade, etc. This practical recognition of the fact that there is a bridegroom around a wedding scene has come none too soon.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Just Stories

Prof. William A. Craigie, lexicographer at the University of Chicago, knighted last week by King George V, for his achievement in compiling the monumental Oxford Historical Dictionary, will next receive the almost unprecedented honor of taking the robe and degree of Litt. D. from both Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

Dr. George I. Christie has been appointed to succeed Dr. J. R. Reynolds as president of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. He has a splendid record of agricultural and academic work to fit him for his new post. The minister of agriculture regards the new president as one of the most brilliant graduates of the institution he now heads. "He has made an outstanding contribution to American agriculture," says Hon. Mr. Martin, "and it is most gratifying to have him back to his native province at this time." There is no more important position in the agricultural life of Ontario than the office Dr. Christie holds.

ROOSTER DAY IS NEW SUGGESTION

Roosters Are of No Use After Certain Time of Year

Poultry raisers who build up a trade in strictly fresh eggs known by the name of "specials" see to it that the male birds do not run with the flock. Not only do they consume a certain amount of expensive food but fertilized eggs do not keep nearly as well as those that are sterile. Indeed after warm weather arrives the male birds should be done away with, except, of course, in flocks of the breeders of pure-bred fowls who produce stock and eggs for breeding purposes. The uselessness of the male in the laying flock is being recognized in many quarters and a prominent newspaper in Eastern Ontario, the Renfrew Mercury has made a novel suggestion that "Rooster Day" be organized. The editor in urging this point out that the keeping of male birds throughout the year is an economic loss which in the aggregate means a waste of thousands of dollars yearly in every township. The cost of maintenance of each bird is about $3 per year each. Only those who want eggs from their own premises for hatching, it is pointed out, have any need of male birds, and as the time is arriving when poultry raisers are adopting the practice of renewing their flocks by the purchase of baby chicks, there is no reason whatever for keeping over the male birds. A Rooster Day, it is believed would in a very real sense be a "booster day" for the poultry industry which is steadily gaining in importance. A leaflet of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, recommends the killing of the male birds after the breeding season and before the first of June as the time when roosters should be sent to market, because after that date, it is pointed out, millions of dollars are lost through the presence of partially incubated eggs in the produce which is marketed.

SPARKS CIRCUS HAS BIG PARADE

Route Will Include Principal Business Streets of City

Sparks Circus, coming to Belleville next Friday afternoon and night, will be the only big show to give a parade here this season, it was announced today by the Chief of Police, will be as follows:

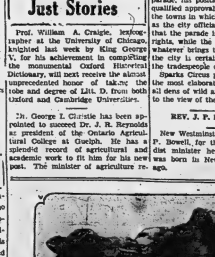

From the Circus grounds the procession will pass along Bleeker Ave. to Station St., to Bridge St., to Charles St., to Pine St., returning to the grounds.

All other Class A. shows have abandoned the street parade, but the Sparks Circus still retains this feature, much to the delight of the millions of its pat rons throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Charles Sparks, manager of his famous show, has received many expressions of appreciation of his decision not to depart from the time-honored custom of giving a street parade, his position receiving the unqualified approval of the merchants in the towns in which he exhibits, as well as the city officials, the latter holding that the parade is one of the people's rights, while the retailers believe that whatever brings the crowds people to the city is certainly an advantage to the tradespeople of the town.

Sparks Circus parade this season is the most elaborate in its history, and all lions of wild animals are wide open to the view of the public.

CAPITOL THEATRE

An excellent turnout of Capitol Theatre patrons Monday and Tuesday greeted Ramon Novarro in an interesting story, 'Across To Singapore' starring as well, Joan Crawford and Ernest Torrence. Romance, plenty of action, and many a thrill combine to make this one of Novarro's best pictures, and one which you'll thoroughly enjoy. It will be shown again tonight.

The Imperial Players offer 'Thorns And Orange Blossoms' for the last three days of this week. Miss Bigden in this play will be seen in one of her best parts. The Imperial Players are drawing large crowds regularly, a tribute to the class of performance they are giving; each and every play offered during their present run has been good clean entertainment, and this Company has become a real favorite with local theatregoers.

DEKORO PLAY KINGSTON.

The Dekoro Baseball Club passed through this city this morning en-route to Kingston where they were scheduled to play a Central Ontario League game this afternoon. The Dekoro Club have displayed a reversal of form lately and defeated Kingston in a recent game on their home grounds. Sikes will likely pitch for Dekoro and Jamieson for Kingston.

WEEKLY DINNER DANCE.

It is expected that at least one hundred and fifty people will attend the regular Wednesday night dance at the Bay of Quinte Country Club to night. In connection with the dinner Mr. R. J. Graham, who recently returned from a trip to South Africa will give one of his talks on that great Continent. His address will be illustrated by movies.

BRIDGE ON SATURDAY.

Something "a little different" is being offered in the way of entertainment by the Belleville Golf Club on Saturday afternoon of this week. The Committee in charge have arranged for an open bridge party to which the public in general is invited. Those desiring to form tables should telephone Miss Ivy Dickens Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. Bridge is to be played on the pleasant verandahs of the club house as well as in the club house itself, so that the cool breezes from the Bay may be enjoyed. Refreshments of course are to be served and a most enjoyable afternoon's entertainment is assured so make arrangements now to be among the number present on Saturay.

SENT BACK HOME.

Accused of being a vagrant, a young girl about eighteen years of age was picked up by the Belleville Police on Front street last evening and was locked in the cells over night. She is alleged to have been keeping company with prisons of ill repute. The girl came to this city from Campbellford some weeks ago where she was employed as a domestic. The police will likely send her back to her former home.

GARDEN CARNIVAL SUCCESS.

At the Christ Church Garden Carnival last night a large crowd thoroughly enjoyed themselves for a few hours in what will long be remembered as the best Garden Party the Ladies' Guild has ever sponsored. The Argyll Light Infantry Band was present and their lively tunes brought back memories of other times such as this occasion. This organization is certainly ofe the city as a whole should be proud of as they are a credit to Belleville. Games, ice cream booths and fortune tellers were much in evidence, and over $100 was realized and were taken in during the evening.

HELPED OUT CLUB.

Among those who loaned their cars to transport the local baseball club to Oshawa for their game yesterday were, W. E. Rowsome, Kenneth Colling and Cupt. Huston. The sportsmanship of these gentlemen is appreciated by the Club.

FAMOUS PITCHER HERE.

"Cannonball" Scott, who a few weeks ago was stricken with appendicitis in Belleville and since that time has been in Belleville Hospital is now able to receive visitors and no doubt many who knew him when he was the foremost amateur ball pitcher in Ontario, will take the opportunity of seeing him.

THREE TRIPS A DAY.

So grat has the traffic to Toronto become on the buses that the Colonial to Toronto are now making three trips Bus Lines which run from Belleville a day, where they formerly made only one. This is probably due to the fact that people prefer to ride by motor in the summer time and also to the fact that it takes only a little more time than the trains to make the journey.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS

Dear Money Hatts Advance

New York, June 27.—Marking up of the call money rate to 7 1-2 per cent the highest since June 7, 1925, checked a brisk upturn in today's stock market. Early gains of one to four points in standard rails and industrials and 1 to 12 points in a few specialties were cut down, but prices generally held above the closing quotations of yesterday. Trading was on a slightly broad er scale than yesterday up until the high money rate went into effect.

Prices started forward at the opening under the leadership of copper shares. Pricing offe renewal rate for call money, at 7per cent failed to stem the advance but when the banks called $20,000,000 in loans and the rate was advanced to 7 1-2 bullish enthusiasm began to wane.

Radio, which had advanced 3 3-4 points to 177 1-2 fell back to around 174 3-4, Wright Aeronautical dropped from 140 1-2 to 137 1-2. Greene Cananea Copper from 103 1-4 to 102 and Goodrich from 89 3-4 to 88 1-4. American Linseed sagged two points before yesterday's final quotations and Delaware and Hudson 5 points. United States Rubber common sold at 25, the lowest price in years.

STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE

MISS GRAY SENT TO WESTERN CITY

Local Victorian Nurse To Take Charge of Work In Winnipeg

At the last regular meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, held in the Corby Public Library, it was announced that Miss L. N. Gray, who had been nurse-in-charge here since February 6th, until a permanent senior nurse could be appointed, has been transferred to the Winnipeg branch of which she will have charge. Miss Gray has been a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses for the past five years, previous to which she had much experience in the field of public health nursing. Miss Gray made many friends during her stay here, who will regret her departure. The permanent senior nurse is expected to arrive in Belleville on July 16th.

YOUNG GIRLS TAKE TO THE OPEN ROAD

Myrtle A. Mahon and Nuna M. Young, two young Toronto girls, have been missing their homes since the Queen City since last Friday, and local and Provincial Police have been requested to be on the lookout for them as they may be getting 'fifty' from motorists on the highway.

Both girls are five feet six inches in height, the former is 17 and a stenographer, while the latter is 16, but looks older. Both are fair complexioned and were dressed well. If anyone is noticed answering to the above description, please phone Inspector Lougheed at the Provincial Police offices in this city.

MEN HAVE SPHERE APART FROM WIVES

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

Nowadays everyone recognizes the right of women to devote along trends inherent in their feminine make-up.

But, as the result of this development, is the husband to be sacrificed?

If he to be handicapped in his struggle for a livelihood by being forced to shoulder fresh cares in the organization and direction of the home machinery? Such shifting of responsibility from the wife to the husband would result naturally in a new kind of chaos.

Certainly, one of the jobs that woman is specially fitted for is homebuilding. Men must not even try to take this prerogative from her.

Indeed, it is an excellent thing that men, very frequently, spur women on to something.

Reciprocity is a healthy condition.

It is a good thing that there need women for homes, that without women there can be no home.

Thus the bonds of cooperation and mutual service between them—weakened by so many factors of late years —are made stronger and more stable.

A house that needs the wife and mother of drudge cannot be a home in its highest sense.

If there could be installed in every home the modern labor-saving devices, especially in the kitchen, every woman who has to do her own work would be able to reduce her labors by at least one-half.

Any man who can afford to ease his wife's burdens, but won't, ought to be drummed out of town.

No home need be ugly, even if it be unpretentious and simple.

It isn't the cost of the furnishings, but their color scheme and arrangement which count.

Colors and their use in contrast and blending have a definite effect for good upon the mind.

There are scores of books on the market concerning these matters and everyone can learn easily and without much expenditure.

Be jealous about everything concerning your home, but, above all, loving care to every detail of it. Make your home the projection of your own nature. As a woman, have a wonderful opportunity to express your deeper, inner self in your home.

Give it a trial anyway.

Your gratification will be great.

Make your home express you!

You will find that men cannot do these things as well as you.

As a rule, their minds are not given to details of beauty in reference to matters that create a homey atmosphere.

They recognize comfort and artistry when they see it. And mightily do they enjoy it, too.

But to know what is needed and to overcome the inertia of thinking it out and actually accomplishing it—these are assets that the average male does not possess.

Furthermore, women are happiest in an environment that harmonizes with their inherent tendencies.

That is the environment of the home—the true home.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am 30, six feet tall, have blue eyes and dark chestnut hair. Am fond of amusement of all kinds, with the exception of dancing.

My trouble is that I want to get acquainted with a nice (decent) young lady, some one that a man could be proud of.

Dear Annie Laurie, you don't know how lonesome I am. Can you help me in any way. If O. H. C.: I seldom answer personal letters, R. C., so am going to hope that you will see this and recognize your letter. Isn't there a "Y" which you can join in your town? This is one of the most ways I know of for a young man to make the acquaintance of the right kind of girls. Or the acquaintances you form there will lead to introductions to the various home circles and cousins and friends, and in this way you will lore that lonesome feeling. If there isn't, why not try going to church? There, I know, you would meet the right kind of girls and boys.

You see, H. C., all the letters which come to me are held in the strictest confidence for me to give names and addresses would be a betrayal of trust.

I'm sure there must be some contact for you whereby you can meet the girl you think you want to know. Good luck to you.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in love with a boy four years my senior and I want to be loved me until recently. He said he does not love me, but likes me a great deal. He says he does because I go with other boy friends.

I do not care for these other boys only as friends and have told him so. He says he could never love a girl again until I stopped going with other friends and go with him only.

WONDERING.

WONDERING: The young man is in my way of thinking, is extremely selfish, my dear. You are not engaged therefore are free to go out with as many people as you may choose, always considering the best kind that your parents approve. If you are engaged, that is another matter, for then you should not go about with other young men.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I was engaged to a girl nine months ago. Now we wanted to get married, but her mother would not consent because I was younger than her daughter. The girl wanted me to run away with her, and I informed her against it at her intention. I was her to my side and gained her consent to our marriage. Now the girl has returned the ring and refuses to see me. Am I to blame? If so what can I do?

DICK.

DICK: I'm sure I don't know what you can do, Dick. At least you know that you did the honorable thing in informing the girl's mother before you eloped. Perhaps the girl is a bit romantic and that is why she has been cheated of romance by your refusal to elope. I should just go along being friends until she sees how foolish has been. I f she really cares for you her "mad" won't last long, and until that time, I should just be, patient. Best of luck to you!

A Smart Study In Slender Lines

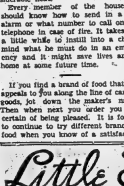

EXTENSIVE studies have been made in order to design becoming lines and features for the attire of the matron who is not thin. The frock above combines many details that make for a slender figure and is an especially attractive design for the older woman who would be well dressed. The V-yoke gives length of line and is made distinctive by an attached scarf collar. The frock is belted and fitted small at the hips. The skirt widely hangs from a scalloped outline cause the bias to fly in points, gives a graceful flowing movement to each step. And the long sleeves, which are not cuffed are finished in a very new and unique way. The dress as it is made is youthful and slenderizing. Made of flowered crepe, satin, voile or crepe de chine it will prove a great favorite for afternoon wear through the season. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Unless it is necessary to stir the mixture always cover kettles during cooking, as the steam contains considerable heat.

Every member of the household should know how to send in a fire alarm or what number to call on the telephone in case of fire. It takes but little while to give them this bit of information and it might save lives and a home at some future time.

If you find a brand of food that just appeals to you along the line of canned goods, jot down the maker's name. Then when next you order you will be certain of being pleased. It is foolish to continue to try different brands of food when you know of a satisfactory

THEN hands of the 'see as the stretch along the shore, or the healthy mad of the beach by the back yard—both serve equally well for a mad pie party. The only difference lies in the number of guests that can be served. The beach offers unlimited space for dinging, while the yard is apt to accommodate fewer children.

The invitations should be quite definite in announcing the kind of party, so that the children may know whether dressed in play clothes.

When all the guests have gathered, give each one a pail and shovel and lead them to the sand. Very little entertainment need be planned for, for even the smallest children will be well able to amuse themselves at this familiar form of play. A little supervision will be needed to settle the arguments which will inevitably arise, and to prevent the more venturesome ones from wandering off toward the water. This, however, can be managed by a watchful eyed stationed a little distance away from the center of activities.

A few things to add to the fun might be planned ahead of time. In an inevitable mad digging hurry a small gift for each child in the sand. Have them find the package and leading up to the surface should prove a delight. Tie on a card with the child's name. Let the children try to find their own cards, even the littlest ones will recognize their own names after they see them. When the cards are all properly located, let each child start to dig down along the ribbon in the gift at the other end. The gifts should be useful for playing in the sand. Little tin molds for shaping wet sand into wonderful pie-like things for the tea table, spades, scoops for sifting the sand, and pails of various sizes will all serve will be acceptable. When the children have tired of their digging, a short game of tag will provide relaxation and exercise enough so that they will be glad to sit down to their lunch is being served.

Simplicity should always be the key-note of the lunch for a children's party. For an out-door affair of four party like this one the food should be delicious in variety and sufficient in variety and quantity to serve the needs of the regular supper which the children would have at home. This, however, does not mean that the lunch cannot be interesting. It can be unusually place things as whole wheat sandwiches, can be lifted out of the ordinary by cutting into fancy shapes with cookie cutters or by the simple expedient of putting with butter or by the alphabet cracker on the top of each sandwich. Be sure to have some form in which fit the guests' names, for the children are only satisfied when labelled with M while Arthur will insist that he should be clearly marked A.

For variety, as well as for the sake of food value, several different fillings should be used in the sandwiches. Among the most satisfactory fillings for children's sandwiches are jelly or jam, chopped hard cooked eggs mixed with cold lettuce and cream cheese. Milk should by all means be included in the menu. Serve it picnic style in the bottle with a straw. This will not only do away with some of the dishes but is entertaining. Remember, the children will think it a lark to drink through a straw.

There is no more suitable or better liked dessert than ice cream. Serve it in individual cups accompanied by cookies or in a simple form. The gelatine can be molded in little waxed paper cups (these can be had are regularly used for picnics). They are easy to manipulate and can be eaten directly from the cup. The cups of course should be carried in a separate container (a tin answering nicely) or a tin-lined box and added just before serving.

Hard candies or the kinds usually suggested for the lunch are given below. The whole wheat bread is very good for children, but it should not of course be served to them too fresh. Make it a day or two before needed.

Whole Wheat Bread

2 cups whole wheat flour.
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¾ cup molasses
¾ cup milk
1 cup water

Sift flour, salt, baking powder and soda, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Add molasses, milk, water and mix well. Add Crisco and beat thoroughly. Pour into a greased pan and let stand 20 minutes. Bake in a slow oven (300°) 1 to 1½ hrs.

Delicious Sponge Cakes

¾ cup flour
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
4 eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon almond extract
Cream milk

Break eggs into bowl, add sugar and beat for ten minutes over-pan of boiling water. Remove from water and beat until mixture is thick and cold. Remove beater, sift in flour, salt and baking powder and cocoa carefully. Add flavoring, Crisco and almond extract. Bake in cup cake pans in a moderate oven (350° F.) Cover with boiled frosting and decorate with cherries or coconut.

Sunshine Drop Cookies

½ cup Crisco
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1½ cups pastry flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream Crisco, add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add unbeaten eggs to sugar and Crisco mixture and beat well. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together and add to first mixture. Add vanilla. Beat entire mixture vigorously. Drop by teaspoonful on a greased pan. Bake in 350° 10 minutes.

Sand Tarts

1 cup Crisco
1 cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
2½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Cream Crisco and sugar. Add egg yolks and flour sifted with salt. Roll out in a thin sheet. Brush the top with the whites of egg diluted with a little water. Cut into fancy shapes. Place an almond in the center of each and bake in a moderate oven 350° F. until delicately browned on top.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 6.

APPREHENSION.

Celia found the big living-room a swarthy, stocky man in clothes not too well-fitting. His linen was dingy and travel-stained.

Manuel!.....Her thoughts flashed to what Palconer had said of her adventurer who had attempted to seize the presidency of an obscure little Central American republic.

He said, with a trace of an accent: "I came to see Mr. Palconer."

"He is not in just now. I am, she hesitated, 'I am Mrs. Palconer."

A look of surprise came into his eyes.

"I did not know. I had not heard. My business with Mr. Palconer is urgent."

"I am expecting him home for lunch. If you could call around o'clock, say——"

"I prefer to call he told her courteously. "If that does not derange you Madam."

She made a gesture of acquiescence and left the room. As she went upstairs to her mother, her brain was a whirl of thoughts, fears. If this stranger were really Manuel, Palconer probably would leave to avoid the scandal. That would be best for her. But it also meant exposure, pro bably a scene, fresh scandal, and terrible humiliation for her sick mother.

Mrs. Drew was sitting up in bed with breakfast tray, when Celia entered the room.

"How serious you look, darling. His anything happened? You haven't quarrelled with Richard?" she asked apprehensively.

"Heavens, no. I haven't even seen him since breakfast, when I went to ride with Grew."

Her mother sighed with relief, but she added: 'Do you know, I think Richard is a little jealous of your friendship with Grew. You know with her so much. A married woman really has no business to have friends sometimes for her husband.'

"Nothing on earth would ever make me jealous of Grew," Celia broke in, addressing.

'Only a man to see Dick on—er—business. I didn't like his name."

"Dear Richard!" exclaimed he mother affectionately. 'To sacrifice himself and put his business interests at safety—or for a man in alphabet! selfish old woman. I really love him.

Celia's face grew white. Could she? She'll have to get well quickly, just so she can come to New York and see you two in your own home.'

Celia made some excuse to go to her own room, lest her face betray her apprehension.

If the man were not Manuel—and then? Palconer would stay on, and he would demand an answer to his proposal. If she refused him—exposure. She couldn't possibly marry him and yet what was she to do, when her mother got well over and was able to travel to New York?

'There seemed to be no way out of the muddle. Viewed from any angle she was between two evils. Manuel—and a terrible scandal involving Palconer. No Manuel—still a scandal involving herself.

For the first time, she began actually to see that Palconer's way—in way of marriage with him—was the most sensible course not fraught with danger. But she couldn't marry him; she couldn't, she vowed to herself. It was unthinkable! But what to do?

Suppose her mother did become well enough to travel? Celia felt sick, step toward ridding herself of Palconer, of the intolerable situation—that he was not her husband. 'Scandal would be nice, for mother might die of the shock. And all her own suffering, all her thought and pain and fear, would have been of no avail.

She was helpless, able only to await the vagaries of destiny.

She heard Palconer come in, heard him go into the living-room, heard a low conversation. After that, the door closed.

The luncheon gong sounded, and she descended. Neither Palconer nor his caller appeared. Behind the closed door of the living-room she could hear the low murmur of conversation.

Celia wished despairingly, that Palconer would bring more of a social air. If only she could bribe him to clear out and leave her to manufacture some sort of a story for her mother's benefit. But he seemed not to care for the money she could give him. He wanted the protection of her house. And now, alas, he wanted her as well! She told Anna: 'Go to the living-room and ask Mr. Palconer if he cares to have luncheon prepared later for himself and his caller.'

Anna went and returned to report: 'Mr. Palconer says he's very busy just now. He doesn't care for lunch. He'll take it dow-town later.'

Celia thought: 'Then it can't be Manuel who is with him. Surely there would have been some sort of disturbance before now.'

She heard the two men go out. They weren't talking, so she couldn't gauge the state of their relations. What would happen now?

In the afternoon, while she sat with her mother, Miss Page came in with milk for the invalid and brought Celia a telegram.

Darrah Started But Was Yanked In Third After Yielding Hits

Although giving the Motors team a great battle all the way in Oshawa yesterday, the Nationals could not quite make the grade and went down to defeat by the score of 4 to 3. Darrah started his first game this year and the youngster did fairly well, although he was greeted by the first man up, McCallum, with a hard drive which was good for a homer. Ukrainetz took up the burden after two and a third innings, and turned in a nice performance.

Hits were quite evenly divided on the Belleville side, Bob Scott being the only man to get two. Alec Scott, playing for the first time in several games, piled out a slashing double, besides making a nice running catch. Green started in left field, but the sun was terrible, and it apparently bothered him more than he thought, so Scott was put there in the sixth and Green went to right. Matthews pitched nice ball for Oshawa, allowing a total of eight hits, while his team-mates took thirteen from the two Belleville pitchers.

1st Innings

Belleville—Weir out, McCallum to Keller, Morrison to Keller. H. Mills went out, Matthews to Keller. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Oshawa—McCallum hit a homer to left. Fair struck out, Dainty went out, Weir to H. Mills, Matthews put a single. Young went out, Weir to H. Mills. 1 run, 2 hits, 0 errors.

2nd Innings

Belleville—W. Mills flew out to McCallum, Blakely walked and stole second, Bob Scott sacrificed him down to third, and Green tried to hit to Keller. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Oshawa—Morrison got on on Green's error, Williams struck out, Keller hit to first, for an out, but Morrison scored on the play. Quinn struck out. 1 run, 0 hits, 1 error.

3rd Innings

Belleville—Alec Scott hit a nice double, Darrah sacrificed him to third, Weir went out, McCallum to Keller, Ross walked, and Scott and Ross romped home when H. Mills hit a double. W. Mills struck out. 2 runs, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Oshawa—McCallum singled, Fair flew out to Perry, Dainty walked, and Ukrainetz went in to pitch for Belleville. Matthews singled, scoring McCallum, and Young hit a triple to deep left scoring Dainty and Matthews. Morrison singled, scoring Young, and Williams also singled, but Keller although getting credit for a sacrifice went out, R. Scott to H. Mills. Quinn went out the same way. 4 runs, 5 hits, 0 errors.

4th Innings

Belleville—Blakely went out, McCallum to Keller, Bob Scott singled and stole second and third, Green put out on McCallum's error, Bob Scott scoring on the play. A. Scott struck out, as did Ukrainetz. 1 run, 1 hit, 1 error.

Oshawa—McCallum and Fair struck out, Dainty flied out to Ross.

5th Innings

Belleville—Weir and Ross flied out to Williams in left field, while H. Mills went out, Morrison to Keller. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Oshawa—Matthews got on on H. Mills' error, but went out when forced him to second, on a fielder's choice, Morrison hit safely, but Young was out by fast when he tried to score, and Mac and Mills combing nicely to get him. Williams was walked, and Keller got a single, but Quinn ended it by going out, Ukrainetz to H. Mills. 0 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

6th Innings

Belleville—W. Mills went out, Matthews to first, while Blakely and R. Scott both hit to McCallum at second who tossed them out at first. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Oshawa—McCallum struck out, Fair flied out to Blakely, Dainty flied out to A. Scott. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

7th Innings

Belleville—Green walked, Bob Scott safe on a fielder's choice, Green out at second, Ukrainetz struck out. Weir hit a double and Ross was walked, but Williams saved the ball game for Oshawa when he speared H. Mills' drive with one hand. If he had missed it would have been good for a homer. 0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Oshawa—Matthews hit safely for a single, Young went out, R. Scott to Weir, Morrison fouled out to W. Mills, he making a lovely catch, and Williams flied out to W. Weir. 0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

8th Innings

Belleville—W. Mills opened it by getting his only hit of the day, a slashing single through the box while Blakely followed with a double, Scott singled, scoring W. Mills and Blakely, and stole second. Green hit safely, scoring R. Scott while A. Scott struck out. Ukrainetz flied out to Fair, Green advancing a base. Weir was then Morrison erred, Green scoring. Ross went out, McCallum to Keller. 4 runs, 4 hits, 1 error.

Oshawa—Keller went out, Blakely to H. Mills, Quinn hit a triple, and scored when McCallum singled. Fair went out Ukrainetz to H. Mills, but Dainty followed with a double, McCallum, Matthews flied out to Ross. 2 runs, 3 hits, 0 errors.

9th Innings

Belleville—H. Mills went out, McCallum to Keller, W. Mills struck out and Blakely flied out to Dainty to end the game.

PEMBROKE LAD BADLY INJURED

Pembroke, Ont., June 7.—Albert Yandt, aged 12 years, son of Henry Yandt, is in a critical condition in the Pembroke Hospital as a result of an automobile crash yesterday between a car driven by his father and one driven by Edward Prauge. Albert was thrown through the wind shield. The father had his arm broken.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Walrus

MENDELL BURDITT swam fourteen miles in the Second Wrigley Marathon at the Canadian National Exhibition last year before he was taken out with cramps. He was then right up with the leaders, and at times looked like a certain winner. He had neither manager, trainer, nor coach. Ambition prompted him to enter the swim, and sheer determination proved him to be the dark horse. His unrivaled performance altered the pulses of over two hundred thousand spectators.

This year he is a vastly improved swimmer. His stroke is fantastically better. He has plot on the necessary weight, and he is strong as a lion. He has been training daily in Lake Ontario since the middle of May, and seems to be utterly impervious to cold. A two-mile splash is merely a breather to him.

Watch this boy—he has the earmarks of a winner—build, stamina, stroke and above all, brains.

He learned his swimming in Winnipeg, under Coach Wilson, of the Tuxkar's Club.

Burditt will carry the crest of the Canadian National Railways on his husky chest in the Big Swim this year. Fellow employees in tens of thousands will root for him.

THE FISH ARE BITING

Up Among the Thirty Thousand Islands of Georgian Bay

If you love the out-of-doors—enjoy the thrill of the reel, the rocky pine-studded islands of Georgian Bay will fulfil your deepest desires for the perfect holiday.

This island dotted summering place is one of the finest fishing grounds in Canada. Here black bass, great fighting maskinonge and lake trout are ready to test the wits and skill of any eager fisherman.

The islands and their connecting channels are veritable paradise to the camper, canoeist and angler. Yet it is only five hours by train from Toronto. Cottages, boarding houses and

REX BEACH HAS TRY AT SALMON

Famous Author One of Party Who Will Fish In Maritimes

Montreal, Que., June 27.—Though he has landed Ouananiche trout and various other kinds of fighting fish, Rex Beach, noted author and sportsman has never tackled the lordly salmon of New Brunswick streams, so this morning on his arrival at Bonaventure station, enroute to Kedgwick, N. B., Mr. Beach was more than thrilled with the possibilities of hooking into a big one in pools of famous Restigouche.

The author was one of a party of four New York fishermen who reached Montreal this morning over Canadian National Railways, enroute to New Brunswick where they will fish for four days, in public water of the famous Restigouche. The other members of the party were Fred Fletcher, Rod and Gun editor, of New York Herald Tribune; Gene Byrnes, artist and creator of the "Regular Fellows" cartoon strip and C. F. Abbas, a big game fisherman who has held sailfish and tuna fishing records in various waters. The party are spending the day in Montreal and will leave tonight on the Ocean Limited of Canadian National for, Kedgwick, from where they will be outfitted to go into the Restigouche country under the auspices of the Tourist Department of the Nova Scotia Government. Two motion picture men will accompany the party, for the purpose of making a one-reel film of casting adventures in the famed stream. Also bound for the Restigouche for salmon fishing, J. R. Gordon and party of New York arrived in private car the "Hussar" over the Canadian National lines this morning and continued their journey to Kedgwick on the Maritime express.

Herndon, La.—Survivors of a family of eight, three young skunks are being mothered by a cat on the farm of Roy Gardner near here. They were brought to her after their home had been wrecked by a plowshare and the four brothers and sisters killed.

RAIN CAUSES FLOOD STOPPING ALL WORK

Chelsea, Que., June 26.—Excessive falls throughout this area have swollen the rivers and lakes to an alarming extent. At Quyon, the junction of the Wilderness River and the Ottawa, the water has reached 16 feet above normal high water, flooding the lumber mill and throwing more than 500 men temporarily out of work.

CLOWNS FEATURE SPARKS CIRCUS

Comicalities In Big Show Are Planned Real Seriously

In clowns are combined the heart and humor of a circus, and it is not surprising that they have played an important part in the advancement of this favorite amusement. For ages clowns have maintained the integrity of their art and make-up and their fun has been clean and wholesome.

"Stunts that clowns do constantly must be planned seriously, and it takes a keen and inventive mind to create comedy for a circus," says Charles Sparks, proprietor of the Sparks Show.

"This modern clown must be a producer, an originator and quick to take advantage of events occupying public attention suitable to burlesque in pantomime. His conceptions must be novel and his costumes and mechanical aids spectacularly grotesque to excite effective and spontaneous mirth."

Paul Wenzel, internationally famous producing clown heads the army of funny men coming to Belleville next Friday with the big Sparks Circus. Charlie Portuna, noted French pantom imist, Big Don Homme, European funster and scores of others comprise this season's clown contingent. All will be seen in the mammoth parade at 11 a.m. and in the afternoon and evening performances.

For the convenience of the public, seats may be secured at Doyle's Drug Store on Circus day at the same prices charged at the show ground.

POPULATION OF QUEBEC CITY

Quebec, June 27—Vital statistics issued today revealed that Quebec City has a population of 132,000 inhabitants, and "greater" Quebec, 154-000 people. Greater Quebec includes Levis and Lauzon, across the St. Lawrence River, with a population of 16,000.

CARELESS WOMAN SMOKERS

Atlantic City, June 27.—Smoking by women is costly. H. V. Hafey, who conducts an inspecting bureau told an insurance convention here that in 1927 insurance companies had to pay $17,000,000 because of the careless throwing away of cigarettes by women.

REGENT THEATRE

"Shame," Pox Films Drama of one of the most powerful of human emotions, with John Gilbert in the stellar role at the Regent Theatre, must be ranked with the best in screen offerings of many years. This picture is a reliance which the producers have been induced to bring out by popular demand. It is a fascinating and enthralling tale, and scenically the picture is beautiful. It is one of those impressive photodramas that stand out from the general run and helped to establish new standards of excellence in the foremost field of entertainment

BELLE THEATRE

A thrilling horse race in which Rin-Tin-Tin, famous canine actor, follows close behind Black Raider, barking encouragement to the steed, who wins by half a length, is one of the many exciting incidents of "A Race for Life," a Warner Bros. picture to morrow at the Belle Theatre.

Rinty as the pal of Danny O'Shea, who rides Black Raider to victory after Bruce Morgan, owner of a rival horse, had been frustrated in a daring attempt to cripple him, has one of the best parts of his screen career.

A splendid cast, including Virginia Brown Faire, Carrol Nye, Bobby Gordon, Pat Hartigan and James Mason are featured in "A Race for Life," which was directed by Ray Lederman from a story by Charles J. Condon.

CLOWNS FEATURE SPARKS CIRCUS

Comicalities In Big Show Are Planned Real Seriously

In clowns are combined the heart and humor of a circus, and it is not surprising that they have played an important part in the advancement of this favorite amusement. For ages clowns have manifested the integrity of their art and make-up and their fun has been clean and wholesome.

"Stunts that clowns do comically must be planned seriously and it takes a keen and inventive mind to create nonsolemn for a circus", says Charles Sparks, proprietor of the Sparks Circus.

"The modern clown must be a producer, an originator and quite a character actor, each occupying public attention suitable to burlesque in pantomime. His conceptions must be novel and his costumes and mechanical aids unpronounced grotesque to excite effective and spontaneous mirth."

Paul Wenzel, internationally famous producing clown heads the army of funny men coming to Belleville next Friday with the big Sparks Circus. Charlie Portina, noted French pantomimist, Big Bon Homme, European funster and scores of others comprise this season's clown contingent. All will be seen in the mammoth parade at 11 a.m. and in the afternoon and evening performances.

Here's the new sport which has taken the continent by storm. "Sea-Plane". They're just like little boats with outboard motors. They reach a speed of about 35 miles an hour and for thrills fans declare there's nothing like it.

They are said to be extremely tricky to handle and spills are the order of the day in a race. One of the craft is shown here jockeying for position in a race on Lake Ontario.

REGENT THEATRE

"Shame," Fox Films Drama of one of the most powerful of human emotions, with John Gilbert in the stellar role at the Regent Theatre, must be ranked with the best in screen offerings of many years. This picture is a release which the producers have been induced to bring out by popular demand. It is a fascinating and enthralling tale, and scrupulously the picture is beautiful. It is one of those impressive photodramas that stand out from the general run and helped to establish new standards of excellence in the foremost field of entertainment.

BELLE THEATRE

A thrilling horse race in which Rin-Tin-In, famous canine actor, follows close behind the winning jockey, barking encouragements to the sleed, who wins by half a length, is one of the many exciting incidents of "A Race for Life," a Warner Bros. picture tomorrow at the Belle Theatre.

Rinty as the pal of Danny O'Shea, who rides Black Raider to victory after Vice Bruce Morgan, owner of a rival horse, had been frustrated in a daring attempt to cripple him, are one of the best parts of the screen career.

A splendid cast, including Virginia Brown Faire, Carroll Nye, Bobby Gordon, Pat Hartigan and James Mason are featured in "A Race for Life," which was directed by Ross Lederman from a story by Charles R. Condon.

TILLIE THE TOILER—

A SHORT CUT

RUSS WESTOVER

DETECTIVES ARE ALWAYS CAREFUL

Dept. of Agriculture Sleuths Save Canada's Large Sums Yearly

The city editor's office of a large daily paper is unique one of the busiest places in town. The editor, of course, is not supposed to do anything but edit. Occasionally he finds time to smile; that happens not necessarily because anything funny or unusual has happened, but just as a form of relaxation of the facial muscles which have a tendency to become more or less set.

We happened along one morning when the editor was smiling. He had before him an item written by a new man, to whom he had assigned the "dock news." The following is a sample of some of the writing:

'A funny incident happened on the docks this morning when the 'Lucy Lacy' docked. Officer Murphy of the customs looking over the manifests saw that the cargo consisted chiefly of 'spinds'. Knowing that all potatoes must be inspected by an officer of the Department of Agriculture, he ordered the unloading held up until the Inspector arrived. Upon arrival the Inspector went on board, but he could find nothing but a lot of metal pins used in dredging operations. We left just as the inspectors of the two departments had turned up the word 'spinds' in Webster's dictionary.'

'This afternoon the 'Daisy Dove' arrived with a fair number of passengers, and her manifests showed heavy consignments of hay, bricks, etc., which the Government Destructive Insect and Pest Dilution Injector passed upon. He finished this part of the work, and then taking up his manifest started in hand high and low for a shipment of trees.' They could not be found, and he began to get warm under the collar, because all trees are carefully examined. At least he stopped at a pile of whipple trees,' and as he looked at them, made some very complimentary remarks regarding the people who will persist in saying dead (?), by using abbreviations.'

The editor complimented the new man on his nose for news, and asked me what I thought of it.

'Pretty good.'

'But that inspector must have wasted a lot of time looking for potatoes and trees', growled the editor, and he added 'the people's money.'

'Not for Canada.

'Yes, you may take that view, and the same may apply very often in the examination of immigrants' baggage. But have you stopped to think what it would have cost Canada, if the 'spuds' had 'really been potatoes infested with wart disease, or if the trees had really been trees in the true sense carrying some form of pest, and they had been allowed to get in the country through carelessness.

'Well, there is that view of the matter. Do you happen to know how the car-wigs got into British Columbia?'

'They are supposed to have been carried in boiler and personal baggage, and the authorities have been fighting the pest for two years. The car-wig is an obnoxious pest.'

The editor decided that the inspection service under the Destructive Insects and Pest Act was a necessary thing, and his visitor clinched the matter with a few figures.

'Recent estimates place Canada's losses from destructive insects at $125,000,000 a year. In the United States it is estimated that each year the expended labor of approximately one man in ten men is best through the efforts of insects to feed and propagate. Many of our worst pests are not native to the country, but are invaders from foreign countries. Some examples are the Hessian Fly, the Gypsy and Brown-tail moths, the European Corn Borer, the Codling Moth, and the Larch Sawfly. These are just a few and the vigilance of government inspectors must be saving Canada may millions of dollars annually.'

'Why,' exclaimed the editor, 'the Department of Agriculture has apparently a great detective force in operation all the time.'

'Yes, it has, and one which is probably among the best in the world. Canada has taken a leading part in the development of applied entomology, since the appointing of the first official entomologist in 1884. It was the appearance of the dreaded brown-tail moth on shipments of nursery stock imported from France in 1903 which caused the passing of the first control legislation in 1910.'

One of the world's outstanding portraits of a girl is that of Titus Van Rijn, Rembrandt's 'A Lady With a Handkerchief in Her Left Hand,' which comes to Canada through its purchase from the Hudson Collection at Christie's in London for 20,000 guineas by a large department store concern (The T. Eaton Co. Ltd.) The as the greatest artistic individuality of painting is now being shown to the public in Toronto, and later will be exhibited in Montreal, Winnipeg and the other cities. Although Rembrandt's pictures may be seen in the great art galleries of Europe, at the Hague, where his best known work was conAmsterdam, the Louvre and various others, only two other examples of this master's work are, to present knowledge, at present in Canada in private collections. The public exhibition of a portrait of this calibre is an event of first importance. 'A Lady with a Handkerchief in Her Left Hand' is a typical example of the finest points of Remembrandt's technique. Critics generally agree in rating him the 17th century. Remembrandt was born in Leyden about 1606. He was the son of a miller, Harmen Gerritze, who assumed the affix Van Ryn. In 1631 Rembrandt located in Amsterdam cerned and where he was to remain until his death in 1669. The portrait was painted about 1645 in his great middle period.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Busy Week In League

In order that the many groups of the Ki-Y League may be able to declare winners by the first of the month, all postponed fixtures, as well as regular scheduled games are being played this week. Monday night two games were played in the Juvenile group in which the Wolves won from the Sikhs 18-5, and the Ravens won from the West Hill Pounders 11-10. These fixtures were games originally scheduled for June 24th. Ravens by their win from the West Hill Pounders, also clinched the first half of the schedule and will be entitled to play off with the winners of the second half.

Tuesday night's games resulted in a win for the Maple Leafs and Wolves. The Leafs staged an Old Time batting bee and fairly swamped the Sikhs to the tune of 17-0. West Hill Pounders gave the Wolves strong argument but the Wolves were the best team on the night's play winning by the score of 13-10. In the Bantam play-off series for the championship, Golden Eagles took the first game by the score 11-10.

Royals and Flying Canadians were to have played off the final game as the grounds of the latter last night but owing to a misunderstanding this game did not take place. It will be played tonight instead.

Games for the balance of the week are as follows: Wednesday 27th—Royals at Flying Canadians. Thursday 28th—Wolves at Sikhs; Ravens vs. West Hill Pounders.

By virtue of their win over the Sikhs last night, the Maple Leafs are winners of the second half of the Juvenile series. The finals will be played off next week the first game at the Leafs' field, the cricket grounds and the second at the Ravens', Coleman Flats. Should a third game be necessary it will be played on neutral grounds.

Across The Bay Swim

Although a number of candidates for the Across the Bay Swim have handed in their entries there are quite a number still to come in and those who have entry forms out are requested to turn them in to the Y.M.C.A. as quickly as possible. As usual, quite a number of small boats will be needed to accompany the swimmers in case of emergency, and the committee in charge would greatly appreciate it if owners of small boats would volunteer to help out in this capacity. Just phone 413 and state that you will be willing to help out on the morning of the 2nd.

Delora Road Races

All runners are contemplating entering the Delora Road races, either the senior or junior events, should get their entries in right away as entries close June 30th. Physical Director Ralph Jordan will be forwarding a number of entries before the end of the week and will be glad to receive and look after any entries handed in before the week-end. Senior entries must be under 21 years January 1st and Junior under 18 years the same date. The distances are seven and two and a half miles respectively.

ANTIQUARIANS FIND SHIPS AND OLD OAR

Stockholm, Sweden.—Two pre-Viking ships 1,500 years old and one out 5,000 years old have also been found in Sweden by delighted antiquarians, and these finds are shedding new light on ancient Swedish seafaring and ironage ship.

The oar, made for paddling, was found deep in a moor in Dalecarlia, the heart of Sweden and was sent to the Historical Museum, where an expert fired its age at 5,000 years by means of examining a piece of the soil where the object was found and where pollen abounds. They found no pine pollens in the soil examined, and knowing that the pine entered Dalecarlia some time after 2000 B.C., they accordingly dated the oar as belonging to an earlier period. This "pollen study" discovered by the late Swede's botanist Lagerheim and perfected by another Swedish scientist, Von ost, is looked upon as quite a revolutionizing method of investigation of finds from early geological periods.

The ancient ships were found on the western shore of Sweden in the province of Halland by two workmen while digging a ditch. The boats are made from good oak timber, are 13 to 14 metres in length, 4 metres wide and built on 15 rows of planks fastened by wooden pegs. In one of them was found a beautifully carved piece of

PLANET DEVICE FOR WINDY CITY

Apparatus To View Heavens Installed On Chicago Lake Front

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—A gift of $500,000 from Max Adler, former Sears, Roebuck & Company executive, for the construction of a planetarium on an island off Chicago's lake front near the Field Museum has been acknowledged by Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park Commissioners.

"The planetarium is a device designed to give the average person an opportunity to view the heavens as only astronomers heretofore have been able to do. It is no arranged that the instructor or operator can bring into the planetarium "sky" a view of the heavens as they appear at any given time, such as when the Egyptians viewed them or as they will appear hundreds of years hence.

By working the apparatus the workers of the sky throughout a year can be reproduced in the space of a few minutes time.

Farnsworth, who has been their teacher, with a beautiful sewing cabinet and side table to match, finished in walnut. The following program was rendered which Mrs. Farnsworth made fitting reply and dainty refreshments were served.

Duet Mrs. Farnsworth.

During the many pleasant Sundays we have spent together, we have seen once more to show our appreciation and love. The wonderful lessons made more effective by your untiring efforts in our behalf.

Besides thanking you for your kind endeavors we ask you to accept our gift as an evidence of our lasting esteem and friendship.

By this poem convey our individual feelings:

I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me,
I'd like to be the help that you've been always glad to be
Hoping to be one to lift my thigts and the splendid things for you.

To brush the gray from out your skies, and leave them rosy blue.

I'm wishing at this time, that I could but repay

A portion of the gladness, that you're even along my way;

And could I have my wish, this year, this only it would be

I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me.

Signed by the Class.

WIRE TAPPING IS NOT PRACTISED

Considered As Unethical In Tracing Down Criminals

Washington, D.C., June 24.—Telephonic conversations are in little danger of interception, despite the ruling of the Supreme Court that wiretapping is legal. None of the federal agencies uses the wire-tapping as a prime means of detecting crime and it will be used only in rare and extreme cases.

Attorney-General Sargent has by circular informed all of the Departments of Justice not to resort to this means for convicting down criminals and Commissioner Doran has discouraged its use by prohibition agents.

On rare occasions, the secret service has tapped wires to obtain information but every time of this has been done since the war.

SECRETS OF GLANDS A FASCINATING STUDY

Few realize the importance of glands. Until rather recently they were quite neglected even by the medical profession, but now they are receiving a tremendous amount of experimental attention.

These glands I refer to are the so-called "ductless glands" or "glands of internal secretion."

The most important of the glands are the thyroid, situated in the neck behind, and rather below, the "Adam's Apple," the pituitary and pineal, in the brain, and the adrenals or suprarenals one of which rests on top of each kidney.

And in children we have a curious one called the thymus, which at birth reaches from the roof of the lungs to the base of the neck, but which gradually gets smaller and smaller as the child grows until at the age of puberty, it almost entirely disappears.

Each of these ductless glands manufactures one or more powerful chemical substances which are circulated in the blood stream and are absolutely essential to the growth, strength and health of the body and mind.

If one gland over-secretes or under-secretes it seems to throw the remaining glands out of balance—that is, they too may over-secrete or under-secrete in order to compensate for the failure of the first one.

It's like a system of wheels within wheels.

The result of unbalance, of course, is some body or mind disturbance that reveals itself in symptoms.

The diagnosis of gland unbalance and of gland treatment is still in the experimental stage but some of the facts already known are interesting.

Under-secretion of the thyroid produces in children a stunted stature, dry skin, large head, enfeebled mentality, etc.

In adults there is also a dry skin together with mental and muscular lassitude.

Over-secretion of the thyroid produces nervousness, a moist skin and motor unrest. In severe cases it may affect the eye balls, making them large and bulging.

Many obscure and puzzling ailments have been traced to an unbalance of the endocrine glands.

Marvelous results have also been obtained through the judicious and scientific administration of gland extracts taken, as a rule, from sheep.

Low blood pressure often indicates some trouble with the thyroid gland.

A high blood pressure may also be caused by one or more of the glands being out of balance with the others.

Nowadays, especially in treating nervous ailments, physicians are looking more and more attention to the glands. An occasional indisposition may also have the same cause.

The glands are worth watching.

Maybe, some day, we will know so much about glands that individuals may be made geniuses merely through taking a few tablets. Who knows?

Perhaps the day will come when criminals, insanity and all forms of mental and nerve maladjustments can be quickly remedied through the administration of the right gland to put the system in balance again.

Certainly stranger marvels in science have already occurred!

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of sixteen and considered very beautiful and have dated all clubs but cannot seem to attract any young men's attention. I am very lonesome.

When I go out with them (which is very seldom) they never ask to take me again.)

Please tell me what I can do to be popular with the opposite sex?

GLOOMY GUS.

GLOOMY GUS: It sometimes happens that a very pretty girl is so self-centered and so vain and so selfish that instead of attracting friendship she repels it. And I wonder if that isn't what has happened to you, my dear? Remember that the popular girl is never the one who is forever talking of "I" and "Mine" and the parties at which she has queened it and how beautiful people tell her she is, and that most girls are interesting naturally and spontaneously occasionally and don't make "every person a platform." Be more ready to let others talk instead of wanting to hold the spotlight every second.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

If the brown or powered sugar has been bought in a bag, transfer it to an tightly covered jar when you arrive home and thus prevent it forming into hard lumps.

THE OLD, RELIABLE

Use Gillett's Lye to MAKE YOUR OWN SOAP and for cleaning and DISINFECTING

"Gillett's Lye Protects Your Health and Saves Your Money."

Use Jonesville's thin pasta the first hand's lunch makes her pies in the form of little tarts, using her ramekins or molds like pastry. Then the next day one or two of these delicious dishes can be packed in his lunch.

The joy of so many of the better grades of coffee nowadays is the tin container in which it comes. Then even if we are careless and do not remove the coffee to our glass jar, it will stay as fresh as when bought in its tin box.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Shaded chiffons are smart for the evening and in soft neutral or pastel colors they are delightfully ethereal and diaphanous, says Paris, where one Duchess wears an exquisite Vionnet gown with the ombrage in palest pink, lightly dusted with the faintest embroidery, and the skirt shaded from pale grey-blue to harebell color at the hem.

It is undoubtedly in Worth that the cape owes its unassailable position, in the new scheme of things modish, for this house has invested its capes and cloaks with unusual interest without destroying that simplicity of line which is essential to the grace of such garments, and in many cases the new models rely on a clever combination of two or more materials for their distinction; in others machine stitching and self-strapping are used with excellent effect.

CHAPTER 28.
ANNESLEY!

The telegram was from Annesley. It read:

"Have returned from Alaska and am on my way east. Am stopping off to see you this afternoon. Shall call you from the station to ask where and when it is convenient for you to see me.'

'Shall call from the station!' The words jumbled themselves before Celia's eyes. Too late to reach him and warn him not to come. He was already on a train.

Celia became aware that her mother was regarding her with a mild question in her eyes. Because Aunty, too that Miss Page was lingering in the sick room, pretending to fuss over something or other.

'Who is your wire from, Celia dear?' her mother asked, while Cyd stopped futilely for an explanation.

'A—a friend—an acquaintance made in New York. He—he is passing through town this afternoon and wants to stop off to see me for a few minutes.'

'Does she know Richard?..... You must get him to take you to the station. He'll be so pleased to see some one from New York.'

Miss Page, usually so silent and deft, abruptly dropped something with a clatter that made Celia, in her nervous state, jump. She knew that Miss Page knew she was lying.

'Dick will be busy this afternoon,' she found herself telling her mother calmly. 'That man, you know, who called this morning. They—they've gone off to transact some business.'

'What a pity!' sighed the invalid. 'Anyway, can't you bring your friend to the house for tea? I'd like to meet her; to thank any one who befriended my girl in those days when she first went to New York.'

Celia said, feeling herself in a trap; 'I doubt if there'll be time, darling. She's here only between trains.'

She got to her room somehow and thrust the telegram into the cupboard. It was well-filled now with Annesley's letters. She must burn them, she reminded herself.

She tried to think calmly about what to tell Annesley. The temptation to tell him everything, to lay her burden on his shoulders, was almost more than she could resist. But she remembered Gwen's warning. The gist of it had been 'If you tell him, he will rush short work of Falconer. And then the fat will be in the fire for keeps.'

She knew that that was the truth. Annesley would settle with Falconer in a moment. But what would be gained, except that the man would be definitely removed from under her roof? And that, though she prayed for it, desired it with all her soul, was the one thing she didn't dare allow. In the eyes of her mother and the world, she had a husband. She must keep him. But what to tell Annesley? And where to meet him, that the town wouldn't see and gossip? With talk already spreading about her difficulties with Falconer, it behooved her to be increasingly careful.

In the end, she hit on a plan of action that she believed to be the least dangerous..... There was a little park at the end of the town, surrounded only by factory workers in a nearby manufacturing plant. It was hardly likely that any one would be there during the day. Even if she and Annesley encountered an idler or two, they would be people unknown to her. She would go to the station in a taxi, meet Annesley, and take him to this park. There they would be safe from curious eyes. Then she would explain—what!

She was aghast to realize how it hurt her to ask him to go with her to the one spot. Remembering how she had confided to him the circumstances that had driven her from her home to New York, she wondered if he would think that again she had something to conceal.

'Oh, he mustn't believe that!' Her mind framed the words 'that!' she whispered to herself.

Something in her heart told her that he wouldn't believe that. Annesley could see far below the surface. He had understanding. Surely he wouldn't misjudge her!

She chose her prettiest frock. It was a soft gray crepe, designed for the springtime, as a foil for budding leaf and blossom. There was a crisp, new gardenia fashioned" of velvet, on the brim of her smart little gray hat. Another adorned the shoulder of her gown. Her lips matched the flowers. Her dark hair framed a face pale as a magnolia-blossom. She gathered up her silver mesh-bag, gray gloves, and a crimson sunshade.

'I'm off, darling,' she told her mother as she paused in the sick room.

Miss Page, who came to the door remarked sweetly:

'Will you allow me to say, Mrs. Falconer, that that costume is too pretty to waste on a mere woman friend?'

Celia felt the barb in that demure statement. She said coldly:

'Thank you. A compliment from another woman is indeed a compliment.'

Her mother called to her:

'Do try to persuade your friend to stay overnight, Celia.' There's the guest-room always ready, since Richard insists on occupying that musky old bachelor's.'

In the taxi, on the way to the station, she saw Tom Harrington striding along the street. She thought: 'If I only dared tell him that I am really free—Oh, Tom!'

The station at last. A train from the west, just pulling in.

Annesley!

RACING DRIVER BUYS CHRYSLER

Indianapolis Race Winner Selects "72" Town Sedan

One of Louis Meyer's first acts after winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race classic Memorial Day was to use part of his estimated $50,000, to the winner, to purchase his fifth Chrysler, a "72" Town Sedan. His last previous purchase, a Chrysler coupe, he drove 50,000 miles in 18 months, he said—20,000 of them devoted to towing a race car. He had depended on his Chrysler to get him and his racing mounts to the various A. A. A. races for the last two years, including trips from coast to coast.

It was a mutual interest in Chryslers that brought together Louis Meyer, the driver, and Alden Sampson, the owner of the car which won the 1928 edition of the world's greatest gasoline race. Meyer has been a Chrysler enthusiast for several year. It was only natural, while at Atlantic City as mechanician for Frank Elliott prior to the sled car races there a year ago, that he should show interest in a tall, well-built youth who had entered a Chrysler roadster in them. Alden Sampson was that youth.

Sampson and Meyer became fast friends through their Chrysler enthusiasms. When Meyer came to Indianapolis this year and heard a Miller special could be bought his thoughts immediately turned to Sampson. The car was bought a week before the race. What followed is now history. Meyer won in an average of 99.482 miles an hour—a new world 500-mile record for the tiny 91 cubic-inch displacement cars.

Meyer and Sampson might be mistaken for brothers. Meyer is about to take Mr. Sampson is a bit more than a year older. Meyer weighs 143 pounds and Sampson 146. In height there is practically no difference. Neither is there in their enthusiasm for racing, race cars and Chryslers.

In selecting his fifth Chrysler, Meyer said that its ease of handling, roomy, speed, surplus power and all-around mechanical excellence were the deciding factors.

BUFFALO SENT TO NEW RESERVE

Over 1000 Animals Will Be Shipped There By Fall

Wainwright, Alta, June 27.—A further movement of between 1,000 and 1,-1000 yearling and two-year-old buffalo will be made from the Buffalo national park here to Wood Buffalo park near Fort Smith, Northwest Territories, begining the first week in June. An officer of the North West Territories and Yukon branch of the Department of the Interior is at present here completing arrangements for the first train load of the 1928 shipment. The animals, which were segregated in corrals during the winter, will be placed in specially equipped cars at the siding at Wainwright. They will be shipped by Canadian National Railways to Waterways and then loaded on sleds for the water journey to a point eleven miles south of Fitzgerald, where they will be released into the park. Weekly shipments will be made until this year's quota has been transported which will be some time early in July.

This year's movement will bring the total shipped to Wood Buffalo park to over 6,600 and the number of buffalo in the park to an estimated grand total of over 9,000. Wardens report that the buffalo placed in the park since the first movement in 1925 are making satisfactory progress.

Fruits and nuts occasionally sink to the bottom of the cake. To prevent this, dust the fruit or nuts with flour using flour from the amount stated in recipe, about two tablespoons to one cup.

Candied fruits, such as candied cherries or citron, preserved pineapple or ginger, may be added by pouring part of batter in pan, and sprinkling part of fruit over it. Add remaining batter, and sprinkle fruit over top. The fruit will then be evenly distributed throughout the cake.

TOURIST TRAFFIC WILL INCREASE

Prominent Summer Resorts Report All Rooms Spoken For

Winnipeg, Man., June 27.—All indications point to one of the greatest tourist seasons in history according to Waller Prat, General Manager of the Hotel System of the Canadian Pacific Railways who arrived in Winnipeg from Montreal today. Reservations greatly in excess of previous season have been received by all the hotels of the system Mr. Prat said. And the summer resorts party are expected to enjoy a banner year. A number of improvements have been carried out at Minaki Lodge which opens for the season on Friday. These include the erection of bathing facilities for the children, moving of the boat house and a rearrangement of general bathing facilities. A new manager of long experience, A. H. Mould will be in charge this year at Minaki. Although more accommodation was added to Jasper Park Lodge during the year, the rooms for July and August indicate that all the facilities of the lodge will be required to care for the summer traffic. A feature of seasons progrm them is the Totem Pole Golf Tournament in September and already in the neighborhood of one hundred entries have been received. Eighty players took part last year. This area a number of events have been add for women and these have attracte a considerable number of entries. Tconstruction of the new wing of the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa is proceed. ing rapidly, Mr. Pratt said. The company is also considering the erectio of its combined hotel and terminal Halifax and the summer ground will be broken for the new hotel at Vancouver.

MECHANICAL MEN WILL BE CLERKS

To Be Installed In Short Time In Large Department Stores

New York, N.Y.—A new "Robot" that will say "Thank you", make change and perform other functions of a human sales clerk will be placed in chain stores and other selling agencies soon as a result of the formation of a $25,000,000 company, representing a consolidation of the principal automatic merchandising companies of the United States, backed by Wall Street interests.

Through a phonographic arrangement, controlled by waves cut by mechanical experts, an automaton will be manufactured which will sell a wide variety of articles for coins dropped into slot machines. Until the perfection of the "Robot" machines, the present devices for the sale of articles by slot machines will be used.

The new company plans eventually to establish the equivalent of automatic department stores. The automatic vending machines will be placed in existing retail locations, and it is also planned to rent additional space for the machines in office buildings, railroad, steamship and bus stations.

WESTERN FARMS EXPORT POULTRY

Farmers Are Not Growing Grain Exclusively At Present Time

Montreal, Que., June 27—The fact that the western farmer is rapidly developing as an exporter of poultry, dairy products and livestock is an indication of the trend of the western provinces to develop other branches of agriculture than that of purely grain-growing, stated Lorne MacDonald, freight traffic manager of the Canadian National at Montreal, who has just returned from an extensive business tour of western Canada. From the head of the lakes to the Pacific Coast there is a distinct feeling of optimism amongst farmers and business men alike. Mr. MacDonald stated, the heavier burdens being handled by C. N. R. over its western lines shows the growth of business in the West and there is every indication that this will prove a record year for the West in many ways. While many of the farmers are turning some of their efforts to other than straight grain growing there is no likelihood of anything but an appreciative increase in Canada exportable grain surplus said Mr. MacDonald.

Despite the con'ant development of the Pacific Coast outlet for prairie grains, preparations are being made for increased movements in the east through the head of the lakes as construction now under way will increase elevator space through 3,000,000 in time for the handling of this years crop.

WILL INVESTIGATE INFANT MORTALITY

London, June 27—(C.P.)—"My own mother died in childbirth, and I know how great is the injury in a family when the mother is taken away," said Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health, brother of Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign Minister, when he was the guest at a luncheon in Leeds Town Hall in furtherance of the work of the Leeds Maternity Hospital. Mr. Chamberlain's mother was Joseph Chamberlain's second wife, a daughter of Timothy Kenrick, of Birmingham. She died 53 years ago.

After referring to the "unhappy and regrettable fact" that the maternal mortality rate had remained almost stationary for twenty years, Mr. Chamberlain said that he was setting up a committee which was going to draw up a list of the points to which a new inquiry should be drawn. The ministry hoped to get an answer to the questions and the results of investigation would be sent back to the local authorities for their consideration. He had also appointed a strong committee to investigate the training of midwives to obtain the right class of women for maternity work, he said.

INTERNATIONAL'S PLAN ANNOUNCED

New Company To Be Important Factor In Public Utilities Field

NEW YORK, June 27.—A plan of reorganization of the International Paper Company approved by the directors which will make the concern one of the most important factors in the public utility field in Canada and New England, was mailed to the stockholders today.

The plan provides for an exchange of the company's stock for shares in a new corporation to be called the International Paper and Power Company, the new concern will acquire for cash from the New England Hydro Electric Company all the latters holdings of New England Power Association common stock, amounting to 46 per cent. The Paper company already holds 63 per cent.

Three Shares for One

The International Paper and Power Company will have three classes of common stock, known as class A, class B, and class C stock respectively. Each share of International Paper common stock is to be exchanged for one share of each of the above classes or three new shares for each share now held. The paper and power class A stock will receive annual dividends of $3.40 a share, equal to the return on the International Paper common stock and the class A stock will have a preference over the other two classes of stock for a limited period, after which all the new stock will be of a simple class.

One of the enjoyable features at the Baptist congress in Toronto, not on the program, is the etertainment afforded by the cowboy songs of a quartet from Texas. Reading LEFT to RIGHT, they are: 'Shorty,' the Rev. A. Novak, bass; 'Coon' the Rev. J. K. Simmons, baritone; 'Whitey' the Rev. Sid A. Baker, lead; 'Dad' the Rev. R. L. Vaughan, tenor. They are not really cowboys, of course, but they themselves point out, what they want to do is show something by their singing of the old-time Texas of cowboy days.

JEFF HARDILL SUBDUES LOCALS IN SMART BASEBALL EXHIBITION

Nationals Now Lead League By Margin of Half a Game

HITS BUNCHED

Peterboro Clouted Ball In Early Innings To Win 4-1

By S. E. C.

Jeff Hardill, Peterboro's smart young pitcher was too much in evidence for the Belleville Nationals yesterday and sets them all back another ball game and are now holding a scant lead of one-half a game over Kingston in the Central League race. Two days ago the locals were sitting atop the derby, two games to the fore but two reverses in succession have changed the complexion of things considerably. Kingston defeated Deloro, 12-7, yesterday and are tenaciously clinging to the Nationals like the proverbial leech. There was a possibility that St. George's Tornado would play here on the holiday but owing to the many counter-attractions it was called off and the only game scheduled for the week-end will take place on Monday morning at James Stevenson Park, Peterboro.

While Peterboro and Kingston having won yesterday's tilts it is a wild scramble in the Central League and one of the closest races in years has blossomed with the Nationals still the favorites to cop the bunting. The losses sustained in the last two days have helped matters none and the Belleville team can ill-afford to drop further games. Heckman will likely be in the box on Monday against the Railroaders and if they lose this game they will be forced to relinquish the lead.

Fred Craig the new manager of the Peats has moulded a smart aggregation out of a galaxy of veteran material. They certainly played like champions yesterday and will be a menace to any team in the league if they continue to play the same brand of ball in future. "Hap" Harrison, who has held down first base for years has been sent to second while Fred Ashe, an outfielder by trade has donned the first-baseman's mitt. Joe Bailen another old-timer has come out of retirement and Jack Hall, a graduate of junior ranks fills a big gap in the outfield. They made few mistakes yesterday and although still in the cellar they will lead a merry pace in the future.

Locals Outhit Petes.

Belleville outhit the visitors but the hits were not forthcoming when they were needed and the best the Nationals could do was to score one run while the Petes tallied four, all coming in the early innings. Hardill was skipper of the good ship Peterboro and although he encountered one or two squalls he weathered the storm and docked at port with all colors flying. He is a smart deceiver, has oodles of speed a nice hook ball and an assortment that baffles even the best of them. It was a nice game to watch and the spectators while they held hoped to see Belleville win were more than pleased with the game itself. The umpiring was not so good. Ritchie, a boy who has had very little experience in senior ball attempted to call them behind the plate, but he was erroneous at times and it would appear that an hour or two with the rule book would be a wise course to take, in his case. Calling on the bases made two bad decisions, one against each team, but outside of that he was good.

Walter Getrow started Gibson, who has been the ace of the club all summer, but the boy was pounded hard and often yesterday especially in the first four frames but after he had settled away the Petes were not leaning so hastily on the pellet. Wm. Little-ers scored in the first, second and third innings but it was a succession of goose-eggs after that. Belleville had several made-to-order chances to tie it up, one of these in third inning when Bob Scott struck out with the bases full. Again in the eighth Alex Weir fanned the air on three bat ones with first and second bases populated. A smart double-play in the eighth by the Petes nipped a rally by the Nationals in the 2nd, and in the ninth they went out in order. The Nationals are offering no alibis, they lost to a team yesterday that played better ball all round but there's another day coming and they hope to get the lost ground back on Monday. The Petes are a well-slugged yesterday 10-5 and yet the Nationals lost 6-4 and that tells the whole story in a nut-shell. Time after time the side was retired with the cushions occupied and this is what hurts in a ball game.

A Timely Triple.

Hap Harrison supplied the one hit that meant a million to the Petes when he picked a pellet home from first repeated it to deep left for three bases scoring two men in ahead of him. It was one of the longest hits made in the Belleville Park this year. "Hap" Wilgar also got a three-bagger in the ninth but there was no one on base at the time and he died on third.

While Peterboro players lead in the matter of extra base hitting it remained for the home team to supply the fielding feature. Harry Blakely was the boy yesterday who was in the limelight. Holyman drove a hot one on a direct line over Blakely's head, which was labelled for two bases, but the short-stop dug his cleats in the turf, leaped in the air and the ball remained in his upturned glove. It was easily the best play of the day.

"Stumpy" Green also made a nice catch when he went to the right field foul line to take Hardill's long hard hit in the previous inning. The Peterboro club played almost errorless ball and the infield was working with the precision of a well-oiled clock all afternoon.

The Harrison-Ashe combination over on the right side of the diamond were responsible for part of the day's fielding earned their spurs yesterday. Ashe is right at home at the initial sack and he is one of the finest boys to work around first base that we have lamped this year. He picks them out of the dirt and spears the high throws like a modern Hal Chase. Harrison, while he is new, manages to knock everything down around second and his ponderous bulk was in the path of a number of hot ones.

Penny and Harry Mills and Vern Weir led in the number of safeties for the Belleville team with Ashe and Hall the best of the visitors. Each of them got two hits.

Peter Early Lead.

Gibson walked Turner, first man to face him, Hall was safe on a single and while Weir and Harry Mills were running the latter down between first and second Turner stole home. This put the Petes ups in the lead. Belleville threatened in the second with Weir and Harry Mills hitting in quick succession but Blakely went out to Harrison to kill any opportunity.

In the second Hall cracked out a pretty single to centre field, Batten followed with a single to right and the same identical play occurred with Batten being tagged out at second with Hardill crossing the plate. Belleville did nothing in their half of the second. In the third Hall got a life when Blakely erred. Ashe singled and then Hap Harrison smote out long triple which nearly reached the race track. Gibson forced the next three men to go out. At this stage the youngster appeared to be unsteady with the Petes hitting at a fast clip. Urquhart was sent to warm up and it was feared that Gibson would be driven to the showers. In the third, Gibson struck out, Ross grounded out to Hardill but Weir walked the pitcher out for a walk and Harry Mills got a rousing single. Penny followed him with another and Blakely not wishing to be out of the picture got a hit which scored Weir. The bases were full, the crowd was in an uproar and Peterboro appeared to be wavering on the brink. However, Bob Scott made a great effort and the three hooks and, the side was retired. After that it was a real pitcher's battle with the Petes going out in order in every innings except the eighth and ninth.

In the sixth Penny went out to Artic Blakely struck out and Scott got a single. Green drove another single and the hopes of the Belleville fans were boosted but Alex Weir, who had replaced Hagerman fanned. Ritchie, the umpire pulled a play that is still puzzling the fans. In the seventh Turner hit what appeared to be a fair ball and he was thrown out at first by Gibson, but the umps called it a foul ball, claiming the ball struck his leg. The two arbiters held a conference and after the crowd had protested strongly the batter was called back. It was unquestionably a fair ball and it was a mistake on the part of the umpire.

BEAVERS DEFEAT TRENTON TEAM

Will Make Extended Trip To Western Ontario Over Holiday

Belleville Beavers added another victory to their string of triumphs when they went over Bill Ibey's Trenton Cardinals here last night before a ragged-edge crowd at the Armouries, by a score of 18-4. The Beavers were trailing for several innings, with most of the second-string players being given a chance to "loosen" when the regulars went in, it was a different story and the Capitals were roundly humbled. It was a good practice for the Beavers since they will play the Toronto Pennants and the Crait team over the holiday.

Tonight they will give an exhibition in Point Anne.

Miss Madeline Kelcher started on the hillock for the first time and she showed that with a little practice she will be able to lend a hand in the pitched box, several other second-string players were used including Misses Campbell, Cobb and Doolittle.

Molly Gray pitched after the fifth inning and the visitors found her puzzling. Misses Ibey and Lockridge alternated in the pitching box for the Trenton team and both were only fair. The Beavers tallied seven in the eighth to clinch the verdict. Twila Warman featured with a running catch which was converted into a double-play. Kennedy of Trenton and John Kerr of Belleville umpired.

Line-ups:

Trenton—A. Ryde, 3b; C. Hulton, c; O. Bailey, ss; L. Lewis, 2b; Ibey, p; Shirley, cf; Lee, lf; Lockridge, p; Probon, lb.

Belleville—Whalen, c; Warham, cf; O'Neil, 3b; Gray, p; Knoll, rf; Melchoir, 2b; Mooney, lf; Cutak, lb; Kelcher, lf; Campbell, lb; Cole, cf; Doolittle, ss; Kelleher, p.

Score by innings:

Trenton ..... 1 0 2 1 0 1 0 1 0—5
Beavers ..... 1 0 2 0 6 3 2 3 7 x—18

KINGSTON WON OVER SMELTERS

Visitors Got Away To Good Start In Yesterday's Tilt

In a loosely-played exhibition of baseball the Kingston team advanced to within half a game of the Belleville Intermeds by trimming Deloro representative at Kingston by a score of 13-7. The visitors got away to a splendid start but they played miserable ball and the Kingston team taking advantage of their mistakes, piled up the score. Deloro scored six runs in the second inning off Smith but Kingston came back in the fourth to count five while in the fifth they added three more. Shea started for Deloro and although he was hit hard Manager Hemphill did not remove him until the eighth inning when Kingston were leading 11-7. "Inky" Woods finished the game and the Kingston team scored one off his delivery. Smith started for Kingston and after allowing the Smelterites a run in the second he gave way to Van Young, who finished the game. The latter was effective and the northerners could not solve his slow ball delivery. Both teams committed the error column but the display by the Deloro team according to the spectators was terrible. Billie Britton got a homegrun, the only one of the day, while Bert Brown of the Deloro team was the fielding star feature. Collins caught for Deloro and Tetro for Kingston. Tetro of Deloro and Sullivan of Kingston umpired.

ISLAND OVERRUN WITH STRAY CATS

Vancouver Authorities Will Make Effort To Exterminate Them

Victoria, B. C., June 28.—(C.P.)—The southern end of Vancouver Island is being overrun by stray cats, and as a result the continuance of bird life is being seriously threatened, according to officials of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association who estimate that in the environs of Victoria, Saanich, Sooke and the highland district within twenty miles of the city, 200,000 game-destroying cats are developed annually by domestic cats.

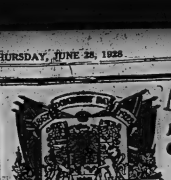

From a rough estimate it was gathered that there are about 1,000 cats running wild in the wooded districts, each taking its toll of quail, pheasant, partridge, grouse and song birds, a cat will kill anywhere up to five birds a day, according to members of the association who made their estimate from actual observation.

The Provincial Game Board is now thoroughly convinced that on the southern end of Vancouver Island cats constitute the greatest menace to bird life, killing far more feathered creatures than hunters do. Even on the heights of the Malahat district many are seen at night creeping the roads, seldom showing themselves by day.

Many of these animals were once domestic pets taken to the country by owners of summer homes and camps and other tenants or lost when their owners returned to the city. The Fish and Game Association criticizes those supposedly-kindhearted cat owners who, rather than have their surplus pets destroyed at the pound or by a veterinary, take them to the woods and leave them there to become animals of prey.

SEATS ON SALE CIRCUS DAY AT DOYLE'S DRUG STORE
SAME PRICE AS AT SHOW GROUNDS

SPARKS CIRCUS DAY TO-MORROW

CIRCUS ARRIVES IN EARLY HOURS

Fumse From Automobile Said to be One of Causes

Route of Circus Parade tomorrow morning. From the Circus grounds the procession will proceed along Station Ave. to Station St., to Bridge St., to Charles St., to Pine St., returning to the grounds.

Sparks Circus will be here tomorrow and the small boy is happy.

Everyone who was inside a real live youngster knows just when the circus is coming to town, where it will unload and just how the elephants, camels, ponies, wild animals and circus paraphernalia will be transported to the circus grounds where the tented city is erected with such surprising rapidity.

It is safe to say that Sparks Circus will be mentioned at nine out of ten breakfast tables tomorrow and that the indefinable, intangible thrill of circus day will make itself felt in nearly every household in town.

The first big event will be the street parade—the only one to be seen here this season—scheduled at 11 in the morning, and thousands will witness it from points of vantage. Then on the circus grounds there will follow the afternoon performance at 2 and the night exhibition at 8; with doors opening one hour earlier.

A down-town ticket office will be established tomorrow at Doyle's Drug Store, 221 Front Street, where both general admission and reserved seat tickets may be had at the same price as at the ticket wagons on the grounds.

The following schedule of events will be of interest to the thousands of circus lovers:

Sparks Circus day program follows:

6 a. m.—Sparks Circus trains due to arrive from Peterboro on the Canadian National Railroad.

6:30 a. m.—Unloading and removal of tents, paraphernalia, wagons, animals, etc., to the circus grounds.

7:30 a. m.—Erecting kitchens, dining, dressing, menagerie, blacksmith, horse-tents and Side-Shows.

8 a. m.—Breakfast served to the eight hundred circus employes.

8:30 a. m.—Hoisting of mammoth white-top in which main performances take place, a lesson in practical efficiency.

11 a. m.—The elaborate street parade.

1 p. m.—Doors open for leisurely inspection of menagerie. Band concert, 1 to 2 p. m.

2 p. m.—Afternoon performance.

6 p. m.—Concert of popular and classical music played on the world's largest steam piano, which can be heard for five miles without the use of radiophones.

7 p. m.—Doors opened to public. Inspection of menagerie. Band Concert augmented by J. H. Del Vecho, master air calliopist of the world.

8 p. m.—Evening performance of the circus, complete in detail.

11 p. m.—Concerted night-movement to circus trains.

12 p. m.—Departure of circus trains for Ottawa.

CIACO PLANNING A REAL HOLIDAY

Formal Opening and Dedication of New Athletic Field Monday

FINE DIAMOND

Club Has About Best Equipment For Sport In The Province

Monday, the holiday, will see the formal opening of the Ciaco Club's wonderful new athletic grounds. The management of the big Corbyville plant have given the Club a ten acre field and spent considerable money in turning it into an ideal recreation park for the use of their employees. A first class diamond has been laid out complete with bleachers, players' dug outs, press box, etc., and the whole field is nicely graded and making it an ideal spot for a picnic.

The grounds will be formally inaugurated on Monday with a basket picnic for the entire staff and their families, a full programme of sports including baseball games by both men and girls' teams and various other events of every description for all ages with valuable prizes for everybody. Oh! the Ciaco Club is not going to be empty handed when it comes to running events which will take some running to win afternoon. The party will undoubtedly stay at Ciaco Park and have a home in the evening.

A Real Baby Show

Perhaps the most interesting contest of the whole day will be the Baby Show which takes place at 4 o'clock. That is open, of course, only to "staff" babies but it is understood that a great number of entries are being promised for the show and the competition will be keen.

The opening of the picnic is set for 10.30 in the morning when the grounds will be formally opened and dedicated following which there is a baseball game at 11 o'clock between the married and single men. Buses will leave the Belle Theatre at 9.30 a.m. and the grounds at 1 and 5.30 p.m. Dancing in the evening is scheduled to start at 8.45.

The Committee in charge, are: Mr. J. V. Boyle, President; Mr. R. White, Vice-President; Mr. H. A. Lennox, Secretary. Misses Jean Mike and Mary Carmichael, Messrs. Wilfred Smith, Dent, Hurst, J. A. Boyle, Wm. George, G. T. Carson, C. Gaskell, D. M. Hannah, T. L. Cavanagh, J. Reeder, J. Chapman, B. Langabeer, A. W. Gearley, D. Bradford, T. Martin.

DEATH TOLL 22 IN TRAIN WRECK

Excursion Train Crashes Into Freight Killing Women And Children

Darlington, Durham, Eng., June.—At least twenty-two persons were killed and fifty injured in a collision of an excursion train from Scarborough and a freight train entering Darlington, last night. Only the fact that both trains were moving at comparatively low speed prevented the accident from being on a more catastrophic scale.

The destruction was so great and the care had telescoped in such a manner that identification of the bodies proved difficult and the full death list, it was feared, will not be known today.

Of the injured twenty-eight are in a serious condition. A large percentage of the victims were women and children.

STUNT FLIER WAS KILLED IN LANDING

Toronto, June 28.—Rev. John MacNeill, D.D., pastor of Walmer Road Baptist Church, Toronto, today was unanimously elected president of the Baptist World Alliance for the next five years. Speaking just after his election, Dr. MacNeill ascribed, not as a personal tribute, but as an honor to Canada and the Baptist Brotherhood of Canada. The Alliance decided to hold its next conference in 1932 in Berlin, Germany.

VOTING POSSIBLE LATE IN EVENING

Democratic Sub-Committee Favors Adoption of Real Dry Plank

Houston, Texas, June 28.—While his platform builders debated a resolution over prohibition and farm relief, hot, tired and irritable Democratic National Committeemen turned back to San Houston Hall today to complete the gesture of placing formally in nomination a long list of already defeated president ial favorite sons.

After nearly four hours or speech making and demonstrating, the roll call of nominating speeches was not half finished when convention quit shortly before midnight. This morning's session could not be expected to see completion of this formality with the hope of going on to balloting for a nominee either tonight or to-morrow.

Recommend Dry Plank

Houston, Texas, June 28.—A prohibition plank declaring for the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment was approved today by the Democratic convention resolutions sub-committee in writing up the drafting of a platform upon which the party will seek a grant or power in November.

MINOR SPILL AS THEA TAKES OFF

Plane Not Badly Damaged In Test Flight—Refused To Rise

Cap De La Madeleine, Que., June 28.—Monoplane "North Star" made an attempt to take off today in what Miss Thea Rasche described as a test flight but ended in the airplane's late flying field, the planes wheels would not leave the ground. The plane taxied to the end of the field and crashed through some bushes. It was not seriously damaged and the crew were uninjured.

The plane bore a full load of 400 gal lons of gasoline which was pumped by Chris Kazanjian, pilot when the plane approached the end of the field. Miss Rasche was at the controls when the attempt was made.

The pretty aviatrix declared she would start this afternoon

POINCARE SHOWS REAL STRENGTH

Paris, June 28.—Chamber of Deputies gave a vote of confidence to the Poincare Government today, 420 to 150. Political prophets who have been confidently predicting Premier Poincare's downfall as soon as the French budget was stabilized were thrown into great confusion. This is the most favorable vote received by the Government since opening parliament on June 1.

PURE FRESH AIR FOR YOUNGSTERS

Summer Camp of Children's Aid Society Accommodates Eighty

GENEROUS DONATIONS

Tag Day Tomorrow To Help Finance This Year's Operation

An extraordinary opportunity of enjoying pure, fresh air, and all the benefits of a properly supervised camp is now afforded the underprivileged children of this city.

Stretched along the South shore in the beautiful Bay of Quinte is a tent city officially styled Fresh Air Camp, with all necessary camp buildings, sleeping and dining room accommodation for some eighty boys and girls, an infantile bathing pretty of shade trees and a bathing beach to delight the heart of any child. Truly was ideal spot for any boy's or girl's vacation.

This camp at Redeemville is none other than the Children's Aid Society Fresh Air Camp—not only for the kiddies of the shelter but for any underprivileged children of the city under 12 years of age, boys or girls. In two short years, Superintendent T. B. Ruston and his camp committee chosen from the Board of Directors of the Children's Aid Society, have been successful; through hard work and with the aid of voluntary financial donations, in completing and equipping as fine a fresh air camp as one would wish to see.

Excellent Location.

The property, purchased outright last year consists of 10 acres and a half of fine grassy land, lying along the Bay Shore; last year, $2,500 was expended on land and buildings and an additional $1,000 has been invested to date this season; the work begun this year include an infantile ward in a separate building, a new bathing room, replacing a tent in use last season, and a refrigerating cellar. This year's donations complete the present building program of the committee, so that in less than two short years, the gratifying sight of a "complete camp capable of accommodating eighty children greets the visitor.

Looking around the place now, all is quiet for the kiddies have not yet come but by the end of Tuesday all the camp will be alive with happy children, and there will be quite a summer holiday. For on Tuesday the wards of the Shelter, numbering about eighty will be taken to the camp; gradually the number will be increased until the maximum accommodation of eighty is reached.

Generous Donations.

Mr. H. C. Hoyle has generously donated the sum of two thousand dollars to the camp, which will be a great help in the work. Frankford Club has donated posts for swings which are being erected shortly. Tweddle Club also donates on hundred dollars.

To assist in financing this great work of providing needy kiddies with sunshine, open air, and other advantages of camp life, of which most have no cause to health, the Children's Aid Society Camp Committee will hold a tag day tomorrow—Friday, and with the amount will be raised if everyone gives a little.

The Camp Committee in charge of Tag Day includes Mrs. McPee, Mrs. P. J. Anderson, Mrs. Cole Reid and Messrs W H Merry, C. Payne, H. F. Kelcheson and the Superintendent, Mr. T. B. Ruston. Mrs. Harris Marron of the Shelter, will be camp mother.

PEACHES BREAKS RIB AND SUES FOR DOWER RIGHTS

New York, June 28.— Frances (Peaches) Browning, estranged wife of Edward W. Browning, plans to file suit to establish her dower rights.

This was disclosed when Supreme Court Justice Lydon signed an order naming Mrs. Browning's mother, Carolyn M. Heenan, guardian ad litem. Such legal action is prerequisite to the contemplated suit.

Her attorney said the real estate albums he have been fraudulently removed was estimated as worth $1,000,000. Under the law a wife would be entitled to one-third of the income of this amount. The assessed valuation of Mr. Browning's property in New York is $5,629,500. This estimate is said to be $2,000,000 less than its actual value.

Mr. Browning's brother, Benjamin Browning said when informed of the suit. He is sided a suit for dower rights hardly could be brought until he was dead and "planted."

"Peaches" who celebrated her 18th birthday Saturday and suffered a broken rib in an automobile accident on the next day, is still in a hospital in Mansfield, O.

DELEGATES BACK FROM ROTARY'S BIG CONVENTION

Mr. W. B. Deacon Reports Wonderful Visit At Great Gathering

Mr. William Deacon has returned from a trip to the Western part of Canada, the United States and the chief western cities. Mr. Deacon was one of the representatives of the Belleville Rotary Club at the International convention which was recently concluded in Minneapolis. Speaking with The Intelligencer, Mr. Deacon stated that he was very much entertained with the reception accorded the delegates and he does not hesitate to commend to provide them with the most enjoyable time possible.

The convention was held in the new municipal auditorium which has seating capacity of eleven thousand. Forty-four different countries were represented including Germany, which nation was recently admitted to International Rotary. The Republic had as one of its representatives the President of the Hamburg Steamship line. One of the Chinese representatives was the President of the Oriental Steamship Line. Mr. Deacon after leaving Minneapolis spent some time in Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. MacMillan and Mr. Mackenzie Robertson who attended the convention have also returned home.

K. Y. C. SAILORS PROVE THE BEST

Won From Local Yachtmen By Narrow Margin of 10 Points

DINNER DANCE

Mr. R. J. Graham Illustrated Talk With His Own Moving Pictures

Yesterday off the Bay of Quinte Country Club grounds there was some keen dinghy racing when a strong contingent of Kingston yachtsmen visited here for some inter club races. This is the third team race between the Clubs and the Kingston men won for the third time but the B. Y. C. sailors in a little better sea finished higher hops of winning when they meet again.

Two boats were sail, five manned by Kingston and the other five by Belleville crews, the boats being changed between the races. Belleville won the first sail by twenty-five points to twenty-four but then the crews quickly behind in the second contest so that Kingston were up on the afternoon by ten points.

A fairly stiff breeze from the south west, but a little too stiff in fact for comfortable dinghy sailing, added a touch of excitement. One boat capsized in the first race and another was forced to withdraw after having a great rock pushed under her.

Dinner Dance in Evening

After the races the Kingston men were guests of the home club at the Wednesday dinner dance. Mr. R. J. Graham entertained the members and their guests for about an hour with a talk on his African Tour, illustrated by moving pictures taken by himself on his recent trip. The talk and the pictures proved to be so interesting that the dance floor was deserted. There were about 140 of the club members present at the dinner, the largest attendance of the season.

On July the 18th the local sailors will visit the Kingston Club when they will endeavor to get even for the B. Y. C. sailors are splendid sportsmen ashore or afloat.

BOY NOT HURT WHEN STRUCK BY A CAR

James elderly R.R. No. 2 Belleville, escaped the police that he had knocked a child down with his car near the Dundas and Victoria Park, yesterday. Apparthly the youngster only received a glancing blow as he picked himself up after being struck. Mr. Healty learned that the boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Webster, who live in the home he reported the 144 Pinnacle street, and after taking down the name of the police, which the car was exonerated from any blame. The child suffered no ill effects.

ARGYLL PARADE SLATED TONIGHT

Annual Inspection By Lt.-Col. Anderson—March To Fair Grounds

Tonight the Annual Inspection of the Argyll Light Infantry will take place, first at the Fair Grounds and the final inspection will be held at the Armouries. Lt.-Col. Anderson, of Military District No. 3 will be the inspecting officer and will be assisted by Lt.-Col. Goodeve, and an A.D.C.

The battalion will march to the Fair Grounds where manoeuvres will be carried out under the command of Major Ellis, after which the men themselves will be inspected, and headed by the Argyll Band they will march back to the Armouries. Here they will line up in review formation and will be addressed by the inspecting officers.

Much interest has been shown in this annual event this year, in fact more than has been shown for many years, and the indications are that more than this year they will gain even high er standing than ever before. A record crowd is held in the Officers Mess immediately after the inspection. No doubt many citizens will be on hand to witness the inspection.

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—Warfare between the factions headed by the two chiefs of the Detroit River liquor traffic broke out afresh here last night and to day August Nyklel and Michael Dipiza, rivals leaders, were dead and a policeman and woman bystander were suffering from wounds received during the pistol battle.

Nyklel, according to police, was called out of one of his string of river front saloons and cut down by a fusil-

NOBILE TO RETURN

Doctors Decide His Condition Will Permit Abiding In The South

Rome, June 28.—General Umberto Nobile will return by air to direct the search for the icebound crew of the dirigible "Italia" says a despatch today to Lavoro D'Italia. The decision to permit his return, says the paper, was made after physicians had determined that the mental and physical condition of the General were satisfactory. As soon as weather conditions favorable therefore, he will proceed to explore the scene of the tragedy.

TUBERCULOSIS TESTS TO START

50,000 Cows In Hastings County To Be Gone Over Individually

OBJECTIONS RAISED

Owners of Valuable Cattle Say Compensation Is Much Too Small

Legislation passed by the Dominion Government at the last session will soon take effect in the near future as regards the Tuberculosis tests of cows. According to the Department of Agriculture, the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac, Leeds, Dundas, Grenville, Lanark, Renfrew, Prescott, Glengarry, Stormont, and Russell will be gone over as soon as possible and those cows which have the Tubercular germ will either be destroyed. This is the programme.

To Hastings farmers in particular, the news that every cow in the county will be tested by an army of veterin aries, under the direction of Dr. Grig ole, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. There are approximately fifty thousand cows in Hastings, and the individual test must be made of each cow.

Take Two Years

It is expected that the test will take over two years, as there are well over 50,000 cows in the twelve counties to be gone over. If one half of one per cent of these cows are found to have the tubercular germ, it means that 3,750 head of cattle will have to be destroyed. This is the percentage that were tubercular in Prince Edward County, which has just been tested. In that county the Government paid the farmers $40.00 a head for the valuable cattle which were destroyed and if the cattle tests be worked on, over $150,000.00 will be paid to the farmers of the twelve counties for destroyed cattle.

Some Owners Object

Warm arguments are being waged as to whether the tubercular germ can be carried in cow's milk to humans, especially among those that will probably be fed milk cattle through the tests. Apparently the Government is willing to risk it, as they would not take on such an expensive campaign to rid the province of tuber cular cows. The tests will start in Hastings in the near future.

BODY OF BOY HERO TAKEN FROM RIVER

Brockville, Ont., June 28.—The body of Francis Wills, aged 16, of Rideau Ferry, was recovered from the St. Lawrence this afternoon by Capt. Jack Shore Rockport where he lost his life on May 4. W. Mackie, engineer at Lansdowne, waived an inquest and the body will be shipped to Richmond for burial.

DETROIT POLICE KNOW TWO MEN

Claim To Have Solved The Identity of The Mail Robbery Gang

Toronto, June 28.—According to a despatch from Detroit the police of that city believe that the identity of two of the gunmen who held up and robbed a mail car here last week, is established. Police believe the two men spent a night with their four companions in Leamington, Ont., on the night following the holdup and escaped in a motor car to Erie.

The despatch adds that the capture of the two men is believed imminent and that their names are known to Detroit police.

CALLED TO SAINT JOHN CHURCH

St. John, June 28.—The congregation of St. Jude's Church, West St. John, have extended an invitation to Rev. Norman F. Fairweather, of St. Mary's Parish, York county, to become its pastor to succeed Rev. J. R. A. Holmes, who has accepted a call to St. Paul's Bothwell.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Charlottetown, June 28.—A grand jury, found a true bill against Archibald MacKinnon, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of George Simmons, killed by an automobile recently.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Fortune knows,
We scorn her most, when most she offers blows.
—SHAKESPEARE.

LICENSE PLATES MUST BE CLEAN.

Warnings are being issued by highway traffic officers that in future all motorists driving cars with dirty license plates will be brought to court. This practice has become almost a habit with many motorists, according to the officers, and in future no more warnings will be issued. They also pointed out that pasteboard markers will not be tolerated. This style of plate is sometimes used when a motorist loses his regulation plate, and he is given three days to secure a new set, but, according to the officers, three days does not mean a month. The officers are also going to wage war on motorists who have their plates hidden from clear view and the number not perfectly visible from a distance.

CLEANING UP BAD SPOTS IN PROVINCE.

It appears that the law and the lawless are to come to grips in the Windsor district. Col. Price, the attorney-general, is said to be about to rise to take a dare, and the temper of the roadhouse men and others engaged in illicit liquor traffic on the Essex border is such that a try-out of the intention and capacity of the Ontario authorities is unavoidable. The appointment of Inspector Moss to this issue is evidence that Col Price, at least, is in earnest.

The illicit trade is not going to be so profitable as the hootleggers would like to make it. The people who wish to have liquor for their own use cannot complain that the fullest facilities are not afforded them, and there is no reason why it cannot be had in their benefit any auxiliary to the provincial stores. The Border Cities Star has been active in the interest of law and order, and has kept the authorities on the alert about conditions.

It is not only the Essex line that is concerned, but the whole province, and the administration is thoroughly alive to the fact that slackening of control at any one point makes it easy for authority to weaken all along the line. It is satisfactory to know that the Queen's Park officials understand the situation and are determined the standards that have been set upon our side of the border shall be observed.

ENEMIES ARE OFTEN SIGNS OF STRENGTH

Political observers, commenting upon the nomination of Herbert Hoover as Republican candidate for the Presidency, are of the opinion that one of Hoover's greatest sources of strength for the nomination was his unpopularity on Wall Street. Most of the great financial magnates in the country did not want him in President's chair, and this was apparently sufficient reason for the general public wanting to put him there.

The ordinary citizen of the States is under the impression that any man who earns and receives the enmity of Wall Street must be a pretty good man. It may not always be a safe rule to go by, but in Hoover's case it undoubtedly helped him to secure the Republican convention.

Once again it seems to be opportune to point out how a man is often judged, not by his friends so much as by his enemies. Hoover had many friends to speak and vote for him, but his associate practically won the nomination for him. Every man who has a big idea, and the courage to promote it is bound to make enemies. They may be enemies of jealousy or, conscious engaged in selfish practices who see in the reforms he advocates the elimination of the chance to ply their trade. It is always important for a man to know who is with him, and sometimes equally important for the public to know who is against him.

JEW GIVEN AWARD FOR CHRISTIAN WORTH

That a Jew should have been awarded the prize for "essential Christian worth as evidenced by moral character" has made a widespread sensation in the United States where Louis Behr received the Kenneth Sterling Day Memorial prize for being found what he is. He explains himself that the ideals of the two religions are identical, and gives his parents all the credit for his training. "My parents tried to instil me with a devotion to duty, with a respect for other people, and with the holiness of self-respect. Their conduct of life has given me the chance to observe that the purest satisfaction in life comes from helping other people." He modestly disclaimed any special virtue, saying, "I am not unlike hundreds of other men on the campus, and inasmuch as all religions are essentially the same."

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

If a man kills his neighbor by recklessly stepping out and firing an automatic pistol, experience has shown that he will be liable to a charge and conviction of manslaughter and a substantial prison sentence. But if the same man takes a two-ton automobile, drives recklessly and kills his neighbor, the sequel may be complete exoneration or a negligent homicide charge, followed by a light fine. Why the discrimination? The man who practices with a fire arm in his backyard and pots his neighbor through a window is rare and not much of a menace. The reckless driver appears to become more common every day, and more of a hazard to every man, woman and child in every community. If this habit — considering manslaughter by reckless drivers a minor offence to be condoned by the courts —continues, the gunman may as well put away his traditional weapon, lay in wait on his enemy's usual route to the office, pick him up on his bumper at 45 miles an hour and tell the authorities it was an accident—Grand Rapids Press.

JUST YOU AND I.

Just you and I know where the violets grow,
And where the friendly robin has her nest.
Just you and I know where the waters flow
Makes music, as the stream sings in the West.

Just you and I have caught the Song of Life
And found it sweet because of Love's refrain;
Our eyes have sought and parted—and our hands
Have met and fell apart—and met again.

Just you and I will travel hand in hand.
And go again where we have gone before;
From scene back, since the old world began,
We've entered, and we've passed, through many a door.
—Mary Du Deray.

FAIR PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

Mr. T. H. Taylor of Montreal is in the city on business.

The majority of the Albert College students left for theis homes today.

Mr. F. Hilchon is registered at the Daly House, Toronto.

Miss L. Garrow, who has been with the Ritchie Company for some time left today for her home in Peterboro.

The yacht Cinderella of Rochester, which grounded on Mumken's Bar was hauled off last night by the tug Rescue.

Messrs. R. S. Macintosh, F. Brenton, Geo. Pearse and Geo. H. Fax, the Quinte quartette will give a concert at Belleville on the evening of July 1st. They will be assisted by Mrs. Jas. Grant, Mrs. Campbell and Master Will De Cunnington.

The burning question at last night's Council meeting was, "What shall be done with the Bay Bridge?" which is still unsettled. Those present were Mayor Johnson, Aldermen Pallister, Doyle, Chisholm, Honeyford, Pinnegan, Lennox, Darling, Harris, Naylor, Clarke, McCamon, Wallace, Panter, Cirlis, Petty, Ashley, Denmark Lott and Bogart.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Mrs. Brown—"How is your daughter getting on with her music?"

Mrs. Hobson—"Fine! Her teacher says she plays Mozart in a manner that Mozart would never have dreamed of himself."

Host, showing family portraits proudly—"Portrait of my great-uncle; he was an M.P. in Waterloo."

Youth, hopelessly bored—"Awful place, Waterloo! Lost my golf clubs there last week!"

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call it "Joint Ease" Because It's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get to gether a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through flesh and flesh and starts right into make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as old.

They call this new and wonderful pre paration "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some kind of joint remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful alteration.

The "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, toothache, sore muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments or any pain ture whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It savey is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Doyles Drug Store, Dolan the Drug gist discusses it daily for about 6 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

ANIMALS MAKE EXPERT MINERS

Stories Told of Different "Finds" By Old Time Prospectors

Victoria, B.C. (By C.P.)—One of the richest copper strikes on Vancouver Island was made by a dog, according to Harry Tanner, well-known mining man who has just returned from a prospect ing trip.

Tanner's dog was a companion on one of his trips and sought to rival his master in the discovery of "finds". One day on the west coast of Vancouver Island Tanner heard his dog barking insistently and went to see what it was all about. To his astonishment he found the dog scratching around a rich outcrop of copper ore which development proved to be one of the richest strikes on the island.

The story of the donkey discovered the famous Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine in the Coure d'Alene, Idaho district, has often been told. That donkey was pensioned for life as its reward. Several mineral discoveries have been made as the result of float found on the dumps and holes dug by miners in their search for groundhogs. The despised pack-rat has proved to be one of the best prospectors, and many a miner has told how his stake was due to a pack-rat stealing his supplies and replacing the stolen goods by pieces of quartz carrying gold which led to the discovery of a valuable quartz mine. In the Cariboo the story is told of a rich placer strike having been made as the result of a pack-rat trading items in the prospector's outfit for gov't nuggets, as if that rodent was more than honest in making compensation for his crime.

DIRECTORS BEFORE MAGISTRATE

Winnipeg, June 28.—W. T. Alexander, P. H. Alexander and E. L. Taylor, K.C., former directors of the Canada National Fire Insurance Company, appeared in provincial police court, yesterday before magistrate R. M. Noble, on charges of conspiracy to defraud and were remanded without plea to July 4.

SNEEZE LEADS MEN INTO DIFFICULTIES

Vancouver, B. C., June 28.—(C.P.)—Joseph Le Borgne simply had to sneeze; and so Joseph and his two companions, members of the crew of the French steamship Soncra, are now serving terms on a charge of smuggling narcotics.

Customs Officers De Graves and Healey had their suspicions before the fateful sneeze. They watched Le Borgne and his comrades as they stepped down the gang-plank and followed them. Then Le Borgne sneezed and in doing so exposed an unnatural bulkiness around his waist. The officers ordered the three men to stop.

Le Borgne kelp on at a quickened gait, but the others obeyed the command. De Graves whipped out his revolver and fired into the ground. Le Borgne decided he had better stop and when they searched him four jars of French cocaine fastened to his belt were found. The trio were promptly arrested.

DRIVEWAY REPAIRED
A gang of men have completed the work of repairing the driveway at the weigh scales on the market square. The cement roadway had chipped considerably with the years but it has been placed in good shape again.

STRAWBERRIES PLENTIFUL
Strawberries were offered in some places on the market this morning and the ruling price was twenty cents per box, a decrease of a nickel when farmers asked twenty-five cents. Vendors report an excellent crop this year.

PLAN BIG PICNIC
Salesmen and employees of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in the Kingston District are looking forward to the Pine Annual Picnic, which will be held at Bayside Grove, Picton, on the 14th of July. This district includes Belleville, Gananoque, Kingston Tweed, Napanee, Trenton, Picton, Brighton and other points. Sports and baseball games are on the program while races for the youngsters have already been arranged. Over one hundred persons are expected to attend.

GRADS LOST AT POINT ANNE
The Queen Grads sot-ball team played an exhibition game at Point Anne last evening and after getting the home club a close argument finally succumbed by a score of 11-10. Tracy and Townsend formed the battery for the visitors with Green and Alex Weir alternating on the hillock for the winners, while Frank Bennett did the catching. Townsend's wild throwing was costly for the Grads and resulted in several runs being scored against them. Gilmore and Smith of Point Anne umpired. The Grads lined up as follows: Hurley, Cole, Duff, Colling, Robertson, Ross, Townsend, Evo, Young and Chas. Weir.

SUMMER HEAT ARRESTED
Residents of the city have been favored with fine summer weather during the last few days. The thermometer at the pump house registered a maximum temperature of seventy degrees with a minimum of fifty-seven yesterday while today's high temperature was seventy-four with the lowest reading the same as yesterday.

TWO HOLIDAY GAMES
Two games will be played by the Belleville Nationals on the Holiday, next Monday. In the morning, they will go to Peterboro, where they will play a regular league fixture with the team from that city, and then will come back here to play an exhibition affair with St. George's, which is said to be the strongest amateur team in Toronto. Reginald Harper, who played for the Belleville Nationals last year is playing first base for St. George's.

BOYS CAMP OPENS MONDAY
Moira Summer Camp will open next Monday, arrangements having already been made for the accomodation of sixty boys. If anyone has a tent which is not in use at the present time, and would like to help the Boys Work Board out, phone 412 and arrangements will be made to take care boys in the camp. Capable supervisors will look after the boys, who will stay there for two weeks.

BELLEVILLE LADIES WIN
Yesterday afternoon at the Belleville Golf Club a keenly contested tourney went took place between the ladies of the Trenton Golf Club and the local ladies, the former of whom had journeyed to this city for the contest. Twelve women engaged in the afternoon's play and the laurels went to the local Club. Following the play, afternoon tea was served in the pretty club house with Mrs. Farley and Mrs. Boyce acting as hostesses.

FLYING CANADIANS WON
By virtue of their 12 to 2 win from the Royals last night, the Flying Canadians became winners of the district series championship, of the K.I.-Y League. Royals who lost the first game of the series at their own ground, put up a strong argument in last night's game but were outclassed by the Canadians. The latter have won all games played throughout the league.
Tonight the second of the playoff games for the Bantam Championship takes place with Gordon Bandams at the grounds of the Cardinals. Two re training games of the Juvenile schedule will be played, these are Wolves at Sikhs and Ravens at West Hill Pounders.

TODAYS MARKETS

PRICE HELD FIRM
New York, June 28.—Price movements were unchanged in today's stock market but the general trend continued upward. Maintenance of relatively stiff call money release tended to restrict buying and the late profit taking, in a few of the recent strong spots. The call money renewal rate of 7 1-2 percent was the highest since June, 1921. Banks called $2,000,000 in loans during the morning with funds reported to be scarcer than they had been as say time since the 'money panics' years ago.
Declaration of $2 extra dividend on New Jersey Central was one of the few interesting financial developments of the day. The day's business news was rather colorless in character.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS
STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE
With approach of end of the month and double holiday, Saturday and Monday, there was not very much excitement. However, the usual period the fireworks making a further gain of 1.25 to $41.50 bid. Conduit was traded in around $2.80 to $3.95. Pioneer off 5 1-2 to 68 1-8. Sherritt and Gordon is little wanted. Teck strong up to $11.15 easing off to $10.90 at the close. Tuwagmac responded to some good news during the afternoon by making a gain all of a sudden of 50c to a close at $3.05 bid and none offered. Hargreaves has few buyers in sight apparently and slid off a further 30c to $3.80. The close was as follows:
Abana 2.59; Arno 27; Amilly 51; Conduit 2.80; Arno .31 1-2; Beaucamp 23; Bedford 36; Bidgood 69; Barry Hollinger 62; Central Manitoba 2; Chambers Ferland 46; Dome 8.50; Granada 20 1-2; Hollinger 13.55; Howey 73; Hudson Bay 40; Jupiter 3; Kirkland Lake 1.54; Lake Shore 22.25; Laval 17 1-4; McDougall 35; McIntyre 24.75; Mandy 2.65; Malartic 1.22; Mining Corp. 3.40; Noranda 41.50; Nipissing 2.75; Newlaco 40; Pickle Crow 2.25; Pioneer 48 1-8; Premier Gold 2.25; Sherritt Gordon 5.75; Stadacona Rand 3.50; Teck Hughes 10.90; Vipond 53; Wright Hargreaves 3.80.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Nelles, Isabel Street, last night when members of the Haines' Shoe Co. staff and their family were entertained at a merry party. Recitations, games and music featured the evening. Towards midnight dainty refreshments were served and the guests left for their homes at a late hour voting Mrs. Rollins an ideal hostess.

Mr. Fred Baldwin, St., Thomas, form er Belleville back of Queen's champion football team is visiting in this city for a few days. Mr. Baldwin who is a graduate of Queen's will line up with Toronto Argonauts in the 'Big Four' this season.

Mr. Franklin McArthur, of Toronto, is in the city for a few days, and will return home on Friday.

Many were in attendance at a delightful afternoon tea held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jas. Hill, Prince Edward Heights, under the auspices of the ladies, of the Presbyterian Church, Bridge Street. The spacious grounds were tastefully decorated for the occasion and the guests were received by Mrs. Hill, who introduced to the tea room by Miss Thompson and Miss Stod dart. The tea table was particularly pretty with tall pink candles in silver candlesticks and centred with a large bowl of pink roses. Mrs. Allum and Mrs. Campbell presided pouring tea and Mrs. Angus, Mrs. T. S. Hollough, Miss Gordon and Miss Pearl McCullough assisted with the serving. Those who contributed to the success of the affair were from Deseronto.

POLICE COURT

Created A Row
James Hedger, a young man of this city was hailed into police court today on a charge of disorderly conduct. The young man is alleged to have created a disturbance in his home last night and the authorities were called. Sergt. Booth placed the young man under arrest. He was given a reprimand and ordered to pay the costs in the court house he appear ed this morning.

Held in Jail
The young girl who was picked up in an alley on Front Street by the police on Tuesday evening was taken to the County jail today where she will be confined until the police have investigated the case thoroughly.

Mussolini's title of "Duce" is a corruption of the Italian word "Duca," which means a duke, commander, or leader.

BELLEVILLE IS BEATEN AT GOLF

Keen Competition In Match es For Bay of Quinte Trophy

A team of golfers from the Belleville club took part in the annual competition for the Bay of Quinte Cup at Napanee yesterday and while they were beaten, nevertheless they gave their opponents a most enjoyable game. In the morning Belleville lost to Napanee after an exceedingly close game while in the afternoon they were defeated by Picton after tying three, losing three and winning two games. After the games a social hour was spent.

W. H. Reeves passed an amendment to the present constitution whereby the Bay of Quinte Cup should be played for. The games for the trophy will take place at Trenton next year. The winner to get two points toward the cup. Instead of being rewarded the trophy on the one day's play the competition will be carried on during the summer months with one point being awarded to the winner of each of the home and away. Thus the interest for the cup will be maintained all summer. This motion which was seconded by Mr. B. C. Donnan, was unanimously carried.

During the month of August Mr. Walter Reeves will be out of the city and Vice-Captains A. H. Ketcheson and Art. McConnell will make arrangements for the tournaments. Mr. Reeves who is personally popular acted as a judge of dogs will attend the Edmonton and Saskatchewan exhibitions in his official capacity. After these have been concluded Mr. Reeves will proceed to the coast and will then return to Ottawa for the Central Exhibition.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

A. STRATTON.
Mr. Al. Stratton passed away last evening at his late residence, 249 George Street.
Mr. Stratton was born in Brockville 78 years ago, but had resided most of his life in Belleville. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, a Conservative in politics and a member of I. O. O. F. No. 81.
He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Sophia McIntyre, and two daughters, also one brother living in Michigan. Service will be under auspices of Oddfellows.

MRS. MARY PAUL
The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Paul took place this morning from the Belleville Burial Companies Funeral Parlours to St. Michael's Church. Both the services at the church and grave were conducted by the Rev. Father Kinlin. Interment took place in St. James Cemetery. The bearers, S. Garvin, W. Lynch, W. Peoples, J. Whalen, W. Mills.

JOHN A. CHISHOLM, CORNWALL
Cornwall, June 28.—John A. Chisholm, barrister, a former mayor and one of the most influential citizens of Cornwall, Ont., died in Hotel Dieu Hospital, Hudson, N.Y., after an illness of some months. Mr. Chisholm left for Hudson five weeks ago.
Born in Lindsay, Ont., in 1866, he was the son of the late John Alexander Chisholm. His early education was received in Lindsay and he had his legal training in Toronto. He lived in Cornwall for 35 years, and at the time of his death was dean of the legal profession in this city. Mr. Chisholm was twice mayor of Cornwall and filled every other position on the town council board.
Mr. Chisholm was a past president of the Cornwall Board of Trade, a president of the Stormont Liberal Association, and a past Grand Knight of the Ontario Council of the Knights of Columbus. He was recently included in the list of King's counsel named by the Ontario government.
He was unmarried and is survived only by cousins. He had relatives in Belleville and was well known in that city.

It is the first stroke of a chime that marks the beginning of a new hour.

REGENT THEATRE

The role of David Fielding, played by John Gilbert in "Shanse," Fox Films release of a great his new at the Regent Theatre, gave that new noted actor his first opportunity to show his abilities. Up to this picture the name of John Gilbert was practically unknown but after its country wide hit Gilbert was made a star.

BELLE THEATRE

Rin-Tin-Tin has portrayed many a character in picture parts, which have endeared him to millions of young folks (of all ages) everywhere. He has been wolf-dog, Northwest mounted, London waif, mountaineer, flying hero and now stars in "Lady Be Life," in which he is a follower of the race tracks.

Rin Tin and his pal go South by the box car route, so that the former may become a jockey. All sorts of obstacles are overcome with a bounding eagerness that rouses onlookers to wide excitement. A rival horse owner tries to injure the horse Rinty's pal is to drive. Rinty attacks and is temporarily blinded. However by his pal he is hidden and apparently deserted since the men have kidnapped the boy.

Rinty escapes, and rushing to his master, frees him in time to get to the race track as the racing meet starts. But this is only the beginning! Rinty outdoes even himself in the astonishing way by which he contrives to make the race a victory! You'll root for Rinty as never before! At the Belle.

HOW TO KEEP OUT FLOWERS.

The following novel method of keeping cut flowers is suggested by a Canadian reader: Get a well-rotted ball of roots and other kinds from the garden, and push the stalks into the good-sized potatoes. Several go to each potato. The potatoes are arranged on a dish or tray, and the whole is covered with a well-made box, filling closely over the flowers, and stored in a cool place. Every few weeks the blossoms should be examined and any traces of mould wiped away at once. When the flowers are needed you take them out of the potatoes, cut a small bit from each stalk, and then place the stems in a bowl of hot water. By the time the water is cold the buds will have expanded finely.

APPOINT ARCHBISHOP

Dublin, Irish Free State, June 28. It was understood here today that Dr. James Harrory, Roman Catholic Bishop of Down and Connor, had been appointed Archbishop of Armagh in succession to the late Cardinal O'Donnell.

Prospective Visitors

British public school boys studying map of Canada in Canadian National Railways office, London, to learn route which they will traverse in the "Young Ambassadors' Tour" which is being made over the lines of the National System in Canada. Under the scheme being conducted by the Daily Sketch and Allied Newspapers in co-operation with the Canadian National and Cunard Steamship lines, 60 British boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 will make the tour.

EXCURSION WAS SOCIAL SUCCESS

While the attendance on the excursion to Deseronto yesterday for the benefits of the Argyll Light Infantry band was not as large as was expected, nevertheless the event was another decided success from a social standpoint and there was not a dull moment in the whole trip from the time the train pulled out of the lower station until it steamed back at an early hour this morning. Many from Napanee were aboard the train, in fact more than that town attended than from Belleville. The whole trip was completed on scheduled time and the crowd was back home within fifteen minutes of the hour due.

Promptly at seven o'clock yesterday morning the special rolled out of the south depot with the many happy excursionists. The officials had been favored with excellent weather and eagerly the crowd looked forward to the sail across Lake Ontario. At Deseronto the ferry was waiting and with little delay the picnickers transferred to the boat. Several parties joined the excursion crowd at Cobourg. There was not a ripple on the smooth surface of the Lake and a more ideal day for the trip could not have been chosen.

Chas. Hanna, General Chairman, conductor, announcer and supervisor started the proceedings when he announced that dancing would commence in the cabin. Mr. Robson presided at the piano and an enjoyable time was spent. The boat arrived at Genesee Point at two o'clock and the train carried the crowd into the city. Three hours was the time limit allowed to view the sights and within five minutes after arriving at the station the crowd had scattered in all directions. Some were attracted to the shopping district while others sought the parks and real estate districts.

Many former Belleville people were at the station to meet the train and greetings were extended. After spending the best part of the afternoon in the "Flower City" the scores gathered at the station and the train started for the dock. An interesting sight viewed by many was a boat which was former ly used to transport convicts from England to Australia. The boat has been on exhibition in many cities and coun tries and is a great object of interest.

The Committee in charge was composed of Chas. Hanna, General Chairman; Ab. Wonnacott, J. Jordan and W. Asselaine.

RELAY RACE AT BIG CIACO PICNIC

A very interesting event will be held in connection with the Annual Picnic of the Ciaco Club of Corbyville, in the running of a Relay Race from the Post Office, Belleville, to the Athletic Field, at Corbyville, on Monday, July 2nd, at 9.45 a.m.

This is to be an annual Race, and the general Manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has very kindly donated a Silver Cup on behalf of the officials of this Bank.

The Cup is to be known as the Relay Running Cup, and the team winning it three years in succession, become the owners of the Trophy.

This promises to be a very keen Race, as there are several teams from the different departments already entered.

SOMNAMBULIST PUTL DREAMS INTO ACTION

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH

Eminent psychologist

There is an unconscious as well as a conscious mind and the former, the unconscious, reveals itself in the sleep-walking state.

At night, when we fall asleep, consciousness is blotted out. People usually assume that we have but one mind—the conscious. But one of the best proofs of the fact that there are two minds is this phenomenon of sleep-walking.

We are only cognizant of our conscious mind because that is the only one we are aware of during our waking hours. But when we fall asleep the conscious mind stops working—is blotted out—and the unconscious, or deeper mind, keeps on functioning.

This continued functioning may cause sleep-walking. Somnambulism or sleep-walking is another kind of dreaming.

The only difference between it and a regular dream lies in the fact that with a sleep-walker the unconscious mind is so active that the motor mechanism of the body are brought into action, instead of thought processes only as in the case of the dream.

In other words, the dreamer in somnambulism not only sees vivid pictures in which he figures prominently, but goes further and tries to act out the part himself—before he gets out of bed and walks about.

The sleep walker acts out his dream.

His muscles as well as his thoughts are brought into play.

All the time, however, he is sound asleep.

Sleep-walking is not uncommon in children and infrequently it is met with in adults.

Sleep-walking in children indicates a high-strung nervous system that is more or less unstable.

The same holds true of adults.

Children can be cured rather easily as a rule by practising proper hygiene that lays stress upon regular hours, rest in the afternoon, good food and that reduction of stress and strain to a minimum.

Adults are harder to cure of somnambulism. Here emphasis in treatment is laid upon disturbing thoughts and emotions that lie buried in the unconscious.

Worry, disappointments, thwarted ambitions, love affairs, suppression of various kinds—these and many more may constitute the cause, buried, deep in the hidden mind.

It is often said that somnambulists favor dangerous places like railroad tracks or the edge of a roof.

This, however, is not true.

Nor is it true that one must never awaken a person in a sleep-walking trance.

Naturally, it would be unwise to startle such an individual by rude awakening or when he happens to be in a place dangerous to his life. The shock of surprise may unbalance his motor equilibrium.

But sleep-walkers need protection just the same. First, and chief, from away from danger gently. Then wake them up.

Otherwise they are more likely to repeat the sleep-walking escapade the same night.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have been going with a boy three years my senior for the past three years until about four months ago. I saw him with another girl. After that I told him not to call on me any more. He seemed very much hurt over the decision as well as I.

I have seen him several times since in fact he has called on me once or twice. Every time I see him he talks of his great love for me. Says he has the same feeling for me as ever and that I'm cruel indeed. He is or was anxious to be married at once and I don't want to be married at once, although I love him and I believe he loves me. What can I do? Would you let him come back?

PEGGY.

PEGGY—As long as you are unwilling to become engaged, Peggy, you should not criticize the young man for going out with other girls, for that is his privilege as well as yours.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a boy eighteen-one and a half years old and I am going around with a girl of twenty. We have known each other for seven years and I think the world of her. I'm sure she loves me too.

I would like to get married now but I don't make enough money.

What shall I do? Wait until I make more or get married now?

WORRIED

WORRIED: Way down in your heart, Worried, you know that you want to give the girl of your heart everything you possibly can. Therefore, you write and ask me what you shall do. Frankly, I don't approve of too long engagements. And as long as you are not at present in a position to support a wife, why not wait awhile before asking the girl to become engaged. If your love has survived this long, surely it is strong enough to wait a little longer. On the other hand, if you feel that you do not care to wait, why not get married and start in a small way? But I always feel that a man truly loves a girl, he will prove to her that he can support her before they are married, and not drag her through years of waiting. Be the same friends you have always been, and work twice as hard as you ever have at that job, and soon you will be able to give her a cozy home of her own and secure her love to help you through the years to come.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE.

We are two girls in our late teens, and considered good-looking. We would like to know if it would be proper to ask two of our boy friends to spend a day in the country with some of our relatives.

BLONDE AND BRUNETTE.

BLONDE AND BRUNETTE: If your parents approve,I think it would be very charming of you to invite the boys to visit your relatives with you.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

One of my girl friends' best friend writes to me. Is it right for me to answer his letter?

IRENE.

IRENE: It certainly isn't being very loyal to your girl friend to encourage the attentions of her "boy friend." Best forget it all and don't answer his letters.

WOMAN SO NERVOUS COULD NOT SLEEP

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Mason, Ont.—"I was very nervous, so nervous that sleep was almost impossible and I was all run down. I read about it in the paper and have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could not wish to feel better than I do now and recommend it to all."—Mrs. DEZIRE LAFRAMBOISE, Mason, Quebec.

New Carlisle, Que.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down system and it helped me. My nerves are better and I have a good appetite now. The Vegetable Compound has been of great benefit to me and I will answer letters from women asking about it."—Mrs. WILLIE BUTTLE, Jr., New Carlisle, Quebec.

Frills That Run Into Tiers Are New

Sisters have no monopoly on the softening influence so popular in the summer mode; blouses, too, are draped. The frock above, for example, falls in fullness over the girdle which is drawn smoothly over the hips. A double frill runs down the center of the bodice, dividing at the skirt, and forms the upper flounce. The up-front and down-to-back movement of the tiers are smart items. A graceful flattery is the tall slim figure. The long, tight sleeves are trimmed with frills at the wrists. Chiffon, georgette, fine crepes and lace voile are soft materials that make this design particularly chic and becoming.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Never turn a gas burner so high that the ame of the flame more than to the bottom of the cooking vessel.

Once any liquid used as a cooking medium starts to boil, reduce the flame as low as possible to maintain boiling. For no liquid can get any hotter than its boiling point.

Though the guest room is usually equipped with tissue paper, we forget a sewing basket containing the equipment necessary for a little mending. A work box of this sort is very welcome at times.

Perhaps the most satisfactory way of cleaning bronze is to first immerse the article to be cleaned in boiling water and then rubbing with a soft cloth dipped in yellow soapsuds. Polish with a soft, dry rag.

Do not spoil the appearance of your living room by keeping all the family portraits on view. They are no longer popular. Subjects of the few pictures hung should be of general interest and should be artistically chosen.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Paris reports that straight lines are out of favor, and if you want to be in the movement your frocks and hats must lean to right or left. For the very latest crabs making itself felt strongly is the fascinating matter of pull-overs since the pull-over has taken a fresh lease o life and is a decorative affair for, made of silk jersey in new and unexpected colors, and lavishly embroidered with tiny beads and glittering paillettes, it is a glorified garment which may be worn anywhere.

Golf attire for those in mourning was introduced at the St. Cloud Country Club near Paris, when Walter Hagen, British open champion, played Aubrey Boomer, professional, for the golfer in the crowd was dressed in black coat and knickers, black stockings and shoes, while the woman with him wore a white coat and skirt trimmed with black, with hat and shoes to match.

Paris notes that ordinary pins appear as a trimming for one of the smartest of the new summer hats. A jade green felt with fairly generous brim, and the sole trimming is a band of pins which surrounds crown, the heads and points being concealed by the cut of the crown and brim, while pins likewise appear in a group of three cunningly-placed flowers which complete the trimming.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER II.

Annesley met Celia on the station-platform. He was looking very fit. His face was alight with pleasure and his brilliant dark eyes looked into hers, keen, penetrating. They had a quality that brought color into her cheeks.

Many flowers are appearing on French race costumes.

One Fifth avenue shop is featuring a wedding party in which the bride is in white, while attended by brides-maids in orchid, pink, yellow and green frocks.

Paris reports that the "occasional" coat is sweeping the fashion world, and it is made of every type of dress goods from velvet to cloth, and is designed for any of many occasions, while the novelty of the year is the evening jacket, worn not as a wrap, but as part of an ensemble, in chiffon, lace, embroidered or sparkled net.

Light beige kid pumps are very smart.

Linen with voile is a smart new combination.

Face cloth sun dress will be seen for lingerie this fall.

Blue lupine in a grey pottery vase on a dark oak shelf, with an orange-colored lamp in a pewter candlestick, make a pretty picture.

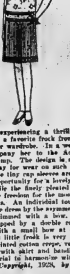

Princess Mary recently opened and took charge of a stall at the Painted Lady exhibition held by the Countess Pitewilliam at 4 Grosvenor Square.

Natural bellbuoni hats with medium brims and pointed in front, organdie or silk and white felt models in cloche shapes banded in two tones of grosgrain, are smart New York's favorite headgear.

Awning striped bells are particularly smart on the sleeveless white linens frock, while a very new bell is of blued stripe flannel.

SAFETY FIRST.

The bird who coined the phrase "Be sure you're right then go ahead," sure knew what he talked of. A certain riveting operator, who made daily on a radio invention, started out to cut a wide swath in the white lights district. He landed during a call in one of the famous night clubs he lamped a shemale, with a big guy in evening dress. He nooded to the gal for she had once worked with him in his telegraph days. Her escort said nothing as the fellow seated himself at the table. The intruder started rapping on the table as if keeping time with the orbstra. Instead, however, he was knocking off the Morse code. His message was: "Chuck this rag, and meet me at Seventh avenue and Forty-Second street." The words were understood by the gal and she rapped back: "Louder, I didn't catch the place." He started hitting off the repeat and was suddenly crowned. When he awoke a couple of hours later, he learned the gal and her escort had disappeared. The big boy was a wireless operator on one of the big ships and the gal didn't know it. Girls will pick up strangers.

A Sleeveless Frock Is Ideal For The Sub-Deb's Vacation

Ann is experimenting a thrill just "trying on" a favorite frock from her new summer wardrobe. In a week it will accompany her to the Adirondacks to camp. The design is suited in every way for wear on such a vacation. The tiny cap sleeves are cool and give opportunity for a lovely coat of tan, while the roomy pleated skirt gives ample freedom for the most vigorous sports. An individual touch is added to the dress by the asymmetrical neckline trimmed with a bow. The skirt is topped by a double row of banding with a small bow at either side. This little frock is very smart made of printed cotton crepe, voile or silk crepe with skirt and banding of plain material in harmony with the figure. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

"Wal. You haven't asked whom I married."

He said dryly: "I'm afraid I'm a bit stunned by the news . . haven't my wits back. . . .Is it that man—Harrington is his name, isn't it — who treated you so badly at one time?"

Celia turned away.

"No, it's not he. . . . . It's — it's Richard Falconer."

"But, Celia, you were Falconer's wife . . . Only . . .

"Yes, I know. . . . Falconer is in his grave."

"You don't understand. I've—I've married young Richard."

He gave a sharp exclamation.

"Not the nephew! Not that——" he checked himself. She saw his hands clench. "Celia, you're not telling me you married him?"

His modest misery, not daring to look at him. She couldn't face him with that lie on her lips.

"How did he find you?" The question was so sharp that it startled her. "How did he dare——"

She told him a part of the truth.

"I went to New York to see you on my honeymoon, Annesley, and was just at the time you had left for Chicago. . . . I met him there."

"And the skunk — pardon me, Celia — he sought you out and

COMMANDER NOW AVAILABLE AT NEW LOW PRICE

Studebaker Sets a New Record For Value

The Studebaker Commander, world's champion car, is now offered at a new low price, $1950 f.o.b. Walkerville factory. The new price is the lowest at which The Commander's world champion performance has ever been offered.

"Introduction of The Commander (Six Sedan) at this new low price marks a new climax in Studebaker value," said W. J. Green, local Studebaker dealer. "The Commander holds all of the highest speed and endurance records for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price. Two stock Studebaker Commanders each traveled 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes last fall. Nothing else ever traveled as far so fast. Now in making The Commander available at this new low price, Studebaker has set still another record for motor car value.

"The Commander Club Sedan is a car of striking beauty. Two wide doors give easy access to an unusually roomy interior and add to the low-swung symmetry of the body lines. Wide crown fenders, bullet-shaped headlights rimmed with bright metal, and colors approved by fashion experts as the latest mode give this new car a distinguished appearance.

"Body and mouldings of the new Commander are dark green with the broad belt panel in Deauville sand. Striping is in ivory. Wheels are dark Club Sedan latticed in long spraying green in harmony with the body.

"The interior of The Commander is notable. The folding type front seats are tilted at a restful angle. The wide rear seat has arm rests on either side as an additional feature of comfort.

"Feminine drivers will appreciate the many refinements of the interior finish and the completeness of appointments. All of the interior hardware is in Butler finish, edged with a floral design. Built-in ash receiver is an item of convenience. Front and rear compartments are richly carpeted. Carpet and silk shades at the back and rear quarter windows match the wool rose shade of the upholstery.

An examination of the Whippet engine after the test was completed showed it to be performing with the same smoothness and quietness that characterized its first day's run. Those who examined the pistons said that its ability to run continuously for such a length of time without showing any ill effects, is a distinct tribute to the inbuilt stamina of the Whippet Four, a product of the Willys-Overland Company.

FINE MONUMENTS AVAILABLE HERE AT LOW PRICES

Prices And Work Can Compare Well With Others

Next time you have occasion to purchase a monument, bear in mind that there is a local firm—Moore Bros.—who are in a position to supply you with almost anything you want in this line and at prices which compare favorably with those to be obtained in larger centres.

A great many people seem to have the idea that lower prices and better work are to be obtained in cities other than their own. As a matter of fact, such is not the case in very many instances, and in the monument business this is particularly true. Expert workmanship is available at Moore Bros. and time and again, when their prices have been compared with those submitted by firms in larger cities, the prices of this local firm were actually lower than the others.

So if the "Buy at Home" slogan means anything at all, the logical thing to do when buying a monument is first to consult this local firm and have them give you an estimate; you won't find that it will pay you and at the same time you'll be leaving your money in your own city, helping it to advance.

PURE ICE CREAM AN IDEAL FOOD

Moores Make Genuine Favorite With All Ages

With this summer weather here at last and to all appearances going to stay, one's thoughts turn to ways and means of keeping cool. One of the first things to be considered is the food that we eat during the summer months; it must necessarily be a little different than that used during colder weather; and ice cream is one food that fits in perfectly these days.

Pure ice cream is a real food, a high class product which is enjoyed by every member of the family, is nourishing and cooling and an ideal summer food.

But be sure that you get good ice cream, and if you use Moore's you can be sure of this. Moore's have gained a reputation for turning out only pure nourishing ice cream, of a quality which can always be depended upon to be the best.

Try a dish of Moore's ice cream for dessert, and you won't be satisfied with any other. Moore's is in the Anglo-American Building, and is open evenings for your convenience. When you're down street, drop in and enjoy a sundae or a cooling soda.

FIRST CLASS WELDING AT HOWARD BROS

For the best class of welding work, you can't choose a firm which will give you the satisfaction to be obtained at Howard Bros., on South Pinnacle Street, just across the tracks.

Within the short period of a year or so, Howard Bros. have acquired an enviable reputation for quality welding work, prompt service, and moderate prices.

No need to worry, then about that welding problem: take the job into Howard Bros. and have it done quickly, properly, and at a fair price.

PROMPT SERVICE AT ADAMS' SHOE REPAIR

When you think about shoe repairing it will pay you to think about Bert Adams at the Footbridge Gangway.

Just off Front Street, Bert's shop is handy to you, being centrally located, and can turn out skillful shoe repair work for you on short notice.

The latest equipment, and several years of experience make it possible for this firm to give you the class of work and the service you like; work promptly done and done as you want it.

Take a look at your shoes and see if they're run down; if so would not intentionally allow them to remain that way, but anyone is liable to overlook the matter; let Bert fix them for you.

LONG RUN FOR WHIPPET MOTOR

Gruelling Test of One Thousand Hours' Run

With hood locked and sealed by the Warden of Devonport, a strictly stock Whippet Four recently established what is believed to be a new world's endurance record, when it ran continuously without a motor stop for 1,005 hours, or just three hours less than 42 days and nights. This eclipses the former Whippet non-stop engine run of 973 hours.

This new non-stop mark was made in Tasmania, during which time the Whippet covered a total of 16,811 miles. During the many stops made at various points by the Whippet, the engine continued to sing along smoothly but was never permitted to stop.

In addition to sealing the Whippet's hood, an official observer was with the car from the start of the test until the end.

Throughout the remarkable stamina test the Whippet engine functioned perfectly despite the fact that it was put to numerous severe tests as it piled up mile after mile over good roads and almost impassable highways. In the final week of the test the Whippet Four made three trips between Smithton and Hobart, covering 1,200 miles and running most of the time at high speed.

WILD SCRAMBLE ON STOCK MART.

Actors, Clerks, Typists and Financiers In The Swim

New York, N.Y.—The stock market, once the preserve of big business, has become the speculating playground of the world.

Actors and automobile salesmen, bankers and bootblacks, college professors and clerks, doctors and dowagers, society matrons and stenographers—rich and poor everywhere—have put their surplus funds or savings into securities and created the greatest stock market in the history of Wall Street.

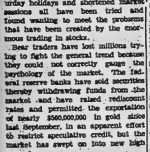

Trading in the New York securities markets has reached world wide proportions. Thousands of orders pour all sections of the continent each day over the private wires of brokers from whole scores of others come by cable or radio from European and Asiatic capitals and ships at sea. Several of the large market operators who have made trips to Europe this year have kept in daily touch with the markets by radio on the high seas, frequently receiving three and four sets of quotations during the market session. Solid large buying from associates in constant touch with the market at home. The trans-Atlantic telephone also has been used, a line to Berlin being held open not long ago while a customer in the German capital placed his order and received his confirmation—all in the space of a few minutes.

One outgrowth of the speculative mania that has been sweeping the country is the establishment of scores of financial, advisory and tipster services, which have reaped a fortune for their sponsors. Some of them are legitimate in character and make an honest effort to give correct information about securities, but a large number mix their so-called investment counsel with subtle propaganda and for the sale of stocks of undeveloped mining and oil companies.

Wall street was totally unprepared for this sudden outburst of speculative enthusiasm, which has clogged the machinery of the Stock Exchange and has kept thousands of brokers and clerks working overtime for months. Abbreviated stock symbols, elimination of odd lot transactions from the tapes during trading hours, speeding up of price regarding machinery, Saturday holidays and shortened market sessions all have been tried and found wanting to meet the pressure that have been created by the enormous trading in stocks.

Bear traders have lost millions trying to fight the general trend because they could not correctly gauge the psychology of the market. As a result several reserve banks have sold securities thereby withdrawing funds from the market and have raised rediscount rates and permitted the expectation of nearly $500,000,000 in gold since last September, in an apparent effort to restrict speculative credit, but the market has swept on into new high ground.

Up to 1832 the whole of the theatre floor was "the pit," stalls being then introduced.

AIRPLANES AID NEW INDUSTRY

Transport Reindeer Meat From Far North In Record Time

Shungnak, Alaska, June 29.—(C.P.)—Alaska has found a new use for airplanes and, at the same time, a valuable aid in its growing reindeer industry.

Regular transportation of reindeer meat by airplane from this small native village in northern Alaska has been started by the Arctic Prospecting and Development Company of Fairbanks.

A company plane, the Arctic Prospector, was the first ever seen here and was the first to transport reindeer meat in Alaska. By a coincidence, Pilot C. P. Crawford also brought the first meal sold by the Shungnak Cooperative Company, recently organized with the assistance of the Alaska division of the United States bureau of education.

The natives were thrown into great excitement by their first sight of an airplane but experienced their greatest surprise when the chief of the Kopuk Indians, ancient enemies of the Shungnak Eskimos, climbed from the plane for a friendly visit. For years the Eskimos had feared the Kopuk tribe and as recently as two years ago mainled night guards to warn against any attack.

Much of the meat taken by plane from Shungnak will be sent to the Arctic Circle district, 150 miles south, where the prospecting company operates mining camps. A fortnightly service is planned for the summer months.

RECEIVE FIRST DIPLOMAS SOON

Commencement Address Will Be Spoken Over Radio

Seattle, Wash., June 29.—(C.P.)—Another milestone in educational progress will be passed on June 30 when members of the world's first Eskimo graduating class are presented their diplomas at White Mountain, Alaska.

Presentation of the diplomas will be marked by another precedent—a commencement address by radio from Seattle. The address, which John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, has been requested to prepare, will be broadcast from a local station.

To four Alaskan natives, Isaac Hewlin and his wife Jennie Newlin, a young married couple, Josephine Kalarak and Roger Mendelock, the first to complete the school's grammar and industrial courses, will fall the honor of receiving the first diplomas at the White Mountain school in Northwestern Alaska on Norton Sound, where there are fifty-three boarding pupils drawn from Point Barrow, the northernmost tip of Alaska and as far south as the lower Yukon. The institution, one of three maintained in Alaska by the bureau of education, opened in the fall of 1925 with five pupils and has grown until its present enrollment of fifty-three is all that facilities can accommodate.

In addition to the regular school courses, studies in practical courses on Alaskan industries are included in the seventh and eighth grade instruction.

WILL EXPLAIN FISH HATCHERY

Government Idea To Make Children Think of The Future

Seattle, Wash. (By C.P.).—Children of Washington are to be taught to befriend fish in special fisheries courses to be introduced in all state public schools next September, with the idea of teaching pupils the importance of the fishing industry and to make future generations sympathetic with the fisheries department programme.

The studies will include details show ing the growth of state hatcheries from two in 1904 to 11 at present. Explanation will be given of how more than 2,875,000,000 eggs were taken from fish from 1900 to April of this year, including 130,215,000 during the last fiscal years.

How 115,625,200 fry of all varieties of salmon and steelhead were liberated last year in state streams by hatcheries will be explained. Instructions will be given on the care and feeding of the 63,000,000 fry in rearing ponds and hatchery troughs and how the costs of $225,000 each year are collected by a license and a tax on each salmon caught for commercial purposes. The students will also learn that the fish are kept until they are four inches long and that their average life is four years, although some chinooks, which attain a weight of fifty pounds, are known to live seven years.

WOMAN'S DREAM IS MEDIUM OF SUCCESS

London, (By C.P.)—How a woman's dream sent the shares of the Channel Tunnel Company upward by 150 percent was told at the annual meeting of the company held here the other day. Sir Harry Emile D'Erlanger, the chairman, said a woman had a dream of the marvellous success of the company and next day instructed her brokers to buy heavily. The day after this became known the shares (which are of a 4s 6d nomination) went up from sixpence to 2s 3d.

The company for building a Tunnel from Dover to France has been in existance for over 35 years. It has a capital of £26,000, but practically nothing has ever been done toward making this tunnel. The Committee of Imperial Defence has always pronounced unfavorably against the scheme, consequently provincial interest has never been obtained.

Athens, Greece, June 29.—Formation of the cabinet and the formation of a government headed by Demetrios Vouzelos, former Premier, is expected as a result of the Liberal party with drawing its support from the administration.

One bit of Carelessness at the wheel

A whole vacation spoiled —perhaps worse

They left for their vacation by motor—all happy and free from care. This was the holiday they had planned months ago. But the driver took a chance—was careless or inattentive for just a moment. An accident! Vacation utterly ruined —perhaps worse.

It happens too often. Yet most motor accidents can be averted if drivers will only be constantly alert.

Again Ontario highways lure the holiday seekers. Because of the Canadian National Holiday on Monday and the American National Holiday on Wednesday, during this week-end over three million persons will be touring, or driving to the scene of their summer enjoyment. Automobile traffic will probably reach a volume never known before. The accident hazard will increase in far greater proportions.

The slightest bit of carelessness or inattention is a positive risk. Play safe always. The few minutes to be gained by taking a chance are not worth anything if risk is incurred.

The driver who maintains a reasonable, steady speed, gets there almost as soon—and gets there safely. The reckless driver, cutting in and out of traffic, now "stepping on it," now jamming brakes, gains little in time and is a constant danger to himself and to his passengers and other innocent people on the road.

During this week-end Traffic Officers and Municipal Police will be particularly vigilant and maximum punishment may be expected by all who receive a summons.

Remember These 7 Rules of Safety

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape—particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a full view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

LINERS CARRY LARGE SUPPLIES

Variety of Passengers Makes Lengthy Grocery List of Necessity

Vancouver, B. C., June 29—(C.P.)—When the big trans-Pacific liners leave here for the Orient they carry enough provisions for half a dozen weeks, but the must cater to tastes far more varied than even the most precious hostelries in this country. This is on account of the varied nationalities of the passengers. Foreigners, particularly orientals, make up a large proportion of the trans-Pacific travelling public and they demand as good service as occidentals.

The appetites of many of these navigators are governed by their religious beliefs, and have to be catered to accordingly. Such delicacies as shark fins, bird nests, snails and a host of other strange dishes have to be included in the menus of these liners. Followers of Confucius and Shintoism Buddhists, Moslems, Mohammedans, Rajputs, all have to be served.

Cattle, mangoes, peaches, fruit and various Russian foods which can only be pronounced by a Canadian with a hearty sneeze, are all found on the menu. The Chinese demand for "rice, more rice" is met by the purchase of three and a half tons of that commodity when one of the larger vessels leaves port.

The staple items carried by them alone for a single voyage aggregate: 24,000 pounds of beef; 17,000 pounds of flour; 17,000 eggs; 9,000 pounds of sugar.

PASSING OF TREES BRINGS PROTESTS

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.)—A recent open letter of the Ontario Society of Artists calls attention through its president, Pte H. Brigden, to a threatened removal of very old pines on the Clarkson Road, 20 miles from this city. The Government should see that the asset we have in our Province in the way of natural beauty is preserved. Even from the monetary standpoint a beautiful district may be as valuable as a gold mine or pulpwood section. The falls on the Montreal and Mississauga Rivers among the finest in Canada, with unusually romantic settling—power developments are proposed —these points of interest should have the same consideration as the scenic attractions of Niagara. Homer Watson and other artists brng a sad story of destruction. The veteran landscape painter whose pictures of the Grand River Valley have won him an international reputation has some backing from Dean with tales of the passing of the big trees.

"The Ontario Society of Artists will welcome any support which nature lovers of Canada can give to this movement to preserve what is still left of our magnificent heritage."

Lisbon, Portugal, June 27.—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, who made an unsuccessful attempt to fly to the Azores, yesterday, hopped off at 8 a.m. today for Horta, about 1,000 miles away. From there he intends flying to Trifted States by way of Halifax.

PILCHARD MEAL NEW INDUSTRY

Rivals Herring Meal Trade of Norway; Shipping To Germany

Victoria, B.C. (By C.P.)—British Columbia pilchard meal, produced mostly by plants on the west coast of Vancouver Island, is now competing strongly with Norwegian herring meal in Germany, according to advices received here.

From October to February of this year a total of 165,830 sacks of fish meal arrived at Hamburg from British Columbia ports. Whether the market will continue as good is doubtful because there has recently been a tendency on the part of Scandinavian meal manufacturers to cut prices.

The long steamers trips of from six to eight weeks from British Columbia to Germany is a difficulty in connection with the trade. Last year a large proportion of the shipments arrived in damaged condition owing to heat in the hold and other causes.

The pilchard meal industry is a comparatively new one in this province, having been established following the passage of a Dominion order-in-Council making it legal for the first time to use fish for other than human consumption. There are now twelve meal factories in operation off the west coast of Vancouver Island representing an investment of several million dollar.

A WILD BEAR WHO IS REAL IMPERSONATOR

Capilano, B. C., June 28.—(C.P.)—"Impersonation" is the latest charge to be brought against the black bears who frequently descend from the mountains on the North Shore of Vancouver Harbor and visit homes in North and West Vancouver and adjacent communities for a taste of domestic food. A Capilano woman for several days fed milk and honey to a big black bear which she took for the pet animal of Charles Anderson, who played at Second Canyon observation tower. The animal took the food as a bonus and should, but when the woman asked Mr. Anderson why his bear was allowed to roam at large so much, she learned that his captive had not been away from hops. She is now more wary of bruin visitors who may come from the wilds with sweet mein to deceive credulous housewives.

TOBACCO GROWN ON LARGE SCALE

Hungarians in British Columbia now Definitely Settled There

Abbotsford, B. C., June 27.—(C.P.)—A colony of Hungarians has established itself in the Lower Fraser Valley and intend to grow tobacco on a large scale. This is something that has never before been attempted in this section, but the Hungarians headed by John Kovacs, are confident of success.

About ten thousand plants are being set to the acres. On the farm in Hungary the crop would run more than a ton of dried leaf to the acre, seven tons being harvest from six acres. There is no reason why this crop should not be just as heavy here, according to these enthusiasts. They may be optimists, but they have no illusions.

"Yes, lots of work; we work all the time." Planting and cultivating goes on continually. Thirty-five acres for five men is the calculated limit—a few oats, garden crops and flowers near the house for the lady, cover the other acre."

With their own methods, their own tools, their own habits of labor, these short sun-browned men smile at the wind and grey skies. Not heed, but wind will cure the leaf; and every leaf of these 350,000 plants will be picked by hand and be strung up to dry. If their expected prices are realized there will be ample profits for buildings, improvements and recompense for the "all time work," they are giving the crop.

FLOATING PATROL "MOUNTIES" IN NORTH

Vancouver, B.C. (By C.P.)—Canada's "Far North", that long stretch of hinterland served by the Mackenzie river and the western Arctic, is to have this year a floating detachment of ten men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, including a wireless operator, for patrol and other work in northern waterways.

Their home will be a 95-foot auxiliary schooner with 150-horse-power engines and a cruising speed of eight knots an hour.

The boat, which has been named "St. Roch", was completed here in May and will leave Vancouver about June 18 for Herschel Island, headquarters of the Mounted Police in the western Arctic. She will carry provisions for the island as well as equipment for her crew.

THREE MINUTES TO MAKE GOWN

Toronto, Ont.—(C.P.)—A bridal gown made in three minutes!

To the audience at the convention of the International Association of Display Men held in this city, what appeared to be an "amazing act was performed by Herman Frankford, dean of the profession of designers, when he draped a model in a bridal full flow of satin and a hazy veil in that space of time. He laid out 16 yards of satin which he draped and folded over the model with the use of pins. He tacked on several yards of lace, and with the aid of a screw frame, fashioned a bridal veil.

Bridesmaids, maid of honor, and a model displaying the traveling gown of the bride, all were clothed after the same fashion in the average time of about a minute. And after, Mr. Frankethal told the convention that, although the gowns were held together merely with pins, they could be worn at a dance and could not be told from the finished creation of a designer. Forty years ago when he began his trade, he draped his first model with 12 gilt nails, he said.

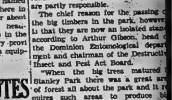

FOREST GIANTS DYING STEADILY

Big Parade to Tour City at Eleven O'clock Tomorrow Morning

Vancouver, B. C., June 21—(C.P.)—The stately forest giants of Stanley Park are fast dying out, and the fumes of automobiles which traverse the roads of the park in thousands daily are partly responsible.

The chief reason for the passing of the big timbers in the park, however, is that they are now an isolated stand according to Arthur Gibson, head of the Dominion Entomological department and chairman of the Destructive Insect and Pest Act Board.

"When the big trees matured Stanley Park there was a great area of forest all about the park and it requires such areas to produce big trees," said Mr. Gibson. "Now, however, only a small patch of forest remains and roads have been built through the park, exhaust from thousands of motor cars daily fill the air with their odors and all other conditions are against the monarchs of the forest. They will continue to put up a grand fight for a good many years but they are doomed." Mr. Gibson believes."

Twin Ignition
HIGH COMPRESSION
MOTOR
12 Spark Plugs [Airplane Type] instead of 6

The new "Twin Ignition" motor, in the new Advanced and Special Nash "400" models, is a truly amazing development in power.

It is a high-compression motor, with two ignition coils, instead of one, two spark plugs per cylinder, instead of one, 360 sparks per second at top speed, instead of 180, to thoroughly and economically burn the highly-compressed gases.

It sets a precedent in motor-performance among all motor cars.

Nash "400" Advanced Six models are now capable of 75 to 80 miles per hour with no effort at all.

Nash "400" Special Six models do 70 to 75 with consummate ease.

Drive a new Nash "400" and you'll see what Twin-Ignition and high compression have done to give the world a new and finer motor car.

OF course you would! But the opportunity will never be offered you because no one could afford to sell a house on such terms.

Yet, a $10,000 NORTH AMERICAN LIFE Endowment Policy offers you the same opportunity, except that you buy $10,000 in money rather than $10,000 in real estate.

You deposit money annually over a period of years set by yourself. When you have made your last payment you get the $10,000 you have bought, plus profits.

If you die—even after only one deposit—your wife receives $10,000.

You will find the NORTH AMERICAN LIFE Endowment Policy a most attractive combination of investment and protection.

We will gladly send you complete information showing its generous features. Send the attached coupon today.

Please send me full particulars about your Endowment Plans.

ARGYLLS MADE A FINE SHOWING

Inspecting Officers Pleased With Appearance of All Ranks

FORMER C.O.'S ATTEND

Field Manoeuvers At Fair Grounds—All Work Smartly Executed

After two months intensive training the 15th Argyll Light Infantry underwent the annual inspection before Col. Commandant W. B. Anderson, C.M.G., D.S.O., General Commanding Officer for Military District No. 2, last night. The parade was held at the Exhibition Park as well as on the floor of the armouries, both officers and men distinguished themselves and the fruits of the long period of training were reaped last night. Col. Anderson at the conclusion of the drill remarked on the splendid appearance of the men and stated that the previous reputation borne by the Argyll units was being upheld by the younger generation. He paid special tribute to Major Eric O. Kester, Officer Commanding the Argylls who recently was promoted, with Col. Roscoe Vanderwater having been attached to Brigade Headquarters. The inspecting officer spoke of the effect the training would necessarily have on the life of the young soldiers. They learn the disciplinary measures and to obey orders.

Recte March To Grenadier

Promptly at eight o'clock the battalion filed out of the armouries for the Fair Grounds led by the Argyll Band under the direction of Bandmaster H. Bradley. After proceeding up West Bridge Street the battalion formed across the Agricultural Field in attack formation. Only squad work up to meet an imaginary enemy and were reinforced by other members of the Regiment who silently stole along the ground to their assistance. When the manoeuvres had been completed the Battalion formed in column marched to the Grandstand where the inspecting officer viewed the marching past. Led by the band the men marched down past the stand several times, Col. Anderson receiving the salute each time. Lt.-Col. Willis, Asst.-De-Camp, also received the salute. Besides these, four military men who have been connected with the Argyll for many years, stood at Col. Anderson's right, as the battalion marched past. Col. Vanderwater, late Commanding Officer of the Regiment, now Brigade Commander, Col. W. H. Ponton, Lt.-Col. Barrager and Lt.-Col. Ketcheson, former Commanding officer of the 60th Battalion. The men then lined up and were individually inspected by Col. Anderson after which they marched back to the armouries. Here each Company Commander took charge of his men, issuing a number of

IMPOSING PROGRAM OF FIELD AND TRACK EVENTS ON DOMINION DAY

Employees of Point Anne Plant Rewarded For Safety Record

A monster day of sports is being planned at the Point Anne plant of the Canada Ceramic Company on Monday of next week. Track and field events, baseball games, quoits and in fact every conceivable form of sport is on the program for the biggest day of its kind ever attempted at Point Anne. The Committee have lost no time in lining up a program that will please not only those taking an active part but the spectators as well. Mr. J. H. Legate, Superintendent of the Point Anne plant, told The Intelligencer today that the Company is sponsoring the field day, providing the prizes and in fact the expense of the whole affair is being taken care of by the Canada Ceramic Company and the employees themselves will not be assessed one cent. This is in recognition of the fine safety record that has been maintained by the employees of the Argyll for many years, stood at Col. Anderson's right, as the battalion marched past. Col. PICNIC SUCCESS AT TOURIST CAMP

Ladies' Aid of Tabernacle Church Staged Pleasing Party

The Ladies' Aid of Tabernacle Church held a successful picnic on the Tourist Camp grounds, Dundas Street, yesterday afternoon. The weather was all that could be desired and the large number present found the camping ground an ideal spot for a picnic. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Noland the genial superintendent and his wife, for their assistance in making the event so pleasant.

Various games and contests were carried out under the able supervision of Mrs. J. F. Wardner and Mrs. W. Pearce. The following were the winners among the various contestants: ball game, Mrs. G. F. Lent's team; amusing pillow contest, Rev. Mr. McCutcheon's group; needle threading contest, Mrs. Blakely and Miss Mildred Laughlin; candle lighting contest, Mrs. McCutcheon and Mrs. Paul; ladies' race, Mrs. Lane; slow walking contest, Mrs. Spracklett; children's race, Margaret Lane.

About five o'clock everybody sat down to the table which was loaded with good things to eat. After satisfying a keen appetite brought about by exercise and fresh air the picnickers wended their way homewards feeling they had spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

SMITH IS CHOICE ON SINGLE VOTE

Democrats Select New York State Governor To Oppose Hoover

OPPOSITION WILTED

Convention Stampeded To Victor When His Election Was Assured

Houston, Texas, June 29.—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, was nominated today for vice president by the Democratic National Convention.

Houston, Texas, June 29.—Democratic nominees for president is Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York. The party standard was placed in his hands by the Democratic National Convention late last night. The roll call of states he was a handful of votes short of the two thirds needed to nominate, he was so near the mark that state after state broke away from their favorite sons when they heard reporting and wiel in a relay band was given rush to be the first to lay their support at his head.

Official tabulation after all changes of votes in favor of the leader had been recorded, gave the New York Governor 849 1-2 votes on the first convention. He needed but 729 1-3 to nominate.

Today the convention was called together to complete its work by selecting its candidate for Vice-Presidential.

Steady Dry Plank

Houston, June 29.—A pledge for an honest enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, a wide-open door for enactment of legislation to aid agriculture, and a scathing attack upon "Republican corruption" constitute the main for points in Democracy's 1928 platform declaration in dominant national issues, approved tonight by the convention in 8am Houston Hall.

Throughout the planned prohibition enforcement the shortest national platform of recent years—the Republican party of 1924, with repeated invitation given to its treatment of agriculture; its foreign policy, with especial reference to dealings with Latin America; its taxation and tariff systems, and its failure to enforce prohibition.

Law Enforcement

The law enforcement plank of the Democrats consists of only ten lines, saying as the outset that the Republican party has failed with respect to the duty of the Government, presented "the remarkable spectacle" of having compelled its apologize to the country for its failure to enforce the dry laws. They declare:

"Speaking for the National Democratic party, we unequivocally favor that party and its nominee to an honest effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment and all laws enacted for the enforcement of the Federal Constitution and all laws acted against intoxicants."

Approve Deep Waterways

Houston, Texas, June 29.—Democratic party, in a plank of the platform presented to the convention last night, declared for the improvement of the Mississippi river and tributaries to provide "deep waterways to the Gulf and to the Atlantic ocean."

Waterpower, waterways and flood control are linked in the plank which says in part: "We favor and will promote deep waterways from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and Atlantic Ocean.

"We favor fostering and building up of water transportation through improvement of inland waterways and the removal of discrimination against water transportation. Flood control and lowering of flood levels are essential to safety of life and prosperity."

VENIZELOS LIKELY TO TAKE CONTROL

Athens, June 29.—The Greek cabinet resigned today following the resignation of G. Kakaloudis, Minister of Finance. The latter had withdrawn because the Liberal party, dominated by the former Premier Venizelos, withdrew its support from the government. Venizelos is expected to take political crisis will be the formation of a Venizelos cabinet.

"NOT SO CALM"

Governor Smith Receives News At His House In Albany

Albany, N.Y., June 29.—After Governor Alfred E. Smith heard himself nominated for the Presidency last night he revealed that in fact he had not been as calm as he had seemed.

"My nomination on the first ballot," he said, "immediately after the balloting, "fills me with joy and satisfaction that I have are shared by family and friends and my heart is where my palate ought to be."

PASSING CAR IS CAUSE OF SPILL

Five Persons Bruised And Shaken When Motor Goes in Ditch

Edward and James Sadler, of Carleton Place, the former's wife, Miss Adelia Valaquette, Mrs. Stephenson, and a young child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sadler, were all more or less shaken up and bruised when the car in which they were driving, was turned into the ditch on Dundas street and ended its career against a tree near the Ontario School for the Deaf shortly after seven o'clock last night. The Sadler brothers are garagemen at Carleton Place, and were returning from Toronto. When nearing this city they were forced into the ditch by an approaching car.

Thomas I. Thomas, employed at the Ontario Pen Farm, who was proceeding in the same direction, attempted to pass the Sadler car. As he neared the car and another hove in sight and he stepped on the accelerator in an attempt to avoid a collision. As the car veered to the right his wheel on the axle of the Sadler motor, the driver lost control and the machine went spinning into the ditch. None of the occupants were seriously hurt and they were able to proceed to their homes by train early this morning. The car was left in the ditch and is still there awaiting repairs. Mrs. Stephenson was injured the worst, having sustained painful cuts to her head. Mr. Edward Sadler also received some bruises.

Traffic Officers Hinchcliffe and Prince investigated the accident and appeared in police court today with "driving in a manner dangerous to the public." The latter pulled to the count and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs which were $7.50.

REMIT TAXES ON ALBERT COLLEGE

For Years During Which Old Building Was Not Occupied

The City Treasurer and Tax Collector have been authorized to remit and repeal uncollectable taxes assessed against the properties of Albert College for the years 1925, 1926 and 1927 amounting to $263.61 and penalties attached being taxes on property becoming vacant and from which no revenue was received. The College is to pay taxes amounting to $260.45 and penalties on such properties for the time that they were occupied.

NOTED PLAYWRIGHT DEAD.

Vienna, June 29.—Leo Districhstein, noted actor and playwright, died in an sanitarium mad asergng last night from heart disease.

DON'T PARK ON FRONT ST. FROM 3 TO 6 IN MORNING

The police are taking stringent measures to stop the practice of parking cars on Front Street in the early hours of the morning chiefly from 3 to 6 a.m. The street sweeper operates during this period and with cars parked in the curb the cleaner cannot cover the whole pavement and often refuse is left in the road.

Signs have been placed at the Front Street hotels but often, tourists, unaware of the regulations, leave their cars parked in front of the particular hotel where they are registered. Police will tow all cars found on the street to the police station and summons will be issued against the owners. Leniency has been shown in dealing with the offenders up to date but the department are determined to stop the practice.

NOTED ACTOR DEAD

Robert Bruce Mantell

The last of the old school of Shakespearean actors, who died Wednesday at Atlantic Highlands, N.J., in his 71th year. As the leading man for Mme. Modjeska, he scored his first success in 1878 in the role of Romeo, but forsook heavier parts for a time and old time theatregoers recall him as a romantic actor. When almost sixty he started a Shakespearean repertoire and for the past fifteen years he had been looked upon as America's greatest tragedian.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF FREE SPEECH

Negro Pastors Plead For Equal Treatment of Coloured Races

Toronto, June 29.—The Baptist World Alliance Congress now in session here, is proving a welcome stamping ground for the negro element in the Baptists' Communion. Southern coloured pastors find the meeting of their church in Canada once a refuge for runaway slaves, a safe place to give eloquent expression to the longings of hearts of the Southern colored folks.

Rev. John Hope, of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the Alliance today contribution of colored people to the education of their race; launched into a discussion of the negro's contribution to politics and business and his future in the years to come. United States, he maintained, was making a political and civic leader in disregard of the negro from expressing himself in political and civic affairs.

"Unless this condition is changed," he remarked, "I expect to see my cousins back in more cohesive, more politics than it has ever been before even in the Civil War."

HOLIDAY DANCE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

No more fitting manner could be chosen to conclude the holiday than by a dance amidst the beautiful surroundings at the Bay of Quinte Country Club. With this in view the Entertainment Committee have arranged for a dance on Monday evening which is open to members and their friends. Tom Mason's orchestra, which has given general satisfaction at the dinner dances, will be in attendance and good music is assured. No matter how hot the day may have been dancing in the hall room of the club house, with the cool breezes from the Bay drifting in, is always a pleasure.

TRENTON CHOSEN

Date of Gathering To Be Announced Later—Elect Officers

Party Leader Has Promised To Visit This Riding During Ontario Tour

Honorable R. B. Bennett will speak in South Hastings probably in Trenton some time during the summer. At present Mr. Bennett is touring Quebec but he will be in Ontario during the next few weeks and has promised definitely that he will visit this riding although the date cannot be set for a week or so.

At an executive meeting of the South Hastings Conservative Association Trenton was selected as the place to hold the annual picnic and election of officers and Mr. W. E. Tummon, secretary of the association has been in touch with Mr. Bennett to see if it would be possible for him to appear here Mr. Tummon has received assurance that Mr. Bennett will come here if possible and will try to settle on a satisfactory basis

The new Conservative leader has been meeting with a wonderful reception in Quebec, in most places a half holiday being declared in his honor and enormous crowds listening to his addresses. Always recognized as one of the ablest orators in public life his leadership of the party during the past session has greatly enhanced his reputation and has elevated himself of most of his numerous business responsibilities and to devote his entire time and attention to public service. He is one of the most sought after speakers in Canada and his addresses are filled with an optimistic patriotism inspiring to all shades of political opinion.

Civic Welcome at Sherbrooke

Sherbrooke, June 29.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, was given a civic welcome to Sherbrooke yesterday. The hooks and silver bulldogs were bedecked with flags, and the city hall he was received by Ald. Robert Newton, pro-mayor, with the following address: "In the absence of our worthy mayor, Mr. J. S. Tetreault, I have been entrusted with the honor of extending to you and Miss Bennett the hearty welcome of the Queen City" of the Eastern Townships.

"Let me also express Sherbrooke's deep thanks and appreciation of the honor conferred on our city by your visit.

"I am sure that as leader of one of Canada's great political parties you will be cordially received by our people and the message you bring will be listened to with the attention it merits.

"We sincerely hope that this visit of yours, honorable sir, will be often repeated and that we will have the pleasure of welcoming you to Sherbrooke again in the near future."

Mr. Bennett replied.

Hope once more springs in the hearts of the Conservatives of the Eastern Townships, now that the germs had ever been eliminated even by successive defeats since 1896. Sherbrooke, the only fighting spirit was ever there, but to day the signs of a renaissance are to be seen on every hand with the brilliant tour of the Hon. R. B. Bennett, into the heart and the centre of this renewed feeling was exemplified at the annual meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association of the Eastern Townships, held here yesterday.

TRIO CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Toronto, June 29.—The police this afternoon arrested James Russell, Jack Rivers and Ronald Ribble, all young Toronto men, on a charge of assaulting and robbing Lionel Moon, Toronto taxi driver. It is alleged that three men engaged Moon to drive them out of the city and that early today while driving on the Dundas Highway, the driver was set upon, robbed and thrown out of his car. The trio were arrested as a constable in Toronto later recognized the number on the sedan they were occupying as the one belonging to the taxi reported stolen.

CONSTABLES GUARD HYDRO WORKERS ON "ABE'S" FARM

The Hydro Electric Power Commission is now at work on the line which is being built through the farm owned by Robinson, the brother of Lemuel and sister, Eliza near Eldorado. Sergt Roy Clarke of the Provincial Police headquarters staff, Belleville and Provincial Constable Pete Morris of Picton, are at the farm overseeing the operations and to prevent any trouble between the employees of the Hydro and the Robinson family.

It will be remembered that Charles Fil. Charles, a bailiff of Madoc village was shot while making a seizure of the Robinson family. Abe Robinson one of the brothers was arraigned on a charge of murder following the Charles' death and he was acquitted by the jury.

Mr. Justice Logie in the concluding statement at the conclusion of the trial called Robinson "a very lucky man" and intimated that he was the slayer of Charles St Charles.

When the Hydro commenced work through the country last year they knew ofthe Robinsons' attitude toward strangers and they were very about proceeding with the work. The Provincial Police stood on guard for several days last year but all was peace and quietness. The erection of the huge towers is being completed at the present time.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Great thoughts, like great deeds, come
No trumpet.
—BAILEY.

WHAT CHANCE HAS GOVERNOR "AL" SMITH.

Whatever lines were originally formed to oppose, at the Democratic National Convention at Houston, the nomination of Mr. Alfred E. Smith, Governor of New York State, as the party's candidate for the United States presidency, they were pretty well shattered before the delegates settled down to the balloting. In a state that has been notoriously hostile to him factionally, and in a convention where the anti-Smith forces, if scattered, were determined, and strong though by no means united, the name of Smith occupied the dominant leading position from the start. The most militant threat against Governor Smith's candidacy came from the southern and western states, and their opposition was based mainly on his known but somewhat misunderstood and sometimes misrepresented attitude towards prohibition; yet Mr. Smith's stand in relation to this issue is unmistakable. It has by him been defined without the slightest equivocation, and recent reiteration should have removed the last shadow of doubt and misunderstanding. What is equally clear, certain and important is that he is not a man who, in office, would ever allow his personal opinions to interfere with his exception of a duly enacted law.

What will contribute most to party cohesion is a sincere belief that if Governor Smith cannot be elected in November next, no Democrat can. It is unquestionably true that, with Mr. Smith as candidate, the Democratic party will have more promising evidence to win a supreme federal success than it has had for years. No candidate for the United States presidency has ever had a wider, and it may surely be said a better, publicity than has been given for months past to "Al" Smith. Nobody ever calls him Alfred Emmanuel Smith. After the multitude of biographical sketches that have appeared in a multitude of newspapers and other publications, everybody knows that he was born in New York City fifty-five years ago, and that he is a Catholic of Irish lineage. They know that his schooling ended at the age of 13 when his father died; that he sold newspapers in the streets, worked in a fish market and drove a truck to support his mother and sister; that he read and fitted himself for appointment to a clerkship in a public office in 1895, later was elected to the State Legislature, there rose to be leader of his party and Speaker of the Assembly, and so moved to the State Governorship and four-triumphal campaigns for re-election — triumphant even when he was beaten in 1920, for he polled 1,000,000 more votes than any other man on the Democratic "ticket."

Mr. Smith's career reveals a man of fearless integrity and possessed of a keen legislative and administrative judgment. Political opponents concede those traits, and likewise acknowledge that he has shown courage and directness in all his public work. One thing is certain. It is that the Republicans will not hold Mr. Smith's candidacy lightly. He is a shrewd and enlightened politician, and has dramatic qualities which will give a zest to the campaign. Between Mr. Smith and Mr. Hoover, the probabilities are that the personal issues during the campaign may become more exciting than the platforms of the respective parties. Both men are unquestionably of presidential calibre. "I promise you one thing," Mr. Smith said in tones who first chose him Governor of his state, "I'll conduct the Government of this state so that nobody in this audience will have to lower his head." An unblemished record stands to prove that he will keep his word, and with his known capacity to adapt himself fittingly to new situations it may be believed that were the same pledge that Mr. Smith gave when named for the office of Governor renewed, it would be as honorably fulfilled in relation to the presidency. That can be said with out partisanship and be applied to one candidate as to the other, for together they offer to their countrymen opportunity to choose between two men of proved probity and proficiency. But though personality may count in the coming campaign more than it has done for a long time, the outcome of the election is likely to rest on the people's judgment of policies and not of men.

BRITISH OUTLOOK IS BEST IN YEARS.

Some industrial expert recently expressed the opinion that England fronts the road leading to one of the greatest revivals of trade the country has ever known, notes the Montreal Gazette. This may be a pyrgo note of optimism not common to the British temper; yet there are many signs that, most encouragingly indicate that the national industries are at the beginning of a new era.

Among them, the shipment of gold from New York back to Great Britain, a total amounting to $41,000,000 since last December, is a straw which shows the direction of the stream. The demand for and absorption of more money in the industrial market is a good index.

In keeping with this signal also the returns compiled by the British Ministry of Labor clearly demonstrate that unemployment amongst insured persons during 1927 registered the lowest figure known during the past seven years. In 1921 the ratio of unemployment stood at 14.8 per cent. of the working population, whereas the returns for last year show it has dropped down to 2.8 per cent, a significant reduction.

RECENT THEATRE

Probably the most thrilling battle with a wolf ever staged in the screen is that in Fox Films release of "Shame," now at the Regent Theatre. In this fight, it is said, the brute was not hurt, and probably enjoyed the battle; but John Gilbert was clawed slightly. Art here is certainly served, despite a few scratches. Don't miss it.

BELLE THEATRE

Rin-lin-Tin, the Wonder Dog, is now appearing at the Belle Theatre in "A Race Horse." Warner Bros.' production directed by Ross Lederman. The sensational race track film is based on a story by Charles E. Condon. Virginia Browne Faire, Carrol Nye, Bobby Gordon, James Mason and Pat Hartigan are in the cast. This is the fourteenth Warner picture in which Rin-Tin-Tin has starred and is acclaimed as the most thrilling of all. Rin-Tin-Tin rocks the house with delerium.

the C.N.R.—marathon last year but was forced at the last minute to withdraw owing to illness in the family.

The Argyll Band of Belleville will be in attendance at the Recreation grounds where the sports will be held during the afternoon and will render a concert. The Port Colborne plant will install ball will try conclusions with the Point Anne team, the Planters are Girls' team of Toronto will cross bats with Bell Monroe's Point Anne Club, while the Alemite team of Belleville will play the Cement Company's hard-ball team. The Planters team gave an exhibition here some weeks ago and no doubt many fans will be anxious to see them in action again. The Port Colborne plant is reported as having a smart ball ball team.

The hard-ball game will be a regular day of Quinte League game. The Field Day will mark the opening of the Children's Playground at Point Anne. Swings, teeters, and other equipment has been installed and the committee will be given a chance to enjoy themselves under proper supervision during the summer months. The Tennis Club on the Bay of Quinte Club will play a regular game at Point Anne on the cement courts. Quoits and other games will have a regular place on the program as there are a number of adherents of this game at the village.

Mr. Legate stated that fully four hundred prizes are to be awarded for various events. Refreshments will be served free of charge to the youngsters on the grounds. The program is certainly an imposing one and the committees in charge are to be congratulated for their efforts. A member dance in the Parish Hall in the evening will conclude the affair.

SportOgrams

By "The Observer"

One of the tightest races in the Central Ontario League in recent years has developed with several upsets this week. The Belleville team were leading the parade by two games early this week but two successive reverses have altered the complexion of things considerably and they are now clinging to a narrow margin of one-half a game over Kingston, the second-place Club.

Kingston won from Deloro on Wednesday and advanced to within half a game of the Belleville team.

Oshawa who started the season in a blaze of glory have been falling badly and are now in third place, having won four and lost the same number of games. Deloro Club from whom better things were expected are occupying fourth position and Peterboro, the hard-luck club are in the cellar.

Peterboro played brilliant ball to wip from Belleville and Fred Craig, the newly-elected manager of the Petes appears to have perfected a winning combination at last. Fred Ashe, an outfielder by trade has been shifted to first base and "Hap" Harrison, who has been a luminary at first base since the Central League was organized has been sent to second. The combination certainly worked like the proverbial charm on Monday and the Petes may take on a new lease of life. Hardill pitched a masterful game against Belleville and is regarded as one of the league's best. Peterboro in winning this game incidentally broke the record held by "Hoot" Gibson, who in four starts had won four straight games.

Rumblings of dissatisfaction over the home-umpiring system have been heard and it has been hinted around the circuit that the present system has its disadvantages and a change should be made. The game at Belleville on Wednesday was marked by several outbreaks and the umpires were more or less at fault as they appeared to be none too conversant with the rules.

TAGGERS GET GOOD RECEPTION TODAY

Bright and early this morning the streets were dotted with girls selling tags, the proceeds of which will be devoted toward the Children's Aid Society and the summer camp at Consecrville. The streets were jammed with a large circus Day crowd and the response to the little girls plea for funds was a worthy one. The Children's Summer Camp will open next Tuesday and all of the youngsters at present quartered in the Shelter will be transferred to the Camp.

BANK MAY OPEN A POINT ANNE BRANCH

There is a possibility that a branch of the Bank of Commerce may be established at Point Anne in the near future. Mr. Frank McDonald is erecting a new store and the building may be partially occupied by the Bank of Commerce. Mr. Snyder, Manager of the Belleville branch, stated today that it was not yet confirmed but there was a strong possibility that a branch would be located there. The store is under erection at the present time, is of frame construction, and Mr. Mc. Donald will deal in a general line of products.

SERIOUS FLOODS IN JAPAN.

Osaka, Japan, June 29—A death roll of at least one hundred persons is reported from Western Japan where floods have been causing devastation and great property loss. It is estimated the property damage will exceed $5,000,000.

POLICE COURT

Adolphus Derry who has graced the dockets in the police court several times appeared again this morning, the date set for enlarged judgment some weeks ago. Chief of Police Jack Knell said that Adolphus be discharged as he had been assisting his wife since he had appeared and promised to render every help in the future. Accordingly he left the court room freed on the promise from the Chief that he would be arrested if he failed to comply with the agreement, regarding the care of his wife and family.

Lemandad Amelker West

A young girl who was picked up by the police on Tuesday night was this morning arraigned before Magistrate Mikel this morning on a charge of vagrancy. The call ordered another remand of the week and the girl was placed in charge of Thomas T. Ruston of the Children's Aid Society. She will, however, remain in the County Jail.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR CARMEL COUPLE

Miss Mae Reynolds read the following address on behalf of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Nolan.

Dear Friends:

We are assembled at your home to-night to congratulate you on your recent marriage and to wish you good luck, success, prosperity throughout your married life. You have lived many years in our community, have gone to school with a number of us, have helped in our entertainments and have grown up among us.

We feel we could not let the occasion pass, without expressing our good-will and esteem and we ask that you accept these presents as a remembrance of the many pleasant times spent among us.

Signed on behalf of the Carmel Community.

Primary—Mary Meagher.

Junior—Lavina Taylor, Mary Hunter, Lawson Gorman.

Senior—Vera Whalen.

Intermediate—Patricia Boyle, Margaret Savage.

Elementary—Helen Doyle, Dorothy Letia Prindle, Mae Reynold.

The young couple were taken by surprise and the bride made a suitable reply on behalf of herself and her husband, after which everyone joined in and sang "For they are Jolly Good Fellows"

A lunch was then served after which every one departed to their home, wishing the bride and groom a long and happy wedded life.

THREE GUNMEN GIVEN LIGHT TERMS IN LOCAL COURT

Results at Queen Mary and Prince of Wales Schools Announced-Community Camp Opens Monday

COMMUNITY CAMP AT MOIRA LAKE WILL SEE INVASION ON MONDAY

Preparations Made For Big-gest Crowds of Boys In History

IDEALLY SITUATED

Advance Party Report All Is Ready For The Opening

Monday morning will see a large and busy street of boys start off for their annual vacation at Community Camp at Moira Lake. The working party, which left the city a few days ago to put the Camp in readiness for the opening has returned and report that preparations have been made for the biggest and best camp of its history.

Moira Lake Boys' Camp is situated on Moira Lake, about two miles from Madoc, on the northwest shore of the lake. The famous stone called the 'Hog's Back', from which the lake took its first name, is a few hundred yards off shore from the camp. Protected from any cold north wind by a hill over one hundred and fifty feet in height, the camp is admirably situated. All tents are pitched on high ground, so that no matter how much rain there happens to be, there is little possibility of the boys tasting colds.

At the foot of the hill is the dining hall and the cook house, the latter under the charge of Fr. Alderman, camp cook. Mr. Alderman is a professional chef, so the boys should fare well as far as eating is concerned. A cabinet refrigerator has been made by carpenter's hobs in the hill at the back of the cook house, and is well nearby supplies the camp with fresh fresh water at all times.

Ten tents holding six boys each will be erected, and if more boys come later, more tents will be put up. The camp will be under the direction of Ralph Sketchley, the Shortt, with a staff of leaders from the Y's Men's Club. A camp paper will be edited, and bikes will be taken over the surrounding country. All in all, the boys will probably have the best two weeks of their holidays at the Moira Lake Camp.

PLAYGROUND TO OPEN ON MONDAY

East Belleville Play Grounds will open its gates on Monday to all the little folk who live in that district. The new supervisors will be in charge, Miss Louise Walbridge will instruct the girls in sewing, basketry, raffia work, story telling and folk dancing. Mr. Raymond Hall will look after the boys' sports and take charge of the boys. The play grounds will be open every day but Sunday, during the holidays from 9.30 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon.

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS

Piano pupils of Clive Cooper entered for the examinations at the Toronto Conservatory of Music held recently at Albert College were:—

A. T. C. M. (Teacher's Examination)—Winnifred Hinde.

Elementary — Helen Smith (First Class Honors).

COST HIM TWENTY-FIVE.

It cost Christopher Deline $25 and $7 costs for getting drunk last night, besides the cost of the party. William and Peter Claus were his guests. Deline supplied all the refreshments. After getting comfortably intoxicated, Deline, according to the other two gentlemen's story, persuaded them to go to the Police Station where his idea was a fine time. They were, so he got them arrested. He has done the same thing before, but this time a militia plan slipped up, for he was arrested as well, on the same charge of being intoxicated. Magistrate Mitel assessed the mixed drinkers more than the other two, probably as a punishment for bringing them from their home in Prince Edward, over here.

NOTED SURGEON DEAD

Hon. Louis Normand

Hon. Louis Normand

Physician and surgeon, ex-Mayor of Three Rivers, Quebec, and minister in the cabinet of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in 1921, who died at his home, Three Rivers, on Wednesday, after a brief illness. He was president of the third Congress des Medecins de Lan-gue Francaise de l'Amerique du Nord, 1908, and president College of Physicians and Surgeons, province of Quebec, 1907. He was president of the Privy Council of Canada in the Meighen government. He was defeated by Hon. Jacques Bureau in the general election of 1911 and 1921. He is survived by a large family.

PLOT TO HOLD UP BANK FOILED

Three Men Threw Taxi Driver Out Near Mountain City

Toronto, June 30.—Three young men, Robert Riddell, J. Rivers and James Russell, all of this city, were arrested today following an alleged theft of a motor car from a taxi-cab driver near Waterdown. When questioned they stated that they were on their way to rob the Wellesley and Church street branch of the Royal Bank. When searched the trio were found to be armed with two .32 revolvers and a toy pistol.

We intended to rob that bank or some other bank in the morning," was one of the men. The driver of the taxi was thrown out of the car near Waterdown, given $15 and told to keep quiet about it for two hours, and the car would be returned to him.

The men are charged with theft and conspiracy to rob a bank. The constable who made the arrest, Geo. D. Crawford, has been a member of the police force for less than five months and was congratulated by Chief of Police Draper on his good work.

ARCHBISHOP DEAD

Rome, June 30.—Cardinal John Tacci, Archbishop of Nices, is dead at the age of 64.

BIG ENTRY LIST FOR SWIM DERBY

With a goodly number of entries already in and quite a number expected on or before the race takes place, the first swim of this year's event gives promise of being a real competition in every age group. The girls' race will be of especial interest with both last year's winner Bert Gilling, and James White will be entered in their respective events. The latter is pitted against each other this year. So far the Juvenile section has the largest number entered with 20 entries are expected to round out the Junior and Senior sections of the race. This year's list contains three entries who have been winners or leaders in their respective group on previous occasion. These are Miss Margaret Smith, winner of the ladies' section last year; Miss Jessie Barnhardt, winner of the 1926 race and Lawrence Oliphant, winner of the Junior race, will be well represented in the list of prize winners.

Seven local runners will participate in the Junior and senior road races which take place at Deloro on the morning of July 1st. Lawrence Gray, Lawrence Wray, Farley Faulkner, Bert Gilling, and James White will represent their junior club in the event while Ralph Champagne, Clifford Howie and Jack Carter will be conducting the senior run. Mr. William Gerrie, a member of the 'y' Business Men's Club, himself an old McGill track man, will go up in charge of the local entries. A crack bunch of runners from Belleville will be able to pass on a lot of useful information and helpful hints to his charges and it is not too much to expect that the Belleville contingent will be well represented in the list of prize winners.

SEVEN RUNNERS IN DELORO ROAD RACE

LEADER URGES RACIAL AMITY

Hon. R. B. Bennett Blames Liberals For Exodus To U. S.

PARTY'S RECORD

Urges For Peace Between English And French Speaking People.

Asbestos, Que., June 30.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., unveiled monuments erected at Danville and Windsor Mills to the memories of the soldiers of the neighborhood who died in the Great War, and noticing that the list of names contained those of French races was led to comment sternly those who raise racial and religious strife. The leader came into Richmond-Wolfe County today, travelling through with J. N. Pentlon and Dr. Wm. Hayes, and have left for the John-Manville Company.

"Sometimes wicked men and women," he said, "are people trying to make them think that because one man is English he has no place in his heart for those of the French tongue," said Mr. Bennett. "That is a terrible thing to do. It is a sin. We have let people live together in amity. We have but one soul to save and one life to live, why should it not be something to be frowned upon for men on public platforms or in their pew or the language should not against some one because he is an enemy of our race and religion. Think some of yours whose service are remembered as having died for Canada, should be the lesson for us to enable us to live together in peace. As you of another language and race look at me you can see clear that I have no horns and no cloven foot. The constitution guarantees to French Canadians every thing they hold most dear and behind the constitution stands all the power of the British Empire. Those who attempt election time try to rouse you against men of another race are trying to harm you. What kind of a peace is it we are to have in Canada? Canada is going to be just what we make it. Do we want to make it a happy and united country? If so, we must look for the false claims when are not ours.

As we develop our country we must bear in mind that these great resources are all given to us to make for our comfort and happiness. We are happy so that there will be work for all at home. It is not well to have emigration. The government has failed. It means something has gone wrong if people leave this country. We must get out of this country by co-operation to farmers and with each other to develop it which can be grown or manufactured here. Even if you do not with me politically, I appeal to you upon me as a fellow-Canadian."

Mr. Bennett, speaking later in the day at Asbestos, to a large meeting reiterated his condemnation of racial prejudice and then spoke of the record of the Conservative party, as the accomplishment of Confederation, the building of the C.P.R. and the laying down of a national policy. The policy was the Canadian policy in 1878 and in 1891, in which latter election the Liberal party had stood for unrestricted continental free trade. Fortunately for the country, when the Liberals had come into power in 1896, power had been surrounded by able men, such as Tarte and Fielding, and they had decided to copy the work of the master.

BANK BANDIT IS TAKEN BY POLICE

Toronto, June 30.—Frank Davis arrested in Detroit yesterday on a charge of robbery while armed and receiving stolen bonds, is wanted here in connection with the hold-up of the McCaul Street branch of the Standard Bank of Canada on April 26 last when $25,000 in cash and bonds was stolen by two men who entered the bank and held up the staff at the point of revolvers, it was announced by Inspector of Detectives George Guthrie here late yesterday.

BLUEBEARD HELD

Is Accused of Murdering Three Fiancees; 15 Missing

Marseilles, France, June 30.—Pierre Ray, the alleged Bluebeard of France, accused of the murder of three fiancees, was arrested in Algiers yesterday. Some of the 15 women he is thought to be missing turned up, but the police believe the other victims will be found when they investigate the correspondence of "The Stranger".

ACQUITTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Henri Rivard Native of Quebec Freed At Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, June 30.—Henri Rivard, native of Three Rivers, Que., was acquitted in Assize Court today of the murder of William Hoffman, on May 5 last, after only hours of January 1 last. The jury the verdict of not guilty met with the approval of Mr. Justice Gregory, the trial judge.

The evidence showed that a party of men who had been drinking came to Rivard's shack from a New Year's celebration. Rivard tried to get rid of the party and finally, he testified yesterday, he got his rifle down to shoot his tormentors.

The rifle knocked against the banister, he said, and discharged. Evidence of witnesses showed that Rivard exclaimed: 'You boys drove me to it.' Rivard went as he gave his evidence. He was on friendly terms with the dead man, he said, and intended no harm to anyone. The man, according to the jury, whose verdict of not guilty was rendered with charge in court.

Rivard worked here for years as a cook and more recently had been trading in the northern posts.

SIX PERISH IN WESTERN STORMS

Nashville, Tenn., June 30.—Scattered reports from middle Tennessee and Kentucky today showed that six persons had been killed and millionaire dollars damage caused by the torrential rains and windstorm that swept the two states yesterday.

The breaking of Cookeville's Municipal Power Dam on the Falling Water River sent a huge wall of water down the narrow valley toward Caney Fork River, but did not cause any deaths as far as could be determined.

FISH HOOK PIERCED YOUNG LAD'S EYE

Kingston, June 30.—A little girl playfully swinging a fishing line as she cast on the waters of the St. Lawrence River, accidentally threw the line toward Frank Barnes, Scranton, Pa., aged eleven, so that the hook pierced his right eyelid and missed puncturing his eye by the merest fraction of an inch.

CROWDS ATTEND SPARKS' CIRCUS

Clean, Bright, Snappy Show Was Well Received Here

Sparks Circus surely lived up to its advance billing as the "World's largest three ring circus on parade," as was evidenced from the thousands who thronged the streets to witness the parade and afternoon display. Long lines of animal and tableaux wagons replendent in gold and silver were numerous and from these the white mule ago has replaced "old Dobbin had their every appearance. For a finer collection of dapple grays and thoroughbreds was never seen on our streets.

The afternoon performance was given before a crowded house in the big hillside tent located at the Regular Circus grounds. The opening number of the "big show" program is "Lora," a lyrical fantasy of the Far East with a cast of 500 human and animal performers, features Alice Sohn, prima donna and Georgie Sohn, concert band leader. It was tunefully conceived and harmonious in the last degree.

Feature acts were plentiful in the program and they included Mlacahua, "Brazilian Wonder Girl" on the high Wire; the Alexander Troupe of acrobats, eight in number; the Hollis-Mc-Cree riding group featuring Rienie McCree, world's funniest riding comedian; the Manickli troupe of oriental acrobats and Ella Balaszine; the Spaulding Trio and Roy Alexander and Co., hilarious comedy. Four Wesley's performing tigers; Capt. John Bull-taylor's fighting lions; Madam Hamilton's Indian leopards and Madam Rus-tan polar bear. There were rope walking by Miss Ella Bonn, bike riding and back riding baboons. Elephant display occupied all three rings and four bats, Billie Burton and Jammie Grays put them thru their paces with grace and rapidity. Horse displays were plentiful including three liberty groups with Prof. Mayo's sixteen "ensaline" thoroughbreds in the center ring. Fancy gaited displays featured Lorain Castel, famous "rear-less" equestrienne; Ione Carl riding "Kentucky Jean" and Della Boudinot on "Silver Boy" and Lady Fashion," black bobtail dancing horse was ridden by Bert Mayo. Other featured riders include Billie Burton, Gladys Harrington, Zabe Lewis, Marian Stanley, Ruby Hendrix Lorain Grey and Alice Foster. Roy a sensational high jumper, also made a remarkable high jump, being cleared by Ione Carl. Besides these there are twenty other displays, not overlooking the huge contingent of really funny clowns headed by Paul Wenzel. Joe Lewis, Slim Conley, Cy Compton, Fewee, Harvey Spaulding, Ray Gluan, Reno McCree, Billie White and a host of other funmakers were prominent in the clown displays.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Every thought which genius and piety throw into the world, alters the world.

—EMERSON.

VALUES ARE TWISTED AND REWARDS UNFAIR.

One of the outstanding factors of the recent convention of Rotary International, held in Minneapolis, was the large place which was given in its deliberations to the subject of international peace. Those who are outside the Rotary movement have little opportunity of learning fully what its aims and objects are. To many, it is but a luncheon club, meeting weekly, and taking up matters of interest and importance to the community it serves, and in that field the Rotary clubs are doing splendid work. But the wider significance of the movement has yet to be fully recognized by the general public.

One of the objects of Rotary, known as the sixth object, is to promote a better understanding among the people of the world, which is one step reaching the ultimate goal of universal peace. This is one of its ideals, and at international conventions, it is only natural that it should have a large place on the agenda. Rotary, as is known, is made up of the prominent business, commercial and professional men by clubs, so that it can be taken to represent the progressive thought of each community and each country in which it is established. The fact that Rotary now has a large place in forty-four countries of the world, and is rapidly spreading its influence and activities in all these countries, points to the part it can play in promoting international understanding. After all, public poition is but the mass expression of the thought and ideals of individuals, and the growing force of the ideals of Rotary in the forty-four countries in which it is established can achieve much towards the much-desired object of world wide and lasting peace.

ROTARY TAKES PAR FOR WORLD PEACE.

Sir Philip Gibbs, always an interesting writer, and with a frank manner of saying what he thinks, is deeply perturbed at the way things are going in this feverish generation. In effect, he says that the age has developed a craze for lego worship and ideas that bode ill for civilization. The modern world, he opines, is brazen-throated in its vociferous adulation of athletic feats and physical courage, while it has scant regard for the finer flavors of life which betoken courage of another sort. Accepting his dictum, our estimate of values is all of focus, so that intellectual achievements are looked at through the small end of the telescope by the crowd, which reserves its loudest plaudits for those record-breaking feats of nerve and muscle that lend a thrill of excitement to the sportive chronicle.

As Sir Philip sees it, popular applause goes "to plump ladies who grease their bodies and swim an awfully long way; to chunk-headed lads who can hit a ball further than most others or give a quick upercut to the jowl of a pugilist," to expert golfers, tennis players, cricketers, sprinters, baseball champions, and to big-daring aeronauters upon the stadium track or in the clouds. Republishing the suggestion that he would fain be a spoil-sport, this writer admits that these heroic displays have their claim to recognition, afford pleasure to huge multitudes, and rightly received, are an excellent factor of the social habits and national life. As the sage, he thinks that this fund hero worship of brute strength and physical endurance can be overdone. He says that "too much reward comes to men or women who work with their brains rather than their muscles, and who devote their lives to the good of humanity or to scientific research and the quest of truth."

In short, the greatest benefactors of the race, the men and women who are really exercising the quality of leadership, devoting their talents to the conquest of disease, to the facilities of world-wide converse, and to the better fellowship of nations, must for the most part make up their minds to work in comparative silence and obscurity, and remain content with the reflection that virtue is its own reward. Such souls seldom get within view of the grandstand. With pleasantry, and in serious tone, betimes a touch of ironical humor, Sir Philip Gibbs pictures the tremendous crowds that attend upon any sporting event, paying down gladly almost fabulous sums of money to witness their favorites in action. Side by side with this overstrained sweepstake emotion is placed the fact that not one person in ten thousand has ever heard of the American woman who isolated the germ of sleeping sickness, and John Baird, the inventor of television, has had to conduct his experiments in poverty and illhealth. Nobody has offered to endow him or provide him with his bread and butter.

There is truth enough in this indictment to render it serviceable by-way of friendly caution. When it is considered that as much as a hundred thousand dollars is paid a pugilist for each minute he is pummelling his antagonist, whilst the Speaker of the British House of Commons, or the President of the United States, does not get that much during any year of his office, the erratic slant and lopsidedness of public judgment speaks for itself. Yet it will be a long time before the mob ceases to shout for the exploits of a Jamaica, or in any practical way expresses its preference for the quieter modes of social service which Sir Philip rightly brings to attention. There is compensation, however, in the reflection that good work never depends upon popular plaudits, and the high services rendered register their values apart from any material rewards, just as living seeds beautify and enrich the earth in their silent vigor. And time, which sifts all values, oft brings about a reversal of human judgments. Yet in this plea for intellectual leadership and a more balanced appreciation of the elements which make for human progress, Sir Philip Gibbs has uttered a word in season.

MOONRISE.

I lift a mystic wineglass,
'Tis scene old;
The wine that roams within it
Is sunset gold.

I raise it like a chalice
Before my eyes,
And from the depths a bubble
Doth softly rise.

It sparkles with the sunlight
Of earth when young,
And waltzes to a music
Was never sung.

My soul would drink such potion
With wild delight;
It is the moon that riseth
Into the night.

—T. F. Harkness Graham, in the Scotsman.

THE PASSING YEARS
(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

Mrs. Harry Hampton, Dumbar St., left today for a visit to friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dale of Madoc are in the city.

Mrs. H. E. Murphy has purchased property on Power Avenue and will again take up her residence in the city.

Dr. Walker, who returned from California some time ago has resumed the practice of his profession in Belleville.

Mr. F. P. Conger, who has been visiting here for several weeks left today for Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harlow, Stirling are in the city.

Miss Agnes St. Charles of this city has graduated with great distinction at Loretto Abbey, Toronto, taking first class honors in instrumental music.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Saskatchewan travelers report seeing thousands of little snakes wriggling across the highway. This phenomenon is not confined to Saskatchewan.—Ottawa Journal.

With a new rubber bumper it is said that a motor car running 30 miles an hour may strike a tree without damage, which, of course, indicates that it could kill a pedestrian without jarring the driver.—Boston Transcript.

Within a very short time fifteen flying clubs will have been established in Canada, and the practice of dropping in on friends will have become a still further actuality.—Brantford Expositor.

English, according to statistics, is used by more people than any other language. And a good deal of it sounds like "used" English.—Border Cities Star.

WHO'S WHO AND HEARD THESE?

She—"Now what are you stopping He—(as the car comes to halt) — "I've lost my bearings."

She—"Well, at least you are original Most fellows run out of gas."

He—"I tell, you darling, my love for you is driving me mad."

She—"Well, keep quiet about it, it's having the same effect on me."

"Mamma and Papa think we ought to wait at least a month before getting married."

"Aw, I hate those long engagements."

"So do I—but we have to give them enough time to find a larger apartment."

An impetuous inspector who was visiting a provincial school was much worried by the noise of the scholars in the next room. At length, unable to bear the uproar any longer, he opened the door and burst upon the class. Seeing one boy taller than the rest in the room, and placed him in a chair, saying, "Now, sit there and be quiet!" Ten minutes later a small head appeared round the door, and a very little voice said, "Please, sir, you've got our teacher!"

Just Stories

Genius, according to The Mentor Magazine, sometimes needs encouragement. Seldom is greatness foretold. One's contemporaries, it seems, simply refuse to see promise where nothing much has been requested of one. Take Beethoven, for instance. Having a certain inherited tendency to hardening of the oculies of the ear, if his pet cria lyd consulted a "vocational expert" it is scarcely to be imagined that they would have received encouragement to give their son a musical education. The malady overtook him relatively young, but it did not halt his becoming the Shakespeare of music. As for Shakespeare himself, no "literary deer-slayer" could have secured credentials from any schoolmaster in England in his day.

Herbert Spencer was backward in his studies and in very poor health as a youngster. One biographer says: "Naturally he was extremely disobedient and contemptuous of authority." Yet without money, without special education, without health he produced eighteen volumes . . . and set forth a profusion of new and original ideas when he became a man." Sir Isaac Newton was a most unpromising child, with frail body and poor eyesight, who "showed no aptitude for study."

The judgments of his fellow citizens were not at all complimentary to Walt Whitman: in fact, probably no subsequent genius was more generally look ed at askance. The writer of these lines heard a cultured man, who had known Whitman for years, describe him as "he looked like a great unkempt lazy loafer." Poe, dismissed from West Point, slipped around from employment to occupation until almost all his acquaintances, among them Thomas R. Grant, selling stowwood from a wagon in St. Louis, probably looked as if he had already unconditionally surrendered to fate himself.

Even the name of the lightning brain and Vulcan-like shape, never would have been picked by a Yale class as "the one most likely to do most credit to his fellow men." The list is start ling: Ralph Waldo Trueger, Steven son, John Burroughs, Nietzsche, Mc hammed, Lincoln . . . all branches of human activity are summoned to demonstrate that You Never Can Tell.

APPROVE MERGER OF MOTOR FIRMS

Pierce Arrow Directors Make Formal Decision— Shareholders To Vote

Buffalo, N.Y., June 30.—Directors of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company today approved a merger with the Studebaker Corporation. Announcement of the action, which was made after a meeting of the directors said that a new holding company would be formed to take over the plants, properties and assets of the two companies valued at $180,000,000. Studebaker, it was announced, will acquire a substantial interest in the new company.

Before the merger can become effective it must have approval of its stockholders of the Pierce Arrow Company. Directors of the Studebaker Corporation approved of the merger June 26.

Reviewing conditions which confronted his organization soon after the Great War, Myron E. Forbes president of the Pierce Arrow, in a statement said the company's future hadbee able to utilize its expanded manufacturing facilities. It was fitting he said, that the merger with the Studebaker would give the Buffalo plant an expanded output and lead to a stronger financial position than had been possible with a smaller output.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

To the Editor of the Intelligencer:
Dear Sir:

About time ago there was a letter in your paper re unnecessary noises that the public are compelled to endure, we together with thousands of others heartily agree with the writer.

We now have secured a reconstruction era, when "Reforms" are the order of the day, but the intolerable some of the unpleasant unnecessary things that are on the nerves and health of the people.

We believe one of the most nerve-disturbing noises we have to endure is the screech of our railroad engines which blow so unmercifully day and night disturbing thousands of people of a peaceful night rest. Many of our people have left the city for quieter city but the noise of so many trains is very disturbing for a nights rest.

We believe that this noise should be eliminated thus giving them no cause to blow their shrill whistles but in case of a level crossing they should be so well guarded that the noise of the train (which itself is very great) and the ringing of a bell with the sign slam of the gates are sufficient without blowing their terrible whistles so long. It has been said by many cities in Europe that they are not allowed to blow their whistles inside the Corporations.

Could not something also be brought about here? Could not an appeal be sent to the heads of our railway systems requesting that this evil be done away with, thus bringing about a much needed [illegible] re?

People who have lived near the tracks for years say they cannot get used to the shrill whistle at night, it always wakens them. This is very wearing on the nerves and health and are so many trains.

We invite discussion on this import ant subject as of something cannot be done.

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper.

Quietness.

BEAVERS TOURING.

The Beavers Soft Ball team left at one o'clock today by motor for Toronto where they will play an exhibition game with the Printers Pennants team at Oakwood Park, tonight. The Beavers will continue to Western Ontario playing games at Guelph and Galt on the holiday. "Babe" Vincent, the renowned Peterboro pitching ace, will share the pitching duties with Hank Maltby Gray, the best of the Beavers' corps. Manager Alan Meagher is taking a strong team along and the Beavers hope to win every one of the games on the road and show Western Ontario fans what class of ball is played in the East.

$130.10 PROCEEDS

Despite the inclemency of the weather the Children's Aid Society realized $130.10 from the Tag Day yesterday. The laggers did a thriving business in the morning but the rain of the afternoon was detrimental and few of the girls were out. Miss Harris, Matron of the Shelter, Capt. T. D. Runton, Inspector; and the C. A. S. Committee wish to thank the ladies who assisted in the Tag Day.

CRACK GOLFERS COMING

Mr. R. J. E. Graham, President of the Bay of Quinte Country Club announced today that Bob Henderson, of Oshawa, champion of Bay of Quinte Course; the Oshawa Professional, Mr. Abbott, of Peterboro, and the Peterboro professional will play an exhibition foursome at the Bay of Quinte Club next Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Abbott, of Peterboro played the Peterboro Course in 77 last year which was an new record. All of these men are crack golfers and no doubt many will be on hand to witness this match.

TEN DAYS IN JAIL.

Ben Wright, giant negro with the Sparks Circus appeared before the Cadi in Police Court this morning charged with stealing a raincoat and a hat. Ben hails from Macon, Georgia, and down South they have no worries from cold rains like we had here last night. So impressed were the officers, that everyone, including the magistrate decided he should have ten days on the hill to get warm, and then be deported back to his "Sunny Gawgia."

ARRESTED AGAIN

Harold Barnum, who was arrested for being intoxicated less than a week ago was arrested last night by Sergeant of Detectives J. Trunlich, accompanied by Sergeant Booth, and appeared this morning charged with assaulting a little girl under the age of eleven years. The girl was taken to the hospital in the ambulance by Sergeant Booth while Sergt. Trunlich took Barnum to the Police Station Magistrate Mikel remanded him for a week and a more serious charge may be laid against him.

PLAN WAS "SPIKED"

Wonderful neighborly spirit was shown last night by a resident of Wharf Street, who, having a grudge against the people next door, started to plant "spikes" on the neighbours driveway, in the middle of the night. The neighbour happened to be awake, however, so called the police to investigate. It ended by the high-minded neighbour being ordered to pull up all the "spikes" he had planted.

ESSEX Super

A first

to which there is no second

Reports from the distributors and dealers all over the country show that the preference by which Essex outsells all "Sixes" has established its first place so far ahead that there is no second.

You need only see and ride in the Essex to share this country- and world-wide conviction.

As you lounge in the roomy, high-backed form-fitting seats, every evidence of quality and comfort surrounds you.

You have before you every control in their most natural and handy place. And all about you, the paneling, the weather-stripped doors, the silenced body construction, the floor-matting and the hardware in graceful silvery patterns speak quietly and certainly of quality.

In this and such things as the black rubber, steel-core, finger-scalloped steering wheel, the worm and tooth disc steering mechanism and the vertical radiator shutters, Essex visibly duplicates costly car practice, as it does also in the hidden things you never see.

NO HOME COMPLETE WITHOUT BOOKS

"Books," said Thomas Bailey, who said that a room without pictures is like a room without windows.

Well, if pictures are needed in homes how much more so are books. Is there a modern home called "up-to-date" without books, in which the family has not acquired the habit of reading, day after day, night and during the long, silent winter evenings, the dignified ideal of what a home should be.

The proposition of "books which fail to satisfy the standard" is probably large.

The family parents have the widest range of "tastes" for developers, and stories and popular novels in somehow "highbrow" and "lowbrow" individuals a distaste for the best authors has been induced by the prescribed reading which was forced upon them during school days.

A great many people who are at a loss what to do with their spare time will turn to a book only as a very last resort. A complete rest, they think, means trying to make the mind step wording. They fail to realize that also the activity of the brain never ceases, not even in sleep.

Recreation is best obtained by a change to something different!

A good title to start is: A book can re create you comfortably and easily and conveniently.

In your many chats, a book you have not read can take you into a new world.

Books possess the unique faculty of interesting, exciting, informing, and should contain, A small collection of the best books is a "must" in every home. A large library may be imposing, but a few shelves of good books that are personally read soon take on a friendly, home like assimilating

Americans tend to love their tales for quiet pleasures like reading. They are too active, too hectic in their pursuit of novelty and thrills.

Pleasant evenings at home with a book ought to be the rule. Pipe, and the thrills that you like, that suit your mood of the moment. Then you will never be bored with books.

Don't make a stunt of reading.

There are books on every conceivable subject. Choose those that will entertain and give you pleasure always.

You will soon learn also that the best works of the standard authors will give you the deepest and most lasting satisfaction.

Do not of necessity make this your rule.

Read for pleasure and relaxation first and always.

You will crave the more sterling values in books soon enough. It will be a great day for you when you do.

But don't forget to include books in your scheme of life.

Nothing quite equals a good book.

A HUSBAND AFTER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

A First Choice For Summer

"Girls like you don't marry men solely because they are handsome, and Malcolm Ware is handsome. But the character of this man (—what he said and left unsaid. His uncle told you that. I told you, too,

"Well, I married him. That's all." He reached out and gripped her arm.

"Tell me, this morning, and speak the truth to me, Celia," he threatened you, did he not?" He forced you into this alliance. Oh, I know Dick Palconer, and his methods. . . . And I wasn't there to protect you!" he added bitterly. "Oh, why did I have to go to Alaska and leave you at the mercy of this beast!"

He was on his feet again.

"Where is he?" he asked grimly. "Palconer and I have a score to settle. And it's going to be settled this night!"

CHAPTER 32.
THE PARTING.

Celia saw the supreme, the determination, in Annesley's eyes. He would find Palconer, unless she did something drastic. His eyes were dark and hard and brilliant with determination.

"Oh, no, no! You mustn't! I married him because—because I wanted to."

He gripped her slim shoulders and looked into her face. Then he turned her head herself to return his glance.

"You mean—you love him?" he asked slowly, incredulously.

He held her in that grip for a long moment. Then his hands fell to his sides. He turned away.

But, in that moment, Celia heard a woman's voice behind her:

"Oh, look, girls! Here's that dogwood! I must take some home for the living-room."

Celia turned her head and saw three women, all neighbors of hers, coming down the path. Instantly their avid eyes on Annesley. She realized that they had witnessed that little scene. They had construction they were putting upon it.

But what had brought them here at the hour, and the world was grossiping over the tea-cups?..... Sh knew! Mrs. Papa had telephoned.

She said to Annesley: "I think we'd better go now."

And he answered, still not looking at her:

"Yes, I think we'd better. All has been said that needs to be said, Celia."

They walked out of the park in silence and proceeded along the street until they found a taxi. Annesley hailed it.

"To the station," he told the driver. "But your train won't leave for hours," Celia protested.

"It is better that you leave me as soon as possible," he answered. "I'm afraid that you met me at the train, and that I didn't telephone your house, as I had planned. That might have made difficulty for you. I'll see his wife was a trifle strained, "I want you to know nothing but happiness

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby' -Babies Have Nerves-
By RUTH BRITTAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to over-excitement during infancy, caused by parents. Baby is a work of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be tossed up with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Prettiness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a dose of Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package or you don't get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

SINCLAIR'S

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl in my early teens. I met a young man a few years my senior. I like him very much and have had several dates, but here lately when I see him he never speaks to me and if he is on the other side of the street he never looks and speaks to me. What shall I do?

LONESOME AND BLUE.

LONESOME AND BLUE: The wisest thing is to say dear, I like him. If nothing has happened which should cause him wrong, and I am sure you are doing nothing wrong, he is trying to play his attention.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

About six months ago I met a young man about two years older than myself, and I am slightly behind that although I have met so many fellows this is the only one for whom I care. I go over to his house and I think a great deal of his family, and they love me.

This boy friend of mine is very quiet and does not say much. How can I find out if he cares for me as his family says he does?

SUNNY.

SUNNY: He's probably bashful. Sunny, but you're fortunate, for the quiet boys who take awhile to make up their minds, are usually the staunchest and bravest and most considerate. Don't try to force a declaration from him for some time it will come out as simply and naturally as can be imagine. Woman's wit about helping you to see if and the subject around to where you want it, my dear, and then—well, never fails if you "play your cards" rightly.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my late teens. I have been in love with a married man three years my senior. He holds a very responsible position and has lived near me for quite a while, and I have learned to think very seriously of him, since our friendship together. Do you think he cares for me, though he goes with other girls, or does he regard me none other than a friend? I am jealous of him and it makes me angry to see him with other girls. Although he tells me his love for me is far greater than for his other friends. Do you think he is sincere?

SALLY.

SALLY: My goodness, Sally, don't you know by this time that if you are not engaged to a man he and you can go out with and have as many friends as you both may choose? Probably your jealousy irritates the young man, which is as it should be—and he likes please measure in going with a girl who doesn't nag and not foolishly jealous. Don't worry, my dear, but don't imagine from your letter that that man whole heart is in my life of jealousy gives a big way, my dear, and is simply the expression of immature selfishness. So try to overcome this trait and see if you aren't happier. And I'm sure you will, that it will overcome your difficulties and solve your problem.

WHEN MAKING JAM

Jars should be thoroughly scalded and carefully dried before the jam is put into them. Only fruit that is ripe must not be over ripe. Boil the fruit first before adding the sugar, this makes the fruit softer and also the skins more tender—skins become hard and tough when boiled with the sugar. Use only granulated sugar. Never allowed merely to simmer after the sugar is added, the sugar will be scorched.

To Loosen Rim of Burning

Loosen the rim of the preserving pan with butter to lessen the risk of burning, and add butter the size of a walnut when you add the sugar and you there will be no need for skimming. The butter disappears and the jam is perfect. When adding the sugar take the pan off the fire and stir the sugar in till dissolved, or your jam will not set.

Always cover jam with paper dipped in some of the solution from the jam, and add the lid when cold.

When The Jam Is Done

When the jam thickens, skim, turn clear—boiling well begins to be smooth and almost oily on the surface, put a little on a cold plate in a cool place and if it sets into a jelly the jam is done. While testing lift the jam off the fire to prevent overboiling. Pour the jars either while the jam is boiling hot or absolutely cold. The former method is the safer one. If the jam is to be kept for any length of time it must be stored in a cool, dry place.

CONVERSING BY SMOKE.

The tribal chiefs in the wilds of Australia signal to one another, over considerable distances by setting light to clumps of grass. The resulting combustible grass which gives off dense clouds of the blackest smoke. Long conversations can be carried on by means of various types of smoke, many that is sufficient to express the thoughts of language. The theory is advanced—and Mr. Michael Terry supports it in his recent book, "Through Travel-book. "Through a Land of Promise"—that when long stories are to be communicated, the smoke signals serve only to make contact between the receiver and the transmitter. Once this link has been formed, it is claimed that a kind of thought transference takes place. The ceremonial dancers, says Mr. Terry, trace fantastic patterns on

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 60 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear. You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—to-day or to-morrow.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

ADVERTISEMENT

All progressive merchants advertise these days, and so do many profession men.

Merchants simply have to advertise to be progressive. They have found that advertising pays.

Before one of them would be more progressive if they'd advertise consistently. They advertise when business is good, of course. But they decrease their ad writing or eliminate it altogether when business is not so good.

This is just the reverse of what should be the case. The time to advertise more than ever is when business is not so good. That is the way to make it good again—to advertise.

The Wannamaker made millions as a retail merchant. Of newspaper advertising he said: "When the time we hard and the people are not buying is the very time that advertising should be heaviest. You want to get the people into see what you have to sell, and you must advertise to do that. When the times are good they will come largely of their own accord, time. I never stop advertising."

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Tulle in lily green and gull grey and rose and silver are new evening combinations, while a pinkish lavender termed sunflower and shades of violet blue are much in vogue, and a lot combine various gradations of violet, mauve and blue.

The vogue of the cape is curious, for it can be so smart or extremely dowdy, but it is not, in fact, every woman's figure, for it is designed to show a tall, slim woman who can express it's lines to perfection with an air of elegance; still some of the newest capes are cut short and square, appearing as an adjunct to a plain coat.

Cigarette smoking among women has become a commonplace since the war, but Berlin notes that Prince Louis Ferdinand, the widow of the last German Ambassador to London before the war, is an inveterate pipe smoker, and poses as a number of wooden and china pipes in her Berlin home.

London shops are featuring rice ensembles that combine a printed crepe de chine frock with a black cire coat lined with the same material as the frock and the coat in this case can be worn reversed or, if the day grows warmer, the black coat may be discarded, leaving only the lining coat, which is quite separate and perfectly finished.

A quaint novelty at some of the Paris shows of new dresses are the so-called "neuranni d'air," or draught sleeves. The whole dress is split in various parts over a slip that is usually of a contrasting color, and is particularly fashionable to split printed chiffon or foulard dresses over a plain slip of the color, or, on the contrary, to let a printed tissue for the slip and plain georgette, crepe de chine, or mousseline for the over-dress.

THE DANGEROUS AGE.

Henry Ford seems to have a passion for all old-fashioned things—except the horse and buggy.

The oversleed woman explaining to her companion why she got off the car backwards, said that she observed one of the straphangers who stood in front of her, whisper to his neighbor straphanger that when the fat woman got up he was going to plant her seat.

THE DEADLOCK.

Two Scotchmen took dinner together in a restaurant. After dinner, the waiter brought the bill. The two sat there and talked for a couple of hours after which conversation failed, and they merely remained in silence.

At 1 a. m. one of them got up and telephoned to his wife: "Dinna wait up any longer for me, lass," he said, "it looks like a deadlock."

THE WINTER COURSE.

As young Jones presented himself at a college examination with inadequate preparation. He approached the test in history with fear, and doubt, for he had had little time to make himself acquainted with the biography of Julius Caesars. The paper contained a question at which the young man looked with dismay—"What can you say about Caligula?" He did not remember Caligula was the worst of a long line of mad and bad Roman emperors, but a sudden inspiration came to him, and he wrote—"He was said about Caligula the better!" He passed.

YOUR MOST BECOMING COLOURS

—are hers if you are a brunette with a fair complexion

It has been proved by definite tests and experiments that the effect of certain colours on certain types of women is to heighten facial lines and shadows and to make the face look older.

Fortunately forthe fair-skinned brun ette, these negative colours are very few in number. In fact, the woman with black or brown hair, fair skin and moderate colouring, the type we think of as being of Irish extraction, has an exceedingly varied colour scheme at her command. But in her case, as in the case of all, there are certain colours that are particularly harmonious, and others that do not fulfil every requirement.

When she is considering a coat or suit for street wear she may feel quite safe in choosing this year's "shutter green." Green is, in fact, no reason whatever why she should wear only the conventional black or dark blue, and, since she is so fortunate as to be able to wear a variety of shades beoon ing to her wonderful hair, she keep always to the less interesting tones. Here are her best colours for street wear: Clear dark grey, burgundy, dark bottle) green, Navy blue.

Of the pure blues, the diamond is most becoming to the blue-eyed woman.

Sapphire is only her second best.

It is difficult to tell the fair-skinned brunette just what colours to avoid, for, as has already been said, of all types she has the widest colour choice. Generally speaking, however, the following shades are the least compliment tary; Brown, medium or light green, purple, pure strong blue.

Black alone does not do justice to his type, since its tendency is to low r what could be a strong personality. ven a black hat will be much more becoming and enlivening if a touch of white or red is used in the trimming. A black frock will prove infinitely more atisfactory if a vest or collar and cuffs of white—not harsh, clear white, you nderstand, but the white of georgette or organdie—are added.

Beauty is only skin-deep, we are told, and there is no reason for us to quarrel about this statement. Just the same, one's physical appearance is more quick ly recognized and approved by the ca l observer than one's sterling character—which is one argument for tak ing full advantage of the help colour can give in making one's physical charm a fit setting for one's spiritual virtues!

BELIEVES EARTH FLAT

New York, N.Y., June 26.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who [illegible] believes the earth is flat, fears Commander Richard E. Byrd will fly off the edge if he should he cross the Antarctic plateau.

"If Byrd flies over those ice mountains," he said, "I'm afraid he'll never come back."

The overseer of Zion City, Ill., who has just returned from a four months' tour of Europe, enlarged upon his theory of the earth being flat.

"The world is flat as a plate and round," he asserted. "There's a North Pole, certainly, in the centre of that plate, and the sun moves around it like an orange.

"But you'll notice that the sun never goes any further north than the Tropic of Cancer, and never any further south than the Tropic of Capricorn. This business of the sun setting and the sun rising is only an optical illusion. It doesn't prove that the earth is round."

Voliva said he expected to follow all the movements of the Byrd expedition with the most intense interest.

If thou wouldst be borne with, bear with others.

JUST IN PASSING

TRUTH.

It fortifies my soul to know That, though I perish, Truth is so; That, however I stray and range, Whate'er I do, Thou does not change. Betwixt me and Thy steps to run Is but to miss my way home sun; And in Thy steady beams I see That, if I slip, Thou dost not fall.

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

I doesn't history repeat itself. You remember the story of the artist who set his ideal model in the street—a forty, dishevelled, tattered man—and, telling him a message, told him to turn up at the studio next day. Which he model did, shaved, washed, and in his Sunday clothes?

Something rather like this happened recently. A certain beauty parlour in London, Eng., employed a poor artist to draw a beauty as a sandwich board woman. She was everything no woman wants to be, so on her chest they pinned a legend: "Do you wish to look like this?" On her back, another, reading: "If so, go to Madame Sunbloode's, Beauty Parlour."

Everybody was happy: the beauty parlour, because they had such a striking advertisement that flapped gaze it one scarce glance and thus minded to the address suggested, while the poor old thing, for the first time for years, found herself with more money than she needed for sheer necessities.

The inevitable happened, alas! For some weeks she toiled on, saving every penny she could, until one day she had enough for her purpose. Which was —to have her hair bobbed, her face lifted, and buy herself a fashionable rig-out. In fiction anything could have happened after this transformation. In real life, only one thing did. She was fired, on the ground that she now looked so like what the beauty parlour customers actually were that she no longer scared them as an example of what they might become.

WARNING TO LADIES.

Magistrate Douglas Davidson, of New Toronto, fined a pastry cook $15 because she was powdering her nose while driving a car. The evidence was furnished by an officer who, saw the whole performance and detailed in court just how it was done.

Apparently the business of dabbing a little more powder on the nose would not be tolerated in the case of ladies for a bit of it. One hand would have to hold the steering wheel and the other ply the top dressing to the end of the nose.

Just why this powder has to be put on so often we really don't know; there was an age when a little corn starch would now and then be considered sufficient, but of course that is beyond and away from the present question.

Ladies will do well to avoid ladies' powder, their noses, and how to perform both their things at the same time is something that does not appear quite clear. Evidently the magistrate thought it could not be done, although the lady driver was doing her best to demonstrate that it was quite possible.

It is probabl that the lady's nose could have ridden along to the end of the line without the powder operation up; it may have been pure imagination on her part that her beak was getting a trifle shiny, and therefore unpresentable and unthinkable.

We publish the warning to other ladies. If you must powder your nose stretch, better draw up at the intersections and give it a real good dusting

Let Me Tell You

Dull patient leather can be made quite brilliant if a little turpentine is rubbed in.

To grill a steak, the fire should be clear and sharp and about eight minutes should be allowed for a steak an inch thick.

Ribbon which is creased and shabby looking should be well brushed, dampened, and ironed between sheets of tissue paper.

Old velveteen is almost as good as chamois leather for cleaning silver and plate. When boiled it can be easily washed in a soapy lather.

If soup has been salted too freely, boil some slices of raw potato in it for a few minutes, and the very salt flavour will disappear, the potatoes having absorbed it.

Fill a tinted kettle with water, and add a drachm of sal ammoniac. Allow to boil for an hour, then rinse thoroughly, and the kettle will be found to be quite free from 'fur.'

The sudden leaks in block-tin bottles and saucepans are due to their being submitted to the heat of the fire or gas ring with cold water at the side them. For the first occation to avoid the 'pull' of the metal, fill with warm water and boil slowly.

When preparing horseradish for the table try putting it through a mincing machine. Cut the root in pieces two to three inches long, and split down the centre. Should the eyes still suffer from the fumes, immediate relief can be obtained by plunging the hands in cold water for a few seconds.

New enamel pans should be immersed in cold water, and then brought very gradually to boiling point. Five minutes of that, no more, is sufficient. The water should then be permitted to cool gradually, and the pans removed. This treatment prevents the enamel from chipping or cracking.

Before using a new casserole fill it with cold water, and place in a slow oven. Bring the water to simmering point, empty it out, and fill again with cold. Five minutes or so after the latter has begun to simmer remove the casserole, empty and dry. This treatment will thoroughly harden it, and the nuisance of a crack will be unknown.

FALS.

When I see a boy who hasn't a dog, Or a dog that hasn't a boy— I think of the bit they are missing Of frolic and genuine joy.

Some parents think dogs are a nuisance, Just something to bark and annoy— They can't know how badly a boy needs a dog Or how sadly a dog needs a boy.

THE CERTAIN CALM.

By Ethel Romig Fuller.

For harassed minds, for hearts assailed by ills,

For all the tumults of the soul, all scars, Thege is panacea of tall hills,

The healing balm of rediscovered stars The scent of dew on sleeping farms and grass,

The flight of booming winds to wailing trees,

And there are clouds that brush the moon and pass . . .

Shadows and dark's pulsating subtleties.

Before the constancy of night and sky;

The certain calm; the peace . . . it may not grieve.

He'll shed unhappiness and let it lie As staples drop their weight of yellow leaves;

And so detached from pain and complication,

May even for a space forget the dead.

Creating New Wealth From Old

FOR centuries the great mineral treasure vaults of Canada's north country have awaited the influx of capital and men to wrest their riches from a reluctant earth. The old wealth of the centuries has needed new wealth to find and to release the buried treasure.

New capital has been successful in discovering and developing Canada's mineral heritage to a degree that has brought the value of Canada's mineral production to $244,520,098 in 1927. But Canada's great mineral expansion is to come.

The part we have played, and are playing, in the developing of Canada's mineral industry is gratifying both to us and to those mining investors who have built our business.

We have been a medium of capital flow, through the exploration and development and financing of mining properties whereby millions have been directed into Canada's mining development. This we shall continue to do.

THE FAMOUS TOUR OF CONTRASTS "ACROSS CANADA AND BACK"

A striking feature of this year's "Across Canada and Back Tour," which leaves North Toronto station 1.00 p. m. on July 23 under the auspices of Dean Laird, is the fact that the tourists are coming over from Great Britain to take part in the journey. The special all steel million dollar train which will carry the party across the Dominion is the equal in respect to the famous "Trans-Canada Limited." There are no difficulties to confront the traveller as Sinclair Laird, the director, who has already piloted seven similar trips, has made the way smooth beforehand. Bookings for the tour are already exceptionally heavy and all preparations have been expected to go for the board. The itinerary includes stops at all the important cities and towns en route and the beauty spots in the Rocky Mountains, Banff and Lake Louise, bungalow camps and industrial centres. A call across Kootenay Lake, a steamship trip, from Vancouver to Victoria and return and another cruise down the Great Lakes and variety of other features will combine to make a holiday both delightful and educational. There is not a moment in the twenty one days wasted and everywhere throughout the western lines a hearty welcome awaits the tourist cars. Everything is included from Toronto and return in the sum of $320.00. Ask W. Hanna, Canadian Pacific Building, Toronto, for tour literature now.

REGENT THEATRE

Whether an artist should ever marry is the problem of "Serenade" the Paramount picture starring Adolphe Menjou, which comes to the Regent Theatre Monday, with Kathryn Carver as leading woman. Menjou marries in the picture, but it takes a determined lawyer to decides that domestic felicity is preferable to artistic freedom. Lawrence Grant, Linn Basquette and Martha Franklin.

BELLE THEATRE

"Out All Night," Reginald Denny's latest farce comedy, has been booked as the feature attraction by the Belle theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Denny portrays the role of a wealthy young man, who meets, woos and marries the girl of his heart all in one evening, or rather one night. The innumerable comedy situations' during the time caused when an attempt is made to keep the marriage a secret during an ocean voyage should provide one of the most hilarious hours of entertainment imaginable. Denny's own inimitable sense of comedy value is predominate throughout and the climax is thrilling and unusual.

The leading feminine role is played by Marian Nixon, popular and talented young actress, who is once more supporting with Denny, her last having been in "Selling Home."

One of the largest and best known casts of feature players ever to support a star, appears in the picture and everyone of them deserves special mention. Wheeler Oakman, one of screen land's first leading men, returns to the screen as the villain of the picture while others are Dorothy Earle, Ben Hendricks, Jr., Dan Mason and Lionel Braham.

The story was written by Gladys Lehman and adapted for the screen by Marcel Peres and John Ditz. Wil

PEENY AND HARRY MILLS LEADING LOCAL TEAM WITH MARK OF .345

"Hoot" Gibson, Local Hurler, Heads Central League Pitchers

(Compiled by Fred C. Beaudry, Official League Scorer.)

George Ada, husky outfielder of the Kingston team, heads the regulars on the C. O. B. L. for the games up to and including Wednesday, June 20, with an average of .360. Moore of Peterboro, in one game, and J. Quinn of Oshawa, in seven trips to the plate, top the Kingston slugger, but can hardly be called regulars.

The Kingston outfielder has had eleven singles, three doubles and two triples in 22 trips to the plate. A Weir of Belleville, for two games, is also hitting .500, while Rec. Boudreau, of Deloro is starting to hit hard, and boasts a mark of .444. Of the regulars Green leads for Belleville with .438, Regan for Deloro with .391, Wolfe for Oshawa with .346, and Turner for Peterboro with .333.

Kingston leads in team batting with a mark of .286, with Belleville second with .273. The Nationals are far in the lead in stolen bases with 26, Wickey Ross leading the league with 7 to his credit. Oshawa leads in home runs with 6 and in triples with 5, while Kingston has had most doubles, 20, and most singles, 63.

The batting averages of the league are:

JUST NEXT DOOR

An ocean voyage seems a long way off sometimes but here just next door is the Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamship service presents a two days inland ocean voyage across Huron's thin waters through the lovely St. Mary's River and away over the broad expanse of Lake Superior. A steamboat express train from Toronto is but a short trip to the proud white ship; the moorings are let go and away we start on a delightful cruise that goes tagged brains and weary bodies.

There are two sailings a week during the summer months from Port McNicoll and one from Owen Sound and the same number of eastward sailings from Port William and Port Arthur. Five ocean vessels have more luxurious accommodations than those provided on the S. S. Keewatin and S. S. Assiniboia which ply the great lakes nor the S. S. Manitoba which sails between Owen Sound and the Twin Cities.

Tickets, parlor car and boat reservations from any Canadian Pacific ticket agent.

FIELDING

Belleville is showing the way to the other teams in the league in the matter of fielding, with a mark of .938, which is eleven points better than the next team, Deloro, who, however, has only a two-point margin over Kingston. Of the regulars, Harrison, of Peterboro, Rose of Kingston, Sutton, of Oshawa, Cherry, Buck of Kingston, Green and Brown of Belleville, Williams, of Oshawa, Heckman of Peterboro, Dainty of Oshawa, Sites of Deloro and Young of Kingston, have yet to make an error. Kingston lead in fielding, with nine, Oshawa next with eight, Belleville third with four and Peterboro and Deloro tied with two each.

LIBERALS WON IN A CLOSE CONTEST

Carmarthen, Wales, June 2.—The by-election necessitated by the raising of Sir Alfred Mond to the peerage has resulted in a Liberal victory, Lieut.-Col. W. N. Jones, Liberal, being elected by a majority of 55 votes.

Col. Jones received 13,237 votes against D. Hopkins, Labor, 10,154 and Sir Charles Mansel, Conservative 8,361.

Women students at our various Universities now number nearly 9.00. In 1877, fifty years ago, there were only 71.

Finger-prints as a means of identification were known in China as long ago as 400 B. C.
